EDITORIAL Opportunity Beckons

This week, over 20,000 people have gathered in Las Vegas for the 58th annual National Assn. of Broadcasters (NAB) convention. By far the largest gathering of radio and television people in the world, NAB assumes an even greater importance this year.

Like the recent National Assn. of Recording Merchandisers (NARM) convention — which solidified the industry's resolve to fight illegally produced product and, at the same time, debuted a "Gift of Music" campaign that could significantly boost record and tape sales — the NAB convention holds similar opportunities for those in radio and television.

In the area of radio, the just-approved AM stereo concept and the subsequent selection of the Magnavox system are realities that must be faced at once. NAB will not only offer a workshop on the subject, it will provide a meeting ground for NAB members, FCC commissioners and all other involved parties. The questions that need to be asked and the answers that need to be given can happen if NAB members can seize the opportunity.

Much the same can be said for radio deregulation and the proposal to reduce spacing on the AM band to nine kHz. Most of the protagonists in these issues will be present, and it is time to solve the problems.

Much of the value of a convention can be in the personal contacts and interacting that supplement the organized workshops and business sessions. All problems can eventually be worked out if both parties are willing. At NARM, the record industry seemed to right itself after a tough year — can the broadcasters do the same at their convention?

How do I write in a paragraph who I am, how I feel, where I've been and where I want to go? I don't! I can't! The waste paper basket gets full. Instead, you put down this cover, turn down the lights, put on the record, and let the music start. Dance if you feel it, but don't forget to smile. For behind all my words and breaths, you'll be able to feel a little bit of me, at least for awhile. You'll find me right behind "that feeling" that makes you smile.

RIAA Economic Study Documents How Record Industry Was Hurt In 1979

by Ken Terry

NEW YORK — In order to document the record manufacturers' opposition to a change from flat to percentage mechanical royalty rates, the Recording Industry Assn. of America (RIAA) has furnished the Copyright Royalty Tribunal in Washington with an "Economic Study Of The Recording Industry."

Prepared by the Cambridge Research Institute (CRI), the study provides aggregate statistics for the years 1977-79 from 14 recording companies. Among them are Arista, Atlantic, Capitol, CBS, Elektra/Asylum, Forte, Infinity, London, Nashboro, Phonogram, Polydor, RCA, RSO and Warner Bros. All but one of these companies supplied statistics for 1979. By dividing the respondents' wholesale volume by the RIAA's estimate of the industry's total wholesale volume in 1979, the CRI researchers calculated that the respondents accounted for 70.9% of industry sales last year.

Noting a loss of 11.5% on the respondents' net sales, the study concluded, "One fact is strikingly evident from these exhibits: In terms of pre-tax profits (and losses), 1979 was the worst year for the recording industry in recent history."

Excluding license income from masters licensed abroad, the responding companies lost $208.7 million on net sales of $1.8381 billion in 1979, compared to profits of $82.1 million on net sales of $2.0657 billion in 1978. The picture looks a little brighter, however, when last year's license income of $96.5 million (compared to $91 million in 1978) is added in.

According to the study, artists' royalties paid by the respondents totalled $449.3 million in 1977, $504.3 million in 1978, and

Publisher Groups Pushing For New Percentage Royalty

by Joanne Ostrow

WASHINGTON — A mountain of economic studies on the merits of the mechanical royalty rate, requested by the Copyright Royalty Tribunal to help in its determination of the need to adjust the current rate, was filed by interested parties last week.

In addition to a study submitted by the RIAA (see separate story above), filings were also made by the American Guild of Authors and Composers (AGAC), the Nashville Songwriters Assn. International (NSAI) and the National Music Publishers Assn. (NMPA).

Today's rate of 2¾ cents per tune is disputed by authors, composers and publishers. But there is little agreement on how to refigure that rate.

NMPA Study

The NMPA's economic study, prepared by Robert R. Nathan Associates, supports the contention that the 2¾-cent mechanical royalty "is wholly unreasonable as a ceiling rate." Instead, NMPA maintains the royalty should be a percentage of the song's market value, meaning the retail list price. Its suggestion is 6%, a rate it said will remain reasonable until 1987 when the Tribunal is empowered to go through rate adjustment proceedings again.

NMPA pointed out that aggregate mechanical royalties paid to songwriters and music publishers fell far behind record company income — to barely three percent of record sales.

The publishers' group report disputed the record companies' contention that increases in the number of records sold compensate for the ceiling rate. "Because the flat ceiling has not been reasonably adjusted to reflect changes in current rates of

FCC Approval Of AM Stereo Draws Mixed Radio Reaction

by Michael Martinez and Joanne Ostrow

LOS ANGELES — Initial broadcaster reaction to the recent Federal Communications Commission (FCC) decision to permit stereo broadcasting by AM radio was mixed, due to the FCC's simultaneous adoption of the Magnavox AM stereo system.

While some radio staffers maintained a wait-and-see attitude, others said that there were certain limitations inherent with the Magnavox AM stereo system. However, it was generally agreed that AM stereo would eventually mean clearer, better fidelity for music on AM radio. In the past, the better sound was only available on FM broadcasts.

"I'm really thrilled that after all these years the FCC has decided to approve AM stereo," said Bob Kanner, chief engineer at RKO's KHJ/Los Angeles, a station that tested AM stereo, "but as an engineer I'm a bit concerned about the commission's adoption of the Magnavox system."

Dave Forman, program director at KEZY/Anaheim, said, "AM stereo is AM radio's only salvation. This might spark the trend back to more music on AM radio."

Forman said that many AM stations that aspired to program AOR formats, such as KEZY, would surely benefit from "cleaner, fuller transmission."

The 4-2 FCC decision followed a lengthy, 18-month study by the government and ardent efforts by five companies with incompatible and competing AM stereo systems to gain the commission's nod of approval.

The other systems in the running were Kahn-Hazeltine, Harris Corp., Belar Electronics Laboratory and Motorola. Magnavox is a subsidiary of the Dutch-owned corporation N.A. Philips.

While there was some consideration given by the commission to adoption of all five systems, which would have allowed the marketplace to decide which system should be used, the chief scientist for the FCC, Steve Lukasik, and his office of science and technology staff supported

Deregulation Bill, AM Stereo Top Issues At NAB

by Richard Imamura and Mark Albert

LOS ANGELES — The recent Federal Communications Commission (FCC) approval of AM stereo and its designation of the Magnavox system, radio deregulation and the nine kHz proposal for AM spacing will be among the major topics of interest at the 58th annual National Assn. of Broadcasters (NAB) convention this week (April 13-16) at the Las Vegas Convention Center.

Themed "Sight & Sound," the convention will feature numerous workshops, business sessions and approximately 200,000 square feet of exhibit space devoted to the radio, television and engineering fields.

CBS' $5.98 List New Artist Series Appeals To Retailers

by Ken Terry

NEW YORK — CBS is introducing a $5.98 list developing artist series with a dealer incentive program that is considered exceptionally generous by retailers around the country.

All product in the new line, which will hit the stores April 14, will carry an "N" prefix. This was the prefix used on LPs in the former CBS artist development program, which offered dealers a cost price scaled to $1 off list price.

The "N"-prefixed albums will list at $5.98 until "it is deemed appropriate to charge the price customarily charged for new releases from established artists," according to a CBS spokesperson. Another source estimated that the price would rise after an album had sold 100,000 units. But Ernie Hansen, director of branch administration for CBS Records, said that no specific cut-off point had been determined. Whenever it is decided to raise the price, however, accounts will be given two weeks to place one final order at the lower price.

The first LPs in the new line, shipping this week, are by Far Cry, Clifford Coulter, Tommy Tutone and Leah Kunkel. On April 24, dealers will also be receiving $5.98 list releases by Russ Ballard, Jimmy Maelen, the Sorrows, Dirty Looks, Jo Jo Zep and Ray Kennedy, according to Hansen.

Hansen noted that, while an average of five or six new titles will be added to the developing artists series each month, the total number will vary from one month to another. During the Christmas season, for instance, he said, fewer albums by new artists will be released.

Incentive Program

Among the dealer incentives offered under the developing artists program are a 100% return policy (which will not affect calculation of the 20% ceiling on other product), extended rating, discounting, extra credit, and exemption from special shipping charges.

All initial orders on the new artist series that are placed prior to the Thursday before the ship date will carry 120 days dating. Additionally, if an account agrees to take a specific quantity of units on one of the affected titles, it will earn an additional 10% discount on the initial order.

For albums in the new artists series, there will be no pick and pack charge for shipments to individual locations; ship charges for orders of less than 90 units will also be suspended; and there will be no

Floyd Price To Rise?

NEW YORK — According to reliable field sources, Cash Box has learned that CBS Records will raise the suggested list price of "The Wall" by Pink Floyd to $15.98 from $13.98, effective April 21. However, CBS declined to comment on the report.

EDDIE'S JUST CRAZY ABOUT LENE — Stiff-Epic recording artist Lene Lovich recently made an in-store promotional appearance at the Crazy Eddie retail outlet in Hartsdale, N.Y. Lovich's latest LP is entitled, "Flex." Producers, Artists Discuss Digital Recording Potential

by Richard Gold

This is the second article in a two-part series about the state of digital recording in the American music industry today. Part one (Cash Box, April 12) focused on the digital equipment that is available in major recording centers around the country and the viewpoints of studio representatives. Part two deals with the attitudes of producers and recording artists towards digital recording.

NEW YORK — The newness, high expense, and incompatibility of digital recording techniques, coupled with the limited availability of computer-based sound replication equipment in recording studios around the country, are the key factors limiting the changeover of pop music producers and artists from the analog to the digital mode. Nevertheless, those producers and artists who have experimented with the digital process — which measures the amplitude of an audio signal at ultra-high speed, then stores the measurements on magnetic tape in binary language — feel that it represents a breakthrough which will have significant impact in the future.

At present, the competing manufacturers of first-generation digital recording systems are making concerted efforts to interest established producers and pop stars in using their equipment. According to Peter Asher, the producer of Linda Ronstadt's current hit album, "Mad Love," the St. Paul-based 3M Company was "very anxious" to have its 32-track Digital Mastering System employed on the Ronstadt LP. Asher said that he and the singer compared the 3M system with the Sony digital two-track and competitive analog machines at the Record One Studios in Los Angeles. "We found the 3M markedly better," Asher said.

Although "Mad Love" was recorded in analog, it was mixed "entirely digitally," Asher said. The producer was so impressed with the potential of digital recording, that he decided to make his next project, an LP by a new Los Angeles group called Ronin, a full digital production.

"It made my life ten times easier," Asher remarked. "When we mixed the Ronin album, we mixed on to two of the unused tracks on the 3M 32-track. The enormous advantage is that you can punch in and out of a mix at any time. This is something you could never do in a million years with analog." Asher also said that he will "definitely" be using the 3M digital system when he produces James Taylor's next album sometime this summer.

Pressing Plants Increase Prices After PVC Hike

by Marc Cetner

LOS ANGELES — In separate moves that could signal a trend among many of the major pressing plants in the country, the Precision/United Record Pressing plants in Nashville and Allied Record Company in Los Angeles have reacted to the April 1 PVC price hike by upping the prices they charge for pressing albums and singles.

Two of the first pressers to announce a new price list are the Nashville-based Precision and United Pressing Plants. Up until April 9, both companies were charging approximately 19-20 cents per single and 47-55 cents per album, with variable pricing. However, as of April 15, the two companies' new price lists, which are also subject to variable pricing, show an average increase of 2 cents on LPs and 1 cent on 45s.

Allied Record Company of Los Angeles has also adjusted to the second PVC price hike since January by instituting new prices. The company, which presses LPs for Elektra and Disney and 7-inch records for RCA, has upped its LP prices (formerly listing for 50 cents) by almost 1 cent. The 45s were not subject to the price increase since they are pressed with styrene.

While many of the nation's pressing plants plan on absorbing the 6% (2½ cents per-pound of mix) price increase on polyvinyl chloride and others are still evaluating accounts, industry sources believe that many plants will elect to pass

Blanket Licenses Are Ruled Lawful

NEW YORK — Circuit Judge Jon O. Newman of the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit has ruled that the blanket licenses offered by ASCAP and BMI to television networks are entirely lawful. The unanimous decision ruled that CBS, which had contested the policy, had failed to prove that blanket licensing restrains competition. The decision affirmed the initial ruling by District Judge Lasker in his 1975 dismissal of CBS' complaint against ASCAP and BMI.

Judge Newman's decision marks the fourth round in the eleven-year-old litigation, brought on Dec. 31, 1965 by CBS. The initial ruling by the District Court in 1975 was reversed in 1977 by the Second Circuit Court of Appeals, which ruled that blanket licensing was illegal as price fixing, but was reversed in 1979 by the United States Supreme Court, which sent the case back to the Court of Appeals with instructions to analyze blanket licensing.

According to Edward Chapin, general counsel for BMI, blanket licenses do not restrict competition because licensees always have the alternative of paying individual publishers directly. Under the terms of blanket licensing, a licensee agrees to pay a fixed sum to a licensing agency, regardless of which material is used and the number of times it is used. According to Chapin, "we now have to go back to a lower court and fix the rate that must retroactively be paid."

According to ASCAP president Stanley Adams, "this decision will surely be applauded by the entire ASCAP membership. We hope very shortly to resume normal business relations with one of our most valued licensees, the CBS TV network."

Dealers Question Wisdom Of WEA's Catalog Price Hike

by Leo Sacks and Mike Glynn

NEW YORK — WEA Corp.'s announcement that it is raising the suggested list and wholesale prices on 113 multiple record and tape sets in its catalog has prompted many of the nation's rack and retail accounts to adjust their prices accordingly, a Cash Box survey has revealed.

The increases, which bring LP and tape price parity to the majority of goods that formerly differed from $1 to $3 in list price, went into effect March 31 (see separate story). A WEA spokesman attributed the price hikes to "increased manufacturing, shipping, vinyl and paper costs." "Many of the titles have been underpriced for years," he said, "and now the WEA labels are bringing the prices up to where they belong."

WEA has notified its accounts that all returns authorized before June 27 on the affected catalog selections will be credited at their original purchase price.

The price changes instituted by WEA are the first major suggested list and wholesale price shifts in 1980, and many accounts noted the irony of the move in view of the success CBS Records has had with its $5.98 catalog series. While it was not immediately clear whether accounts would cut back on their orders of the affected product, a number of those surveyed said they felt certain the new costs would impact upon multiple purchase sales.

"I'm not going to stop buying the catalog items just to retaliate," said Billy Emerson, general manager for the Big State Distributing Corp. in Dallas. "That is, unless I see the prices are affecting my sales." Emerson's comments typified those accounts who said they will closely watch sales on the affected goods to determine whether or not there will be consumer resistance.

"If we can sell it, we'll buy it. That's our policy," noted Nevin St. Romain, general

CASH BOX

MCA recording artist Rupert Holmes has long been recognized for his talent as a songwriter and producer, but it has only been within the last 12 months that his own six-year old recording career has finally come to fruition. His unique, musical short stories and penetrating modern observations of the tangled web lovers weave has earned two Top 10 singles with the recent "Him" and the immensely popular "Escape (The Pina Colada Song)," which shot to #1 on the Cash Box Top 100 singles chart.

Born in Cheshire, England, Holmes' family emigrated to the U.S. when he was quite young and the slight, bespectacled youth was raised in Nyack, N.Y. His budding talents as a songwriter flowered early, for while he was attending the Manhattan School of Music as a composition major, he wrote a Top 10 hit for the little-known Buoys entitled "Timothy."

Next came tunes for the Partridge Family, in addition to compositions and arrangements for the Drifters, Platters and Gene Pitney, among others, and Holmes also arranged music for the Carol Burnett and Englebert Humperdinck TV shows.

One artist who quickly became enamored with Holmes' songwriting style was Barbra Streisand, who asked him to arrange and co-produce her "Lazy Afternoon" LP. Four of his tunes ended up on the album and Streisand ended up cutting more of his compositions, as did a host of others, including Barry Manilow, Mac Davis and the Manhattan Transfer. Holmes also produced records for such diverse talents as the Strawbs, Sparks and John Miles in London, building an international reputation as a hitmaker.

His own career, which started with the Epic LP "Widescreeen" in 1974, was only moderately successful. After three albums — "Singles," "Pursuit of Happiness," and a self-titled effort — he finally found his groove, so to speak. Moving to the now-defunct Infinity label, he cut "Partners In Crime" and shot a bullseye right on the heart of American listeners.

NEW FACES TO WATCH

Christopher Cross

Christopher Cross, who was born in San Antonio, Texas in 1951, still makes his home in the Lone Star State. He launched his high-flying single, "Ride Like The Wind," which is featured on his self-titled debut LP for Warner Bros. Records, with a band that he formed and nurtured in his adopted hometown of Austin.

"Most people leave Texas because it can be musically stifling," says Cross, who points out that most recording artists who gain national prominence out of Texas are either pure country acts or hard rockers. "I'm definitely into making commercial pop music, and I don't think that anything pop like us has ever come out of Texas," he says.

When he was in the seventh grade Cross took up the drums, inspired by "Dave Brubeck-type music." Soon after he became interested in rock and roll. "I was a singing drummer, but I found that the drums were not a good melodic instrument," he recalls, "so I took up the guitar." When he entered high school in San Antonio, Cross formed his first band, Flash. By the early Seventies the band was opening shows in San Antonio for top name touring acts.

According to Cross, Flash was a "pretty melodic" outfit as opposed to a "very heavy rock band." Audiences in the early seventies, Cross says, were more receptive to a "mix of genres" at concerts. "If some bizarre band would open for Led Zeppelin people would still listen to them. These days if you're going to open for ZZ Top you'd better be ready to kick ass, because that's what the fans are waiting for."

Cross disbanded Flash in 1973 in order to enter San Antonio College. At that time he planned to become a physician, like his father. "I had decided to pursue pre-med heavily," Cross recalls, "but I kept playing and writing music while I was living at home." Eventually, the pull of a musical career became too strong to resist. "I talked it over with my father, and I finally decided to quit school and get the band together with Andy Salomon (bass) and Rob Meurer (keyboards)."

Cross and the band moved to Austin where they entered into a "co-op deal" with the Pecan Street recording studios. While they were honing their original material in the studio, the Christopher Cross band found steady and lucrative work "playing dances, frat parties, clubs and copy gigs" in the Austin area.

When the time finally arrived to record his original material, Cross and the band went to Los Angeles, eager for the opportunity to work with Warner Bros. staff producer Michael Omartian. "Steely Dan is my favorite band," says Cross, "and Michael has been all over their records. As a musician and a producer he's one of the most talented, if not the most talented guy that I've ever met."

The Cross sessions soon attracted such Los Angeles area musical luminaries as Don Henley of the Eagles, J.D. Souther, Michael McDonald, Nicolette Larson (who had been recording in the adjacent studio) and ace session guitarist Larry Carlton.

The Cross band is planning a national tour that will begin "around the end of April." Cross wants "Ride Like The Wind" to be number one. "Sometimes I feel more like a businessman than a musician but that's just a fact of life," he says.

Photoglo

Five steady years of gigging in clubs in Los Angeles' South Bay area — playing everything from Steely Dan-influenced jazz to Poco-tinged country rock — has given Jim Photoglo an eclectic adult pop sound. The dues paying experience looks as though it is already reaping benefits as Photoglo's commercial, uptempo ballad, "We Were Meant To Be Lovers," has already reached the #82 bullet position on the Cash Box pop singles chart.

While the successful single and the young 20th Century-Fox recording artist's album are listed as solo projects, Photoglo's music is very much a joint effort. Ron Neary is Photoglo's composing partner and producer. The two met in 1974 while Photoglo was playing a club called Orville and Wilbur's in Manhattan Beach.

Neary (who has written songs for such popular music luminaries as Olivia Newton-John, Gladys Knight and Anne Murray) and Photoglo decided that co-writing songs and giving them to other artists was an unsatisfying relationship, so in 1975 the duo began channeling their talents into Photoglo's solo career.

While the two have been partners for the past several years, they decided that it would be best if Photoglo left the club circuit, and for more than a year now, both careers have been based around the production of Photoglo's debut LP.

"I'd had quite enough of performing in clubs," says Photoglo. "Beating your head out for 4½ hours to an audience that's there just to hustle someone next to them and blow smoke in your face wasn't making it for me. You get all your desire to play out during a club gig and then what are you going to do when you go to create?"

Although Photoglo enjoys performing, the strength that he has saved since leaving the South Bay circuit has been injected into an A/C-oriented album that displays his versatility. The album contains songs such as the Kenny Loggins-flavored ballad, "Faded Blue," the Boz Scaggsian "Steal Away" and the country rock-influenced "20th Century Fool."

The young singer/songwriter's mainstream sound has also been influenced by a diverse musical background as well as the trendy club circuit. Photoglo, which means "son of light" in Greek, has always been surrounded by music as his immigrant mother and his sister and brothers all played instruments. Too small to play the guitar, at age five he began playing the ukelele. Another major part of his musical education was listening to "Mudbone," a Richard Pryor-like figure, who played low down Mississippi blues for the kids in Photoglo's Inglewood, Calif. neighborhood. Other sounds that contributed to Photoglo's musical roots include those of Elvis Presley, Sam Cooke and the Beatles.

Presently Photoglo and partner Neary are spending time crafting the type of love ballad that was such a prominent part of the debut LP.

"We pride ourselves on writing meaningful ballads about the male/female relationship," says Photoglo. "We concentrate on writing memorable melodies and vivid lyrics about love — it's the most intense feeling a person can go through and we all can identify with losing at it or winning at it."

WEA Int'l, Warner Bros. Music Sales Figures Highlight WCI Annual Report

by Leo Sacks

NEW YORK — The revenue growth of WEA International and Warner Bros. Music last year were two of the highpoints of the performance of Warner Communications Inc.'s Recorded Music and Music Publishing division, according to the company's recently released 1979 Annual Report.

With representation in 19 countries, WEA International had revenues of $294.3 million last year, up from $194.4 million in the previous year. Moreover, revenues have grown at a compound rate in excess of 30% annually since 1972. However, profits for the company in 1979 were "flat," according to the report, due to the inclusion, for the first time, of Japanese revenues and the absence of releases in the first nine months of 1979 from the U.S. labels' major artists with established international followings. The report also noted that, in many of the countries in which WEA International operates, inflation was "particularly severe." Nevertheless, WEA International's current fiscal year is expected to benefit from the fourth quarter releases of albums by Led Zeppelin, Fleetwood Mac and the Eagles.

Warner Bros. Music had record revenues of $31 million in 1979, a 10% increase over the $28.2 million figure posted in 1978. The growth of the company, according to the report, can be traced to the

First Qtr. Sales Rise For CBS Records Group

NEW YORK — First quarter revenues for the CBS Records Group increased 22% compared to the same period last year, and the division also reported "a significant profit advance." However, first quarter net income for CBS, Inc. declined 27% to $13 million from $17.8 million for the first quarter of 1979.

CBS revenues reached a new first quarter high of $967.4 million. This was a 17% jump from $828.7 million in 1979's first period.

William S. Paley and John D. Backe, chairman and president, respectively, of CBS, Inc., attributed the strong first-quarter performance of the Records Group to its expanding international division and a rebound in domestic label sales.

According to Paley and Backe, a profits decline in the CBS Broadcast Group caused by increased expenditures, as well as first-quarter earnings downturns for the CBS Publishing and CBS Columbia Groups, were among "several unforeseen factors" contributing to the corporation's first-quarter drop in earnings.

expansion of its foreign operations, which experienced a revenue rise of more than 50 percent; an increase in performance royalties; and the continued high level of revenues from the publication of sheet music and song folios. The report added that foreign revenues, which were approximately triple the 1975 level of $17.7 million, came from the wholly-owned affiliates of the company in nine major countries.

Although revenues for WCI's Recorded Music and Music Publishing division advanced to a record $725.3 million last year from $617.1 million in 1978, operating in-

DJ Music Awards Nominees For 1980 Are Announced

by Michael Martinez

LOS ANGELES — Expanding the areas of recognition, nominees were announced for the 1980 DJ Music Awards, held last year as the "Disco Music Awards." The program is to be held Thursday, May 8, at the ABC-TV Center in Los Angeles, from where it will be broadcast live.

The winners will be selected by music and program directors throughout the country. Commenting on the criteria used to select nominees and the eventual winners, Mike Mamakos, spokesman for the awards, said that most of the radio people determined which artists "achieved the most" in a given music category.

"Artistry is important, but the cornerstone in the selection process is popularity," he added.

This year's categories include contemporary/popular, soul and country music. Topping nominees in the contemporary/popular category were Billy Joel and the Doobie Brothers with three each, followed by Rupert Holmes and Barry Manilow, who received two each.

Joel was nominated as best male artist, for best songwriter and for best album ("52nd Street"). The Doobies were nominated as best duo or group, for best album ("Minute By Minute") and best single ("What A Fool Believes"). Michael McDonald, lead singer for the Doobies, was also nominated best songwriter. Manilow was nominated best male artist and best producer, while Holmes was nominated for most promising artist and best songwriter.

Michael Jackson headed the soul music category nominees with four, including best male artist, best album ("Off The Wall") and two in the best single category ("Rock With You" and "Don't Stop 'Til You

IF YOU THINK DIGITAL IS JUST AROUND THE CORNER, YOU'RE ALREADY A STEP BEHIND.

Nearly everyone in the recording industry agrees that digital is the technology of the future. Unfortunately, they're also under the impression that it won't be available until then.

There are, however, some notable exceptions to that philosophy. Like A & M Records, Warner Bros. Records, Record Plant, Westlake Audio, Audio Video Rents and Sound 80. You see, they've all installed the multi-track digital system that's available right now.

