UNITY

Possibly the most dramatic words yet spoken during this war period were those of Secretary of State Cordell Hull at the opening of the international security conference at Dumbarton Oaks, just outside of Washington, D. C.

These words should be indelibly impressed on the minds of the members of this industry just as they have impressed themselves on all the world.

"We have witnessed", stated Secretary Hull, "and are witnessing today, the sweep of forces of savagery and barbarism of the kind that civilized men hoped and believed would not rise again. Armed with the weapons of modern science and technology, and with equally powerful weapons of coercion and deceit, these forces almost succeeded in enslaving mankind because the peace-loving nations of the world were disunited.

"These forces of evil now face utter defeat because, at long last, their intended victims attained the unity and armed power which are now bringing victory to us. The lessons of earlier disunity and weakness should be stamped indelibly upon the minds and hearts of this generation and of the generations to come."

In those words lies a great lesson for the members of this industry. In the fact that there always has been, and it now seems will continue to be for sometime to come, disunity in the ranks of this industry, creating such utter weakness that this industry lies prone to all savage attacks from publicity seeking politicians, circulation seeking newspapers and glory seeking crusaders.

Once again, then, in the words of Secretary Hull, "The lessons of earlier disunity and weakness should be stamped indelibly upon the minds and hearts of this generation and of the generations to come."

With those words ringing in their ears the men of this industry should look back and remember how disunity and weakness in their ranks brought them increased, and in many cases overbearing, inequitable taxation. Caused them to lose good territory. Found them disunited when problems of great significance arose. Made them appear weak and forlorn, and not even like an industry, when they appeared before Congressional and Senatorial committees in Washington in an attempt to obtain equitable taxation.

Of these words of Secretary Hull, urging the peace-loving nations of the world to unite so that their concentrated might will keep any future seeker after world power hidden in his own little rat-hole of hatred, should this industry, too, take heed.

This industry could come overnight into the position in America's industrial empire it so rightfully deserves if it would immediately form its ranks into one unified group for its own future welfare.

Such a group was long, long ago proposed by The Cash Box as the "National Coin Machines Board of Trade" - a common meeting ground for all members of all divisions of this industry.

It is hoped that in the not too distant future those men of the armed forces who will return to enter into this industry, those men who have been so intensely drilled in teamwork, that those men will create an organization; non-political, non-profitable and non-partisan in nature, which will benefit all in this business by establishing a strong and united front for this industry.

Teamwork can do it.

"The Coin Machines Merry-Go-Round"

CUTBACK USED PRICES NOW?

Thruout the trade, at this time, there seems to have arisen discussion in regard to the present prices of used equipment.

Many are of the belief that these will drop suddenly. The report that a small crack was at last visible in the present used equipment price structure, brought forth statements from some leaders in the field to the effect that this crack would most assuredly widen into a yawning chasm within a very short period of time, especially when the first new machines were announced.

As yet there is much controversy in this regard. Some are of the belief that regardless of the fact that new equipment will be announced, there will not be any sudden debacle in used machine prices.

These men base their claim on the fact that it will take a great many months before new equipment can make itself sufficiently felt on the market to cause any severe price drops.

These men are also of the belief that the average coinman has so stabilized his present business that he does not fear any sudden reversal affecting his operations.

Some also explain that only those who believe the average man in this industry is guided by fear and hysteria will state that he is going to suddenly toss all of his present equipment out of the window and make a dash to buy new machines.

"First of all", one of these men writes, "no one is going to toss away a used machine until he has a new machine to replace it. The average location is not capable of jumping the take up to such a point where the average operator will want to invest more money in the place, and without any doubt a lot more than he used to invest in pre-war days, to try to get the difference from the spot that the cost of the new equipment would require, in addition to what the location is already taking in for him at this time.

"Also to be considered", he continues, "is the fact that the average location where such staple items as music, cigarette machines, etc., etc., are located, is probably producing top take right now.

"When the European war finishes, everyone expects a general tightening up of money. The average war worker will suddenly become cautious about spending. Especially when he notes the production cut backs and perhaps finds himself temporarily out of work while his factory, and many others, are re-tooling.

"This will mean a drop in take which even new equipment isn't going to bring back in a hurry."

At the same time, these men concede, new equipment is the lifeblood of this industry, and will always remain such. For example, they explain, the average amusement device, such as pinball machines, etc., thrives on better collections as new equipment is brought to the location because of the change in play.

As one music man writes, "Unless the manufacturers can show me something a lot better than the equipment I now have, I'm not going to be in any hurry to change my machines to new instruments. I believe that I'm getting top take from my spots right now.

"I don't think that new equipment will do enough above the average I'm now getting to make it worthwhile for me to invest many thousands of dollars in it. I'm going to proceed cautiously and I'm going to continue to replace equipment only as I need it."

