• ROCK ROUNDUP •

This new weekly column will be used to write about new developments in rock radio, both modern and album, and new developments in Rock Airplay Monitor itself. This week we want to bring your attention to some exciting new features in Monitor.

Our new cover design brings you highlights of the charts at a glance, plus lists the new releases, which were formerly on page 3. (The list of monitored stations is on page 4.) This change makes room on page 3 to fit Biggest Gainers lists for the two formats, and an expanded list of the 40 most-played rock tracks on MTV. The Biggest Gainers are now profiled in more detail, with a list of the 10 individual stations showing the greatest increase in play on each record.

The Impact pages have been redesigned, as well. A list of the five records with the most new airplay has been introduced at the top of the page. (New airplay means a station gave a record six or more plays for the first time this week.) And the profile of each record is more detailed, with a breakdown of how many stations are playing it in heavy, medium, and light rotation. We've defined heavy rotation for modern rock as 30 or more plays each week, medium as 15-29 plays, and light as under 15. For album rock, with traditionally lower rotations, heavy is defined as three plays a day or more (21 or more per week), medium as 2-3 plays a day (14-20 per week), and light as under two times a day (under 14 per week).

We're constantly working to make Monitor more useful for you. Next week we're introducing Song Activity Reports, a detailed report on each song's airplay. Please look over the new features and let us know what you think.

Records showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record which has been on either chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to those records which attain 750 detections (album) or 300 detections (modern) for the first time. If two records are tied in number of plays, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records below the top 20 are removed from the charts after 26 weeks.
