INSIDE TOP 40 WITH DAVE SHOLIN

While I was in Hawaii sitting under a palm tree watching the waves a ton of new product made a splash in the new music arena. Thanks to Lisa, Keith and Ron for helping out in my absence. All the airplay activity these days points to more and more stations taking aggressive music stances in the marketplace...a positive sign. It does prove that when the material is available programmers will react.

EDDIE MONEY'S name hasn't appeared in our top ten for quite some time but get ready to see it there next week. Not many holdouts left on this giant comeback effort. Noteworthy jumps include WTIC/FM 17-9, 95INZ 4-1, WQTU 22-13, WHKW 17-10, KYYY 23-17, WLS 24-17, Z104 22-15, Q96 17-9, KDON 14-7, KSLY/FM 24-17 etc. Also in the comeback column is BOSTON whose activity makes it seem like they never left...out two weeks and hit factor jumps from 4% to 34%! Top Twenty for Harry Nelson and Ellen Dolgins Z-94 Boston, Bob Boswell and Martin Green 106X Florence, Bob Kaghan and Marty Dempsey B106 Wash D.C., Bobby Rich Q105

Tampa, Steve Perun KBEQ Kansas City, Bob Harlow KATD/FM San Jose/Los Gatos, Charlie Kirk KFMJ Grants Pass etc.

PETER "Karate Kid" CETERA making it two in a row this time with teammate AMY GRANT poised and ready for next weeks top twenty. Debuts #27 WWHB, #29 KC101, #30 WANS, #24 WBAM, #27 KQHU, #27 KZBB, #29 KROY etc. COREY HART is moving up quickly in Utica WRCK 31-22. Hamilton CKOC 19-13, Gillette KGWY 15-9, Calgary AM106 19-6 etc.

Message songs still have a place in the publics heart...witness the fast moving BRUCE HORNSBY. KZPS Dallas charts it 29-18, KRQ Tuscon 30-21, KTUF Kirksville 29-17, WKZQ Myrtle Beach 29-18, etc. Hot week for BON JOVI, who slipped right by Chartbound with a 19% hit factor and 49 new believers...currently Top 30 at Z100 New York, B94 Pittsburgh, Y100 Miami, KPKE Denver, etc.

Several more generated enough points to go straight on the Top 40. ORAN 'JUICE' JONES began crossing in the West where he's Top Ten in more than a half dozen markets. New on WROQ, WBEN, WPST, WZOK, WQUT, KVIC, KIYS, KJQN, WBNQ, etc. Record to Watch on September 5th was CAMEO who began crossing at that time. Urban Radios number one record for the second week is also on the move at KHYT 32-19, WKTI 21-15, KKSS debut #21. WNFI 34-19, WBBQ 21-16, WXKS 30-18 etc.

Another former Record To Watch continuing to show upward growth is The Bangles. Bob Case charts it #12 at Z-93, Tony Waitekus moves 21-17 at WCIL, also top twenty at KWSO, KZZK, KWTX, KQKY, KUBE, KOZE, etc. First it was THE BEATLES and "Ferris Bueller"...now it's happening again as BEN E. KING is drifting back on Top 40 playlists. KMEL San Francisco reports it "number one in phones, callout, and sales" debuting it as #22. Confirmed by KATD San Jose/Los Gatos where it's "outselling the competition two to one." Other moves at KIIS/FM 29-24, KBEQ debut #23, KCPW debut #36, B104 debut #29, KSTN debut #28, etc.

THE NAIL BUSTERS ▲

CASH SIGNS ▼

TONY BACK FOR HIS HEART ◀

A/C ANALYSIS

In a true Battle Of The Bands, Toto edges up on Genesis (actually passing in total reports). A predictable rotation improvement for Toto and they're home free.

The next biggest story is Cyndi Lauper's growth. She picks up 42 HEAVY rotation reports, with two of every three reports in that rotation.

Carly Simon has now cleared more than 200 stations. Now HIT FACTORED at 86% of her 204 reports.

The Beach Boys are this week's highest chart debut with 25 adds. A HIT FACTOR of 57% in four weeks, though even this version of the song has got to be more than a decade old.

Lionel Richie is "conquering" the chart and the format as this week's second MOST ADDED and 168 stations in just two weeks. Whew!

This week's chart is sooooo solid that Madonna, becomes a lady in waiting in CHARTBOUND with 130 stations already to her credit. Also waiting patiently is Boston with 90 reports. Both will chart with excellent numbers next issue.

Last week's RECORD TO WATCH, OMD's (Forever) Live & Die is manoeuvring slowly but surely towards the chart. Sixteen adds this week.

The current RECORD TO WATCH, Ben E. King's Stand By Me, stands up to the test of time and has received excellent, unsolicited phone response from those who've seen Rob Reiner's film of the same title. Thirty-eight A/C's are already part of the song's revival.

RECOMMENDED FOR A/C RADIO

William Lee Golden

You Can't Take It With You (MCA)

One of this year's finest records. I literally got a chill down my spine on the first listen. Golden's natural delivery gives the lyric an extra layer of integrity. The song's arrangement, complete with whispering winds, Fairlight synthesizer and acoustic guitar make it special. If I promised you "phones" would you play it?

Elton John

Heartache All Over The World (Geffen)

An absolutely great track which'll likely be one of this fall's pop music anthems. Two versions on my copy. The longer version (3:57) is a shade quieter. The shorter version (3:33), punches up the rhythm track. Both good.

Sergio Mendes Brazil '86

Take This Love (A&M)

Vocalist Joe Pizullo stole the show on Sergio's last album and he's gonna do it again with strong, strong ballad.

Benjamin Orr

Stay The Night (Elektra)

Ben's the lead on the Car's classic song Drive. His vocal style is less affected than fellow traveller, Ric Ocasek - more straight forward. Expect this one to take a quick lead in A/C radio.

Huey Lewis & The News

Hip To Be Square (Chrysalis)

I think they're singing about us. You and me bub. It's not yet hip to dress like Al Davis, walk like Pee Wee Herman or sip tea with Tipper Gore, but the encyclopedia of cool is expanding none the less.

HIT FACTOR

Hit Factor is a percentage of stations which have it in Heavy or Medium rotation. ie: 100 stations playing the record - 60 stations have it in Heavy or Medium rotation - Hit Factor = 60%

WEDDINGS

Our wedding bells rang on September 20th for GARY EDWARDS, Music Director/PM Drive of WMT/AM-Cedar Rapids, IA and CAROL HEITZ. Our CONGRATULATIONS to both!!

WKTI-Milwaukee's morning team of Gene Mueller and Bob Reitman are taking their show to Moscow this month. The two will provide wake-up service from the Soviet capital for two weeks, as part of a cultural exchange agreement resulting from the Reagan-Gorbachev summit in Geneva. In return, WKTI will play host to Soviet radio commentator Mikhail Taratouta. "He will be our guest," says PD Tim Fox. "We'll take him around to listener parties and show him some real Milwaukee hospitality." Gene and Bob will actually be on the air in mid-afternoon, Moscow time, with local weather forecasts and traffic reports from Radio Moscow's studios. Their stay will end with a two-way question-and-answer "Space Bridge" with live audiences at both ends. Fox says the detention of American journalist Nicholas Daniloff had no effect on the project. "This is a true people-to-people exchange," he says. "Politics didn't enter into it at all."