The other side of the argument is that prices must drop and that they will drop with great suddenness. These men base their convictions of a heavy price drop on the fact that no buying of any real volume is being done at this time because the trade is waiting to hear further about new equipment.

They claim that the moment the first new machine announcements are made the average operator will start out instantly to get as much as he can for he will fear that unless he gets there first with the latest, someone else is going to take a lot of locations away from him.

These same coinmen voice the opinion that this entire industry is based on this sort of competitive action and that it is therefore imperative for the average coinman to buy, and buy quickly, before he is caught in the claws of competition that can take his locations away from him with new machines.

This, they claim will start the price avalanche and used machines will drop to below zero.

"The Coin Machines Merry-Go-Round"

They also state that one of the real reasons for little or no buying on the part of the greater majority today is due to the fact that they want new machines.

They claim that the average music operator does not want to invest anywhere from $400.00 to $600.00 for a used phono when he can purchase a new one for the same price and bring it to his location knowing that his competition can't outbest him.

"But", they claim, "if he brings in the finest used machine, he knows that the other man can point this out to the location and produce the newest to beat him to the spot."

Therefore, these men report, the one and only solution to the present used machines sales problem is an immediate cut back in prices to clear away all equipment now on hand. Otherwise, they claim, many an operator, jobber and distributor will be caught short and will find losses unusually heavy, because clearing off used equipment when new machines are being announced, will prove extremely difficult.

This controversy regarding an immediate used machines price cutback, is picking up followers, pro and con, clear across the nation every day.

OPERATING DISTRIBUTORS

Once again the question of operating-distributors arises in the trade as the post-war era rapidly approaches. The average coinman, entirely dependent on operating, believes that the distributor should not be in direct competition with him.

The distributor, in certain territories, feels this to be an imposition upon him. He argues that the average operator in his territory only buys certain machines he sells because he, the distributor, gets out on the firing line himself and proves what the machines can do for the operator.

In certain smaller territories, and as is well known to the trade, the large operator is also the distributor. In such territories these two divisions seem to go hand in hand very well. Some also claim that if they did not operate, the distributing part of their business would be of little value to them.

Of course, this controversy will continue until the factories themselves decide just how their products should be handled. The average factory is dependent on volume sales to hold down the price of their products to the lowest possible point and therefore must arrange for sales to those firms who can handle the largest number of their machines.

Yet the operating-distributors are becoming fewer as the years go by. The likelihood is that eventually they will disappear. Many new merchandising angles are expected to be put into practise in the post-war period and the general opinion is that some arrangement will be made whereby the distributor remains a distributor only.

FALL SPECIAL

The date for the Fall Special issue of The Cash Box was chosen very carefully and is considered extremely appropriate for this important occasion. The Fall Special will be dated, September 26, 1944, just two issues from this one, and it will close on September 14, 1944 at 5 P. M.

This means that Labor Day will have passed by long enough for the average coinman to know just what he plans for the rest of the year. It will also be the time when outlying and resort area machines will be pulled and brought back to city locations.

This is also the time of year when sales and purchasing step up to meet the Fall and Winter seasons. And there is no doubt that the Fall-Winter season of 1944-45 will prove most important to all in this industry. A great many changes are expected to occur during this season. And these changes give vent to the fact that the post-war era is here - now - the time when expressions regarding this era are to be made for all the trade's consideration. This issue fits this purpose.

Perhaps, just as the Fall Special issue appears, the war in Europe may be over. This should lend great impetus to making the Fall Special a "Victory Issue". Therefore, again, the Fall Special holds forth much that can be desired by all the trade.

As usual, the Fall Special will feature colorful covers. Already, too, many full and half page completely printed ads have been received for this issue. Many reservations have also been made. And many great announcements are going to appear in these advertisements that will interest everyone in this industry.

The Fall Special is one issue wherein every firm in this industry should make its opening post-war announcement, in addition to regular sales ads.

"TALKING OUT LOUD"

WILL CONTINUED RATIONING EFFECT MANUFACTURE AND OPERATING?

NEW YORK—The belief now prevalent thruout the nation's durable goods industries that rationing of raw materials will continue for possibly two years after the war is over may have a very stringent effect on manufacture of all consumers durable goods.

According to the thoughts of many, this may bring about an era whereby the manufacturers will be forced to ration the number of units they will produce each year.

If this comes about leaders in this industry predict coinmen will be standing in line to get new equipment. They base this statement on the belief that once new machines get out on locations, even those coinmen who may withhold from purchasing in the beginning, will have to buy whether they like it or not—or forget about progressing in this business.

They claim that word spreads faster among retailers than even among the members of this industry. One retailer tells another. In fact, even before he tells the other, these men claim, the play drops in the spot where the old equipment is located, and the storekeeper demands the new machine which is pulling his customers to his competitor.

