ANDY WILLIAMS: THE LEGEND AS A CURRENT EVENT

MARK LINDSAY. "AND THE GRASS WON'T PAY NO MIND."

4-45229

From the album that earned its wings.
Twice.

First there was "Silver Bird," the single. Then "Silver Bird," the album.

Now, Mark Lindsay has another hit single. From the same album. It's called "And The Grass Won't Pay No Mind," written by Neil Diamond.

Places like Seattle, Houston, Baltimore, Oklahoma City, Kansas City, Denver and Milwaukee already report great airplay.

Mark Lindsay's new single. The third pair of wings.

Some Distinctions On The Video Cartridge

The wonder of the video cartridge is around the corner. In recent months, the makers of hardware in this fledgling consumer leisure-time field have been priming for a debut next year of their goods, while the software scene is basically a scurry to sign-up rights, generally non-exclusive, for the various systems that will compete with each other for consumer favor.

We have no doubt that the music industry will play a major role for all who contemplate and who will, in fact, be purchasers of this new medium of entertainment. Yet, there are some facts-of-life that the music business must face up to. For the first time in its history, it is facing competition not from some other communication form, but from the very same hardware and software. The same video cartridge and playback machine that can offer "The Maltese Falcon" can also perform music from rock, the theatre, opera, etc. The competition—as alien as it might be from the music business—is direct. If a customer decides to rent a movie or buy a sporting event cartridge, it may defray his acquisition of something in a musical vein. As the music business now stands, consumer interest is sought after in relation to one "musical event" over the next. It would be too much to ask of the video cartridge customer—even if he is a prime pre-recorded music buyer—not to be lured by the varied entertainment possibilities offered through the home video cartridge system. And, it should be noted, some video cartridge systems offer non-pre-recorded matters, such as on-the-air recordings and "home movie" making.

Thus, the music industry is confronted here with a need to be informed of all developments in the video cartridge area, so that it can assess more intelligently the direct competition it is up against. On the creative front, the industry must be prepared with video cartridge material that can excite visually as much as it is hoped the musical performance can come through in flying colors. Even on the retail level, pre-recorded performances of movies, sporting events and what-have-you in the non-musical context will probably be sold side-by-side with musical presentations.

Music firms who intend to find a place for themselves in video cartridges must soon decide what share of the market they want. Should they try non-musical inventory? Or should they draw-the-line on musical works?

These are the questions that call for answers as the home video cartridge system becomes a mass-produced reality in just a matter of months. We hope some answers may be formulated at next week's tape convention of the National Association of Record Merchandisers (NARM).

RCA Records
and Tapes

Hartstone Heads Retailer Chain

HOLLYWOOD—Lee Hartstone's Integrity Entertainment Co. has opened six discount record/tape stores in the greater Los Angeles area with a seventh set for opening in Long Beach next month. The chain, known as The Wherehouse ("Where It's At"), projects a nationwide branch of record shops aimed at the teen and college crowd.

Shops feature a "grass shack" store section-within-a-store with head-shop and locally produced and crafted items. Columbia and Panasonic sound equipment is also featured in the stores. More than $2,000,000 in merchandise was reportedly purchased for the openings.

Heralding the L.A. ribbon-cutting, about $300,000 was allocated for a barrage of publicity through the college, underground and establishment press, AM & FM radio advertising.

President of the chain is Lee Hartstone, former senior vp of Transcon Music Corp., who also served as vp and general manager of London Records for 13 years. Vice president in the operation is Ben Bartel, former gm with Calraks. Lou Fogelman is treasurer.

FRONT COVER:

Columbia Records singing star Andy Williams is celebrating his 10th year as a TV host. His career as a performer is the subject of a special section, "Andy Williams: The Legend As A Current Event," in this week's issue. Its two chapters, "From 'Tonight' To Today," and "Boy Soprano To Gold-Plated Baritone," were written by John C. Mahoney. Photo coordinator was Keats Tyler. In line with Andy's new TV season, Columbia has just released a new LP, "The Andy Williams Show." The photo shows Andy surveying his golf domain, Torrey Pines in La Jolla, Calif. A serious golfer, Andy recently won the music industry's low gross trophy at Amos (he shot 76 and 73).

Special section begins on pg. 31.

Lp's & Singles: Simultaneous Hit Action

NEW YORK—In the pre-Beatle era, and even during the group's early days, the record industry had something of an unspoken axiom that a hit single spawned a hit album. The arrival of the foursome, and a period of prosperity leading to looser money conditions placed a greater accent on the long-playing side of the business. Finally, with the Beatles among the leaders in marketing no-single LP's, the unspoken law crumbled.

The structures that flourished (radio spotlighting LP's from new rock groups, accents on merchandising aspects suited mainly to albums, and the pre-single release of an LP) are still with us. But, a check of the best seller charts shows that a subtle shift is making itself felt. The separation in time between a single coming from an album and the delay between single success and album sales follow-up have diminished.

Nearly a third of the singles on the Top 100 are issues that are hitting simultaneously with their album parent.

Artist Consolidation

In many of the cases, the simultaneous action can be related directly to the label. Faced with tightening up on expenditures because of the money situation, nearly all companies are concentrating their efforts behind "proven" or proving artists. So, rather than promoting a handful of acts, the companies are accenting on-the-rise material and its related disk. The trimming has brought about dual action with Anne Murray, Eric Burdon & War, Free, Dave Mason, Sugarloaf, the Carpenters, Mashmakhan and Elton John prime examples of new and practically new figures who are proving successful on both the single and album front at the same time. In their cases, they form an unprecedented number of new acts scoring with two disks rather than one that developed a following for the other.

In fact, the consumer interest in two-level thought has created several strange sales twists. Bread arrived with a best seller album because the record buyers actively sought out an album by the "Make It With You" team even though their earlier released LP did not include the single. Now, Elektra's follow-up single release for the team has been pulled from their 1st LP.

Companies aside, the brief-lag separation has also resulted from two major public facts: the rock listener's active interest in performers; and the public's faith in the quality of albums being made by almost-known hit acts.

The pride in product that has been paying off for integrity conscious labels has now moved into a broader picture and raised the confidence of people in records as a whole. Now, listener's know that they are less likely to find acts piecing an album together around an unusual single; and their approval is being voiced for both recording mediums.

London Rushes New Stones LP

NEW YORK—London Records is rush-releasing the new Rolling Stones LP, "Get Your Ya-Ya's Out," recorded live during the group's series of Madison Square Garden concerts last Nov.

The label says advance indications are that the LP will qualify for an instant gold record award, which would make this the group's 11th consecutive gold record award winner.

It's the first new LP for the group, now on a tour of the Continent, since "Let It Bleed," which was issued just prior to their tour here last fall, nearly 10 months ago.

CEMI, Music Co., Formed In Pitts

PITTSBURGH — Creative Electronic Musical Industries, Inc., an international music and film complex, has been formed in Pittsburgh by Lou Guarino.

Construction will begin next month of a 55,000 square foot building which will house executive offices, two 16 rack recording studios, equipment for radio and television commercials, a computerized record pressing plant, recorded tape duplicating plant, audio and film recording studios and a lithography and album fabricating plant. CEMI will also set up its own record company, a management company to handle local and international talent and publishing firms. All functions will be performed under one roof. There will also be an international record and tape distribution set-up.

Principals of CEMI include Al Silver, secretary and general manager, with 24 years in the industry with Silver Record Pressing, Ember Records and Angel Publishing; Nicolas Flagello, vice president and director, formerly a director of Sermi Films, Rome, and president of Opus Music; and Norman Wieland, vice president and director, formerly with Cadence Records, 20th Century Fox, Westminster and A440 Records. Wieland, who will concentrate his efforts in the marketing field explained that CEMI will be using new packaging concepts.

Heading up the New York operation of CEMI are vice presidents and directors John Mack and Dave Mullaney, with the assistance of Lou Sposa. Mullaney explains that there will be an open door policy as regards new artists and producers.

Lib/UA Launches Fall Push With 28 Sets, Heavy Promo

NEW YORK — At a trio of regional meetings conducted in New York, Chicago, and Los Angeles, Liberty/UA, Inc. presented fall 1970 product to regional managers, branch managers, salesmen, and promo men.

Twenty eight new albums plus tape cartridges and cassettes were unveiled by the organization's top management who termed the new merchandise, merchandising programs and sales incentives comprised the "most exciting new campaign in the label's 15 year history."

Helming the New York session Sept. 9, were president David Picker, executive vice president and general manager Ron Bledsoe and vice president and assistant general manager Mike Lipton, plus key home officer executives from both Los Angeles and New York. Bledsoe and Lipton then presided at the Chicago stop Sept. 11, and Lipton will conduct the Los Angeles conclave Sept. 16.

Major Tracks, Caster

Picker in his address expressed "great satisfaction with the dynamic new top management team of the organization, and the great progress that has been made in revitalizing Liberty/UA." He cited some of the upcoming major film projects which will become label soundtracks including "Fiddler On The Roof" and "Man Of La Mancha." Picker also announced United Artists involvement in the forthcoming Broadway stage version of the hit film "Some Like It Hot," and the fact that original cast disk and tape rights belong to the firm.

Thirteen new collections were showcased from Liberty and from United Artists. Among the highlights were "Uncle Charlie" by The Nitty Gritty Dirt Band, "Love Is A Soft Touch" by Ferrante and Teicher, "We Gotta Start Lovin'" from Bobby Goldsboro, and "Music For Midnight Lovers" by The Fifty Guitars of Tommy Garrett. Other key sets came from Bobby Womack, Gordon Lightfoot, Jimmy Roselli and Ismael Quintana on the UA Latino label, plus the third volume of the best-selling series "Thirty Six Motion Picture Themes." In keeping with the label's recently instituted commitment to a deeper involvement in the progressive, contemporary and underground music scenes, a quartet of sets featured The Damnation of Adam Blessing, Wild Butter, Music Asylum and Jody Grind, the latter brand new from England.

Sunset Records, the company's economy division, spotlighted eight albums led by Flip Wilson's "Flip-

RCA British Blues Archive Sets Culled From Immediate's Catalog

NEW YORK — RCA Records is launching a British Blues Archives Series. Gary Usher, vice president of rock music, reports volume 1 of the series will be issued in Oct. with subsequent volumes to be issued by the end of the year. The tapes for the series were acquired from Immediate Records, the British recording company no longer in business. Immediate was owned by Andrew Loog Oldham, responsible for producing many of the Rolling Stones hits, as well as many other top sellers, and Tony Calder, also an established record producer.

The series will offer the cream of the British blues musicians, many of whom have become international rock heroes. Such young giants as Eric Clapton, John Mayall, Jeff Beck, Jimmy Page, Nicky Hopkins and Joan Kelly are featured in the series. An interesting point in Volume 1 was the addition of the three Eric Clapton numbers of Mick Jagger on harmonica; Bill Wyman on bass guitar; Ian Stewart on piano and Chris Winters on drums.

"The British Blues Archives Series," Usher said, "offers the music to which nearly all talented young musicians turn in search of themselves, and will be a must for all collectors of blues and rock. Very few play the blues well, and fortunately those Britishers that do are compiled in the British blues anthology."

Jesse Winchester Album Interest Prompts $150,000 Ampex Campaign

NEW YORK—Ampex Records has begun its biggest campaign to date in a two-month drive centered on the Jesse Winchester LP. Originally released last April, the album, according to president Larry Harris, has become the focal point of a September-October campaign because "national reviewer and radio reactions have borne out our own initial feelings."

Reorders from the Los Angeles distributor and the exceptional reviews in the L.A. Times and Free Press prompted the label's first step to be taken in that city. Three consecutive billboards on the Sunset Strip have been leased for two-months and designed "Burma Shave" fashion with the name and face of Jesse Winchester giving unity to the posters. Below his name, however, each features a different layout: one shows an excerpt from the Rolling Stone review of his LP, another names producer Robbie Robertson, and a third identifies the album as a Bearsville production on Ampex Records.

Added support in L.A. will be afforded by purchase of $10,000 in radio spots and use of a specially printed brochure for use in record outlets. The leaflet is a 12-page collection of comments on Winchester with artwork from Rolling Stone, Zygote, Crawdaddy, the Chicago Sun-Times, Harper's Bazaar, the L.A. Times, Chicago Tribune, Philadelphia Inquirer, L.A. Free Press and other sources.

Harris told CB last week that the company had shipped its first series of booklets into L.A. and has already been asked for additional copies. "One of the dealers told us that it was the first time a counter display of this sort has been completely used up and that he definitely wanted more material."

On the use of billboards for the LP, Harris noted that Los Angeles is probably the only city where he felt that use of such advertising space justified the cost. "In that city, along the Strip, there is one of the greatest concentrations of traffic by record buyers. Tied into the fact that this was also the area most responsive to the Winchester album, rental of the three signboards seemed natural as well as justified."

College Plans

Branching from the concentrated Los Angeles push, Winchester's LP will also be spotlighted nationally in Ampex' $150,000 campaign. With about a third the total commitment going into the L.A., Ampex will be using the remainder to add thrust in some half-dozen other cities where the album has begun to develop sales interest. The college market is also being hit extensively with press and radio advertising set to begin in October and continue through the first two weeks of November.

"We don't intend to simply advertise the album on campuses," Harris stated, "but we are going to add personal emphasis by having representatives of the Ampex label and Bearsville Productions visit with the college media to gain personal attention from writers and programmers in many of the schools."

Winchester himself is currently working in a new group which will be performing with him shortly and is expected to be ready when he returns to the studio to record his second album.

Burkheimer Para's East A&R Director

NEW YORK — Don Burkheimer has been named exec director of A&R in the east coast for the Paramount Records division of the Famous Music Corporation. Jack Wiedenman, exec vice president, said the appointment of Burkheimer completes Paramount's team with creative responsibility for product development. Burkheimer joins West Coast A&R exec director Ed Matthews and Nashville chief Joe Allison in rounding out the team of A&R directors for the Paramount and Dot labels.

Burkheimer comes to Paramount from the position of manager of pop A&R for RCA in New York. While in that position, he was responsible for signing such acts as the Guess Who, Brian Auger and the Trinity, Fat, Osmosis and Randy Bachman. Burkheimer was also a key figure in the development of RCA's new hard rock department. In addition to the Guess Who, Burkheimer pioneered the development of Canadian talent for the label. In this area he signed Sharon Caine, Bonnie Dobson, Cat and Copper Penny, among other acts.

Prior to becoming RCA's A&R manager, Burkheimer held the position of RCA's manager of pop album planning and merchandising. In announcing the appointment, Wiedenman made a point of the value of having a key A&R exec who is also grounded in the sales and promo aspects of the product that he will be developing. "We feel that the effectiveness of our personnel is enhanced by their familiarity with associated areas of the business and in Don Burkheimer we have exactly such a man."

Burkheimer will headquarter in Famous Music's home offices at 1 Gulf Western Plaza in New York.

Schroeder Firms Tie w/ Nelson, Antoon

NEW YORK — January Music and Arch Music, subsidiaries of A. Schroeder Music, have signed to represent Rick Nelson's Matragun Music, and John Antoon's Tons of Fun Music Publishing Co., respectively.

Matragun, which will publish and promote all of Rick Nelson's compositions, is the subject of an extensive exploitation and promotional campaign by the Schroeder organization throughout the world.

Tons of Fun Music exclusively publishes the songs of Thomas and Richard Frost, Liberty recording artists, whose recent chart click was "She's Got Love."

RETURN TO WONDERLAND—Bert Kaempfert was in New York recently to renew his long-term exclusive contract with Decca Records. Kaempfert has been an exclusive Decca artist (in the U.S. and Canada) for the past twelve years. According to Jack Loetz, executive vice president of MCA Records, Kaempfert has sold in excess of 15 million records in the past five years. As an artist, Kaempfert is the holder of three gold albums. Shown with Kaempfert here are Jack Loetz (left) and Milt Gabler, Decca vice president and producer of all Kaempfert product.

Berle Adams Exits MCA Post In Jan.

UNIVERSAL CITY — Berle Adams, exec vp of MCA in charge of all corporate divisions, has resigned from the company, effective at the end of Jan. He did not announce his future plans.

Adams, formerly head of Mercury Records, joined MCA in 1950, creating a new department to produce the personal appearance acts of motion picture and radio stars under company contract. After successfully launching the new department Adams was moved to the newly formed television department in 1952, becoming a vice president of MCA-TV.

He guided the company in the development of live TV packaging and daytime programming, later adding national sales to his portfolio. In 1959 he set up MCA-TV's international operations, supervising and developing the international divisions.

Adams is credited with the development of key MCA manpower and with establishing MCA's worldwide TV distribution, music publishing and phonograph record companies.

Adams developed the MCA International Sales organization and established MCA's worldwide TV Distribution Offices. He developed MCA's worldwide record organization, reorganized Decca Records, created UNI Records, and MCA Records of England and Australia, acquired Kapp Records and Miller Records International Germany. Adams created MCA Music Publishing Division, acquired Leeds Music, and established MCA's worldwide Publishing Companies.

When MCA Inc. absorbed Universal Pictures Company in 1966, Lew R. Wasserman, president and chief executive officer, delegated to Adams the responsibility for integrating Universal Studios, with its global production and distribution activities, into the MCA operation.

Adams was elected a vice president of the parent MCA Inc. in Jan. 1965. On March 12, 1968, he was named to his present post as exec vice president, and member of the MCA Inc. board of directors.

Blackwell Back To Epic

NEW YORK—Otis Blackwell has returned to the music scene, after several years. The man who wrote some of the biggest hits of the 1950's including Elvis Presley's "Don't Be Cruel" and "All Shook Up," Jerry Lee Lewis' "Great Balls of Fire" and "Breathless," and Peggy Lee's "Fever" (which he co-authored under a different name) now has penned another song and recorded it himself.

His Epic single is "It's All Over Me" b/w "Just Keep It Up."

Mass Joins TRO; 'Ladies' 1st Push

NEW YORK—Jack Mass has joined The Richmond Organization as head of a new West Coast division, according to Howie Richmond, president of TRO.

Mass, formerly west coast general professional manager for Warner Brothers-Seven Arts, is initiating an immediate exploitation of the new TRO music score for Herman Levin's musical, "Lovely Ladies, Kind Gentlemen." The musical adaptation of "The Teahouse Of The August Moon," with songs by Stan Freeman and Frank Underwood, and book by John Patrick, opened Sept. 8 at Los Angeles Civic Center after a sell-out engagement in Philadelphia. "Lovely Ladies" will follow Los Angeles appearances with a Nov. 3 opening at Curran Theatre, San Francisco and a Broadway opening on Dec. 28 at the Majestic Theatre.

A triple exploitation program of TV, recording and personal appearance activities involving this new show music will be the spearhead of the Mass effort for TRO. The tour on the West Coast and the timing for "Lovely Ladies" Broadway opening is in the pattern of the TRO campaign for Lionel Bart's "Oliver!" which included exploitation activity during 13 weeks of performances in Los Angeles and San Francisco, leading up to a post-Christmas Broadway opening and a long list of awards, including the 1969 Academy Award for the film.

Jack Mass will generally focus his activities for TRO in the area of "New Use of New Music," which is in line with current TRO commitments to dedicate major international efforts to new productions and new points of departure for new material in New York, London, Sydney, Vancouver, Paris and now Los Angeles.

CI Realigns Its Financial Dept.

HOLLYWOOD—Walter P. Rozett, vice president of finance at Capitol Industries, Inc., reports the restructuring of the Capitol Industries and Capitol Records, Inc., finance departments. The reorganization will encompass the following internal personnel changes:

Robert B. Jackson, formerly treasurer of Capitol Industries, has been named assistant to the vice president of Finance.

Charles P. Fitzgerald, formerly controller at CI, has been elected treasurer. Fitzgerald will be responsible for banking and insurance, internal audit, tax and payroll, and for the maintenance of effective financial community liaison.

Edward C. Khoury, vice president and controller of CI has, in addition, been elected controller.

'Steel River' U.S. Release

NEW YORK — Stereo Dimension Records has announced the signing of a Canada group, Steel River, and the release of their first single, "Ten Pound Note." The album, "Weighin' Heavy," which is already a big chart item in Canada, will be released shortly on the company's Evolution Label.

Stereo Dimension feels that the single and album will both make the top ten charts in America, and, in anticipation of this, are launching a tremendous publicity campaign in the states.

Mogull Publisher Of NFL TV Music

PHILADELPHIA — Ivan Mogull Music Corp. (ASCAP) has been appointed world-wide exclusive publishers for music which is played and performed in National Football League Films, Inc. TV series.

Current ASCAP members Mark Jordan's and Kenny Asher's music is featured in these films.

Negotiations were made by National Football League Films, Inc.'s Phil Spieller, music director, and business manager John Mullen with Mogull.

Merc Adds Taylor To Its R&B Roster

NEW YORK — Charles Fach, Mercury Records, vice president, has signed Gloria Taylor, a singer who finished high in the top female vocalist category in Cash Box's 1970 R&B Survey.

Only Aretha Franklin, Nina Simone, and Dianna Ross finished ahead of Miss Taylor in the voting.

Miss Taylor—whose 1969 Silver Fox hit, "You Gotta Pay the Price," appeared on the R&B and pop charts and made her a finalist for a NARAS Grammy Award in the Best R&B Female Performance field—has finished cutting her first Mercury release, "Yesterday Will Never Come Again," a song penned and produced by Walter Whizenhunt, and arranged by herself. She's currently doing an LP.

Mercury's R&B roster, already includes Jerry Butler, Gene Chandler, and many other acts.

Tuning In On ...

WMAZ—Macon, Ga. The Difference Is News

At a time when many stations in large metropolitan areas are turning to all-news formats in an effort to boost ratings, the question arises: what can a station do in a market which is not large enough population-wise to support a station entirely devoted to news. WMAZ in Macon, Georgia seems to have found a solution. This contemporary MOR styled station has placed a strong emphasis on newscasts and specials, with the result that it has attracted listeners from other less news-oriented stations.

Director of Administration for WMAZ Dick Johnson pointed out for example that much of the city's sizeable black population turns to WMAZ—Macon, Georgia. 50,000 kw. Albert Sanders, general mgr.; Dick Johnson, dir. of administration; Bill Powell, dir. of operations; Bob Savage, sports dir.

Format: Modified MOR. Playlist: 40 singles, 10 LP tracks. On-Air Personalities: Bill Powell, 6-10 a.m.; Steve Malone, 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.; Danny Ratliff, 2:30 to 6:30; Paul Belibeau, 6:30 to midnight.

WMAZ for their news, though they might listen to an R&B station for their musical entertainment. WMAZ, in addition to sporting approximately ten minutes per hour of CBS national news, has extensive local coverage, thanks largely to a news staff which numbers eight and includes a fleet of fully equipped mobile units.

If it is the news which has made the difference in helping WMAZ get to the top in the Macon market, the station's music programming has certainly not been a deterrent. Director of operations Bill Powell works off a basic playlist of fifty records, approximately ten of these album cuts. Items on the current list range from the Creedence Clearwater Revival rocker "Looking Out My Back Door" to "Gone Is Love" by Paul Mauriat to Hank Williams, Jr.'s "All For The Love Of Sunshine." Certainly a diversified line-up.

WMAZ aims for an audience in the high twenties and thirties age bracket. With news type programming comprising 25 of each hour on the air, it is felt that the station's basic appeal is to a white collar, relatively sophisticated listener. In addition,

Warner Robins Air Force Base, located in the Macon area, employs personnel from all over the country and with many diversified interests, and this too has been a factor in determining the WMAZ policy.

The station does not place heavy emphasis on promotions though they do maintain a continually running telephone called Phone-Fun. This one awards prizes to the first listener with a certain telephone digit, who calls in. Another phone-in takes place on the morning man Bill Powell's show, with listeners encouraged to rib this disk jockey as well as request him to play certain records.

"The Other Side Of The Coin," a weekly program on WMAZ is an example of the kind of news programming they specialize in. It offers black community leaders the opportunity to speak their mind on topics they themselves choose, as well as to confront public officials and others with specific questions, once again on a subject of their own choosing.

Sports-wise, the station broadcasts Atlanta Braves games and numerous college and high school contests.

The present format of the station is something which has been evolving over the years. According to Johnson: "We had been an old-line prestige station since the nineteenth-twenties. Contemporary radio simply caught up with us. So we looked at the situation and decided to modernize our music approaches." Once that was done, WMAZ sharpened their already fine news department with the result that "we're the station that's depended on for news and information."

Transcom Acquires Cine-Vox; Gardella Named New President

NEW YORK — Transcommunications Corp. has just acquired the Cine-Vox Programming, Inc. company of New York. C-V is a major producer and distributor of radio programming. Donald Ross, president and chairman of the Transcom board, has also announced the appointment of Raymond Gardella as president of C-V. Gardella had been director of sales for the firm. Earlier, he worked as account executive with Robert E. Eastman & Co.

Cine-Vox' most recent project was a thirty-hour country music special "My Country, My Music" which has been set for its first air date Oct. 1. C-V is also currently producing and distributing the Ralph Emery and Jerry Marshall shows and has concluded an exclusive 5-yr. distribution arrangement with Dick Orkin and the Chicago Radio Syndicate.

Don't Let the Color of My Skin Confuse You,
I Swear on a Stack of Bibles I Won't Misuse You
So Put Your Hand in Mine
We're Gonna Form a Human Chain Mightier Than a Hurricane
And Walk This Land, Hand in Hand, Day and Night, Black and White
Walk This Land, Day and Night, Hand in Hand, Black and White
Unite the World*

*Ding Dong Ding Let the Freedom Bell Ring
The Good Lord Made You and Me What He Wanted Us to be Free All Those People
You Got Chained Up in Your Mind
There is Truth in What I'm Saying
We Gotta Stop the Games We're Playing
Two Wrongs Ain't Never Made a Right
Hung Up, Tripped Out, Whatever You May Be
Now is the Time to Set Yourself Free
Put Your Hand in Mine, Come On and Let's Walk
We're Gonna Walk This Land, Day and Night, Hand in Hand, Black and White
Walk This Land, Day and Night, Hand in Hand, Black and White*

Picks of the Week

BLOOD, SWEAT & TEARS (Columbia 45235)

Lucretia Mac Evil (3:05) (Blackwood/Bay, BMI—Thomas)

The "Spinning Wheel" rhythm and melody are turned slightly for this new twist: "Lucretia Mac Evil." The burnished brass and Clayton-Thomas vocal make this another practically gold single already via top forty preview play out of the #3 album. Flip: "Lucretia's Reprise" (2:19) (Blackwood/Minnesingers, BMI—B, S&T)

THE WHO (Decca 732729)

See Me, Feel Me (3:22) (Track, BMI—Townshend)

With "Tommy" a hit album all over again, the Who return to that source for their latest single. Back from "Summertime Blues," and heading for another taste of top forty action, the Who's new side is a fusion of themes from the rock opera's finale. Flip: "Overture From Tommy" (4:00) (Same credits) The original.

BREAD (Elektra 45701)

It Don't Matter to Me (2:46) (Screen Gems/Columbia, BMI)

Going about things in a strange way, Bread follows up its first single hit with a track from its first LP. The strange point being that the LP grew into a best seller as a result of "Make It With You"—from the group's second album. Stylish ballad has the group's charming style though to enchant top forty audiences. No flip info.

ENGELBERT HUMPERDINCK (Parrot 40054)

Sweetheart (2:59) (Sasserole, BMI—M&B Gibb)

From Engelbert Humperdinck's treatment, it's hard to recognize this as material from the Bee Gee team. Attractive ballad rendition of "Sweetheart" gives E.H. a bright entry for MOR programmers and one that should entice plenty of teen reception as well. Flip: "Born to Be Wanted" (3:30) (Duchess, BMI—Dorsey)

TYRONE DAVIS (Dakar 621)

Let Me Back In (2:40) (Julio-Brian, BMI—Dollison)

Although he changed his mind some time ago, Tyrone Davis is still trying to get back home. If this new side doesn't change the lady's mind, nothing else will. Super ballad with the Davis patented material and vocal splendor to stir R&B and top 40 activity. Flip: "Love Bones" (2:40) (East/Memphis, BMI—Isbell, Alvertis, Davis)

WILSON PICKETT (Atlantic 2765)

Engine Number 9 (2:46) (Assorted, BMI—Gamble, Huff)

Bristling, bruising side with a slower rhythmic approach than has been Wilson Pickett's wont, this follow up to "She Said Yes" adds a freshness to the artist's spice. Amplified by a sparkling instrumental support. Pickett scores again. Flip: "International Playboy" (2:26) (Assorted, BMI—Dozier, Sigler, Broomer, Phillipis)

THE FIVE STAIRSTEPS (Buddah 188)

America/Standing (2:37) (Trousdale/Ducksten/Kama Sutra, BMI—Edmonton, Kay, St. Nicholas, Byrom, Vincent)

New Five Steps side features rallying material against an unnamed "dirty monster" that leaves the side open for adoption by civil, civic, left and right factions. The "Ooh Child" formula is this time added to on the rhythm end for top forty exposure. Flip: "Because I Love You" (3:59) (Burke Family/Kama Sutra, BMI—Burke, Jr.)

