

THE BILLBOARD

Vol. XIII, No. 9.

CINCINNATI, SATURDAY, JUNE 30, 1900.

PRICE 10 CENTS
PER YEAR, $4.00

WILLIAM P. FAY,

Bill Posters' Department.

Levyne's Letter.

Dear Editor of "The Billboard": I see Mr. Chas. Bernard, of Savannah, Ga., has taken exceptions to my letter which was published in your paper...

The Nashville Situation.

Dear Editor of "The Billboard": I see from this month's issue of a so-called official organ that under the name of "Southwestern States Convention," W. A. Sheetz Bill Posting Company takes occasion to call the following advertisers to book before the meeting for having given our men their posting: Woolson Spice Company, Evans Medicine Company, Evans Chemical Company, Muscatine that Meal Company, and the Manhattan Typewriter Company.

We secured the work of the Muscatine Oatmeal Company through correspondence, but their representative checked up the work we heard no complaint. As to the Manhattan Typewriter Company, we will say their representative called to see us and took list of our locations and prices, and soon after we received their paper, and on the paper was the shipping directions of a very prominent member of the Associated Bill Posters.

High Boards will Stay.

San Francisco, Cal., June 20.—(Special.)—The ordinance limiting the height of advertising fences to ten feet, which was declared by the city attorney to be sound law, came up for final passage to-day.

complete existing contracts he would obey the ordinance. The supervisor believed it proper to grant a year's time before enforcing the ordinance. Supervisor Booth remarked that if time were granted the order would never be entered. He moved an amendment that the ordinance go into effect at the expiration of the longest existing contract held by Owens, Varney & Green.

Guthrie, Okla., Grows.

To the Editor of "The Billboard": Dear Sir—In reply to Mr. C. E. Smith's objection, which was printed in "The Billboard" of June 16—First, Mr. Smith's name was not used at all in my article of June 2. I simply said that Mrs. L. E. Pinkham's booklet were being wasted and worse in Oklahoma, and I still say that they were. When I was last over the country in May, I saw booklets all along the road, and from five to ten in wagons.

The Thatcher Med. Co., of Chattanooga, Tenn., shipped me 23,000 almanacs distributed by weight 26,000 of them, and still I had some left. I made a report about it, and they said that I was mistaken, when I knew that I was not, under any circumstances. They then said that I sent in a bill in full, which I did, and had a right to do.

Waterbury, Conn., Waifs. Dear Editor of "The Billboard": Dear Sir—I am working on 10,000 of Dr. Miles Co., Elkhart, Ind., second delivery and window displays. I have on the bill boards Virginia Cheroots and Baker's Coco Cola. Bee Soap wagon is in town. I offer my distributing business for sale, which includes also the rights to make Prof. Davis's Toothache Cure most all the States in the Union.

Danville, Ind., Doings.

To the Editor of "The Billboard": Dear Sir—Posting continues fairly good, but have some open space. Have now on the boards McLaughlin's XXXX Coffee, Old Virginia Cheroots, Friend's Oats, Duke's Mixture and Bull Durham. There is a lull in the distributing business, my last job being 4,000 booklets for the Lydia Pinkham Co., covering fourteen towns in the county, outside of Danville. The O-Jib-Wa Indian Medicine Company has just closed a two weeks' stay here, and gone to Bloomington. They did a wonderful business. Dr. McKonkey's California Herb Remedy Company was here the week before the O-Jib-Wa people, but did not do so well.

Wellington, Kas., Weavings. To the Editor of "The Billboard": Dear Sir—Talk about a rush of work: I have posted more paper this spring than ever before. This is what we have been doing: Posted 100 Geo. Childs Cigar, 250 sheets Fontella Cigar, 170 sheets Capadura Cigar, 150 Bob Evans Cigar, 100 Golden Russel Cigar, 100 Henry George, 50 sheets Bull Durham Tobacco, 100 sheets Export Cigar, 50 sheets Ford's Oat Meal and 200 sheets Pillsbury Oats and Vitas. The weekly "Billboard" is all right. Very truly yours, HARVEY HILL.

Gunning's Business Building.

The advanced intelligence displayed by the Gunning system in the upbuilding of a patron's commercial interests is a strongly logical reason for the position which they occupy—that of the "hub" of outdoor display advertising. Their department of business building has long been a subject of curiosity to the public. A year's campaign for one of the great advertisers of the country has just drawn to a close and for the purpose of furnishing exact data to show the direct influence of their efforts on the grocers themselves, a careful canvass has been made of the entire wholesale and retail grocery trade.

Mansfield, O., Matchings.

To the Editor of "The Billboard": Dear Sir—We have had a steady run of work for the past three months, and have on our boards new 100 Zip, 1-sheets from the Baker-Levy Chemical Co., Chicago, a number of local jobs from our merchants; 340 sheets Hires' Root Beer and 440 sheets National Biscuit paper from N. W. Ayer & Son, Philadelphia; 450 sheets cigar paper from Brown Bros. Co., Detroit; 420 sheets Durham Tobacco paper from A. J. Fitzsimmons, Columbus, O.; 250 sheets Beeman Chewing Gum paper from Gude, New York, and 100 sheets from the D. & C. Boat Line Co., Detroit.

A Smooth Clairvoyant.

To the Editor of "The Billboard": Dear Sir—A nice, slick gentleman in the shape of the world's greatest clairvoyant, is Professor Le Roy, who does business only with bill posters, and then does a good, long parachute jump out of town, leaving the only man he d.d. business with, with only the experience and mere experience. Bill posters! look out for him! B. W. SUYDAM New Brunswick, N. J., June 20.

Oklahoma City, Outings.