With rationing more or less a possibility during post-war, and with the cost of raw materials and labor gauged to be about 25% higher than pre-war, a different type of operation may also come into being.

The new equipment may be operated for a year or so, amortizing its cost and then resold. In short, the average operator may see new equipment, in certain divisions of this industry, only after it has already been on location and already amortized itself, these leaders claim.

N. Y. Music Ops Ready Big Affair

NEW YORK—The automatic Music Operators Assn., Inc., this city, will hold their big annual dinner and dance Saturday evening, October 21, 1944, at the Starlight Roof of the Hotel Waldorf-Astoria.

As usual the organization promises the best in entertainment with leading bands, who will be in the city at that time, participating.

This year's affair, it is believed, will draw an extremely large gathering, for tickets are already being snatched up fast.

A great many music coinmen from all over this area are expected to be present.

Many music men from far away cities have also always attended and many stated, after the pleasant time they enjoyed last year, that they would be back again for this year's big affair.

N. J. Starts Vets Loan Program

TRENTON, N. J.—The Division of Veterans Services of the State Department of Economic Development will now make loans to qualified veterans, Charles R. Erdman, Jr., Commissioner, has just announced.

Applications and forms have already been approved by the New Jersey Bankers Assn. Veterans seeking loans up to $3,000 can make application to any bank in this state. Under the law, New Jersey will guarantee 90% of loans up to $3,000 to veterans who are qualified under the provisions of Federal and State loans.

The primary purpose of these loans is to assist veterans, who have been honorably discharged, who wish to set themselves up in a business or profession.

WPB CONSIDERING MFR. OF REPAIR PARTS

WASHINGTON—Revision of Order L-21 to permit the manufacture of repair parts for phonographs and other amusement machines is now being considered by WPB.

This is in accordance with what WPB officials told members of this industry's advisory committees.

The need for repair parts by the industry is very critical at this time. If WPB allows these to be manufactured once again there is no doubt that these will prove beneficial to all coinmen thruout the nation.

GAMES FOR THE U. S. NAVY

CHICAGO—Last week The Cash Box carried an appeal to all coinmen everywhere in the nation to help Commander W. C. Eddy, who is in charge of the U. S. Naval Training Schools in the Chicago area, to obtain games and a few phonos for entertainment and relaxation of the students who are training to become radio technicians with the fleet.

It is hoped that this second appeal will be heard by the men of this industry and that they will instantly dig up some of the old machines around their places, clean and repair them, and forward them to Commander Eddy, U. S. Naval Training Schools, 65 West Lake St., Chicago 1, Ill.

Already Carl F. Trippe of Ideal Novelty Company, St. Louis, Mo., advises that his firm shipped a few pin games to the school for the boys.

Others surely can spare a few old ray guns, some of the old ten and twelve record phonos with a supply of records, some pin games, a few dart games, target machines, etc., so that these boys in blue, who are

MAY SEE FRENCH MAG AGAIN

NEW YORK—One of the most notable events in the freeing of Paris, was that the French press appeared on the newsstands the day the allies marched in.

The coin machine field will remember the French magazine, "La Revue de L'Automatique." It is hoped that its editor will also soon bring it back again.

Herb Everschor — "One Man Band"

COLUMBUS, O.—The "one-man-band" has become more or less a rarity these days, but many will recall this phenomenon. A harmonica in his mouth, brass cymbals tied to his knees, bells tied around his elbows, a drum stick in one hand, a horn in the other and a huge drum between his legs, he busily gave with a lot of noise and combined it with some music to gain the smiles (and hard cash) of all who watched.

Herb Everschor of this city, noted arcade coinman, has taken upon himself enough work to be called "a one man coin machines industry."

Herb writes: "Am awful busy. I now have a unit playing the fairs with arcade. Another outfit in a fine park where I also operate the dance hall and all the concessions.

"Also operate the lunch stand, A.B.T. gallery, jewelry store, photos and voice recorder in our arcade in Columbus. Plan to put bowling in this fall.

"We sold over $99.20 worth of cigarettes from our machines in the arcade last week. Is it any wonder that machines are beginning to show wear?"

TAX INSTITUTE MAG

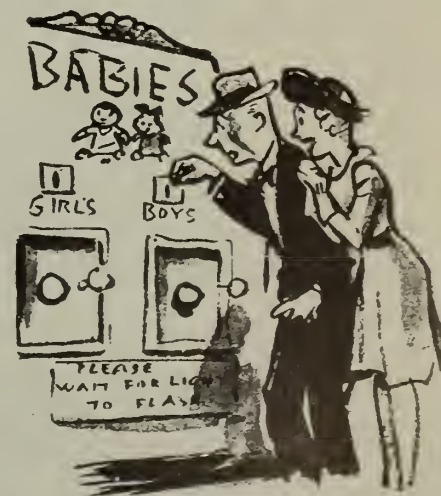

NEW YORK—To provide a convenient guide to thinking in the field of public finance, the Tax Institute, an organization of tax economists, accountants and other specialists, have just issued their first number of "The Tax Institute Bookshelf."