THE MAIN INGREDIENT (RCA 0382)

I'm Better Off Without You (3:07) (Clarama, BMI—Silvester, Simmons, McPherson)

Headed for their second showing on the top forty and R&B charts, the Main Ingredient soars gently into focus once more with a highly attractive ballad enhanced by the team's immaculate vocal performance. Flip: "Need Her Love" (2:11) (L.T.D., BMI—Same writers)

THE IDES OF MARCH (Warner Bros. 7426)

Melody (2:42) (Bold Medusa, ASCAP—Peterik)

Knocking the brass track down a peg, the Ides of March lean a bit more in the direction of folk-blues on this bright new outing. Team's lead vocalist and a stunning bit of material should reopen the top forty door to the "Vehicle" combo. Flip: no info.

JIMMY CLIFF (A&M 1201)

Wild World (3:35) (Irving, BMI—Stevens)

That "Wonderful World, Beautiful People" guy has another giant on his hands in this new offering. Much softer, the latest is a ballad with British top ten credentials and a sound that should add American acclaim on R&B and top forty ends. Flip: "Be Aware" (3:10) (Irving, BMI—Cliff)

THE ASSEMBLED MULTITUDE (Atlantic 2764)

Woodstock (2:15) (Siquomb, BMI—Mitchell)

Rather like an Aaron Copeland treatment of some western movie theme, the C,S,N&Y hit "Woodstock" is reincarnated by the Assembled Multitude. An ear teaser, rather than a rhythmic exciter (as their "Overture from Tommy"), this new side might have rough going, through the material should carry added weight with top forty programmers. Flip: "Mr. Peppercorn" (2:30) (Double Diamond, BMI—Sellers)

CAROL KING (Ode 70 66006)

Up On the Roof (3:46) (Screen Gems/Columbia, BMI—King)

Though Laura Nyro's version of this Carole King song has an edge in time, the composer's original out of her LP presents a strong runner in the competitions. Very nicely produced, the performance makes the situation a toss-up for top forty and FM thought. Flip: "Eventually" (5:02) (Same credits)

ISLEY BROTHERS (T Neck 924)

Get Into Something (3:51) (Triple Three, BMI—R, O & R Isley)

The rhythmic rambling that has become an Isley trademark once again provides the trio with a mighty foundation on which to build a hit. Rollicking dance side that should have R&B charts sewn up and top forties coming in with spillover action. Flip: Pt. 2 (3:36) (Same credits)

ETTA JAMES (Cadet 5676)

Losers Weepers—Pt. 1 (2:56) (Heavy, BMI—Bonds)

Though consistent in the power of her delivery, Etta James has a somewhat erratic sales curve. This time, watch the graph soar though as she steams through a mournful ballad that has begun to break R&B and should powerhouse into top forty areas. Flip: "Weepers" (2:33) (Heavy/Big Bee, BMI—Bonds, Barge)

RICK NELSON (Decca 32739)

How Long (2:57) (Matragun, BMI—Nelson)

Spotless production builds an astounding atmospheric impact around Rick Nelson's latest. The startling emotional magnetism and Nelson's exceptional material should make this performance one of the artist's landmarks for FM and FM audiences. Flip: "Down Along the Bayou Country" (2:07) (Matragun, BMI—Nelson)

M.O.U.S.E. (Bell 918)

Woman or a Girl (2:29) (Kaiser, ASCAP—Samples)

Team that came up with "L.O.V.E." some time back returns, this time in a part-Latin/part pop-rock dance ballad that should bring a new recognition on the top forty front. Neatly produced, the track gains power with each added listen. Side worth working. Flip: "I Can Only Touch You with My Eyes" (2:36) (Same credits)

JERRY REED (RCA 9904)

Amos Moses (2:19) (Vector, BMI—Hubbard)

Jerry Reed takes the cajun route to move from country reputation into the top forty running. Home humor and a grand rhythm track with the Tony Joe White "Polk Salad" flavor make this side a long-shot that should pay off. Flip: "The Preacher & the Bear" (2:40) (Vector, BMI—Arr: Hubbard)

Newcomer Picks

REDEYE (Pentagram 204)

Games (2:34) (Dimension, BMI—Hodgkins)

A bit like Crosby, Stills & company gone further top forty, the Redeye comes up with a glistening ballad sound that should take them into the national spotlight. Group has a refreshing song to work with, pegged as the track to pull from early top forty play in their LP. Flip: "Collections of Yesterday & Now" (4:26) (Dimension, BMI—Hodgkins, Mark)

THE CHILDREN OF PLENTY (Metromedia 190)

(God Save the Soul of) A Boy Bound for Glory (2:26) (Cold Musical Sciences, ASCAP—Brooks)

Vietnam victim, runaway child or narcotic addict, the subject of this almost-Gospel ballad makes a striking figure who should captivate listeners on AM/FM and MOR channels. Well handled, the material should prove a powerful single across the board. Flip: "Try to Catch the Sun" (2:37) (Same credits)

PUNCH (A&M 1220)

Open Highway (3:48) (Hello There, ASCAP—Merriam)

The Carpenters, Poppy Family and Cowsills all rolled into one make this premiere side from Punch an exciting top forty brew with a bit of MOR tossed in for leavening. Attractive material spices the date for teen and young adult excitement. Flip: no info.

Choice Programming

Choice Programming selections are singles which, in the opinion of our reviewing staff, are deserving of special programmer consideration.

QUICKSILVER MESSENGER SERVICE (Capitol 2920)

Fresh Air (3:21) (Quicksilver—Farrow)

One of the most played tracks from QSM's latest LP, "Fresh Air" sparkles as an FM choice that could just pick up the AM exposure to break into top forty sales ranks. Flip: "Freeway Flyer" (3:45) (Same credits)

DAVE FISHER (DCP 101)

California Callin' (2:16) (Don C/Akbestal, BMI—Fisher, Clyde)

Pretty ballad with a breezy arrangement (ala Booker T) to add luster for top forty and MOR listeners. Flip: "I Don't Ever Have to Dream Again" (2:54) (Don C, BMI—Fisher)

ROD STEWART (Mercury 73115)

Only a Hobo (2:25) (Warner Bros—Seven Arts, ASCAP—Dylan)

From his best seller "Gasoline Alley" LP comes Rod Stewart's version of this Dylan piece. FM already playing the song. Flip: no info.

LITTLE BIG HORN (Fantasy 650)

Another Man's Song (3:20) (R&M, BMI—Turner)

Lyrics that will be regarded highly in many circles and a bit irreverent in staid areas makes this highly powerful track a work song. Flip: no info.

JAMES GRIFFIN (Viva 642)

Thank You Love (2:59) (Stone Canyon, BMI—Griffin, Wilson-Royer)

Lead singer of Bread is spotlighted as a soloist in this ballad offering that could mount a top forty/MOR drive into the charts. Flip: "The Miracle Worker" (2:12) (Stone Canyon, BMI—Griffin, Gordon)

CHUCK WOOLERY (Columbia 45224)

Your Name is Woman (3:43) (Al Gallico/Algee, BMI—Hoffman, Kershbaum)

A hint of the "MacArthur Park" mystique lingers on this potent ballad side. The nature of the material makes this a work side, but it could pay top forty and MOR dividends. Flip: no info.

COLAGE (Bell 920)

Bye Bye Blackbird (2:53) (Remick, ASCAP—Henderson, Dixon)

Standard is polished off and toned up with a soft treatment that should attract considerable adult interest and quite possibly the spark to ignite top forty sales. Flip: "My Kind of Music" (2:29) (Pocket Full/Creative, BMI—Appel, Cretecos)

THE GARDEN VARIETY (GRT 29)

El Condor Pasa (3:01) (E. B. Marks, BMI—Robles)

Instrumental of the Simon & Garfunkel hit takes the song into the dixieland bag for entertainment to adult stations and outlets, not on the S&G version. Flip: "Gentle Rain" (2:23) (Alameda, BMI—Calello)

Alive Ent. Handles Business Affairs For Farm Music

NEW YORK — Alive Enterprises has been retained to handle business affairs of Toronto's Farm Music. Farm, owned jointly by Richard Miller and William C. Webster (promoter of the recent Strawberry Fields Festival), serves as the production and publishing outlet for many Canadian artists.

Among projects Alive will handle for Farm is the recently completed album by Jerry McAdam. An album by Vancouver's Bob Carpenter is scheduled for completion during the next week, and is being recorded by David Briggs, who has produced such artists as Neil Young, Alice Cooper and Spirit. The McAdam album was produced by one of Canada's top producers, Brian Ahern, who produced Anne Murray's "Snowbird."

Alive officers Shep Gordon & Joe Greenberg have also been retained to handle business activities of Richard Miller's Open Hand Publishing and its affiliate One Productions. One Productions is completing an album by Brent Titcomb, produced by Brian Ahern. Titcomb is well known in Canada for his many appearances on C.B.C. radio and television and for his performances at the Mariposa and Strawberry Fields Festivals.

Alive, with its main office in Los Angeles at 8617 Franklin Avenue, is currently negotiating recording contracts for each of the masters involved. Also in the works to support exposure of each of the Toronto-based artists is a one-hour film for TV highlighting each of the artists.

Prestige Offers Big Folk, Blues Special

NEW YORK — Prestige Records is offering its second annual sales special for the fall season. The Back To School Folk And Blues Special involves albums by Dave Van Ronk, Tom Rush, Lightnin' Hopkins, Otis Span, The Holy Modal Rounders, Jimmy Witherspoon, and others. The Sept. package offers these folk and blues LP's at a special discount price.

September releases include, "In The Tradition," Dave Van Ronk, "Dear Companion," Bonnie Dobson, "Sonny Is King," Sonny Terry with Lightnin' Hopkins, "Live! At The Second Fred," Sonny Terry and Brownie McGhee, "Country Style," Jack Elliott, "Pure Religion," Rev. Gary Davis, "Hootin' The Blues," Lightnin' Hopkins, "Tasty Blues," Little Brother Montgomery, "Free Again," Robert Pete Williams, "Last Session," Blind Willie McTell, "Back On My Feet," Furry Lewis, "The Blues Of Lightnin' Hopkins," by Lightnin' Hopkins. The sale will not be repeated for one year.

Talmadge Granddad

NEW YORK — Musicor president Art Talmadge became a grandfather for the first time when his daughter, Mrs. Edward Sussman of Beechurst, New York, gave birth to an 8-pound, 1-ounce son last Tuesday (8).

NEW LIB SIGNING—Artist/composer John Bassette recently inked an exclusive long term recording and songwriting pact with Liberty/UA. He's shown at left going over future plans with Mike Lipton, veep and g.m. of the label. Bassette's first LP for Lib will be produced by Milt Okun.

Rate Beverly Hills Divider Card 'X'

HOLLYWOOD — Beverly Hills Records is making a case for soundtracks heard on X-rated films. The label has in production, notes Morris Diamond, label chief, a 12" x 18" browser-box-divider card that notifies the consumer that the browser box contains X-rated soundtrack LP's. Beverly Hills' own scores of this type include Russ Meyer's "Vixen" and "Cherry, Harry & Raquel." Jack Levy's WPA Organization in Hollywood is preparing the divider card plus other merchandising displays for the label.

'Sensations' Sets Off Broadway Debut

NEW YORK — "Sensations," new Off Broadway musical by Wally Harper and Paul Zakrzewski, is set for an Oct. 25 opening at Theatre Four, reports Eric Colodne, general manager of Notable Music. It's the first show opening this season from Cy Coleman Enterprises. There'll be a nine piece orchestra, including a string quartet, rock combo and electric harp. Producers are John Bowab and Charles Celian, with direction and staging by Jerry Dodge. David Segal is doing the lighting and William and Jean Eckhart are handling production design. A cast LP is being negotiated.

Program OS Opens New HQ In N.J.

UNION, N. J. — Program One Stop, Inc. opens its doors for business this week (14) at expansive new quarters on Route 22 and Greeley Ave. here in Union. Program, a north Jersey record supplier for jukebox operators and retail outlets, as well as distributors for tapes and playback units, formerly operated from the Runyon Sales complex in Springfield. Program partners are Ralph Schechtman and Dave Casey.

The new quarters offer 5,000 sq. ft. of operating space and have been fitted out with all the modern and efficient conveniences for speedy customer service.

'Doc' Bagby Dies

NEW YORK — Vet organist-writer-arranger Harry "Doc" Bagby died at Roosevelt Hospital on Thursday, Sept. 3, after a short illness. A versatile musician, Bagby started playing the organ on a regular basis in 1949 on the advice of Wild Bill Davis. As an arranger, he scored for Arthur Prysock, the Shirelles, Louis Jordan, Jerry Butler, among many others. He also recorded a number of LP's and singles as a soloist. Funeral services were held last Wed. (9) in Germantown, Pa.

LIBERATION FRONT—Joe Rene and Jackie Reinach, indie producers-writers-p publishers of "Liberation Now," take to the streets with sound truck during the Aug. 26 woman's liberation strike. The record was released on Decca Records by Hope of the Future.

Decca, Burlington Execs On U. S. Trek

NEW YORK — Execs of Burlington-Felsted Music and London Records will hold confabs this month with their Burlington-Palace and British Decca colleagues when they visit the States and Canada.

Marcel Stellman, European sales manager of British Decca, arrived on Sept. 9th and John Nice, general manager of the Burlington-Palace publishing group, will arrive on Sept. 16.

Stellman will attend the London Product Conferences at New York's Summit Hotel on Sept. 14 and 15, and will meet with American record companies London-Decca now represents and with whom it is negotiating for representation outside of the U.S.A. Stellman will then fly to Montreal for talks with Fraser Jamieson and Alice Koury who head London Records of Canada, as well as meet with their top artists such as Ginette Reno, and others.

John Nice's two-week itinerary will cover New York, Nashville, Los Angeles and Montreal. After inter-company conferences with the managerial staff of Burlington-Felsted in New York, he will go on to Nashville to meet with heads of several companies the Burlington-Palace group has successfully represented overseas for many years.

During his brief stop-over in Los Angeles, Nice expects to see Burlington's publishing associates based in Los Angeles and San Francisco, as well as members of the Detroit hit group, Frijid Pink, whose copyrights Burlington Ltd. handles abroad.

In Montreal, the last leg of his trip, Nice will visit with execs of Burlington-Felsted of Canada, publishing arm of London Records of Canada.

NARAS Aids Library Pop Music Section

NASHVILLE — The Atlanta Chapter of the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences will donate 30 albums per month to the Atlanta Public Library for the establishment of the country's first comprehensive and current pop music record collection. Records will be housed in special bins in the Fine Arts Department of the Central Library, and can be borrowed for a period of two to three weeks.

Records will be selected by NARAS on the basis on the popularity charts from the music industry trade papers as well as local sales. Serving on the NARAS selection committee are Larry King of Southland Record Distributing Company, Wade Pepper of Capitol Records, Zenas Sears of WAOK Radio and chairman of the NARAS Education Committee, and Sam Wallace of Stereo South.

Diane Lampert's 3 Musical Sked

HOLLYWOOD — Lyricist Diane Lampert has been signed to write with Duke Ellington the Broadway bound musical, "Shout Up A Morning," based on the legend of John Henry. Book is by Paul Avila Mayer and George W. George.

Currently, Miss Lampert is involved with the musical, "The King of Schnorrers," with music by Bernard Herrmann and book by Paul Avila Mayer, based on a libretto by Shimon Wincelberg, now having its pre-Broadway tryout at the Goodspeed Opera House, East Haddam, Conn.

Her third project is the musical, "And So To Bed," with music by Peter Schickele and book by William M. Green.

Miss Lampert, wife of Hollywood publicist Fred Stuart, has written the title songs for over 21 motion pictures ("Operation Petticoat," "Toby Tyler," "I'll Take Sweden," "Billie," "Mister Moses"), several tv specials ("O'Halloran's Luck"), and has had pop and c&w material over the past ten years.

Ray Stevens, The Producer

NEW YORK—Barnaby recording artist Ray Stevens, established as a performer, composer, and television personality, has added yet another dimension to his career by turning producer.

His first release, a single for Barnaby Records by Peyton Hogue, "Captain of A Love Ship" c/w "Sunshine Feelin' Fine," is a joint production effort with Bentley Smith, Nashville producer. The sides were also arranged by Stevens. This is the first single for Hogue, who has been a popular performer in the Nashville area for several years.

Ray Stevens has an impressive list of credits. The Grammy Nominee for the Best Male Vocalist of 1969, penned and recorded "Gitarzan," "Along Came Jones," "Ahab the Arab" and recent RIAA Gold Record on Barnaby, "Everything Is Beautiful," which was number one on the top 100 chart. He just wound up a summer season as the replacement for the Andy Williams television show.

Number Eight Prod. Formed

TEXAS—The Number Eight Production Company, whose purpose it will be to sign new acts and lease the tapes to major recording labels, was formed recently in Texas.

Already completed for the newly formed company is an album by The Playboys Of Edinburg who were formerly with Columbia Records. Little Women, a five girl self contained group, are currently completing their first LP, while The Family Lotus from New Mexico, is expected to sign with the company in the near future.

Number Eight Productions has an affiliated publishing company with BMI which is known as Great Eight Music. All recording is being done at the Nicholls Studio in McAllen, Texas.

Film Depicts A & M's History

HOLLYWOOD — A special 10½ minute promo film covering the eight year musical history of A&M Records has just been completed by film maker Chuck Braverman. Gil Friesen, A&M vice-president in charge of creative services and administration, said the film, which will be premiered before 21 representatives from A&M foreign affiliates at A&M's fourth annual International Affiliates meeting in London this month, features more than 55 A&M artists performing their most important works ranging in scope from Herb Alpert's first million-selling single, "The Lonely Bull," through Joe Cocker performing "The Letter," in a live action segment from the forthcoming A&M film feature "Joe Cocker: Mad Dogs & Englishmen."

Braverman, who is known primarily for his "American Time Capsule" film (a three-minute history of the United States which he made for a Smothers Brothers Show), "The World of 1968," a 60-minute special for CBS-News, and a forthcoming hour special called "The Smothers Brothers Racing Team," utilized more than a thousand stills of A&M artists plus live action segments from past A&M promotional films, says Friesen.

Featured in the film are such divergent personalities as Herb Alpert, Burt Bacharach, Carpenters, Joe Cocker, Claudine Longet, Ron Davies, Flying Burrito Bros., Baja Marimba Band, Free, Sergio Mendes, Dillard & Clark, Quincy Jones, Lambert & Nuttycombe, Lee Michaels, Liza Minnelli, Wes Montgomery, Phil Ochs, Shawn Phillips, Jimmie Rodgers, The Sandpipers, Merry Clayton, Ike & Tina Turner, Scott McKenzie, and many others.

ON THE RONK TRACK—Veteran folkie Dave Van Ronk has joined the talent roster at Polydor Records. Shown are Ronk (l.) and label president Jerry Schoenbaum discussing plans for the first LP release by the artist on Polydor. Ronk is currently in the midst of a cross country tour.

Song Stems From ASCAP On Campus

NEW YORK — ASCAP's campus membership drive is beginning to show results. Campus Artist Music Group, Ltd., a division of Campus Artist Consultants, Ltd., one of the performing rights society's publishers, is bringing out a new song, "Where Strangers Meet" on Eileen Fulton's new LP, "The Same Old World". Miss Fulton is the star of the CBS-Television daytime program, "As the World Turns". The song, "Where Strangers Meet", was written by Ken Phillips, 21-year-old senior at the University of Michigan. A native of Detroit, Phillips is the program director of WCBN-Radio at the University of Michigan.

According to Gene Frank, president of CAC, young Phillips is representative of the untapped source on the campus community of "new and highly creative musical talent". Frank feels that the campus community is the most representative market for the diversified product of the record industry.

Campus Artist Music Group, Ltd. is administered by Chappell & Company, world wide.

ASCAP Composer-director Gerald Marks is preparing his new schedule of his campus appearances on behalf of ASCAP. These successful trips to various colleges throughout the country have brought in a wealth of new talent.

Tovar Gets Motown Slot

HOLLYWOOD—Alexander Tovar has joined the Motown Record Corporation as the controller for the company's west coast operation.

Tovar, a graduate of the University of Southern California with a B.S. degree in business administration, has for the past six years been controller at Paramount Pictures Studio.

The new controller will report directly to Motown president, Berry Gordy, Jr., and will be responsible for the accounting and financial control of corporate funds.

Oliver Heads

Sales For M-E

NEW YORK—Bill Borden, president of Monmouth-Evergreen, has announced the appointment of Claire Olivier as sales manager for the New York based indie label. Miss Olivier's appointment comes after 1½ years with M-E as office manager. Prior to joining M-E, she had been associated with Fine, National and Nola Penthouse recording studios, as well as MGM Records and Hartwest Productions.

There is no contemplated change in the distribution network already established.

Baldwin Canopy Mgr.

HOLLYWOOD—Jimmy Webb's pub firms (Canopy Music Co., ASCAP, and Sunshower, BMI) have established home base at 1407 N. LeBrea in Hollywood, with music vet Red Baldwin directing its operations. According to Baldwin, pub firm plans additional offices in Nashville and N. Y. with openings by early autumn. Canopy's restructure is predicated on Baldwin's total mobility among Canopy's offices and with its catalogues. His first odyssey through Nashville and N. Y. will be devoted to Jimmy Webb's new material and is scheduled for Sept. Webb recently was pacted to Reprise Records and his first LP is tentatively set for fall release.

GOSPEL GO AHEAD—Andrae' and the Disciples has signed an exclusive disc pact with Liberty/UA. Label is rush releasing the group's first single, "Christian People." Act was brought to the attention of the label by manufacturing v.p. Irv Kessler through his involvement with Southern California Teen Challenge, an organization dedicated to the rehabilitation of teenage drug addicts, where Andrae Crouch served as a youth counselor. Shown with Andrae are standing l. to r. Irv Kessler and group members Sandra Crouch, Billy Thedford III, Tramaine Davis.

Grech Joins Traffic

NEW YORK—Rick Grech, formerly with The Family, Blind Faith, and Ginger Baker's Air Force, has joined Traffic. Grech and other Traffic members (Steve Winwood, Chris Wood, and Jim Capaldi) go into the studio this month, and should have a new single out before their next tour begins in late Nov. Grech will make his first appearance with Traffic in the States, on that tour. A new album should be ready for release by the first of the year.

Traffic is currently in Morocco writing the score for a film entitled "Nevertheless," which stars Michael J. Pollard, and is directed by Antoine Coyas. The film is expected to be released in early 1971.

Traffic is currently represented on the album charts with their latest LP, "John Barleycorn Must Die."

Blue Note, the firm's jazz label, offered seven new major LP's by such giants as Horace Silver, Joe Williams, Thad Jones and Mel Lewis, Donald Byrd, Jackie McLean, Art Blakey and The Jazz Messengers, and Jazz Wave, Ltd.

Liberty/UA is supporting its new albums tapes and cassettes with one of the heaviest merchandising pushes it has ever developed, including consumer and trade advertising, radio spots and contests, plus a salesman incentive plan.

CEMI Formed

(cont'd from p.7)

Mack will also head up CEMI's Canadian operation.

A co-production deal has already been entered into for film scores of European films, with Italian motion picture producer and director Renzo Rossellini. According to Mullaney the company's first album product will be out in October.

The New York office of CEMI is located at 303 Lexington Avenue.

Elton John McKendree Spring Ken Lyon

PLAYBOY CLUB, NYC—In a unique mid-day showcase, MCA Records presented a number of their new acts to the press, publicity people, and dj's of this city and the surrounding area. Stars of the show were Elton John and his Family. By the time the first number was over (Elton on voice and piano singing "Your Song") the act left no doubt at all that they are the best thing to happen to this business since Felix Pappalardi formed Mountain 15 months ago.

Elton on his chashing, whispering, singing piano is really two people and that is where his vast strength lies. Because when he begins to sing he is no longer Elton John but the blindingly beautiful double entity of bernie-taupineltonjohn. Bernie is responsible for the focus behind Elton's music. He has, in fact, become one of the two or three finest lyricists alive today. I don't make that statement lightly.

And there's Elton caressing and cajoling the piano while Nigel Olsson and Dee Murray lay down stellar accompaniment on drums and bass and beyond the spotlights amidst darkling shadows sits Bernie, eyes closed, body hunched and muscles taut with effort as he sings with Elton and from Elton's mouth comes melodies and words and images dancing upon the air.

Alive 'N Kickin'

UNGANO'S NYC—In the beginning, there were rigorous rehearsals, a couple of part time jobs, and virtually no money at all; a number of personnel changes, more rehearsals, and still no money. Then came the dawn, and with it, a glimpse of daylight. What emerged was a new group determined in every way to become stars. Needless to say, the rest is history.

Alive 'N Kickin' is one of the most dynamic groups ever to grace the music industry. Their music is fresh, and their stage performance, totally captivating. The group, whose first Roulette single "Tighter, Tighter" brought them instant success, performed with the same enthusiasm as an already established act. Their emotional output, musical versatility, and ability to convey their songs to an audience, are all markedly professional and strikingly refreshing.

For Sandee Toder, Pepe Cardona, Bruce Sudano, John Parisie, Woody Wilson, and Vito Albano, it is only the beginning. With the release of their first LP which includes their latest single, "Just Let It Come," the group will embark on an extended concert tour which will include the Felt Forum late in Sept. Not since Cream did a name more aptly suit a group. Alive 'N Kickin' is just that.

Dust

ANDERSON, NYC—The Anderson Theatre, two blocks from the Fillmore East in Manhattan, opened its doors to Dust recently, and was rewarded with the largest crowd ever since the theatre opened a few months ago.

Dust, a New York based hard rock trio, consists of bassist Kenny Aaronson, drummer Marc Bell, and guitarist Richie Wise. They are not to be dealt with lightly. Their material is inventive and sophisticated, and often left the audience amazed at both the song quality and superb musicianship.

Once on stage, Dust couldn't be stopped. They immediately immersed the audience into the world of hard rock. Aaronson and Wise perform with the same enthusiasm as West and Pappalardi, or Clapton and Bruce, and Bell, with the stamina and endurance of Ginger Baker. Dust drew standing ovations at the end of their

Well the Elton John Family came on last and many people walked out before they began their set because this was, after all the afternoon and it was time to get back to the office because lunch and drinks were over. So it goes. People who care have heard Elton and they will come to see him. And that's enough because he is now and it's enough to sustain us and him: a transference of love.

McKendree Spring came on before Elton. They've just had their second album released which is good. But live they are so far above the record that it's a joke. They, like the Elton Family, display a firm knowledge of dynamics in music, an important, nay vital, part that most groups tend to ignore. They know the meaning of fortissimo and pianissimo and all the subtle variations inbetween and use the knowledge to chilling effect. The group's foundation lies in Fran McKendree's sensitive acoustic rhythm guitar. Twin prongs creating the melodies are Marty Slutsky's textured electric guitar and Mike Dreyfuss' astonishing electric violin. Along with bassist Larry Tucker, McKendree Spring lays down beautiful lacy curtains of sound that are both delicate and powerful all at once. They are a talent of major proportions who must be seen because as good as their LP's are, they just don't do them full justice.

Opening the luncheon was singer Len Lyon who appealed to the audience with his coffee-house folksongs.

Bert Sommer

BITTER END, NYC—All too often, the first in-person viewing of a familiar on-record act is disappointing. Without the editing, mixing and "sweetening" effects of studio hands, the live letdown is appalling.

With Bert Sommer, the difference is marked. For Sommer relies so strongly on his vocal appeal that the studio additives are simply frosting on an already delicious cake. Nearing the close of his set, the Eleuthera artist brings "We're All Playing in the Same Band" out in a bright new setting. Performed as an instrumental duet with Sommer's vocal, the song points up his ability to enchant as a person as well as in the role of an on-wax singer.

Though his hit shows this quality most decisively, the same power is expressed subliminally throughout his appearance when he features material from his latest LP or earlier work when Sommer was a from-the-cast-of-"Hair" artist with Capitol. He is, above all, human. Plagued by humidity, tuning and the claustrophobia of numerous microphones; yet able to ignore problems and make the audience forget its empathetic discomfort in his material and singing.

Constantly superior in his delivery of ballads, Sommer shows a songwriter's fascination with lyrics and a poet's compulsion with the meaning of his material. Fragile voiced, he spikes his act with folk-blues songs to change the pace, and makes up for his vocal shortcomings in this area by supplanting strength and grit with emotional intensity.

In addition to his personal glow, Sommer's nearly week-long stand at the Bitter End was heightened further by the sprinkling of melodic gems by accompanist Michael Brown and Sommer's treatments of other-author songs such as Paul Simon's "America" and the Cavaliere-Brigati "People Got to Be Free" performed with especial accent on the lyric.

hour and a half long set which in itself is unusual for a local, unrecorded group.