To the Editor of "The Billboard": Dear Sir—I have been rambling through Oklahoma for the past month, and my business bringing me into contact with the "knights of the brush." I thought perhaps a few lines on bill posting in the territory might be of interest to your readers. Oklahoma is just now busily engaged in harvesting the largest wheat crop ever made in the land of big crops, and the people are correspondingly happy and prosperous—likewise, the bill poster. The advertiser seems to be alive to the money there is here, and in every town I have been in I had trouble in getting space to bill my show, the boards being crowded with commercial paper. Northrup & Co., of Kingfisher, has all his boardings covered, and is putting up new boards. At Hennessey, a town of 3,000, there is an opening for a young hustler. Eld is well boarded by two firms; heth have all their space covered. Blackwell is open for a good man. Perry has two firms, neither of whom know anything about the business, and the service is very poor. Guthrie has Ed Bentley, who has a good plant, and is a hustler. He has more local showing on his boards than any other town in the territory. Oklahoma City is taken care of by that prince of good fellows, Oscar Nix, who also manages the opera house, and his boards are crowded, and he is constantly building. Just now it seems everybody is trying to get a showing for the Rough Riders' Reunion, which takes place here July 1 to 4, and promises to be the biggest thing that ever happened in the territory. Besides the reunion of the Roosevelt Rough Riders, the merchants will give a free street fair and carnival. Yours truly, LEN G. SHELBY.

Here and There.

The Donaldson Litho. Company is still working overtime. J. Wier, of Nebraska City, Neb., writes that he is doing work for Coco Cola, Henry George and Tom Moore Cigars. M. D. Heild, city bill poster at Vallejo, Cal., is at present in England on business. Upon his return he intends to settle in the East. H. L. Anderson, of Wymore, Neb., has given up his bill posting business. Mr. Chas. Fieeman will hereafter have charge of the boards at Wymore. Clyde Van Meter, of Caldwell, Kan., writes that he has on his boards Henry George Cigars and Prickley Ash Bitters. He posts regularly every three months for the latter. J. A. Muldoon, the well-known Eastport (Me.) bill poster, is erecting a new 100-foot board at Eastport Junction. The board has a fine position, and will, no doubt, carry all the paper it can hold. A. E. Drier, of Burlington, Ia., says that the coming saengerfest at Burlington, will bring to that city the largest gathering that has ever assembled there. A word to the wise advertiser is sufficient. John Kuhn & Son, the bill posters of Hamillon, O., were given entire charge of the billing of the Elks' Street Fair at that point. They selected the posters, ordered them, and will post all the surrounding towns and country. W. T. Woodward, of Northwood, Ia., has failed in health, and much to his regret and the regret of those who know his good work, has been forced to abandon the bill posting business. His many friends wish him an early recovery.

In Cincinnati and vicinity, June 24 has been set aside as the birthday of Guttenberg. The event was fittingly observed, especially by the German printers, who celebrated in grand style. It would be well if the day were observed annually all over the world. The Poster Printers' Association is still making headway. New York is proving a tough proposition, but will fall in line in the course of time. The headquarters of the association have been located in New York. Mr. W. B. Brewster is in charge of the offices.

Jeff, the Nicholasville (Ky.) bill poster, is doing some fine work for The American Tobacco Company along the lines of the L. & A. and Q. & C. H. C. Chambers, better known as "Heck" Chambers, has charge of this work, and a nicer gentleman never traveled the road in the interest of any firm. Richard Chadwick, William Muskerry Tilson and Alfred Byrns have brought suit at Santa Ana, Cal., against H. G. Wiltshire, the bill poster of Los Angeles, to recover $19,000, together with interest, counsel fees, etc., on account of foreclosing a mortgage on property located in the northern portion of the county. W. E. Kemery, manager of the Parkersburg (W. Va.) Bill Posting Company, was a "Billboard" caller June 5. He had been visiting the New England Carnival Company for some two weeks, having accompanied them from Parkersburg to Huntington and thence to Marion, Ind. Mr. Kemery reports business at Parkersburg as excellent.

A brand-new advertising dodge appeared on the streets of Chicago last week and attracted the usual amount of attention bestowed on "just-out" schemes. On a two-horse wagon were three octagonal transparencies about four feet in length and two feet in diameter. The transparencies stood on end, and as the wagon moved all of them revolved, being operated by a mechanical device connected with the wheels of the wagon. On the white sides of the transparencies appeared a few early bird legends of various things about town which wished to be in on the ground floor in the new thing in advertising. As the wagon drove along the streets the octagonal twined round and round, and the people on the sidewalks looked on in amusement and curiosity.

It is the dream of a theatrical treasurer's life to so adjust his ticket rack and other apparatus that a hungry horde of would-be ticket buyers may be accommodated swiftly, surely and with satisfaction to all, says the Los Angeles "Herald." Nobody was ever able to devise a scheme whereby this happy desideratum might be achieved, but Treasurer Waldock, of the Orpheum, believes that he has discovered the secret. Mr. Waldock has patented a device whereby the customary ticket rack will be supplanted by a rotary revolving affair that will respond to the touch of a practiced hand much as does the apparatus of an engine to the skillful manipulation of the engineer. Tickets are to spring from this newly patented rack of Mr. Waldock's with perfect accuracy, and the speed with which a waiting crowd of seat buyers can be disposed of is to be quadrupled. Mr. Waldock is not a veteran in the theater business, but if he succeeds in providing a boon for theater box offices, and incidentally makes a fortune thereby, he will not be the last novice to give the old-timers valuable pointers.

Distributors' Doings.

One of Redington's Distributors.

I have just read, with a great deal of interest, the article under above heading, appearing in "The Billboard" of June 3, from the pen of Mr. Vansyckle, of Indianapolis.

I dislike to indulge in personalities in a discussion calculated for the greatest benefit to the greatest number.

Those who have read my previous articles are left to base their opinions of the same upon their own judgment.

It is none of my concern how well a man lives, how well he has his office equipped, or how much he makes of the hard labor of his employees, so long as he gives Dr. Kilmer & Company the service in distributing that they consider they have a right to demand.

I agree with the writer of that article that it is worth, for such service as we demand, $2.50 per 1,000, and I am also of the opinion that those men who do the work are entitled to the money, without being obliged to contribute half to an employer, yet I realize the fact that an established business, a finely equipped office, extensive advertising, fine turnouts and expensive habits are entitled to some remuneration.

As I write, the following is just received from our traveling distributor, now in Dubuque, Iowa:

"I reached here at 11:15 a. m. to-day, and found Mr. Leonard at the depot to meet me, as per previous written arrangement. He was in uniform, and carried a distributor's bag. The moment I saw his cap I had no trouble to recognize him. He has three young men and two younger boys, and works himself. I never saw such careful work. I consider myself a good distributor, but his men go to the back doors, where I do not always consider it necessary.