3M's 32-track Digital Mastering System

The reasons are obvious. Because digital captures all the pure, full-range highs and lows and surrounds them with clean, no-hiss silence. The result is transparent, distortion-free sound itself. Whether it's the first generation or the twentieth.

But there's one other reason why so many outstanding studios are using 3M's Digital Mastering System for the entire recording process.

They like to stay a step ahead.

For more information, write: Digital Mastering/3M, Building 223-5S/3M Center, St. Paul, MN 55101.

come of $81.7 million was 12 percent below the $92.6 million figure achieved in 1978. The report attributed this performance to several factors, including an unusually high rate of returns and a lower number of multi-million-unit selling records than in previous years.

Returns posed a "difficult" problem for the WEA Corp., particularly in the first three quarters of 1979. The percentage of returns to gross shipments dropped sharply in the fourth quarter, however, with return authorizations reaching their lowest level of 1979 at the year's end. This was "well below" a year ago and "less than half their peak total" in the second quarter of 1979, Schein Appointed As President Of Polygram Corp.

NEW YORK — Harvey L. Schein has been appointed president and chief executive officer of Polygram Corp. He will be in charge of all Polygram operations in the U.S. and will also serve as a vice president of the European-based Polygram Group. Schein, whose appointment becomes effective May 1, will be the first American executive to serve in a top management capacity with the Polygram Group.

Schein will take over the presidency of Polygram Corp. from Dr. Werner Vogelsang, who was president from 1974 to the present, but has not been in residence here since 1977. Dr. Vogelsang, who is also a Polygram Group vice president, was recently appointed president of the worldwide Polygram Record Operations organization.

Irwin H. Steinberg, who has directed the day-to-day activities of Polygram Corp. as executive vice president during Dr. Vogelsang's absence, will remain in his corporate position, in addition to serving as chairman and chief executive officer of the recently formed Polygram Record Operations, U.S.A., which is responsible for most of the company's recorded music activities in this country.

WCI Alumnus

Schein has been executive vice president of Warner Communications, Inc. since joining that company in 1978. Prior to that, he had served as chairman and chief executive of Sony Corp. of America since 1972. His career also included 14 years with CBS Inc., where his last position was president of the CBS/Columbia Group, a vice president of the corporation and a member of the CBS Board of Directors.

Schein joined CBS after having been associated with a prominent New York City law firm. He holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from New York University, and he graduated from Harvard Law School in 1952.

according to the report. Despite the substantial increase in returns, the study said that WEA was able to improve its cash collections last year by approximately eight percent over 1978's figure.

The report discounted the theory that the increase in the suggested list price to $8.98 from $7.98 contributed to the industry's problems in 1979 by noting that only 40% of WEA's unit sales of single disc albums and tapes listed for $8.98.

According to the report, the record and music industry's problems last year must be seen in the perspective of the industry's 25 straight years of growth prior to 1979. From 1966 to 1969, industry revenues rose at a 16% compound rate. Growth dropped to a six percent rate from 1970 to 1973, but stabilized at nine percent in 1974 and 1975. From 1966 to 1975, therefore, industry growth was 10% compounded in dollars, roughly half from unit growth and half from price increases. However, from 1976 to 1978, industry growth exploded to 14% compounded in units and 19% in dollars.

Several factors led the sharply accelerated rate of growth during this period, the report said. These included a "substantial" number of new entrants into the record-buying population; the proliferation of full-line record stores where both current and catalog product could be purchased; "sociological factors which caused the record buying habit to continue as consumers grew older"; the growth in demand for consumer audio equipment; and the emergence of pre-recorded tape, whose dollar sales doubled in the three years ending in 1978. The study said that while these trends diminished in 1979, they still remain essentially intact.

Pointing to the emergence of numerous albums capable of selling millions of units per release during this period, the report said that the success of "Saturday Night Fever" and "Grease" "led to unrealistic expectations by both manufacturers and retailers as to the industry's near-term potential." The albums accounted for approximately nine percent of the industry's total domestic dollar volume in 1978, according to the report.

Radio's "disproportionate" devotion to disco music in relation to its unit sales was also partly responsible for the downturn in the domestic wholesale record business last year, the report stated. As a result of broad disco airplay, said the report, there were less time available to promote records with wider sales potential.

Concluding that the "factors responsible for the long-term growth of the recorded music business are fundamentally unchanged," the study reaffirmed detailed market research by WCI that "growth in consumer demand will continue." U.S. consumers have spent nearly $25 billion on audio equipment over the past decade, according to the report, and 83% of all U.S. households have audio playback equipment, with better than 50% having both record and tape players.

CBS Taps Blowers

NEW YORK — J. Garrett Blowers has been appointed vice president of the corporate planning office of CBS, Inc. He will report to Thomas M. Kirwan, CBS vice president of finance.

Blowers had been vice president of the investor relations department since June 1975. He joined CBS in September 1973 as associate director of investor relations and in December 1974 was appointed director of that department. Prior to joining CBS, he was with the American Broadcasting Companies, Inc. for seven years, serving as director of corporate information and in a number of other communications positions.

Siegel Named — Bob Siegel has been named general manager of RFC Records and of Warner Bros. Dance Music Department. He has been with RFC and Warner Bros. Dance Music Department since their inception. He was originally national disco promotion coordinator at TK Records.

Einczig Appointed — Steven Einczig has been appointed associate director, product management, west coast, E/P/A. He joined CBS in 1976 as an inventory clerk in the New York branch and was promoted to the A&R department of the CBS Associated Labels. He moved to Los Angeles in 1978 as a product manager and has held that position until his current move.

Changes At 20th — 20th Century-Fox Records has announced staff positions and additions. Dianne Leedy was promoted from manager to director of accounting. She was staff assignments director at the accounting firm of Haskins & Sells prior to her appointment at 20th. Curtis Yew, formerly with McCulloch Corp. in the internal audits section, will serve as royalty manager. Susan Fickenscher, senior accountant, recently joined 20th. She previously worked in the international department at Warner Brothers Films. Arlene Slotnick, royalty accountant, and Lauralee Phillips, junior accountant, are additional new appointees to the 20th accounting staff.

Smith Named At Capitol — Lee Smith has been promoted to national classical sales director for Capitol Records, Inc. Prior to this promotion, he was Angel/Seraphim's Chicago-based DSPM (Divisional Sales & Promotion Manager), a post he held from 1977 to present. He joined Capitol in May 1972 as the territory manager for the label's Washington, D.C. sales branch.

Shoemaker To MCA — MCA Music has announced the appointment of Rick Shoemaker to director of creative services for MCA Music. Prior to joining MCA Music, he was with Infinity Music where he was national director of music publishing. Shoemaker was also with ABC Music where he served as vice president for three years.

Dunham Promoted — Mark Dunham has been named vice president and general manager of Bradley Publications. He was previously Bradley's advertising director. Before coming to Bradley, he was musical director for Windsong Records.

Higgins Named — Michael P. Walsh & Assoc. of Golden, Colo., has announced the appointment of Barry Higgins, to executive vice-president in charge of talent acquisition and production.

Jacknick Joins Bradley — Alan Jacknick has been named sales director at Bradley Publications. Before joining Bradley in the sales department one year ago, he was co-owner of VIP music, a print-jobber in Ithaca, N.Y.

Gale Named At Scott/Sunstorm — Howard Gale has joined Scott/Sunstorm Recording Studios as mixing and recording engineer. Gale, a veteran of 17 years in the industry, formerly was with ABC Recording Studios.

Stein Appointed — The appointment of Len Stein as public relations representative for the Fuji Magnetic Tape Division has been announced. He was formerly account supervisor on the Sony Industries and Sony Video Products Company accounts.

Bob Jamieson

Jamieson Named As CBS Staff VP

NEW YORK — Bob Jamieson has been appointed to the newly created position of vice president of marketing and creative operations on the staff of Richard Asher, deputy president and chief operating officer of the CBS Records Group. In his new capacity, Jamieson will be responsible for coordinating worldwide marketing and A&R activities of the CBS Records and CBS International divisions. He will be involved in developing marketing strategies for product released by both divisions and strengthening their worldwide interaction. He will also coordinate the overall career development of major CBS recording artists throughout the world.

Jamieson, who most recently served as branch manager of New York for CBS Records, joined the firm in 1968 as inventory clerk. In 1972 he was named branch manager in Minneapolis, and in 1975 became manager of CBS, Cleveland branch.

Rudin Appointed Regional VP For Polygram Distrib.

NEW YORK — Shelly Rudin has been appointed regional vice president of Polygram Distribution Inc. He will report to Jack Kiernan, vice president of sales for the company.

In his new position, Rudin will oversee the activities of the company's branches in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, and Washington, D.C. The branch managers in those cities will report to Rudin.

Previously, Rudin was the New York branch manager for Polygram Distribution.

RCA Names Bermingham

NEW YORK — John H. Bermingham has been named vice president and general attorney for the RCA Corporation. Since 1973, Bermingham had been staff vice president and general attorney for corporate affairs for RCA. He joined the corporation in 1949 as an attorney on its legal staff, and was appointed RCA's counsel for corporate affairs in 1951.

For The Record

Tom Cossie adds the following information to the story he gave Cash Box for an article in the April 12 issue, entitled "Cossie's Precision Records Signs With CBS": Chic is signed to MK Productions, not to Record Logic, although Cossie has a 50% interest in the group's contract with MK. In addition, Rob Hegel is an artist on Chateau Productions, a firm in which Cossie is the principal. Finally, Maye James' Nouveau Monde Promotions is responsible for all of Record Logic's R&B promotion.

JAY BECKENSTEIN GROWS HIS OWN — Reedman-composer Jay Beckenstein is an American success story, with jazz roots that he traces to Charlie Parker, Coleman Hawkins, Lester Young, Cannonball Adderley and Stan Getz, and an R&B sensibility that encompasses the work of King Curtis and David "Fathead" Newman. Beckenstein and his band Spyro Gyra have established themselves as reigning heavyweights in the pop jazz/adult contemporary market with hits like "Morning Dance," "Shaker Song" and their newest effort "Catching The Sun" (on MCA). In only two weeks on the charts, "Catching The Sun" had risen to #54 with a bullet on last week's Cash Box top 100. It's a suede-glove sound, with airy, samba-inflected colors on top, a firm R&B pulse underneath, and Beckenstein's pure, melodious saxophone improvisations floating through it all, a quiet fire that percolates without ever quite boiling over. "Catching The Sun" is a refinement of the directions Beckenstein has been working on since the astonishing success of his first album, a self-produced effort called "Spyro Gyra" which took off with sales of 225,000 in a matter of months without any promotion or touring outside of a several-hundred mile radius of Buffalo, New York. "That album was intended as a final statement, a gift, to the people who liked our music and supported it. I borrowed $30,000 to produce it, but I never expected it to go over as well as it did. Based on the success of that, we got an album on the late, great, Infinity Records called 'Morning Dance' which is still charted and has sold over 700,000 records in America and almost 1,000,000 world wide. The reason for our success is hard work. Since 'Spyro Gyra' came out we've been on the road for eight months a year, three years straight. The whole Spyro Gyra trip has been created by us and our fans, not by the record company. We've organized our own tour support and budgets, our own management. Our first album was strictly an independent deal until we got distribution with Amherst. Most importantly, we've gotten out into all of the towns jazz groups usually never played and built a following. A lot of people who envy our success never got out of New York City into places like Des Moines; they weren't willing to give up that studio money and make no money for a whole year. That's what we did, and we stuck with it, and that's why we got over."

SPIRALING UPWARD — MCA recording artists Spyro Gyra are currently soaring up the Cash Box jazz charts at #2 bullet with their LP "Catching the Sun." (The band's leader and primary writer, Jay Beckenstein, is profiled in this week's column).

Do you see yourself as a jazz artist or a pop artist, I wondered? "Artistically speaking I consider myself nothing at all," said Beckenstein. "I don't label myself. So rather than call myself pop or jazz I prefer to think of it as contemporary. Economically speaking though I suppose I'm pop. But it's funny with some critics. They'll call my music jazz, putting me in a category I wouldn't put myself in, and then they put me down for not being jazz. That's contradictory to me, but I don't lose any sleep over it so long as the public accepts my music."

And what did Beckenstein see as future directions for the band? "Well, like you said, 'Catching The Sun' is a refinement of what we've been doing," he replied, "but for the next album — which we'll be recording in June — the band and I feel we should become more experimental and take some more risks in instrumentation and variety of material — we don't want to simply become formulaic. I mean, the music we've been doing has been very satisfying, and we think it's helped a lot of jazz artists by opening up the doors to radio airplays. Right now there isn't a lot of mainstream music played on radio, but a step has been made. Now at least it's not required to have a singer to get on the radio — you can get over with instrumental music, too."

AFRICAN MARKETPLACE — Dollar Brand — Elektra 6E-252-A — Producer: Not listed — List: 7.98

All of a sudden, Elektra is looking like a leader in progressive music, with albums by Joni Mitchell, Lenny White, Patrice Rushen, Mingus Dynasty, Chico Hamilton and this wonderful new album by the legendary South African pianist, Dollar Brand. "African Marketplace" is reflective and jubilant by degrees, with a lyricism and a rhythmic drive that should prove very appealing to fans of Weather Report, Keith Jarrett, David Sanborn, reggae, dance music, and jazz.

MONSTER — Herbie Hancock — Columbia JC 36415 — Producer: David Robinson & Herbie Hancock — List: 7.98

On his latest confunktion, the keyboardist has given over the vocals to excellent singers like Greg Walker and Gavin Christopher. As a result, this is Hancock's most assured pop album, with plenty of crossover potential. Pay special attention to the Isley Brothers inflected rock of "Don't Hold It In" and "It All Comes Round," a collaboration with Carlos Santana on the hustling rave-up, "Saturday Night," and the disco-funk of "Stars In Your Eyes."

THE SHOUTERS — Roots of Rock 'N Roll, Volume 9 — Savoy 2284 — Producer: Bob Porter — List: 8.98

Rock and roll and most other dance-oriented musics arose out of the synthesis of '40s rhythm and blues and '30s swing and gospel music. This is an essential series that documents the key transitions. Volume 9 features the work of Gatemouth Moore, Chicago Carl Davis, Eddie Mack, H-Bomb Ferguson and Nappy Brown, covering a period from 1945 to 1957. In a varied selection of novelty tunes and hip-shaking rockers. There are appearances by many of the jazzmen who helped define this genre, including Harry Carney, Budd Johnson and Lockjaw Davis.

JAZZ ALBUM PICKS

ON THE ROAD — Count Basie and Orchestra — Pablo Today D2312112 — Producer: Norman Granz — List: 8.98

The prophet of Kansas City swing shows no signs of slowing down. "On The Road" is one of the most powerful big band recordings in recent memory, and the use of the Sony Systems Digital Recording equipment puts you in the front row of the audience. The rhythm section is crisp and full, the reeds dark and resonant, and the brass just explodes like a cannon. Basie's band and material is equal to the technological perfection, with fine vocals from Dennis Roland on Nat Adderley's "Work Song" and exultant flagwavers like "Wind Machine," "In A Mellow Tone" and "Basie."

BARTZ — Gary Bartz — Arista AB 4263 — Producers: Reggie Lucas and James Mtume — List: 7.98

Gary Bartz is one of the finest alto saxophonists in jazz, and an important figure in crossover realms, as well, through his hit recording "I've Known Rivers." "Bartz" is a likely candidate for pop jazz success due to the polished production of Reggie Lucas and Mtume which couch Bartz's lyrical alto anthems in sleek settings of modern R&B with potent dance grooves. There's much in common with David Sanborn's "Hideaway," and "(Give It Your Best), Shot!" seems a likely candidate for airplay.

IMAGES — Jonathan Meredith — Magic S101 — Producer: Guy Costa — List: 7.98

Crystalline, distinct tones best speak to the young guitarist's solo debut on this LP. There is always the feeling Meredith plays fewer notes than he actually knows. His polysyllabic presentation, however, on cuts like "Tuleburg" and "Rupak Tal," which harken to the eight-string guitar style of Brazilian Egberto Gismonti, is the most inspired technical work, while "Falling" is most illustrative, entailing a variety of emotional tones.

Dealers Balk At WEA Hike

manager for the 11-unit Sound Warehouse chain in Dallas. "As far as we're concerned, the consumer is already used to paying higher prices for records. And you know that if the consumer wants something bad enough, he'll pay for it."

'Poor Timing'

Other dealers were not so optimistic. Calvin Simpson, president of Simpson's Wholesale in Detroit, said "the timing was very, very poor. We've already cut our WEA inventory in light of their returns policy, and this only serves to aggravate the situation. Now we have to raise our shelf price, and in a market that's down already, it's a bad move."

"Of course, we're not happy," said Al Geigle, national retail sales manager for Montgomery Ward, the 300-unit general merchandise chain and subsidiary of the Mobil Oil Corp. "Our stores have always stocked a good number of WEA Catalog titles, and these increases could have a very negative affect on the numbers we keep in stock. But let's wait and see how our customers react once we raise our shelf prices."

The impact of the price increases on the consumer is likely to affect movement on titles which have proved to be consistent sellers, according to Evan Lasky, president of the 95-outlet Budget Records and Tapes chain in Denver. "Some of the titles, such as the Grateful Dead's 'Europe '72' set, have

by Marc Cetner

LOS ANGELES — Elektra/Asylum, in conjunction with Paramount Pictures and Irving Azoff's Full Moon Record and Frontline Management company, is launching a multi-million dollar merchandising-marketing campaign in support of the soundtrack to the film Urban Cowboy.

Paramount will spend almost $4 million on promotion for the film and E/A, which will release the two-record set April 15, almost a month prior to the film's debut, will dovetail its extensive drive into the movie company's campaign when the film is released.

The label itself will stage a two-fold campaign consisting of national and local radio and print ads and special point-of-purchase display materials keyed to the album's release. The first part of the marketing drive will be oriented towards retail and will offer a 5% discount, as well as extra dating (the due date being July 10). The second phase will be directed at the nation's rack jobbers after the movie has been distributed across the country.

Paramount Pictures is set to premier the Bob Evans/Irv Azoff produced film June 5 in Houston. Urban Cowboy will make its national debut on June 15 and be released to over 1,000 theatres across the country during the month.

The movie stars John Travolta and is directed and written by Jim Bridges, who has Paper Chase and The China Syndrome to his credit. The film is billed as a "modern western" and deals with the life of Brad Davis (John Travolta), who escapes the daily rigors of working at a petrochemical plant by turning into an "urban cowboy" on the Houston club scene at night.

Massive Campaign

Vic Faraci, vice president/director of marketing at Elektra/Asylum, calls the marketing-merchandising drive for the soundtrack a "massive campaign."

"The record has so many different artists and such a broad-based appeal that it can be perfectly incorporated into NARM's 'gift giving' theme," he said. "There is a lot of always sold well as catalog," he said. "I'm worried that the new price category will stop its flow." Lasky noted that the increases will almost certainly result in the reduction of WEA catalog in his warehouse.

Other retailers echoed Lasky's concern for the movement of certain catalog goods. For example, Cathy Boudreau, album buyer for the Music Plus Chain in Los Angeles, said that many of WEA's jazz titles, in particular, will now become special order items in light of the increases. And Michael Reef, executive vice president of Everybody's Records in Portland said that on many groups, including those named in the WEA price increases, "we intend to stop stocking catalog completely. We just don't move as much of it as we did a year ago."

Limited Demand

"I can see going from a list price of $9.98 to $11.98 on an album that's three or four years old," commented Phil Steinberg, stock supervisor for P.B. One-Stop in St. Louis. "But to go as high as $16.98 for something like 'The Last Waltz' well, that's like blowing smoke. The record couldn't even move at $14.98. It all just came as a shock." He added, "The demand for many of the titles is limited at best, so we'll probably hold on to the few pieces of each number that we have in stock, even though I don't anticipate much of a rush."

Bayard Spector, executive vice president of Spec's Music Stores in Coral Gables, Fla., told Cash Box that he fully understood WEA's policy decision on the basis of the current cost of single discs. "But," he cautioned, "how much can a consumer afford to spend for catalog product that's several years old, especially when you've got hit CBS titles listing for $5.98. Maybe WEA feels as though raising the prices won't make an appreciable difference. I know that I'm sure as hell going with the flow and raising my prices. I just hope that I'm not too high off the ground to catch myself in the event that the bubble bursts."

Jim Lawson, president of Popcorn, the seven-unit retail chain based in Boston, also empathized with the WEA policy move. "Everybody's got to run their own ship, and WEA knows how to run theirs best. However, I have to question the number of people who will be willing to spend money for old product that lists as high as $16.98. As long as it sells, we'll maintain our stock. But I'm not in the charity business, and I raised my shelf prices the day after I was notified."

Still, he asked, "Isn't it the consumer who

DON'T MAKE ME OVER — Two instances of censorship have been called to our attention in the past week. The first involves the cover and accompanying ads for the Boz Scaggs album, "Middle Man." It seems that CBS would not ship the record unless its cover photo, which features Boz reclining on a young lady's lap, was retouched and air-brushed. In another case, Ze Records "reluctantly" pulled a recording of Christina's send-up of Peggy Lee's "Is That All There Is" on the heels of an injunction threatened by the song's authors, Leiber and Stoller. We were particularly upset by the latter, because Leiber and Stoller got their start writing no less upsetting dirty blues records in the early '50s. Like my shrink used to say, "the victim becomes the perpetrator."

DA DOO RON RON — Now that the fragmented musics of the late '70s are coalescing into more common pop denominators, it's become increasingly apparent that the focus of much creative energy these days is in the classic, if modernized girl-group genre. On the heels of Blondie and Donna Summer (who the pop audience perceive less as opposites than new wavers and discophiles might think), the charts are proliferating with the likes of Pat Benatar, Bonnie Pointer, Ellen Foley, and Rachel Sweet. And, though keeping a score card in the middle of the gold rush ain't easy, within the past couple of weeks yet two more artists move to the forefront of the genre. Casablanca's Suzanne Fellini plays the idiom for all the coy 'n' come hither sexuality of a Feldman-Gottelher-Goldstein production, with the tongue-in-cheek "Love on the Telephone" making an exceptionally strong impression. Atlantic's Laurie and the Sighs, buoyed by the crisp production of Roger Probert, achieved a similar pop eminence, albeit filtered through a more Lesley Gore-styled angst. Here, my pick-to-click is the searing "Never Going Back." Finally, if you don't know what I'm talking about, you can soak up a comprehensive history of the idiom via a three-album set, "Super Girls," available through the Schaumburg, Ill.-based Lake Shore Music label. Available through Warner Special Products, the album traces the genre's glory years from its Brill-Building beginnings through its Motown-perpetuated last stand.

LONG DISTANCE INFORMATION, GIVE ME MEMPHIS, TENNESSEE — There is substantial activity to report from the home of the blues. Soul legend Rufus Thomas has just completed filming a role in "The Hank Williams Story." Thomas plays a street musician who was one of Williams' biggest influences. Thomas reports that both he and daughter Carla, who did the original version of "Gee Whiz," can be reached for booking and recording at (901) 743-5820. . . . O.V. Wright, whose recording of "The Hurt Is On" is the definitive blues performance of our time, returns to Hi Studios this month to record his next, to be produced by Homer Banks. The record will feature backing by the inestimable Hodges Brothers, who, as Hi Rhythm, provided Al Green with the most sensuous soul rhythm tracks of the '70s. Bass player Mahon "Teenie" Hodges is also set to shop a solo album and can be reached at (901) 785-5590. . . . Ex-Stax head David Porter is producing John Cobert of the Soul Children.

TWO TONS IN THE BIG APPLE — While in New York rehearsing with Sylvester, the Two Tons o' Fun visited WWRL with its new LP, "Two Tons o' Fun." CLASSICAL CLIPS

NEW YORK — Nonesuch Records, the budget classical label distributed by WEA, is on the move again. Despite speculation that the label would retreat from original recording after the departure of its longtime director, Teresa Sterne, Nonesuch has announced that it will digitally record the New York City Opera production of Kurt Weill's "Silverlake," which received its American premiere March 20 at the State Theatre in Manhattan. A fall, 1980 release is planned for the recording. In addition, Nonesuch recently signed the California-based Sequoia String Quartet for a series of albums. The ensemble's first Nonesuch LPs will include Boccherini's Quartet in A major, as well as his three oboe quintets, and Schoenberg's Quartet No. 2 and Mel Powell's "Little Companion Pieces," both to be recorded with soprano Bethany Beardslee. Meanwhile, Nonesuch has just shipped two other albums: "Organ Chorale Preludes of Bach and Brahms as Transcribed by Ferruccio Busoni," played by pianist Paul Jacobs, which has been in the can for some time; and a traversal of the Handel Concerti Grossi, Op. 3 by George Malcolm and the Northern Sinfonia, an item licensed from the label's English affiliate, Enigma Records . . .