Dust is by far one of the most explosive and most exciting American groups to hit the music scene. They are extraordinary musicians, extraordinary performers and extraordinarily rock!

Diana Ross

EMPIRE ROOM, WALDORF ASTORIA, NEW YORK—Diana Ross has gotten her act together. And she's dynamite. Without a doubt the most exciting, dynamic and entertaining female we've seen hit the stage in years.

What was the beginning of this great solo act at NARM Convention time in Miami last March has been molded into a masterpiece of cabaret entertainment that's got everything.

It's got soul. It's got rhythm. It's got dancing. It's got costumes. It's got slide projection and the act has now been neatly wrapped-up in a great song-finale, her "Ain't No Mountain High Enough" #1 Motown hit. All show long you wait for it to come. And it comes. Boy does it come. At you and right through you. Seven minutes worth of that wild "Mountain" finish that leaves you jumping in your seat. "Mountain" is not just another #1 record hit for Diana. It's a "Hello Dolly" type blockbuster that has got to be her theme for years to come. Perhaps forever. It's a mighty important find for an act.

We were also impressed by the freedom and zest in Diana's solo act. We saw the Supremes work live some 15 or 20 times over the years. And although they were a great team (the Supremes are still a delight without Diana) Diana was obviously always restricted by having to relate to Mary and Florence or Mary and Cindy. At the Waldorf you felt a sense of breaking loose and racing with the wind in Diana's solo act. For lack of a better phrase, you felt she was "letting it all hang out" and loving every minute of it.

She shocked the audience from the moment she hit the stage with an Afro-Naturelle hairdo that extended beyond the width of her shoulders. A gas in combination with her black and white tasseled wrap-around. With a 25 man orchestra (including her on rhythm section and the sensational King Harrison on bongos) she rocked

"Don't Rain On My Parade" then soulfully segued into "Nitty Gritty" and "Reflections."

This is where the costume changes began (about seven of them). Diana slipped into a cubicle stage right while a few male dancers filled the one-minute void and came out in a fiery red sequin pants suit singing "The Rhythm of Life," which, incidentally, she and the Temptations are riding the Top Ten with in Australia. She did a super rock dance with the two men that tore-up the place. Here it is only the third number and Diana was "throwing away" what for most acts would have been an unbelievable finale. But we figured "Ain't No Mountain" was being saved for the finish.

Diana was marvelous as a comedienne, too. She's got good "ad libs," delivers them well and excels on her comic take off on Peggy Lee's "Is That All There Is To That."

"Reach Out and Touch" and "For Once In My Life" keep the show rolling as does a short Supremes medley while a slide projector reminisces visually about the group as it looked in the "Baby Love" era.

A good piece of special material called "I Want To Be A Leading Lady In A Broadway Show" offers Diana in a fashion show . . . a cowboy costume, a "Fair Lady" dress, a baby outfit for the "People" number and a fantastic feather-collared pink crushed-velvet dress for the "Mame" finale to this segment. And all changes are done while Diana is on stage. The audience loved it.

Then the final dress, a sexy, red, metallic drape to fit the "My Man" number. And then it came . . . "Ain't No Mountain High Enough." It was so powerful that it almost blotted out everything else. It was truly a memorable evening. Diana has a "today" act that employs enough of the true show-biz traditions to give it a solid foundation. And Diana can keep building from this point to fantastic new heights. She is absolutely super. A complete joy to watch.

IT'S JUST AN ILLUSION—Steed Records' the Illusion and friends are shown at Klein's Department Store in N.Y. where the label held autograph parties for them last week to kick off a national campaign for the group and their latest LP "If It's So."

FLOWERS FOR BELL—Phil Flowers has signed a four year recording contract with Bell Records whereby the label will distribute and release his product in association with Bill Feldman's Fireplace prod. and Flower and Ron Schiffman's Night And Day prod, according to Irv Biegle, exec veep of Bell. Phil (extreme r.) is shown at Western Recorders recording his first Bell single "Man And A Wife" with Ron Schiffman (standing, 2nd from r.), Bob Feldman (seated), engineer Richie Orshoff and John Rosica (far l.) label's director of west coast operations.

andy williams:
the legend
as a current event

from
"TONIGHT"
to
TODAY

The laughter is real, but there is no audience in the studio at NBC in Burbank. It is a Friday afternoon rehearsal for the new "Andy Williams Show" and the stagehands have just sprung a surprise on the star-host by wheeling in the five foot tall trophy he won in the past weekend's Amos Golf Tournament for members of the recording industry. The trophy itself, a Kong-sized monstrosity topped by an ice bucket, is funny enough, but it is Andy's reaction which prompted the outburst.

"It's the first time I ever won anything in a tournament," Williams explains. "We played at Los Robles. You have to take a drink every other hole. I was so relaxed I couldn't miss anything. I won the low gross and that thing."

The rehearsal resumes, the scene a regular feature wherein the guest star joins the show's resident bear in a cookie raid at Andy's door. Keats Tyler, Andy's personal secretary for the past seven years, holds Andy's mark while the star slips into a bright burnt-orange jacket. Guest star Jo Anne Worley flutters in, flaunting a mock fur coat which is a match for the bear suit worn by Janos Prohaska, who decides to do the scene with his bear head tucked under his arm.

Prohaska mugs his way through the scene. The bear's voice, spoken out of camera range, is that of Allan Blye, former co-producer and co-headwriter of "The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour," who co-produces the new Williams hour with Chris Beard, former Emmy-winning writer of "Laugh-In." It is their second season and Williams' gamble on a new production team, a new format and a new hour has already paid off, blitzing the competition of CBS-TV's long-entrenched "Jackie Gleason Show."

A MAN PREMINGER COULD ENVY

Overhead in the control booth, director Art Fisher calls for a take. Behind him sits Williams' secretary, Shiela Gillis, and next to her, Alan C. Bernard, Williams' cherubically blond-bearded personal manager for over a decade. It is said that he is called "The Devil" by executives at NBC and Columbia Records, with whom he has always bargained in his client's best interests and for the stiffest of terms. It is Bernard who has maneuvered the rationing of Williams' exposure on the TV screen to insure his longevity, pulling him off a successful series in 1966, limiting him to three specials a year until his return in the new time slot in the 1969-70 season.

In his autobiography, "Mark It and Strike It," Steve Allen, who introduced Williams to the national television audience on the original "Tonight" show on September 27, 1954, opined that a career spanning up to twenty years on the stage or in motion pictures was telescoped down to a three or four year expectancy in the mass exposure of television. By his insistence upon perfection, the demands he makes upon himself and his willingness to change and to refresh, Williams, under Bernard's management, has prevailed, building a legend from the current event that is at once television and Andy Williams.

In live close-up, Bernard betrays his image. Like the movies' Otto Preminger, he seems to take delight in the reputation, earned or not. Another writer once described him as being to show business what General Rommel was to the German Army—a tough campaigner, and a brilliant, if unconventional, tactician, who gets results. He jokes, "I grew the beard to help foster the tough guy image."

Bob Finkel, the NBC executive producer, who produced the Williams series during the four seasons they amassed four Emmy Awards, looks at it another way. "Sure, like Preminger, he probably enjoys being feared and I'm sure he likes to be talked about, but he has had a great struggle to attain success with Andy. It has taken a lot of hard-driving, cunning agency work. But deep down, he's really a nice-hearted, soft guy." But don't tell that to an NBC or Columbia executive.

WALL-TO-WALL SWEATERS

Back on the television soundstage, the newest chapter in the continuing cookie raid rolls. Miss Worley vamps Andy. Miss Worley vamps the bear. The bear vamps Worley. The bear is woolly. A scuffle. A bear claw shreds Williams' jacket and Williams ad-libs a tantrum, cuffing the bear about the shoulders in a drum roll of fists. Williams lures Miss Worley through the door.

"Oo-oo," she chortles, "wall-to-wall sweaters. You devil!" The crew roars, and the bear is again left in the cookieless cold for another week.

Enroute to his dressing room, Williams says, "I think the cuffing is all right. The torn jacket motivates it." He is neither asking a question nor seeking approval, merely reporting the dictates of the instinct which serves him. He changes into an orange terry robe and relaxes until the next set-up. He speaks of the bear, king among what Williams call "the weirdies" who inhabit the show and contribute to its flow of outrageous sight gags.

"We are currently discussing some merchandising on the bear. No big promotion deal, but there is a demand for things from the bear. The kids particularly love him, but then, it's the same with adults. The bear represents the everyday man who never quite gets his, can never quite pull it off, always gets beaten down somehow. The young people love the visual things, the surprise and shock of the physical gags, which are not true violence. This year's series will have more of the cartoon cut-out aspects.

"We have a bee on the show. We swat him, we Flit him. But I've found that the smallest kids are very perceptive. They know, for example, that I'm not mad at the bear. That came as a surprise because I was concerned. I thought maybe I shouldn't be so mean to him. Then I took my kids skiing this winter and was surprised to be followed everywhere by tiny kids, all of them asking about the bear, calling out to ask me why I was so mad at him. I would shout, 'Because he can't ski!' They would all laugh and it was clear that they never took me seriously.

"On the show we're doing now, we have one surprise in which a ship crashes through a brick wall. But Jo Anne Worley is the maidenhead on the ship. Now that's pretty hip."

TO CHANGE, TO PROGRESS

For all of the talk about a "new Andy Williams," it seems more accurate to say that a new show plays off essentially the same character, the gentlemanly home-town boy who is transformed into one of the finest performers of our time when he gives his baritone to a song.

"Yes, I don't think I've changed that much," Andy concurs. "There is much more comedy around us. But, no, we all change. If we don't we're in trouble. We change our style of clothes every year or every other year. We all change even without knowing it, especially if we're young enough. That change, growth, is inevitable. And we've had some objections from people who have felt that I've changed, but those objections, I'm sure, come from people who stopped changing a long time ago. They resent the fact that someone else does change and they resent the change that is going on in the world. They object to the way people dress or look. They can be really uptight about that kind of change.

"They resent the fact that I have made an obvious, visual change. And it's only on television that they have noticed it. I think the records have changed slightly. But in television, it's a completely different show, a new format. And some, those who cannot change, do resent that, because they believed I was one of them and that I've run out on them, which isn't true. I was just ready to do a different show. And the greater portion of mail is from those who write to say they like what we're doing."

One objection from first season response to the new show has been heeded. Numerous fans complained about the interruption of Williams' vocals for the otherwise engaging Blye-Beard mayhem. "We'll be doing that far less this season," explains Williams. "We've done it only once during the shows we've taped thus far, one opening teaser spot, before the show actually starts. It is never a serious interruption. I sing no more than three or four bars of a song as a lead-in to the comedy.

"Remember that the attention you get from an audience at 7:30 is much shorter than you can expect at the later hour we used to do the show. People are either getting dinner or preparing to go out. On my old ten o'clock show, I could do an eight-minute medley with a guest like Peggy Lee. That won't hold up well at 7:30."

Why did Williams absent himself from weekly television for two years and return with a conspicuously youth-oriented show?

"You can tell pretty much when you've been on television too long on a weekly basis on a certain kind of show. Then, if you are in demand enough to be able to say, 'No, I don't want to re-sign, but I'd like to do some specials for two years and I'll give you the option of putting me back on a weekly basis. . . .'" Well, that's what happened to me. I was tired of getting mail from people all of those years who said they loved the show, that it was a family show and a clean show, and it was too bad that their children couldn't see it. They had to go to bed. Ten to eleven was just too late.

"Originally, I tried to get an 8 o'clock or 9 o'clock hour, but that can be difficult when a network is locked in at those hours to different shows and personalities who have held those time periods before. So I said yes to Saturday at 7:30. I'd rather have the spot opposite Gleason, a very strong show, rather than go back to ten o'clock and do the safe thing that I knew I could do, which was no longer stimulating. They say we took a gamble with Allan Blye and Chris Beard. Maybe, but it paid off. Again, you take your shots and hope that you are right. And you use the best judgments you have. Not just mine. Alan Bernard's, as well."

THE ANDY WILLIAMS SHOW.

Without the commercials.

The songs that make the Andy Williams Show great are all on his newest album.

And inside the album, there's even a full-color booklet filled with pictures from his TV show.

So, if you can't imagine a TV show without any commercials, Andy has solved the problem. With his latest album.

One of the most successful gimmicks that helps Andy's TV show appeal on a broad level to young, very young and adults is the hilarious cookie-mooching bear and the "meanie-hoarder" role Andy plays when the bear comes calling. On the left the two are seen in a more harmonious mood.

SUMMER STARTER

Williams' decade of television super-stardom probably dates back to 1960, when a tenth annual poll of television editors, columnists and critics named him one of the three best male singers in the medium, barely losing second place to Frank Sinatra. Perry Como was the winner that year. Como and Sinatra both placed for regular series. Williams had made his impact as a summer replacement for Garry Moore, in those days when television still developed its stars in summer exposure.

Williams, who joined Steve Allen on the latter's New York-based show before it emerged as the national "Tonight" show, remained with Allen until the program left the air in 1957. That summer he shared a twice-weekly summer series with June Valli on NBC-TV. The following summer, he soloed as the replacement for Pat Boone's "Chevy Showroom" for ABC-TV.

His initial series for NBC in 1962 was slow to build. The following year Bernard enticed S&H Green Stamps from the departing Dinah Shore show to sponsor Williams in a series of 12 specials, alternating with "The Bell Telephone Hour." Four seasons and four Emmys later, Williams retreated to three specials a year to refresh himself and ration viewer's appetites.

Those who make note of the visual gags and technical wizardry of the present series forget the degree to which Williams and his production people always exploited and expanded available electronic techniques and the expert uses his past series made of color.

FINKEL REFLECTS

In those years, former producer Bob Finkel recalls, one of Andy's cardinal rules was "No costumes!" "Andy was very cautious in the beginning. Because he was one of the most tasteful and dedicated entertainers I have ever known, but had yet to establish a star image beyond the singing performance, we devoted a segment of the program to the characters of Wall Lake, Iowa, Andy's birthplace. It proved to be a not very entertaining spot and we dumped it after eight weeks. Yet it did accomplish its purpose of giving Andy's some roots, becoming a reference point for future comedy," Finkel says.

"Andy is a perfectionist with a remarkable, deep-rooted sense of obligation to his audience. He is a marvel with his creative people. I had more freedom to do what I could do than I have ever experienced. Though he is quiet, soft-spoken, private and even withdrawn personally, when he sings he communicates beautifully, with a clarity that few have ever approached. He was schooled differently than many contemporary performers. He mentioned many time the disciplines imposed by Kay Thompson when he and his brothers performed and toured with her," Finkel continued.

"He is not, or was not then, the easiest man to talk to, yet we had marvelous personal moments, a minimal social life, but lunches, exchanged confidences. After all, I saw him more than my family during those years when he was growing into a major television star. And I adored his family, as beautiful, handsome a family as has ever been created. So few today can get as excited or as involved in doing their show."

A YOUNGER LOOK

It would not be unreasonable to assume that Williams' move to an earlier weekend hour might have been made with an eye toward an added youthful record buying public. Williams has been quoted regarding his talks with students on campuses and at concerts, with the implied suggestion that these were members of his audience with whom he had lost touch. It seems unlikely for a man who so captivates concert audiences which are notable for their inclusion of all steps of the family.

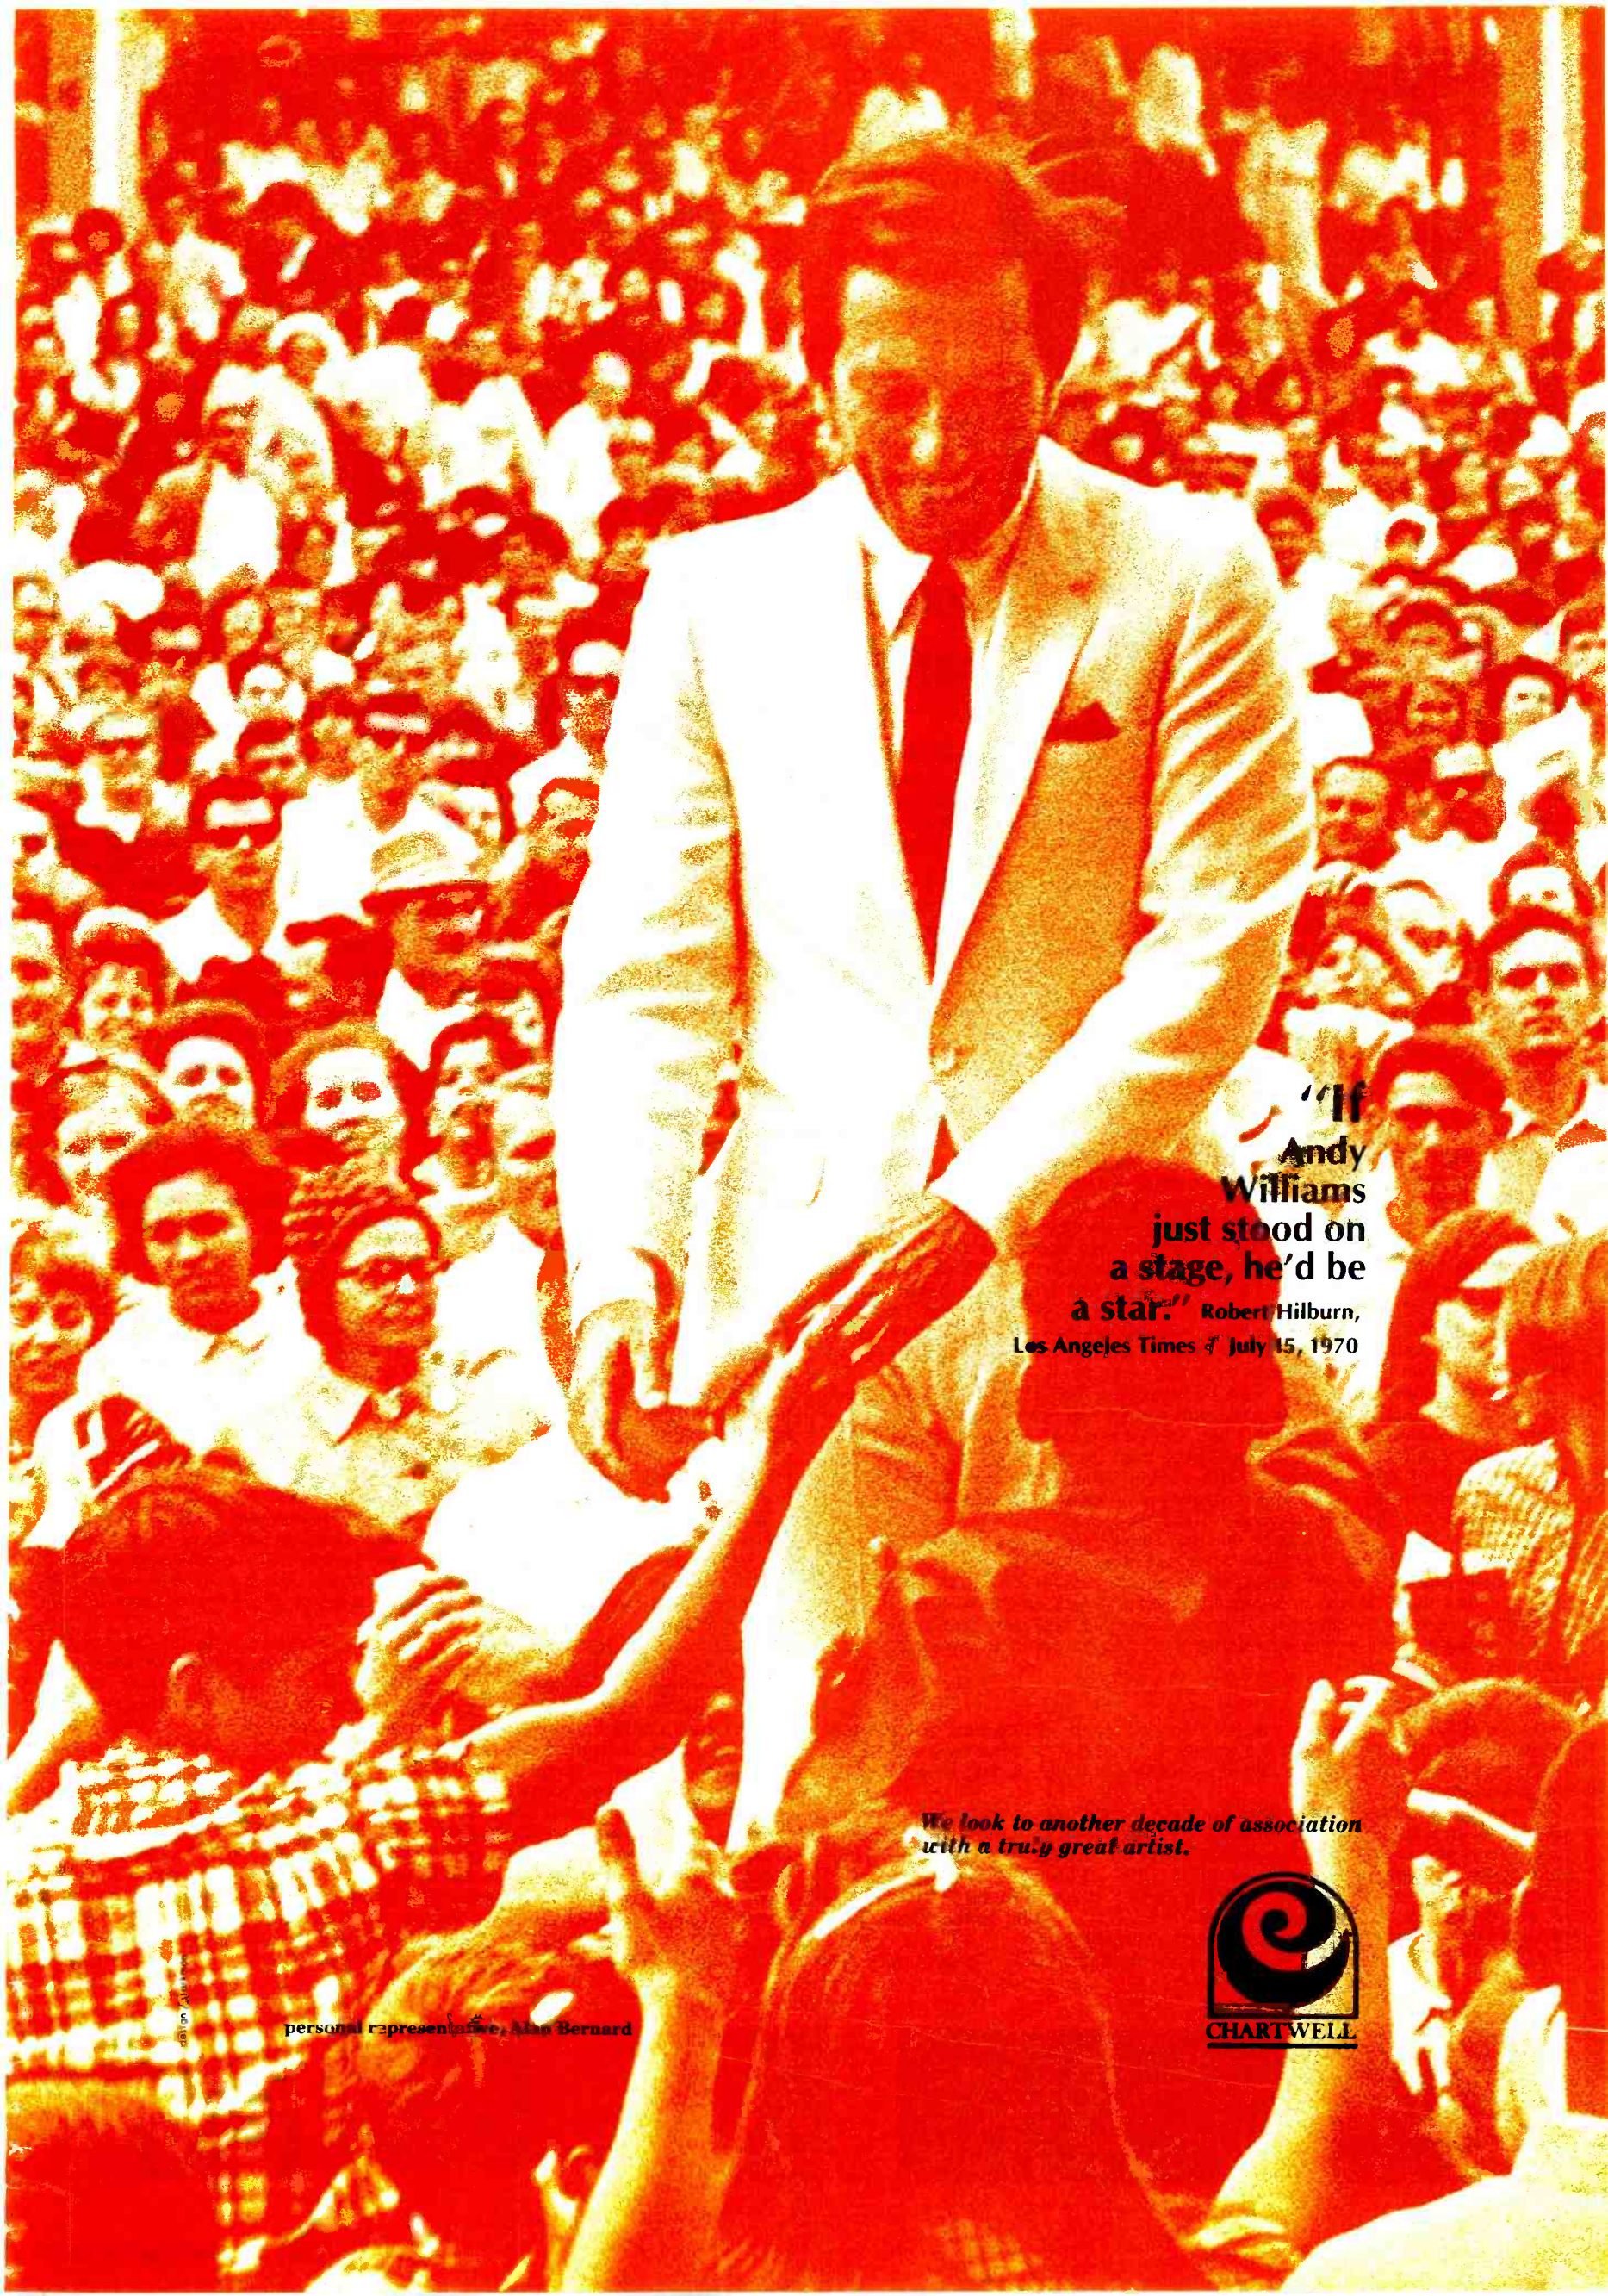

Williams considers the thought. "I don't think I was ever really out of touch with my audience. But, for a time, I was frustrated, probably because of age. It was analogous, I think, to the woman who gets to be a certain age and thinks she is going to lose her looks and that is the only thing that is attractive about her to a man. And I felt at that age I was losing contact with young people, or that I would be, or that I was not really with it. Because, you know," said the man who has consistently utilized the talents of the best rock artists on his show, "the rock music is not something that I feel that comfortable with.

"That's all that there was, and I just didn't feel that I was part of it. Not that I had lost contact with the audience I had. I continued to sell records. That had nothing to do with it. It's just that I wasn't able comfortably to do what they were doing. I was getting a little bored with myself. I had a few talks with myself, pulled myself together and found the direction I wanted to go. It didn't change that much. I just pulled it together.

"I think that I've changed more during the past four years than I have at any other time in my life. It has meant formulating a lot of ideas and opinions about what I liked and what I didn't like, what kind of singer and performer, what kind of person I was. I made some decisions—attitude decisions—and part of it was deciding to do this kind of show. And because change continues, the show was aimed in this direction, but has turned out differently than it was originally meant to. What pleases me most is that the present series is leading, rather than following. It has an identity completely its own, one which other shows are now following in their own variety musical hour formats."

boy soprano to gold-plated baritone

Andy Williams' recorded his first and only million-selling single record in 1944, when he was fifteen. Like the title songs of many of his 16 Columbia million-dollar Gold Record albums of later years, it was an Academy Award winning song from a motion picture, "Swinging On A Star" from "Going My Way." The Williams Brothers—Andy, Bob, Don and Dick—provided the vocal backgrounds for that Bing Crosby Decca disk.

Three years later, when the Williams Brothers were touring with Kay Thompson, Andy recorded for Columbia for the first time when the act cut "Jubilee Time" and "Louisiana Purchase." The act was to break up and re-unite several times, during which Williams, fresh from the big rooms, set out as a single in small clubs he shudders to recall now. The final split-up in 1952 begins a period of two years about which little has been written, the impression being that the solo Williams immediately found a roost with the Allen show.