I understand he levies a fine on his help for poor work, and enforces it, too.

I have just read Mr. Leonard's "Billboard" and the Indianapolis gentleman's article. One thing in the article strikes me as odd. It is the difference in the expenses of the two offices. Mr. Leonard has his office in his own house, small expenses, does a portion of his own work, pays his help well, and is enabled to give the advertiser a 1 service at $2.00 per 1,000.

Now the question is, which system would the advertiser prefer, that of Indianapolis or of Dubuque?

Will an employe who is forced to distribute a given number of pieces per day, for a specified sum, or lose his position, render as satisfactory service to the advertisers as the employe who gets 75 per cent. of the amount paid by the advertiser, with no other condition than that he forfeits a certain amount for poor service? If the Indianapolis gentleman felt that he could not do such work as our representative demanded at the price, he had a perfect right to decline the contract, and he certainly showed a commendable spirit when he called the attention of our traveler to the fact that his men were doing poor work when out of his sight.

Whatever fairy tales might have been exchanged between the Texas man and the Indianapolis gentleman in establishing their respective sides to the argument would not be of sufficient weight to sink a ship.

If the Texas man's statements were believed to be correct as to salary, sales, etc., then the Indianapolis gentleman should have been stimulated to try and obtain a like position.

While the Indianapolis gentleman would seem disposed to ridicule the less expensive habits of the "man from Texas," yet the charge is not of sufficient seriousness to cost the Texas man his situation, but will, on the contrary, bring him into favor with employes, all of whom, without exception, admire a representative of frugal habits.

However, be that as it may, the results from the distribution in Indianapolis have been most gratifying.

If there is any feeling on my part toward the distributor who does not patronize me in a personal way, I do not know why I have always provided each of our travelers with a monthly revised list of international members, and I can not understand why the "man from Texas" should have first offered the work to the Indianapolis man. Why did he employ the Muncie man? Why has he employed others? Why do other of our representatives employ help that never patronize me or who have never even heard of me?

It is because they are following these instructions: "Get the best service you can possibly obtain in every town."

I can not see where the Muncie man or our representative was responsible for loss to the main office because "it rained and help was scarce."

In 1897 I did write the Indianapolis man a recommendation of his service, based upon results. Whether he did that or not I am unable to say, but it was my impression that he did, and I also think the price per 1,000 was much lower than that offered by the "man from Texas" being pamphlets instead of part brochures.

How the Indianapolis gentleman can have been cut off from all our work because of the reasons named I am not understood, when he says:

"So I guess I will never receive any more work from Dr. Kilmer & Company, which I will miss very much, as they cover this city every three or five years."

He did the last work we did there, was offered the next, which he did not see fit to accept. I do not know why, if an agreement can be made as to terms, etc., the Indianapolis gentleman would not be given an opportunity to bid on our next work.

All that our representatives ask at the hands of any distributor or bill poster is the faithful fulfillment of contract at the specified price, which will always be found as liberal as any other advertiser pays.

With best wishes to the fraternity at large, and trusting to, by better service, encourage advertisers to pay better prices, I beg to remain yours truly,

W. D. REDINGTON.

Behan's Reply to Vansyckle.

To the Editor of "The Billboard."

Dear Sir:—Replying to Mr. Vansyckle's article in "The Billboard" of June 3, will say that it seems strange that he is the only one of the I. A. of D. members to find fault with me, my prices or the reputation of myself or manager since I have been in this State. I have the monthly revised list of international members with me, and employ them in preference to all others, and only wish that the organization in other States was as good as in this State, for certainly I have found very reliable men here the past winter. I wish to correct the gentleman from Indianapolis when he says that I paid only $2 per thousand for my work with his agent at Muncie, Ind. I hold a receipt for $2.25 per thousand, the same price I paid other international men for towms of that size in the gas belt, and if Mr. Vansyckle lost money, it only goes to prove that his system is wrong. Others were satisfied with this price. Then, too, his agent at Muncie could only get $1.50 per thousand for local work, but Mr. Vansyckle gets no portion of that. We had good weather while there, but it was very muddy. As to my seeking cheap $1-a-day houses while in his city, he forgets that he took me to his hotel and that I didn't stay, it being too cheap ($1.00 a week), and that I went back to the "Sherman," a $1.50 house, and paid $1.25 per day by the week. This part of his letter reminds me of the baker's sign of the fat man and the lean man, and allow me to place Mr. Vansyckle and myself in this position, myself tipping the scales at 200 pounds, and the other side a poor, raw-boned fellow, weighing about 150 pounds, and ask you if we would not fill the requirements of a sign that reads, "I eat three meals a day," and on the other side, "I wish I could."

When I went to Indianapolis I fully intended to give our work to the association member, and after several meetings found that $2.25 per thousand, net (over $2.50 per thousand, would secure the use of his advertising wagon. I couldn't understand his position, as he was doing work for others at $1.75 per thousand. As my work was half samples I expected to pay more, but I was informed that I could not have the use of his wagon at any price or be allowed to place my advertising on the sides of the wagon. This set me to thinking why, and as his wagon carried "The When Clothing Co." and all the time, regardless as to what his men were distributing, you may, perhaps answer this question yourself.

The first few days we found some fine collections of advertising matter, showing as high as four different kinds put out at once, two of which were representative proprietary medicine firms, and two weeks after I had finished the city, I found, while checking up some tagging, another combination, which I mailed, as fast as I found them, to my manager.

Mr. Vansyckle had a perfect right to refuse my work. I showed him the respect due the association member, and after I had a perfect right to contract with whom I could and follow the instructions of my boss, but he as a gentleman or a member of the I. A. of D. had no right to misrepresent things as he did in the article of June 3. It is shortsightedness on his part. In the meantime I will continue on my journey outside of Texas, using association members where there are any and as I have done in the past, I shall tell distributors who are not members that there is an association of distributors banded together to help one another, and I shall give good, honest distributors the Greenbriener's address, and tell them in writing and find out all about the organization. Yours truly,

H. E. BEHAN.

Terre Haute, Ind., June 20.