Chinwag congratulations to WTIC-Hartford morning legend Bob Steele, celebrating his 50th year on the air at the same station. Steele signed on as junior sports announcer on Oct. 1, 1936, moving to morning drive when the regular host enlisted in the Army in 1942. Since then, he has become one of the highest-rated air personalities, with 12+ shares in the 30's. Plans for Steele's Silver Anniversary, included bringing the cameras of WTIC-TV into the studio for a simulcast. PD David Bernstein convinced Gov. William O'Neill to declare "Bob Steele Day" throughout Connecticut on Oct. 1 and put together a series of taped tributes from fellow morning hosts ranging from Don Imus to Rick Dees. The Steele pipes show no signs of rusting!

"I deny there's been any format change." so sayeth Richard Sands from KITS-San Francisco. However, we did notice records like David + David and REM sweetening up the KITS Top Forty sound. Their sound could be roughly described as Top Forty with a Modern tinge. That may be due to the appointment of Steve Masters as Music Director. Masters will retain his evening shift as well as his Modern Music show. And by the way, we noticed the absence of station jingles as well.

After pushing KSJO-San Jose, CA from the low 2's into the 4's, PD Dana Jang is no longer at the station. GM Gary Rodriguez appointed Ken Anthony interim PD until a replacement is officially named. Pitter patter on the street has KSJO moving more into a Classic Rock Album Radio direction. KSJO is still being consulted by Jon Sinton.

According to the man himself, Bill Bennett will be leaving EPA in the Big Apple to head up MCA's Album Radio promotion efforts on the left coast. We will be gracing you with an official statement in next week's Wag.

Mary Catherine Sneed, the nationally known A/C radio consultant, has joined DKM Broadcasting Corporation as Vice President/Operations. She will coordinate programming and promotion activities for all the group's twenty radio stations. Congrats and good luck to her!

Right now it looks like the reluctant departure of Craig Keith at WUOG-Athens, GA will be a permanent one. Manfred Jones has been named MD and PD at America's most prominent Alternative station. Another former Alternative reporter, David Sadof formerly of KSHU-Huntsville, TX has landed at KLOL-Houston. David is co-producing KLOL's New Music show.

BAD News...Depending on what side of the fence you're sitting on, BAD is happening. BAD, short for Broadcasters Against Drugs, spearheaded by Rick Dees is on the march in Washington. Dees and other committee members are informally talking to members of Congress for assistance. Other BAD news pertains to Big Audio Dynamite, whose latest single, "C'mon Every Beatbox" has been released, also marks the reunion of Clashmen Joe Strummer and BADass Mick Jones.

Talk about strange bedfellows. One of America's hippest Alternative Album Rockers, KCGL (The Seagull) in Salt Lake City is owned by the Mid-America Gospel Radio Network, Inc. That organization has just announced the appointment of Richard D. Rees to the post of General Manager of KCGL. Rees had been Sales Manager since the inception of KCGL in March of '84. Rees replaces Richard Schwartz who has left the station.

RCA Records kingpin Joe Galante has been promoted to the new position of Vice President and General Manager, Nashville. Galante joined the label in 1973 and has turned into one of the icons of Country. As Division VP and head of A&R, Galante played a key role in the signing and development of such acts as The Judds, Earl Thomas Conley, Restless Heart, and Pake McEntire. Hearty Congratulations!

Atlantic Records has announced the appointment of Richard Nash as Director of National Promotion for the Black Music Division. Nash joined the Atlantic/WEA organization in 1980 and was selected as the Atlantic Promotion Rookie of the Year in 1981. Formerly stationed in Cleveland, Nash is New York bound.

Radi-O-Rama...Chuck Crane departs WLS-Chicago to become PD of A/C outlet WYNY-New York. Jan Jeffries leaves sister station WYTY to become GM of WXLK-Roanoke, VA...John Chommie, former PD of KHTZ-Reno, NV is alive and well as PD of WGBB-Freeport, NY...Bud Stiker is the new VP/GM of WHDH/Z94 in Boston...New faces at WWFX-Bangor: Dave Cooper comes from WPST-Trenton, NJ to tackle morning drive, Nikki Summers is promoted to production director and Larry Clark was upped to music director...J.J. Morgan was promoted to MD at KHYT-Tucson, AZ...Henry Morgan is now MD at WWYO-Pineville, WV. Randy Parks is GM...Air personalities on the move-- B.J. Donovan moves from KZLS-Billings, MT. Curt Sampson goes from Y93-Bismarck, ND to crosstown KFYR...KAGO/FM-Klamath Falls, OR music director is now Mike Metzger...Marc M. Rayfield has been named promotion director at WUSL/WFIL in Philadelphia.

A C'wag welcome to the staff of brand new KVXO/FM in Spokane, WA. They're playin' volatile Top Forty and the studios are being built around them as they beam out on the air as of October 1st. Morning drive/asst. PD Brian Christian (formerly with KLUC-Las Vegas) also points out that 75% of the music is carted directly from CDs! To round out the line-up is MD Vickie McCarthy (10-1pm), Jackson O'Hara (1-4pm) both formerly of KKPL, PD Steve Thomas (4-7pm), the energetic Tracey Lee (7-midnite) and the Unknown DJ on all nights. Their number is 509-534-1059. Give 'em a bell.

As former Nationwide group/KWSS-San Jose PD Dave Van Stone reunites with Western Cities and their KLMO-Boulder, CO venture, could there be another "guy" waiting in the wings to take the group PD gig? And if that happens, could it result in one of Nationwide's programmers being reunited with the Northern California area? Stay tuned.

Former Gavin Report staffer Dawn Atkinson is doing a nifty job of climbing the Windham Hill Records ladder. Dawn is now director of A&R for the "New Age" entertainment company.

Columbia Records is gearing up for a giant release in late Fall. Bruce Springsteen and The E-Street Band Live 1975-1985 is a five-lp set, complete with a 36-page lyric/photo booklet. Produced by Springsteen, Jon Landau and Chuck Plotkin, the material was digitally mixed by Bob Clearmountain. Look for a simultaneous disc, cassette AND CD release...great news for Chinwag CD junkies who still haven't gotten over Bob Dylan's Biography.

QUIET NO MORE!

“The Wild and the Young”

QUIET RIOT

Radio Programmers Speak Out

DAVE ANTHONY — PD, KDWB

“For stations like KDWB which depend on a percentage of rock to maintain a true Top 40 stance, the new Quiet Riot single is right on target!”