It was a period of Greyhound buses and satchels of arrangements which were seldom used because the available clubs seldom provided the calibre or quantity of personnel they required. There was a club in Canada which provided a meat locker as a dressing room, where he shared the hooks with sides of beef and considered, more than once, giving it all up.

He remembers, "Yeah, there were lots of little clubs, most of which I have gratefully forgotten, but I thought of quitting many times. I guess I'm just stubborn, had to see it through. That was part of it. Another part of it was that I had been singing since I was a little boy. I really didn't really like school that much, because my interest was in music and in performing. I wasn't likely after all that time to say that I'd go into a university and become a doctor or something. It was difficult because I had been in it so long. So I didn't quit, but many times, like in the clubs, it was very difficult. Like one time I was booked into a club and the accompaniment was a drum and a violin. Just dreadful! There was another place in Pittsburgh where there was just a piano player. And he couldn't read. And they had like just one little teeny spotlight." As he recalls it now, he seems incredulous that it could ever have happened at all.

"I had been used to working with an important, big kind of act in which you used lights and you used music and you used all manner of things as a part of your act. I had some dance steps. I had special material. When I look back on it now, it was absolutely foolish. It would have been much better to go to the piano player, ask him if he knew 'Embraceable You' in B-flat, rather than trying to teach him my arrangements. It was just struggling in a lot of ways that were needless, needless and futile. But I got through." Hard dues, paid.

"All of that time, I was trying to find out where I was going, in which direction. Then I finally auditioned for Steve Allen and that gave me a direction I didn't really know existed. I wasn't paying much attention to television. It didn't really thrill me that much to go on a television show. I just didn't think of it. I was oriented in night clubs with Kay Thompson and my brothers. Live audiences. I sort of thought that's where everything was. I found out that wasn't so. There was more, much more."

X, STILL UNKNOWN

During Williams' journey to television and discovery of direction, while experimenting in the folk song idiom, he signed with Label X, a subsidiary of RCA. He recorded six sides for the label, none of which are known today, because all remained on the shelf.

It was not until his second year on the "Tonight" show that Kay Thompson introduced him to her friend, Archie Bleyer, who was to launch his successful recording career on Cadence Records. His first hit was the vocal version of Eddie Heywood's "Canadian Sunset," released in 1956. "Butterfly," the biggest of his Cadence hit singles, "Hawaiian Wedding Song," "Lonely Street," "The Village of St. Bernadette," "Are You Sincere" followed. "In The Summertime" first brought him into contact with then-songwriter Roger Miller.

Williams' unique blending of country boy and sophisticate, hip performer with broad appeal, served the records as he served them, and in time he was to exercise that special knack for album programming which would lead to his subsequent string of Gold Records. Today, he still sells 25,000 albums a week.

For his eighth and final Cadence album in 1960, he flew to Paris to team with Quincy Jones' jazz orchestra on "Under Paris Skies," with arrangements by Jones and Billy Byers. From Dave Grusin, Williams' former accompanist and conductor, now one of the best of the younger Hollywood film composers, to Mike Post, his present musical director, has demonstrated an affinity for selecting talent equal to his growth.

In 1961, when Andy moved to California, Bleyer released him from the two remaining years of his Cadence contract, paving the way for Williams' happy association with Columbia Records. When Cadence Records was dissolved in 1964, Williams secured the greater portion of the masters in the company's catalog. The resurgence of the Everly Brothers has prompted Williams to release a handsomely packaged and nostalgic two-record set of the duo's greatest hits on his Barnaby Records label, which Columbia distributes.

Coincidentally, Barnaby Productions, Barnaby Music, Barnaby Records, Barnaby Sports, take their name from a Dickensian-named pet boxer dog which was presented to Andy by Kay Thompson.

STRAIGHT DOWN THE MIDDLE

Considering the changes which have affected Williams personally and professionally in the past few years, the pleasure he takes in a television program which leads rather than follows the competition, can we expect changes in forthcoming albums? Are there new areas he wishes to explore? Did he reach the same point of frustration in recording that he reached in television before the change?

"As a matter of fact, I was frustrated for a time. That was a period when I decided that I wanted to produce and be an executive. I found that I preferred being a performer. But during that period of time, I also tried some of the things on record, got them out of my system. I think you build up in your mind a lot of things—I wish I could do that and I wish I could do this.' You get out and do them and find that that isn't the answer at all, certainly not the answer to everything. I did do a few albums which were departures for me. One, 'Raindrops,' had a concept side of songs that weren't terribly well known. I say it was a departure for me, because I've always rather done 'hit' albums. And my next album, the one which will follow my next release, will be another 'hit' album."

Williams discusses his next release. "The next release will be titled 'The Andy Williams Show,' and it will be different. It will be songs which we have done on the show, rerecorded, with the applause, put together like a television show. It will be very much like an in-person concert album, but a television concert. It will include a super picture program with pictures of all of the weirdies and of show guests.

"Again, I find myself in the middle. This one is slightly different, as was the one before. But I enjoy doing both. I love doing the 'hit' albums, because they are good songs that make it during the year, most of which I perform on the show during the season. I like those songs and there is a way of packaging that kind of album that I know is going to sell a certain amount of records. And I enjoy that, the success, not just the money I get out of the success of an album, but being a success, a commercial success."

Are the songs better today than they were a decade or more ago?

"I like the music better now than I did in the fifties. Of course, anyone can mention memorable songs from that period, but generally I prefer the songs today. They are better musically, as a rule. Particularly, some of the songs of the fifties were so tailored to a rock group, or a performer, or so much a phenomenon of their recording, that others trying to perform them simply couldn't bring it off. But today, the songs of the Beatles, songs like 'Bridge Over Troubled Water,' or any of the movie themes, good music kind of things, can be performed by any group or singer and hold up. They are good songs, and a lot of good music is hitting the Top Forty."

Does Williams enjoy producing?

"I found no particular satisfaction as a producer. I thought I might and did a bit of it and found that I really don't like it as well as performing. On the television show, 'executive producer' means that I have the last word, can make any important decisions, override a decision if I feel it is important enough, pick a staff, but but that is all I get involved with in this show. I have been more involved in the specials. I found being a record producer less satisfying than performing. It takes a lot of time. I do enjoy business. I'm building a record company and trying to be a part of making it a success. I'd like to run a record company in much the way Archie Bleyer ran Cadence, which was small enough so that we all got attention. That need not include serving as record producer.

"I produced one album with my brothers recently, 'The Williams Brothers Christmas Album.' I think it is a very good album. I liked being a part of it, something I wanted to do greatly. But to go in and produce somebody else, another singer—I'd rather produce my own things if I'm going to do that. And I think it is more important to have someone else involved. I don't know who is going to produce my wife, Claudine Longet, for Barnaby, but if we don't find the right combination, the right person to fulfill her capabilities, I may do it myself."

Williams' contract with Columbia expires in two years.

"What happens then I don't know. I might re-sign. Even if I went on Barnaby, I would probably still be distributed through Columbia. Two years is too long a time. I just don't know. But I would hate to think of leaving Columbia. I like them and they have been good to me." He is said to be the highest paid talent in the history of the company's roster.

boy soprano to gold-plated baritone

Today's music scene features many lead singers, few of whom have had the experience or opportunities to prepare them for the scope of multi-media success Andy Williams and a select few have achieved. Few have spent nearly 30 years in all phases of the business preparing for that goal from a pre-pubescent radio debut, and fewer outlets exist for the talented apprentice to perfect his talents. What hopes does Williams hold for future vocal soloists?

"Groups were easier to sell, moving in to replace the big bands and all of those sorts of vacuums which seem to exist all over the world of entertainment. The big bands were too expensive and really concerted themselves out of the business. They got too serious, instead of just playing dance music. The music changed and the bands did not. So rock groups formed all over, and out of a rock group, there was always going to be somebody to sing the vocals. With the success of the groups, very few really tried to go solo. And how could one break away and develop as a solo? There are virtually no small clubs that furnish an orchestra or any kind of musical accompaniment any more. And I can't see that changing. Fashions would have to change first.

"But I think that there is some hope as rock groups grow larger and larger. Blood, Sweat and Tears is up to—what?—ten men now. I don't know how many are in Chicago. Some rock bands have as many as 16 now. It could get into a new big band era again, not as big as before, but, say, 16 pieces, even though they would be rock bands. Then, just as before, the soloist might take off in the solo spotlight as Sinatra once did. The good soloists would emerge, completing the cycle."

A HARD LOOK AT VIDEO CASSETTES

As a recording company executive, Williams, Alan Bernard and company lawyers have discussed the importance of including visual rights in recording contracts. Yet Williams has some provocative reservations about the home video cartridge and cassette market of the future.

"I think cassettes are an important part of the future for any personality. The home video market should be formidable. Yet I can't personally see how my owning all of my shows, as I do, is of such great value to those home cassettes. Other people do, however, think that library is a great asset. I can see how they will be very popular for education and great for something like a Rolling Stones concert, something you want to see right now and with the immediacy of television. But with so much entertainment available on free television and everything that is going to be produced for this new market, I question whether these old tapes are going to be so valuable. Other than for their historical value, television shows, unless they are truly exceptional, don't have much reason to be re-run. For me, Television is immediate, right now.

"Our shows have been run in England and some other overseas markets a

I was assigned by GAC as Andy's agent in 1959. He was with Cadence Records and relatively successful; not a star by today's standards, but successful. He had done regular spots on summer shows, but stardom was elusive. At that time, Andy told me that the one thing he would like to do was the Dinah Shore Show, because they paid top price for guest stars and he had never been offered that much money.

Just to show Andy that he was good enough and in demand enough to command top salary, I met with the producer of Dinah's show and NBC executives. They finally offered the top price, plus Special Guest Star billing, plus transportation for Andy and his pianist. I believe it was this single act that was responsible for Andy's and my getting together in what is proving to be one of the most successful, profitable, and long-lasting relationships in the business.

At the beginning, Andy was just another pretty face, but I realized that, with proper guidance, his exceptionally fine voice could raise him above other male singers to a prominence achieved by very few.

One must bear in mind the fact that Andy himself "turns on" in front of a camera or live audience and becomes a very exciting personality. He does his worrying before a show, but never during, and at no time does this come across to the people. His voice abounds with confidence no matter how he might feel.

I've known him to be extremely ill and feverish, or with a raw throat, when he shouldn't go on at all, but he pours down the tea and honey and is ready to go on. I know this sounds hokey but in today's music scene, if performers don't feel like coming on, they don't or, if they're late, so what. So this: Andy Williams has never missed a performance and has never given a low, medium or even just-plain-good show; his performances are consistently great entertainment whether in concert or on the television or movie screen.

Some artists arouse their fans to a frenzy, but that's infrequent and usually short-lived. Andy's followers, on the other hand, are coming to see their friend, someone their kids know and someone to whom the family can relate, collectively and individually. For example, I remember the time we were playing a one-nighter in Carbondale, Illinois, in an outdoor theatre; the show was nearing completion and Andy was right in the middle of a pretty heavy ballad and his theme, "Moon River". The finale of the show was supposed to have been three local high-school bands, including drums, cymbals, trumpets, and trombones, marching across the campus, which was directly behind stage, offering their devastating rendition of "76 Trombones". Well, someone cued them in too early and, right in the middle of "Moon River" all these kids with their clashing instruments and highly emotional school spirit banged and clanged right across the stage. This broke Andy up which, in turn, broke up the audience. Andy cut his ballad and swung into "76 Trombones", right on cue it seemed, and the song never sounded so good. If there had been a roof on that place, the crowd would've blasted it right off. It was quite an impromptu finale and a night to remember for Carbondale and for us as well.

Andy also has an excellent business sense, as evidenced by the fact that he does not exactly live in the poorhouse today. Our latest enterprise is Barnaby Records. We have some ideas about running a record company which we feel are innovative. We believe in total involvement; Ray Stevens is a good example with both recording and television careers, and this is the type of commitment we have in mind. Ray's first single for Barnaby, "Everything Is Beautiful", has sold 1,700,000 copies worldwide, at this writing. We have also just signed Ken Berry, whose first album, "Ken Berry, R.F.D." will soon be released. Paul Anka and Claudine Longet have just joined the Barnaby label. In fact, there are so many things happening with the record company alone that it would take another entire article to accurately describe the action.

It is a pleasure to work with Andy. For one thing, he knows when and to whom to listen for advice. Although I have always used as much persuasion as I know how (which is a considerable amount), I have not always won the battle. The final decision is his. He is the one whose reputation is at stake, he is the one who must stand up and perform alone. In our years together, I have found that, even on the few occasions when his decision differs from mine, the result is successful. We have a camaraderie which permits us greater freedom of discussion than is usually possible in artist/manager relationships. For this, we are both grateful.

Andy is technically brilliant, not only as an artist but also with regard to methods of staging, lighting and, all-importantly, sound. He has innate good judgment regarding today's sounds. He doesn't try to imitate but instead adapts those portions which are right for him, to his particular style.

I enjoy spending time with Andy and, more importantly, over and above relating to him as a client, I consider him my good friend. He may be quite somber some of the time and exuberant or even exhilarated some of the time, but there is one thing he is not at any time and that is dull.

year later and they had the same advantage. They were still new and fresh, for the first time. I think a longer period than that and it is past, an historical footnote, something to reminisce over—how great those old days were, turning back time on a dated television tape, when we should have moved forward.

"When they take six months to make a movie and they are really capturing something special, that is lasting and permanent, as some films are, that can be played forever."

But those who are backing and investing in various cassette systems seem convinced that masses are going to want to buy a Petula Clark or Sinatra or Andy Williams special that they may already have seen.

"I just can't see why they would. Maybe I'm thinking wrong. Maybe there are enough fans who will buy any and everything an artist makes available, just because they are fans," says Williams, still not convinced. It seems typical of a man who is constantly adapting to change, moving ahead and working to avoid repeating himself, producing for the moment at hand, to resist looking back or wanting to warm up left-overs. He is more apt to be challenged by thoughts of how best to produce for that outlet or wanting to know how good the sound reproduction will be.

(co-producer of the Andy Williams Show)

Andy Williams makes a producer's job very easy. That is a simple, straight ahead statement, until you've had a good, long look at what Andy has let his producers do on Saturday Night at 7:30 on NBC.

Being one of those producers, I can assure you that the statement is true.

What goes down on Saturday Night, my partner and I like to think, is just an hour packed with all sorts of things that entertain all sorts of people. That's our business, entertainment; not for any select group or age bracket, but for the good, old, general public.

However, times change and tastes change, and we've been trying to "move right along" with times and tastes.

Andy has up-dated his image, musically and physically, and in choosing Allan Blye and me to produce his show, has taken the chance on a brand new format that hopefully appeals to nearly everybody.

Change of course brings with it certain problems, a few dissenters, and a little initial confusion. We had all these things last year in our first season of the new "ANDY WILLIAMS" series.

We now think we have a format that is working, and Andy stands happily in the middle of it all. Andy has a fantastic capacity for humor, which Allan and I felt had been overlooked in the past, to a great extent; and we decided to develop that, as well as making sure we didn't lose the flavor of his great singing voice and natural, down home, American appeal.

We believed that a composite of both would make for a great, new television experience for early evening Saturday viewers. So we set out to find fresh, clean and outlandishly different comedy patterns that would enhance H. Andrew Williams' already powerful image.

andy's saturday night satyricon

(con't from AW-12)

Comedy patterns have changed over the past few years in television, and with the pace of the World becoming faster, people's minds now have the capacity to take things in faster; and although you may hear a great many of your audience saying they wish for the old days of twenty-two minute musical medley, it is not what is going down in the reality of mass viewer patterns.

What better way to entertain people musically, than with Andy Williams standing, singing a great ballad, and being shot simply and elegantly by a fine television director?

It's simple, it's honest and it looks and sounds great.

It's just the same with the comedy segments of the show. We like to keep it simple, honest, and to have it look and sound great.

But of course there are a few other wrinkles to our form of comedy. Comedy is basically an outlet of emotion both for the performer and the audience.

Let's look at Andy Williams and the Bear.

Here is a study in psychological comedy warfare, if you like. If Allan Blye and I had gone to NBC, during our initial discussions, and told them that one of the highlights of the new "ANDY WILLIAMS" musical variety show is Andy, standing in a dumb doorway, shouting at a bear, we may have ended up either on the street or at a local Cleveland FM radio station!

However, he said, going back to an emotional outlet, the Bear is a great emotional outlet for Andy. Andy really and truly looks forward, during the day of taping, to the spot where he can shout at the Bear.

It's a great way to let off steam and still be payed for it. I mean, he'd probably like to shout at us like that during the taping, but he knows how sensitive we new, young producers are, so he takes it out on the dumb, defenseless bear.

Actually, he is indirectly shouting at one of the producers when he shouts at the bear, because my partner, Allan Blye, plays the part of the bear's voice, as the bear himself is played by Janos Prohaska, who is a Hungarian with an accent that could cut Arte Johnson's "Rosmenko" character to pieces.

The Bear is an interesting phenomenon for several reasons; it is a symbol that people can easily identify with. It is a symptom of the age we are living in, or for that matter, of any age. It is the eternal struggle of someone trying to get ahead, trying to get what they want, and always having a door slammed in their faces.

On the surface this may not be apparent, but it is, nevertheless, a truism in this case.

We have tried, in the comedy segments on Andy's show, to make a few kind of round-about statements. Andy is the symbol of straightness, honesty and blue-eyed idealism that we all secretly wish we could get back to. The things that happen to him on his show are symptomatic of the society in which we are living.

Everything is unreal. We want to get back, but we can't because we are tied to the lives with which we have become involved. Hence the use on the show of Weird, outlandish characters that couldn't possibly exist, and yet do in our minds.

A Giant Green Duck, along with a man encased in a suitcase, will walk up to Andy after he has sung one of his big ballads, and call him weird.

Captain Weird, another regular character on the "ANDY WILLIAMS SHOW", is a man who tried to get completely out of his business suit and into his true identity, but failed, and is destined to fly around the world saving people from crime, half in and half out of his pinstriped suit.

Captain Weird makes a statement, too. Here, once again, is all of us wanting to be one thing, desperate to throw off our present modes, but not wanting to go all the way.

It's oblique humor, totally unreasonable, violent, manic and insane, but doesn't that sound like what is happening all around us today?

It's a gentle message, however, as on the surface, we are just doing crazy sight gags and Marx Brothers' style slapstick. But Marx Brothers' style slapstick has never been equalled, and to my mind, there has never been a better anti-war, anti-everything movie ever made than "Duck Soup".

Andy Williams loves to be involved in the madness, and as he became more and more used to it during last season and this season, he left himself less and less time to rehearse the comedy segments so that he could react honestly to the craziness that happened around him.

We have worked out a system whereby Andy does not have to be involved in much of the actual dialogue or action of the sketches and blackouts, but rather is the focal point of them, and we get our laughs from his honest reaction to them.

We had complaints last year that we interrupted him too much when he was singing. But Andy sings more on his new series than he did on his old series, if you add all the songs he sings where we interrupt him, too. The song interruptions are important to the show, although the flack comes in from certain quarters, we also have tremendous sympathy for Andy going for us, so once again, we feel there is method in our Madness.

We try to make the show have a flow that generates a happiness through the audience in the studio, through to the people at home; and Andy's guests run through the show doing things that they have never done before in their lives.

Andy Griffith, for instance, introduced two dancing Gunny Sacks to Andy, James Garner went berserk and broke up a whole set, while Andy was singing, and Cass Elliot had a giant, Russian fir tree log dropped on her head.

Andy Williams stands amidst all this utter mayhem and chaos and sublimely sings his heart out.

We have found new audiences for Andy in this strange new time period. The kids, the little kids, love it, and Andy has hundreds of letters every week from children who are hardly old enough to lift a pencil, let alone write with it.

We find working with Andy one of the easiest jobs we've ever had. When I tell you that Allan Blye worked as producer of the "Smothers Brothers Show", and that I spent two years on the "Laugh-In", it may seem understandable, but Andy is a joy and a pleasure, and we have both grown to be very fond of him.

We are currently into taping our fifth or sixth show for this season, and things are rocking along.

I think that Andy went out on a limb, hiring two virtually untried young producers to handle a very tough assignment, but we both think that in today's television World, you have to take those chances to enable both yourself and your industry to move forward to new fields and new forms.

We both say to Mr. Andy Williams: "Thank you for having the guts and the foresight to take a step into the unknown, and for having the trust and the knowledge of giving us our heads."

Over the years and over the miles I have been asked time and time again: "Isn't it great to work with a man so relaxed and so calm?" The interrogators, of course, are always referring to Andy Williams.

To work with Andy has always been a pleasure, but not because he's relaxed or casual. Because Andy Williams is the antithesis of these appellations. Instead, he is one of the hardest working men I have ever known.

When other recording artists and many producers have accepted their work, Andy insists on perfection, or as close as he feels he can get to it. After the session is done, and the pats on the back have been passed around, Andy takes the acetate home, or takes it with him if he is leaving on a concert tour. Night after night in a quiet, often deserted room, he listens deep into the next morning. Many times he'll call from the road and say "OK, release it." More often he might call and say "The tempo is wrong," or, "My phrasing isn't quite right," or, "I think if we make this change it will be better." He never sings a song he personally doesn't like and never records a song unless he has faith in its ability to please.

This same attitude pervades everything he works on. He has confidence in the people around him. It takes him a considerable amount of time to select them but once he decides that he wants them as part of his team he then completely relies on their judgment in the area of their specialty. He often questions and sometimes hesitates, but if his associates explain the why and the necessity, he bends and accepts.

He is a businessman who delegates authority and backs up the right of his people to make their decisions. It is this kind of thinking that has given him 15 straight Gold Albums on Columbia . . . Has seen him start a successful record company, Barnaby . . . Has put him among the original owners of one of sports most successful new teams, the Phoenix Suns of the NBA . . . And, has made him the head of the outstanding golf tournament of the PGA tour, the Andy Williams San Diego Open, which according to Nielsen ratings had the largest golf audience of all time.

It is this same type of determination and business acumen that allowed him to return to television with a drastically new format, a format so novel that at first others scoffed. But, as the ratings climbed it was evident that the Andy Williams magic had worked once again.

In each facet of his career, he spends long and thoughtful hours. The first in his office every morning, the last one out each night.

clive davis on andy williams:

CLIVE J. DAVIS, PRESIDENT COLUMBIA RECORDS

A top recording artist, a major television star and a sell-out performer in concert, Andy Williams is a superb singer whose unique style has put him in the forefront of world entertainers. His unceasing popularity has never depended upon current musical trends; Andy remains at the top because of his individuality, his musical skill and, most important, his ability to select and interpret quality material. He captures the very essence of any song and makes it contemporary. The range of Andy's interpretations is enormous: no matter what he chooses to sing—be it a ballad, an old standard, or a recent chart item—the casual elegance of the Williams' approach brings off the song with absolute believability.

cashbox/album reviews

THE GLEN CAMBELL GOOD TIME ALBUM—Glen Cambell—Capitol SW493

This new LP release by Glen is more than just a good time album, it's a compilation of some of the finest songs ever written. On this package, Glen offers his hit single, "It's Only Make Believe," as well as Jimmy Webb's "MacArthur Park," Paul Simon's "Bridge Over Troubled Water," Paul Anka's "My Way," and six other impressive tunes. As always, the Glen Cambell Good Time Album should be a huge chart item.

TO BONNIE FROM DELANEY—Delaney & Bonnie & Friends—Atco SD 33-341

To Bonnie From Delaney to us come a dozen good time songs all done in that imitable D&B fashion. Their current hit single "Soul Shake" kicks off a side and the flip "Free The People" is also among the selections. But there's a whole lot more: "Lay Down My Burden" (on which Bonnie excels), "Miss Ann," featuring the piano styling of Little Richard, and "They Call It Rock & Roll Music," with a tenor sax solo by King Curtis. No strangers to the album chart, Delaney & Bonnie should renew their acquaintance with it via this superb disk.

SHILO—Neil Diamond—Bang 221

If the truth be known old tracks by stars are usually less than the package makes them out to be but in Neil Diamond's case this just isn't so. While at Bang Neil wrote some first rate, nay, stellar songs that cannot be ignored. They're all here from the haunting "Shilo" and "Kentucky Woman" to the nostalgic "Solitary Man" (which started it all) and "Girl You'll Be A Woman Soon," to the uptempo "Cherry, Cherry" and "Thank The Lord For The Night Time." When Neil Diamond retrospectives roll around this LP will be right up there with his more recent material.

HUMBLE PIE—A&M 4270

Be it ever so humble, this is the first release by one of Britain's first true supregroups (before the term became overworked). For those who are interested Humble Pie has had two albums released overseas. This one is by far the best. Excitement and victuosity are the hallmarks of the quartet. Steve Marriott (Small Faces) is possessed of a voice that is truly astounding. He sings lead on "Live With Me" which features some super organ work from Stevie and an outstanding bass line from Greg Ridley (Spooky Tooth). "Earth And Water Song" shows off Peter Frampton's (the Herd) fragile voice to good effect. Both "Only A Roach" and "Theme From Skint—See You Later Liquidator" are funny little country flavored numbers that only HP and the Stones can attack successfully. A perfect American debut.

FULL HOUSE—Fairport Convention—A&M 4265

It seemed a sad day for Fairport when lead singer Sandy Denny left to form Fotheringay but if this new release is any indication nothing could be further from the truth. A mixture of contemporary and traditional British folk music is what Fairport plays. Four out of the five group members sing which provides for great diversity. Guitarist Richard Thompson (a founding member of the group) and violinist Dave Swarbrick handle the writing chores dandily with such track as "Walk Awhile," and "Doctor of Physick." Standout track is the long "Sloth" allowing Swarbrick to get into a victuoso violin lead that can only be marveled at. A fine LP.

NANCY'S GREATEST HITS—Nancy Sinatra—Reprise—6409

This is Nancy Sinatra's greatest hits album, and very little else can be said about it. Nancy performs "These Boots Are Made For Walkin'," "Some Velvet Morning," "How Does That Grab You Darlin?," "Jackson," "Sugar Town," and "Lightning's Girl," as well as "Things," sung with Dean Martin, and "Something Stupid," with Frank Sinatra. Watch this album go all the way.

Pop Picks

THE VENTURES 10th ANNIVERSARY ALBUM—The Ventures—Liberty—LST 35000

The Ventures have recorded more than 40 albums, and with their 10th anniversary rapidly approaching, Liberty Records has given them a beautiful deluxe package for their new two record set. The album contains 23 selections all done up in the incredible Ventures fashion. Their choice of material has always made them one of the most interesting groups to listen to, and this LP is no exception. With tunes like "Never My Love," "Hey Jude," "Blowin In The Wind," "Sounds Of Silence," "Those Were The Days," and "Good Morning Starshine," the Ventures are in store for quite an anniversary celebration, as are their many fans. Special LP packaging will add to consumer enticement.

CLOSE TO YOU—Johnny Mathis—Columbia 30210

There is only one Johnny Mathis, and through the years he has emerged as one of the world's leading record sellers. "Everything Is Beautiful," "Song Of Joy," "Until It's Time For You To Go," "Yellow Days," and "The Long And Winding Road," are only a few reasons why. This new set by Johnny can only serve to keep him in the best seller category where he belongs.

SEX MACHINE—James Brown—King-KS 7-1115

James Brown, who probably has more fans than any other single performer in the business, keeps them all screaming throughout this double album release. The package contains some of James' older hits like "Give It Up Or Turn It Loose," "It's A Man's World," "Please, Please, Please," and "Mother Popcorn," as well as the title tune and "Brother Rap," parts 1 and 2. James Brown really turns it loose, and will only add to his already incredible following.

Newcomer Picks

CYNARA—Capitol ST 547

I think we've waited a long time for Cynara without even knowing it. Their first album explodes through the speakers in the same fashion that Santana's premier disk did. No guitar in the group but Michael Tschudin's churning piano serves as a welcome relief from the usual grinding lead guitars. Jeffrey Watson displays an awesome gravelly voice that is simply super. All six long tracks were written by Tschudin who's songs like "Life Stories," prove that you can be commercial and melodically complex at the same time. Most of side two is devoted to "Lullaby For CIA" which owes much to jazz structures as witness the piano solo. On the other hand "Stoned Is" follows the construction of a classical choral. A remarkable first effort of delicately textured music.

Pop Best Bets

CLIVE SARSTEDT—RCA 4375

The fact that Clive has a more famous brother in Peter seems to have affected not one whit. His songs are varied and consistently intriguing both in melodic form and lyric content. Further Clive displays an outstanding voice deepest in some of the finest arrangements since Paul Buckmaster got hold of the last batch of Elton John-Bernie Taupin songs. "God Save The Queen" is a good up tempo rocker, while "It'll Always Be Winter," uses horns and strings to excellent advantage in creating the winter atmosphere. Highlight of the set is the beautiful "Looking For Jesus" which has been happily, released as a single.