Davenport, Ia., Doings.

To the Editor of "The Billboard."

Dear Sir:—A novel sight passed through here last week, it was a train load of twenty-five cars drawn by two engines, all containing newly-painted red threshing machines from Hopkins, Minn. They were headed toward Peoria, Ill. The Norris Pig and Pony Show closed Sunday night to a good week's business. "The Billboard" announced the Ter Rauch Sells Shows in Rock Island, June 27. Yours respectfully,

WM. BAUMANN.

L. C. Kepler, agent of the Dr. Miles Medical Company, writes from Sheldon, Ia., as follows:

"I have to-day made our yearly contract with our distributor, Mr. John Walton, for ten towns, including Sheldon. Mr. Walton has been an advertising agent here for the past nine years, and after thoroughly investigating his work, I cheerfully recommend him as a very reliable and industrious man. Anybody wishing to get direct results from their advertising should not fail to give Mr. Walton a trial."

Hill's Views on Opposition.

Should we report bad work done by our opposition?

The writer is of the opinion that when advertisers receive bad service at the hands of our opposition, we should report same. It is true that this course may create a bad taste in the mouths of some advertisers, and is almost sure to bring down on our heads the wrath and denunciation of the dishonest distributor, but if same method is not adopted to prevent these fly-by-night distributors from securing work the condition of affairs that I have indicated will continue, and if the advertiser does not inspect his work—and many do not, depending on results for evidence of how their work is done—these dishonest fellows will continue to receive work and waste it, till the advertiser, seeing that getting no returns, cuts off the town and tells others that distributing in B— does not pay, when as a matter of fact it is his ignorance of the way his advertising matter has been used that leads him to condemn the town, when he should condemn the distributor.

Another good reason for reporting bad work is the bad effect it has on traveling inspectors when they happen to see it and do not know who did it. Say a traveling man drops into my town a couple of days after the small boy has sown the front lawns with the advertising matter of some other firm. Mr. Traveling Man sees the matter on the lawns and walks. What opinion does he form of a reporting in that town?

My experience is that a pleased customer is one of our best advertisements, and on this principle we insist that, when it is possible, every firm for whom we work shall inspect our work.

The dishonest distributor should be watched, and watching helps the honest one. I do not mean that we should what is popularly known as "kneek" our opposition because he deserves credit for it, and he should have it. It is the fraud I am after, and I believe in exposing him whenever and wherever found. Fortify yourself with reliable evidence as to his work, and then report him. My experience is that very few advertisers will not thank you if you are prepared to sustain your charges. JAS. L. HILL, Nashville, Tenn.

Yazoo City, Miss., Yieldings.

To the Editor of "The Billboard."

Dear Sir:—I am a subscriber to your valuable paper, and I would like to send a few words from the southern portion of Mississippi. This is the first year I have been in this business here, and I am building it up and giving straight, honest and fair work to my customers. I have just finished last month a new matched board sixty feet by ten feet in height and am going to build this month one hundred feet of matched boards. I will send you this week a photo of one of my new boards filled with paper from Pringle's Ash Litters Co. Our city is going to have a street fair soon. The date has not yet been set. It is going to be one of the biggest things we ever had in this town or the State of Mississippi. Wishing you long life and good success, I remain yours as ever,

H. C. HENICK.

Mrs. Behan's Ideas.

Last year I employed but few professional distributors, and I think in only one instance with samples that was not satisfactory work. In 1 was my towns are small and but few are licensed. Of these, I have employed but two I. A. of D. men so far. One of these, with one exception, the best professional distributor I ever employed. I employed an I. A. of D. man in Kansas who is fully as good. When the time comes that the professional distributor has elevated his business to the standard possible to the traveling representative and his helpers, then, and not until then, will large firms be able to employ him to the exclusion of representatives direct from the house. While he hires small boys, half clad, and with a cigarette between their lips, the time has not come. I, too, am a universal representative, and one of the largest patent medicine firms in the United States. I am proud of my firm and proud of my work. Every week and look after my work carefully. That I am known all over the States, even from the fact that often representatives from drug houses come to me in railroad stations and on the cars and introduce themselves and say that they sell our goods and are pleased to meet me. My idea of perfect distribution, where no license bars you out, is to employ men, not under twenty years of age, out of the first families in town. When they go to the doors with a neat sample like ours, and the lady meets them, she will say "Why Arthur, or John, what have you for me?" Depend upon it, she will look at it, and it will carry twice the influence it would have done if handled by the average boy employed by local distributors.

It was my good fortune last summer to go over, for a short time, territory which, less than a year before, was covered, and I heard there that they tried the sample because it was presented in such a "gentlemanly way," which further proves my point. I am able to hire such young men for 15 cents an hour, and they are swift workers. I leave Mr. Redington to infer, from the letters he receives from my helpers, if I am looked upon by them as an "old fossil" or any one "whom a distributor would find it hard to lose." Because my own opinion upon this subject differs from Mr. Behan's, do not form the impression that "our house is divided against itself." For such is not the case. We believe in exchanging opinions and learning from each other, and have always followed that plan. I am anxious to learn, and would be glad if this subject might continue with less abuse and more helpfulness. The letters contain good thoughts and some wit and humor. Let us shake hands and be good again, and see who can furnish the most helpful ideas in our work.

MRS. H. E. BEHAN.

Redman's Letter.

To the Editor of "The Billboard."

Dear Sir:—Since my last report we have done the following work: Distributed 6,000 books for Washington Med. Institute, Chicago; 3,000 booklets for St. Jacob Institute, Chicago, and 6,000 books for Mrs. Kennedy & Kegan, Detroit, Mich., all three at Lemon Bros. Circus, which exhibited here May 13. Have also distributed 1,000 booklets for Dr. Chase Co., Philadelphia, and 200 books for The Meller Drug Co., St. Louis. Mo. I am working on a 4,500 lot from Dr. Chase Co., Philadelphia, and have 88 samples of Hagee's Cod Liver Oil, to be delivered to the physicians in Milan, Dundee, Britton, Tecumseh, Clinton, Manchester, Saline, Dexter, Chelsea, Wayne, Plymouth, Northville, Belleville, for The Katharon Chemical Co., St. Louis, Mo. Business has been very good this season, and I trust that it will keep the same in the future. Everything points that way.

