• ROCK ROUNDUP •

by Mark Marone

Having noticed that two different versions of Bone magazine came across my desk recently—one from KNDD (the End) Seattle and the other from WNNX Atlanta (the 99Xpress version)—I thought it would be a good time to get the lowdown on the Nashville-based music monthly that now publishes seven versions of its 40-page publication nationally, customized for individual radio stations.

Tuned-In Broadcasting publisher Ned Horton, who also programs WRLT/WRLG Nashville, started the company three years ago when he purchased local music magazine The Metro. The first step in delivering the quality, music-intensive paper that he envisaged was to immediately upgrade the magazine, now renamed Bone, by going all-color and hiring an in-house staff. Bone's first client was the 20-store Cat's Records chain, which received an in-store magazine featuring its logo on the front.

However, the original idea was for Bone to be an exclusive radio publication, and when Horton succeeded in signing Bone's first radio client, WNCS Montpelier, Vt., it was on its way. Although it was a tough sell at first, Horton contended that the magazine would provide stations with a fantastic way to reach their audience and solidify their relationship with listeners. Bone's customized logo covers, local radio events pages, current music news and interviews, reviews, and space for local advertising helped stations not only provide listeners with far more information than a station newsletter, but also gave them a creative direct-marketing tool.

WNNX direct mails 49,000 of its 55,000 monthly copies of 99Xpress to its database through the 99X FreeLoaders station card program and, in the process, has generated an impressive advertising list. It goes without saying that untold measures of loyalty go along with that monthly copy received in a listener's mailbox, and after only three issues of 99Xpress, WNNX already hopes to expand to more pages.

MODERN ROCK BDS: 332 SPINS!

The first single from the new album Sparkle And Fade, the explosive follow-up to their independent debut World of Noise

"The Portland-based power trio explodes like a molotov cocktail mixed with love, anger, and loss on 'Heroin Girl.' Lyrically harrowing and intensely confessional, 'Heroin Girl' is an urgent piece of rock and roll."

Monitor. ROCK AIRPLAY

DETECTIONS

MAY 22-28, 1995

Compiled from a national sample of airplay supplied by Broadcast Data Systems' Radio Track service to Rock Airplay Monitor. 107 album rock and 57 modern rock stations are electronically monitored 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Songs ranked by number of detections. ©1995, Billboard/BPI Communications.

Records showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record which has been on either chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to those records which attain 800 detections (album) or 600 detections (modern) for the first time. If two records are tied in number of plays, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records below the top 20 are removed from the charts after 26 weeks.