CONNIE LINDELL — MD, KDON

“Quiet Riot is still the champ after one solid week on KDON's rock wars. It's headed for the hall of fame. It draws heavy voter response. One of the strongest contenders of the year.”

WALT BENNETTI — OM/PD, WRQN

“After we tested and added Quiet Riot's 'The Wild And The Young,' the phones came in at #7! Immediate response!!!”

JIM PAYNE — PD, WRVQ

“After blowing away the like of Chicago, Cameo, and Eddie Money, Quiet Riot is under serious consideration at Q-94.”

STEVE SMALL — MD, KSMB

“The tests on 'The Wild And The Young' are running 96% positive.”

KEEPING THE CONVERSATION ON TRACK

Perhaps the biggest hassle for the active salesperson is dealing with the buyer of advertising who likes to talk away from the subject. While it's important to empathize with your prospect, it can be a frustrating waste of time to allow them to get completely off the subject at hand: buying your radio station.

You need to devise clever, creative approaches to turning around a conversation that is taking this course. The best way, when possible, is to use humor as a set-up, and segue into a technique taught to me too many years ago to mention by Jim Seemiller, private sales consultant to WRQX/Chicago. Try saying, "That gives me an idea..." or "You just made me think of something..." and segue into:

THE FOUR CRITERIA FOR THE SELECTION OF MEDIA:

1. REACH

How many people must you reach to get results? How many people does this medium reach? How many people does this specific station reach? How many people do you reach at the end of one week? At the end of four?

If you subscribe to Arbitron, you have come or average quarter-hour estimates to work with in positioning your answer. Don't forget to increase your station's come by as much as 66 percent by using a four-week schedule and the new Arbitron multi-week slide rule. And remember to turn the hard numbers, which are impossible for anyone to visualize, into PICTURES.

EXAMPLE: Station come=100,000

PICTURE: Our audience would fill Lambeau Field almost twice!

EXAMPLE: Station Average Quarter-Hour Estimate=10,000

PICTURE: Every time your spot goes on our air, it's like talking to 10 captive audiences in 10 movie theaters!

People have devised thousands of ways of turning numbers into pictures. Radio is the only product that lets you make those numbers anything you can be creative enough to describe. REACH gives you this opportunity.

2. FREQUENCY

How many times must you reach consumers with your message to motivate them? How many ads are you running per day? Per week? Per station? Per medium? How many have you run? How many would you like to run?

Time is the subject here. The past, present and future are all locked up in FREQUENCY. Frequency may affect reach: The more you buy, the more you reach, right? Did you do this last time, this time, or do you want to change in the future?

I learned one of the greatest techniques for showing frequency from Chris Lytle. What he does is prepare a grid made up of 35 dayparts--mornings, middays, afternoons, evenings and overnights for every day of the week. Then he prepares the station schedule with the name of the client typed into each day and daypart as many times as there are spots for that client. Instead of showing a grid of spots with X's, if the client proposal is for 28 spots, Lytle shows a grid with the client's name appearing 28 times. For the client to reduce his schedule, he must strike out his name on the page...using Lytle's J. Douglas Edwards pen! How many times do you think client schedules are reduced?

3. SELECTIVITY

What kind of people want to buy your products? Who are they? Where do they live? How much money do they spend? How old are they? What do they wear? Look like?

The list is endless: While reach and frequency help quantify campaign criteria, SELECTIVITY forces us to qualify the consumer's purchasing potential. Most radio salespeople leave this out of their pitch. The temptation is great to talk only of reach and frequency, of grp's and cpm's.

Selectivity may be your only chance to set yourself apart from the rest of the pack. More often than not, the real reason stations are bought is that the buyer understands a specific selective reason to buy.

EXAMPLE: Stations ranked 14th and 24th in the market. A five-deep buy is being planned.

REASON: Stations 14th and 24th proved they have the most active audience at remotes, which makes the agency look good to the car dealer when at least that portion of his ad dollars shows real results.

The "selective" reason you get bought doesn't always have to appear in Scarborough, Media Audit or Birch Qualitative! However, speaking from experience, qualitative data are the most effective tool for getting bought for a "selective" reason.

4. EFFICIENCY

How many people will this campaign reach? How many times among real prospective buyers? At what cost?

You see, cost is the last consideration. Due to weak negotiating skills, radio salespeople have traditionally allowed buyers to make cost efficiency the #1 criterion. They make statements like "Your rate is too high," "Your cost per point is too high," "Your cost per thousand is too high" or "The cost of this schedule is out of my budget."

"Due to weak negotiating skills, radio salespeople have traditionally allowed buyers to make cost efficiency the #1 criterion."

The salesperson who has done his homework and built the case for reach, frequency and selectivity can calmly reply to these statements with "Compared to what?" And, after a little more probing to get the real, hidden objection clarified, can move closer to the sale with the trial close, "If I could...Would you?" (These are subjects covered in my last two columns.)

The four criteria don't stop at the point of sale. Think about all the written pitches produced at your station every day. What do they say? What do they address? If your station's written proposals are getting to your clients without stressing benefits based on the four criteria for the selection of media, as Don Beveridge would say, "You are in trouble." Written or verbal presentations that miss these four criteria do not address the satisfaction of customer needs.

If you start using the FOUR CRITERIA technique and theory today, you will increase your sales productivity for now and as long as you sell in radio. ●

Rebel Without A Pause

Corey Hart doesn't run with the pack. His music and the obligatory videos which accompany his hits portray him as a modern-day James Dean, but he's a loner who's anything but lonely.

The Montreal native writes sweet, sensitive songs, some with a lyrical bite. A reluctant teen idol, his hard-won credibility now stretches far beyond that adolescent adulation.

Hart is always either touring or promoting his music, so we were fortunate to catch up with him at home in Canada as his new album, "Fields of Fire," was just hitting the streets.

RF: Was "Sunglasses At Night" your first recording experience?

CH: Yes, that was my first shot at it. My first album and my first single off "First Offense."

RF: I read somewhere that all the songs on that album were written before you were nine-teen but I can't figure out how that would work. You're only twenty-four now, and that album came out in 1983.

CH: I got signed when I was nineteen, and recorded that album when I was twenty. I wrote most of the songs when I was fifteen or sixteen because that's when I started writing.

"Sunglasses" was one of the last songs I wrote. In fact, it was a last-minute addition to the album. It was not part of the first ten songs. There was nothing written after the age of nineteen. "First Offense" came out in Canada at a different time period than it did in America by about eight months.

RF: Where does someone like yourself develop your musical skills? How did this come to you that all of a sudden you're in a recording studio recording an album?

CH: It's a very simple story. From very early on I only wanted to do one thing, and that was to write, sing and perform my songs for people. I didn't have any other choice. I basically knew that this was what I was going to do. I spent all of my time devoted to that cause. I went through the regular artist routine where you send in your songs to record companies and you try to showcase your material etc. etc. I had the inevitable rejections, and eventually I just kicked the door through.

RF: Where did you grow up, and what were the musical influences that inspired you?