CROWFOOT—Paramount 5016

Some time back Crowfoot released a jolly 'ole single called "California Rock 'n Roll" (included here) which inexplicably never went anywhere. Ah well. Such will not be the fate of this excellent LP. It's good clean hard hitting rock that is instantly interesting and catchy. Guitarist Russell DaShiell has written, arranged and produced the set. He also plays piano and sings. The album delivers eleven bright happy cuts like "Winter Comes," "Love Is Everywhere," and "Dry Your Eyes." The album should be receiving good airplay with resulting sales in short order.

HOW TO MAKE A WHITNEY SUNDAY

Begin by emptying the contents of one Fat Plastic Mama into a large porcelain bowl. To this add enough heavy duty 1099 O.S. and a sweet mouthful of The Wind. When bubbles disappear a Drifting Man should be introduced to the mixture. A goodly amount of Our Gang should follow. The whole should then be liberally doused with One Man's Way and Snake's Problem. And served only in a Plain Brown Wrapper. The result is called Whitney Sunday on Decca Records. And is guaranteed to make your brain water and your ears wiggle.

JACK JONES IN PERSON AT THE SANDS, LAS VEGAS—Jack Jones—RCA—LSP 4413

Jack has been around for a long time, and after listening to his new album, you can understand why. This set is even more exciting because it captures all the emotion of his live performance at the Sands Hotel. Jack comes on strong, and never lets up, belting out song after song to an enthusiastic audience. "Get Together," "Spinning Wheel," "Games People Play," "Everything Is Beautiful," as well as his medley of "Lollipops And Roses," and "Wives And Lovers," make this his best album ever.

IF YOU KNEW HIM LIKE I DO—Barbara Mason—National General NG2001

This LP finds Barbara weaving in and out of some of the great classics. Rod McKuen's "Jean," Paul Simon's "Bridge Over Troubled Water," Neil Sadaka's "Breaking Up Is Hard To Do," the Beatles' "Let It Be," and the Bacharach. David tune, "Raindrops Keep Fallin' On My Head." The remaining six selections are in equally good taste.

DEWEY MARTIN AND MEDICINE BALL—Uni-73088

With the release of this album, another chapter of the great Buffalo Springfield mystery comes to an end. Dewey Martin, former drummer with the Springfield, now has his own band called Medicine Ball, and his first album. Martin, who mixed and produced the entire LP, wrote only one track for it, with another written by the last of the Springfield, Bruce Palmer. "Indian Child," "Recital Palmer," and "Change," should be getting most of the spins.

RIGHT ON BE FREE—Voices Of East Harlem—Elektra—EKS 74080

Listen to the Voices Of East Harlem and reflect with them for a moment. They are singing about themselves and their people. They are sincere and to the point. This is their first album release for Elektra, the first of many to come. The selections are mostly gospel treatments of songs that we're already familiar with. "Simple Song Of Freedom," "Shaker Life," "Proud Mary," "For What It's Worth," and six other nostalgic tunes. This LP should be making a lot of noise.

I DON'T BELIEVE IN IF ANY MORE—Roger Whittaker—RCA LSP 4405

If you remember "New World In The Morning," then Roger Whittaker is no stranger. If you don't, then this album will introduce to you one of the finest song writers around. This new LP contains a dozen tracks all written and beautifully sung by Roger, himself. Apart from the fine quality of the songs themselves, the arrangements should catch your attention. "I Should Have Taken My Time," "Emily," "Sugar My Tea," and "Halfway Up A Mountain" are among the more interesting cuts.

WHAT ARE YOU DOING THE REST OF YOUR LIFE—Jaye P. Morgan—Beverly Hills 24

With this new album, Jaye P. Morgan offers one of the finest easy listening albums yet. The LP is filled with beautifully melodic tunes that should have you singing along. "Applause," "Just You, Just Me," "Billy Sunshine," "Do You Really Have A Heart," and the title tune make for a very refreshing package that will no doubt please her many fans.

DEBUT — The Neighborhood — Big Tree 2001

Unlike most neighborhoods, this one makes music. This, their debut album is coincidentally entitled "Debut," and it's filled with soft, pleasant, easy to handle tunes. The LP contains some of the most widely recorded songs such as Laura Nyro's "Eli's Coming," "Flesh Failure," "MacArthur Park," and "The Sounds Of Silence." Also included in the package is the groups big hit single, "Big Yellow Taxi." Should the album find its way into your neighborhood, give a listen.

EVERYBODY SAW YOU—Ruby Andrews—Zodiac ZS 1001

Ruby Andrews puts it all together with this new package of 11 songs. Although the title tune really steals the show, "Help Yourself Lover," "You Made A Believer Out Of Me," "Can You Get Away," and "Tit For Tat," are all equally impressive. The fine combination of Ruby's voice and funky instrumental accompaniment should make this an album to remember.

SONGS FROM SESAME STREET—Golden Records—LP 256

Recording songs from Sesame Street seems to be the thing to do, and since the kiddies love it, why stop now! Here's a brand new package of kindergarten nursery hits including "One Two, Buckle My Shoe," "London Bridge," "Sing A Song Of Sixpence," "Pop Goes The Weasel," "Hickory Dickory Dock," and many others including the pop chart single, "Rubber Duckie." This LP is only one in a line that also includes "Time To Tell Time," "The ABC Record," "More Wizard Of Oz," and an entire catalog of childrens recordings.

ROBERT JOHNSON-KING OF THE DELTA BLUES SINGERS VOLUME II—Columbia C 30034

Columbia has been releasing some extremely interesting blues collections of late and this is one of the best. Many contemporary rock singers and guitarists admit to being influenced by Robert Johnson. So this album, which includes 16 songs by the legendary master of rural delta blues, takes on special significance. The sound is surprisingly good, though some of the selections were actually recorded in a San Antonio hotel room. Among the highlights: Johnson's work on "Love In Vain," recorded thirty years prior to the Stones' version. This is an important album release.

Jazz Picks

PTAH THE EL DAOUD—Alice Coltrane—Impulse AS—9196

This is Alice Coltrane's first album with horns and for the occasion she chose a couple of particularly brilliant saxophonists, Pharoah Sanders and Joe Henderson. Result: an album of exceptional sounds. Alice herself has gained a solid reputation as a pianist and harp player and she can only enhance it with this offering. All compositions on the set are hers and her spirit is clearly evident on each track. One to watch.

FOR LOSERS—Archie Shepp—Impulse AS-9188

Tenor and soprano sax player Archie Shepp turns to the subject of losers and turns up with an impressive album. The artist has surrounded himself with some particularly fine sidemen, including James Spaulding and Cecil Payne. Leon Thomas and Doris Troy show up with some vocals too. "Un Croque Monsieur (Poem For Losers)" is an exciting new Shepp original and, for fans of the standards, there's the Ellington opus "I Got It Bad (And That Ain't Good)" First rate jazz entry.

NEW YORK—INTO THE FILMUSIC FRONTIER

Two and a half years ago at the tender ages of, respectively, 23 and 24 Christopher Dewey and Dennis Friedlander made their first film, "Love Rebellion," for the humble sum of $35,000. The film, showed a substantial profit. Now nineteen films and several millions of dollars later Chris is president of Cannon Films and Dennis is Chairman of the Board of Cannon.

Cannon has never lost money on a film; neither have they broken even. Which leaves just one possibility: profits. Along the way has been "Inga," the Israeli multiple award winner "The Dreamer," and most recently Cannon's monumental success, "Joe," which has won both unanimous critic and consumer raves.

Sitting in the cool of a fashionable restaurant with Peter Kauff, President of the Cannon Music Group, which comprises, at the moment, two publishing companies, a hit LP in the soundtrack to "Joe" and four singles from the likes of Jerry Butler and Exuma. "'Joe' was made for $300,000 including our ad campaign," said Pete. "It was shot in Technicolor and Cinemascope with a union crew but we used no sets, we never have, and no studios. Everything was location shooting in New York City. When the script called for a scene in a millionaire's office we went out and found one and used it. As a result the scene is more real than if we had shot it on a set put together by a designer.

"But 'Joe' is more important to us than just in terms of the immense profits the company will see from it. It's a kind of a landmark for us; the beginning of an amalgam between the film and music industries that we have been working for: a total integration of today's music within the cinematic context. The large studios like Warner Bros. don't think to ask their own record execs like Mo Ostin or Jerry Wexler to coordinate or at least collaborate with them on the soundtracks for their films. Instead they go outside their companies to get the 'tracks' when they could so much more easily take advantage of the producers and contemporary artists within the company."

Utilizing the rock industry by incorporating it into the film world is a major aim of Cannon's. "We're interested in rock artists to write the scores for our films," continued Pete. "But that's exactly what they would be; we don't want groups performing the music in the films. We're also looking for pop people to use in our films as actors. Like "Jump," which will begin shooting in January and will be starring a rock singer."

Cannon's record ties at the moment are with Mercury for the "Joe" track. "They've been great," enthused Pete. "They've set up 14 screenings nationwide for the film to show to dj's and are in the process doing the same thing worldwide. Each company is involved with the merchandising of both the film and the album. For example film adverts mention the 'track and vice versa."

As a measure of how well both "Joe" and Cannon are doing. MGM and 20th-Fox recently tried to buy the film and when that failed MGM tried to buy Cannon itself. Through all of this, the company has maintained its poise and individuality. Success has definitely not gone to their heads. Future productions will maintain the moderate or low budget (depending on your point of view) that has served Cannon admirably in the past. "Jump," "Mary Magdalene," and "Genius," films all scheduled to begin shooting within the next several months will have budgets under $500,000.

Among the foundering outdated leviathans of the film industry, Cannon's friendly, forward looking outlook should serve as a beacon and haven for young talent from both the cinema and music fields who have something to say. Seems to me four British superstars once had the same idea. . .

HOLLYWOOD—SING FOR YOUR SUPPER (AND YOU'LL GET BREAKFAST)

A couple of years back we did a little research on America's most affluent purveyors of pop and, in the process, came up with some significant uncoveries. Legend has it that world's champ is Tacoma, Washington groaner Harry Lillis Crosby who started his career in '24 singing with a dance band in L.A. By the time he had introduced the blue of the night to the gold of the day he was into his second million—long before the big tax bite era.

There is, of course, Doris Day who was just recently approached by the Internal Revenue Dept. for some $400,000 in back taxes—more than most of us make in a lifetime. Day started with the Les Brown band and graduated to flicks as Jack Carson's heartthrob. Her TV series was a near fiasco last year and a top ten Pulse rated item in '70. It's safe to conclude that there won't be any benefits for Day, despite her impending loss the 400 thou. Doris doesn't visit recording studios these days and Crosby cuts only occasionally.

More recent and involved single pop acts, Sinatra, Presley and Alpert, are acknowledged sultans of shellac, phono-pharaohs, titans of the turntable. Sinatra, despite his protestations about L.A. smog, still resides in our town. But also keeps a suite at the Waldorf Towers and another abode in Palm Springs. His 5 million buck jet, we hear, has been able to span the states in four hours and twelve minutes. A couple of years back he sold most of his interests in the Warner Bros. lot for 20 million plus. Alpert takes home a healthy 50% of A&M's net and the firm presently has more chart records than any label excepting Columbia. Presley, who along with a guy named Nixon, shares the title "come-back kid of the 60's", has made about 35 successful flicks since his Sun days in Memphis (and has undoubtedly been responsible for the sale of more records than any single artist in record history) but keeps his holdings a guarded secret.

Still another dynasty is underway here, less flamboyant perhaps. But imposing. It belongs to an Iowa born and bred sweet-hazy-toned Columbia artist who is currently celebrating his 16th straight gold album. No other single act comes close in this dept. He is 1—a TV personality 2—a music pub. 3—president of a record label 4—a major concert attraction 5—president of a TV production firm 6—a major stockholder in a basketball team 7—with a portfolio of investments

ELECTRIC LADY: A MILLION DOLLAR WOMAN

These days, recording is more than just a means of employment, it is a way of life. No longer do recording artists spend a few hours in the studio. Now, they spend days, months, and sometimes even years in an effort to produce a musical masterpiece that will astound the members of the industry and delight audiences all over the world.

What determines how long an artist will remain in the studio depends on many factors: the complexity of his material, the availability of studio facilities, engineers, producers, and dozens of outside influences which can serve to help or hinder the session.

The artists primary concern though, is the studio itself. The size, the number of tracks, the compatibility of its staff members, are all taken into consideration even before studio time is booked.

Electric Lady has it all, from psychedelic rest rooms with pay phones, to a multi colored lighting system capable of creating almost any musical mood at a moments notice. Wall to wall carpeting, air conditioning, closed circuit tv for studio use, a work shop, three dimensional mirrors for the freaks,—you name it, Electric Lady has it, and if they don't, it's in the process of being built.

Electric Lady is run by chief engineer Ed Kramer, and a staff of four other engineers who have been working an average of 20 hours a day since The Lady opened her arms to the public a few weeks ago. Although the studio is understaffed, Kramer prefers to hire only those engineers who demonstrate an in depth knowledge of a musical instrument. This does not imply that an excellent engineer will be turned away! Kramer is concerned about his staff, and feels that this added requirement will help the engineer as well as the artist.

The estimated cost of Electric Lady: one million dollars, and they're still building. When it's complete, Electric Lady will be one of the most advanced and most comfortable studios in the world. What a woman!

WEEK'S HAPPIEST ANNOUNCEMENT

It's no secret that relations between Bill Graham's Fillmore East and the press (including, of course, the trades) have been at times rather rocky. The worst part was that nobody seemed to know what to do about it. Well all that's in the past because Pat Luce (formerly with Gifford-Wallace) has been appointed head of publicity operations for the rock haven. A better head they couldn't have found. The one ray of hope and sanity in our often confusing dealings with the Fillmore has been Pat. But since, at the time, she was once removed from the scene of the crime, there were many times when the most she could do was say, "I'm sorry." We are vastly happy for Pat, proud of her success, and are now secure in the fact that things will now be better for all of us. It's a brighter day tomorrow.

2,716½ PERFORMANCES FOR THE 'LADY':

"Hello, Dolly!" is the new champ of musical comedy in terms of its run on Broadway. The show, of course, has missed many performances and amassed a number of leading "Dolly's." It's thought that the dethroned champ, "My Fair Lady," never missed a performance in its so-called 2,717 Broadway performances (against "Dolly's 2,718 plus). That's not completely true. We attended a performance of "MFL" a few months after it opened in 1956. Before the overture, the stage manager or some other fellow came on stage to inform the audience that Tom Helmore, Rex Harrison's "standby" (not "understudy," a lowlier designation for a replacement performer on Broadway) would perform for an ailing Harrison. This didn't exactly excite the patrons of the "musical of the century" and its "musical star of the century." The proceedings started, but to the dismay of someone who had known the score by this time, Helmore did not sing the opening number, "Why Can't the English?," for it soon became evident that Mr. Helmore was suffering from a case of sore throat. Later on, Julie Andrews, just returned to the show from her own bout with laryngitis, began to sing "Show Me," but her voice cracked in the upper registers. The audience, too, began to crack with a series of moans. It was all too much for management, too. The show was stopped and didn't go on for that evening. So, chalk up 2,716½ performances for "MFL," and ever-onward for "Dolly."

SHORT TAKES—Second American tour of Humble Pie has been announced. The group, recently signed with A&M, is to kick off Stateside proceedings with gig at Detroit's Eastown Theatre, Sept. 18-19, followed by appearance at the Boston Tea Party Sept. 25-27. Label will release an album to coincide with the tour . . . Dick Jensen has been named the replacement host for Johnny Cash next summer on ABC-TV . . . Eric Clapton's latest group, known as Derek And The Dominos, will begin a 24 day U.S. tour Oct. 15 at Rider College in Trenton, N.J., with other appearances set for Philadelphia (16, 17), Syracuse (18) and Boston (22). The group also includes Carl Radle, Jim Gordon and Bobby Whitlock. Rounding out the bill for the tour will be Rare Earth's ToeFat.

The British rock film "Supershow" will be shown Sept. 17, 18, 19 at Hunter College Assembly Hall in N.Y.C. There will be two screenings each night, at 7 an 9:30 p.m. Featured in the 93 minute color film are Led Zeppelin, Buddy Miles, Steve Stills, Eric Clapton, Colosseum, the MJQ, Jack Bruce, among many . . . Judy Carne makes her world night club debut Sept. 17-30 at Caesars Palace in Las Vegas, appearing on bill with Milton Berle . . . Leon Thomas to appear at Town Hall Oct. 5 . . . The Waldorf-Astoria has named Ted Simons to conduct the new Empire Room Orchestra for the coming season . . . Columbia's Eloise Laws will make her Vegas debut at Caesars Palace for three weeks beginning Oct. 29.

Illustration, the 11 member rock band, has been held over at the Downbeat Supper Club through Oct. 1. The Alan Lorber group has recently been getting national tv coverage via taped segments over CBS . . . Cotillion's Mylon embark on their first national tour this week with appearances scheduled for the Boston Tea Party (14, 15, 16); Eastown Theatre, Detroit (18, 19); Buffalo, N.Y. (23); Rochester (24); Colgate Univ. (25) and Central Connecticut College (27) . . . Nell Carter will be appearing at The Apartment for two weeks beginning Sept. 14 . . . Shirley Bassey will be in NYC for a two week stint at the Waldorf-Astoria, commencing Oct. 12.

in orange groves, oil wells, shopping centers, apartment houses and horse breeding farms. He even leases post offices to the U.S. government. And, a couple of years back, got around to having his own PGA golf tournament. Last year it netted $160,000. all going to the Salk Institute in La Jolla. Close to 2,000,000 saw him in concert in '68. He broke records at Expo 70, was a sellout at Caesar's Palace and topped even Tom Jones take at the Latin Casino in Camden, N.J. this year. About fifty million will be watching his inaugural fall television show this weekend, his tenth year as a TV host. The show is occasionally as corny as Kansas in August. But has a rating as high as a flag on the fourth of July. In case you haven't already guessed, he's on the cover of this mag this week. And the subject of a special written for us (in this very issue) by John C. Mahoney who 1—is a fine writer 2—with a beard and 3—is probably Irish. Mahoney is one of the foremost authorities on the silver screen, the other three being Charles Champlin, Pauline Kael and Lester M. Davis. Not too many know of Davis, a guy who is acquainted (personally) with most of the character actors and bit players from the early thirties to the present. Which means that Davis wasn't Franklin Pang-born yesterday. Davis is now retired, living in the Bronx. But he's been known to sit up nightly, watching late late shows and Mischa for Aiers.

For more on Andrew Williams and less on Lester Davis, we suggest you peruse our special section on the "Legend as a Current Event."

MADE FOR YOU AND ME—"A musical tribute to Woody Guthrie" is a poignant epitaph for America's minstrel who songs and writing have carried a universal understanding of land and man throughout the world. This past weekend at the Hollywood Bowl, the heirs to Guthrie's unique legacy celebrated his musical contributions in a special program which played and SRO engagement at Carnegie Hall in the spring. Performers included: Joan Baez, Jack Elliott, Arlo Guthrie, Ritchie Havens, Country Joe McDonald, Odetta, Earl Robinson and Pete Seeger. The show was produced by Sight and Sound and Harold Leventhal and staged by Millard Lampell.

Narrated by Henry Fonda and Will Geer, the tribute was sponsored by KRLA and the Committee to Combat Huntington's Disease, the incurable genetic disorder that ended Guthrie's life in '67, after 13 years of suffering. Flying in from all over the country, the artists donated their enormous combined talents to help the foundation founded by Guthrie's widow. It is hoped that a research center at one of the major medical facilities in Calif. will be a result of these tributes. The center, when formed, will delve into the mysteries of all genetic diseases, which number 2000 and claim an estimated 25% of all hospital beds in institutions for the handicapped throughout our land.

BRIEFS—Chicago moves to L.A. this week—playing the Hollywood Bowl on the 18th. Group is currently cutting their 3rd LP for Columbia . . . Epic's Johnny Otis Show will be featured (Sept. 19) at the Monterey Jazz Festival . . . and Donovan (same label) appears at the Anaheim Convention Center, same date . . . The gold record of "I Left My Heart in San Francisco" was presented to Tony Bennett by S.F. Mayor Joseph Alioto—as of Aug., 1970 the LP titled after the song had passed the one million mark . . . Seals and Crofts signed for a one week engagement at the Ash Grove here, starting Sept. 22—T.A. planning to release their 2nd album at that time . . . George Morris, director of national promo for Hot Wax, was married late last month to Barbara Jones, non-pro, in Jamaica, N.Y. . . . Al Friedman, long time song plugger (and one of the best) has moved to Palm Springs, Calif. . . . Mark Leonard, former co-star of ABC-TV's "Here Come The Brides," while making his motion picture debut in "Noon Sunday" for Crown International, has formed an "All Nations" rock group. Musicians are from Hong Kong, Tokyo, Hawaii, Thailand, Vietnam and Guam. Leonard plans to bring the group to L.A. later this month . . . Freda Payne, whose Invictus "Band of Gold" single was a gold record, signed by producers Nick Vanoff and Bill Harbach for a guest shot on the Don Knotts Show—it'll be seen Oct. 24 . . . Ann Stinson, formerly with Metromedia Records, has joined Motown and will be the label's tape librarian at their west coast studio . . . Bobby Darin will be starred in a one hour Winters-Rosen TV special ("The Darin Invasion"), taping next month in Canada. Darin currently is headlining at the Landmark Hotel in Vegas . . . Mary Travers (of Peter, Paul and . . .) signed to guest on Rod McKuen's currently lensing series of specials for the BBC, "The Two of US and Friends." The occasion marks a rare appearance of Travers as a single . . . Sonny Charles checks into A&M Records this week to discuss his forthcoming LP "Sonny Charles—Gets It Together." . . . Bill Cosby and Quincy Jones are talking TV musical specials—one could come off by the end of the year. Jones scores Cosby's weekly teleseries.

CHICAGO—A new club, Elysian Fields, opens its doors on September 25, under the management of Joe Gino. Located at the former site of the Stages on N. Kedzie, the club's attractions will include underground films, a games room equipped with a full lineup of amusement machines, a house palm reader-astrologer, a room with fireplace where folk artists will perform and facilities for food service. The entertainment format in the club's main showroom will focus largely on local talent . . . Engelbert Humperdinck, who completely captivated this town during his recent 4-concert series in the Auditorium Theater, is coming back in November—and for a longer stay! Eng is scheduled for Mill Run Theater Nov. 3-8. His latest, soon to be released single on Parrot is tagged "Sweetheart"! . . . The new season's show schedule in the Empire Room was resumed on September 11 with Jack Jones headlining for two weeks . . . London Midwest's Erwin Barg boasts the hottest hit lineup in town—topped by Tom Jones' "I Who Have Nothing", The Poppy Family's "That's Where I Went Wrong", "Rainbow" by Marmalade, "Where Are You Going To My Love" by the Brotherhood of Man and "Lovin' You Baby" by White Plains—to name a few! . . . Chi group Mason Proffit are back in town after a series of very successful dates in California (Whiskey, Troubador and Filmore West). They'll be doing some club work in this neck of the woods before heading East where they have a string of commitments through November, including a 10/30-31 stint in the Filmore. The "Mason Proffit" LP, meanwhile, has been doing quite well in Chicago and is reportedly starting to catch on elsewhere as a result of the group's national exposure . . . Liberty-UA's branch manager Bob Golinski says the Sugar Loaf single "Green Eyed Lady" is developing into a big item hereabouts . . . Ralph Ebler, formerly with RCA, has joined Capitol's local office and will be handling the label's mainline product promotion in the Chicago and Milwaukee markets . . . The Ides of March have a new single ready for release by Warner Bros. Title is "Melody".

Accounting Expert to Address NARM

PHILADELPHIA — One of the business sessions at the 1970 NARM Tape Convention, to be held in Dallas Sept. 20-23, will be devoted to the topic "Is There A Profitability Gap?" The highlight of the dinner-meeting, to be held Monday evening, Sept. 21, will be a speech by David Boyd Chase, chairman of the executive committee and a partner in the international accounting firm of J. K. Lasser & Company.

Chase is an outstanding authority in the field of accounting and taxation. A frequent lecturer before professional business and college groups, he teaches at New York University, has co-authored a number of books dealing with federal taxation and is a member of the President's Council for the School of Continuing Education at NYU.

In addition to his accounting credentials, he is a member of the New York and New Jersey Bars and a member of the National Panel of Arbitrators of the American Arbitration Assn.

After the Chase presentation, a panel of industry members will participate in a question and answer session, relating current economic problems to the recorded music industry. Emphasis will be placed on proper financial management to combat these problems.

Participating on the panel will be

Sunset Fall Tapes Out

LOS ANGELES — The new Sunset stereo-tape release for fall was announced today by Earl Horowitz, general manager for Liberty/UA stereo tape. The twelve packages comprise the largest program ever instituted by the label, with emphasis on major artists, and the introduction of newly-designed four color labels.

Among the artists represented in the Sunset promotion are Bobby Goldsboro, Vikki Carr, Johnny Rivers, Ike and Tina Turner, Jay and The Americans and Little Anthony and The Imperials. Al Caiola, Jerry Wallace, the Johnny Mann Singers and Lee Morgan, plus compilations of "Country Gold" and "Rock Lives" round out the Sunset dozen.

The label is conducting its heaviest exploitation campaign ever to back up the fall release. It includes a direct mailing concentration to 365 principals of leading home and automotive stores in the United States, major discount department stores and home and auto wholesalers.

Philips Holds Open House

MONTVALE, N. J.—Philips Broadcast Equipment Corp. held an open house here last Thursday for the audio and recording industry, displaying the complete Philips audio product line as well as a number of products in the experimental stage.

Guided tours of the new Montvale engineering and manufacturing facilities were conducted and a Philips "Pro 12" stereo tape recorder and a Norelco "pocket memo" were awarded as door prizes.

Five Labels Join ITA Executive Committee

NEW YORK — Atlantic, Elektra, Polydor, Scepter and Starday-King are now members of the International Tape Association executive committee, according to Larry Finley, ITA executive director. They join 10 other companies in other areas of the tape industry who are members of the Committee, to help guide the activities of the Association.

Those appointed are Bob Kornheiser, vice-president, tape sales of Atlantic Records; Mel Posner, national sales manager for Elektra Records; Jerry Schoenbaum, president of Polydor Inc; Jerry Geller, vice-president Tape Division of Scepter Records and Hal Neeley, president of Starday-King Records.

Representation on the committee for the video cassette/cartridge field includes Don Ross, president of Transcommunications Inc., whose holdings includes Eastern Video Productions and Manchester Color Labs; and Irving Stimler, president of Optics Libraries, who hold home video rights to over 3,000 full length features and 5,000 short subjects.

Stereo Magic Intro's Recorder for 8-Track

MINE HILL, N. J. — The Stereo Magic Division of Eastern Specialties Corp. announces the introduction of an advanced design home tape recorder for 8 Track Cartridges. The "RP-1000ST" tape recorder is a deck designed to be played through any existing amplifier or receiver having an input jack for tape recorders. When not being used as a recorder, it can be used as a playback deck to listen back to any 8 track cartridges.

STEREO MAGIC 'RP-1000ST'

A feature of the "RP-1000ST" is the dual controls for recording each channel individually. This permits recording a song on one channel and dubbing in or singing along on the other channel.

The "auto stop" feature allows professional quality duplicating, since one can program the recorder to stop at the end of each channel or at the end of any particular channel by means of the sets' built-in logic circuits. The frequency response of the "RP-1000ST" is 30 to 10,000 Hz., which is equal to professionally duplicated tapes.

CMA Plans Tape Sessions

NASHVILLE — Ralph Emery, chairman of a special CMA committee has announced that plans are completed for the interview and taping session between artists and deejays at the annual convention this October. Working closely with E. W. "Bud" Wendell, manager of the Grand Ole Opry, a bigger and better session is planned featuring three minute tape limits per interview and an expanded list of artists.

The session will be in a meeting room on the lower level of the auditorium at 9:A.M. October 16 as the first item on the Friday agenda.

As planned, the meetings will be open to country music DJ's only. The interviews are between the deejays and the artists only with no outsiders permitted. Station managers should write the Grand Ole Opry verifying the D.J.'s status and that he plans to participate. It is intended that the committee will be able to certify that the working deejay is indeed bonafide and that he will be on hand.

Johnny Cash Sets Fall TV Lineup

HOLLYWOOD — Liza Minnelli, Dennis Hopper, Ray Charles, Jose Feliciano and Arlo Guthrie are just a few of the name guest stars who will appear on Screen Gems' musical-variety series, "The Johnny Cash Show," when it returns for its second season on ABC-TV beginning Wednesday, September 23 (9-10 p. m. EST-EDT). The hour show will again be taped each week at Nashville's Grand Ole Opry House.