Wishing "The Billboard" success and soliciting a trial from the national advertisers for my list of towns, I am, respectfully,

W. B. REDMAN.

Saginaw, Mich., Sayings.

To the Editor of "The Billboard."

Dear Sir:—During months of May and June I have done work for Dr. Miles, two special jobs, 10,000, besides one Dr. Miles, regular, of 3,000; Dr. Sheep, two jobs, of 10,000 each; city firm of 11,000, and also another city firm of 5,000. I am now doing some work for Telephone Company, distributing directories. Expect work from Mennen Chemical Co. and Wristle Soap Co., of Chicago. I have been too busy to write before this. We have a celebration here the Fourth of July. Yours truly,

E. D. MOORE.

SECRETARY'S REPORT

The somewhat belated official statement of Secretary Bryan, of the Associated Bill Posters, which purports to present an accurate record of the financial condition of that organization, is a rather instructive document, worthy of close perusal. The appearance of this statement has been patiently awaited since the first of the month, and it was generally expected to be an elaborately itemized account of considerable magnitude. In this respect it is decidedly disappointing, inasmuch as there are only thirty-five vouchers drawn on the treasurer shown in the account, which scarcely fills out one sheet of typewritten paper. We certainly looked for something more elaborate and explanatory. However, it contains enough figures and combinations thereof to satisfy the average disinterested citizen. For instance, it is a matter of congratulation to know that the receipts from July, 1899, to June 1 last amounted to $3,454.01, and the disbursements during that period figured up $1,291.05, leaving a neat little balance of $2,162.96. The expense account shows that it takes considerable money to keep the secretary's office in running order. In fact, Secretary Bryan has not been able to keep the sum much below $700, and this does not include office stationery, typewriter, press clippings, etc., which amount to more than $200 more. It is also interesting to note that George M. Leonard was allowed at different times a sum in excess of $150, which represents his personal outlay at three separate, special meetings of the executive board. The report does not show that other members of the committee were allowed this expense account. Yet Stahlbrecht managed to pull $84 out of the "pot," Pratt $32, and Gude $15, but no explanations are vouchsafed. There are a few foggy places in the report, but on the whole, it is probably clear enough to satisfy the curiosity and inspection of the average bill poster.

THERE ARE OTHER WAYS.

In the "publicity" department of the current issue of the "National Printer Journalist," some very pertinent and timely observations are made in regard to the modern methods of advertising. The unwarranted, unreckoned and slavish habit which many large advertisers have of granting to the daily newspapers the very front rank of effectiveness in this respect has been introduced for inspection in the following words:

"An iconoclast was, in the old days, a smasher of graven images and idols which men fell down and worshipped because they were told it was the proper thing to do. The business public of to-day have the same logical belief in advertising as the people of all ages in all parts of the world have ever had in deity. But there are some false and deluded prophets who have set up those great tin gods, the big daily newspapers, declaring that these are the only true divinities for shaping the ends of advertisers. So there is still work for an iconoclast. Seriously, we have no wish to wholly disparage or discourage the use of the big daily papers and magazines as advertising mediums. Such a course would be foolish. But we do wish to show that these mediums are not the only peddles on the shingle. The advertising journals which are looked upon as authorities give far too little attention to the merits of other mediums, and many of them are continually barking against the use of the excellent mediums furnished by the job printer, the small publisher, etc. Now, we ourselves look upon these papers as authorities in many of the matters which pertain to the science of advertising. It is they who deserve the bulk of the credit for the fact that advertising is becoming more and more an exact science year by year. But any discussion which is devoid of unreasoning prejudice and bitterness only serves to help on the same good work. As Heine said: 'For enlightenment on any important question we have to thank discussion alone. The world would not yet be enlightened upon many a thing if they had not been the subject of discussion and strife. To discuss and to battle seem to be the most agreeable pastimes of men.' Let our iconoclasm be of the cheerful variety. We do not know it all, and we desire to know as much as possible. And if we lose in any argument, we hope to do so cheerfully, knowing that the question we raise will be of illimitable benefit to those connected in any way with the noble art of advertising."

They Say—

That Barney Link, of Brooklyn, promises to be just as much of a feature in the Atlantic City proceedings as he was at the Chicago convention last summer.

That the wall and bulletin showing which the "Sovereign Remedies" obtained through the medium of The Posting Sign Company, of Philadelphia, is one of the best ever seen in the East.

That it will take considerably more than $5,000 of the new Protective company's funds to settle Campbell's differences with the three leading theaters of Chicago. Can any amount mend the breach?

That Bob Gunning, in company with Harry L. Kramer and A. H. Schanz, of the Sterling Remedy Company, spent the greater part of last week in Omaha inspecting the "Casca-ret" showing in that city.

That the name of the hotel where the Associated Bill Posters will hold their convention in Atlantic City this year may be appropriately applied to some of the delegates at the conclusion of the meeting.

That Frank Fitzgerald, of Milwaukee, objects to the title "Adonis" being applied to O. J. Gude. He says that it rightfully belongs on the other side of the Brooklyn Bridge. Does he mean Barney Link?

That Bummer Chapman has quit bicycling and has taken seriously to typewriting as a means of reducing his superfluous flesh. On the office instrument he has already developed a speed of three words in five minutes.

That Billy Dilts, of Cincinnati, is a sign and wall painter who never makes much of a splash at publicity, yet does a splendid business notwithstanding. His new advertising contracts for last week amounted to more than $10,000.

That Mike Breslaucr, of Minneapolis, denies the report that he has been dickering for the purchase of the Omaha plant. Mike says the rumor undoubtedly had its origin in the fact that he held the Omaha proxy at the recent special Chicago "loyalty" meeting.

That if Col. Burr Robbins had been present at the Hotel Bartholdi meeting in New York last March, instead of Rattlin, Roarin' Robert, it is more than a probability that the American Posting Service of Chicago would never have signed the new Protective project.

That the ghost of the defunct C. H. Hoed enterprise still stalks through Chicago, tormenting Campbell, Col. Burr Robbins, trustee of the interests involved, reports that no definite settlement has yet been reached, as matters are in a rather messed-up condition.