This publication is edited by a committee headed by Prof. Alfred G. Buehler of the University of Pennsylvania.

The creation of this Tax Institute, and especially this new publication, may prove of good help to the coin operated machines industry. Here can be found experts to help coinmen work out more equitable tax arrangements thruout the nation.

"We operators are fortunate that workmanship and material could stand this wear and tear during the war period. This has certainly stretched our dollars on equipment investment."

SUGGESTION FOR POST-WAR MFRS.

"Gee, I hope it looks like you."

BUSINESS INDEX OF THE WEEK

A 1944 Copyrighted Feature of: The Cash Box, 381 Fourth Avenue, New York (16)

LAST WEEK THIS WEEK.

Collections, on an average thruout the nation, continue to show a downward trend. This past week, from all reports just compiled, the downward average for the entire nation, all equipment considered, was approximately 16%.

This is rather surprising in view of the fact that some reports coming thru this past week and this week, show that music and even amusement machines, in some parts of the country, are beginning their upward climb with the Fall season now getting under way.

Music equipment, this week as last week, showed most upward promise of all equipment. In some cases music is reported to have jumped up as much as 25%. Many report 5% and 10% increases in their music collections, but from the average receipts thruout the country, music is still down and continuing to go down in some areas of the nation. This should halt with Labor Day holiday cleared off and the cool weather bringing the public back to towns.

Also interesting is the fact that some scale men reported collections off this past week, much more than normal. Cigarette machine, in fact, almost all merchandise machine men continue to complain of merchandise becoming ever more difficult to obtain and that only this fact is holding collections down, far below normal, whereas with merchandise more easily obtainable, these men claim, the receipts would show a definite upward swing.

Amusement machines collections very spotty thruout the country. In a few areas averages are holding. Others show a slight upward trend. Most show continued down swing. Labor Day holiday expected to shoot collections up in all resort areas.

That's the way it goes every year.

THE CONFIDENTIAL PRICE LISTS

AN EXCLUSIVE MERCHANDISING SERVICE FOR THE COIN MACHINES INDUSTRY ISSUED EVERY OTHER WEEK BY: THE CASH BOX, 381 FOURTH AVENUE, NEW YORK 16, N. Y.

FOREWORD

Many times, wide differences appear in the high and low prices of certain equipment. Like any true reporter The Confidential Price Lists can only feature the market prices as they are quoted. The Confidential Price Lists act exactly the same as the market quotation board at the Stock Exchange—posting the prices exactly as they are quoted for the past two weeks, regardless of how much they may seem to be out of line. Some machine prices do not change for months. The Confidential Price Lists, rather than show no price, retain the last known quotations for such equipment so that the subscriber at least has the last known quoted prices as a basis to work with. Prices continue to be very widely divergent these days. Someone on the West Coast may feel a certain machine worth $150.00 whereas someone on the East Coast may think it worth but $75.00. Of course, condition, serial, appearance, demand, territory, quantity, etc., must all be taken into consideration. The Confidential Price Lists report each quotation exactly as it is made and depend on the subscriber to make average price adjustment to fit the peculiarities of his own territory.

METHOD

The Confidential Price Lists are to be read as follows: First price listed is lowest price for the week; Second price listed is highest price for the two week period: Where only one price appears this should be considered lowest price.

CODE

CHECK THIS CODE CAREFULLY. BECOME ACQUAINTED WITH EACH ONE OF THE CODE NUMBERS AND WHAT THEY SIGNIFY. THESE CODE NUMBERS APPEAR IN FRONT OF THE NAME OF EACH MACHINE.

1. MEANS PRICE WENT UP.
2. MEANS PRICE WENT DOWN.
3. MEANS MACHINE JUST ADDED TO LIST.
4. MEANS PRICES WENT UP AND DOWN DURING THE PAST TWO WEEKS
5. MEANS PRICES REMAINED SAME AS IN LAST PRICE LISTS.
6. MEANS NO PRICES QUOTED FOR PAST FOUR WEEKS
7. MEANS NO PRICES QUOTED FOR PAST SIX WEEKS
8. MEANS NO PRICES QUOTED FOR PAST EIGHT WEEKS OR LONGER

IMPORTANT

Machines underlined mean these were most active in trading these past two weeks.

NOTICE! March, 1942. Market Prices for Wholesalers as per GMPR of OPA appeared in September 7, 1943 issue. Reprints are available.
