"THE COIN MACHINE MERRY-GO-ROUND"

BY BILL GERSH

FACTORY MUSIC

Jimmy Jomail, in his well read column, "The Inquiring Photographer" (N.Y. Daily News, Sunday, Oct. 4th) asked the following question: "Some industrial plants have provided music for their employees while they are at work, to speed production. What do you think of the idea?" This question was asked of: Geo. G. Goldie, Vice-President, John David Stores, Inc., (one of the largest chains of men's furnishings stores in New York City); Robert K. Christenberry, Vice President and General Manager of the Astor Hotel; Dr. Frank Black, General Music Director of N.B.C.; Walter F. McGinnis, Chief Yeoman, U.S.N.R.; John Tuohy, Jr., Commissioner of Labor for the State of New Jersey and Al Buckingham, Vice President of Cluett, Peabody & Co. (makers of Arrow collars and shirts). Each answer was extremely favorable from these industrial leaders, and bears out the statement we made some issues back wherein we suggested that war industries had opened new locations for musicops and that in these spots older phonos could be placed (with the proper number of auxiliary speakers) at a very handsome rental basis - the play to be controlled by the factory management (and this would require removal of the coin chutes only). The article which suggested this first appeared in Forbes magazine then in many leading newspapers thruout the country and finally two issues ago in Reader's Digest. A typical answer to this question came from Mr. Buckingham of Cluett, Peabody & Co. who stated, "We have provided music during working hours, but our premise was the health of the workers and not increased production. We have found that workers feel less fatigue at the end of the day, very gratifying to us, because as I have said, their health was our real purpose." Don't overlook the factories near you. Solicit these locations now. Ask from $10.00 per week rental and up depending on how many auxiliary speakers you have to spread about the place. .

SLOT SKINNER

Also in Sunday's (Oct. 4th) edition of the N. Y. News appears a feature story dated Omaha, Nebr., Oct. 3rd, about Herschel L. Blackwell, known as the "King of Skinners", who is reputed to be the really wise boy when it comes to busting into slots and cleaning out the cash. It is reported in this article that he worked with two accomplices and that he drilled into the machines to clean them out. He also is reported to have used a magnet attached to his wrist for other types of machines. That he is out of jail seems to be based on the fact that slot machines being ruled illegal where he operated his skin game - the law cannot jail him because of this queer quirk. He does state (Herschel does) that the boys in Cleveland ran him the hell out of town and even shot two or three tires off his car in the process. (This sounds a bit cracked to us.) But, tho this feature article is irritating from the standpoint that this newspaper (noted isolationist) could have used this valuable space for something of much more import, we do hope that the publicity which Herschel L. Blackwell has obtained from it will rebound to punch the teeth out of his mouth in the next spot he tries his filthy tricks. Keep on the lookout for him.

SCOOP

A few issues back The Cash Box ran a scoop on the fact that the U. S. had cut down the digger tax from $50.00 to $10.00 per year. In that same item we also advised how the diggers would have to run because of the fact that merchandise, like lighters, compacts, etc. are almost impossible to obtain. The method as suggested by those in the know is the use of quarters, half dollars and silver dollars and even bills buried in a layer of hard candies and slum. If you can run diggers in your territory in this fashion - they'll go over the top for you in profits - for they still are among the most fascinating of all coin games for the public.

COIN MACHINE TAXES

As yet the men in Washington haven't decided just what the yearly taxes should be in regard to coin machines. Rumors floating about should be entirely disregarded. That slots will bear a $100.00 per year tax does not seem to frighten any of the slot men. That all other types of amusement devices will bear a flat $10.00 tax is certainly good news. If counter games are classified in this latter category then a lot of coinmen are going to make some real money. If phonos are taxed $10.00 per year, we must remember that there is a war still on, that the phonops can't go beyond their $25,000. per year salary anyway - so what the hell. In the meantime, scotch all the rumors until you receive official notice.

"THE COIN MACHINE MERRY-GO-ROUND"