That the Press Clipping Bureau, which the association has placed at the disposal of Secretary Bryan, might be used to better advantage if applied to the columns of the "Waif," for then, it is thought, the "Undertaker" might get a chance to occasionally strike a bright second-handed thought.

That George A. Treysor, who was formerly one of the most prominent men in the bill posting business, and who holds the distinguished honor of being the first president of the association, is now general manager of the American Credit Service Association, with quarters in the Roanoke Building, Chicago.

That reports emanating from New York indicate that an effort will be made by the Eastern gang to railroad the Atlantic City convention through as hurriedly as possible, so as to prevent any introduction or general discussion of the new Protective project. But any such movement is bound to be defeated.

That a report was current in Chicago last week to the effect that Paul Schaefer, of the American Posting Service, had been drowned. Investigation proved that it was another person of the same name who met that fate. In commenting upon the embarrassing rumor, Paul says: "Death has no such terrors for me as water has."

That a bill has been introduced in the Louisiana legislature to prohibit citizens from making any false representations in their bills and advertisements. Should this bill become a law the circus in Louisiana, the only great consolidated, world-combined aggregation of shows, will lose much of its advertised picturesqueness.

That a striking feature of the outdoor display in New York is the great number of 12 boards which the O. J. Gude Company has placed on the buildings along the elevated lines. They are on a direct line of vision to the occupants of the cars, and are great eye-catchers. "Slanjims" is the peculiar name by which they are classified.

That a majority of the delegates and members of the bill posting fraternity who will attend the Atlantic City convention have arranged for quarters at the Hotel de Ville. M. W. Truitt, manager of this hostelry, seems to be the right sort of a benefactor, as he has completed arrangements for a swell banquet to be given in honor of the visiting bill posters.

That a glance at the fiscal statement recently issued by Secretary Bryan, giving an insight into the condition of the association's treasury, is all that is necessary to convince anyone why this young gentleman is an ardent candidate for re-election. Past experiences show that changes from year to year would be an expedient movement in the secretary's office.

That President O'Mealia must have been fully imbued with the fact that a few fancy dancing exhibitions will be introduced by the delegates to the Atlantic City convention, when he selected the "ball room of the Hotel Dennis" as a convention hall. Link and Hager will probably lead the grand promenade, while Roaring Robert is expected to give another laughable performance of his famous backward glide.

That A. Van Heuren, the millionaire bill poster of New York, is enjoying his tour abroad immensely. Sam Pratt recently received a letter from him, written in Geneva, Italy, which contains an interesting description of the bill posting methods that prevail in the ancient city which gave a Christopher Columbus to the world. Mr. Van Heuren is now visiting the Paris Exposition, and will not return to America for several months.

That one of the pleasant, pointed storyettes going the rounds relates the manner in which Bill Lute and Stahlbrecht severed their partnership. Lute came into the office on May 1 with a shining plug hat, a brand new spring suit and a convincing smile. "Good morning, Teddy," was his salutation. "This is moving day, I'm going to start shop across the street where are you going?" And by this simple episode Teddy found himself grasswidowed without alimony.

Official Calls.

Both the president and secretary of the Associated Bill Posters have issued official calls to the members of the organization, requesting all who can possibly do so, to be present at the regular annual convention, which will be held at Atlantic City from July 10 to 13. These calls were both sent from the secretary's office in Cleveland, under date of June 16, and are as follows:

PRESIDENT'S CALL.

To the Officers and Members of the Associated Bill Posters of the United States and Canada, Greeting.

Dear Sirs: The time has again arrived to issue our call for the annual meeting of our organization, which will occur this year at Atlantic City, N. J., on Tuesday and Wednesday, July 10 and 11, and, if business requires it, on Thursday, July 12. The meeting will be held in the ball-room of the Hotel Dennis on the Boardwalk and Michigan Avenue. This hotel faces the ocean, is strictly first-class, and one of the finest in the city, and all members should write at once to secure accommodations.

The past year has been an eventful and prosperous one for the association, and has placed the bill posters of the country in closer touch with the general advertiser in our methods, which means the advertiser in the future will always set aside part of his appropriation for bill posting. Matters for the general good of our members will come up for your action, and it is essential that every member who possibly can do so, should be present at this meeting. Make this your annual vacation, and combine business with pleasure by taking active part in what so vitally concerns your business interests. Yours very truly, J. F. O'MEALIA, Pres.

SECRETARY'S CALL.

Dear Sir: The annual meeting of the Associated Bill Posters of the United States and Canada will take place this year at the Hotel Dennis, Atlantic City, N. J., commencing July 10. Every member is earnestly requested to attend this meeting and take part in the deliberations. You owe it both to yourself and to the association to attest your loyalty and show your interest by devoting sufficient time for the transaction of the association business. Do not fail to attend.

The B. P. O. Elks hold their annual reunion at Atlantic City at the same time as our meeting, and the railroad companies will undoubtedly make a special rate which our members can take advantage of. On account of the Elks' reunion, accommodations will be liable to be scarce, and I would suggest that you make arrangements for the same as early as possible.

Being to have the pleasure of meeting you at Atlantic City, July 10, I remain, fraternal years, J. F. O'MEALIA, Pres. C. F. BRYAN, Secretary.

It seems that the Hotel de Ville will be the general headquarters and social rendezvous for most of the visiting bill posters at Atlantic City during the coming convention. The following is a partial list of well known craftsmen who have already engaged quarters at the hostelry: Samuel Pratt and family, of New York; R. A. Stahlbrecht and family, of Rochester, N. Y.; F. E. Fitch and wife, of New York; R. M. Storob, of Newark, N. J.; Frank Fitzgerald, of Milwaukee; Thomas J. Murphy and Barney Link, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Charles Bernard, of Savannah, Ga.; W. W. Seely, of New York; H. E. Stoons, of Chattanooga, Tenn.; R. S. Douglass, of Birmingham, Ala.; J. Garlick, of New Orleans; M. J. Deely, of Atlanta, Ga.; J. D. Burroughs, of Jacksonville, Fla.; W. A. Sheetz, of Nashville, Tenn.; Charles Oliver, of Lebanon, Pa.; Charles Krutz, of Goshen, Ind.; J. W. Griffith, of Greensboro, N. C.; J. D. Plummer, of Asheville, N. C.; A. M. Chesbro, of Glen Falls, N. Y.; and Messrs. Conzolo and Cheshire, of Norfolk, Va. O. J. Gude is also expected to stop at this hotel, and more than a score more bill posters have already written for rates.

