Nightmare On 34th Street As Holiday Concert Wars Ensnare Labels Again

by Kevin Carter and Mark Marone

Once again, it's time to recapture that childlike holiday spirit while listening to colorful phone calls between irate PDs and frustrated label promotion reps. Stations are busily planning competing holiday shows and demanding free acts. Labels are again choosing which station will be less annoyed when the smoke clears. And as label reps note, the problem is getting worse, if that's possible.

Negotiations for these shows have left many label executives—many of whom would only discuss the issue if their names weren't used—claiming that "this is the worst thing I've ever had to deal with." The word "nightmare" was also used more than once, along with some actual swear words.

Major-market modern rock stations and modern-leaning top 40s seem to be having the best luck with acts so far. Smaller markets, by some accounts, are faring less well. And some major acts are already unavailable during the holidays. As consultant/WKQX

(Q101) Chicago PD Bill Gamble puts it, "All of a sudden, there are a lot of tours in Japan."

The public trauma has started with suburban New York rocker WRGX (X107) scooping top 40 WHITZ (Z100) by announcing the lineup for Z100's Jingle Ball early and giving away tickets. Meanwhile, rocker WAXQ (Q104)'s holiday show is scheduled the same day as Z100's bash. And WLUM Milwaukee has tightened its list, adding only one record in recent weeks in what GM Steve Sinicropi says is directly related to a lack of label support.

Besides the station crossfire they end up caught in, the label reps we spoke to had a slew of objections to holiday shows. Among them:

- Free shows don't always mean more airplay. As one label's VP of promotion notes, "Many radio stations don't truly support the record in advance of the artist's appearance. I see stations... basically treating [our artists] like whores, and then they about playing the blues?

"I just witnessed one of the wonders of

wonder why those artists become leery."

• Stations want stars. "The labels would like to expose a new band, but radio wants us to deliver a name band, usually someone who could conceivably be shared across format boundaries. That's when the trouble starts," says Warner Bros. national promotion director Dave Lombardi, who was in a meeting on concert wars when contacted for this story.

• Some executives wonder if it's worth spending money for acts to play three songs in a 20,000-seat venue with 10 other acts. "That ends up helping the station far more than the individual artist," says Columbia Records' senior VP of promotion Jerry Blair. By contrast, Blair says, after a smaller Z100 Presidents Of The United States Of America show, with Hum and Tripping Daisy, Columbia saw an immediate 25% increase in CD sales.

The Presidents, along with Foo Fighters and Alanis Morissette, are among major modern rock acts that will be largely unavailable for holiday shows due to "prior commitments." Morissette, in particular, is touring smaller venues Nov. 15-Dec. 15, but will play shows for KROQ Los Angeles and Z100's Jingle Ball Dec. 15 with Blues Traveler, the Dave Matthews Band, Natalie Merchant, Soul Asylum, Collective Soul, and the Goo Goo Dolls.

WKQX won't announce its Christmas show lineup until next week, but PD Gamble says that he is having few problems with his show, compared to stations in smaller markets or ones that started planning late. "People are going to do New York, Chicago, or L.A. But they might not want a political nightmare over St. Louis or Milwaukee."

That may be unavoidable. WLUM GM Sinicropi has lashed out at labels for what he considers a lack of support. WLUM added only one record last week, and Sinicropi, contacted about rumors that WLUM planned to add no new music between now and Christmas, says that "labels should prepare for a long Arctic winter."

Stations may soon have problems of their own. There are reports that one major concert promoter held meetings with various label executives recently to seek a moratorium on free shows. Promoters have an interest in halting such shows, and many label reps reportedly felt this would be a good opportunity to get off the hook with radio, so it was hoped that this sentiment would spread, perhaps via an informal concert-promoters network, whereby future station events could be coordinated through regular concert-promotion channels.

The modern vs. mainstream rock issue is at the heart of many Christmas show disputes. Judging from some comments of label executives, the preference seems to be toward modern rock outlets. Despite mainstream rock's campaign for greater label respect, one VP we spoke too says, "The modern rockers seem to have a greater immediate impact on record sales, plus they're more aggressive with their marketing campaigns."

As one of that rep's counterparts notes, "At the end of the day, it still puts us in a no-win situation. The games between radio and our artist put us right in the middle of the radio wars, and that can only jeopardize our artists."

Records showing an increase in audience over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. Rankings broken down by mainstream and modern formats (on right side of this page) correspond to 40-position charts printed in this week's Monitor and therefore rankings do not exist for recurrences and records below No. 40. Rankings are not listed for triple A because there is no chart yet. Audience computed by cross-referencing exact times of airplay with Arbitron listener data. ©1995, Billboard/BPI Communications.

Records showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record which has been on either chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to those records which attain 800 detections (mainstream) or 900 (modern) for the first time. If two records are tied in number of plays, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records below the top 20 are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.