MORE LABEL NEWS — RCA Red Seal has made a digital recording of the piano transcription of Stravinsky's ballet, "The Rite Of Spring." Arranged by the American composer, Sam Raphling, the piece is performed by Dickran Atamian, who gave the premiere at Carnegie Hall . . . Leonard Bernstein's second complete recording of the Beethoven Symphonies has just been released this month by DG at the special price of $8.98 per disc. DG claims that Bernstein's performances with the Vienna Philharmonic, recorded "live" in Vienna, comprise the first integral Beethoven cycle in which one company has recorded an American conductor leading a European orchestra . . . Tomato is coming with a new Philip Glass album containing his works, "Dance I & II . . ." CRI has just released a three-record set featuring John Eaton's contemporary opera, Danton and Robespierre . . . Moss Music, through its Canadian subsidiary, has just acquired worldwide rights to a new Canadian Brass album. Recently recorded by the CBC, the LP, titled "Unexplored Territory" — featuring the Canadian Brass and Friends," includes performances by Liona Boyd, Erica Goodman and Don Gillis . . . Meanwhile, Moss Music has moved its offices to 48 West 38th St., 10th Floor, New York, NY 10018. The firm's phone number, as of April 14, is 212-944-9560 . . . Moss recently completed an extensive cassette promotion with the 96-store Record Bar chain. Featuring 120 Vox/Turnabout single cassettes, as well as the entire Home Library Vox-Box Cassette line, the promotion, which ran through the month of March, offered customers the opportunity to win tape-decks via in-store drawings and included a point-of-sale art contest that yielded cash prizes for the three best displays . . . Angel has set April as Riccardo Muti month. A full-scale product/merchandising/sales support program will be launched on behalf of the 38-year-old conductor, who will become music director of the Philadelphia Orchestra next season. The campaign is geared around the release of six new albums on which Muti conducts. They include a pairing of Schumann's Symphony No. 1 and Mendelssohn's Symphony No. 5 and Tchaikovsky's Fourth and Fifth Symphonies, all with the Philharmonic Orchestra; a Cav/Pag package featuring Montserrat Caballe, Jose Carreras and Renata Scotti; and a version of Tchaikovsky's First Piano Concerto with the Philharmonic and Andrei Gavrilov as the soloist; and, with the Philadelphia Orchestra, a rendition of Beethoven's Sixth Symphony. These albums will bring the number of Muti recordings for Angel to a total of 30 . . . Luciano Pavarotti will appear at Sam Goody's Rockefeller Plaza store April 16 to autograph copies of his newest release, "Pavarotti's Greatest Hits," as well as his other London LPs. A full-page ad announcing the in-store visit is being taken in the New York Times on Sunday, April 13 . . .

CLASSICAL ALBUM REVIEWS

THE PACHELBEL CANON: THE CANADIAN BRASS PLAYS GREAT BAROQUE MUSIC, RCA ARL 1-3554, List: $8.98

Even in a novel brass arrangement, the Pachelbel Canon has been recorded too often to be very enjoyable. But the rest of this album is a pure delight. While it is a trifle too jazzy, the brass arrangement of Bach's Toccata and Fugue in D minor sounds new and vital: the Suite from Handel's "Water Music" has the feel of the original; Bach's "Little Fugue" will echo in your mind long after you've listened to it; and the Canadian Brass's virtuoso version of the same composer's "Passacaglia and Fugue in C minor" is a tour de force. Bravo!

TERRY RILEY: Shri Camel, Columbia M 35164, List: $8.98.

Terry Riley's first American release since 1969's "A Rainbow In Curved Air" is one of the most interesting albums released so far this year. Although certain passages (especially in "Celestial Valley") recall his earlier work, he seems to have overcome the limitations of the minimalist mode, moving freely from idea to idea and weaving in overdubs that endow his solo electric organ sound with an almost orchestral richness. Moreover, Riley's eclectic music embraces not only Western classicism, but also Indian raga stylings and even a wholesome dollop of avant-garde pop.

MOZART: Concerto in C for flute and harp, K, 299; HANDEL: Concerto in B flat for harp and orchestra, Op. 4, No. 6, Marcel Grandjany, harp; Samuel Baron, flute; Musica Aeterna Orchestra, Frederick Waldman, conductor, MCA-1403, List: $8.98.

On this welcome reissue of a Decca release that was produced by industry veteran Is Horowitz, the harpist is of at least as much of note as the flautist. Grandjany, one of the acknowledged masters of the instrument, gives patrician performances that stress the harp's equal role in the Mozart concerto and the beauty of its melody line in the Handel. Baron, who has become a leading proponent of contemporary flute music, demonstrates his facility in the classical idiom with a pure, singing tone. And the Musica Aeterna players contribute a vital ingredient as well.

New Aralos Artist Would Rather Sing For Charity, Not Personal Gain

LOS ANGELES — For Alisabete Jergens, newly signed artist to the recently formed Aralos International Records label, music for personal profit takes a back seat to music for philanthropy and fun.

Jergens, who is heiress to the Jergens hand cream fortune, has released a single, "Super Natural Woman," from which the proceeds will be channeled to a drive to create a "floating orphanage" for children worldwide.

Her effort in charity for children is no plaything, as illustrated by her work with Native American children, an act earning her the title of honorary Sioux princess, "Silent Thunder Woman." Jergens has also organized benefit concerts for children and performed at various orphanages in Europe, where she resides. In addition to her own pair of children, Jergens has also adopted a Sioux Indian boy.

Aralos president Kenneth L. Ayoub said that the company, which will independently distribute the Jergens product in the U.S. and Canada, is preparing an LP by Jergens and is also seeking to develop international distribution.

Ayoub also said that the single is currently receiving its most significant attention from play in dance clubs and on radio in the north and southeast. Ayoub said he hopes the music's soft, uptempo sound will make the product attractive to a variety of playlists.

The label president, who has worked in the industry for 20 years in a variety of capacities, said that the company would build the label around Jergens, applying the company's attitude of "quality, not quantity," but soon hopes to sign a Top Ten

Dave Parker Takes A Swing At Promotion

LOS ANGELES — Cobra Productions, a new concert promotion firm, has been formed by Pittsburgh Pirate star Dave Parker, who announced that the company will operate in the midwest and southeast working in conjunction with Concert Consultants, Inc. of Dayton, Ohio. Cobra will be headquartered in Pittsburgh.

Parker will serve as chairman of the company and Albert Sewell will be vice president. Concert Consultants, a three-year-old outfit, is headed by company president Jerry Dickerson. All bookings and operations for the joint ventures will be handled by the Dayton offices.

The Cobra/Concert Consultant fellowship will donate portions of the Concert revenue annually to needy organizations, like the Willie Stargell Foundation For Sickle Cell Anemia, and to help develop youth motivation clinics, Parker said.

The companies have already promoted dates featuring the O'Jays and Phyllis Hyman, B.B. King, Johnny Taylor, Millie Jackson, and the Solar Galaxy of Stars since late January.

For April and May, Parker said, the firm will begin to promote concert dates featuring Rick James, Prince and Lenny White in Dayton; Smokey Robinson in Cincinnati and Dayton; Kool and the Gang and the Gap Band in Dayton and Wheeling, West Virginia; and Peabo Bryson in Toledo, Columbus, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati.

"I've always had a great love for the entertainment business, particularly music," Parker commented when making the announcement. "Cobra allows me the opportunity to fulfill that interest."

Commenting on the areas the companies plan to target, Dickerson said, "There is an untapped music audience here (midwest and southeast), particularly for top black acts, and we feel we can fill that void and strengthen the market."

act. "Besides her genuine desire to help children, she (Jergens) can really sing," Ayoub commented.

Jergens was encouraged to sing professionally by her current manager, Peter Forsythe of April 22 Productions International. Forsythe helped Jergens develop some material for a demo tape that was sent to Ayoub.

Material for the current single and an album was collected and later arranged by Dan Vincent, who has been music director for Wayne Newton. The voice tracks were recorded in Paris, where the artist lives, and later re-mixed in Munich.

In addition to her revenues from recording royalties, monies from her concert appearances will also be given to the floating orphanage fund, though no concert schedule has been slated yet.

The fund for the floating orphanage will be personally administered by Jergens and her advisors.

'Roadie' Film Is Set For A Major Radio Promotion

LOS ANGELES — Roadie, the Vivant Productions film starring Meat Loaf, Art Carney, Alice Cooper and Blondie, is set for a major national radio special and promotion covering 75 markets, including all the majors.

Maui Productions, which prepared the promotion and special, announced that the promotion will include contests, album giveaways, buttons, T-shirts, posters, tickets and a "Roadie Kit" containing real roadie paraphernalia.

Radio stations in various markets will host screenings of the film, which is set for June release.

Maui Productions is also planning a special radio promotion for Robin Trower's latest Chrysalis LP, "Victims of the Fury," and has produced 30-second TV spots for the "American Gigolo Soundtrack" for Polydor Records.

Simon Signs At Warner

LOS ANGELES — Carly Simon recently signed an exclusive worldwide, long-term recording contract with Warner Bros. Records, which is scheduled to soon release the singer's debut for the label.

The first LP is entitled "Come Upstairs" and plans are set to release the title track from the album next month. The sessions were produced by Mike Mainieri, and all the songs were co-written by Simon.

Contrary to past behavior, Simon is scheduled to make a series of pre-announced personal appearances to promote her new product.

Publishing Seminar Set

LOS ANGELES — The first in a series of seminars to be held by the Organization of Creative Music Publishers (OCMP) is scheduled for April 17, 6:30 p.m., at CBS Records, 1801 Century Park West, lobby level conference room.

Barbara Brunow, vice president, contract and copyright administration for 20th Century Music; Carol Cassano, general professional manager for April/Blackwood Music; and Evan Medow, vice president, business affairs for Almo/Irving Music are slated to speak on the "Rudiments of Creative Publishing."

B-Line Signs Heideman

LOS ANGELES — B-Line Production Management, Inc. recently announced the debut signing of Gail Heideman, who wrote the title song and concept for Ann-Margaret's upcoming special, "Hollywood Movie Girls."

MUSIC FOR FILMS — When we last heard Wendy Carlos on a film soundtrack, she was Walter Carlos and the composer of the score to A Clockwork Orange. Now the multi-faceted keyboard player will return as the writer of another Stanley Kubrick film soundtrack, The Shining. The album will be out on Warner Bros. when the film opens this summer. . . . Film and theatre entrepreneur Michael White, who has such celluloid offerings to his credit as The Rocky Horror Picture Show, Monty Python and the Holy Grail and Sleuth, will be producing three new wave music films in the U.S. and the U.K. in 1980 and 1981. Urgh, A Music War, (a nonstop music war) featuring 40 bands performing non-stop is the first production. Shock Treatment, a co-production with Lou Adler, and Dread At The Control, described as a Kung-Fu Western set in London's Brixton area, will follow. White's current release The Clash has opened to boffo reviews in London's West End. . . . Ry Cooder is presently composing the soundtrack Long Riders, a film starring four sets of brothers — the Carradines, the Quaids, the Keachs and the Guests. Both the film and the movie will be out in mid-May.

THE GRAND PARADE OF LIVELY PACKAGING — Genesis fans should check out a new book by Armando Gallo entitled I Know What I Like. The large sized, 174 page paperback book (also available in leather bound and hard back covers) traces the history of the band from the time the original members first met at Charterhouse boarding school in England in 1973 to the "Duke" sessions in October of 1979. Every phase of the various members' careers (solo and otherwise) is touched upon, and fanatics should enjoy a conversation with Peter Gabriel on Solsbury Hill, a look at the band as it is today and the extensive analyses of each LP. The color photos are especially intriguing, as Gallo has some spectacular shots from the early Italian tours, the "Foxtrot" period and Gabriel's most elaborate stage costumes (Slipperman, Old man, Flower man, et al). The photographs were beautifully reproduced, and this package is one of the most beautiful rock books that has been on the market since the Rolling Stones book in 1975.

No. 2055, 90028. . . . It now looks as though Peter Gabriel's third solo album will be out on Phonogram/Mercury. Adding to the confusion is the fact that Gabriel, who seems to become more musically adventurous each successive time out, is once again entitling the record "Peter Gabriel."

NMPA FORUM — The April 7 edition of the National Music Publishers Assn. forum at the Continental Hyatt house familiarized about 100 young music publishers with independent producer Rob Fraboni (producer of Jennifer Warnes and Eric Clapton) and indie producer Michael Stewart (who has produced Billy Joel and Kenny Rankin in the past). Publisher Randy Pitch, who is currently handling Jules Shear's material, chaired the panel that discussed such subjects as the ways a publisher and producer can work closer, when a producer feels badgered by a plugger and how the two can maintain a friendly relationship. The next forum is set for mid-May and will concern publishing in the U.K.

TOO YOUNG TO DIE — Jacob Miller, the 25-year-old leader of reggae greats Inner Circle, was killed in a car accident two weeks ago near his home in Jamaica. Inner Circle appears in reggae breakthrough movie Rockers. . . . 32-year-old Jon Jon Paulos, formerly of '60s faves the Buckinghams, was found dead March 26 in Chicago of a suspected drug overdose. Police guess that it was a mixture of cocaine, marijuana and quaaludes that killed Paulos. The Buckinghams were famous for recording such '60s classics as "Kind Of A Drag" and "Don't You Care."

PALIN' AROUND — Michael Murphey, who co-wrote the script, composed the music and stars in the film Hard Country, played the Palomino April 2 and was joined on-stage by movie co-stars Katy Moffat, Jan-Michael Vincent and Tanya Tucker for two songs. . . . Tucker performed at L.A.'s new Country Club the prior Friday and Saturday and duetted with unannounced guest Glen Campbell on "Rhinesstone Cowboy" and Kris Kristofferson's "Help Me Make It Through The Night." Campbell, incidentally, showed off guitar licks folks never new he was capable of at the gig. He rarely gets to show off the soloing talent that made him one of the most in-demand session players in the business during the early- and mid-'60s.

SUMMER AT THE GREEK AND THE AMPHITHEATRE — The concert schedules for the Universal Amphitheatre and The Greek Theatre have been set. The Amphitheatre's performers and dates are as follows: The Spinners and Phyllis Hyman, June 16-17; Captain & Tennille, June 19-20; The Crusaders and Randy Crawford, June 21-22; Jimmy Buffett, June 25-27; Little River Band, June 30-July 1; Frank Sinatra, July 3-8; The Marshall Tucker Band, July 10-12; Chuck Mangione, July 15-20; Willie Nelson, July 21-24; The Blues Bros., July 26-Aug. 1; Jefferson Starship, Aug. 3-4; Emmylou Harris, Aug. 6; Poco, Aug. 8-9; Joe Jackson, Aug. 13-14; America, Aug. 16-17; Al Stewart, Aug. 25; Gordon Lightfoot, Aug. 28-31; Bob Hope, September 1-6; Santana, Sept. 8-9; Melissa Manchester, Sept. 12-13; Bonnie Raitt, Sept. 18; Paul Simon, Sept. 20-21 and Graham Nash, Sept. 23-24. It will be the venue's last summer under the stars as a roof will be built by 1981 to honor Los Angeles County noise abatement laws. . . . The Greek Theatre's schedule is Smokey Robinson, May 23-24; Todd Rundgren & Utopia, May 28-29; Solar Galaxy Of Stars, May 30-31; Stephen Stills, June 2-3; Ben Vereen, June 4-7; Southside Johnny & The Asbury Jukes, June 8; The Kingston Trio with Glen Yarborough, June 11; Aman, June 12; Roberta Flack and Peabo Bryson, June 14-15; Alice Cooper, June 17-18; Anne Murray, June 26-29; Tom Jones, July 2-5; Charles Aznavour, July 6-7; Rufus & Chaka and The Brothers Johnson, July 10-11; Joan Baez, July 17-19; Harry Chapin, July 21-22; O'Jays, July 23-26; Hall & Oates, July 28; Peter Martins and the NYC Ballet, July 30-31; Al Jarreau, Aug. 1-3; Sha Na Na, Aug. 4-6; Ballet De Marseilles, Aug. 12-31; George Benson and Quincy Jones, Aug. 19-22; Barry Manilow, Aug. 24-Sept. 1; Dionne Warwick, Sept. 4-8; Ballet Folklorico Nacional De Mexico, Sept. 11-16; Ashford and Simpson, Sept. 18-20; The Peking Opera, Sept. 16-28 and Teddy Pendergrass, Sept. 25-28.

SOMEBODY'S WAITING — Anne Murray — Capitol SOO-12064 — Producer: Ed Norman — Bar Coded — List: 8.98

The Candian thrush seems to put product out faster than a Montreal metro train, but the material seems to retain its expected quality. Murray copped four awards at this year's Juno awards, and she should have no trouble keeping it up next year, as her pure as the driven snow vocals have never sounded better than on "Lucky Me," "What's Forever For" and "The French Waltz." Suited to both A/C and country formats who favor the mellow.

PARADISE — Peabo Bryson — Capitol SOO-12063 — Producers: Peabo Bryson and Johnny Pate — List: 7.98 — Bar Coded

Peabo's follow-up to the gold selling "Crosswinds" LP is probably his slickest and most commercial effort to date. The opening two tracks on side one are the album's most arresting cuts, as they are lushly produced and filled with interesting keyboard changes. "Love Has No Shame" is a killer ballad in the great Bryson tradition, and his version of Michael McDonald's "Minute By Minute" should ride high on the R&B charts for months to come.

PAUL DAVIS — BANG JZ 36094 — Producers: Paul Davis and Ed Seay — List: 7.98 — Bar Coded

The easy moving, up-tempo opener on this album, "Do Right" looks like it's on the way to becoming a Top Ten hit for this engaging A/C pop-oriented artist. Davis injects some country feel into his modern middle-of-the-road songs, and the style is in heavy demand on today's pop market. Davis has had success before with hits like "I Go Crazy" and "Sweet Life," but he has finally hit on a production style that suits his light, affecting vocals.

IF DREAMS HAD WINGS — Dan Hill — Epic FE 36441 — Producers: Roy Halee and Don Potter — List: 7.98 — Bar Coded

The Canadian balladeer returns with more songs in the Dan Fogelberg vein on his debut for Epic. "I Can Still Reach For You" and "My Love For You," written in conjunction with Barry Mann, are in the tradition of Hill's first international hit, "Sometimes When We Touch." His breathy, sincere vocals and piano-based compositions seem to improve on each successive outing. The high points here are "Unloved People" and "Perfect Man."

ON THROUGH THE NIGHT — Def Leppard — Mercury SRM 1-3828 — Producer: Tom Allom — List: 7.98

Producer Tom Allom may be best known for his sterling work with the Strawbs during the band's zenith in the late '70s. Forget that. Def Leppard has nothing to do with Dave Cousins' singular visions other than the fact that he lent his distinctive voice to the track "When The Walls Come Tumbling Down." Stylistically Def Leppard may or may not be the initial shock wave of the rumored "new heavy metal" movement rearing its ugly/beautiful head in England.

AFTER THE RAIN — Side Effect — Elektra 6E 261 — Producer: Augie Johnson — List: 7.98

This slick, Vegas showroom-like R&B band has always been a big favorite on the west coast, and "After The Rain" will most probably give it the national attention it deserves. After two fine but unsuccessful efforts with Fantasy, Side Effect has come through with a stylish debut for Elektra/Asylum. Augie Johnson produced this lush R&B effort, and top tracks are "Take A Chance 'N' Dance," "Superwoman" and "I Feel It's Real."

ROCKERS RISING — Jack Miller — Haiku HLPS0118 — Producer: Jack Miller — List: 7.98

This American reggae soul artist has enlisted the talents of such Jamaican greats as The Mighty Diamonds and Sly Dunbar for his first effort on Haiku Records. The album contains some great commercial reggae, as well as some fine island-flavored soul. Miller has an emotion-filled vocal style, but thankfully he doesn't mimic the Patois accent the way many artists are doing these days. This energy packed LP serves as an excellent primer for those who are unfamiliar with reggae.

MIXIN' IT UP — The Trammps — Atlantic SD 19267 — Producers: Baker, Harris and Young — List: 7.98

The first track on "Mixin' It Up" is an attempt to define where the music of the '80s is. While mixing hard rock and disco might not be the current trend on the air waves, this infectious dancin' album is hard to resist. The disco-oriented LP might already seem out of date, but The Trammps should still fare well on the B/C charts and in the dance clubs. Best tracks include "You Can Make It" and "Everybody Boogie."

BARNET DOGS — Russ Ballard — Epic NJE 36186 — Producers: Russ Ballard and John Stanley — List: 7.98 — Bar Coded

It seems that the only people who even know who Russ Ballard is are Argent cum Zombies cultists. The limited sales of his first three albums, if nothing else, seems to substantiate this rumor. "Barnet Dogs," taken as the brilliant album that it is, sans past affiliations, totally buries this cumbersome and wholly unjustified attitude. This is the awe-inspiring LP that fans with a deeper and stronger faith in the man's talents knew he had in him all along.

JUST ONE NIGHT — Eric Clapton — RSO RS-2-4202 — Producer: John Astley — List: 13.98

"Slowhand" finds notes on the fret board that he hasn't found in years on this cleanly produced LP recorded at the Budokan Theatre in Tokyo in December of '79. The consummate blues rock guitarist pulls out the stops on old classics like "Blues Power" and "Cocaine" and gives recent hits like "Lay Down Sally" and "Wonderful Tonight" an urgency they never had in the studio. Studio greats Chris Stainton and Albert Lee help Clapton bring off an AOR classic.

SWEET SENSATION — Stephanie Mills — 20th Century Fox T-603 — Producers: James Mtume and Reggie Lucas — List: 7.98

Mills scored with last year's single, "What You Gonna Do With My Lovin,'" and her big Broadway show-like voice is in peak form on "Sweet Sensation." Many have compared her voice with that of Diana Ross, but her own distinct vocal vitality is in evidence on the hit title track and "Try My Love." Other tracks that showcase Mills' dynamic singing abilities include "Wish That You Were Mine" and "D-a-n-c-i-n."

AFTER MIDNIGHT — Manhattans — Columbia JC 36411 — Producers: Various — List: 7.98 — Bar Coded

"After Midnight" has to be the strongest album to date for this classic southern R&B quartet. "Shining Star" is already an out-and-out smash on the B/C singles charts, as it is a countrified R&B ballad in the tradition of the Commodores' "Still." The band's silky vocals also shine on such cuts as "The Closer You Are" and "If My Heart Could Speak." The LP also has a great deal of pop crossover potential.

"NOW APPEARING" AT OLE MISS — B.B. King — MCA MCA 2-8016 — Producers: Various — List: 12.98

The Ole blues master is at his swinging best on this two-record set recorded live before an enthusiastic crowd at the University of Mississippi. King sounds inspired on such new tunes as Sample and Jennings' "Hold On" and "I Just Can't Leave Your Love Alone," but B.B. and Lucille really get the feeling of the Big Muddy on marathons such as "Blues Medley" and "The Thrill Is Gone." King sounds as fresh and sincere on this album as he did on his groundbreaking "Live At Regal" LP.

TENNIS — Chris Rea — Columbia JC 36435 — Producer: Chris Rea — List: 7.98 — Bar Coded

The deep voiced, whiskey throated Englishman is back with another collection of lightly rocking, slide guitar songs. Rea turned alot of heads with "Whatever Happened to Benny Santini," and his introspective lyrics have improved in their scope. He has a flair for strong melody and a startling line, and those talents are best evidenced on "Stick It," "Good News" and "Tennis." This should receive acceptance on both the AOR and A/C fronts.

RUSSIA — Warner Bros. BSK 3414 — Producer: Paul Ratajczak — List: 7.98 — Bar Coded

Although the name might be deceiving, Russia is a five piece band from L.A. that fuses modern day production and the techno-heavy metal sound of bands like Queen and Styx. The group plays a frantic, power chord, heavy brand of music that is brimming with inventive vocal arrangements and changes in key and time signature. Griff Stevens is a commanding lead vocalist, and this is a dramatic, refreshing and auspicious debut LP. Modern rock 'n' roll for AOR.

SONGS THE LORD TAUGHT US — The Cramps — I.R.S./A&M SP 007 — Producer: Alex Chilton — List: 7.98

Imagine Gene Vincent, Carl Perkins, Ronnie Hawkins and, yes, Buddy Holly forming the house band for an insane asylum for the hopelessly rockably, and you just might approximate The Cramps. "Songs The Lord Taught Us" eats the cloyingly precious spirit of rockabilly alive and leaves only the bones as a memento. Punk's nihilistic aggression is fused with a tight pantsed pelvic thrust circa 1958. A more bizarre amalgam has yet to happen on record.

PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS — Rupert Holmes — MCA MCA-3241 — Producer: Rupert Holmes — List: 7.98

Although this LP might be mistaken for a brand new effort from the "Pina Colada" man, it is in reality a re-release of the record Holmes cut before the award winning "Partners In Crime" album. Holmes shows all the talents that came to blossom on the disc that contains "Pina Colada Song" and "Him," but it is produced a little thin and doesn't contain the shining moments of last year's work. Best cuts on the LP are "So Beautiful It Hurts," "Less Is More" and "Bedside Companions."

JOHN & ARTHUR SIMMS — Casablanca NBLP 7215 — Producer: Alec Constadinos — List: 7.98

John & Arthur Simms give a contemporary R&B twist to Greg Mathieston's jazz arrangements on this lively new LP. They put a lot of enthusiasm into their up-tempo soul and dance compositions, and the standouts on this respectable debut LP are "That Thang Of Yours," "Hold On" and "Not Gonna Let You Slip Away." Kudos to award winning producer Alec Constadinos for doing a clean and classy production job. For B/C programmers who like a little jazz in their R&B.

Producers, Artists Discuss Digital Recording Potential

the advice of his technical consultants, Richard Dashut and Ken Caillat, when he decided to mix-down the group's latest LP, "Tusk," on Dr. Thomas Stockham's Soundstream digital recording system, which is located in Salt Lake City. Fleetwood said that the result "was pretty phenomenal in terms of punch and everything," but he expressed reservations about the practicality of using a digital system in "conventional" studio applications.

Fleetwood also warned that producers and artists will have to exercise discretion and selectivity in a changeover to the digital mode. "I'm sure that digital will be the way things go because of all the obvious benefits, but it has a way to go yet. You've got to be careful that the sound doesn't get too spread, because digital absorbs so many more of the lows and highs that are really out of the range of human hearing," Fleetwood remarked.