CH: I was born in Montreal, and we moved away when I was about five. We moved to Spain and then Mexico. My early years were in foreign countries, so I really wasn't exposed to that much music. When I came back to Canada, I was ten and it was hard to adjust to school and a different culture. So I just gravitated towards music. It was like my best friend. I used to buy a lot of 45s and listened to Top 40 radio. I guess that was my first exposure to music. I was a huge fan.

RF: Do you remember the first single you bought?

CH: "Tracks Of My Tears" by Smokey Robinson. That was an oldie in 1972 also, my sister left me all her records. You see, I missed out on the Beatles and the Stones because when they were really happening I was about seven or eight and in Spain. I wasn't exposed to them there. The first real influence that I'd say really shaped me as a songwriter would be the Police. As a band they really hit me over the head, I said, "Wow, these guys are really doing something very unique."

RF: It's interesting that you say that because you write about their song "Roxanne" in one of the songs on your new album, "Fields Of Fire."

CH: It's true. I always loved that song "Roxanne." "Dancin' With My Mirror" is the song you're referring to. The story behind that is it's a song about exploring your own fantasies and "Dancin' With My Mirror" is one of them. We were in Luxembourg, of all places, and it was late and I couldn't fall to sleep. I turned on the radio and "Roxanne" was on. I just started to groove to it and a mirror was in front of me. I had a fine old time. So I wrote a song about it.

RF: Did "Roxanne" hit you the first time?

CH: It blew me away. I thought there was an animal quality to the way Sting was singing it. I thought the lyrics were very intelligent, and I knew he was writing about a prostitute. The way that he approached that was very novel to me. It has the reggae influence to it, and it was a sparse record. It wasn't cluttered. A lot of records at that time were being overly produced. Here was one that had a lot of raw energy to it. I also remember hearing it on CHOM in Montreal. In fact, the very first time I heard myself on radio was on the same station.

RF: What do you consider to be your most successful single to date?

CH: I think there will always be a special feeling for "Sunglasses" because it was the first one. You mentioned the Canadian situation. In Canada, my success has been incredible, and I'm very proud of being Canadian, so it makes it more special to me that I'm so well received here. Initially, "Sunglasses" was very slow happening in Canada. It really wasn't until my American success took off that I was really endorsed in Canada. I think that was a problem inherent in the Canadian industry. That's changed since 1983 because of the success of Bryan Adams and myself, and now someone like Glass Tiger. I think the Canadian industry really bfeaks its own acts now.

RF: In past interviews, we have talked to Canadian artists about the Canadian Content situation - the obligation of Canadian radio to play a quota of Canadian-produced, recorded, written and performed music. What are your feelings on Can Con?

CH: When it was instituted I think it was a very necessary legislation because it gave the record companies the incentive to sign Canadian acts. Before, they figured, "Why sign a Canadian band because they're not going to get played on the radio. They probably are not as good as the Americans or British anyway." With the legislation they knew they could make it a profitable venture when they signed a band, so that helped. I really think it has created an identity for Canadian bands. Then there is the other side of it which in a way I think forces the radio programmer to play something that he may not on his own inclination play. If I had to choose between having it or not having it, I still think we should have it.

RF: I still have trouble identifying a "Canadian sound." Do you think there is anything indigenous to Canadian music that we should be noticing?

CH: No! I don't believe there is. I could ask you, what would be an indigenous American sound? I'm sure Springsteen and Cougar sound American, and I guess Bryan Adams sounds American. I do think what is very distinctive about the Canadian acts is that, as with the Americans, we are very patriotic.

RF: It seemed when you first came on the scene, and to a degree even today, you're packaged in a way to appeal primarily to young females, to the point of being a teen idol. And yet your music has a certain maturity that goes beyond that. How did all that develop? Was it a conscious effort through management, and are you doing anything to alter that?

CH: To begin with, I like the way I look. To purposely affect the way I look would be a conscious effort to try to get away from something. You are what you are and hopefully people will accept it. I never set out in my mind to appeal to any one demographic, because to me that would defeat the whole purpose of why I write songs. I write to reach people, young, old, in-between, fat, ugly and everyone. I cross all borders when I'm writing a song. I don't give it much thought that I have a young following. So did the Beatles and they grew up with them. I know my music stands on its own merit. I let it speak for itself. I'm sure whatever preconceptions people have concerning my image will wash away.

RF: In your videos there seems to be a different image, a conscious effort to portray yourself as somewhat of a loner. I know the comparison has been made between you and the late James Dean.

CH: I never anticipated having to do anything in video or film. It wasn't anything that occurred to me when I was starting out. My persona on video just developed very naturally and the comparisons were made. The guy you see in the video is not a character that I'm playing. To a large extent Corey Hart is that guy, I'm basically playing myself. When you say loner, that is very much me. In school I was not the outcast, but I certainly was the loner. I was very much into my own thing and very independent, quiet and reserved. That's just my style. I'm the antithesis of David Lee Roth.

RF: One of the big breaks in your career came when you got some help from members from Billy Joel's band in New York. I bring this up only because, one place you don't want to be alone or a loner is probably the streets of Manhattan. Was that a particularly trying time for you?

CH: It was a point when I felt I needed some sort of concrete step in my career. I needed to get out there and see if I could cut it with some of the heavyweights out there. I hooked up with some of the guys from his band and we went into the studio together and did a demo. They were into what I was doing and were very encouraging. I think that sort of acceptance really made an impression on me. It was an endorsement from musicians, not family. It was tough down there because it was very competitive and I was only seventeen.

RF: Was "Boy In The Box" the song that related to the experiences of a James Dean and the experiences of a Corey Hart?

CH: Yes, absolutely. I've never made any reservations about saying that. It's a fact that there was a barrage of comparisons. At every concert gig I played, the reviews said "this James Dean-like figure" or "with his James Dean sneer." It became such a thing with me that I said, "I might as well find out what they're talking about," and read a little bit about this guy. I accumulated a lot of information on him. Actually the phrase "Boy In The Box" comes from a jock, John Landecker of WLS in Chicago. As a matter of fact, I just met him about ten days ago.

RF: How did Landecker's coming up with that phrase lead to your doing it?

CH: It was part of his rap on the radio. I never heard him do that. I got it from a jock up in Montreal who was a big fan of Landecker's. He picked up the phrase and started using it. We were doing a show in Montreal and while driving to the gig this jock on the air said, "This is Steve Anthony, the boy in the box." I heard that and I had this song, but didn't have the title for it. It just clicked. James Dean, Corey Hart. It just made sense.

RF: And "Don't let it happen to me"?

CH: Absolutely. Where there's a similarity is that we were both young and I think we both believed very strongly in what we were doing. It doesn't go much further than that. I think he felt trapped though. I believe very strongly in not letting that happen to me.

RF: Is it truth or fiction that you were seriously being considered for the role that Michael J. Fox ended up with in "Back To The Future"?