Among other guests already signed to appear during the 1970-71 season are Nel Diamond, Patti Page, George Lindsey, Joni Mitchell, Joe South, George Gobel, Linda Ronstadt, Marty Robbins, Kenny Rogers and the First Edition and Mac Davis.

Regulars Carl Perkins, The Tennessee Three, the Carter Family and the Statler Brothers, all of whom make up "The Family," will also return this fall.

Philly Plans Anderson Day

NASHVILLE — September 14 has been set as Bill Anderson Day in Philadelphia. Radio stations WRCP of Philadelphia and WEEZ of Chester will program Anderson material along with a Decca sponsored reception set up by the distributor. Anderson, whose current chart action hit with Jan Howard is "Someday We'll Be Together" will have a new single release on September 21 titled "Where Have All Our Heros Gone." The tune, written by Anderson will be a recitation.

SKYLIGHT TALENT HITS HIGH NOTES—Five of the big names in gospel music relax after signing papers this past weekend to form the new Skylite-Sing Talent Agency, at 1516 Hawkins Street, Music Row. They are from left, Lloyd Orrell, Mrs. Lou Wills Hildreth, W. B. Nowlin, J. G. Whitfield, and Joel Gentry.

Thayer, Bruce Plan Giant C&W Salute

MEMPHIS—The broadcasting industry's newest production company, Thayer Bruce Together, Incorporated is making available one of radio's most ambitious musical production of important historic significance. The History of Country Music will be a 36 hour, concise, sequential chronology of The History Of Country Music.

The History of Country Music is predominantly a musical. The word pictures, which tie the important recordings together in sequence, is provided by the members of the country music industry, alive and deceased, who have participated in the ultimate growth of the form. The narrator and writer, Hugh Cherry, does, in brief, concise statements tie the sequence of the production together, drawing upon his professional and academic experiences. The scope of the production ranges from the historic beginnings of the form to projections of its future as a continuing musical influence of world wide importance.

The production was conceived by Stan Jacobson, producer of the Johnny Cash Show, researched and outlined by Les Pouliot, chief writer for the Johnny Cash Show, and is being written and narrated by Hugh Cherry, one of country music's outstanding authorities.

The History Of Country Music has been produced by Don Bruce, who is one of broadcasting's most inventive producers. A former radio announcer and station manager, Bruce was also national program director of one of the first radio syndication companies established in this country. He actively participated in the production of the Dick Clark Show for several years before joining Pepper-Tanner, where he was named executive producer of production. Prior to establishing Thayer Bruce, Together, Inc., he was vice president of Pepper-Tanner.

John Thayer, president of the new company, was associated with Pepper-Tanner for five years as National Sales Manager. Prior to his association with Pepper-Tanner, Thayer was operations manager of the Mel Blanc Studios in Hollywood, and was instrumental in developing a line of radio syndication products for the firm. Thayer was instrumental in pushing the sales record of Pepper-Tanner to an all-time high.

The History Of Country Music is a musical and word picture of this nation's last half century, and yet, it is as contemporary as the Creedence Clearwater Revival. Its two hundred and fifty voice inserts and more than eight hundred musical selections tell why the form has influenced such diverse artists as Bob Dylan, Dean Martin and Bobbie Gentry.

Presented in entertainment documentary form, The History Of Country Music includes interviews with artists long since dead, along with the observations about country music from its most important contemporary purveyors.

The show has humor and pathos, compelling stories and music. It explains why and how country music has grown in stature and international popularity, until it has become the most important root of Americana.

The voices of Country Music's pioneers are included: John Laird, Art Satherly, Gid Tanner, Gene Autry, and Bob Wills are just a few of the old-timers who will be telling their own stories. Ernest Tubb, Red Foley, Peeewe King and Roy Acuff tell of country music's "Golden Years". Bill Anderson, Tammy Wynette, George Jones, Khris Kristoffersen and Bobby Bare provide candid observations about their own careers, the "now" of country music and its future.

The History Of Country Music provides glimpses of Tennessee Ernie Ford as a Country Music DJ, just after World War II; Merle Haggard telling of his time in prison, all the way from the California Juvenile Authority to San Quentin. Johnny Cash relates the informal manner in which the famed Tennessee Three were formed and how he wrote many of his songs.

The History Of Country Music is one of syndicated radio's most ambitious undertakings. Its presentation will delight country music fans all over the world.

Mercury Inks Statler Bros.

CHICAGO — Mercury Records has signed the Statler Brothers to an exclusive recording contract.

The Statler Brothers who are huge hit "Flowers on the Wall," most recently were with Columbia Records. They have just begun recording in Nashville under the direction of Jerry Kennedy.

The Statler Brothers who are managed by Saul Holiff of London, Ontario, appear with Johnny Cash at all of his personal appearances and work on their own as well. In addition, they will be returning to network TV this fall as regulars on Cash's ABC hour-long show.

The group which got its start in 1962, consists of brothers Harold and Don Reid, Lew DeWitt and Phil Balsey. They all make their home in Virginia.

Seminar Set For October

NASHVILLE — The Second International Seminar sponsored by the Country Music Association will be held during the 45th birthday celebration of WSM's Grand Ole Opry and the CMA convention in Nashville, October 15-17. The chairman for the 1970 Seminar is Richard L. Broderick, MCA, Inc.

It will feature a panel of local and foreign representatives who will discuss the growth pattern and the many facets of Country Music overseas. Tentative plans include appearances by artists from England, Holland, Japan, and other nations.

Last year over 100 people attended the Seminar, and it is anticipated that this year the event will draw over 200 with the British Country Music Association bringing in a group of approximately 185. The slate of panelists for the meeting will be announced in the next few weeks.

PAYING THE PRICE—Columbia Records' star, Ray Price's current national tour has covered 10 cities in two weeks to date and is SRO across the country, according to Price's manager, Bill Starnes.

Starnes reports that overflow crowds at their most recent booking in Independence, Mo., attracted so large a crowd to the high school football stadium for the afternoon appearance, that the 4,500 seat facility was filled to capacity, with 2,000 more sitting on the grass. However, despite overflow seating arrangements, the sponsoring organization, the Independence Fraternal Order of Policemen, was forced to schedule a second performance for 8 p.m. that evening which was also filled to capacity with several hundred additional spectators on the grass.

Music City Sets Giant Golf Classic

NASHVILLE — The Music City Pro-Celebrity Golf Invitational Tournament will tee-off at Harpeth Hills Municipal golf course in Nashville on October 10. The sixth annual two-day, 36 hole best-ball "Fun" tournament will have 35 four-man teams; one pro, one country music star, one entertainment or sports celebrity, and one Tennessee Country Gentleman host.

The sponsors of the tournament consist of the Country Music Association, The Nashville Area Junior Chamber of Commerce, and The Nashville Tennessean newspaper. Harold Hitt, president of the CMA, is chairman of the board of directors. The Association of The Tennessee Country Gentleman, a group of 25 business and industry leaders will lend financial stability to the tournament.

Latest acceptances from country music celebrities include Archie Campbell, Norm Cash, Bobby Goldsboro, Grady Martin, Jimmy Newman, Charley Pride, Mel Tillis, Bill Walker, Charlie Walker, Lester Wilburn, and Faron Young.

Haggard Leads CMA Balloting

HOLLYWOOD — With almost twice the number of nominations as his nearest competitor, Merle Haggard emerged as the principle contender for the 1970 CMA awards honors. Haggard has been nominated in 11 categories including Entertainer of the Year, Male Vocalist of the Year, Single Record of the Year, Album of the Year, and Vocal Duo of the Year with Bonnie Owens. Haggard's band, The Strangers, were also nominated for Instrumental Group of the Year.

Winners will be announced during the Oct. convention to be held in Nashville.

CashBox Country Roundup

Crystal Gayle says, "Do not misuse friendship, it can never be replaced" . . . Sandwiched into an already busy schedule for Bill Anderson are TV appearances on the Mike Douglas Show Sept. 14 and the David Frost Show Sept. 16 . . . Arthur Prysock opened at King of the Road in Music City for a two-week engagement beginning September 7. In addition to his three nightly shows he will be recording at the Starday-King studios on Dickerson Road . . . The list of celebrities coming to the Music City U.S.A. Pro-Celebrity Golf Tournament continues to grow this week, as Dale Robertson notified golf headquarters that he would be back again this year for the two-day tournament October 10-11. Robertson joins such celebrities as Governor Bufford Ellington, Tennessee Ernie Ford, Glen Campbell, Charley Pride, Faron Young, Charlie Walker, Mel Tillis, Charlie Boswell, Bobby Goldsboro, Archie Campbell, Porter Wagoner, Floyd Cramer, Jimmy Newman, Grady Martin, Bill Walker, Norman Cash, and Lester Wilburn . . . Bill Lowery, one of the nation's leading BMI publishers, has signed an agreement with the newly formed firm of Gary Walker and Associates for Nashville representation. Gary Walker, a long time Lowery associate, has opened an independent agency to represent a limited number of music publishers in Nashville. He will also represent the Lowery catalogs in the nearby recording cities of Memphis and Muscle Shoals, Alabama . . . Barbara Mandrell and David Houston have a new release on Epic Records titled "After Closing Time." Barbara will have a single follow-up to her recent "Playing Around With Love" within the next two weeks . . . Jack Music assistant professional manager, Ralph Paul, will take on some extra D. J. time the week of Sept. 13. Ralph will fill in for Bob Jennings on his morning Country Music Show over WLAC Radio. Ralph is regularly heard on his own show Saturday and Sunday on the 50,000 watt Nashville station . . . Jimmy Riddle, the original "Eeeph" man has a new single on Decca titled "Yakety Eeeph." Penned by Spider Rich and Boots Randolph, the tune was originally recorded by Boots as "Yakety Sax" and then by Chet Atkins as "Yakety Axe" . . . The Country Music Association has an accident insurance policy, and a hospital group insurance plan which are greatly needed by the entertainer who cannot obtain group coverage under any other group plan, and would have to pay large premiums to otherwise receive this coverage . . . SESAC hosted the first kick-off meeting for the official hostesses of the 5th Music City Pro-Celebrity Golf Tournament to be held in October . . . When Barbara Mandrell and her Band played a ten-day engagement recently at the Illinois State Fair in Springfield, Illinois, Keith McMillan and Captain Hicks of the Springfield Fire Department presented Barbara with a badge making her an "Honorary Fireman" . . . Faron Young is a very busy man in the month of September. He opened September 9 for Marlin Payne in Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, and continues on into Canada for the following week, joining the "Bakersfield Flash," Buck Owens, on September 18 at the Queen Elizabeth Theatre in Vancouver, British Columbia, to start a tour for Jack Roberts. Faron ends up the month on Sunday the 27th entertaining the inmates at Angola State Prison in his home state of Louisiana . . . In 1961, the CMA promoted a "Pulse Survey" of radio stations programming C&W music, and made evident to advertisers, radio stations, etc. the fact that people do want to hear country music and that it is indeed commercial. In 1961, 81 radio stations were full time country music stations. In 1965, that number grew to 250, and as of July 1970, the number had grown to 650 full time country music stations . . . The music city pro-celebrity golf tournament will be highlighted by receptions, barbecues, a visit to the world famous Grand Ole Opry, country music entertainment, and a full serving of southern hospitality for all participants in the tournament. The meet is expected to draw over 25,000 people each day since last year's final day saw more than 20,000 on the course . . . The Willis Brothers celebrate their tenth anniversary with Starday Records during September. Ten consecutive years makes them the oldest recording act with the label and the only ones to have that many years in a row since Starday was formed by Don Pierce . . . Louie Innis just returned from the Starday-King studios in Macon, Georgia where he recorded that city's mayor, Ronnie Thompson. Mayor Thompson's record will be released in about ten days. As well as being a politician, he is also a writer and penned one of the songs on his record entitled "Downtown Country Girl" . . . Pinwheel Art Studio, a division of Jack Music, Inc., has completed the move into the building that formerly housed the John F. Kennedy Museum at 1308 16th Avenue, South. Pinwheel chief Herb Burnette and artist Marshall Givens have been occupying office space in the complex of buildings in the 3100 block of Belmont that houses Jack and Jando Music, Jack Clement Recording Studios and other Jack Clement publishing and production interests. The new added space allotted the Art Division will allow for expansion in the future to include a full photographic studio . . . David Houston is scheduled to tape the Johnny Cash Show November 4 and 5. David will perform his million selling recording of "Almost Persuaded" on Epic Records during one of the "Gold Country" segments which will feature country artists performing their million selling discs . . . Dave Peel and Connie Eaton's latest LP for Chart Records, "Hit the Road Jack," is scoring as a solid follow-up to their single by the same title. Peel, booked through the Hubert Long Agency, is currently playing an extended engagement at Doc's Hide-Away in Tampa, Florida and will return to Nashville prior to the WSM Opry Celebration . . . Plantation artist David Wilkins will be entertaining the patrons of the Colonial Inn in Jeffersonville, Indiana via a week's stint September 14-19 . . . Nashville's dynamic writing duo Margaret Lewis and Mira Smith have been named to the board of directors of Critique Record Corporation based in Bath, Maine . . . Col. Dave Mathes has signed The Erickson Family Singers and a trio of young men, The Macons. Both recorded gospel LP's recently and will be released September 15 . . . In six years the pro-celebrity golf tournament has grown from a modest budget of $10,000 to a budget of over $100,000 . . . Judy Lynn opens a four-week engagement at the Flamingo Hotel Thursday, September 10 thru October 7 . . . George Hamilton IV recently hit the sawdust trail from the Eastern Coast of Canada to Knotts Berry Farm in California along with kids and wife "Tinky" and band. Tinky is a full-fledged TV star, having duo-ed with George IV on another series of Purina Dog Chow commercials. George currently has a chart climbing hit on RCA titled "Back Where It's At" . . . Bob Luman, one of Music City's most serious golfers, has signed up for the forthcoming pro-celebrity golf tournament, according to tournament director Frank Rogers. Luman, currently one of the stars of the Grand Ole Opry, and busy with tours around the nation plugging his latest Epic recording of "Honky Tonk Man," has played in the nationally famous meet for several years . . . Vince Matthews (Jack Music exclusive writer), who just recently returned from a trip to see Kris Kristofferson appear at the Bitter End in New York City, has been busy working on many projects in addition to songwriting. Vince is completing arrangements for his own public appearance schedule including national TV, live folk festival performances, and working on a documentary film about country music history . . . Abnak's Startime country label has just signed a new, young artist named Clayton Ford of Decatur, Illinois. Ford will be produced by Ray Winkler . . . Star-studded cast including Carl Smith and the Tunesmiths, Bob Luman and his Honky Tonk Men, Wayne Jennings and the Waylors, Jeannie C. Riley and the Harper Valley Express, and Sonny James and his Southern Gentlemen attracted one of the four largest crowds ever to witness a show at the Du Quoin State Fair in Du Quoin, Illinois. The main grandstand at the fair was completely sold out early Saturday and an additional 700 tickets were sold in the south grandstand for the show. The only previous times in the history of the Du Quoin Fair when the main grandstand has been sold out were a Red Skelton show and a Lawrence Welk show on Labor Day several years ago and the second of the country and western spectaculars six years ago . . . September 15 has been set as recording date for Dottie West and Jimmy Dean under direction of RCA's Jerry Bradley . . . "Fifteen Years Ago" is the title of Conway Twitty's new release due September 14. "Hello Darlin'" just completed 25 weeks on the charts . . . Liz Anderson has signed an exclusive booking contract with Buddy Lee Attractions . . . Col. Dave Mathes, president of NRS Records, Inc. has set September 10 to release a new single on Marvin Carroll, "The Woman I Married" b/w "Are You Happy." Marvin is well known from his many Jimmy Dean TV show appearances from Washington, D. C. and the Connie B. Gay network shows.

GRT Records Signs Lewis, Ryles, Gilley

NEW YORK — Len Levy, president of the GRT Records Group, announced the signing of Hugh X. Lewis, John Wesley Ryles I and Mickey Gilley to long-term, exclusive contracts. All three artists will be produced by Tommy Allsup, GRT's head of A&R in Nashville. Hugh X. Lewis, who has made the charts with every record he's ever released, was most recently with Columbia Records. During his four previous years with Kapp Records, Lewis had such Top Twenty hits as "What I Need Most," "I'd Better Call The Law On Me," "Out Where The Ocean Meets The Sky" and "I'm So Cold." John Wesley Ryles I has had hits with "Kay" and "I Just Been Wastin' My Time," as well as the best-selling "Kay" LP. He has been voted Most Promising New Country Artist in two recent polls by music industry trade publications. A 1969-1970 listing of the most popular country artists in the world placed Ryles in the #14 position, ahead of many more established artists. Mickey Gilley, whose first single release for GRT Records will be "I'm Nobody Today (But I Was Somebody Last Night)," is Jerry Lee Lewis' cousin. Mickey plays piano, guitar, bass and organ.

Country LP Reviews

A TRIP IN THE COUNTRY — Roger Miller — Mercury-SR-61297

Gone are the days of "Dang Me," and "King Of the Road," long live Roger Miller and his incredible talent as one of the country's leading songwriters. This is Roger's latest album offering, and as usual, it's a brilliant one. All 11 tracks are interesting and have, of course, that touch of humor that has made Roger Miller a classic story teller. "Tall Tall Trees," "Nothing Can Stop My Love," "Don't We All Have The Right," and "When A House Is Not A Home," should get the extra spins.

THE REAL THING — Stonewall Jackson — Columbia-30254

This is the new Stonewall Jackson album, and as he puts it, it's the real thing. Included in the LP is Stonewall's latest single release "Oh, Lonesome Me," and the all time favorite, "Wings Of A Dove." Stonewall continues to pour it on strong with "I Started Loving You Again," "Cold Hard Facts Of Life," "Plenty Of Everything But You," "Honky Tonk Girl," and five other refreshing tunes.

TWO HAGERS ARE BETTER THAN ONE — The Hagers — Capitol-ST-553

The Hagers, who gained prominence on the Hee-Haw Show, are back again with another refreshing package of country and western tunes. Included in this set is their latest single release, "Silver Wings," written by Merle Haggard, and very ably performed by the Hager twins. "I'm Jesse James," and "Gamblin' Man," are only two instances indicative of the Hagers unique style. Other impressive selections include "Second Fiddle," "The Whole World Hold Hands," and "Loony Caboose."

C & W Singles Reviews

Picks of the Week

- MERLE HAGGARD (Capitol 2891)
I Can't Be Myself (2:50) (Blue Book, BMI—Haggard)
This is Merle's newest single release, and will be his latest hit record. Flip: "Sidewalks Of Chicago" (2:29) (Tree, BMI. D. Kirby)
- CHARLIE LOUVIN AND MELBA MONTGOMERY (Capitol 2915)
Something To Brag About (2:09) (Tree, BMI—B. Braddock)
Charlie and Melba team up to give us one of the more pleasant c&w releases in a long time. Flip: "Let's Help Each Other To Forget" (3:03) (Jack and Bill Music, BMI—B. Rice, J. Foster)
- THE HAGERS (Capitol 2887)
Silver Wings (2:40) (Blue Book, BMI—M. Haggard)
One of the finest singles in a long time, this rendition of Merle Haggards "Silver Wings" has an excellent chance of scoring on both the C&W and pop charts. Flip: "Flowers Need Sun, Too" (2:13) (Blue Book, BMI—Hagers)
- DANNY DAVIS AND THE NASHVILLE BRASS (RCA 47-9905)
Down Yonder (2:18) (LaSalle Music, ASCAP—Gilbert)
Danny and his brass should click with this beautifully arranged up tempo c&w tune. Flip: "May The Circle Be Unbroken" (2:22) (Daydan Music, ASCAP—McElhiney, Davis)
- CONRAD PIERCE (Musicore 1422)
Atlanta (2:50) (Jangle, ASCAP—C. Pierce)
This bright tune should have no trouble at all finding its way to the top of the charts. Song reveals interesting story line, too. Flip: "Not Enough To Keep You Off My Mind." (2:42) (Same Credits)
- DEANNA MARIE (Nasco-010)
I'm Gonna Put My Love In The Want Ads (2:31) (Acuff-Rose, BMI—Boyett, Giley)
Here's an interesting up tempo c&w release that should do well without the want ads. Worth a spin or two. Flip: (No information available)
- CHARLIE MOORE AND THE DIXIE PARTNERS (Country Jubilee—30535)
Lorena Go Home (Ralph's Music, BMI—Moore, Dockery)
Here's an interesting c&w tune complete with fiddles and banjo that should keep your feet tapin' from beginning to end. Flip: "Bringing Mary Home" (Starday, BMI—Duffy, Kingston, Mank)

Great Britain

British disk production and sales continued their upward trend in May of this year. Total pressing figures for the month were 8,234,000, an 8% increase on May 1969, and LPs at 4,777,000 showed a 10% increase on last year while singles climbed by 5% to 3,444,000. Production during the first five months of this year ran 10% higher than in 1969. Total May sales at £2.6 million were 28% higher than May of last year, with home sales up by 27% and exports increasing by 31%. Sales for the first five months of 1970 were 23% higher than for the corresponding period last year, with home results showing a 27% improvement and exports escalating by 6%.

Four disk indies and precision tapes hit the road earlier this month to present their fall product to retailers at a series of nationwide shows. Tagged the Super Group Shows, they were inspired by the success of the first jointly presented dealer receptions last year, and Warner-Reprise, Liberty-USA, A & M and Island hope to emulate the 1969 results with interest. Dealers' invitation tickets are numbered, and go into a draw at each venue with dozens of free albums and tapes and a vacation for two in the Canary Islands offered as prizes. The vacation will be awarded to the ultimate winner amongst the successful ticket holders from each venue, and will be drawn for on the final show night at Coventry Sept. 18th. The reasoning behind the caravan is to make personal contact with, and sell directly to the country's dealers as opposed to trading with them through the distributors, as happens during the rest of the year. Warner is unveiling its special in store promotion at the shows centered on ten LPs, and Liberty-USA is introducing its relaunched Sunset budget label and display units and point of sale aids for its big fall tape launch. A & M will spotlight its new budget series called Mayfair, as well as full price LP product, and the Island team of labels has a full range of album repertoire for the dealer's attention. Precision, participating in the caravan for the first time, will screen a five minute documentary movie with commentary by deejay Pete Murray, explaining the manufacture, application and use of tapes and showcasing material from the Precision catalog. The movie will be available for use at consumer level in shop promotions.

The first Festival of Arts of India in Britain will be staged in London, Sept. 20th and 21st at the Queen Elizabeth Hall, with subsequent dates at the Royal Festival Hall, Birmingham, Manchester, Leeds and Edinburgh. The presentation features a company of leading Indian singers, instrumentalists and dancers with the emphasis on the traditional style of Indian music and dance. The Festival inaugurates the Sanskritik Center of Indian Arts, which is being established in London to promote Indian culture and is under the artistic management of Shankar Presentations.

Following talks between DJM chief Stephen James and Frank Chalmers of EMI's international division, DJM product is to be marketed by EMI and its associate companies in India, Pakistan and the countries of Eastern Europe including the Soviet Union. DJM repertoire will also become available in cartridge and cassette form as a result of another pact which James has set with Precision Tapes. He is planning to launch a budget label next February which will be distributed like full-price DJM product by Pye.

World Record Club has a £100,000 advertising budget for its fall campaign on multiple record packages, which are available only on direct subscription owing to contractual reasons. These multiple disk sets also represent a major change in WRC's marketing policy, brought about by rising overhead costs and other factors, and were encouraged by the success last year of "The Sinatra Touch" pilot package. The sets are offered on a ten day free trial basis with easy credit terms for payment, and the price of a six-LP package like the September "Forever Yours" by Nat King Cole in £6.19 shillings and seven pence. Forthcoming packages will feature Dean Martin, Herb Alpert and Sounds Orchestral. Advertising space has been booked in the national press and in general interest magazines. There will be 500,000 direct mailing shot in addition.

EMI Records is to transfer its manufacturing and distribution operation from its present factory estate in Blyth Road, Hayes, to a new site two miles away in Uxbridge Road. Subject to final planning approval, the move will begin within the next few months and be completed in 1972. The new site will comprise an existing single-story factory and a new custom-designed warehouse with office accommodation. An EMI spokesman said the new premises, which will house 1,500 employees, would be the center of its future manufacturing and distribution, and had become necessary in a program of planned expansion to meet highly competitive market conditions.

Decca lived up to fiscal expectations with 1969-1970 pre-tax profits of £5.34 million for the year ending March 31. This compares with £3 million for the previous year. Its consumer goods have leaped into the forefront in these results, accounting for 85%, while its capital goods, that is radar and navigational aids, represented the remaining 15%, having dipped from £1.5 million to £728,000. Capital goods profitability was severely affected by the heavy cost of exploiting Decca's airborne radar. Consumer goods profits climbed from £1.5 million to £4.61 million, and overseas sales sprang from £12.5 million to £22.5 million, thanks largely to the enormous popularity of Tom Jones and Engelbert Humperdinck in North America.

Chairman of the Country Music Association of Great Britain, Mervyn Conn, who has been responsible for promoting the Country and Western Festivals at Wembley for two consecutive years, will be visiting the States in October to arrange appearances for the next year's Festival. The 1971 event will take on an even more important aspect as the Country Music Association of America are to hold their annual general meeting in England coincidental with the Festival. Conn will be dividing his time between Nashville and New York.

Geoffrey Heath advises that Middle Earth Records are releasing a sampler album containing tracks from seven different Middle Earth Acts to be released as a joint Middle Earth/Marble Arch album this month. Arcadium will have a new album release this month, having just returned from a successful tour of France, Germany and Holland. Another Middle Earth group, Wooden O have a tour of Belgium and Holland lined up for October to coincide with their new album release there.

Australia

Leaving for a six weeks' overseas business hop this week are music publishing men Barry Kimberley and Essex Music professional manager John Bromell. Both men will be busy establishing new contacts and setting up catalogues from overseas affiliates.

The world's highest-paid female performer Barbra Streisand is reportedly coming to Australia for concert appearances in the major cities. The Astor label here is out with a two-record album in a full color double fold cover, budget-priced at $3.98. (Most lp's here retail at around $5.50.) The set is called "Pye Records Present Ten Years of Golden Hits," and consists of twenty-eight hits by such performers as Sandie Shaw, Mark Wynter, Jackie Trent and Kenny Ball. Ball together with his jazz group are appearing in Melbourne at the Chevron Hotel. EMI (Australia) are set to cash in on the appearances here by Engelbert Humperdinck with the release of his new Decca single "Sweetheart," and an album called "We Made It Happen." The set features top chart numbers "Everybody's Talking," "Raindrops," "Wanderin' Star" and "Leavin' On A Jet Plane." Good news for EMI (Aust) and their top recording group the Flying Circus; the boys original album "Prepared In Peace" will be issued in England on the Harvest label. EMI also have high hopes for an album called "Introducing President" which consists of material culled from the English President label with such artists as the Equals and Dorothy Squires.

Recorded telephone information here was at one time restricted to such services as Time of day, Weather information and Dial-A-Prayer. In recent years the Postmaster General's Department have introduced Daily Bible Readings, Ring-A-

Recipe, Stock Exchange Reports and Amazing Bible Facts, to name only a few. The latest 'phone service gets under way early next year with the introduction of Dial-A-Disk which will enable subscribers to hear any one of ten top singles. Inventor of the system Dutch-born George Keizer, now resident in Melbourne, told Cash Box that APRA (Aust. Performing Rights Association) and major record companies had agreed to the system which is expected to handle upwards of 1/4-million calls a week.

Former EMI producer David Mackay, until recently independent in London for June Productions (UK) Ltd., has returned home for two months during which time he will produce exclusively for Fable Records. Hot on the heels of his recent Fable success "Curley," Fable performer Jimmy Hannan's new single couples a Leeds song "Thanks," with a local composition "Anything Can Happen" by arranger Geoff Hales.

Phonogram Records southern based chief Alan Shepherd reports strong action on the Top 100 chart topper "Spill The Wine" by Eric Burdon and War. The MGM master has been issued here on the Polydor label. We've just had the chance of seeing Sergio Mendes and Brasil '66, here for club appearances in Sydney and concert stints around the nation. To coincide with the group's play dates, Festival Records issued their new A&M album "Greatest Hits." Festival is also out with the chart-topping LP "Cosmo's Factory" by Creedence Clearwater Revival. Issued on the Liberty label, the set is offered for sale here with a 12"X24" double sided poster. After being on sale for only six days the disk has scored a gold record for sales exceeding 10,000.

No strangers to charts around the world, The Kinks have made a welcome return after an absence of two years with their smash hit, "Lola," released on Pye. The group is busy working on albums for autumn release, and meanwhile Ray Davies is penning numbers for new controversial movie "Percy".

Larry Douglas Co. Signs Rep Deals

MILAN — Larry Douglas Productions has concluded a three year contract with Dominique Lamblin of French Decca in Paris and Francisco Figueras of Belter Records of Barcelona.