Both Fleetwood and Asher said that the expense of using digital equipment — which ranges from 20-40% more per hour than analog studio time — was not a prime consideration in their own experiments with the new mode, but that it would be a stumbling block to the widespread adaptation of computerized recording techniques. This was corroborated by Jack Douglas, president of Waterfront Productions in New York, who recently finished a full-digital recording on the 3M system for guitarist-vocalist Rick Dufay.

Douglas said that the prevailing prices for digital recording time would put the technology out of reach for most artists, despite the benefits of optimum noise reduction and enhanced dynamic range that digital recording can provide. Douglas predicted that the music industry would "slowly evolve" to digital recordings over the course of a decade. However, he was convinced that the end-result of the digital "evolution", when combined with emerging videodisc techniques, would make present-day recordings seem like "Edison's first recordings."

Disc Limitations

Some producers and artists who have strong reservations about using first-generation digital equipment are, nevertheless, keeping an open mind about using the new systems in the future. Brian Eno, a producer and artist noted for his avant-garde applications of pop music forms, felt that in addition to the prohibitive expense of digital recording, the dynamic limitations of contemporary vinyl discs inhibit the growth of the new technology. "Why increase the dynamic range of recording to 90 db, when the dynamic range of records is only 40 db?," he asked. But Eno does feel that "digital will afford a great advantage in the future in terms of synthetic music — that's where it will be very important."

Although most audio professionals, producers and artists recognize the potential of digital recording, there is widespread concern about the incompatibility of recording heads and other

ITA Now ITA, Inc., Ups European Input

NEW YORK — The board of directors of the International Tape Association has voted to change its name to ITA, Inc. in recognition of the fact that ITA membership now represents more than manufacturers and suppliers to the tape industry.

ITA has also embarked on a program to increase the input of its European membership into the Association's activities. The board of ITA has elected a new vice president for Europe, Arnold Norregaard, managing director of the Bellevue Studio in Copenhagen, Denmark, in addition to creating a European Advisory board and a European committee.

The advisory board will consist of one representative from each European country in which there are ITA members to serve with Norregaard in supervising European activities. The first meeting is tentatively slated for June.

The ITA European Committee, which will consist of representatives from every European member company, is scheduled to meet twice a year.

Video Sales Rise In First Quarter

NEW YORK — Total U.S. market sales to retailers of home videotape recorders increased in March and during the first quarter of 1980, compared to the same periods last year, according to figures provided by the Washington, D.C.-based Electronics Industries Association.

Home video tape recorded sales to retailers amounted to 62,704 units in March, 1980, a gain of 45.4% over 43,135 units sold in March 1979. Home VTR sales to dealers in the first quarter of 1980 increased to 158,124 units, up 59.2% over 99,346 units sold in the same interval a year ago.

SOUND VIEWS

VIDEO VIEWS FROM THE TOP ON TV'S '20/20' — Record label chiefs recently received the opportunity to air their personal views on the future of video on prime time network television on April 3 during a segment of ABC-TV's magazine-styled 20/20. CBS Records Group president Walter Yetnikoff was unreservedly bullish on the marriage of music and video, and understandably so considering his corporation's commitment to vid disc and tape software development, while Arista head Clive Davis took a more skeptical point of view. Along with Rolling Stone magazine's Dave Marsh, Davis expressed the common concern that in order for music-video programming to become a saleable item on the mass market level, the form — or forms — will have to be able to bear repeated viewings. In general, the segment was well-scripted and informative for the layman or video neophyte, and the brief retrospective of the recording industry was humorous. Also touched on were recording artists turned video producers Mike Nesmith (Pacific Arts Corp. and "veteran vid kid") and Todd Rundgren, as well as straight video artists, such as Ron Hays. With a quick, glossy explanation of the various videodisc systems and analysis of the pros and cons of tape vs. disc, the segment was as breezy an introduction to video as you would find on a prime time TV news show. Perhaps one of the largest oversights made, as Hays later pointed out, was that the narrator's narrow definition of music-video included only rock and pop, and failed to mention jazz, R&B, classical, country, gospel or any other musical genre as a potential spouse in the music-video marriage. When the video boom really begins, hopefully the record industry will utilize all music forms for programming.

BLONDIE VIDEO NOW SET FOR U.K. RELEASE — Following Capitol-EMI Videogram's announcement of the release of a Knack video for the home market, Chrysalis Records' much-vaunted Blondie video LP of "Eat To The Beat" will finally see retail shelves in the U.K. . . . According to Des Brown of Chrysalis U.K., a pact has been set with Sony for the album to be on Betamax and U-Matic tape formats exclusively during the initial three months of release. Sony is expected to introduce the tape at a $42 retail cost, which is likely to increase when EMI Videograms takes over distribution after the first three months. At that time it will be made available on all formats.

RCA ACQUIRES NEW WORLD FILMS FOR VID DISC — RCA has acquired 10 feature length motion pictures from Roger Corman's New World Pictures for its SelectaVision videodisc system. The agreement brings such critically acclaimed American titles as Federico Fellini's Amarcord and Ingmar Bergman's Cries And Whispers to RCA, in addition to the more typical low budget Corman fares such as Jackson

RACKING UP SALES — Home Theatre/VCI of L.A. is going national with colorful free-standing theft-proof racks, featuring non-glare plexi-glass doors for dealers to display video cassette product. (see accompanying story)

County Jail.

HOME THEATRE/VCI TO BOW CONCERT VIDEOS — Home Theatre/Visual Concepts, Inc. (VCI) of Hollywood has announced the acquisition of six new videos of in-concert performances featuring Teddy Pendergrass ("Close The Door"); Anne Murray ("You Won't See Me"); Dionne Warwick ("Deja Vu"); Daryl Hall & John Oates ("Rich Girl"); Yvonne Elliman ("Hello Stranger"); and John Davidson, in performance at the Las Vegas Hilton. According to VCI national sales manager Dran May, the videos are available exclusively through the firm and all music rights have been cleared through the AF of M. In other VCI news, the company is also releasing a videocassette entitled "Once Upon A Wheel," a 60-minute documentary-special narrated and starring actor Paul Newman, with Mario Andretti and Jack Brabham, as well as featuring the music of Kenny Rogers, Neil Young, James Taylor, Wilson Pickett and others. All titles will be available through selected retail outlets, in addition to Home Theatre/VCI's new "Hollywood Home Theatre" mail-order division. The address is 6464 Sunset Blvd., Suite 540, Hollywood, Calif. 90028. The telephone is (213) 465-6121.

ABC VIDEO ENT. GAINS 40 PUBLIC SERVICE TITLES — An agreement between ABC Video Enterprises and Boston Broadcasters Inc. Communications, brings to the home video arm of ABC 40 previously aired community service-oriented programs for distribution to retail in either video tape or disc configurations. The titles, which will come to ABC through the sales wing of network affiliate WCVB-TV in Boston, cover the spectrum from health care to children's programming. The agreement also states that an undisclosed number of titles will be retained by BBI-C for sale to cable, while ABC Video will handle retail and disc rights sales.

PRODUCERS TO BE APPROACHED BY RIAA — At presstime, it was learned that Steve Traiman, executive director for the RIAA (Recording Industry Association of America), will be leaving N.Y. for Los Angeles May 7 to present a proposal to prominent music-video producers to join RIAA/VIDEO, a new division which will accommodate the video rights and interests of video-oriented companies.

VID TECH SEMINAR AT USC — "New Video Technology and The Revolution in Home Entertainment" will be the topic of a seminar to be held April 19 at the University of Southern California. The focus of the seminar will be on the legal concerns of the video marketplace.

VIDEO CLIPS — Video producer and Pacific Arts Television president Michael Nesmith and director William Dear have been tapped to supply eight films to be shown in the first 13 segments of the ABC-TV series 'Fridays'. The productions will be known as Nesmith/Dear Films . . . Pacific Video Industries and Pacific Video Post Production Center will provide production and post production facilities for Linda Ronstadt promo spots. Co-producers are Peter Asher and Stanley Dorfman, with Dorfman directing. Live recording will be handled by Val Garay . . . Lou Rawls will be featured in a Las Vegas special broadcast on Home Box Office April 26.

SOFTWARE NEWS — MEDA — Media Home Entertainment, Inc., has released the feature length motion picture High Velocity for retail sale in both Beta and VHS configurations.

AUDIOPHILE LP REVIEWS

ALL AROUND MY HAT — Steeleye Span — MFSL 1-027 — Producer: Mike Batt — Distributor: Mobile Fidelity Sound Labs — List: 16.98

Regarded as the classic Steeleye Span album, "All Around My Hat" is a captivating meld of traditional English folk styles and progressive rock electricity. Lively vocal choruses augment the beautiful, haunting voice of the late Maddy Prior. The first-rate production values are clearly evident on this premium half-speed mastered pressing from Mobile Fidelity. For those who are unaware of Steeleye Span this disc should provide hours of joyful listening.

THE ART OF LAURINDO ALMEIDA — Laurindo Almeida — dbx SS-3003 — Distributor: dbx — List: 8.00

Originally released on the Sine Qua Non label, this disc by noted Brazilian guitarist Laurindo Almeida is now available in the dbx encoded format. Almeida, a technical master, performs flawlessly on classical, original and Spanish lullaby compositions. No record noise impinges on the wide dynamics and transparency of this LP of beautiful lyrical guitar. In fact the only noise heard is that from the dolby encoded master tape. dbx records must be played through a dbx decoder currently available through audio salons.

WHAT'S IN-STORE

MCA ACTION — Major marketing campaigns have been set into motion by MCA Records in support of its new album releases, oldies singles catalog and several re-issued discs. Of the new releases, the effort will center on albums by Bernadette Peters, Merle Haggard, Blood, Sweat & Tears, Damion and Denita and Sabu. For the Peters LP, various point-of-purchase materials have been developed, including front boards, pop-up displays and 2X2 cover blow-ups. To highlight the latest Merle Haggard effort, 1X1 front boards and 2X2 cover blow-ups are available. The push for the new Sabu LP will feature 1X1 front boards. The re-issued discs are by Rupert Holmes and by Isaac Hayes and Dionne Warwick and will also be supported by merchandising campaigns. . . . The sales program centering on singles will include more than 460 singles and will be available to dealers two times in 1980: Apr. 1-30 and Aug. 1-31. The program will also be available during January 1981. Here the entire catalog will be laid out in a 4" X 8" pamphlet and will feature current and oldies series. There will be a new series as well, "Goldies 45," with 180 titles from ABC and related labels. This will include records by Carole King, The Mamas and Papas, Steppenwolf, B.B. King, Joe Walsh and Steely Dan.

NORTHWEST ACTIVITY — A check with several distributors in the northwest uncovered these merchandising efforts now in progress: The RCA-A&M office in Seattle, in conjunction with Seattle Honda, has undertaken a Triumph display contest timed to coincide with the group's tour through the area. The grand prize for the winning outlet will be a Honda Express moped valued at $400. The competition will run through next month, with display photos due on May 15. Judging will be based on creativity, visibility and coordination with the group's tour date in the area. Those outlets already committed include the Tower stores of Seattle and Tacoma, Everybody's, D.J.'s, Budget, Brass Ears and Here and Now. In addition, the five D.J.'s stores have initiated their own concurrent consumer contest with another moped the prize in a drawing. The winner will be selected on May 5 from entries that include questions about the group. For more information about entering this promotion, contact Danielle Wagner at (206)575-1410. . . . As part of the national Motown display contest highlighting the spring release, the P.R.T. office in Seattle is conducting a display contest in the region in commemoration of the label's 20th anniversary. Entrants who participate in the promotion, which runs from March 15 through April 15, must incorporate as part of their display a sign reading, "Congratulations Motown for 20 Years of Excellence in the Record Business." Already participating in this promotion are D.J.'s, Everybody's, Longhair Records, Music Millenium, Tower, Musiland and Eucalyptus. The first prize in the national competition is $500. . . . A competition spotlighting the CBS country catalog is taking place in three northwest cities: in Portland, with radio station KWJJ; in Seattle, with KMP5; and in Spokane with KGA. The promotion is called the "People's Choice" and involves customers in participating outlets completing ballots listing their favorite CBS country artists. The stations involved will periodically select names at random, and each winner will receive an album by the artist they voted for. At certain designated periods, "primaries" will be held, where all winners will compete, with the individual whose name is drawn, winning a CBS catalog of the artist that he or she voted for. During the final stage of the contest a grand prize winner will be selected from among all entrants and this individual will win a side of "choice" beef to coincide with the "choice cuts" featured on the CBS country catalog.

CHRISTOPHER CROSS PROMOTIONS — Several contests relating to the latest Christopher Cross album have recently taken place: The three Harmony Huts in Richmond, Va. conducted a "Ride Like the Wind with Chris Cross and Q94" contest with entrants filling in a Christopher Cross-word puzzle. A drawing was held with the grand prize a $2,500 motorcycle (courtesy of WRVQ), and two second prizes of ten-speed bikes. To coincide with the contest, Cross displays were featured and the album received considerable in-store play. . . . Great American Music, Minneapolis, held a similar promotion that also featured a Chris Cross-word puzzle entry blank. Here, a Super Sport Peugeot Moped was the grand prize with 50 Cross LPs as runner-up prizes. Each entrant received a poster of the artist.

IN-STORE — Robin Trower, April 12, at Sound's Good, North Ashland, Ill. . . . the Ramones, April 10, at Music Plus, Hollywood. . . . Shalamar, April 7, at Music Stop, Ferndale, Mich. . . . Ray, Goodman and Brown, April 12, at Camelot Records, Cleveland, and the Cretones, April 27, at the next Everybody's Great Concert.

CUSTOMER QUOTE OF THE WEEK — "What do you mean you don't sell pianos here? I thought this was supposed to be a music store!"

REGIONAL ACTION — Van Halen big everywhere, biggest in the west. . . . Fabulous Thunderbirds deriving its strength in the south and southwest. . . . Isleys selling best in the east and west. . . . new Ambrosia and Genesis most powerful in the midwest and west.

TOP SINGLE BREAKOUT OF THE WEEK

BIGGEST PART OF ME — AMBROSIA — WARNER BROS.

TOP ALBUM BREAKOUT OF THE WEEK

GO ALL THE WAY — THE ISLEY BROTHERS — T-NECK/CBS

FEATURE PICKS

TOM PETTY & THE HEARTBREAKERS (Backstreet/MCA MCA-41227)

Here Comes My Girl (3:52) (Skyhill Publishing Co., Inc.-BMI) (T. Petty, M. Campbell)

Petty and Co.'s "Damn The Torpedos" has spawned yet another truly excellent single. From the convincingly honest narrative intro to the Byrds-like hook, this has the sort of resolute romanticism that puts Petty's love songs a notch above everyone else's. AOR already loves this one, now it should spread to pop.

THE TEMPTATIONS (Gordy G-7183F)

Power (4:05) (Midnight Sun Music Corp. — ASCAP/Book Music Publishing Co. — BMI) (B. Gordy, A. Bond, J. Mayer)

Melvin Franklin's inimitable bass vocal thumps out its part right in time with the rhythm section, as brass, strings and the rest of revamped Temps join in and it's just like old times again. A politically conscious lyric, co-written by Berry Gordy, and a hot mix make this a must for pop and B/C formats. A killer side.

PAT TRAVERS BAND (Polydor PD 2080)
Is This Love (3:50) (Bob Marley Music Ltd./Almo Music Corp.-ASCAP) (B. Marley)

It may be hard to imagine that up and coming boogie rocker Pat Travers could make the transition to Marley's reggae, but this decidedly pop-tinged re-working from the "Crash And Burn" LP comes off beautifully. Guitar licks are nicely integrated with the obligatory reggae organ sound, but the male/female vocal tradeoffs sell the track. Recommended pop.

SPIDER (Dreamland DL100)
New Romance (It's A Mystery) (3:06) (Land of Dreams Music, Inc., admin. in the U.S. and Canada by Arista Music, Inc. — ASCAP) (H. Knight, A. Fig)

New York City-based Spider have whipped up a peppy and totally pleasing power pop potion for Dreamland Records' as well as the group's debut single. The hook is sweet enough for pop lists but Coleman's raw production and drum echo should entice AOR programmers. Already charting.

GLADYS KNIGHT & THE PIPS (Columbia 1-11239)

Landlord (3:44) (Nic-O-Val Music Co., Inc.-ASCAP) (N. Ashford, V. Simpson)

Knight and ever-soulful harmonizers The Pips re-unite on this finely-orchestrated pop/R&B outing from the upcoming "About Love" LP. Produced and authored by hitmakers Ashford and Simpson, stylistically this is equal to anything the foursome has ever done and its multi-format appeal makes it a prime candidate for crossover.

ALICE COOPER (Warner Bros. WBS 49204)

Clones (We're All) (2:50) (Mount Hope music — ASCAP) (D. Carron)

The Coop is back and totally in step on this electronically alien cut from his forthcoming "Flush The Fashion" LP. Synthesizer arrangements owe a tip o' the hat to techno-rocker Gary Numan and his ilk, as does Roy Thomas Baker's raw, echoey production. An unusual but highly satisfying effort nonetheless, this is an AOR, pop creeper sleeper.

ROCKIE ROBBINS (A&M 2231)

You And Me (3:49) (Chinnichap Publishing, Inc., admin. in the U.S. and Canada by Careers Music, Inc.-BMI) (J.P. Pennington)

The title track from Rockie Robbins' forthcoming LP "You And Me" is a mellifluous, mid-paced pop/R&B ballad with the feel of Earth, Wind & Fire, containing the same sort of polished orchestration balanced with twangy bass. Robbins glides easily through the vocal. A sure thing for B/C, pop.

TRICKSTER (Jet ZS9 5068)

Tomorrow Belongs To Me (3:56) (TRO-Essex Music International Inc. — ASCAP) (P. Bates)

These boys have the melodic sense of ELO and Cheap Trick combined, which makes for a nearly unbeatable commercial pop formula. With a pounding, march-like drumbeat and crackling power chording tossed in for good measure, you can bet that AOR and pop are going to sit up and take notice of this cut from the U.K. quintet's forthcoming "Back To Zero" LP.

SINGLES TO WATCH

TWO TONS O' FUN (Fantasy/Honey 888)

Just Us (3:45) (Jobete Music — ASCAP) (Robinson, Osborn)

Veteran R&B/disco producer Harvey Fuqua gives the electronic dance treatment to the Two Tons O' Fun, on this track from their self-titled debut LP. Sylvester's backup singers go at it with sensuous gusto, and the pulsing arrangements are perfect B/C, dance stuff.

THE JOE PERRY PROJECT (Columbia 1-11250)

Let The Music Do The Talking (3:21) (Vindaloo Productions/Daksel Music Corp. — BMI) (J. Perry)

Joe Perry, who supplied the gritty, buzzsaw lead guitar work for Aerosmith, cranks it up loud and proud here with his new unit on this boogie/blues-rock bulldozer title track from his current LP. The beat keeps a rollin', right onto AOR airwaves.

NICOLETTE LARSON (Warner Bros. WBS 49172)

Dancin' Jones (3:15) (Yellow Dog Music, Inc. — ASCAP) (J. Lieber, M. Stoller, J. Sembello, R. Dino)

Larson follows up "Let Me Go, Love" with this cute 'n' sassy track from the "In The Nick Of Time" LP. R&B-inflected pop, a la the Doobies, is the order of the day, with a big brass section, handclaps and various percussives keeping the sound crisp and lively. Hopping pop.

MADNESS (Sire SRE 49205)

Madness (2:39) (Nutty Sound Limited) (C. Campbell)

Prince Nutty and the rest of the ska cult darlings from the U.K. pump out a most infectious mixture of English musical hall music and rude boy rag on their boppy namesake track here. A DOR favorite, this could translate to the AM airwaves nowadays.

JUDY COLLINS (Elektra E-46623)

Almost Free (2:58) (Koppelman-Bandier Music Corp. — BMI) (H. Prestwood)

Graceful acoustic guitar and electric piano shimmer with Collins' gentle, gossamer-like vocals on this airy cut from the "Running For My Life" LP. Most definitely in keeping with the album's theme, thought-provoking lyrics are balanced with easy accompaniment for an A/C, pop delight.

ADC BAND (Cotillion 45014)

In The Moonlight (4:45) (Two Pepper Publishing — ASCAP) (R. Williams)

Labelmates Mass Production lend assistance behind the boards to the ADCers on this bopping funkier from the upcoming "Renaissance" LP. Bass and brass shake the groove out, with the sweet ADC female vocals lending harmony assistance.

THE S.O.S. BAND (Tabu ZS9 5522)

Take Your Time (Do It Right) Part 1 (3:15) (Publisher Not Listed) (H. Clayton-Sigidi)

Starting a fire on B/C playlists around the country, this cut has a snappy dance beat, propelled by funktronics, rhythmic electric guitar strumming and some excellent lead vocal work. The beat is hot, so don't be surprised if this crosses to pop.

THE BROTHERS JONES (Ovation OV 1147)

Follow Me (3:49) (Ray Turner Music/Creative Music-ASCAP) (S. Jones)

Ovation's first European act, The Bros. Jones, come from the U.K. by way of Copenhagen and their debut single, by songwriter/producer 'Skelly' Jones, displays a frothy electronic euro-pop bent. Cascading keyboards stand out on this pop sleeper.

3-D (Polydor PD 2082)

All American Boy (3:52) (Centerfold Music, Inc.-BMI/Three-Fold Music-ASCAP) (Zivic, Ginsberg, Stevens, Wender)

Robotic lead vocals, supplied by Rick Zivic, underscore the tongue-in-cheek delivery of this new wavish rocker from 3-D. The simple, Knackish beat should work on AOR and pop.

ROGER MCGUINN & CHRIS HILLMAN (Capitol 4855)

City (3:00) (McGuinn Music/April First Music-BMI) (R. McGuinn, C. McGuinn)

The title track from McGuinn & Hillman's current LP, featuring Gene Clark, has a smoldering blues-rock guitar refrain which mesmerizes the listener as it rolls with the beat. McGuinn handles the reedy lead vocals with his usual aplomb.

JIMMY CASTOR (Long Distance LDR-701)

Stay With Me (Spend The Night) (3:35) (Sheli Music) (R. Brown, C. Wurzbach, D. Lewittes)

Castor has left the novelty road since he hit with the top-selling "Troglodyte Song" in the early '70s, as evidenced by this hot R&B/dance number from his "C." LP. Hard charging percussion and bass provide the background for brass shots and electrified vocals on this B/C choice.

TIM BREWER (Novelty NOV-101)

You Got Me On The Run (3:30) (Brewer Music-BMI) (T. Brewer)

Brewer, a finalist in the American Song Festival competition, is a little known but apparently very talented singer/songwriter judging from this stirring folk-tinged rocker. Brewer moves from an easy opening to a passionate finish. A sleeper for pop.

DYNASTY (Solar JH-11959)

When You Feel Like Giving Love (Dial My Number) (3:59) (Spectrum VII/Rosy Music-ASCAP) (L. Sylvers, D. Griffey)

Blending pop and R&B ballad elements through a stylish female lead vocal and full male harmonies, Dynasty have produced a shimmering pastiche of different forms to come up with a sultry and distinctive melody. Perfect for B/C, A/C lists.

OZARK MOUNTAIN DAREDEVILS (Columbia 1-11247)

Take You Tonight (3:09) (Lost Cabin Music-BMI) (S. Cash, J. Dillon, L. Lee)

The Devils come off like southern honkers once again on the chugging first single from their self-titled Columbia debut. The band's vocal prowess is somewhat overshadowed by hard'n steady guitar chording and bluesy harmonica work.

PATTI LABELLE (Epic 9-50872)

I Don't Go Shopping (3:52) (Almo Music Corp.-ASCAP/Irving Music Inc./Woolnoug Music, Inc.-BMI) (P. Allen, D. Lasley)

Labelle turns to what she does best here, stone blues, underscored by subdued string arrangements and a touch of brass. Male backup chorus at the close is an added bonus to this spirited B/C chart contender.

RADIO

AIR PLAY

... THE PLAYER YOU GET — Judging from the quantity of phone calls and press releases that we received from programmers and station promo people who wanted to share with us their April Fool's merriment and pranks, one could almost conclude that April Fool's Day was invented just for radio and the enjoyment of its listeners. While we're sorry that we can't print all of the zany "Fool's Day" antics, here are three episodes that had rather unusual twists. KEYZ/Anaheim generated considerable local attention, as evidenced by a huge headline that appeared in the April 3 edition of The Register, a local Anaheim newspaper. The headline that read, "A Few Not Laughing After April Fool's Broadcast," was referring to the station's 1980 version of the Orson Welles classic, The War Of The Worlds. The modern day gladiators from space were reported to have zapped carnivorous alligators into vegetarians, impregnated the Queen Mary, which gave birth to 1,000 rowboats before sinking, and culminated with the Martians demanding that KEYZ project a stronger signal so that they too could listen to great rock 'n' roll on Mars. While KEYZ's listeners didn't take to the streets in panic, the police did report a number of startled and worried phone calls from listeners who had heard the broadcast. One woman even threatened to call the FCC... KSJO/San Jose jocks told listeners all day that they had seven ounce bags of "Maui Wowie" to give away to the first caller. Excited winners rushed to the station to pick up their "stuff" and found that they had indeed won "Maui Wowie" — seven ounce bags of "Maui Wowie Potato Chips" from Hawaii... The WMAL/Washington, D.C. afternoon team of Bill Trumbull and Chris Core, advertised an "April Fool's Day Parade" on their show complete with helicopter reports on the Parade's progress. One listener decided to get into the act and called the station, angrily demanding to be reimbursed for her expenses to get to the fictitious event. When asked her name, she said, "April." Her last name... "Fools."