CH: It's somewhere in between truth and fiction. I was sent a script and asked if I was interested in going to Los Angeles and doing a screen test. I'm sure many people were sent a script, and I'm sure I was never in the position of being a candidate for the role. Film is another thing that everyone asks me about and as I said before, it is something I never considered doing until I actually saw myself in videos. I enjoy being in front of the camera, creating visuals. It's something that would never take priority over my music, so I still have a few more albums to do.

RF: You could do a movie called "Rebel Without A Pause" or "Rebel Without Applause."

CH: There is a line from the "Angry Young Man" of the new album. It sort of pokes fun a bit at the angry young man that people perceive in me, in the James Dean thing. "Rebel Without A Pause" is a line from it.

RF: On the new album "Fields Of Fire" you take a rather heroic and a courageous step in redoing a song Elvis made famous: "Can't Help Falling In Love." No one has ever had a hit covering a song Elvis had a hit with first. It just seems so logical that it has to come out as a single down the line.

CH: Well, that's up to the record company. It's on the album because they wanted it on the album. There is an interesting story behind it. When we finished "Fields Of Fire," "Can't Help Falling In Love" wasn't included. I was given a Wurlitzer jukebox as a gift from my record company, I hadn't a chance to listen to all of the songs on it because I had gone right from touring into the studio. We had two weeks off before we were going to do more remixing in England. I started playing this Wurlitzer jukebox. I kept going back to "Can't Help Falling In Love" and playing it over and over. I fell in love with that song. I was familiar with the song, but I never, never intended to record it. I took the 45 out of the jukebox and brought it to England. We were supposed to do the mixing and I said, "Can I have about twenty-four hours? I want to do a B-side here for one of my songs." My producer said "You're crazy," but I said I would like to be able to give it justice because I love the song. It basically was recorded and mixed in twenty-four hours. The next day we finished what we were supposed to do, which was mix the rest of "Fields Of Fire." We came back and, when it was played for the record company as a B-side, it quickly changed to an A-side and became a part of the album.

RF: You have always spent a lot of time promoting your music and visiting radio stations.

CH: As I was getting started with EMI, Jack Satter and Dick Williams asked me to go out on a promotional tour. This was just two weeks after "Sunglasses At Night" was released and I had no idea whatsoever how it works, when songs are released and getting airplay. I always thought when your song is put out, it went on the radio. I never thought that some people might not play it, but hopefully a lot of people would play it. These guys, Dick and Jack, taught me so much. I feel this was an invaluable education. It's radio out there and if you establish relationships with them these are the guys who really break you. Their radio stations are out there reaching your fans. There are some friends I've made in radio I really value because it's both give and take.

RF: Do you still visit radio stations and knock on doors?

CH: Obviously I don't go out as I did with "Sunglasses At Night," when we must have visited twenty-five cities. When I'm playing on tour I always visit radio stations, but I'm not out right now on a promotional tour because I don't have the time to do that. There are friends out there like Steve Kingston at B104 in Baltimore. I just pick up the phone and call him and thank him for adding my record because he believes in my music. Those friendships are invaluable.

RF: Has backstage gotten more and more crowded as you get more and more successful?

CH: (laughs) Yes, though I leave right after a show, I don't know what goes on when I'm not around. But it does get pretty hectic. Basically, before we go out on stage there are always people there from radio that want to say hello and usually some contest winners.

RF: Interesting that you do that before a show. Most artists don't want that kind of distraction.

CH: I'm spent after the show. I couldn't possibly do any justice to contest winners or radio people. I am a dead man. When I started out, I wasn't playing live. I was always working in the studios, so I didn't really realize how much I'd love playing live. It is the most incredible experience that I have gone through. When I leave the stage nothing can match it or come close to it.

RF: I know that you have been doing "Jailhouse Rock" in your live show, and now you're doing "Can't Help Falling In Love." You could do a Elvis medley pretty soon.

CH: "Jailhouse Rock" was something that was very spontaneous. In my show I like to have someone come up from the audience. When I was opening up for Hall & Oates and Rick Springfield, and singing "Sunglasses At Night" on the "Boy In The Box" tour, someone ran up on stage and started dancing. She said, "Why don't you play 'Jailhouse Rock'." It's my favorite song." We started playing it from that night on, and it became a staple in the show. ●

MAIL BAG

I encourage you to write in with your thoughts for this column, and you do. Here's the first of several thoughtful letters I've received. Bill Martin, 'til recently the PD at WBCY-Charlotte, NC, wrote in reference to the column of June 27, "Developing Talent":

"As a one-time smaller-market PD, I took great pride in helping to develop young, upcoming talents. It's exciting to see someone develop into what we in the industry consider a major-market talent.

"When searching for talent, I was always one to ask for multiple airchecks. These additional tapes were to be taken directly from the station's aircheck machines. Usually, a couple of days' worth of tapes with only the music edited out is a sure-fire way of spotting a doctored aircheck. I always asked for these skimmed tapes from recent shows, usually the two days prior to my phone call. Generally, it doesn't put the talent in a situation where they feel they're airchecking for you. I've always recommended that jocks aircheck every day. It's the best way to learn, and it's a great habit to get into as well.

"Hire someone who is consistent. On a 1-10 scale, a talent who can give consistent 'sevens' is always a better choice than someone who comes up with a higher score once a week. Be wary of someone who has 'been around.' Usually, the best talent has moved for the right reasons.

"Finding the bright, young, aggressive talents is at times difficult. If you search, though, you will find them. Look to your local university radio station. Find someone who is working toward a degree in broadcasting. Give them a taste of the Real World of Radio. Generally, they will do just about anything to help. Get them involved in your research department, promotions or many other projects. Not only are you helping to ease your and other's workloads, they are gaining valuable knowledge that they will carry with them the rest of their broadcasting lives. It's important they understand every facet of the radio station.

"The all-night show is another excellent vehicle for developing young talent. Use this daypart as a kind of training ground for future daytime openings. Work with the talent. Give them freedom to develop and grow as personalities. Guide them in the direction that's best for their career. Do they have the potential to do mornings some day? Would they be better suited relating to a nighttime audience? By listening, we can all learn from one another.

"Every Program Director in the world is looking for that really 'special' talent. Unfortunately, not everyone is willing to take the time to develop that talent.

"If you're in a situation where you can develop young talent, take advantage of it. You'll find some very talented and willing young people out there."

Another letter, this from an old friend, Frank Colbourn, who programmed FM stations in Seattle and in Houston, where he's currently involved in developing a Christian talk format on KTEK. His letter was stimulated by a column I wrote over a year ago, discussing how the brain works and some natural approaches to making it work better, including lecithin and the amino acid L-tyrosine.

Frank writes: "Very little has been published on the subject of developing and increasing creativity. Some artists and professionals have boosted their creativity by various consciousness-raising exercises. I propose boosting creativity by physical exercise...