Will They be Elected?

We are told that the constitution of the Associated Bill Posters will be amended at the Atlantic City meeting so as to provide for the election of the board of directors by popular vote. The men behind the movement are sanguine, but they are not organized. On this account the outlook is dubious.

Milwaukee's Carnival.

The carnival which was held in Milwaukee this week was a huge success in every respect. It speaks well for the public spirit and enterprise of Milwaukee that the carnivals held in that city have increased in attractiveness from year to year. It is not too much to say that this is due almost wholly to the fact that the citizens who have been placed in charge of them are men who seek the welfare of Milwaukee rather than personal notoriety. Every man on the committee this year, as in former years, was a worker, and the preparations for the event were carried on, not in the columns of the newspapers, nor at club luncheons, but according to the same principles the projectors follow in the transaction of the private business. The carnival cost the citizens of Milwaukee not less than $100,000. This sum was invested in the spectacle alone, and without regard to what was done by private enterprise. As predicted, it eclipsed the Mardi Gras of New Orleans and the Veiled Prophet of St. Louis in general spectacular features. Experience has taught Milwaukeeans that these carnivals pay handsome dividends. Experience has also taught them that to be successful they must be entrusted only to level-headed, practical men, who have no axes to grind, and who are aiming only to achieve something that will reflect credit upon their city.

Emancipation Celebration.

Columbus, O., June 21—(Special.)—The Afro-Americans of this city are arranging to celebrate Emancipation Day, September 22, with elaborate exercises. A preliminary meeting was held in the hall of the Central Market House Monday evening to discuss plans. There was a large representation present. Thomas H. Curtis was made chairman, and Mark C. Huston secretary. It is intended that this celebration shall eclipse any yet held in Columbus, and the work of arrangement was commenced at this time in order to induce the citizens of other towns to dispense with their annual celebrations and come to Columbus. The matter was discussed at some length by Wilbur King, Edward Triplett, J. C. Logan and others, the consensus of opinion being that the Afro-Americans should unite heartily in the consummation of the plan. A general committee was appointed, consisting of Thomas H. Curtis, William Matthews, Charles S. Davis, Charles E. Ransom and J. R. Jackson, whose duty it will be to appoint the subcommittees and get them to work.

The Billing of Fairs.

It is very evident that fair managers and promoters have a great deal to learn about the proper outdoor advertising methods that should be called into play in order to attract more general attention, as well as bigger crowds of visitors to their fairs. The old-fashioned custom of using nothing larger than a three-sheet poster is still in vogue, while most fairs are satisfied with a one and two-sheet showing. Fairs, especially those which are State events, should be billed like a circus. The increased expense for such a display would be infinitesimal compared with the abundant results obtained. This is the day of outdoor advertising, and no entertainment of this character can be brought before the attention of the public without a lavish display of posters of respectable size.

Hamilton, O., Street Fair.

Hamilton, O., June 16—(Special.)—Hamilton Lodge, No. 93, B. P. O. E., held a large-ly attended meeting last night in Elks' Hall and decided to give a street fair or Elks' carnival and business men's exposition in this city during the week beginning Monday, July 25. The matter was thoroughly canvassed and discussed; the Elks were addressed by Will Heck of Deek's Wonder World, Cincinnati, and by Abdul Ed Hamid, a genuine Arab and a brother of New York Lodge, No. 1, and the decision to hold the fair was enthusiastic and unanimous. A committee on arrangements was appointed, consisting of W. C. Shepherd, D. M. Bake, Peter E. Schwab, John W. Williams, Charles Howard, Wm. F. Thomas, A. J. Warndor, S. V. Hull, C. S. Bosch and Peter Metzler.

Burlington, Ia., Scengeriest.

A Saengerfest committee consisting of Carl Schlapp, W. W. Parsons, Wm. Muenzenmeyer, F. J. Riling, Geo. H. Prentler, J. A. Guest and Joseph N. Koltz, accompanied by ex-Building Commissioner Hassel, Present Commissioner Anderson and Architect Washburn, visited the Coliseum at Burlington, Ia., with a view to finding what repairs were necessary before the fest can be given. The stage is to be extended out into the pit in a semi-circle, and will include one section on also to be built for the accommodation of visiting members of the fraternity. The building was found to be in good condition otherwise, and the changes necessary will cost only about $300. Besides the stage, which will seat 1,800 singers, the seating capacity will be from 3,000 to 3,500 when the necessary changes are made.

Arthur Ledyard Drowned.

Toledo, O., June 21—(Special.)—Arthur Ledyard, one of the best known balloon operators and parachute artists in the country, was drowned in Lake Erie this evening. He was giving an exhibition at the Butchers' and Grocers' Picnic, which was held at Presque Isle, just outside the city limits. Just after he ascended the wind shifted, and instead of drifting in toward the city, as he expected, he was carried out over the lake. He evidently abandoned hope of the parachute, and was soon climbing up into the rigging of the balloon. Suddenly the balloon collapsed and dropped into the lake. Steamers had started in the wake of the balloon, but before they arrived Ledyard had gone down. Two barges are dragging for the body. Ledyard is the man who painted a revolver at another at Cedar Point last year, supposing the weapon to be unloaded. The result was a sudden death and Ledyard had a hard fight in the courts for acquittal. This is the third balloonist who has been drowned here within a few years.

State Fair Proposed.

It is proposed to hold a State Fair at Birmingham, Ala., this fall. J. M. Falkner, who represents the judgment creditors of the defunct Alabama Fair Association, recently invited a number of leading citizens to a conference with him. This conference was held in the Merris, June 20, and after some discussion, it was resolved that a committee be appointed to canvass the city and ascertain the sentiment of the populace with reference to a State fair this fall. The judgment creditors of the old association are willing to turn over the grounds to the people of Birmingham for a State fair. Captain Falkner and other gentlemen at the meeting were of the opinion that a successful State fair could be held this fall under the auspices of the business men of Birmingham, under whose conduct it is proposed to have the fair.