According to his arrangement with the two international directors, Douglas reports, French Decca will have access to all material in his firm, with the exception of the Dorians, for France, Monaco, French territories and former colonies. The Dorians are heard on Vogue Records in French. The Belter deal is for Spain.

In another development, Jeff Kruger, chief of Ember Records, is undertaking a fall drive on Douglas' artists, including the Dorians, Jones Girls, Eddie Robinson, Tony & Tyrone, Marshall & Newell and Fork in the Road, all of whom are Detroit-based acts. Ember will promote in England, the Commonwealth countries, Erie, South America, Eastern Europe, Israel, Turkey, Greece, among other areas.

Guy Marasco of Halfway Productions in Detroit is the associate and partner of Douglas, who is based in Paris.

NASHVILLE — Shelby Singleton

4 Tops To Britain

NEW YORK — Motown's The Four Tops begin one of the most extensive tours of England by any Motown group on Sept. 18 in Wolmerhampton.

Other cities to be visited by the Tops include Sheffield, Hanley, Manchester, Croyden, Bristol, Birmingham, Liverpool, Gloucester, Cardiff, Southampton and Hammer-smith.

The group winds up its tour on Oct. 11 and will resume U. S. appearances on Oct. 31 at Kleinhans Music Hall, Buffalo.

Music, Inc. and affiliates, with the recent signing of a sub-publishing contract with Edizioni Musicali La Voce Del Padrone for the territory of Italy, now has sub-publishing agreements in effect in all major world wide markets. Earlier this year agreements were made with Clan Music Pty., Ltd. (South Africa), Toshiba Music Publishing Co., Ltd. (Japan), Les Editions Pathe Marconi (France and Luxembourg) and Editorial Musical Odeon, A. V. (South America).

The Singleton publishing group is represented in other parts of the world by Peter Maurice Music Co., Ltd. (The British Commonwealth), Les Editions Internationales Basart (Belgium and Holland), Canciones Del Mundo (Spain and Portugal), Festival Music Pty., Ltd. (Australia), Sweden Music AB (Scandinavia), and Edition Intro. Gebr. Meisel OHG (Germany, Austria and Switzerland).

A sort of "Record Fair" is being held this month at Valladolid, Old Castle's biggest town. Though some music papers have labelled it as "the Spanish MIDEM" it is still much too early to give it such a pompous name. From the commercial point of view, it is just a foreword. To begin with, it is not an actual Record Fair, but only a section within a bigger "Samples Fair". This "Record Fair" has doubled its number of stands since 1969, the first year, and it could well mean something important in future. The growing importance is already reflected in some of the planned galas, Atahualpa Yupanqui on September 12 and 13, Miguel Rios on the following day, then Círculos, Cerebrum, Evolution, John Walker and Oliver on September 15 in a "happening Mundo Joven", Violines en el Tejado on the two following nights, a live TV program—"Estudio Abierto", by José María iñigo—on September 18, with performances by Mike Kennedy, Andrés do Barro, Luis Aguilé, Círculos and Donna Hightower, María Dolores Pradera on September 19 and 20, and Antonio Gades's Ballet on the remaining nights of the Fair. Some firms, like Ekipo, are using the facilities of the "Record Fair" to offer a total sample of their biggest talents.

Belgium

Humo's top 5 LP's are 1° "Cosmo's factory" (Creedence Clearwater Revival) on Liberty, 2° "Blood, Sweat & Tears 3" on CBS, 3° "Question Of Balance" (Moody Blues) on Threshold, 4° "Bridge Over Troubled Water" (Simon & Garfunkel) on CBS and 5° "Eric Burdon Declares War" (Eric Burdon & War) on MGM.

Inelco artists Jeff Collins and Tony Christie were in Belgium for TV appearances. Fair Weather performed in the BRT show "Hey." The British group Fynn McCool performed in the "Puzzle Club." An LP of the same name was also released. "Cecilia" is the first LP by the Harmony Grass.

Vogue released singles by Miriam Makeba, Joe Dolan, Antoine, Family, Picketty Witch, The New Seekers, Ides of March and Ella Fitzgerald.

Polygram released singles by Ciska Peters, Bonny St. Claire and Blue Planet, all Dutch artists. A first LP is set for cabaret singer Zjef Vanuytsel, entitled "De zotte morgen." "The Little Richard Story" is a double LP release on the Joy label.

Polydor released the first LP by Eric Clapton and the second one by Ten Wheel Drive. The track "Morning Much Better" was also released as a single. "Beach party" is the new LP by James Last, whose orchestra is the most popular in Belgium.

Fonior released Joe Cannon's "Numbers" on London. This number is extremely popular at the seaside. Promotion-girl Snieze Vlaminc is still doing a fantastic campaign for Julio Iglesias. She even tried to get him over here for TV appearances. His first LP is eagerly awaited. The first LP by Brotherhood of Man was released too.

CBS-Artone reports good sales for all old and new Andy Williams LP's. This success is due to his TV-series, "The Andy Williams Show," which is weekly telecasted on Dutch TV. He also has a new LP entitled "Can't help falling in love." Other new CBS LP's are "Gary Puckett and Union Gap's Greatest Hits" and "Al Kooper."

Gramophone's promotion team is still doing its utmost for all Tamla Motown material. A first reward is a BRT National top 30 entry for Edwin Starr's "War." Further TM LP's are "Best of Marvin Gaye," "Best of Marvin Gaye & Tammi Terrell" and "Best of Jr. Walker & The All Stars." These are all promotional LP's.

The popular Belgian singer Marc Aryan has a new single entitled "Adieu mon belle amour." The second LP by Rare Earth, "Ecology," was released on Rare Earth. The group became famous with "Get ready." Progressive albums are "Floating Bridge," "Clover," "Electric Rock," "Ainsley Dunbar Retaliation" and "Canned Heat '70 Concert."

Music For Pleasure does an enormous publicity in the Belgian shops. The September releases are the LP's "The best of Bosa Novas," "Hit Parade '70," "Les succès d'Adamo à L'accordéon par Oscar Saintal," "Joop Fischer," "Salute to Kaempfert," "Soul hits," "Moussorgsky's Pictures at an exhibition."

Palette artists at the Ostend Festival were Joanna for Belgium and Jimmy Campbell for England. Jimmy Campbell was part of the winning team, and this was an excellent promotion job for his album and single release on Palette. Joanna won the prize of the best interpretation and the highest personality. Her new record "Goodbye my love/Vite vite" was rush-released.

All the local talents were present at the important Radio contest at Middelkerke. It was Rita Deneve who won the first prize (80.000 Belgian francs). This was great promotion for her new record. Jimmy Camble, Joanna and Will Tura appeared in the TV-programs "Echo" and "Tien-erklanken." Rita Deneve appeared in "Echo."

Digno Garcia is in Spain for two months. His new record, "Pais tropical," was released with a very important promotion. Special cards were added. Free Pop was released in Italy as well as Luigi's "A song of joy." A special TV spot has been produced with Luigi for TV Canada (Compo Records). The first album by Peter Loland was also released in Japan.

MCA Int'l Italy Confab To Introduce New Album Release

NEW YORK — Richard Broderick, vice president of MCA Records International, hosts a three day sales meeting at Lake Maggiore, near Milan, Italy this week (14-16). Attending the meetings with Broderick will be Mike Maitland, president of MCA Records as well as Sal Chianti, president of MCA Music Publishing division. This will be Maitland's first opportunity to collectively meet the foreign licensees of MCA Records International.

Licensees in attendance include representatives from Scandinavia, the Benelux countries, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, Turkey, England and others.

New Product

At the meetings, Broderick will present the new Decca and Kapp

Tokyo Pop Fest Due In November

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The First Tokyo International Popular Song Festival is to be held in Tokyo under the sponsorship of the Yamaha Council of Music with the support of the Japanese Ministry of Foreign Affairs and the Agency for Cultural Affairs.

1. The Festival will take place at the Nihon Budo-kan Building at Kudan, Tokyo, Japan. The schedule of the festival is as follows: Nov. 20, 1970—Preliminary selections; Nov. 21, 1970—Preliminary selections; Nov. 22, 1970—Final selections.

2. Participants: A composer, a singer and a person who accompanies the musicians (accompanist, manager, conductor, lyricist, etc.) are requested to arrive in Tokyo on or before November 17th. Round trip travel expenses for the three participants, including room and board (between November 17 and 23), will be paid by the Yamaha Council of Music.

3. At the preliminary selection ten (10) songs are to be selected. At the finals the winners of the following prizes are to be decided:

- (A) Grand Prize
 - a) Best composition $3,000 & supplementary prize
 - b) Best singer $3,000 & supplementary prize
- (B) Composition Prize—1 .. $1,000 & supplementary prize
- (C) Singing Prize—1 .. $1,000 & supplementary prize
- (D) Participation Prize

4. Entries should consist of popular music with words and either unpublished or published after January 1, 1970 in the relevant country.

5. Deadline for applications: September 30, 1970

6. Applicants are requested to submit a tape-recorded version of their music (7½ inch or 19 cm); a score of the music and lyrics (3 copies) with English or Japanese translation; a brief personal history and photographs of composer and singer.

All entry material should be forwarded to the following address: Mr. Junichi Yanai, Yamaha Council of Music, c/o Suyama Building, 1-1, Ebisu Minami, Shibuya-ku, Tokyo, Japan.

7. The Yamaha Council of Music is to set up the Tokyo International Popular Song Festival Selection Committee, who will select participating compositions (music) and inform the relevant composers.

merchandise which was so well received at the recent MCA meeting in New York, including product by such artists as Rick Nelson, the Irish Rovers, Marian Henderson, Charles Lloyd and others.

Included in the presentation will be the introduction of an unusual concept album, "Age of Mouse," which features Doug Ashdown and comes from Australia. The meetings will also mark the first audition for MCA licensees of the soon-to-be released "Jesus Christ Rock Opera—The Last Seven Days," which is scheduled for release in early Oct. in the U. S. as well as England, Europe, Latin America and the Far East and which will be supported by a big promo and publicity campaign.

Much of the meetings will be devoted to marketing aspects of the MCA line in Europe with heavy emphasis on cassette and cartridge tapes.

These meetings will also serve to introduce to the licensees MCA International's newly created economy label, Sir Val, which was introduced in the Benelux market just one month ago with an initial release of six albums which has, according to Broderick, already sold over 100,000 units in that market alone.

Rich To Euro

HOLLYWOOD — Buddy Rich embarks on the first leg of a 13 nation European tour beginning Oct. 20. Stockholm, Sweden is the initial stop, followed by Oslo, Copenhagen, Paris, Prague, Vienna, Milan, Rotterdam, Brussels, Stuttgart, Belgrade, Berlin, Barcelona and then a long stint in various British cities.

Isle Of Wight Promoters Vow 'Never Again'; Deficit High

LONDON — The giant Isle of Wight pop festival ended Aug. 30 with vows of "never again" from all sides for varying reasons. On the last day, the three Foulk Brothers, who run Fiery Creations which organized the fest, estimated that the enterprise might show a deficit of £50,000, but this could be offset substantially when fees from concessionaires and movie and recording right payments come in.

Tiny Tim Stars

Over 200,000 attended the five-day event, and artistically Tiny Tim seemed to strike the warmest and most responsive chords and rapport with the huge audience, possibly because he was not so deafening as most of the other acts. Bill-topper Joan Baez was reported to be donating part of her £8,000 fee to a modern British do-your-own-thing school, and the rest to anti-Vietnam war funds and peace studies in the States. The police authorities rated the behavior of 90% of the crowd as very good, but the other 10% caused the trouble and the headlines.

Extremist Clashes

Most of the offensive minority comprised foreign Maoists, anarchists and other lunatic fringers, plus the usual cantankerous contingent of home-grown Hell's Angels. They clashed with the Fiery Creations security force early in the festival when they started tearing down the arena fences on the pretext that pop should be free and untainted with any capitalistic profit motive, and then occupied National Trust downland overlooking the stage, and watched and heard the entertainment from this vantage point without paying the £3 entrance fee to the enclosure. Their numbers and violent attitude dissuaded Fiery Creations from attempting to dislodge them, and the Hampshire constabulary, heavily outnumbered at all times, turned a Nelson's eye on the widely prevalent pot smoking, although over a hundred arrests were made in the early stages of the fest before the crowd swelled to its largest proportions. The punchy portion of the audience started more trouble on the final day when the catering sector was being dismantled, and created a considerable amount of damage as well as looting a lot of food and equipment. With most of the multitude gone, the 1,100 acre site constituted a real-life nightmare for anyone interested in the aims of Conservation Year, but a number of destitute hippies stayed behind to help the Fiery Creations staff clear the vast mountains of litter and debris and earn their ferry fare back to the mainland.

Fiery Creations say "never again" on account of the violent elements who expect everything for nothing and a free hand to batter anything and anyone they wish, and island residents led by Isle of Wight Member of Parliament Mark Woodnutt say never again on account of everything, not least of which is the fact that the police were unable to enforce the law when confronted by such an enormous gathering. The Wight fest climaxes a year of open-air pop happenings, with virtually all its predecessors ending in financial and or meteorological disaster and hostile rumblings and recourse to law from the local citizenry, and is almost certainly the last. It remains to be seen how long the open-air free concert idea can survive the brawling, belligerent presence of Hell's Angels and similar provocateurs.

MAJOR RENEWAL: After many weeks of negotiations with American and English publishing companies Wayne Bickerton and Tony Waddington have resigned with Burlington-Palace Music and its worldwide outlets. John Nice, general manager of the company, said "I am not at liberty to disclose the financial terms and conditions of the agreement which runs for a period of three years. But obviously in view of the potential of the writers and the strong competition from other companies the deal had to be mutually beneficial to all parties concerned". Bickerton and Waddington agreed that they are delighted with the deal. The duo have been writing together for three years and have had songs recorded by Tom Jones, The Bachelors, The Flirtations, Charlie and Inez Foxx and many others.

Toyo Radio Sets New Tokyo Home

NEW YORK — Toyo Radio Company Ltd. of Tokyo plans a new corporate headquarters building. The new 10-story structure, scheduled to be occupied in mid-1971, will provide about 100,000 square-feet of modern office space for Toyo's 1,900 home-office employees.

The $10 million building, located in Tokyo, will have modern facilities including all-season air conditioning throughout, and ample off-street parking will be provided. The exterior of the building will be trimmed with a combination of glass and copper-finish siding, and terra-cotta brick.

In addition to offices the ground floor will include a demonstration showroom, where many of Toyo's full line of home entertainment products will be on display.

Other Toyo offices and factories are located throughout Japan. Toyo's portable, home and auto AM and FM radios, cassette and cartridge stereo tape players and recorders are marketed in the U. S. by Toyo Radio Company of America, Inc., 1842-B West 169th Street, Gardena, Cal.

New Dates For Rio Pop Fest

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The Fifth International Popular Song Festival scheduled to be held in Rio de Janeiro Sept. 23 to October 4, has been postponed to Oct. 15-26.

Germany

An international record anthology of recorded music will be published in the English language by "Jugend und Volk-Verlagsgesellschaft" in Wien-Muenchen in 1971. This book includes in 475 discussions about 3000 records, mostly from Europe and the USA.

On the "Jazz-days" in Berlin, Bill Evans, Earl Hines, Dave Brubeck and Jerry Mullegan will perform. Other attractions will include a battle of the bigbands with Oliver Nelson, the Clarke-Boland-Bigband, Dizzy Gillespie and Buddy Rich . . .

On 27th and 28th of August, this year's sales convention of CBS Records took place in the hotel "Gravenbruch." The new productions were introduced to the gathered CBS-staff in an audio-visual presentation. Among them were as many as 38 new LP's and 15 double-albums in the pop- and progressive music fields. In the field of classical music, 10 LP's and 4 subscription-cassettes were announced. In addition to that, a number of color films about CBS artists were shown and the system of quadrophonic sound was demonstrated in detail. Reports of the different branches of the company and a survey on the past business year rounded off the official part of the meeting. Terminating the convention was a big gala evening for which CBS had invited co-operating producers, press people, and all its employees. The splendid starrings of German and foreign CBS artists were presented in a sly way by disc jockey Fred Metzler. The guests of the evening will remember for a long time the performances of Mary Roos, Stella Mooney, Dunja Rajter, Roberto Blanco, Mike Brant, Costa Cordalis, Rene Kollo and Bernd Spier.

Philip Roberge of Alexis Korner Music and Mrs. G. Seeger as well as Michael Karnstedt of Peer Music concluded a long term agreement. Peer Music acquired from Alexis Korner and Peter Thorup 10 titles for Germany, Austria and Switzerland. The Alexis Korner titles were previously published by Metronome on the LP "Both Sides." The Peter Thorup titles will follow soon by MCA. Furthermore, Peer announced that for September the publication of the first German speaking record of the American singer Eartha Kitt is to be expected. The titles are: "Gib mir deine Haende" and "Ein Sommertraum." They are composed by the German authors George Moslener, Manfred Oberdoerffer and Knut Kiesewetter . . .

Teldec starts the autumn saison with more than 50 LP's. The 5 stars program and phase 4 stereo are the guarantee that only the best productions will be presented. Among others, 12 international successful composers such as Christian Bruhn, Lee Hazlewood, Martin Boettcher, Bert Kaempfert and Gilbert Bécaud will be included. This 5 star LP titled "Mein Lied fuer Peggy" (My Song For Peggy) was just published.

A sales hit of the last month was the double-album for 19 DM (5,5 Dollars). Therefore, Teldec will publish as double-albums "Country Music Hall Of Fame," "Blues Giant John Mayall," "Super-Blues World" and "Portrait In Music/Hildegard Knef."

Metronome Records presents Led Zeppelin III. This announcement has created a storm of advanced sales. The first sales balance of the Zeppelin boom amounted to 100,000 LP's.

Ariola-Eurodisc announced that they have taken over the distribution of the double album "Mad Dogs and Englishmen." This is the recording of the opening concert by Joe Cocker accompanied by a bigband in the Fillmore East Theatre in New York.

Taste will give five concerts in Germany in September. During that time, singer and songwriter Jake Holmes will be introduced to the German public. Polydor has just recorded the first LP with Jake.

Dave Gerrick will be presented by the Electrola on September 17 in Ruedesheim/Rhine to the press with his latest single in the German language.

REBIRTH—After taking a short time off as a group Barry (l.), Maurice (second from r.), and Robin Gibb (r.) have returned as the Bee Gees, spending the first week of their reformation recording at Morgan Studios in London towards an album and single for Autumn release. Shown with the brothers is manager Robert Stigwood.

Mexico

Almost simultaneously, RCA and CBS/Columbia Int'L released the Organ version of Miguel Rios hit "Song of Joy"—CBS's with Sergio Pérez is a good commercial issue but RCA's with Chucho Ferrer is more than that.—Ferrer's orchestration includes a few bars of the last movement of Beethoven's Ninth Symphony that gives the piece a strong Beethovenian character.

Dusa's presentation of Berthina, the label's latest discovery, was quite a success. The radio, tv, press and music people agreed that she is a most outstanding talent, and started to call her the New Song's Cinderella.—Berthina's Polydor first record is about to be released.

Marco Antonio Muñoz is recording some of his latest hits to be sent to Brazil as part of the promo campaign to back up his forthcoming personal appearances in that Country. He will be the Mexican representative in the Rio de Janeiro Festival and will do TV and night clubs. Some of the cuts on the LP are "Nadita de Nada", "Paloma Negra" and the Portuguese version of "Gwendoline".

Oscar Chávez, just accepted an invitation of the Consejo Nacional de Cultura de la República de Cuba, to take part in the II Festival de la Canción Popular to be held from the 8th to the 22nd of November at Varadero Beach, Cuba.—

Three of the most important recording firms in Mexico are after the Trio Los Panchos contract. Trio Los Panchos left CBS/Columbia International after 20 successful years.—

The most aired number in México is "Madmoiselle Ninette" with the Nigerian group the Soulful Dynamics on Polydor.—This is Dusa's third top seller.—

Now on the market, is a new Manolo Muñoz LP.—Manolo Muñoz, pioneer of the "rock wave" a few years ago, is making a brilliant come back with this record.

The opening of the new Music Hall recording studios was one of the main events of the season, with attendance from all the other recording companies and an unusually bright gathering. The studios' equipment was highly praised, and considered by technicians and critics as one of the best in Latin America, and fully on an International basis. Music Hall's Calvo and Selasco feel that the studios will allow an increase in the share of local recordings and are a sound investment (in both senses), since Music Hall has been operating with several other studios in town, up to now.

Odeon offered a reception to Mr. Hilary Watson, Export Manager of London Decca, who paid a visit to Argentina for chats with the people of the label directed by Alan Campbell. The diskery is now enjoying strong LP sales, thanks to several albums by artists like Tom Jones, Paul McCartney and the Beatles.

EMI Suppliers' Sales Manager, Ramon Villanueva, travelled to London to be present at the International Convention of A&M and visit headquarters of EMI, Ltd. After his stay in London, Villanueva will travel to Paris, for contacts with Pathe-Marconi and Vogue, and to Madrid, where he will hold talks with people from Belter and Zafiro, two of the major record companies in that country.

Fermata Brenner sends word about the release of "Juntos", the Mina song which is placed at the top of the current Italian charts; in Argentina, it is also expected to sell strongly in the rock music field there is a new group, named Edad de Piedra (Stone Age), and its first single is "Desesperación". For the folk music lovers, Fermata has contracted new chantress Adelina Villanueva, who has already waxed a tune by Hugo Ferrari.

Juan Carlos Crottogini of Edami Publishers informs that they have arranged the representation of Curtwel Music, from the States. Curtwel is owned by Rachel Welch and her husband, Patrick Curtis. Edami also has the rights to several tunes carried in the new LP released by Odeon of Los Angeles Negros, the Chilean group currently hitting the charts in the interior of Argentina.

CBS reports the release of a new album by chanter Sandro, carrying the songs from his film, "Muchacho", which is being currently screened in Buenos Aires. There is also a new LP by Joe Dassin, and the first one by local group Industria Nacional. On the international side, there is a new single by Roberto Carlos, "120-150-200 Kilometers Per Hour", which is expected to sell strongly, and the new LP by leading US star Bob Dylan.

Leo Bentivoglio of Phonogram reports that the initial pressing of the "Woodstock" three LP set has been completely sold, which shows the good reaction of the trade and customer to this effort. The diskery is now preparing the first LP by Spanish chanter Victor Manuel on Philips, to be released in a couple of weeks, and another LP by Paul Mauriat.

RCA's Garbarino reports that top-pers Adolfo Pino and Bob Cook will establish in the States the basis for a good market for several local artists during their visit to New York, which starts next week. The campaign includes the presentation of several top names at the Latin Song Festival, in New York, and a strong promo campaign covering the US market and especially the Spanish-speaking areas. This export move is expected to bring strong results in a few months, and will be continued in future.

Denon Records will be celebrating its second anniversary come Oct. 1st, with the release of three new singles. The new releases are by Yukari Itoh, Jimmy Osmond, and Peggy March. Miss March signed with Denon last June after her RCA contract expired. Also scheduled for release is an album containing selections of Denon's major artists.

Teichiku Records recently completed an agreement with the C. G. C. Record Company which calls for the release of four singles and two LP's. C. G. C. was established by Bob Crewe to unify his record and publishing company. C. G. C. will also have the sales rights to Maxwell Records.

Canary Records in cooperation with Bon Music, have opened a mobile recording car fully equipped with stereo recording units which will service recording artists who do not have their own recording facilities. The mobile studio was designed by Mr. Yoshikazu Hirata.

Bally Brings New 1-Pl. Trail Drive To Pinball Market

Bally TRAIL DRIVE 1-Pl

CHICAGO — Paul Calamari, Bally Mfg. Corp. sales manager, last week announced delivery of "Trail Drive," the firm's new single-player flipper-type pinball game that features an animated backglass that contributes to five-figure scoring.

The animation is activated when a ball is shot into either of two kickout holes. The "shotgun" protecting the cattle herd then aims his rifle at a cow-hungry bobcat. A pistol shot sound effect is heard and the bullet-riddled bobcat spins in the air.

The "shoot the cat" score is 5,000 points every time the ball enters the side kickout hole and 3,000 when the ball enters the top kickout hole after crossing the top center rollover button. If the ball goes in the top kickout hole without first crossing the button only 300 points are awarded for mowing down the bobcat.

"Trail Drive" also contains an "E-Z Open" free ball gate which is opened when a ball is shot in the top kickout hole. The gate then remains open until the ball escapes through the gate or out hole.

The game can be operated with three or five balls, with or without the match feature. "Trail Drive" is available for immediate delivery through local Bally distributors.

NYS Guild to Meet

BEACON, N. Y. — Mrs. Gertrude Browne, secretary of the New York State Operators Guild, announced that a regular dinner meeting for association members will be held this Wed. night, Sept. 16th, at the Governor Clinton Hotel in Kingston. She advised that several important topics will be on the evening's agenda and hopes for 100% attendance at the meeting. She added that the meeting will begin promptly at 7:30 P.M.

EDITORIAL:

Your Partner, the Location

Most people in the tavern and restaurant business consider the commissions they enjoy from an operator's coin equipment almost as "found money". The location's pure pleasure of earning half the take from your machines without so much as dusting the pieces off . . . much less paying for them or pulling preventative maintenance . . . is the basic reason the operating industry has thrived over these decades.

Sure, a strong argument against direct location ownership of equipment has been the complete separation of location personnel from the costs and labors involved in machine operation. Unfortunately, when the location's total lack of concern for your equipment hurts the take, it's high time to do something about it.

The current wave of machine breakin's and even outright hijackings points up a glaring problem that exists at too many stops—the personnel there simply don't care enough about the machines to protect them, much less merchandise play on them. When a phoney "route collector" with a good set of keys can walk blandly into a midtown bar and open the machine (and even the box) without the bartender looking twice, that's ridiculous. When two "mechanics" can wheel a dolly into a bowling alley and walk out with an "out-of-order" missile game without location personnel checking to see some kind of credentials, that's preposterous. Yet these things have happened and will continue to happen unless the operator insures that his locations take more of a proprietary interest in the equipment.

It has been traditional in our industry to keep location people as far removed from the machines as possible, for obvious reasons. But while this approach may tend to avert the location's ideas on direct ownership, it also removes any concern on their part for the security of the equipment itself. Remember, you the operator are in a great sense an absentee manager, since neither you nor your people are present at every location every day to keep an eye on your investments.

We feel that every operating company, especially those in big cities where the vandalism problem is greatest, should have their routemen warn all location people that they have a moral responsibility to safeguard the equipment. Furthermore, there's nothing wrong with having location people clean off the equipment from time to time . . . after all, the location is your silent partner, ya know.

Every location should be told to call the operating company anytime a strange person comes in to "service" a machine, and find out if the guy's on the up-and-up. Needless to say, they should first check with all strange routemen, legitimate or otherwise, for some kind of identification. Since they enjoy half the take on every machine, the location must understand it has a responsibility to prevent any person from abusing the machines in your absence.

Granger Sees Full House; Names Expo Guest Speaker

FRED GRANGER

CHICAGO — MOA executive vice president Fred Granger last week predicted a record attendance for this year's MOA Exposition and announced Dr. G. Herbert True as guest speaker for the show's opening day seminar on Oct. 16.

Dr. True, an author and research psychologist, will speak on "Salesmanship and Public Relations." He has taught at Notre Dame University in South Bend, Ind. and has given more than 3,000 presentations and lectured at more than 50 major American universities.

Considered an authority on business public relations and salesmanship, Dr. True has appeared on all three major television networks—CBS, NBC and ABC. He is presently a senior lecturer for the American Management Assn. in New York and for the Presidents Assn. of New York.

He serves as a consultant to the National Safety Council, the National Retail Merchants Assn., the Canadian Restaurant Assn., the School of Consumer Banking and the YMCA. He has also been on the faculty of the U. S. Army Management School and the Department of Defense Signal Corps Management Center and has lectured at the U. S. Army War College.

Dr. True received a B. A. degree from the University of Oklahoma, an M. A. from Northwestern and a Ph.D. from the University of Iowa. He spent six years at Notre Dame as assistant professor of marketing and is a senior partner in the firm of True-Klemp which has offices in New York, Dallas, Kansas City and South Bend.

During the next few weeks he will be in touch with Granger, who will brief him on the operation and problems of the coin machine industry.

Granger has also been in touch with operators throughout the nation as he has traveled extensively, often appearing as guest speaker at state association meetings. According to Granger his spot checks on Expo attendance have been encouraging.

"Operators themselves are more enthusiastic than ever," he says, "despite the fact that business may have been soft in some areas. There is a definite feeling," he continued, "MOA will be a shot in the arm for many who may have had doubts about business conditions and are looking forward to the opportunity of getting together with others in the industry to talk things over."

In his prediction of a record attendance Granger cited the number of requests for advance registration and banquet accommodations which are coming in earlier than in previous years and in greater numbers. State associations will also be participating on a more extensive scale, according to Granger.