"Many talented, creative people are puzzled as to why they have high periods of creativity and then go dry for a time. The professional communicator often maintains a file of information, jokes and bits to use during the dry periods, but I find it interesting that some talents never have down times. I wondered why and began to look for a common ingredient among the so-called 'creative talents.' I found certain similarities, not only among the artistic professions, but among businesspeople and professionals, too. These people are not necessarily positive people, but they do share an enthusiastic frame of mind about some elements of their lives. Since I've been in radio, I've hit certain times when my creativity was sparked by outside activities. I hit a very creative period when I was dating and romancing my wife. I hit another very creative period when I became a Christian. During the last three years, I've hit another creative period which I believe was sparked by aerobic activity. I'll try to explain what these three experiences have in common...

"First, let's take a look at how the brain works: Beta endorphins are produced in the brain when we go through periods of high excitement. When the beta endorphins are released in the brain, their molecular structure is similar to morphine. They tranquilize the body, and the individual is relaxed and uninhibited, so the creative aspect of the personality can develop.

"Three years ago, I began working out with weights and doing aerobic exercises. After about seven weeks, not only did I notice a physical but a mental difference: I was more alert and creative. In the three years I have been exercising, I have yet to meet a person involved in aerobics who is not a positive achiever. Almost all the achievers I've interviewed have been involved in some sort of activity which gets those beta endorphins going. The fitness activity I'm calling your attention to will give you the opportunity to experience what is sometimes called the 'runner's high'...You'll build up your vascular system, have a greater volume of oxygen, and your body and mind will function at a higher level. This greater volume of oxygen to the brain will clear the thinking process and wake up the energy level of the body. I urge those reading this to try some form of aerobic activity over a five-to-seven-week period, and see if you don't notice the difference.

"A couple of good books on aerobics are 'Fit or Fat' by Covert Bailey and 'Positive Addictions' by William Glassar, and there are numerous articles in the excellent Weider fitness publications. From the research I've done, it appears that you must be involved in aerobic exercises three to six times a week for the results to take hold."

Frank has provided the best reason for exercise I've come across! I appreciate the letters and information, and again I invite you to write in yourself. Send care of The Gavin Report, or write me directly at the Adult Contemporary Music Research Letter, 1837 SE Harold St., Portland, OR 97202-4932. ●

LOVE & ROCKETS

Blah Blah Blah-Iggy Pop (A&M)

A lotta mileage on Iggy when you stop and think of the classics he's turned out--Funhouse, Raw Power, Lust For Life and now Blah Blah Blah. Though BBB is big sounding, it is a compact effort put together by a tight core of just six people, including producer David Bowie, engineer David Richards, a tape op, a guitarist or two and Erdal Kizilcay on bass /drums/synth. Iggy Pop, amidst, his maniacal history has always possessed an underlying sense of humanity. At odd moments his music touches your heart. An example on this album is "Shades." What that song has is precisely what's missing on the acres of vinyl we track through--heart and a gracious sense of honesty. Like the best of his work, this album exposes both sides of primal emotion--raw power and the same tenderness Otis Redding sang about. Blah Blah Blah is a complete work of art. Trax: "Isolation," "Shades," "Real Wild Child," "Cry For Love," "Hideaway," and especially "Winners And Losers."

Brotherhood-New Order (Qwest)

Bunker Song of the Week: New Order's "Bizarre Love Triangle." This is what skydiving must feel like. Side two of Brotherhood contains some of the band's best work. For instance, the long outro on "All Day Long" (especially the classical string synth lines) is astounding. The instrumentation sweeps and soars to heights the band hasn't touched before. Brotherhood seems to be staunchly charging into a neoclassic direction. The orchestral arrangements (performed on keyboards) on side two give the band a perfect balance between the architecture of their early work and their more recent excursions into dance.

"It's the New Style"-Beastie Boys (Def Jam/Columbia)

Psycho record of the week: Sex, violence, and rock n roll. "Jimmy Page" does rhyme with "underage."

Good Music-Joan Jett & Blackhearts (Blackheart/CBS)

Of all the kiss ass radio anthems written and (unfortunately) recorded, nothing equals Jonathan Richman's "Roadrunner," as Joan Jett's Blackheart cover captures the innocent passion of the original. In fact, Good Music has a whole batch of great songs including the pre-Aerosmith /DMC rapper "Black Leather," "This Means War," the single "Good Music" and especially the aforementioned "Roadrunner" (now will JR see a penny of that action?). Outside of a few irreverent slip-ups, Good Music certainly is strong enough to maintain the respected Blackheart base, if not enlarge it slightly.

"Too Much Or Nothing"-General Public (IRS)

General Public tread into Howard Jones territory with a snappy arrangement. A cool song like this grabs both the hip listener and, as a bonus, a loyal teen following. This is high quality worthy of immediate ear response.

The Pacific Age-OMD (Virgin/A&M)

The Pacific Age is a happy compromise between the OMD we know on the radio and the Orchestral Manoeuvres In The Dark that sang of architecture backed by short wave distress calls. The title track best illustrates that blend. The remaining quality of the album shows the band coming to grips with their split identity as an art and pop band. Trax: "(Forever) Live And Die," "Pacific Age," "Goddess Of Love" and the subtle "Watch Us Fall."

Tutu-Miles Davis (Warner Bros.)

After twenty five years on Columbia, Miles Davis joins Warner Brothers, collaborating with producer Tommy Lipuma and bassist Marcus Miller. Tutu is a modern montage of jazzy funky tonk. Here's to another forty-odd years of innovation.

"You Know I Love You...Don't You?"-Howard Jones (Elektra)

Fast paced and aggressive up-tempo stuff makes for automatic Album Radio appeal. Are those real guitars? HoJo bounces back hard and fast. Produced by Arif Mardin.

Express-Love & Rockets (Big Time)

Love & Rockets defy their Bauhaus roots, opting for harmonies and up -beat excursions like "All In My Mind." Though they walk the dark edge, Love & Rockets have a bright bright future. They've toured this country three times, gaining lots of steam. Check these great trax, "All In My Mind," "Life In Laralay" and "Ball Of Confusion." Plug track is "Kundalini Express." I say go for "All In My Mind."

"C'mon Every Beatbox"-Big Audio Dynamite (Columbia)

"C'mon Every Beatbox" is "Summertime Blues" and "Dancing In The Street" for the spiky lads and lasses who are hopeless Clash fans. Besides the fact that BAD is dancey and still political, there's solace in the fact that Mick Jones and Joe Strummer are no longer apart. Don't be surprised if the Clash remains an entity as well. After all, Jones has always maintained that he never left the band, but was, rather, fired. If the egos are kept in check, everyone will win out as BAD and the Clash co-survive.