DOES THE GUINNESS BOOK OF RECORDS KNOW? — Cliff Johnson, lead singer of

Atlantic recording group Off Broadway usa, may have been the youngest person ever to broadcast on the air. In a recent interview, Johnson said that "a microphone was shoved into my face" five hours after he was born on the nationally syndicated Breakfast With The Johnsons in the 1950s. The long-running radio program (11 years) was what Johnson called "the most candid thing on the airwaves" at the time, and was hosted by his father, a well-known emcee. In fact, Johnson got his start in recording by "fooling around" with his dad's fully-equipped, broadcast quality home studio.

SINGIN' THE BLOOMS — Listeners of KJRB/Spokane have been hearing a new song called "Bloomsday Blues," recorded by the KJRB Blooms

CALLING ON WBL5 — Members of the Chrysalis recording group Blondie recently dropped in at WBL5/New York to chat with program director Frankie Crocker about the group's single, "Call Me," from the "American Gigolo Soundtrack." Pictured are (l-r) Crocker; Michael Abramson, director of national promotion, Chrysalis; Deborah Harry and Chris Stein of Blondie.

Brothers. This local song is about the annual Bloomsday Race, which this year is expected to attract over 12,000 runners. "Bloomsday Blues," written a year ago by ex-KJRB music director Tom Huttyler (now residing at KJR/Seattle), was only recently recorded and pressed onto vinyl. MacDonalds has been given the exclusive rights to sell the record, and all proceeds from record sales will go towards epilepsy medical research. The Blooms Brothers include Huttyler, lead vocals; KJRB PD John Sherman on keyboards; KJRB jocks Lee Tracy and Gary Daniels on rhythm guitar and sax respectively, the bass player and drummer from northwest favorites The Heats, and The Heats' manager, John Kirtzer on lead guitar.

WELCOME TO THE CLUB — They're passing out the cigars at WTIC-FM/Hartford for PD Arnold Chase and his wife Sandy who are celebrating the birth of their first child, William Henry. The little one arrived five weeks ahead of schedule and was cause for concern, but both mother and son (and father) are reported to be happy and healthy.

REQUEST LINE NOTEBOOK — Marty Sobel, music director at M105/Cleveland, was recently asked if he could play the new "Arnold Smith" album. What the listener wanted to hear was the new Aerosmith album.

FOR YOUR INFORMATION — Back by popular demand, Felix Cavaliere is returning to WICC/Bridgeport on April 24 for an encore performance as guest DJ with PD Gary Peters. Cavaliere's first visit to WICC was so successful in February that listeners have been calling the station ever since, asking when he would be back. The agreeable Rascal will once again be talking to his fans and playing his favorite records... Epic recording artists Boston recently defeated the WBCN/Boston DJs (known as the Visitors so that they would always be on the scoreboard) in a wild and wacky basketball game, 60 to 43. The game was staged for charity, with netted proceeds from the game going to the Muscular Dystrophy Association. While the Boston Celtics have nothing to fear from these two teams, Boston, the group, was forced to delay work on its new album, as leader Tom Scholz sprained a finger during the action... WSGN/Birmingham recently co-sponsored a 24-hour dance marathon for the Muscular Dystrophy Association and raised nearly $3,000 for the cause... A recent WPLJ/New York Billy Joel contest showed how resourceful and fanatical Joel's fans can be. Five winners were picked at random from thousands of cards that were mailed to the station to win the grand prize all expenses paid trip for two to London, England to see the performer's concert at Wembley. One of the winners sent in 2,000 postcards, which amounts to about $200 in postage. Yet another person sent in 300 cards and another sent in 35.

NEW JOBS — Six new members have been elected to the Arbitron Radio Advisory Council. They are Bill Clark, KABL AM/FM/San Francisco; Jerry Duckett, WKAP/Allentown-Bethlehem-Easton/Pa.; Perry S. Ury, WTIC/Hartford; Thomas Hoyt, WLUP/Chicago; Nathan Safir, KCOR/San Antonio; and Arthur W. Carleson, WKIS/Orlando... New lineup at KROQ/Los Angeles has Darrell Wayne, 6-10 a.m.; Jerry Longden, formerly KLOS/Los Angeles and KEYZ/Anaheim, 10 a.m.-3 p.m.; Shana, 3-7 p.m.; Jed The Fish, 7-11 p.m.; Chuck Randall, 11 p.m.-3 a.m.; and Nick Starvos and Scott Mason from 3-6 a.m.... Jimmy Mack has been named assistant music director at WBCN.

Programmers Express Mixed Feelings On Tracking Of LPs

by Richard Imamura and Mark Albert

The controversial practice of tracking LPs — playing albums straight through without commercial or other interruption — has for some months brought pressure on radio stations because of the alleged effects it has on reducing record sales via home taping. Once a common and encouraged practice, tracking LPs became a major issue when Fleetwood Mac's "Tusk" was broadcast throughout the country a week prior to the scheduled release date late last year.

Following that incident, an unprecedented open letter, signed by 24 record company executives and Stanley Gortikov, president of the RIAA, was released to radio stations, asking that the industry "stop fostering the home taping of recordings... (and) to halt the commercial-free broadcasting of new-release records as bait for home-taper listenership" (Cash Box, Nov. 10, 1979).

In response, Dwight Case, RKO radio president, instituted a policy that none of his 12 stations would play albums in their entirety or encourage home taping in any way. However, pressure on radio has continued, with the record industry's position best exemplified by former Casablanca president Neil Bogart's keynote address at the recent NARM convention.

Addressing an audience of record, retail and radio industry members, Bogart asked, "Are you surprised at my anger when I see you pushing those blank tapes? Or when I hear radio stations playing albums uninterrupted by commercials, and crowing about it?... Of course a consumer isn't going to spend five or six bucks buying an album if he can tape it off the radio" (Cash Box, April 5).

On the eve of the NAB convention, Cash Box conducted a nationwide survey of radio stations to determine the extent of this practice and the rationale behind its continuation.

LOS ANGELES — While many radio stations across the country have dropped the practice of tracking LPs, a significant number have continued. Citing programming advantages in a competitive situation and some disbelief in the premise that the practice cuts significantly into record sales, 15 of the 26 stations contacted by Cash Box continue to track LPs as a regular feature of their broadcasts.

"We do it because our audience has expressed an interest in it," said Zeta 4/Miami PD Keith Isley, whose station plays 10 LPs per week during featured "album hours." "It is our feeling that playing albums that might not be played otherwise does more to help the record companies than it does to hurt them."

Isley, however, also noted that to discourage home taping, albums that are played are edited and taped prior to broadcast, removing dead air time and changing the order of the songs.

In those ways — featuring "album hours" for audience appeal, but also adding various anti-taping measures — Zeta 4 typified many of the stations that still track LPs. Much of the prevailing mood among PDs of stations that continue the practice was one of understanding the record companies' position, but nevertheless trying to enhance the appeal of the station.

Touchy Situation

"We track an LP in its entirety every day at 11 p.m.," explained WSHE/Ft. Lauderdale PD Neal Mirsky. "It's definitely a touchy situation, but it's too important a programming plus to discard completely. We feature the strongest possible LP out, otherwise it's a classic.

"Our DJs have been told that they will lose their jobs if they encourage taping on the air because I do sympathize with the record companies' position," Mirsky added, "but I don't really think that large a segment of the audience tapes off the radio."

Another approach to allaying record company fears of tracking LPs was a time delay between the release date and the broadcast. "We generally wait from 10 days to 2-3 weeks before airing an album in its entirety," said Rich Piambino, MD at WKLS/Atlanta. "We waited for 24 weeks on Pink Floyd's 'The Wall.' If we wait, the audience is more aware of the album. It's all a matter of timing."

Nevertheless, not all radio stations subscribed to the premise that tracking LPs was a significant factor in declining record sales. Citing rising retail prices, poor disc quality and other factors, some radio stations felt that they were being unfairly blamed for the record industry's problems.

"We don't encourage taping," said Jim Morrison, PD at 94Q-FM/Atlanta. While his station doesn't track LPs, Morrison looked at the home taping issue and added, "It's (home taping) become a target of the record companies, and it's easy to point the finger at radio."

RADIO

WXKX/Pittsburgh PD Bobby Christian, who doesn't track LPs for programming reasons, agreed, explaining that "because the record companies had a bad year in 1979, primarily due to bad product, they looked for a scapegoat. There may be validity to the premise of lost sales because of radio, but if an LP only has one or two good cuts and the rest is filler, it's to the listener's advantage to hear the album beforehand.

"Anyway, it's not a record company's responsibility to program a radio station," Christian added. "If a station pays its licensing fees, it can play what it wants to. It's not the decision of the record companies. Anyone who thinks so should examine the First Amendment."

Echoing and amplifying the point further, WQDR/Raleigh PD Daniel Brunty, who tracks five LPs per week, defended the practice, giving three reasons. "First of all, we think the home taping issue is silly. Tapes are not a possession. There's no cover art, no liner notes and you don't know who's playing in the band. Tapes are not a possession like records.

"Next," Brunty added, "FM technology doesn't offer the full frequency range, so the quality is not what you can get on a record; and finally, you don't ask someone to buy a car without test driving it.

"We look at what we do as a service to our audience," Brunty concluded. "We give the record companies a fair shake by waiting at least 10 days after the LP is in the stores, and we have seen sales increase many times after we have played an album. What happens is that the people have had an opportunity to hear the product. They liked it, so they went out and bought it."

'Test Driving'

The "test driving" principle was also given as a reason for tracking by Zeta 7/Orlando PD Bill Mims. "Listeners have a right to hear the LP before they go out and spend eight dollars," Mims explained. "I'm sure it (tracking LPs) hurts some, but more important, as of late, the quality of discs has gone down the tubes. And look at the escalating costs of LPs. I believe that the drop in record sales is in direct relation to the rising prices."

Still, the programming advantages of tracking LPs can outweigh other considerations. "We have generally discovered that playing an LP all the way through is not as positive a programming tool as you might imagine," said W4/Detroit PD Dick Hungate, "but there are certain instances when playing LPs all the way through really can be beneficial to a radio station, especially in a competitive situation.

"What the record companies and other critics seems to have overlooked is the excitement and aura that playing an LP creates out of the gate. Of course, there are going to be some people who will be sitting around just waiting to tape something, but the others who don't have the time to do it can get caught up in the excitement. Playing a new LP all the way through on the air makes the release more of an event."

The competitive aspect of radio markets has also entered into decisions to track albums in Dallas and Chicago, where rival stations watch each other closely, giving the other's actions as rationales for tracking LPs.

"I agree it cuts into sales," said KTX-Q/Dallas PD Tim Spencer, who moved his "album hour" from midnight to 11 p.m. to qualify the large audience for the ARB ratings, "but the only way I could stop playing LPs all the way through would be for my competitor to stop. I'd have to have some kind of guarantee that my competitor would also abide by this ethic."

Across town at KZEW/Dallas, PD Tom Owens explained, "We're in a competitive situation, and we have to do it. Album image is our staple." Owens added that his "ZEW Sampler," a 3½ minute commercial for an album featuring portions of the cuts and background information, was designed to promote LPs after the home taping issue came up.

Crosstown Competition

In Chicago, WMET and WLUP also indicated that the other's actions were a factor in tracking LPs. "While we don't have a regularly scheduled 'album hour,' we do play LPs occasionally, especially when we get an early release or product from a highly visible act, like the recent Van Halen LP," said WMET MD Dave Vincent.

"We don't promote it when we're going to play an LP, and we try to break it up with station IDs," Vincent continued. "Generally we don't even play the whole album. However, before we played the Van Halen album, we discussed it with their management and they OK'd it. The LUP played it, too."

At rival WLUP, PD Mitch Michaels said that his station had changed its policy on tracking on Dec. 1, 1979 to exclude LPs on the current playlist from the practice. Noting that his station will play two or three tracks from a new album, then add some talk or something else before playing another two or three tracks, Mitchell called it "positive programming," and explained that the process stretched out over a few hours on the average.

Nevertheless, Mitchell noted, "If the record companies let other stations in town do it, then I've got to look at it as condoning the act. We're basically trying to maintain a reasonably good rapport with the companies, but if they're going to allow someone else in town to do it, we'll go back."

On the other side of the coin, the stations that don't track LPs were pretty evenly divided between those who don't believe in the practice from a programming standpoint and those who saw no reason to offend the record companies over what they described as a "simple" matter.

Helping Record Companies

At M105/Cleveland, MD Marty Sobel explained, "We can't do anything about counterfeiting and other problems, so we're willing to understand the record companies' viewpoint and work with them."

Sam Bellamy, PD at KMET/Los Angeles, agreed, adding, "We have never tracked LPs. It's not fair to the record companies. We have a good relationship with them.

"We're not catering to them," Bellamy added, "but for something as simple as that, we don't have to go against them. Besides, it's not necessary. When a hot new LP comes out, we'll play a lot of it, but we'll arrange the cuts in a different order, and we'll never play more than six songs in a row."

Across town at rival KLOS/Los Angeles, PD Damien also said, "We have avoided tracking whole LPs. It is not to radio's advantage to do it. While I'm here primarily to get listeners as opposed to selling records, I can see tracking LPs as a very shortsighted practice. If we do it, record companies will suffer, and they might not be able to find, feed and nurture the acts for the future. If this happens, farther down the road, the listener will suffer."

Damien also pointed out that tracking LPs can be a strategy that will eventually backfire. "Say a new Rolling Stones album came out and I played it. If I let the audience tape it, they'll tune me out later and listen to

AM Stereo, Deregulation Will Highlight Issues At NAB Meet

More than 20,000 members of these fields are expected to attend.

"We expect this year's convention to be one of our best ever," said Wayne Cornils, NAB radio vice president. "It is surely one of the largest gatherings of radio people in the world, and this year's list of exhibitors is the biggest we've ever had."

With 410 exhibitors signed up, this year's convention will easily surpass the 330 present last year in Dallas and the 293 at the 1978 convention in Las Vegas. Among the products exhibited will be satellite equipment, fiber optics, AM stereo equipment, videotape systems and numerous other technological advances applicable to the broadcast industry.

However, much of the attention this year will be focused on the FCC issues that affect the broadcast industry. "There will be three general sessions and 32 workshops, and I expect that sparks will fly when NAB members get together with the FCC commissioners," said Cornils.

"At the workshop titled 'The FCC's Crystal Ball' (scheduled for Tuesday, April 15), which will be moderated by NAB president Vincent Wasilewski and include a panel of FCC commissioners Tyrone Brown, Robert E. Lee and James Quello, one could assume that there will be some fireworks," said Cornils. "It might be remembered that commissioner Lee had some choice words for the NAB after the nine kHz proposal was defeated recently in Buenos Aires."

At that meeting, the nine kHz proposal for AM spacing, which was supported by the FCC, was defeated after NAB vigorously opposed the measure and communicated its feelings to Latin American representatives present at the meeting (Cash Box, April 12).

Another issue that is expected to play an important role is radio deregulation. An entire general session on Tuesday, featuring the FCC's Richard Shiben (author of the commission's original proposal), Steve Simmons of the White House staff and Richard Hirsch, Secretary of Communications for the U.S. Catholic Conference & National Council of Catholic Bishops, will be devoted to the issue; as will the closing business session on Wednesday, which will feature Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin (D-Calif.), sponsor of H.R. 13015, the deregulation bill, and FCC chairman Charles Ferris.

"The deregulation issue has been pending for years, and it will be interesting to see if the discussions this time will be sincere or merely a political football to be kicked around again," Cornils added. "I hope we can see something positive come out of the sessions."

Finally, on the issue of AM stereo, which was just approved by the FCC last week (see separate story, page 7), discussion of the action and the commission's selection of the Magnavox system will surely be a major topic at the Tuesday workshop entitled "Your Competition Is Ready For AM Stereo — Are You?" and the closing joint luncheon featuring FCC chairman Ferris as the guest speaker.

Other highlights of the convention will include:

- The "Tomorrow Media" presentation at the opening session on Monday, April 14. Produced by the TM Companies, the presentation will feature a look at the broadcasting industry from its inception to projections of what it will be like in the year 2076. "It's a creative marriage of today's available media and a glimpse at a future the audience will never live to see," said Pat Shaugnessy, president of the TM Companies. "No one really knows what broadcasting will be like by the year 2076, but based on the present trends and technology, we at TM think 'Tomorrow Media' presents strong possibilities of what may lie ahead for our broadcast successors."

- An opening address by NAB radio board chairman Arnold Lerner and Radio Advertising Bureau (RAB) president Miles David's accompanying address entitled "Radio's State Of Mind: Red Hot!"

- A Monday workshop entitled "Government Relations: Broadcasters In Congress."

- Another Monday workshop entitled "Research/Small Markets: Small Market Radio Stations Can Do Professional Research. Here's How."

- A Tuesday workshop entitled "Government Relations/Lobbying: H.R. 6161 — An Act Of Congress."

- The 1980 Radio Hall Of Fame Induction luncheon featuring columnist Jack Anderson as the featured speaker.

Brady Resigns WABC Post Effective April 30

NEW YORK — Al Brady, operations director at WABC/New York, has tendered his resignation, effective April 30. Brady's resignation was based on personal reasons, and he will return to Boston following his departure from the station.

Brady joined WABC last October to help prepare the station for the 1980s, and under his leadership, the station registered significant increases in the 18-34 demographics throughout the week.

Commenting on Brady's resignation, Alfred Racco, WABC vice president and general manager, said, "Al Brady is a leading contemporary radio programmer and an outstanding young broadcaster, and it was a pleasure to work with him. We sincerely regret his decision to leave."

Brady's successor will be named in a future announcement.

FCC Approval Of AM Stereo Draws Mixed Radio Reaction

adoption of only one system to avoid wasting time implementing AM stereo.

FCC Commissioners Tyrone Brown and Anne Jones dissented in the commission's action, saying that government shouldn't get involved in making business decisions when it comes to selecting which system should be used.

Another factor that appeared to swing the FCC to Magnavox was that it would be compatible with a proposed 9kHz spectrum allocation.

However, Commissioner James Quello maintained that the broadcast industry's viewpoint was that the FCC should make the choice to save time and money.

Kanner of KHJ, however, said that he was not sure that the Magnavox system had actually been extensively tested at AM stations and that the Kahn-Hazeltine system, which was tested at KHJ, showed significant advantages when compared to AM station tests of Magnavox.

He said that the Magnavox could only transmit up to 85% before "noise bursts and popping sounds" would ensue. Kanner added that the Kahn system could transmit up to 100% with superior results.

While admitting that the Magnavox could not modulate effectively at 100%, Dr. Robert Powers, acting director of Lukask's research and analysis staff, defended the selection of Magnavox. Powers said that Magnavox had undergone testing on how the system affected mono broadcast degrading, whether it caused channel interference and how much stereo sound quality was available.

He said he was not sure that Magnavox had been as intensely tested at AM stations as other systems. Powers added that Kahn Communications refused to submit its machine for some of the lab tests.

Kahn Communications was unavailable for comment at press time.

Powers said that it would not have been fair to the consumer if the commission had adopted all the systems. "We felt we could recommend the Magnavox AM system because of its superiority in our testing," Powers commented.

He added that now consumer electronic manufacturers would have to develop radio and stereo components to accommodate AM stereo, a move that will push stereo product prices higher.

Forman said that companies must immediately produce "quality hardware with AM stereo." He added that until the electronics companies move to produce equipment compatible with whatever system the FCC adopts, it would take time for the listener to take advantage of the added choice of AM radio.

"AM stereo would definitely put us back in the ballpark," Forman commented.

He said that the generation of youth who grew up on FM AOR radio would now have a more viable option in AM stereo.

the tape. I will have lost them after an hour. In the short term, it's a good programming tool, but in the long run, I don't believe it is."

Questionable Appeal

Another negative factor of tracking LPs from the programming standpoint was expressed by KFRC/San Francisco PD Les Garland. "I question its programming appeal," said Garland. "It only appeals to one act's fans for 30-45 minutes. I just don't believe in it."

This point was amplified by WBCN/Boston PD Tony Berradini, who said, "We don't track LPs, but it doesn't have anything to do with the record companies. It's just lousy programming to play an entire LP, especially with a new artist. We'll play something every half hour from Pink Floyd or 'Tusk,' but we'll set up our introduction of a new act by playing the cuts mixed in with things more familiar on a mass level so the audience can put it in context."

This attitude was also shared by WNEW/New York program coordinator Richard Neer. "It's better to spread out an LP over eight hours or so," he said, "for the basic quarter hour maintenance. It'll keep the audience listening because most people will get bored listening to a whole LP."

"It's just not a good programming tool," Neer continued. "The audience tunes in to hear what they can't hear at home, and you're not giving them anything special by playing a whole LP."

Creative Package

"Creative programming is the key," added WMMR/Philadelphia PD Charlie Kendall. "We'll occasionally track an LP if it won't hurt the record or artist, but it isn't a big programming tool. We prefer to offer our listeners a more creative package, which also helps us from the promotional standpoint because we can talk about it all day."

Kendall pointed to the recent release of the "Duke" LP by Genesis. While WMMR's competitors tracked the LP, Kendall put together a package that mixed the new cuts with catalog, unreleased cuts and various informational tidbits about the band. "We got much more mileage out of the LP that way," Kendall noted, "plus I think we gave our listeners something worthwhile without hurting the record company or the group."

This point was also emphasized by John Platt, PD at WRVR/New York, the only jazz station contacted in the survey. While his station does play entire LPs on certain occasions, Platt added that there was more to it than that. "The biggest problem is people playing LPs just for the sake of playing LPs. We like to be in the position where we can give the audience a little more."

"When we play an album, we usually mix it in with an interview with the artist," Platt said. "We'll try to offer a complete package, compiled in a creative manner."

LIGHTIN' UP THE SOUTH — A&M recording artists The Brothers Johnson recently visited the south to promote their new album, "Light Up The Night." Sherman Leads WNBC/N.Y. Back To Competitive Position

by Mark Albert

LOS ANGELES — It has only been nine months since Bob Sherman came to WNBC/New York as its vice president and general manager, but in that time, the station has achieved enormous success in its ratings and, consequently, has also taken very positive strides in sales. Under Sherman's leadership, WNBC is obviously better serving the New York Tri-State area.

To engineer WNBC's turnaround, Sherman chose to emphasize the music. Program director Bob Pittman streamlined the playlist and returned to more conventional wisdoms about mass appeal music, which meant playing the hits.

Then Sherman completely reorganized the sales and marketing departments.

The final element, and perhaps the most important, was the re-hiring of DJ Don Imus, who has since gone on to become the #1 morning man in the country, according to the latest Arbitron figures.

"In my view," stated Sherman, "the very, very dramatic turnaround of WNBC in many ways lends as much support to Imus' ability to be compelling to listen to as it does to every other aspect that we've done here as a business procedure."

Recent Arbitron figures (12+ total shares, Monday through Sunday, 6 a.m.-midnight) certainly bear out the rhetoric. Based on Jan./Feb. 1980 Arbitrons, WNBC's audience is up 679,800 over a year ago (Jan./Feb. 1979). That figure is also the greatest increase of any of the 45 stations that Arbitron reported on in that market. Going back to June of 1979 when Sherman came to the station, WNBC's ratings were 2.7. In the books that followed in July/Aug., Oct./Nov., and Jan./Feb. 1980, the station climbed to 2.8, then 3.2 and 4.0, respectively.

Before Sherman's arrival at WNBC, the station's ratings were not considered to be very competitive and sales for the first nine months of 1979 were among the poorest in the station's history. Changes in the way the station sounded musically, in personnel and in the overall image were cited by Sherman as necessary marketing steps that had to be implemented in order to turn WNBC around.

Ads Up 240%

"As of the first week in April, we have booked 240% more advertising dollars than as of the first week in April 1979," Sherman explained. "What may be more staggering is that we have booked 51% more as of the first week in April than we did as of the first week in April for both 1978 and 1979 cumulatively. In terms of first quarter, which we just closed, we were 212% ahead of 1979 and again 51% ahead of the 1978 and 1979 first quarters."

Prior to joining WNBC, Sherman had conversations with NBC corporate management and other industry peers who expressed concern about the viability of an AM station taking a dramatic move in the ratings through the playing of music. Sherman said that their fears were based on the proliferation of audience delivery by FM stations, and simultaneously with that, the attrition of the audience on the AM band with stations that played mass appeal music during the last year.

Prophets Of Doom

"The prophets of doom had a field day about whether or not dramatic changes in ratings by playing music on the AM band could happen," Sherman said. "My only concern was with respect to NBC's expectations, their resources and their commitments to making a dramatic move, because that was my real interest. I'm of the belief that correct business and broadcasting techniques should work for any radio station."

"One of the things that the public quite obviously needs from radio is music," Sherman added. "Another is information. And another, in some cases, is effective personalities who make leisure time spent with the radio, pleasurable and rewarding for the listening public. If a radio station is in fact serving the public needs by presenting good entertainment fare, correct and important information, than I think its going to succeed."

Indie Promoters Provide Key Link Between Labels, Radio

by Don Cusic

NASHVILLE — Stiff competition for radio airplay and major label personnel cutbacks have created a greater demand than ever before for independent promotion reps specializing in country music.

While the indies are hired primarily by artists, managers and publishing companies, many small record labels hire independents to work their product in lieu of a full-time promotion staff. Additionally, the major labels occasionally hire independent promotion reps to work specific projects on a geographical basis.