N. Y. Group to Meet On New Tax Threat; "Old Ghost" Back to Haunt State Trade?

NEW YORK — Albert Denver, president of the Music Operators of New York, has called for a general membership meeting this Tues. night, Sept. 15th, at the Park Sheraton Hotel. Meeting will get underway at 8:00 P.M.

On top of the agenda will be the subject of a new attempt by the State of New York to take a sales tax from coin operated equipment collections. Teddy Blatt, MONY attorney, will discuss the implications in the new threat, which began July 21st with the presentation of Resolution 22 to the New York City Council by M. Scholnick.

The resolution reads in part: "Whereas the city of New York is in dire financial need to obtain funds to enable it to provide and expand vital services to its residents; and whereas sales tax on coin operated amusement devices such as juke boxes or similar musical devices would bring much needed moneys into the city treasury; and whereas there is at present no sales tax on coin operated amusement devices; and whereas the sales tax is now under the jurisdiction of the State, be it resolved that the Council call upon and urge the State Legislature to enact legislation to add it to the list of items subject to the sales tax."

Coin trade leaders in the state successfully beat down a previous attempt by Albany to tax collections two years ago. The case moved as high as the State Appellate Div. where collections were finally ruled non-taxable.

The new resolution, while it presents only a mild threat to the present status of collections, in view of the Albany precedent, is important enough to Blatt that all members convene and become acquainted with the matter thoroughly, and to decide on a course of action should the matter get "out of hand."

President Denver has invited many upstate operators to the MONY meeting, considering the state-wide implications of the City Council resolution.

In all probability, Blatt will also discuss some cases where non-members of MONY have illegally duplicated the association's copyrighted Installation and Security Agreement. The agreements, or "contracts" as they are usually called, are available to members at 20% a set but have nevertheless been illegally duplicated by operators, notably those not on member rolls.

"We have received information and proof that our Agreements have been copied or reproduced by operators which is in violation of, and an infringement upon our copyrights," Blatt recently asserted. "We have given notice that all persons infringing on our Agreements, will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law, including injunction and treble damages. Persons using our agreements without permission, will be compelled to disclose a complete list of their locations in an examination before trial, so that we may subpoena location owners to determine whether or not the Agreements they signed were copies or reproduced without our permission."

Jones International To New Mass. H. Q.

Bob Jones (shown above) has moved the headquarters of Robert Jones International from Needham, Mass. to 19 Brook Road in Needham Heights. Jones, formerly a staffer at Trimount Sales Corp., in Dedham went into business for himself—several months ago, exporting reconditioned amusement games and phonographs to overseas distributors.

"Galente's Last Stand"

HIALEAH, FLA.—When Allied Leisure Industries first released its 'Wild Cycle' race game to the trade early this summer, it became such a hit with dealers and operators that the factory was posed with a production problem . . . that is, making machines fast enough to meet orders. They completed that rather complimentary hurdle by installing a second production line shift in late July and the supply and demand for the piece has been running at an almost even pace, ever since.

"But things are never all rosey in coinbiz", joked Allied sales manager Gene Lipkin last week, in detailing a rather unusual delivery problem he encountered in the Northwest two weeks ago. As he described it:

We received orders for Cycles from Lou Dunis at Portland and Ray Galente in Seattle, which together made up a trailerload. We shipped the machines via National Carloading and not much more than a week went by when we received a complaint call from Ray, yelling 'where are my machines?'. We called Lou Dunis and learned he got his half okay so I called National. Are you ready for this? They told me a group of Indians had blockaded the road just outside of Seattle and no trucks were allowed to pass thru. They were demonstrating for equal rights. I'm glad to say that Ray got his delivery last Thursday, only 15 days late. This is a crazy business," Gene observed.

1970 N. Y. Ops UJA Campaign Nears Goal Youngman, Vocalists, Set for Sonin Fete

NEW YORK — Three top entertainers, comic Henny Youngman and singers Chuck Wollery and Debbie Kelley, will appear at the United Jewish Appeal victory dinner and dance of the Coin Machine Division on Saturday evening, Sept. 26., in the Trianon Room of the New York Hilton Hotel.

The announcement was made by chairman Albert Denver, who added that more than 300 tickets have already been sold and that pledges and contributions thus far have exceeded $60,000 for the 1970 campaign.

The gathering will be a testimonial to operator Gilbert Sonin "in recognition of his outstanding record of humanitarian achievement and his efforts on behalf of the coin machine industry".

Urging attendance at the dinner, Denver said it was "an opportunity to pay tribute to a wonderful fellow, and at the same time to voice our support for the people of Israel in these critical days."

The entertainment, to be emceed by WNEW New York Radio disc jockey Scott Muni, will be highlighted by Youngman, the well-known comedian, often called the "king of the one-liners".

Miss Kelley, a blonde-haired vocalist, has been performing primarily in night clubs, specializing in standard material. Woolery, a 28-year-old newcomer, records for Columbia Records and recently cut "I've Been Wrong", a ballad single.

The aim of the New York UJA campaign is to raise an Israel Emergency Fund to aid hundreds of thousands of immigrants in Israel, as well as 60,000 newcomers expected this year.

Another aim is to provide through the general UJA campaign the increased financing required this year for programs of relief, rehabilitation, education and migration assistance, serving needy Jews in 25 countries overseas, as well as refugees settled in Israel and the United States.

The New York UJA campaign also supports religious, morale and welfare programs for Jews in the United States armed forces and veterans hospitals, as well as services to Jewish community centers and YM-YMHAs across the country.

The UJA of Greater New York is the sole fund-raising agency in the metropolitan area for the United Israel Appeal, Joint Distribution Committee (including ORT), New York Assn. for New Americans, United Hias Service and National Jewish Welfare Board.

Providing song at the UJA dinner-dance will be vocalists Chuck Wollery (left), who recently cut a single on Columbia Records and songstress Debbie Kelley, a cabaret performer. Emceeding the show will be disc jockey Scott Muni (right) of radio station WNEW in New York.

Omaha Distrib Declines Governor Bid

OMAHA — Ed Zorinsky, vice president of the H. Z. Vending and Sales Co. here, recently turned down a suggestion from some friends that he file a petition as an independent candidate for governor.

Zorinsky, a member of the Omaha Public Power District board of directors, said he will remain on the board and "finish the things I set out to do—finish the job for which I was elected."

Zorinsky, 42, was elected to the board in November, 1968, defeating incumbent Richard Swensen by 20,000 votes in the general election after trailing Swensen by 13,000 in the primary.

The election was Zorinsky's first attempt at politics and during his campaign he personally placed about a thousand yard signs and made 260 speeches during a six-week period.

Explaining the reasons for his entrance into the political arena two years ago, Zorinsky said in a newspaper interview, "I've always aspired to public service. I happen to believe that medicine, in this regard, is the most meaningful. But, since, I turned to business, I chose politics as the alternate route. "Politics," he continued, "has become so enmeshed in the life of the average citizen that the only avenue left for him is to get himself politically involved. He must get himself into a position," Zorinsky continued, "where his voice and the voices of those who think as he does will be heard."

After attending high school in Omaha, Zorinsky took pre-medical courses at the University of Minnesota and Creighton University. He then went to the University of Nebraska where he graduated with a chemistry degree.

Zorinsky then decided on a business career and enrolled in the graduate school of executive business management at Harvard.

His career has been at H. Z. Vending and Sales, organized by his father Hymie Zorinsky primarily for the distribution of tobacco products. H. Z., still a large tobacco distributor, also distributes Rock-Ola coin-operated phonographs in Nebraska, Iowa and South Dakota.

Gottlieb Releases 'Scuba' 2Pl. Flipper

■ New Pin Features Advanced Plateau Scoring

Gottlieb SCUBA 2Pl.

CHICAGO — D. Gottlieb & Co. has reached into its sea of ideas to produce "Scuba," the new two-player flipper game with an underwater diving motif. The game features the "carry over—reset" target sequence which includes four plateaus of scoring, point totals increasing with each plateau.

The key to the "plateau" scoring setup is the "bulls-eye" target sequence located at the top of the playfield. The sequence consists of five targets and when all five are hit, the player scores 500 points and advances to the next scoring plateau.

After the player completes the "bulls-eye" target sequence and reaches a new plateau, three rollovers light for 300 points and the targets are automatically reset to challenge the player attempting for the next plateau.

The playfield includes a "mid-field ball back feature" open at all times, returning the ball and giving the player additional scoring opportunities.

The attractive backglass portrays a quartet of scuba divers in search of sunken treasure while an interested school of fish watch intently. One of the boys decides, however, that a mermaid is more attractive than the treasure and takes off in pursuit. His friend has the same idea, but his girl has others as she holds him back by tugging at his left flipper.

"Scuba" provides four-figure scoring and is available now through all local Gottlieb distributors.

American Set to Ship 'Golden Eagle' Table

UNION CITY, N. J. — Location tests have been successfully completed on a brand new American Shuffleboard coin-op game, and production has begun at the factory here in Union City. Named the 'Golden Eagle', the game is a coin-op version of American's 9' long Eagle recreational shuffle item, which debuted earlier this year and has since proved out a most popular piece at schools, hospitals and other institutional type spots.

The Golden Eagle, according to firm general manager Nick Melone, is sized "perfectly" for any location. "We've engineered all the proven cheat-proof features of our regulation length longboards into the little Eagle, such as pingate control which prevents "free" play. While being a scaled down version of our regulation shuffleboard game, it's played exactly the same except the weights are smaller . . . but the game is just as much fun as ever," Melone stated.

Shipments should be out to American dealers within the next two weeks.

S.A.M.I. Jacked from New York Location

NEW YORK — One of the most brazen acts of machine hijacking took place at a Brooklyn bowling alley location Thursday evening, Sept. 3rd, when two young men in white shirts, posing as mechanics for Active Automatics music and games route, wheeled out a new Midway S.A.M.I. target game in plain sight of regular location personnel.

Hal Zimmerman, president of the route, said he and a legitimate Active mechanic had been there only hours before, to answer a service call on the piece. Discovering that the amplifier had been damaged in shipment, he placed an "out of order" sticker across the coin chute and decided to return with a new amp the following morning. When they did return, no S.A.M.I.!

A rather surprised Zimmerman questioned some location workers who told them the two bogus mechanics had taken the unit out the preceding night and said they thought nothing about it. Zimmerman has advised us that the machine's serial number is #2861 and that it still needs that amp.

"I have advised Musical Distributors here in Brooklyn of the theft and they are watching out for it. Meanwhile, I hope Cash Box can advise other dealers and operators that this unit is floating around and if they should see it, try to nab the seller. If anyone in the industry runs into the machine, please call me at (516) RO 6-3696."

Role of Coin Machines In Leisure Discussed By SEGA's Lemaire

(Following is a guest editorial from SEGA's Ray Lemaire, who discusses the expanding role of coin-operated machines in the leisure-time industry, offering interesting background information as well as projections for the future. This message originally appeared in "SEGA Harmony," that firm's weekly employee newsletter—Ed.)

Coin-operated devices have been known for thousands of years. The earliest reported use was in the Egypt of the pharaohs, where holy water was ladled to supplicants at the deposit of a coin. During the renaissance toy savings banks were crafted in which a coin would activate a moving panoply of miniature figures.

Great strides were made in the 1800's when a large variety of amusement, vending and music machines were invented. The present century, though, has witnessed the growth of coin-operated machines into a multi-billion dollar industry. And, most of this world-wide expansion has come within the past 15 years.

Coin-operated machines fall into such broad categories as "service" and leisure-time industries. Vending is usually classified under "service" because of its role in consumer products marketing. Most other coin-operated machines, such as games and jukeboxes, are categorized under the leisure-time industry. While all types of coin machines have a bright future, those in the leisure time field apparently have the best prospects.

Leisure time can be defined as free time during which people may indulge in restful pursuits or in recreation. Recreation can be any sport, play, or amusement used for the refreshment of body and mind. Two other overlapping sub-categories are amusement and entertainment, which mean to keep agreeably occupied, interested or diverted.

Obviously, there are many classifications of coin-operated devices designed to serve every aspect of the leisure-time field. Even more obvious is the fact that leisure-time for the average person is growing and the variety of leisure activities is expanding.

There is clearly a double-growth factor to consider in our industry. Firstly, the amount of time people spend assuring the necessities of life—food, shelter and clothing—is steadily diminishing, while the amount of time spent on leisure is rapidly increasing. Secondly, the share of the leisure-time industry occupied by coin-operated machines is growing.

Another factor favorable to progress is that the number and variety of locations suitable for coin machines is swelling. Public interest in such machines is also increasing as new improvements are added each year. With realistic pricing, operators can also afford to place and maintain more games.

Sports, crafts and hobbies are all growing and coin-operated devices are developing with them. Audio-visual simulators have an exceptionally good potential in the sports and action field. But, coin games and simulators do not only mirror real life sports, they create new ones.

The future of coin-operated machines in the leisure-time field appears to be truly exceptional. Our horizons are endless. The new games we are developing will stimulate ability, challenge awareness, awaken perception, encourage competition, promote fair play, excite the imagination, and continue to provide genuine recreation, amusement and entertainment.

161 Exhibitors Reserve Space at NAMA Convention Nov. 7-10

CHICAGO—A total of 161 exhibitors have already reserved space at the 1970 Convention-Exhibit of Automatic Merchandising, scheduled from November 7 through 10 at the International Amphitheatre here.

Among these are 23 firms which will be showing products and equipment for the first time at the vending show, according to Mel Asch, chairman of the NAMA trade show advisory committee. The 1969 show drew 167 displays.

With Chicago's McCormick Place exhibition hall not yet completed, the NAMA show will be held for the second time in Donovan Hall of the International Amphitheatre complex, said Sidney J. Schapiro, NAMA director of exhibits. He added that the exhibit hall has been refurbished and air-conditioned since the NAMA show was held there in 1967. A total of 112,000 square feet of space will be used for the trade show.

"Profits By Design" has been selected as the theme of the program meetings which are scheduled for the Conrad Hilton Hotel during the morning hours of each convention day. Exhibit hours are set as follows: Saturday, November 7, noon to 6 p.m.; Sunday, November 8, 1:00 p.m. to 6 p.m.; Monday, November 9, 12:30 p.m. to 5 p.m., and Tuesday, November 10, 12:30 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Special bus service will be available from the Hilton Hotel to Donovan Hall, Schapiro said.

All convention program meetings will be aimed at topics to help vending companies improve their profitability, drawing on speakers and subjects of common interest to the industry, said Dick Starke, convention program chairman. Matt Cockrell is general convention chairman.

Program sessions will be scheduled from 9:30 a.m. to noon each day, beginning with the opening session and NAMA annual meeting on Saturday, Nov. 7. A keynote speaker will be on the agenda for the Saturday meeting.

Sunday's agenda will comprise on-the-job training methods for vending company routemen, based on a new series of equipment service guides, to be followed by a panel of experts on the topic of collaboration for progress by the manufacturer, supplier and service company segments. John Burlington, NAMA chairman, will be joined by vending operator and supplier panelists for this session.

The Sunday meeting will conclude with a presentation on methods for pricing to insure profitability.

A "management game" involving the entire meeting audience on the subject of profit planning will lead off the Monday meetings, Starke announced. He said the management game will be based on the NAMA Profit Improvement Handbook authored by Price Waterhouse & Co. Electronic data processing applications for vending companies will be presented as the Monday morning windup.

The final day's program will deal with developments on safety for microwave ovens, new opportunities for vending companies in serving the growing school market and a forecast on the economy by a business analyst.

The annual NAMA banquet, scheduled for Tuesday evening, Nov. 10, will feature Comedian Jimmy Joyce and The Brothers and The Sisters, a well-known singing group composed of 19 girls and boys. Scene of the banquet will be the International Ballroom of the Hilton Hotel, with tickets priced at $15 per person.

Granger Discusses Revision of MOA Awards; Suggests Revamping of Nominating Process

CHICAGO — MOA executive vice president Fred Granger last week suggested a few of the revisions that might be made in the Juke Box awards nominating process when the awards are fully discussed at the MOA's spring board of directors meeting.

Through this year MOA members have participated in both the nominating process and final vote. Overwhelming apathy in the first stage, however, has prompted Granger and several MOA directors to consider revising the nominating process.

The most likely step is that a nominating board will be established. "It might be composed of directors, members at large or trade magazine representatives or whoever the directors decide on at the spring meeting," Granger said.

Until this year awards have been made in three categories—"artist of the year," "record of the year" and "record company of the year." A sparseness of returns resulted in the elimination of the last-named award for this year.

Granger added that the addition of several awards in more specific music categories has been suggested, such as a "best country and western record of the year." Granger emphasized that the suggestions for change do not indicate dissatisfaction with the present awards, but rather indicate the inadequacy of the present nominating process.

"There is no question about the merit of the present awards," Granger said. He added that the returns received thus far for the final vote indicate that a large number of ballots can be expected and that the award winners will be decided by clear-cut decisions representative of MOA's membership across the nation.

EASTERN FLASHES

AROUND TOWN—Calling all New York ops to the Park Sheraton Hotel Tuesday at 8:00 P.M. (Sept. 15) for most important MONY general meeting. Expect quite a few upstaters to be coming down for this gathering of the clan, considering principal topic on agenda will be N.Y.C. solon Scholnick's recent request to the City Council that they enact law to take 6% sales tax from "coin operated amusement devices" on location. Scholnick, we feel, hasn't done his homework, in as much as Millie McCarthy, Al Denver, Howard Bathrick, et al, pretty well beat down the State's drive to sales tax our collections almost two years ago. However, every operator, member or not, should be at the Park Sheraton and get the proper lowdown from Teddy Blatt.

Al Miniaci of Paramount Jukebox has again accepted the chairmanship of the Boys Towns of Italy Journal boost this year. Industry lads should be receiving literature on the charity and journal in their mails and we hope they'll respond as generously as before. It's really a worthwhile campaign and Al and his assistants have always done a first class job with this journal . . . U.S. Billiards sales chief Len Schneller into the city securing decorator material for his exhibit display for the Expo in October. Lenny, the spirit of the 8-ball tournament concept, said he helped fellow residents at his Queens high-rise apartment building put an 8-ball tourney together for themselves. They've got a home table in a rec room there and playoffs were set for this past weekend . . . A.C.A.'s sales veep Mickie Greenman off on the road again, this time to Iowa, Nebraska, Michigan and Wisconsin. Says he and Cliff Stauffer will hold NSM jukebox service classes for ops in Des Moines and Omaha between the 15th and 17th but hadn't selected a site as of press time. Meanwhile, A.C.A. president Hank Leyser was off to Germany and a visit to the NSM factory in Bingen. Will return week of the 20th.

Mutoscope's Larry Galante says Lipsky Distributors' showroom has been completely renovated and looking top notch. New and shopped music, vending and amusement equipment is spaciouly set on the showroom floor with all reconditioning work now being done in warehouse space behind the place. Larry also info's he's set deals with both the Macy's Allied and Klein's Stores chains to put an NSM Prestige 160 box into their teen Dept's. Even the giant new King's Plaza shopping mall in Brooklyn will have a juke in their Macy's . . . Last phone-a-thon for the 1970 UJA drive hearabouts took place last Tuesday. Manning the phones were Al Denver, Ben Chicofsky, Gil Sonin and Carl Pavesi who drove down from White Plains to make his contacts with the upstate guys. The lads have raised over $60,000 in pledges thus far and sold over 300 tickets for the Sept. 26th victory dinner. Incidentally, there'll probably be one more dinner meeting for the executive committee this week at the 1401 Club on Broadway. Check with Ben if you haven't got a card in the mail.

Received a visit at the CB offices from Japanese visitor Takeo Oguri of the Sanko Trading Co. in Tokyo. Sanko imports a wide variety of amusement games from the U.S. . . . Heard from "Samuel Rabbit", songwriter, also known as Samuel Lochansky, fruit and produce man, who told us about his favorite composition, "Juke Box Luke". Sam, who says the tune has been aired over two New York television stations, has sent out several copies of his tune in the hope that an artist or group may consider recording it. Sam, an ASCAP member, says he is "waiting for the big break—a record hit!" . . . Also received a visit from big Bob Jones who has moved his firm, Robert Jones International, to 19 Brook Road in Needham Heights, Mass. Bob visited briefly with coin dealers in search of used phonographs and games for his overseas customers and stopped by to chat with us before catching an evening flight for Boston.

THE JERSEY BOUNCE—Hear that one of McGee's Amusement route trucks was held up Friday before last out in Jersey by two armed men. Two of McGee's lads said the thieves got away with quite a bit of change from collection pile. The cops are on it but . . . well? This kind of stuff is mounting in the metropolitan area and we're convinced the Police Dept. must be pressured to start some serious investigating of operator complaints before it gets even worse . . . Program One Stop's all set up and ready for your record orders in new digs in Union, corner of Rt. 22 and Greenley Ave. Ralph and Dave made the move this past weekend. Place is about a mile south of their former spot at Runyon.

UPPER MIDWEST

Sorry to hear that Forrest Dahl is in the hospital. Back trouble is the cause but we understand that he is getting along as well as can be expected and should be discharged soon, we hope . . . Jack Godfrey told us that he had a very pleasant weekend on his boat with his family. Hadn't done it for a long time . . . Mr. and Mrs. Gene Clennon and some friends in town for a couple of days to take in the Minnesota State Fair . . . Leo Rau in town with the wife letting her get in some shopping. The Raus have spent most of the summer at their lake home since Leo sold out to his nephew.

Dean Schroeder, Aberdeen, in the cities for the day on a quick trip . . . B. F. Kragtorp in town for the day buying equipment and parts and records . . . Very sorry to learn of the death of Dick Grant. Burial was Tuesday Sept. 1st . . . Mr. and Mrs. Arndt Peterson, New Ulm, in town for the day to take in the fair . . . Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Ness, St. Cloud, in town for the Fair as was Curtis Eidenschink of Detroit Lakes . . . Sammy Davis Jr. at the Minneapolis Auditorium Sept. 23.

Frank Berta and his family are leaving this weekend for a two week vacation driving to Glacier National Park, Yellowstone and to the west coast. It will be their first trip to the west coast and are the Bertas excited! . . . Mr. and Mrs. John Czerniak in town visiting their children and taking in the fair . . . Gerald Brickley, Duluth, in the cities for the day as was Clem Kaul and Jimmy . . . Mr. and Mrs. Red Kennedy and children in town for a few days' vacation.

CHICAGO CHATTER

A brand new single player called "Trail Drive" was released by Bally Mfg. Corp. this week. Deliveries are currently in progress, so stop by your local Bally distrib for a look. Understand test reports have been strong. Also be reminded that the factory is still shipping "Zip-A-Doo". For the next couple of weeks Bally ad manager Herb Jones and his missus will be motoring east. They'll be stopping in Ithaca, New York for a vacation visit with Herb's mother, who is 90 years old.

The ChiCoin "Motorcycle" installed along side of Mort Secore's desk is creating quite a traffic jam in his office! Visitors just can't resist stopping by to play it! Of course, at the rate phone orders are pouring in we doubt whether Mort even notices it. The Chicago Dynamics Ind. factory is making every effort to increase its daily output in order to try and meet the demand.

Garfield Music routeman Bill "Cochise" Perez, was feted on his birthday August 23 with a huge surprise party in The Orangetree on Rush Street. And what a party it was—location owners from miles around turned out to celebrate the happy occasion and show their appreciation for many years of fine service. Affair was co-hosted by Jean Fiske and John Jensen . . . Bill DeSelm reports hot and heavy action at Williams Electronics Inc. on "Aces & Kings", "Palos Verde" and "Bonanza" gun.

MOA is certainly going all out in its campaign to promote the upcoming Expo '70 to the fullest. A mailing of posters heralding the show has just been sent to distributors and exhibitors for display at their places of business. Additional posters are available through the local MOA office, at no cost. We might add that "promotion" was one of the main suggestions unanimously approved at the pre-convention exhibitor meetings which were held in Chicago a few months back . . . Joe Kline and the crew at Atlas Music Co. are geared for a big fall season in all departments—music, games, vending.

Mort Levinson of National Coin Machine Exchange is looking forward to his first shipment of the newly released Gottlieb item called "Scuba". The Gottlieb factory will commence deliveries very shortly. National, meanwhile, is concentrating on orders for the Wurlitzer "Statesman" which remains a very big seller. Export is also way up . . . The IAPP group leaving for Japan from the Chicago departure point got quite a send-off at O'Hare Airport last Wednesday (9). Group will remain in the Orient for three weeks, touring Expoland, visiting amusement parks, etc.

If progress continues at its present pace the new Wico Corp. headquarters currently under construction in Niles, Ill. will be ready for occupancy within a couple of months. Ed Ruber tells us everything is going along on schedule and the Wico people are really looking forward to moving in.

The COIN fall meeting is slated for September 27 at the Howard Johnson Motor Lodge, 72nd & Interstate 80 in Omaha. Business meeting will commence at 1:00 p.m. and adjourn promptly at 3:00 p.m. to allow time for the presentation of guest speakers, who will be MOA prexy Lou Ptacek, exec veepee Fred Granger and Nebraska State Attorney General Clarence A. H. Meyers. At the conclusion of business a refreshment hour and banquet will be held. Secretary-treasurer Howard Ellis urges members wishing banquet accommodations to advise the association as soon as possible.

MILWAUKEE MENTIONS

There is a great deal of enthusiasm among local coin people for the upcoming MOA convention to be held October 16-17-18 at the Sherman House Hotel in Chicago. A large contingent from Milwaukee—and the entire state of Wisconsin, for that matter—will be making the short trip into Chicago to be on hand during the three-day conclave.

Buddy Rich and his orchestra will be appearing in the Lake Geneva Playboy Club through September 17, following which Hawaiian star Dick Jensen headlines (18) . . . The Milwaukee Coin Machine Operators Association held a general membership meeting on Tuesday (1) at The Chalet in West Ellis, with prexy Arnold Jost presiding. A very good turnout was reported. Association's secretary "Red" Jacomet says the group has scheduled its next meeting for October 6.

Nice chatting with Jim Stansfield Sr. of Stansfield Novelty in LaCrosse. September is quite a busy month out there. Jim's planning ahead for MOA. He'll be taking a party into Chicago to attend the convention and is arranging for a table at the banquet show to accommodate his group. He's pleased that the show is being held in October this year, a much more convenient time for him to get away.

John Jankowski of Radio Doctors notes heavy operator action on the following singles: "Look What They've Done To My Song Ma" by The New Seekers (Elektra). "Stand By Your Man" b/w "Are You Sincere" by Ray Anthony (Ranwood). "Elmer's Tune" b/w "Ragtime Cowboy Joe" by Dick Jergens (Amsterdam) and "It's Only Make Believe" by Glen Campbell (Capitol).

CALIFORNIA CLIPPINGS

Spoke with Jimmy Wilkins of Portale Automatic Sales who tells us that he is eagerly awaiting the arrival of Gottlieb's new two-player "Scuba", due to arrive at any moment. Jimmy says that he is now getting shipments of Chicago Coin's "Motorcycle" on a regular basis and that it looks as though it will be as big a seller as its predecessor, "Speedway". Beside these successful items, Jimmy says there has been quite a run on Kiddie amusement rides for arcades. He adds the way things are going, the 70's may well be the biggest decade for arcades. Hear that used equipment sales are also going along at a brisk pace.

Another carload of the Rock-Ola "442"s just arrived. Jack Leonard, from the parts department, has just returned from his vacation. Good news seems to come in pairs, at least in the Wilkins family. Number one son, Jim Jr. recently returned from a 21-month hitch in Vietnam, and now number two son, David, just returned from duty in Korea. Both are now out of the service and will be heading back to school this fall at Saddleback Jr. College. We are told that Bob Portale is preparing to leave for the '71 showing of the new Rock-Olas in Clear Point, Alabama, on Oct. 4, 5 and 6th. Looks as though there should be some fun involved since Bob is taking his wife, his golf clubs and his fishing pole. After he returns from there he and Jimmy will be taking off to see friends and associates at the MOA convention in Chicago.

Now to give equal time to Struve Distributing and their Allied "Wild Cycle". Leo Simone reports that it has been one of their best movers.

Introducing the Groovie Goolies— who'll help you sell a lot of records. three extremely persuasive individuals

Drac, Frankie and Wolfie make up an unbelievable new rock group that has a lot more to offer beyond mere good looks.

In addition to their recording and live appearances, their music and voices are also featured in the great new Saturday morning animated cartoon show, Groovie Goolies.

They're insanity and gags galore. And they're going to be a big hit with the kids.

So will the new Groovie Goolies single and album, which, even though they don't have to, sound great.

(After all, who among you would take a chance on offending these guys, by not stocking their records?)

Orders please, for the single:

"Save Your Good Lovin' for Me" (#74-0383
and the album:

"Groovie Goolies" (LSP-4420)