ALTERNATIVE ACTION

The Woodentops continue to close the gap from REM (down to 15%) but they now have the Talking Heads to contend with. The Heads have the potential to slingshot past both. Elvis Costello and Iggly Pop are our two new entries within the top ten, both with astounding moves. Elvis's strength rests primarily in his potent rotation, MAX: at WBCN, WLIR, WHFS, WBNY, WTSP, WUNH, WUSB, WFNX, CFNY, WRAS, WUOG, WXYC, WRVU, KABL, WOXY, KDVS, KUSF, KJET, KBVR, etc. Ditto for Iggly, who increased his chart points by 50% in one week and attained MAX: play at WBCN, WLIR, WNYU, WFNX, KBVR, KJET, KRQU, KEYX, WOXY, WNUR, KABL, WWVU, WXXP, etc. Richard Thompson's modest move on the chart is deceiving. He's gaining strength and was delayed by some fatigued records above him on their way down. Everything But The Girl and James' persistence lands them on the chart, while Human League debuts behind the play of the single, "Human". Scuffy the Cat is growing consistently and should have a legitimate shot at

The Confessional - WINTER HOURS (Link)
 Featured in our July 11th "New Artist Salute" issue, Winter Hours are back with a three song EP which will be followed by a full album shortly. We're big fans of Winter Hours here at The Gavin and this EP "The Confessional" is up to the standards they've already established for themselves. "September Song (Mushroom Mix)" is the centerpiece here, with its stretched-out blues feel and slide guitar. The title track "The Confessional" and "Ten Minutes" are both quality pieces of work written in a compact and tight manner. Can't wait for the album.

Until December - UNTIL DECEMBER (415/Columbia)

Until December combine a powerful Alternative and dance music punch that will draw some comparisons to New Order. This debut album was preceded by a series of 12" dance mix singles which have now been eclipsed by these distilled album versions. The songs that feature prominent guitar parts stand-out from the pack. "Mirrors" has a fascinating layered arrangement backed by a gothic-like magnetic hook, featuring some flaming guitar leads. "Forgive And Still Forget" and "No Gift Refused" aren't layered in such a complex fashion, yet they still contain memorable hooks. "Giesha" exposes a different side to Until December with its peculiar texture and should appeal to our very adventurous programmers. Peter

COUNTRY SUMMARY

The chart looks like a lot of stations are cleaning house this week. Earl Thomas Conley & Anita Pointer are making a bid for number one, with a 97% Hit Factor. Ken Conlin at KRED-Eureka tells us that the duet has been his number one record for the last three weeks, and that's the first time this year he's had a record at the number one spot for more than two weeks. (There's a cute picture of Earl Thomas with ALL the Pointer Sisters in this week's PhotoFile on page 13.) Another duet, the Marie Osmond/Paul Davis pairing, is coming on strong in the Requests category. Some other notable jumps this week are Steve Wariner, Barbara Mandrell, John Anderson, Juice Newton, George Strait, and of course our Certified's, Anne Murray and the Bellamys/Foresters combination. George Jones is starting to make a lot of noise. Tony

Lawson at WQLA -LaFollette/Knoxville says requests for George are "ringing the phones off the wall", and Layne Thomas at WXKY-Milan says it's "smelling like a hit." (cute, Layne) Mel McDaniel stays in Chartbound for one more week, and looks even stronger with 16 more adds. Rich Griffin at WRAJ-Anna says that Mel is "even hotter than the weather this week." Our Most Added record, The Judds, is already getting tons of calls for Mark Wilson at KGVO-Missoula. Newcomer Kaylee Adams hangs in there this week with 7 more believers. If Kaylee's voice sounds familiar, you may have heard her singing "The Change In Me Is You" - a song that's currently being featured in the soap "Santa Barbara." We continue to get comments about the Lionel Richie/Alabama duet, and it's still the most played LP cut at Country stations. Billy Pilgrim at KEED-Eugene is playing Huey Lewis' "Stuck With You", and it's doing incredibly well for him as he moves it 21-12. This week's birthday boy Mark Burns at WCAV/FM -Brockton had an added birthday surprise. He was named the #1 Country personality in Massachusetts for the third year in a row. Congratulations, Mark! (and Happy Birthday) And finally, for any of you having a problem getting your reports in on Tuesdays and Wednesdays because of busy phone lines, Jesse Lee at KORD-Tri-Cities has come through with a helpful hint that he SWEARS will work. If you call and get a busy signal, then try again four times in a row and, according to Jesse, you'll get through every time. By the way, if you try it and it doesn't work, remember that it was Jesse's suggestion! Take care!! Lisa & Elma

by JERRY BOULDING

CLEARING THE AIR

Urban radio's hiring challenge is really no different than any other format's employee selection process, except that there are perhaps fewer qualified employees available to those who have adopted the highest performance standards for their stations. Where does the responsibility really lie? What happens after you have made the hiring decision? Suppose you have made a mistake? What if the tape and resume over-represent the candidate? Or suppose you find that your new employee is just not working out. Let's say that your new music director is a great jock but the first day he was late to work. The record promotion executives are lined up in the reception area and he is not around. Does this reflect on you and your radio station? Undoubtedly. And let's suppose that the second day, he calls in sick. The third day he doesn't show up at all. And after placing your faith and trust in your new choice, based on the past six working days you kind of wish he or she would stay home more often.

Making effective hiring choices is crucial to a smoothly running business. This is true whether you are trying to fill a part-time week-end position or a top management post. How can you make better hiring decisions? How do you recognize a competent employee when you see one? Can you believe the tape that would indicate that your new prospect is a superior air talent? What about the resume which lists nothing but top stations and a ratings history that seems to show that wherever they worked, the ARBitrons soared? And finally, how can you make certain you don't make a mistake in the interviewing process? Or should you even insist on an in-person interview before hiring? Maybe the station doesn't want to fly the candidate in and the candidate can't come in on their own expense. Should you be held responsible for the decision if the station is not willing to cover the costs of an in-person interview? The answers to all these questions is "yes." Yes, you are responsible regardless of whether or not the station would be willing to pay for an in-person interview. Yes, you have to make the best decision you can, based often on a tape, resume and the opinion of a few friends of the candidate.

SCREEN TEST

Let's say you're the program director for a medium-market radio station. You have advertised for a new evening air talent and assistant music director in all the major trade publications, and your desk is now piled high with tapes and resumes, many of them from novice broadcasters just out of school. What do you do now? How do you screen for the best possible applicant? Well, the first thing you need to do - something you should have done before you put in the ads - is determine the specifications for the job. What does the applicant absolutely have to have? Set up your specifications before you ever look at the applications so there is less chance you will be fooled by impressive, though ill-suited, resumes and doctored production room tape. Then, establish a checklist. Go through each resume and tape automatically disqualifying those who do not meet your specifications.

Don't be swayed by applicants who write persuasively, who call you frequently bemoaning their present or last job situation and how unfairly they were treated. Watch those who build up their "practical experience" and ignore your education and experience requirements or who try to convince you that their extensive education is experience enough. The number of qualified applicants per 100 responses is very low. Most hiring consultants and studies we've reviewed suggest that you try to weed your choices down to a maximum of five candidates.