The importance of independent promotion was stated most succinctly by independent promo man Frank Mull, who said, "Most radio guys won't listen to a record until they've gotten two or three calls about it, because they want to know somebody is really serious about the record before they go on it."

Stan Byrd, head of country promotion for Warner Bros., echoed Mull's statement. "You can tell which records have independents working them by watching the charts and seeing which records are making the big jumps," he said.

Other label promotion executives interviewed by Cash Box, including Joe Casey of CBS and Erv Woolsey of MCA, stressed that they hire independents for specific projects only. "It depends on the product flow," said Casey. "When we have a heavy release schedule or if we're breaking a new artist and want a high profile, we hire independents."

Woolsey added, "The drawback with indies is that they can't offer a radio station what a major label can with regards to album giveaways and things like that."

Peter Svendsen, an independent promotion man based in Texas countered that argument, stating, "The labels can allocate albums and send in an artist for a free show, but the bottom line is quality product and helping the stations by promoting hits. In this economic crunch, if the label's staff is cut down, it can't give A-1 attention to each act."

(Although both label and promotion reps agreed that the new economics of the record business have proved to be a bonanza for independent promoters in general, they noted that the increase in activity has been offset by the fact that recent label cutbacks have resulted in more people entering the field of independent promotion. In other words, while the indie promotion pie has grown, now there are more people taking slices from it.)

The consensus among label promotion execs was that independents are most effective when they concentrate on a particular geographic area, rather than try to work a project nationally. "We always try to

Vogue Music Acquires Half Interest In Chips Moman's Baby Chick Music

NASHVILLE — In a major acquisition, Vogue Music, a part of the Welk Music Group, acquired 50% interest in Baby Chick Music, owned by Chips Moman and Toni Wine. The acquisition includes an agreement that Moman, Wine and Bobby Emmons will continue to write for Baby Chick. These three writers have been the chief contributors to the success of Baby Chick Music.

Titles that are included in the purchase include "Luchenbach, Texas," "Wurlitzer Prize" (both hits for Waylon Jennings); "Everybody Loves A Rain Song" and "Help Me Make It To My Rocking Chair," which were both hits for B.J. Thomas.

Chips Moman has been a top songwriter/producer for a number of years, producing records for Elvis Presley, B.J. Thomas, Waylon Jennings, Dionne Warwick, Carla Thomas, The Box Tops, Bobby Womack and Ronnie Milsap, among others. He owns his own 24-track recording studio, Moman Recording Studio, in Berry Hill, Tenn., which he uses primarily for his own productions.

Moman is currently in the process of completing two album projects, one with Gary Stewart and the other with Dickie Betts. Both albums will contain several songs co-published under the new agreement.

Bobby Emmons has worked and collaborated with Moman through the Red Sovine Dies

NASHVILLE — Woodrow Wilson "Red" Sovine, the 62-year-old country music artist, died April 4 following injuries sustained in an automobile accident. Sovine, who spent more than half his life in the music business, was best known for such recitations as "Teddy Bear" and "Giddyup Go."

Sovine was buried at Woodlawn Cemetery here, following funeral services at Christ the King Church, which was attended by some 400 persons, including friends Ernest Tubb, Justin Tubb, Dickey Lee, Billy Walker, Stu Phillips, Rex Allen Jr. and Grand Ole Opry emcee Grant Turner.

years and is one of Nashville's top studio musicians. He has written or co-written a number of major copyrights, including "Luchenbach, Texas" and "Wurlitzer Prize."

Toni Wine, who is Moman's wife, is an artist as well as writer whose credits include having been the original "Dawn" of Tony Orlando and Dawn as well as one of the voices of the Archies. Wine's writer credits include "Candida," "Here Comes The Flowers," "What Are You Doing Sunday," "Tonight You're Gonna Fall In Love," "Mr. and Mrs. Untrue," "A Groovy Kind of Love" and "Your Husband, My Wife."

Roger Sovine, vice president of Welk's professional department, was responsible for putting the deal together and will be working closely with Moman, Wine and Emmons in developing their past and future material.

In addition to the numerous songs in the catalog that have been recorded through Moman's productions, there is a wealth of unrecorded material that has never been exploited because it did not fit one of Moman's projects.

RCA Plans Phase Two In Pride Album Promo

NASHVILLE — RCA Records here has announced phase two of the Charley Pride marketing campaign for his "Little Bit of Hank In Me" album. The second phase kicks off with the release of the second single from the LP, "You Win Again."

In addition to the new single release, the label plans a renewed attack on the consumer level, with an expansion of the editorial print base already established, as well as a press push in conjunction with Pride's tour schedule.

The album is also featured in the RCA "Kickin' Country" program, which will run through May. Additionally, Pride will be co-hosting the Academy of Country Music Awards, broadcast over NBC May 1.

Following his current tour of Europe, Pride will embark on a coast-to-coast tour that will stretch into September.

REYNOLDS HONORS REED WITH CAR — Actor Burt Reynolds recently bestowed a specially designed Trans-Am upon "Smokey and the Bandit II" co-star Jerry Reed. The car is a replica of the "Bandit" machine Reynolds drives in the movie, which is set for a July release. Pictured after the ceremony are (l-r): Hal Needham, director of the film; Reynolds; Jerry O. Bradley, RCA division vice president; Reed; and Harry Warner, Reed's manager.

THE COUNTRY COLUMN

MOVING UP THE CHARTS, SELLING OUT THE THEATRES — Loretta Lynn has had plenty of reasons to smile lately. The film based on her life story, "Coal Miner's Daughter," has grossed over $22 million in less than a month. Additionally, Lynn will be the subject of a major profile on ABC-TV's "20/20," airing the end of April or early May. The feature will include interviews with Lynn, husband Mooney, her mother, other family members, Sissy Spacek (who portrays Lynn in the film) and more. And finally, Lynn recently completed a two-week engagement in Harrah's in Reno. Needless to say, business was good.

Congratulations to Kenny Rogers, who this week boasts five albums in the Cash Box Country Album Chart. His newest release, "Gideon," took its place on the charts a couple of weeks ago, joining "Kenny," "The Gambler," "Ten Years Of Gold" and his duet effort with Dottie West, "Classics."

Loretta Lynn

Look for bigger and better things for Wendy Holcombe, the 16-year-old banjo player. Her manager, Tandy Rice, recently announced a major network "development deal" with NBC Television for the young lady. Though no specifics were cited, Rice said the result will be many appearances in major network specials and variety shows for Holcombe.

The American Song Festival is now accepting entries for Lyric Competition 7 and the 7th annual Songwriting Competition. The deadline for Lyric Competition 7 is April 30, while the Songwriting Competition's deadline is June 4. For additional info, write The American Song Festival, P.O. Box 57, Hollywood, Calif., 90028, or call (213) 464-8193.

Johnny Cash's group is no longer called the Tennessee Three, but the Great Eighties Eight. Why? Marty Stuart was recently added as a permanent member of the group, bringing the grand total to eight members, plus June Carter Cash. Jim Owens Productions recently hosted an industry-wide viewing party for its two-hour TV special, "Hank Williams: The Man And His Music." The movie, which at this time has no definite air date or network, features an inspiring performance by Jim Owen as Hank Williams, and guest appearances by Hank Williams Jr., Johnny Cash, Waylon Jennings, Kris Kristofferson, Faron Young, Brenda Lee, Teresa Brewer, Minnie Pearl, Roy Acuff and Little Jimmy Dickens. Look for it — it's sure to be a treat.

In a first of its kind pact, BMI has entered into a national agreement with the Shriners, allowing that organization to use the BMI repertory of over 1,000,000 compositions and songs.

SIGNINGS — MDJ recording group Alabama has signed a booking agreement with Dale Morris' International House of Talent. Newly-signed Mercury artist Carlton Collins recently signed with SESAC. Narvel Felts has signed with the William Morris Agency.

Country and Western club The Yellow Rose in Corpus Christi, Tex., has changed its ownership and format, and hosted its grand opening April 11 with Vern Gosdin. Upcoming artists include Mickey Gilley and Gene Watson. Robert Dickinson, president of the club, noted that the club will boast a new interior and exterior, and that the format change will feature lesser known country acts on Friday nights and one major country act per month. Ken Rollins of Deluxe Talent in Nashville will coordinate bookings.

George Burns became an official member of the Country Music Assn. in March. Burn's latest Phonogram/Mercury single, "A Real Good Cigar," is scheduled for release soon.

Steeler quarterback turned country singer Terry Bradshaw was in town a couple of weeks ago, promoting his new single, "Until You." While paying Cash Box a visit, he paid Larry Gatlin a very big compliment, stating Gatlin is his favorite singer.

Eddie Rabbitt is back on the concert trail after a five and a half month hiatus, which wasn't really a vacation. During that time, he completed his new album for Elektra, which was recorded at Caribou Studio, and he finished taping his TV special, slated to air on NBC in July. Rabbitt is currently in the midst of a personal appearance schedule that will keep him hopping all across this nation.

Columbia artist Bobby Bare was recently invited by the Smithsonian Institute in Washington D.C. to appear in its upcoming American Country Music Series set for Oct. 1. For the moment, Bare has taken his "Down and Dirty" tour to Europe, where he will do six concerts before heading back to the U.S. in mid-April to continue his American "Down and Dirty."

United Artists' Billie Jo Spears will appear at the Lone Star April 24, following her guest stint as "DJ for a Day" on New York's WHN Radio.

COUNTRY RADIO

THE COUNTRY MIKE

RADIO STATION WVAM BURNS DOWN — According to program director Stan Davis at WVAM in Altoona, Penn., the station burned to the ground in the early morning hours of April 7. The station's sign-off man left at 12 midnight, and according to firemen the building had burned down by 12:17 a.m., apparently due to an electrical problem. The damage was estimated at a quarter of a million dollars. The station is now using mobile studios to operate, but is in need of product and would appreciate service. Send records to Stan Davis, WVAM, P.O. Box 1827, Altoona, Penn. 16602. The station plans to build a new studio as soon as possible.

MUSIC DIRECTOR PROFILE — Con Schrader, currently MD at KLAQ in Denver, has been involved with radio since 1948. Schrader began his career as a part-time announcer for KSFT/Trinidad, Colo. His first full-time position came a few years later while he was with KLTN/Denver, which is now KTCK. He stayed with the station eight years as an announcer as well as music director. He also did remote engineering and studio technical work. In 1958 Schrader joined KMYR/Denver as news director and PD. This station changed ownership many times and today has call letters KERE. In 1962 he was hired by KLAQ, and in 1964 he became MD.

According to Joe Ladd, MD at KIKK/Pasadena, Tex., the station's new operations manager is Charlie Ochs. The station also has a new promotions director, Betty Rose.

Joe Wade Formicola, MD at KENR/Houston, reports that Bill Ashford is the station's new news director. Ashford was previously with KTVV-TV in Austin.

Tom Skaggs recently joined KEBC/Oklahoma City as a DJ. Skaggs is from Handelman City, Okla.

According to Pete Porter, MD at WJJD, Ron Jordan has joined the staff. Jordan came from KBOX/Dallas.

Radio station KCUB/Tucson is looking for an afternoon drive announcer with experience. Contact Dave Nelson, P.O. Box 50006, Tucson, Ariz. 85703.

According to Ken Holley, MD at WJQS/Jackson, Miss., the station's new weekend announcer is Jeff Harris. Harris was with WHJT/Miss. College in Clinton, Miss.

BRIGHTMAN BOOKING JAMBOREE TALENT — Gerald Brightman will assume the duties of booking and contracting artists for Jamboree U.S.A., a subsidiary of Columbia Pictures Radio, Inc. The announcement was made by J. Ross Felton, vice president of Columbia. Jamboree U.S.A., one of the oldest live country music shows, is broadcast every Saturday night over WWVA Radio in Wheeling, W. Va. It is syndicated nationally by the Mutual Broadcasting Company.

According to Country Charlie, MD at WVOJ/Jacksonville, the station recently held the "world's largest garage sale." A concert was also provided for the 18,000 people who attended. Performers included Ronnie McDowell, O.B. McClinton, Don King, Bobby G. Rice, Billy Larkin and Larry G. Hudson.

Proud Country, Nashville-based country radio consultants, are now accepting tapes and resumes for possible openings at client stations. Programming, music and news applicants are needed. No calls, but write Proud Country, 48 Music Square East, Nashville, Tenn. 37203.

WHK in Cleveland will sponsor Waylon Jennings and the original Crickets April 26 at the Richfield Coliseum. Hosting the concert will be Gary Dee.

Independent Country Promoters

hire on a regional basis," noted Woolsey of MCA. Warner Bros.' Byrd added, "The tighter the geographical area worked the better."

Programmers' Viewpoint

From a radio standpoint, a Cash Box survey of 40 country radio programmers revealed overwhelming support for independent promotion reps. Of the programmers surveyed, 80% said they like working with indies because the outside reps provide them with information tailored to their specific market as a supplement to the data they receive from the record company.

The broadcasters went on to cite specific indie promoters for their understanding of radio and comprehensive product knowledge. Among those acknowledged to be leaders in the field of independent country promotion were John Curb, Peter Svendsen, Frank Mull, Bruce Hinton, Gene Hughes, Ed Spacek, Wade Pepper, Ken

Woods and Sam Cerami.

A couple of years ago, Jan Rhees, a former sales coordinator for Elektra, decided to expand the concept of independent country promotion to include the affiliated fields of sales and marketing. Today her company, Jan Rhees Marketing, works closely with independent promoters to coordinate record sales with radio airplay.

According to Rhees, the concept involves calling distributors, accounts and mom and pop stores in order to "get them excited about a record." She adds, "If a record is on a radio station in a particular area, I make sure it's in the stores too. Also, we try to tie together various marketing ideas, such as in-store play and point of purchase display materials."

Rhees added that she works closely with a number of independent promotion men, especially Peter Svendsen and Bruce Hinton, as they cover the radio market while she covers the retail markets, to assure that when a record gets radio exposure, sales follow.

For The Record

In an article on independent record companies that appeared in the April 12 issue of Cash Box, it was incorrectly stated that 12 indie labels have had records on the Cash Box Country Album chart so far this year. The correct number of indie labels that had charting albums during the survey period was 32. Among the labels omitted were: MDJ, IBC, Orlando, Derrick, Dimension, Volcano, Sunset/Sunbird, Hitbound, Macho, Jeremiah, Copper Mt., Armada, Frontline, Churchill, Little Giant, NSD, Sabre, IAS, Cachet, and Regency.

SINGLES REVIEWS

CRYSTAL GAYLE (United Artists UA-X1347-Y)

River Road (3:08) (Chappell/Newtonville, ASCAP) (S. Tyson)

A smooth paced country sound with Gayle's sweet, clear vocals topping it off. This material was recorded a while back, but only proves that Gayle has always recorded top quality material.

MEL TILLIS (Elektra E-46628-A)

Your Body Is An Outlaw (3:24) (Sawgrass, BMI) (B. Rabin)

A cheating song that involves an upstanding man of the community who can't stay away from a little darlin'. Medium paced number with tasteful production and a strong hook — look for it to be popular with listeners.

CHARLIE RICH (Epic 9-50869)

Even A Fool Would Let Go (3:03) (Chappell, ASCAP/Unichappell, BMI) (K. Chater-T. Snow)

Rich's former label releases this super ballad with a lot of bounce about letting go of a love when it's let go of you. Even a fool would know this is hitbound.

MOE BANDY (Columbia 1-11255)

The Champ (2:24) (Baray, BMI/Cross Keys, ASCAP) (D. Kirby-W. Robb)

Bandy is king of the drinking song and in this one he brags about being the king of the drinkers, telling all that when others are down and out from booze, he'll be drinking on.

TERRY BRADSHAW (Benson 2001)

Until You (3:12) (Duchess, BMI) (Crutchfield-Cloniger)

Star Steeler quarterback Terry Bradshaw shows that he can toss touchdowns in the field of music, too. A tender, super ballad, this will make believers out of radio programmers and listeners.

MICKI FUHRMAN (MCA MCA-41220)

Who Will Answer (3:57) (World Songs, ASCAP) (L.E. Aute-S. Davis)

Pretty Micki Fuhrman delivers a song that raises the questions of life and the reasons for people doing what they do. Fine production on this thought-provoking number.

ORION (Sun 7-1553-S)

A Stranger In My Place (3:18) (Devon/Amos/Flea Show, BMI) (K. Rogers-K. Vassy)

Musically, it's almost impossible to tell Orion apart from Elvis. This classic is sung well in the style and sound that sold millions of records. If the "King" was still alive, this might be what he sounds like today.

SINGLES TO WATCH

TEQUILA SHEILA (Columbia 1-11259)

Bobby Bare (4:21) (Horse Hair Music/Evil Eye Music—BMI) (S. Silverstein/M. Davis)

I'M GONNA LOVE YOU TONIGHT (LIKE THERE'S NO TOMORROW) (Mercury 57020)

Becky Hobbs (2:42) (Al Gallico Music—BMI) (Becky Hobbs)

I CAN HEAR KENTUCKY CALLING ME (CMH CMH-1524)

Osborne Brothers (2:22) (House Of Bryant Publ.—BMI) (B. Bryant/F. Bryant)

THE HITCH-HICKER (Golden Eagle GE-106)

Frank Jones (3:49) (Tenpenny Music/D & L Music—BMI) (Dave Hall/Danny Walls)

CHICKEN OF THE COUNTY (IBC IBC-0009)

Rod Hart (3:51) (Roger Bowling Music—BMI/Sleepy Hollow Music—ASCAP) (Roger Bowling/Billy Ed Wheeler)

HAVE A GOOD DAY (Copper Mountain IRDA-589)

Henson Cargill (3:46) (Cross Keys Music—ASCAP/Andite Invasion Publ.—BMI) (D. Kirby/H. Bynum)

HIS & HERS (Rounder 4527)

Vernon Oxford (2:15) (Dropkick Music—BMI) (Paul Craft)

ALBUM REVIEWS

A TOUCH OF BRYANT — Felice & Boudleaux Bryant — CMH CMH-5243 — List: 7.98

Felice and Boudleaux Bryant are legendary songwriters and on this album, their first ever, they include four of their standards, "Rocky Top," "Bye Bye Love," "All I Have To Do Is Dream" and "Raining In My Heart" as well as eight new songs. Best of the new tunes include "When I Stop Loving You," "I Can Hear Kentucky Calling Me" and "Playing In The Sand." A real collectors item.

AMERICA, WHY I LOVE HER — John Wayne — RCA AFL1-3484 — Producer: Billy Liebert — List: 7.98

John Wayne is not known as a country music singer; however, he is undeniably a legend with a following as vast as the American continent and there's certain to be an immediate demand for this collection of recitations by the Duke. His unmistakable voice comes through over a backdrop of music on selections such as "Why I Love Her" and "The Pledge of Allegiance" as the legend lives on.

COLORADO BLUE — Gary McMahan — Tomato TOM-7024 — Producer: John Simon — List: 7.98

This is an album of smooth sounding modern day cowboy songs. From the strikingly beautiful front cover to the vinyl which contains some equally beautiful songs, this collection captures America's current as well as past fascination with the cowboy. Best cuts include "Dena Rose," "Daydream Cowboy," "The Buckskin Lady," "Colorado Blue" and "Cattle Call."

TENTH — The Marshall Tucker Band — Warner Bros. HS 3410 — Producer: Stewart Levine — List: 7.98

The Marshall Tucker Band continues to have a strong following within country music, especially among the more progressive elements. On this album, their tenth, they combine their southern rock numbers with some country-flavored tunes like "See You One More Time," and "Foolish Dreaming" as well as a gospel flavored number, "Gospel Singin' Man."

'Urban Cowboy' Push Begins

message in the songs on this album, and it is really a tremendous gift."

Faraci, along with an Urban Cowboy pre-campaign task force that included Elektra/Asylum chairman Joe Smith, vice chairman Mel Posner, director of sales Lou Maglia, director of advertising and merchandising Randy Edwards and Frontline principals Azoff and Larry Solters, introduced the album and a 15-minute sample reel of the film to the music communities in Los Angeles, Atlanta, New York, Dallas, Boston and Chicago last week. Retailers were also alerted to the special dating program at the product presentation.

"It's a major league campaign," said E/A's vice president of creative services Jerry Sharrell. "It's the biggest album of the year for us, and it could become our biggest in history. It's an across the board kind of LP so we will place ads in publications as diverse as Seventeen magazine and Rolling Stone."

Radio Spots

Sharrell went on to say that E/A would be cutting six different regionalized radio ad spots for AOR, country and pop formats. The label has also sought the services of Ken Burkhardt's consulting company to advise the record company on the nature of the time buy and the content of the spots. Paramount radio ads for the movie will also have a tag for the soundtrack.

Artists such as Joe Walsh and Bob Seger will be employed for the FM spots. Mickey Gilley will probably promote the album in the country markets, and Dan Fogelberg or the Eagles will most likely be used for pop advertising.

Other artists represented on the Urban Cowboy soundtrack include Boz Scaggs ("Look What You've Done To Me"), Kenny Rogers ("Love the World Away"), Linda Ronstadt and J.D. Souther ("Heart's

1980 DJ Awards Nominees Named

Get Enough"). He was also nominated best male artist in the contemporary/popular category.

The Commodores, Smokey Robinson and Donna Summer also earned two nominations each. The Commodores were nominated for best duo or group and for best LP ("Midnight Magic"), while Robinson was nominated for best male artist and best single ("Cruisin'"). Summer was nominated best female artist and for best album ("Bad Girls").

In the country music category, Kenny Rogers led all nominees with five nominations, including best male artist, best songwriter, best LP for two albums ("The Gambler" and "Kenny") and for best single ("Coward of the County").

Also garnering multiple nominations in this category were Willie Nelson, Crystal Gayle, the Bellamy Brothers and the Charlie Daniels Band, each with two.

Ballots selecting the winners of the awards are due at the offices of the accounting firm of Kern and Levy by April 21.

Mamakos said that last year's program producers, Harrison/Siegman Productions, in association with Wolfman Jack Productions, found little support among television networks for a repeat of the disco awards show this year.

"Nobody felt disco was strong enough to generate enough audience interest," Mamakos commented.

The television special will be hosted by Wolfman Jack and will be distributed internationally by On Air, Inc. for either live or tape-delay broadcast.

Presenters in each category will be named at a later date.

Against The Wind"), Bonnie Raitt ("Darlin'" and "Don't It Make You Want To Dance"), Anne Murray ("Could I Have This Dance"), Johnny Lee ("Lookin' For Love"), and The Charlie Daniels Band ("Fallin' In Love For The Night" and "The Devil Went Down To Georgia").

Print Ads

E/A will also be utilizing two and four color, full page print advertising in the June issues of a wide variety of consumer magazines. Ads will be keyed on the album graphics, and the initial print campaign will be followed by a secondary drive after the film opens. Trade advertising will be based on the release of the LP's singles, which will be put out two at a time.

In-store displays will also be based on the album's cover art, which features Travolta dressed up in cowboy garb. Point of purchase displays include a 2x4 four color poster, an 18x48 banner, a 2x3 poster, a 4x4 unmounted and mounted front cover blow-up (which has a stiff foam core insert) and 1x1 minis of the album cover.

Other features of the E/A Urban Cowboy soundtrack campaign include a free poster in the first quarter of a million albums shipped, and a tie-in with the June 5 premiere of the movie in which all proceeds go to the Houston Crippled Children's Society.

Pressing Plants Increase Prices

the increased costs along to their customers.

"We took a microscopic look at all our accounts, and evaluated each of our customer's history of payment, respective volumes and what services were required for each, and came up with the fairest possible increase for each of them," said Joe Talbot, president of Precision and United.

Talbot, whose companies press for Motown, Quality, Nashboro, Ovation and more than 250 smaller labels, went on to say that the industry as a whole should learn to stagger price increases and not have to institute price hikes every time the price of vinyl goes up. He maintained that utilities, paper goods, insurance and labor should be taken into account along with the soaring price of vinyl and raw materials.

However, Talbot said that until a dramatic technological development comes along that will increase pressing efficiency, it comes down to a matter of a pressing plant increasing prices or getting out of the business.

Proportional Increase

"We have, as usual, adjusted our prices in direct proportion to the vinyl increase," said Jack Wagner, vice president of Allied. Wagner added he thought a fair amount of pressing plants would cope with the new 44½ cent PVC price-per-pound by upping prices by at least ½ cent.

Although some pressing plants are taking the April 1 PVC hike with a grain of salt, Talbot explained that he spoke for many of his fellow pressers when he said, "It's getting worse every day — utilities have gone out of sight and vinyl prices seem to consistently be on the rise. I'm just afraid there is going to be another increase in May or June."

Rambow's LP Set For April Release On Capitol

LOS ANGELES — London-based EMI recording artist Philip Rambow's debut solo LP, "Shooting Gallery," will be released in North America on the Capitol label this week, announced Rupert Perry, vice president of A&R for Capitol.

SLICK GRACES MANHATTAN — RCA Records recording artist Grace Slick was recently feted by label executives during a cross-country promotion tour for her debut solo album, "Dreams." Shown at RCA's New York headquarters are (l-r): Scott Zito, musician; Mil Ilberman, division vice president of business affairs for RCA Records; Skip Johnson, Slick's manager and husband; Slick; Ron Frangipane, producer and arranger; Bob Summer, president of RCA Records; and Don Wardell, manager of product management for pop music for the label.

wins in the end? Two years ago, the shelf price in this town was $5.99. Since that time, the cost of living has increased 25%, wholesale prices have gone up three percent, and the shelf price is only $6.18. I respect WEA for taking care of its bottom line, and you can be sure that I'm going to as well."