PETRILLO VS MUSICOPS

The following are remarks gleaned from noted musicops in our past six weeks of traveling throught the east and midwest: What does the A.F. of M. want from records being played in coinphonos? Claim that musicians aren't getting their share from each record should not be smacked back at musicop. Instead, cost should come from the record manufacturers. Then op can decide for himself just how many records he can afford to purchase at increased price. A.F. of M. claim that "juke boxes" make "millions" from their records is tremendously exaggerated. Let A.F. of M. settle cost with record manufacturers once and for all on all records sold to phonops for commercial purposes. No musicop wants to take undue advantage of musicians. Phonos have helped artists to great popularity. Andrews Sisters, Bing Crosby, Glenn Miller, Benny Goodman, Sammy Kaye, Eddy Duchin, Orrin Tucker and dozens and dozens of others agree to this fact. If records will cost 50¢ or 75¢ each ops will probably buy a lot less and be very choosy. Location percentages will have to be cut to make room for this additional expense. Blaming the musicop is unfair. He wants the musicians to benefit. But, he also wants and needs records to maintain his business. And help to maintain morale. If Petrillo wins his case many wildcat manufacturers are going to spring up. Majority of musicops are willing to work with A.F.M. on clarified decision. Or effect compromise. Are also willing to pay a little more knowing that when this is made public that locations will be forced to work with them. Therefore all the shouting now going on does not help to bring solution to problem. If U.S. trial proves unfavorable demand that record manufacturers make some arrangements with A.F.M. whereby phonops will be able to obtain new records. Labor should not attempt to take undue advantage of other laboring men. Would there even be a case today if coinphonos hadn't risen to such great popularity? "Don't kill the goose that lays the golden eggs", say phonops to Petrillo.

COIN HOARDERS

The Treasury Department, to relieve increasing strain on the Mint, is planning a nationwide appeal against hoarding of coins. Adults and children who collect coins in cookie jars and piggy banks will be asked to put these coins back in circulation and collect War Stamps instead. Do your share to stop coin hoarding to help coinbiz.

AIR FREIGHT

Air freight has been used in the past by many coinmanufacturers shipping samples to distribs. Cost was terrific. New cargo planes now being built will be able to carry air freight at less than 30¢ per ton mile. (This cuts former figure of earlier part of this year of 50¢). This may lead to air freight shipping of coingames after the war and terrifically speed placement of machines throught the country. Thereby no one territory will be able to over rule sales in another with used machines. The cost of course is still much higher than rail freight which is about 1¢ per ton mile and ship-freight which is about $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ per ton mile.

WAR & BUSINESS

All types of entertainments are enjoying boom. Nite clubs, theatres, taverns, restaurants, coingames, etc. This is attributed to demand for relaxation and possible momentary forgetfulness of war. Roadside spots, tho, are off more than 40% and going down every week. This is attributed to gas rationing. Retail buying is up. Women are buying more sensible clothing. Shortage sure in fine cottons and woollens for women. Men's clothing stocks are holding up. This is due to draft taking so many men away. All confections are in boom - people eating more candy and cake. Farmers are suffering from lack of help as are garagemen and all other service industries. Too much profit taking on stocks to boom stock market. And too severe government control to allow start of another stock boom.

TIME & DISTANCE

The air plane chopped down time and distance terrifically for all U. S. businessmen - as is well realized these days. Telephones have saved millions of hours and miles. Leading publications are speeding to market to make it possible for buyers and sellers to keep up with the speed of plane and phone. The Cash Box, in its own modest way, has taken cognizance of these facts and is today the fastest moving media. Its First Class Mailing and Airmailing is helping to speed transactions and conquering time and distance for coinmen everywhere. It is tremendously interesting to be in Boston, New York, Washington, Newark, Richmond, or some other eastern city and see wires and hear phones ringing from the Midwest and Far West - and listen to sales being made due to The Cash Box. The very fact that over 87 subscribers came in within a short time asking that all advertising subscribers list their phones is certainty in itself that today speed is the essence of the coin machines industry. And The Cash Box is based on speed.

A COIN MACHINES CREDIT CLEARING BUREAU

About ten years ago we proposed a plan to create a "Coin Machines Credit Clearing Bureau". This was during the boom of the first pin games. The coinmen approached at that time (who later mourned the fact) claimed they were much, much too busy to even think about it. "And", said they, "who in the hell is going to give any credit in this business?"

It is safe to say that 80% of the sales in this industry today are conducted on a credit basis. And there's no reason why long and short term credits should not be granted to reliable parties. There is no reason why you should lose a profitable sale if credit is the only hitch. We know that for some reason or other a lot of fine and honest coinmen have never attempted to obtain a credit rating. And yet they are "as good as gold".

We feel that as the industry now becomes highly concentrated and therefore a smaller unit that a credit bureau should be established to serve at least for the duration. And be especially prepared (after the war) to most efficiently and completely serve the entire industry.

There is no doubt that after the war we are going to enter the greatest boom era in all American history — and hundreds of new operators (for new types of post-war equipment) will spring up. Such a centralized credit organization will be a necessity.

To start the ball rolling we propose you list your "bad accounts" with all data regarding them and mail to us today. By all of our subscribers acting in accord we can eventually evolve and develop a credit clearing bureau of great efficiency and merit. It's up to you.

Bill Gersh