A QUESTION OF ANSWERS

There are always a few awkward moments when interviewing new talent applicants. I suggest that if you can't arrange an in-person interview, at least talk to the applicant on the telephone and plan to ask some key questions. You should avoid leading questions which tend to have a low potential for generating truthful responses. After all, no applicant is going to let himself look bad if he can avoid it. Sensitive questions allow you to explore delicate issues in a non-threatening manner. There are certain answers that you must have to make a hiring decision, and sometimes these answers require carefully worded questions. For example, you need to know why an applicant left his or her last job. You might begin by saying, "There are any number of reasons that a person decides to look for new employment. Could you tell me why you decided to leave your position with your last station?" Begin your questions by legitimizing the response. Let your applicant know that you are not sitting in judgment, but that you need to ask certain delicate questions. And you need to avoid asking questions already answered in the resume, you're wasting valuable time - yours, the company's and the applicants. Besides, you could make a poor initial impression as a future boss for an applicant who senses that you're nervous, unprepared and perhaps don't know when to stop talking.

BODY LANGUAGE

If you're a male and you're interviewing a prospective female employee, you have to be especially careful not to say anything that could have possible sexual overtones. And there is a tendency with males who want to impress a female applicant, to do all the talking. Your task is to create an atmosphere that will encourage the applicant to talk. You must learn to lead the discussion, but not dominate it. Guard against accepting the presence of unnecessary distractions. A good rule of thumb is that the applicant should be talking about 70 percent of the time.

"How can you make better hiring decisions? How do you recognize a competent employee when you see one? Can you believe the tape that would indicate that your new prospect is a superior air talent?"

Finally, what does the real "body language" tell you about a new employee? How are they dressed? Would they make a good showing when it's time to make public appearances? Based on the application, how well do they speak when not scripted or behind the microphone? Many jocks are still shy and do not fare well in public. Sometimes these weaknesses show up in interview situations. When you select a new employee, you are not only selecting a new member of your air staff, but also a new member of your work team. The good applicants will automatically appear good; the poor applicants will automatically appear bad. And although first impressions can occasionally be inaccurate, they are assuredly incomplete. When you rely on friends, subjective hunches, or let yourself make premature decisions, you risk the possibility of creating a self-fulfilling prophecy. And if you're one who's looking to become employed, remember ambition never gets anywhere until it forms an alliance with work. And America's number one energy crisis is still Monday morning!

URBAN CONTEMPORARY SUMMARY

CAMEO maintains. HOWARD HEWETT maintains. 5 STAR makes gains and THE TEMPTATIONS are hot! Don Allen, WOWI-Norfolk reports heavy calls on the GREGORY ABBOTT "Shake You Down" from the females 18-34 and we've made it our Pop Crossover choice because of the 44 stations reporting it Top 40. Stan Tompkins, WTOY-Roanoke reports calls for HUMAN LEAGUE and CLUB NOUVEAU...the novelty has not worn off yet, according to Stan. JESSE JOHNSON & SLY STONE were probably the most talked about duo in this week's calls. Listeners are making it "...our number one requested tune " says Tony

Brown, WBLX-Mobile, and he reports that it's mostly males that are calling. When we heard from Joe Diaz, WWIL-Wilmington he stated that he's getting "mucho requests" for the JESSE & SLY. The listeners are still calling for the GENERAL KANE and it's getting to be "an instant floor packer" at the clubs, according to Clint Works, WDKX -Rochester. Terri Avery, KKDA-Dallas said the calls for THE COMMODORES are great, and the demos are 12+. Tony Scott, WEKS-Atlanta is already getting calls on NOCERA from 18-25 and when Tonya Pendleton, WILD-Boston reported it, she said NOCERA is already number one requests there. Licia Torres, KJLH-Los Angeles reported the HEWETT is hot, and "the men are really calling in for the READY FOR THE WORLD...it must be that older woman/younger man thing they like." Ray Boyd, V103-Atlanta reported that "ONE WAY is gonna be a big, big song." Don Cody, WGIV -Charlotte checked in to say that the new SHIRLEY MURDOCK "As We Lay" is "without a doubt getting top requests here in Charlotte." Thanks for the calls...tune in next week... Betty

the GAVIN REPORT

DAVE SHOLIN'S Personal Picks — SINGLES

HUEY LEWIS AND THE NEWS - Hip To Be Square (Chrysalis) Another brilliantly executed play with Montana, Clark, Lott, and Ellison helping Coach Lewis and his Newsteam take it in for a quick 6.

ELTON JOHN - Heartache All Over The World (Geffen) Elements from past hits are barely detectable but they make a perfect blend with new ingredients supplied by Elton and Bernie. Elton has been causing excitement on radio for a mighty long time with music such as this power-packed entry. Four star performance.

HOWARD JONES - you know I love you...don't you? (Elektra) Not about to get typecast as a balladeer HoJo fires off a burnin' rocker. "Driving Rhythm" is a phrase sometimes overused by reviewers but it sure applies in this case. Active listeners will demand this attention-getter.

THE MONKEES - Daydream Believer (Arista) Right time of year for this John Stewart composition and one of my favorite Monkees tunes to be re-released. Yes, it was during the Fall of 1967 that it played almost hourly on stations everywhere (peaking in mid-November). Their wide demo appeal, aided by MTV exposure and a sold-out tour, makes them a force to be reckoned with once again. Michael Lloyd did a super job of remixing the track. The highly successful re-emergence of this group is one of the year's truly amazing stories.

DARYL HALL - Foolish Pride (RCA) Back to H&O basics ala "Say It Isn't So". It's the direction and sound that's sure to please a lot of folks. Top 40 and A/C mainstay bound to join the Hall Of Hits.

JULIAN LENNON - Time Will Teach Us All (Capitol) Dad sang "Give Peace A Chance" and "Imagine". Son Julian delivers the message in a touching and sincere rendition of this song from the musical "Time". Stevie Wonder joining in for the big finish is a wonderful addition.

SAMANTHA FOX - Touch Me (I Want Your Body) (Jive/RCA) After seeing the picture sleeve and calender this release arrived in; I can't believe she'd have a problem getting a line of volunteers to fulfill the request suggested by the song's title. Samantha is a British model who has already sold over a million copies of this record internationally, where it's gone number one in seven countries. KMEL's Keith Naftaly hipped me to this one and told me I'd love it...he was right.

RON FELL'S Personal Picks — ALBUMS

ORCHESTRAL MANOEUVRES IN THE DARK - The Pacific Age (Virgin/A&M)

Literate, digitally brilliant, pop/progressive music which is both challenging and accessible. Their ability to harness the electricity of modern studio technology prevents them from being collared by same. When they scope out a song, they seem to be concerned with harmony. When they put an album together, they throw in the hit, or in this case, hits. When they drift into the gaseous ether of Art Rock, it's only an incidental mental overdose. We'll remember the majority, the less indulgent tracks like: (FOREVER) LIVE AND DIE, SHAME, STAY and THE PACIFIC AGE and maybe GODDESS OF LOVE. What does it all mean? I don't think we must know to like it.