"Any price increase makes it harder to sell records," opined Roy Imber, the president of Elroy Enterprises, the Long Island-based parent company of the Record World/TSS stores, "but some records went up a little too high. It's just something you learn to live with in this business." Imber said that he anticipated deleting some of the slower moving titles from his inventory because of the increases, even though he said he does not foresee any consumer backlash. "Anybody that wants one of these titles bad enough is either going to pay for it or wait until an all-label sale. But at the cost of doing business today, we have to find ways to increase our markup, not lower it."

Picture Sleeves Catching On As Marketing Tool In U.S.

by Leo Sacks

NEW YORK — Picture sleeves and seven-inch EPs, long recognized in the United Kingdom as a marketing tool for breaking new artists, are gaining strong support as a merchandising tool in this country as well, according to a Cash Box survey. Following the lead of the domestic division of I.R.S., which is marketed by A&M, and Virgin Records, a growing number of labels have begun to release seven-inch records with picture sleeves as a means of stimulating interest in new product at both radio and retail.

A foremost example of this trend is the recent release of "Play" by Humans on I.R.S. The disc, mastered at 33 1/3 rpm, is packaged in a gatefold sleeve, contains four songs and a 12-page picture booklet, and lists for $3.49. I.R.S. has released 10 seven-inch singles since the label pacted with A&M in September 1978 for the manufacture and distribution of its product. Normally, its seven-inch singles list for $2.00 as compared with the average U.S. list price of $1.49. The higher-price, according to national sales manager Bob Laul, is justified by the extra cost of the picture sleeve and by the fact that its pressings "are considerably better than the average domestic single."

10-Inch Singles

Virgin Records has regularly issued seven-inch records in picture sleeves since it began releasing product through Atlantic Records last summer. The list price for the singles is $1.49, a price that also applies to the company's 10-inch single product. In late March, Virgin released a new 10-inch single by the Motors, "Love and Loneliness," and is currently making plans to release a new XTC 10-inch single that will feature a fold-out poster and game board.

A number of other companies have also started to issue picture sleeve 45s and seven-inch LPs with greater regularity. In recent weeks, for example, picture sleeves have appeared on the "Refugee" single by Tom Petty (MCA); "Don't Fall In Love With A Dreamer" by Kenny Rogers and Kim Carnes (UA); Bette Midler's "The Rose" (Atlantic), and Stephanie Mills' "Sweet Sensation" (20th Century-Fox). In addition, Columbia released sleeves for new singles by Bob Dylan ("Slow Train"), Elvis Costello ("I Can't Stand Up For Falling Down"), and Jules and the Polar Bears (an EP containing four previously unreleased tracks).

Imports Paved Way

The groundwork for the acceptance at retail of the domestically-released picture sleeve 45 was paved in large measure by the success of import singles and EPs with picture sleeves, according to label executives contacted by Cash Box. "It's been a long, uphill struggle," commented Rick Lawler, general manager of JEM Records, a major rock importer. Outside of the large urban centers, he said, "the degree of acceptance of the import single is growing, albeit slowly, primarily because they have yet to come up with an effective way to merchandise them." Lawler attributed this to the fact that the philosophy behind the single at British and American labels is so "markedly different." In England, he noted, "singles are regarded as an end unto themselves. In this country, however, we view them as a tool to stimulate sales. I can only hope that as we see more of the major U.S. labels issue singles with sleeves, retailers will begin to realize that an effectively merchandised single can move quite nicely."

I.R.S., said Laul, is in the midst of preparing several sales tools to promote its singles product. These include an assortment of posters and a browser box that will have adhesive on the back to encourage features in the competing digital configurations. Tony BonGiovanni, who is both a producer and president of the Power Station recording studio in New York, said, "I will not put in digital equipment until there is some standardization." BonGiovanni said that the first-generation digital recorders were "not practical" and rejected the notion of transmitting numerically encoded sound information from studio to studio via telephone lines and satellites as expensive and technologically unfeasible.

Producer Howard Albert, president of Criteria Recording Studios in Miami, acknowledged the promising future of digital recording techniques, but said that comparison tests he had conducted in his studio between several digital and analog configurations convinced him that analog was "superior in terms of sound and practicality." Albert also cited the need to develop better digital editing techniques as an important reason for his studio to stick with analog for the immediate future. Another Miami-based producer, Bill Scymzyk, was more succinct about the cost and compatibility factors. "The hardware manufacturers are driving me crazy," Scymzyk said, adding that he has no plans to do any digital recording.

A secondary, but important consideration for pop producers involves the aesthetic applicability of the ultra-low noise digital method to the raw, expressive medium of rock 'n' roll music. Fleetwood pointed out that, thus far, digital technology has been most effective when applied to classical and jazz recordings. "Rock 'n' roll is obviously not the best way of using it," Fleetwood said. "In rock 'n' roll there's a lot of created noise, those real raw sounds that you're going to put on the record anyway. In most cases with rock 'n' roll, digital is splitting hairs — it's not that noticeable really."

Fleetwood's view was echoed by Genya Ravan, a recording artist who has turned to producing high-energy pure punk bands like the Dead Boys in recent years. "I wouldn't see any need for full digital recording in souped-up natural rock 'n' roll," she said, noting that she has even abandoned established noise reduction techniques like the Dolby method in order to achieve a savage rock coloring in her productions.

For some artists though, digital recording promises to be an indispensable aid in helping them reach for new musical horizons. Ornette Coleman, the noted jazz musician, recently finished a self-produced full digital album entitled, "Those Human Feelings," using the Sony PCM 1600 digital two-track. Coleman was enthusiastic about the "incredible" sound and potential afforded by digital.

"For improvising dynamics, digital recording would probably give you an equilibrium in the sound that would equalize all the variations of degree that you hear," Coleman remarked. "The most effective thing I've found about digital is that it gives you equal dynamics. The individual instruments don't seem to change place, they stay where they are — yet they mix, which makes it closer to the way I actually write my music."

APRIL-BLACKWOOD'S WEST COAST FETE — April-Blackwood Music recently hosted a cocktail party at the Beverly Wilshire Hotel in Los Angeles in honor of its west coast-based writers and copublishers. Key staff members from April-Blackwood, CBS Songs International and the A&R staffs of Columbia and Epic were on hand for the occasion, which marked the beginning of the first of April-Blackwood's 1980 tri-annual administrative and professional conferences. Pictured in the top row are (l-r): Rick Smith, vice

CLASSICAL CLIPS

EXECS MOVING ON — Edward P. Murphy has been elected president of G. Schirmer, Inc., the music publisher . . . Constance Schuman has been appointed to the newly created position of director of press and public relations for the Carnegie Hall Corp. . . . Glenn Dicterow has been named concertmaster of the New York Philharmonic beginning with the 1980-81 season . . . Belwin-Mills has completed publication of the 87-volume collected works of Sergei Prokofieff in time for the 25th anniversary of the composer's death.

CONCERT HAPPENINGS — Highlights of the Cleveland Orchestra's 1980-81 season will include the world premiere of a new Morton Gould work and the U.S. premiere of a new piece by Luciano Berio. Guest conductors will include James Conlon, Antal Dorati, Rafael Fruhbeck de Burgos, Erich Leinsdorf, Jesus Lopez-Cobos, and Giuseppe Patane . . . The Aspen Music Festival, which begins its nine-week run in Aspen, Colorado June 27, will feature a celebration of the 70th birthday of American composer William Schuman on Aug. 4 . . . Guest artists for a three-concert series at Carnegie Hall by the Detroit Symphony under Antal Dorati (May 12, 14, 16) will include pianist Andre Watts, violinist Itzhak Perlman, baritone Dietrich Fischer-Dieskau and soprano Julia Varady . . .

The New York Philharmonic is inaugurating an annual spring concert series devoted to a particular composer, performer or musical period. The first festival, devoted to the major works of Beethoven, will run from May 14 to June 6 at Avery Fisher Hall. Among those conducting, besides music director Zubin Mehta, will be Christoph Eschenbach, Eric Leinsdorf, Eugene Ormandy, Leonard Slatkin and Klaus Tennstedt . . . The Basically Bach Festival, directed by Richard Westenberg, returns to Avery Fisher for six weeks beginning June 4 . . . Itzhak Perlman and Pinchas Zukerman will be among the artists participating in a gala benefit performance at and for the Symphony Space on May 5 . . . The second Symphony Space "Encore" concert, set for April 15, will be a repeat of flutist Carl Wincenc's 1979 Naumburg Prize recital. Wincenc will be accompanied by harpsichordist Kenneth Cooper . . . The Orchestra of the 20th Century, conducted by Arthur Weisberg, returned to Carnegie Hall March 18 with works by Varese, Martino, Harbison and Janacek . . . The Met will feature four new productions next season. They include "La Traviata" (Oct. 20), "Così fan tutte" (Nov. 17), a triple bill of Poulenc's "Les Mamelles de Tirésias," Ravel's "L'Enfant et les Sortilèges," and Satie's "Parade" (Feb. 20), and Tchaikovsky's "Queen of Spades" (no date set). The season will open Sept. 22 with Montserrat Caballe and Luciano Pavarotti in "Turandot."

Dealers Applaud New CBS $5.98 Program

minimum set on the size of orders. Finally, "all billing of 'N'-prefixed product will be over and above established credit lines," according to the CBS spokesperson. Hansen added that the only exception to this policy would be in cases where a delinquent account is on "hard hold."

"We're having the salesmen go out and present it to all the retailers," commented Hansen, "and in most cases they've looked at it very favorably. We're hoping for a lot of participation in the plan. We're not trying to jam anything down anybody's throats, but we think this is a very good way of presenting new artists to the accounts, and I think the accounts that do participate are going to want to sell it. Obviously, if they're getting a 10% discount on it, their profit margin is greater — and we're all in the business to break artists."

Dealer Reaction

Both retailers and rack jobbers around the country were enthusiastic about the new CBS program. Russ Solomon, president of Tower Records, said, "It's got very strong possibilities," and noted that he was especially impressed by the fact that the $5.98 price would remain on the LP until it really took off.

John Marmaduke, president of Western Merchandising, felt that "maybe it will give the consumers a chance to break records again, because they'll take much more of a chance on a $5.98 than they will on a $7.98 or an $8.98." Similarly, Ed Berson, vice president of purchasing for Record Bar, thought that local radio stations might pick up on records that were selling in the stores. Especially in small markets, he pointed out, "stores can influence a radio station's activities."

Joe Bressi, vice president of marketing and purchasing for Stark/Camelot, liked the CBS program because of its incentive features and thought it would "get some visibility at retail" for the new artists. He said he was placing "reasonable orders" for the $5.98 list product, "but I probably wouldn't have bought any out of the box" without the new program.

Harold Okinow, president of Lieberman Enterprises, called the CBS initiative "a terrific idea. It was something they had to do, particularly since they've restricted returns. They're certainly not going to get you to take a chance on something that hasn't proven itself, and by giving accounts product at a lower price with extended terms, they're asking accounts to put the same faith in the artists that the company has. It's a good strategy."

One chain that is showing strong faith in the new artists program is Record Bar. "We're going to be behind it," said Berson, "because we think that part of a retail chain's responsibility is helping break artists. The program has taken care of some of the problems they had in their old program, and allows a retail chain to give it a shot — and we're going to."

Berson said that Record Bar would price the $5.98 list product very low — probably at $3.99 — and that the chain's stores would set aside a special area in which to merchandise these albums. He also noted that the titles would be carefully monitored for sales action. "On a regular 90-day period, we'll notify stores about what's happening with the product, so we can return product that's not selling and keep it in our computer so that when something pops, we can get it back into the store."

John Luongo, president of Pavilion Records, a CBS Associated Label, is in-involved in the program with two acts, the Sorrows and Jimmy Maelen. In Luongo's view, the $5.98 list series "will give the people in the stores an incentive to sell the record. You're also giving radio a chance to take a shot on this, because they know that if they play it, now people are going to be able to afford the record. So it's great for me, because it helps me, as I find new acts, to get those acts in-store play and more exposure."

inflation or increases in record prices, the copyright owner now receives royalties at a rate which has deteriorated in purchasing power and which lacks any economic relation to what the market will bear with respect to record prices," according to the NMPA.

The joint Nashville Songwriters/American Guild of Authors and Composers report was prepared by Rinfret Associates. It takes an economic, financial and "sociological" look at songwriters and finds that "the common perception of songwriting as a lucrative profession is belied by the facts." Not only does the average author/composer have an income below that of the average American, but most have very few social benefits like social security or insurance, the study found.

Its recommendation is that the mechanical royalty rate be set at 8% of the effective retail price of a record.

Among the AGAC/NSAI complaints is the idea that record companies are better able to roll with the inflation punches. "The phenomenon of songwriters having a mechanical royalty rate fixed in cents while the producers of records and prerecorded tapes are able to raise their prices is unfair and inequitable to songwriters," the report charged. The study cited Carter Administration inflation projections, recently revised upward, as evidence of worsening inflation and "continued destruction of the purchasing power of the current mechanical royalty rate."

CBS SUPPORTS 1980 CENSUS DRIVE — A press conference was held recently in Washington D.C. at the Department of Commerce to request the communications industry's help in urging blacks and other minorities to participate in the 1980 census. The industry's involvement was organized by LeBaron Taylor, vice president and general manager of divisional affairs for CBS Records. Taylor worked in conjunction with the National Association of Black Owned Broadcasters, the Black Music Association, National Black Network and Sheridan Broadcasting Network, a number of CBS artists have also taped endorsement spots for the census. Pictured at the press conference are (l-r): Taylor; the Honorable Phillip Klutznick, Secretary of Commerce, Sara Dash; Glenda B. Gracia, executive director of the Black Music Association; and Vincent Barraba, Director of the U.S. Census Bureau.

THE RHYTHM SECTION

LEON HUFF GOES SOLO — One-half of the Gamble/Huff producing team has decided to add recording artist to his many other creative talents. Leon Huff is releasing an album entitled "Here To Create Music," which will feature instrumentals as well as vocal pieces. Teddy Pendergrass, Stevie Wonder, Jean Carn and The O'Jays will appear on the album with Huff, either as featured vocalists or back-up singers.

GWEN DICKEY EXPANDS CAREER — Gwen "Rose" Dickey, former lead singer of Rose Royce has left the group. Dickey explained the move by saying, "I am pursuing a career as a total entertainer. That thought led to my making the decision to leave, along with the fact there were business decisions at Whitfield Records that I didn't feel were good for me." From that same group bass player Kenji Brown also left to pursue a writing/producing career. His basic feeling is that he could better take his career to the heights that he wanted as a solo artist rather than part of that group. Norman Whitfield recently re-negotiated the Whitfield Records deal with Warner Bros. Records. A spokesman from Rose Royce said the band is presently in the studio working on an upcoming album and interviewing girls to replace Gwen. They have replaced Kenji with Wah Wah Watson.

ARTIST ACTIVITY — Natalie Cole's upcoming album will be titled "Don't Look Back," and will feature a cut that was performed by her father several times, called "Sandman." Marvin Yancy and Gene Barge are putting the finishing touches on the album, which will be released in June. . . . The Kool Jazz Festival has announced the artists that will appear June 6-7 in San Diego. Appearing on June 6 will be Rufus & Chaka Khan, The Brothers Johnson, Peaches & Herb, Sister Sledge, and the Gap Band. June 7 will feature Dionne Warwick, Chic, Kool & The Gang, Bobby Bland, B.B. King and Cameo. . . . In the midst of a 21-date performing tour, Patrice Rushen has also been invited to sing the national anthem for the Los Angeles Lakers during the playoffs. . . . War recently drew a SRO audience to three venues, including a record-breaking date at Veteran Fairgrounds, which outgrossed the $53,000 record set by the Funkadelic in 1978. The War date grossed $85,777. . . . Curtis Mayfield and Linda Clifford have recorded their first debut album, which will be released by RSO/Curtom records April 16. The album is called "The Right Combination," and the first single will be "Love's Sweet Sensation." . . . Warner Bros. will begin releasing albums from its top black artists in a couple of weeks. Next week, the Larry Graham single called "One In A Million. . . You" will be shipped. It is a very exciting ballad that received overwhelming attention at Warners' recent meeting of its black division in Los Angeles. Also look for the Randy Crawford album, which was produced by the Crusaders, in this release. The Chaka Khan, Candi Staton and Third World albums will be upcoming, and the much-awaited George Benson album will hit the streets in June.

RADIO ACTIVITY — WYLD-AM/FM are New Orleans first black-owned radio stations in the city. The stations were purchased by Inter-Urban Broadcasting. . . . Chicago radio certainly went through a metamorphosis this week with Lee Armstrong joining WVON as its new PD. Armstrong came to the station from WNOB in New Orleans. He is replacing Carl Connor, who resigned because of illness in his family. Bob Scott, who was most recently at WOL in Washington D.C., will be joining WBMX as its PD, replacing James Alexander, who will continue with the station in a different capacity. . . . At WOL, Bobby Bennett is now handling programming duties. cookie amerson

INTERNATIONAL PROFILE

Howard Carpendale: Bringing German Music To The World

by Harald Taubenreuther

COLOGNE — EMI Electrola's Howard Carpendale is one of the few artists living and working in Germany that has been able to break into the international market with domestic German material. Once primarily a domestic act, Carpendale has of late expanded his horizons beyond the German borders.

Born in South Africa and living now in Germany, Carpendale has for the last 10 years been one of a dozen leading interpreters of German pop music. During those years, he was able to steal the limelight every now and then as winner of the German Pop Festival in Baden-Baden, recipient of the much sought after "Golden Lion" award from RTL, and yet again as winner of the "Goldene Europa" award from Europawelle Saar.

Then suddenly, in 1975 to be exact, his climb to success came to a halt. His success began to wane and it was then that he was forced to take a second look at his career progress. "I could either continue as I had been going and then when I reach 35, get out of the profession," he recalled, "or I could start with a new beginning in a new direction."

Carpendale decided on the latter and started anew. He began composing and producing himself, and from that moment on, there was no stopping him. He sang hit after hit, often with his own compositions such as "Da nahm er seine Gitarre" or "Du fangst den Wind niemals ein," but also with songs from other songwriters such as "Tur an Tur mit Alice" from Smokie or Umberto Tozzi's "Ti amo." He finally made it to the actual bestseller lists with "Wie frei willst du sein?"

However, this congenial singer has not only become, along with Udo Jurgens and

Howard Carpendale

Peter Maffay, a well established interpreter of German pop, but also a real entertainer. Two years ago, when he began his first concert tour in various German cities, even his friends were a bit skeptical. After the first performance, it was clear that he was able to do more than just endure singing 20 songs in a row. Even the feared critics described him as "an engaging stage presence."

Carpendale has been able to succeed where others have failed: he has filled the German concert hall circuit and proven that up-to-date, realistic lyrics and unashamed sentimental songs can win the audience over. He has won over the help of one of the most renowned German lyricists, Fred Jay, who also writes for Boney M. and other popular acts.

Carpendale's way to the top can hardly be stopped. By the end of 1979, he was the #1 singer on the ZDF Hitparade, one of the most popular German pop music TV shows, and his song, "Wie frei willst du sein?" is currently in the Top 10 singles chart of the music magazine Der Musikmarkt.

But he has not been successful only in the singles charts. His new LP, "Mein Weg zu dir," became a gold record only two weeks after release, and since then it has sold more than 450,000 copies. The platinum record (in the BRD this marks the sale of 500,000 copies) is just around the corner.

1980 promises to be a great year for this artist. In February and March he had a sold out concert tour — 40 dates throughout Germany and Switzerland — under the concert management of Lippmann & Rau. They just booked him again for a second tour in autumn 1980, and last but certainly not least, German television is planning to do an hour special on him, a portrait of a singer/composer.

MILAN — The third edition of Discoexpo, the annual record industry and music publishing fair scheduled for Genova from April 25-May 1, has been cancelled. Organizer Angelo Piccarreta said the decision was based on the absence of the major companies this year. He also announced the plans for a new music fair on a date and a place to be defined later.

Ezio Leoni has been named A&R manager of the Saar label. Announcement was made by Walter Guertler, president of the company . . . Italian jazz-rock group Banco del Mutuo Soccorso received from Guido Rignano, chairman of Dischi Ricordi, a gold record for one million LPs sold in eight years of activity. Banco's current album is "Capolinea," a collection of the greatest hits of the group, on Ricordi label.

Decca has released 10 LPs on its new medium priced line, "Profile." The series includes recordings by Cat Stevens, John Mayall, Ray Charles and other rock and jazz artists.

A new label, Mister, was born in Italy. It will be distributed by Editoriale Sciascia. First release is a single, "Fammi volare," by Mino Reitano, previously at the Eleven label.

EMI label, in its Historical Archives series, released in Italy last month the first three boxes (each including seven albums) of all the works recorded by conductor Wilhelm Furtwaengler. The complete edition, which is expected to receive good reactions on classical market, will include a total of 49 LPs.

TOKYO — Records and tape sales during February 1980 increased considerably over last year but dropped slightly from January this year, according to the Japan Phonograph Record Association (JPR). Record revenues of 12.9 billion yen ($51.-710,000) were up 7%, while tape revenues of 6.6 billion yen ($26,568,000) indicated a 16% jump over January 1979.

The Japan branch of Tower Records is expected to settle new franchise shops in Yokohama, Kyoto and Sendai this summer. The company has already settled eight franchise shops in the main cities of this country since starting business in Japan in June 1980. The company will have 11 franchise shops by this summer.

Canyon Record Co., Ltd. president Shigeaki Hazama announced the acquisition of exclusive rights to release Scotti Brothers product in Japan.

Victor Musical Industries Co., Ltd. is going to vigorously promote the Commodores, who visited this country to take part in the Tokyo Music Festival held April 1, 1980.

Dionne Warwick of the USA won the Grand Prize at the ninth annual Tokyo Music Festival held March 30 at the Nippon Budokan Hall (Cash Box, April 12). Other winners included Gold Prizes for "Trouble Again" by Karla Bonoff of the USA and "Body Language" by The Dooleys of the UK; and Silver Prizes for "You Make Me Feel The Fire" by Claudja Barry of Canada, "Laim Light" by Rumiko Koyanagi of Japan and "Wonderful Moment" by Shigeru Matsuzaki of Japan.

Amil Stewart of Germany won the Most Outstanding Performance award for "The Letter," and the trio of Evers, Korduletsch and Barry won the Best Composers award for "You Make Me Feel The Fire."

Finally, Park Kyung Ai of the Republic of Korea won the Special Asian Award for "Papa's Cradle Song." kozo otsuka

The Netherlands

AMSTERDAM — More news from Holland with Luv'. This all-girl group received platinum for its album, "True Luv'" on Phonogram, the group's former record company. Luv' is now with RCA . . . After a year's absence, Dutch rock singer Patricia Paay will release a new single called "Give It To Me." Paay fought a contract battle with EMI and is now signed to WEA. Richard Debois (of Akkerman fame) is her new producer.

Dutch symphonic rock group Kayak has turned down a 25,000 guilders promotion film for breaking its new album, "Periscope Life," in the U.S.A. The band is now preparing a live show clip . . . BZN, one of Holland's top groups originating from Volendam (the city on wooden shoes), sold 125,000 copies of its "Best Of" album within three weeks. Within the limits of Holland, this is a spectacular success. The group's single, "Pearly Dumm," is currently the #1 single . . . Classical gas vocalist Marco Bakker will start his own television series in Germany, opening in August.

Koot and Bie, the Laurel & Hardy of our times, have refused to accept platinum for their album "Hengstenbal" ("a ball where girls didn't care to show up."). Jacobse & Van Es, their impersonators, will attend the ceremony and receive the award.

Mystery . . . Ben van den Berg, director of EMI's Uden production plant, has left the company for reasons yet unrevealed. Rumor has it that Van den Berg disagreed with the board of directors' policy.

The 11th Pinkpop festival will be held on May 26 at Geleen. This open air festival is the biggest event in Europe and 50,000 people are expected.

At this time, the following acts are scheduled: Raymond van het Groenewoud (Belgian singer/songwriter) Van Halen, J. Geils Band, The Specials, Joe Jackson, Garland Jeffreys and Undertones.

Ten years ago the Beatles broke up. To gives an incisive glimpse into the original U.K. punker's behind-the-scenes life and the group's rise to new wave stardom. Hazan's spontaneous approach is painfully truthful in its vivid revelation of the contemporary English working class dilemma. By pointing to current U.K. socio-political cause and effect, Hazan shows the rise (and in the case of Grange, fall) of the modern English working class heroes. Joe Strummer's lyrics and The Clash's energetic, angry music is a perfect backdrop to Hazan's natural, documentary-like look at England in the late '70s.

Virgin Records' first signing from Australia is the Sydney band Mental As Anything, whose debut self-titled LP has just been released and has received highly favorable reactions in the U.K. . . . Epic's Steve Forbert returns to the U.K. later this month to play five headlining dates around the nation. Epic is releasing a single, "Say Goodbye To Little Jo," from Forbert's "Jackrabbit Slim" LP to back up the dates . . . And CBS's Judas Priest took to the road last week for its first extensive U.K. tour of the year.

Music World Ltd. Reports Record Product Sales

NEW ZEALAND — Monumental record and tape sales during the last fiscal year were reported by Music World Ltd., one of the largest budget record operations in New Zealand.

According to Houghton Hughes, managing director of the company, the fiscal success for the year ending November 1979 could be attributed to a variety of factors including high export sales, $2 million in wholesale turnover, local product recorded and distributed by the company, and physically selling more items than other local companies.

Hughes said that while internationally the record industry was experiencing an economic backslide, he was still optimistic about the industry's recovery and his company's own prospects for 1980.

"The obvious two growth areas for us are the exports and booming cassette markets," Hughes commented. "Let's face it, the export potential is enormous, and car cassette players are no longer a luxury."