Street Fair to be Held.

Carthage, Mo., June 21 (special.)—A street fair will be given here July 4, under the auspices of Carthage B. P. O. Elks, No. 529. Arrangements have been made with the City Council for the use of certain streets, and preparations are already under way. The fair will continue for the week. H. R. P. Miller will act as general director.

A Vehicle Exhibit.

Monte Green, promoter of the great vehicle, harness and implement exhibit, to be held in Cincinnati, November 19 to 21, has returned to the Grand from a fourteen days' canvass of Michigan in the interest of the exhibit, and had a most encouraging reception. Twelve of the largest companies in the State contracted for space, and a number of them will send carload lots to be displayed. Mr. Green says that every firm but one in Columbus, O., has contracted for space, and there will be a large number of exhibits from the East.

Forty-Seventh Annual Fair.

The Germantown (Ky.) Association gives its forty-seventh annual fair Aug. 29 to Sept. 3. This fair has missed but one meeting in forty-eight years. Truly a great record. Some of the original directors are still living, as well as more than a half-dozen old-timers who have never missed a fair. Although Germantown is not on a railroad, the fair is well advertised and largely attended each year. John R. Walton, the hustling secretary, is thoroughly up to date in advertising ideas.

The Canadian Iniquity.

The outrageously high tariff which Canada has inflicted on posters from the United States is rendered doubly atrocious in the case of her agricultural fairs. These valuable institutions are practically debared from obtaining good advertising material. No firm in Canada makes fair posters, and none will attempt it, because even with the protection of the monstrous tariff, they can not compete with the poster printers of the United States. This is due to the fact that there are not enough fairs in Canada to warrant the production of the work in editions large enough to cut the price to a reasonable figure.

The agricultural fair is an educational institution. They are not run in the interest of shareholders. They are projected and maintained for the public good.

Educational institutions are entitled to every consideration. We would advise the fair managers of Canada to petition Parliament for a reasonable ruling on posters. We would furthermore advise Canadian bill posters to lend their support to the move-

The Owensboro (Ky.) Fair has new dates, Sept. 18 to 22, with attractive show rings for horses, Wild West, acrobatic performances, nummable made shows and five races each day. There will be nearly $5,000 in purses to the winners, and this fair promises to be the best ever held in Western Kentucky.

The third annual Keokuk (Ia.) Street Fair is on for the last week of September. Last year's fair drew over 15,000 strangers every day, and the prospects for this year are that the city will be taxed to its capacity to entertain the strangers. There will be no July 4th celebration on account of the street fair.

The Carnival Grounds at Chicago, Ill., extend from Harrison to Congress and Loomis to Third streets. The great Khorrassan Carnival and Industrial Exposition opened there June 25 and will continue until July 11. It will be one of the largest Oriental exhibitions since the palmy days of the World's Fair.

Manito, Ill., will celebrate on the Fourth in great style. The city has taken the matter in hand, and will do all they can to make the nation's natal day one of pleasure and enjoyment. The Lewiston Military Band will furnish the music, and Prof. A. E. Turner, of Lincoln College, will be the orator. Arrangements of various other kinds will be furnished.

Those who did the most work for the Terre Haute (Ind.) Street Fair last year have no thought of abandoning the enterprise this year because of political campaign, or any of the other reasons given why the matter should be postponed until 1901. The New York State Fair Association has arranged the following provisional program for the fair to be given at Syracuse in August: Monday, Aug. 27, opening day, with William J. Bryan as the guest of the commission and the speaker, if he can be secured Tuesday, Aug. 28, Brandy day, with Commissioner E. H. Norris, master of ceremonies, the speakers prominent Grayson's Wednesday, Aug. 29, Governor's day, Governor Theodore Roosevelt, Speaker S. Fred Nixon and other State officers in attendance. Thursday, Aug. 30, President's day, President McKinley the speaker, if he can be secured Friday, Aug. 31, Syracuse day, Mayor James K. McGuire, the guest of the commission; speeches by the mayor, city officials, President Bacon of the Chamber of Commerce, Saturday, 2nd away day. An automobile race is the principal attraction. It was decided to spend $3,000 for top dressing the new mile track and for fences and tracks.

Dwensboro, Ky., is to have a fair this year. Messrs. Hugh Williams and Freeman Little recently closed the deal for the Davies County Fair Grounds, and will give a fair in September, beginning on Tuesday, the 18th, and closing on Saturday, the 22d. The business men of the city have subscribed $1,000 in premiums. The program will be printed at an early date. The chief racing event will be the Dwensboro Derby on the opening day, one and one-fourth mile, for a purse of $700. Attractive purses will be offered every day, so as to bring 150 or more race horses here for the whole week. It is the intention of Messrs. Williams and Little to have many more running races than were ever given at a Davies County fair, and they already have the promise of some of the best stables of runners in the country. Other special features will be given, such as acrobatic performances, etc., and the grounds will be filled with tent shows.

From Chelsea to the Inlet there are all sorts of attractions, says the New York Press. "None so important now as the delightful concerts given daily and every evening by that musical organization called the 'Royal Marine Band of Italy,' conducted by Signor Minotti, a young Stevan who ranks as one of the most numerous and musically leaders of the times. This band is composed of forty-five members, every one of whom is an artist, and all seem possessed with the true spirit of their art. In fact, the trombonist, has no equal in this country. He plays a straight instrument, not using the sliding trombone, which has not been in use in Italy for fifteen years. Settari, the harpist of the band, is a great artist. The history of this band is interesting. Over a year ago the Union Traction Company of Philadelphia gave carte blanche to Channing Ellery to engage the best band that could be obtained. Mr. Ellery did better than engage an organization—he created a band, and a great one it is. Mr. Ellery's unfortunate experience with the Banda Rossa made him more than cautious. He worked carefully. Engaging Signor Palma, a young musician, and one to be trusted in such matters, he sent him to Italy, where he made arrangements with Signor Minotti, with the result that to-day Mr. Ellery has the finest band in America."