Music World exports most of its records and tapes to Australia, but also ships product to the Pacific Islands and North America.

COIN MACHINE

PERSONALITY PROFILE

Jukebox 'Backbone Of Route,' Says ICMOA President Lowry

CHICAGO — Walt Lowry entered the coin machine business in a rather roundabout way. His brother started the Lowry Music route, which is presently located at 303 W. Adams in Pittsfield, Ill., in the early 1930s. With the advent of World War II and the drafting of a key employee, Walt, then a junior in high school, joined the operation as a temporary replacement. The year was 1942. He was subsequently drafted himself, served three years with the U.S. Navy in torpedo service and, in December 1945, returned to Lowry Music, once again temporarily, while awaiting entry into college. He stayed on, needless to say, and ultimately took over the business when his brother died.

Lowry Music operates in a rural area encompassing three counties; the equipment lineup includes music and games as well as a few cigarette machines, with music the dominating product or "backbone of the route" as Walt put it. "The jukebox is a good, basic piece," he said, stressing that "the operator who places one in a location is opening the door, so to speak, for the installation of other machines in that location." His jukeboxes are priced at two plays for a quarter and he said that he normally purchases about 10 new models a year "which gives us solidarity with our locations." The top spots get the new machines and the others are moved down the route to lesser locations.

Fantastic Equipment

On the subject of pinball machines versus video games Walt observed, "First of all, let me say that I think today's equipment is fantastic, with respect to earnings and workability. Solid state is more trouble-free to operate which means you can cut down on service calls and in turn you can afford the higher prices of solid state machines."

Making a service call in a rural area is a costly proposition since locations are rarely in close proximity to each other. To defray transportation costs and avoid double trips, Lowry service people are supplied with kits containing all of the various boards for replacement on location. Additionally, Walt said he makes certain that his personnel take advantage of every opportunity available to attend service schools and learn all about the equipment for proper servicing.

The current upswing in video games is in evidence on the Lowry route, he added, noting that "Space Invaders and Head On

Atari Releases New Cocktail Table Version Of 'Asteroids' Video Game

SUNNYVALE — "Asteroids," Atari's world-wide video hit, will be released in an all new cocktail table version in April, according to Frank Ballouz, the firm's marketing director.

"Because of Asteroids' incredible popularity as an upright game, there's been an increasing demand for a cabinet design that would allow the game to be placed in a wider variety of locations," he said. "Offering this new cocktail game, along with the upright version, will further extend the operator's location possibilities and increase his player base and profit potential."

Besides its visual attractiveness, the new cocktail game is practical as well and represents a breakthrough approach in cabinet design that is the result of thorough human factors research and input from operators throughout the world.

Features include a 11-inch Atari "Quadrascan" X-Y TV display system mounted in a rich rosewood table top. The table is covered by 3/16-inch tempered glass insulated against spills and the control panels are comfortably placed and easily visible through the glass for better playability. The table's sturdy heavy-duty legs are adjustable to five different heights to accommodate any location needs.

Serviceability features include quick-release hinged table top, hinged control panel and hinged service door. The main PCB is mounted to the service door for easier access and maintenance. The new model also utilizes a larger capacity coin box and reliable one-piece coin control unit. For added security the cashbox is accessible only through the service door.

Asteroids Cocktail is designed for either one or two players. In the two-player mode, the video image flip-flops toward the opposite player after a hit on one of the first player's store of spacecrafts. It is compact in size and requires less than 2 feet by 3 feet of floor space.

Gottlieb Hosts Seminars On Its Star Series 80

CHICAGO — Key Gottlieb distributor solid state service personnel were in attendance at the company's recently held Star Series 80 Technical Seminars, which took place in Chicago at the O'Hare Holiday Inn, March 11 and 13.

The purpose of the two seminars was to familiarize the distributor technicians with the technical characteristics of Gottlieb's new "System 80" solid state electronics.

The program was hosted by Dick Finger, director of engineering, and the classes were conducted by George Offshack, Gottlieb field service engineer. Members of the Gottlieb management staff including Robert W. Bloom, Alvin Gottlieb, Gil Pollock, Jack Mittel and Tom Herrick were also in attendance.

The agenda included welcoming remarks by Bob Bloom and Alvin Gottlieb as well as a video presentation centering around the company's 50-year plus history. A get acquainted reception and dinner was also held each day.

GOTTLIEB DISTRIBUTOR SEMINAR — Gottlieb recently hosted a series of seminars on its new Star Series 80 solid state electronics system for distributor service personnel. The event, which took place at Chicago's O'Hare Holiday Inn, was coordinated by Dick Finger, director of engineering, and classes were conducted by field service engineer George Offshack. In the above photo, Offshack fields a question from a distributor technician while Alvin Gottlieb looks on approvingly.

XCOR Posts 1979 Financial Results

CHICAGO — XCOR International's financial results for the year ended Dec. 31, 1979 show that the company, after deducting two non-recurring items, experienced a net loss of $2,448,000 on revenues of $139,192,000. This compares to revenues and net income of $123,596,000 and $5,412,000 respectively, the prior year.

On a per share basis, XCOR posted a loss of $.79 per share in 1979 versus income of $1.86 per share during 1978, which includes a credit of $2,015,000, or $.69 per share, from the utilization of tax loss carryforwards.

The first of the company's non-recurring items in 1979 resulted from a tornado that struck XCOR's choice vending machine manufacturing facility in Windsor Locks, Conn. on Oct. 3, 1979, substantially damaging the facility and halting all production until Jan. 14, 1980. The disaster created a significant shortfall in sales and earnings during the last quarter of the year. The company maintains insurance for damage to the property and its contents, as well as business interruption expense.

The company has reached agreement on its claims under its insurance coverage for damages to the building, equipment and inventory. However, the business interruption claim is still being filed. No estimate of recovery is reflected in the 1979 financial statements as resolution of the claim is dependent upon agreement with the insurance company.

The second item is related to XCOR's October announcement of a loss provision for the third quarter of $5,200,000 relating to a full book value of securities of the Seeburg Corporation, the carrying values of receivables due from it and the cost of present and future operations of properties leased to it. The loss provision was enacted after The Seeburg Corp., the purchaser of XCOR's coin-operated phonograph division, became delinquent in its payment to XCOR and filed for re-organization under Chapter XI of the Bankruptcy Code.

James J. Hughes, president and chief operating officer for XCOR, said that despite the loss reported for 1979, he is "optimistic that the company is in basically sound fiscal health and is well positioned to take full advantage of the various markets in which its subsidiary companies compete."

XCOR International is a manufacturing and servicing company which, through its subsidiaries manufactures vending machines, amusement games, musical instruments and hearing aids.

FIREPOWER ON TV — Williams' new "Firepower" pinball machine was such a hit at the recent New Orleans exposition that two of the area's television stations sent camera crews out for a closer look. Pictured "interviewing" the latest in Williams' line of talking pins are (l-r): WWIL-TV (channel 4) newscaster Brad Ganson and cameraman Richard Farley shooting footage for the station's newscast; and WVUE-TV (channel 8) cameraman John Keffer (back to camera) and news reporter Steve Ozenovich preparing for their news segment, which included sound equipment so viewers could actually here the machine talk.

Lowry Calls Jukebox 'Backbone Of Route'

generated a complete turnaround" in his once faltering video business.

In addition to running a busy route, Lowry finds time to devote to industry related activities. He has served on the AMOA Board of Directors and is currently president of the Illinois Coin Machine Operators Assn. The state group has about 90 members at present and is striving very hard to sign up the approximately 250 potential members who are operating throughout the state.

"As a matter of fact, we are now working on a membership drive to try and enroll as many of these non-members as we possibly can," Lowry told Cash Box, "to further strengthen our representation in each of the various districts in the state." ICMA publishes a newsletter about 6-8 times a year and these operators are included in the mailing whenever there is concern over impending legislation or other pertinent matters.

License Fee Victory

A point of reference is the association's recent victory over a proposal to increase the licensing fee on coin-operated machines in the state to $200. Through the efforts of ICMA, the cooperation of local distributors and manufacturers, along with that of the membership and non-members as well who participated in letter writing campaigns and were urged to contact their legislators, the fee now stands at $10.

ICMA was also instrumental in securing a training course for coin machine mechanics at the Washburn Trade School in Chicago. This project was spearheaded by former president Kem Thom.

In defining the various membership services offered by ICMA, Lowry referred initially to the association newsletter which he considers a must in a well organized state group. The ICMA pool tournament is another plus service for members. The association's fifth edition is currently in progress and, as evidence of the enthusiasm this event has generated, locations have been known to call up and ask when the tournament will start. Finals this year will be held April 20 at the Hilton Hotel in Peoria.

ICMA also subscribes to the AMOA school program. Each year the state association sponsors an annual convention which dwells as much on social activities as on business and area distributors show their support by hosting dinner parties, golf outings and similar events for members and guests.

What are the advantages in belonging to a state association, Lowry was asked.

"There are so many I don't know where to begin. Communication for one thing; state association membership means an operator can keep up with the times and know what's happening in the industry. Pertaining to ICMA, membership in our organization means an operator can better service his locations through our pool tournaments which generate increased business. State association membership also affords members the opportunity for schooling and training in the servicing of equipment. Finally, it provides a means of contact with colleagues and a platform for the discussion of common problems," he said.

Lowry and his wife, Martha, who is founder and administrator of the Pike County Health Department and a very active woman in her community, have three daughters. They are Sandra, 32, who has a degree in accounting and currently resides in Atlanta; Vicki, 30, who is a nurse in Pittsfield; and Joyce, 29, who is a teacher and lives in Aurora.

OMAA President Hilligan Resigns

COLUMBUS — The OMAA (Ohio Music & Amusement Assn.) Board of Trustees, at its regular March 27 meeting, accepted the resignation of president Dennis R. Hilligan (Pioneer Service Co., Cincinnati). Hilligan asked to be relieved of his duties due to increased business and family considerations. In his letter to the board Hilligan said,

"This decision has been very difficult to conclude, but certain business priorities at this time cause me to ask for your understanding and acceptance."

Vice president James H. Hayes (Gem Music, Dayton) will head the association through its May 16 annual meeting when the Trustees will elect officers.

CHICAGO CHATTER

Fred Schwarzkopf, who is on the faculty of Triton College in suburban River Grove, Ill. implemented a training course for technicians at the facility and is currently in the process of expanding the program. The substance of the course deals with digital, microprocessor, basic electronics, troubleshooting, et al, and techniques of the past, present and future encompassing all facets of industry — which, naturally, includes coin-operated products. Funding has been provided for a new lab and other essentials. Schwarzkopf is now appealing to Chicago manufacturers and distributors to supply him with literature and equipment to be used for classroom study. The equipment, he said, will be on loan to the college and will be returned after the required period of time in class (possibly one or two weeks, he estimates). Triton is one of this area's most noted facilities for career development. Schwarzkopf can be reached at: Triton College, 2000 5th Ave., River Grove, IL 60171. Phone is (312) 456-0300, ext. 419.

ATTENTION JUKEBOX OPS The new Joe Sun single, "Shotgun Rider," on Ovation Records, is getting some strong jukebox play, according to the label's Cary Baker. The record made its initial impact in country locations, Cary said, and is now making the crossover to pop. Among key markets at present are Houston, Detroit, Minneapolis, Philadelphia, Denver and Miami with breakout action reported in Dallas, Salt Lake City and Tulsa, he added. Ops may obtain jukebox promo copies by contacting Cary at (312) 729-7300.

EASTERN FLASHES

The stage is set for the second annual International Coin Machine Trade Show, which gets underway this weekend (April 18-20) at the New York Statler Hilton, and producer Ben Chicofsky is looking for a big op turnout. On view will be a host of current and new coin-op machines as well as vending equipment and related products.

MARCH WAS A BANNER MONTH in music sales, as we learned from Walter Koch at Rowe International headquarters in Whippany. The factory's current phono line has been selling superbly well, he told us, and indications are that 1980 will indeed be a record year. SPOKE WITH JACK SHAWCROSS of Bally Northeast-Syracuse — where business is excellent and everyone's plenty busy. Jack was lending a hand at the loading dock when we called. At any rate, here are some of their best sellers: Atari "Asteroids," Bally "Silverball Mania," Stern "Galaxy," Williams "Laser Ball," Exidy's "Taigunner 2" and Midway's "Deluxe Space Invaders." Jack said the cocktail table version of the latter has "breathed new life into the market" and is selling very well.

ATTENTION PHONO OPS: "I Must Be Dreamin'" by Tom Romano is starting to get some regional jukebox play, reports Ben Arrigo of Glenn Productions. The single is available on G.P. Records and ops may secure promo copies by contacting Ben at 157 W. 57th St., New York, N.Y. 10019.

CALIFORNIA CLIPPINGS

Talked to Betson/Pacific president Peter Betti who is eagerly awaiting the newly named company's grand opening in San Francisco and L.A., April 16-18. Betti reported that Gremlin's "Astrofighter" is coming on and that it has the good play features that are in the tradition of "Space Invaders" and "Astrofighters." Betti also reported that Gottlieb's "Spiderman," which has just arrived at the distrib and will highlight the company's party next week, has come at the right time of the year and should really give a lift to the pinball market. Rock Ola's 477 "little max" continues to be Betson Pacific's top earner music wise.

EXIDY'S LILA ZINTER will be back globetrotting this month as she will be attending Betson Pacific's blowout in L.A. and she will hit the Milano Fair in Italy April 24. Zinter will also visit with Exidy accounts in Europe after her visit to Italy. Zinter also revealed that the manufacturer's new electro-mechanical driving game should be ready by mid-May. The Exidy marketing manager added that she has found a good customer for the company's player pianos in New York. The store is sort of a scaled down Neiman-Marcus operation.

Picture Sleeves Are Catching On As Marketing Tool For 45s

retailers to use it as a wall display. "Our feeling is that dealers will be more likely to give our records a shot on a wall as opposed to a counter top," he said. "Besides, a lot of consumers who may know our LPs might now be aware of the fact that we also have a picture sleeve series, and the browser bins are one way for us to bring this point home."

European Influence

"Picture bags were facts of life in markets like France and Germany long before they became popular in the U.K.," declared Virgin Records president Ken Berry. "Then, with the coming of the new wave movement, it became very clear that people in the U.K. were buying these independently-produced singles for the sleeves themselves. And to some degree, that situation exists in this country, since in-store prominence is the name of the game, and what better way is there to make your product visible than with a picture bag?"

"When Virgin opened its offices in New York last July," he continued, "we decided to make a commitment to releasing picture bags as a matter of course. Not only did we believe in the visibility we could get from a prominently-displayed sleeve at retail, but we were also convinced that radio would give a bit more consideration to those few singles out of the hundreds they receive that were packaged differently from the rest. Of course," he added, "there's always the danger that you won't be able to keep up with the pressing demand for the sleeves, as in the case of the Flying Lizards' single, 'Money.' Our initial runs are pressed in cardboard, but the demand for the record was so great that we reverted to a paper sleeve for about 20,000 copies of the 200,000 units that we sold." The packaging of the record, he concluded, was "essential" to its success.

"The trend among British groups to release singles in an attractively-packaged sleeve really appealed to us," offered Jon Kertzer of Albatross Productions, the Seattle-based firm that manages a local quartet known as The Heats. He said that the group's first release for Hrrr Records, a single called "I Don't Like Her Face" that is generating some national AOR and Top 40 airplay, was released in a picture sleeve because "we were very concerned about issuing a package impressive enough to attract attention from the press, radio, A&R, and retail.

"What we didn't expect was to sell out of our initial pressing of 5,000 copies. The group is fairly well known in the northwest, but dealers in our area have been telling us that even people who have never heard the music of the band were buying the single just for the hand-tinting of the sleeve." For that alone, he said, the extra investment in the cost of the single "was worth every penny."

"The picture sleeve is worth the added expense only if there's a reason for having it," said Mort Weiner, vice president of marketing and merchandising for 20th Century-Fox Records. "Ideally, it should be viewed as part of an overall project that's tied to the marketing of an LP. If the sleeve pictures an artist that no one has ever heard of, and this is the only marketing step that's going to be taken to support the artist, then the sleeve isn't going to mean a thing."

In issuing the Mills picture sleeve, Weiner said, the plan was two-fold. "Stephanie received a lot of media exposure from The Wiz, but there are still people in middle America that don't know what she looks like. Since we shipped the single in advance of the LP, our hope was that the sleeve, which features the record's artwork, would familiarize people with the 12-inch, in effect making the face as recognizable as the name. Also, given the success of her first record, a jockey at a station might be drawn a little more quickly to a record with a sleeve."

At JEM, according to Lawler, "We're fully aware that we're not going to reach the Top 100 singles buyer on the strength of a picture sleeve single if the cut isn't on the radio yet. We eventually hope to reach that audience, but in the interim, our marketing thrust must be geared to the album buyer who has the option of sampling a group first through a single," JEM, he added, has released about eight picture sleeve singles over the past two years on its PVC, Passport and Visa labels.

ON JAZZ

VINYL PIPELINE — The mailman's gotten a herniated disc from delivering all the recent jazz and progressive product, so here goes. Columbia has just issued a nine-record "Best of . . ." release featuring the important jazz-rock developments of the Mahavishnu Orchestra featuring guitarist John McLaughlin, albums by reedmen Dexter Gordon, Stan Getz and Tom Scott, trumpeter Maynard Ferguson, drummers Tony Williams and Billy Cobham, and guitarists Steve Khan and Eric Gale. Several of the new arrivals fall into the cracks between categories (progressive) rock, R&B, blues, pop, crossover, fusion, punk jazz, electronics, and what have you. Capitol has a new R&B effort from Mystic Merlin, Tomato checks in with a pair by guitarist Jorge Santana ("It's All About Love") and the unique singer-songwriter Annette Peacock ("The Perfect Release"). Side Effect debuts their jazz funk on Elektra with "After The Rain." Geoff Muldaur mixes all manner of vintage R&B on his Flying Fish waxing, "Blues Boy." The acclaimed Texan blues band The Fabulous Thunderbirds, have their second album on Chrysalis, "What's The Word." Inner City introduces a fine new keyboard artist, Dan Siegel, with a special assist from reedman John Klemmer and guitarist Lee Ritenour, called "Nite Ride," and acoustic guitarist Cam Newton leads a large ensemble (with references to jazz, rock, funk and multi-ethnic sources) on "Party Music For The First Authenticated Landing." There are also numerous releases that we may more rapidly associate with the jazz of our forefathers than with that appearing on the Cash Box "Jazz Top 40." On Inner City's "Africa — Tears and Laughter," Dollar Brand plays exquisite acoustic piano and leads a strong quartet. Gene Perla's fine independent label PM introduces American jazz audiences to the Canadian flute and reedmaster (mistress? — it's all so confusing) Kathryn Moses with "Music In My Heart." Another first class batch of jazz comes from Don Schlitten's independent Xanadu label. Acoustic guitarist Peter Sprague debuts with "Dance of the Universe," and alto saxophone master Charles McPherson bridges eras with "Free Bop!" Additionally, the ace Xanadu rhythm team of bassist Leroy Vinegar and drummer Frank Butler propel expatriate pianist Kenny Drew on the latter's "Home Is Where The Soul Is" and add fire to pianist Dolo Coker's collaboration with trumpet legend Harry Edison on "Third Down." "Live In Hollywood" unearths some pivotal bop sessions from 1952 by tenor saxophonist Wayne Marsh with pianist Hampton Hawes, drummer Shelly Manne and bassist Joe Mondragon. . . Norman Granz gives us some vintage 1956 Lester Young sessions from Washington, D.C. with "Lester/Lester Young Live at Olivia Davis' Patio Lounge" on Pablo, while "Tivoli Gardens" on Pablo Live is a summit meeting between violin master Stephane Grappelli, guitarist Joe Pass and bassist Neils Henning Orsted Pedersen. . . Joe Field's independent Muse label gives us a fine mix of jazz, blues and vocals with "Neptune" by reedmen Earl Grubbs and Carl Grubbs and a Clifford Jordan set called "The Adventurer" which teams the reedman with pianist Tommy Flanagan, bassist Bill Lee and drummer Grady Tate, while the extra-funky tenor of Harold Ousley is showcased on "Hip Ness." Finally, the venerable song stylist Helen Humes teams up with saxophone greats Buddy Tate, Eddie "Cleanhead" Vinson and Arnett Cobb on "Helen Humes And The Muse All Stars". . . Audi fidelity's jazz labels keep busy with a Gryphon release by vocalist Mel Torme, featuring altoist Phil Woods and the Chris Gunning Orchestra and titled "Torme/A New Album." Chiaroscuro has two funky jazz dates, one by reedman Joe Thomas ("Flash") with guitarists David Spinoza and Jimmy Ponder. The other LP, keyboardist-organist Lonnie Smith's "When The Night Is Right," features one session from 1979 with a big band, and a 1975 small group featuring some seminal guitar playing by George Benson. . . Oh, almost forgot, synthesizer player Patrick Gleeson is one of the true synthesizer innovators, perhaps best known for his work with Herbie Hancock. His new album, "Rainbow Delta," is an evocative solo project with exciting textural and dance possibilities. It's on PVC Records, distributed exclusively in the U.S. by JEM Records Inc. (3619 Kennedy Rd., South Plainfield, N.J. 07080).

Pye To Handle Uttal's Earlobe Label

NEW YORK — Larry Uttal has formed Earlobe Records. The label will ship its first release, a single called "Mind Made" by Thieves Like Us, on April 25 through Pye Records in the U.K.

Uttal, the former president of Private Stock Records and Bell Records, said that Earlobe would seek distribution arrangements for Europe and Japan in the near future. Earlobe's licensing deal with Pye was concluded last week by Uttal and Pye Chairman Louis Benjamin and the company's managing director, Derek Honey. The label has also formed a publishing company, Earlobe Music.

"We are interested in building and developing major acts at Earlobe," Uttal said. "I am excited that the label kicks off with the signing of a British band, and I am also delighted to be working with the best British independent record company while renewing my long and fruitful association with Louis Benjamin."

Benjamin added that he was "delighted to be associated with a new label that will unquestionably make an impact in the record industry."

Uttal has long been involved in the signing of major recording artists. Reparata and the Delrons, Del Shannon, Tony Orlando and Dawn, Mountain, the Fifth Dimension, the Bay City Rollers, Gary Glitter, the Boxtops, the Delphonics, David Cassidy and the Partridge Family were some of the artists who signed with Bell during Uttal's tenure as president in the late 1960s. In 1974, he established Private Stock Records, which released records by such artists as David Soul, Rupert Holmes, Frankie Valli, Michael Zager Band and Blondie.

$471.8 million in 1979. These payments constituted 26.7% of net sales in 1977, 24.4% in 1978, and 25.7% in 1979.

Sales and promotion costs as a percentage of sales increased from 22.8% in 1977 to 24.2% in 1978 and 31.2% in 1979. And "general and administrative" costs, including depreciation and interest, rose from 6.9% of the pie in 1977 to 8.8% in 1978 and 13.1% in 1979.

Break-Even Point

One of the most important facts revealed by the study is that the break-even point for new releases has risen dramatically over the past several years. According to CRI, which has done financial surveys on the record industry since the 1950's, the break-even point for popular albums, which was 7,800 in 1963 and 61,000 in 1972, soared to 140,500 units in 1979. This is the number of units that must be sold before a popular LP can even recover its costs.

Meanwhile, "the number of popular LPs failing to break even with their costs is steadily increasing," according to the survey. "In 1963, 61% of all popular LPs failed to break even. This number grew to 77% in 1972 and now stands at 84%."

The situation is even bleaker in the classical recording field. Although only 17,000 copies of the average classical LP had to be sold before it broke even, 94% of the classical records released last year failed to sell that many units.

The study also included a breakdown of the respondents' sales distribution by releases for 1977 and 1978. During those two years, only 60% of the popular LPs released by the respondents sold more than 10,000 copies. Out of the total number of releases, 42% sold between 10,000 and 100,000 units; eight percent sold from 100,000 to 300,000 units; another nine percent sold from 300,000 to a million units; and only one percent sold more than that.

Other notable findings in the study include the following:

- Between December, 1977 and June, 1979, the respondents' weighted average wholesale prices for $7.98 list discs rose from $3.87 to $3.99; the corresponding figure for $8.98 list records increased from $4.50 to $4.56. The average cost price of $13.98 list units actually dropped, from $6.87 to $6.50.

- Returns as a percentage of gross sales were 20.1% in 1977, 21.9% in 1978 and 28.6% in 1979.

- The number of employees in respondent companies rose from 17,697 in 1977 to 18,712 in 1978. However, respondents accounting for 65% of total industry sales reported in April of 1980 that, since the end of 1978, they had had to cut their work force by approximately 1,385 people.

- The average royalty paid on a "regular price tune" (including songs on both singles and albums) released by two respondent companies in 1978 was 2.728¢; the average playing time was 4:12 minutes. For a "record club tune" in the same survey, the comparable figures were 2.11¢ and 4:13 minutes. For "budget/economy tunes," the numbers were 1.55¢ and 3:06 minutes.

As part of its submissions to the Copyright Royalty Tribunal, the RIAA also presented its "Album Content and Tune Length Study," which analyzed the music content of 150 chart albums. The report showed that the average song content of pared with 12 tunes in 1965 and 10 tunes in 1973. Album musical content, however, has increased, the study showed, with the average album now containing 38:31 minutes of music. This is up from 33 minutes in 1965 and 37:28 minutes in 1973. Average playing time per tune has risen to 4:13 minutes from 2:45 minutes in 1965 and 3:45 minutes in 1973.
