SINATRA

How high tech helped the Chairman get side-by-side with Bono, Aretha, Luther, Barbra, Julio and others.

This Week.....

Frank Sinatra is back, and the Capitol Tower is standing just a little taller these days. As the world knows by now, it's not just that Sinatra returned to the fold, but for his album, Duets, he teamed up with a galaxy of stars, including such unlikely singing partners as U2's Bono, Aretha Franklin (above), Carly Simon, Charles Aznavour, and Julio Iglesias. How'd the teen idol of the '40s come to hang with such current swingers as Luther Vandross, Gloria Estefan, and Kenny G, as well as kindred spirits Tony Bennett, Liza Minnelli, Barbra Streisand, Natalie Cole and Anita Baker? And what did the hanging involve, since the guests were never in the studio with the Chairman? Ron Fell, a long-time Sinatra aficionado, dove into the story with enthusiasm and tells it—naturally—his way. In News, we tell what some industry execs, including Jason Berman of the RIAA (above right) think about NAFTA, and we continue to cover George Michael's trial by ire with Sony Music. For DJs and station owners alike, we have a handy menu of updated FCC fines as well as news on the Commission's new chairman. And GAVIN staffers pause to reflect on what happened in Dallas on a Friday afternoon 30 years ago. Campaign of the Week checks out the marketing behind the Wu-Tang Clan (above). Natalie Duitsman, in Yellow Pages tells about a Texas stations rock auction to help needy kids.

NAFTA The Fact

BY BEVERLY MIRE

President Clinton isn't the only person who's happy the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) passed.

Industry executives were cheered by the bill's last minute victory, as it signals an end to rampant piracy and will make it easier to export Mexico's popular musicians.

Included in the agreement are provisions that directly affect the music industry. They protect "intellectual property," particularly copyrights. The stipulations, along with the copyright laws passed in January of 1992, Mexico's large record-buying population and the rising popularity of Spanish-language music, should make Mexico an extremely lucrative market.

"The intellectual property provisions in NAFTA probably represent the highest standard of protection, across the board, that has ever been achieved in a trade agreement either bilaterally or internationally," says Recording Industry of America (RIAA) president Jason Berman. "In addition, the agreement provides for enforcement both internally and at the border."

According to Berman, the RIAA had been lobbying for the bill's passage.

"The fact is, for about two years we have been concerned about piracies and our desire to develop

Jason Berman, RIAA President

Mexican artists," he says.

According to GAVIN management expert Oren Harari, Mexico's huge youth market will bring major dollars into the United States.

"Any time you increase trade between two countries, the level of water goes up for both," he says. "By definition, when that occurs there'll be more people with disposable income, and people with disposable income look for entertainment—they buy CDs, they go to shows.

"Add to that the fact that well over 50 percent of the Mexican population is under 20...young folks influenced by the United States are going to be extremely susceptible to products and services imported by the United States."

Berman says that currently for every record sold in Mexico, one is bootlegged. "While rampant piracy is devastating U.S. and Mexican record companies, performers, musicians, studio engineers songwriters and publishers," he said just prior to the bill's passage, "Mexican performers and companies are bearing the brunt of massive piracy and struggling for their very survival."

NAFTA's success is also seen as a chance for more Mexican artists to break not only stateside, but internationally.

"Mexico will be a substantial marketplace," Berman says. "It has a long and storied musical history. I'm confident that artists such as Luis Miguel, who is one of the country's most popular artists, can be marketed in the rest of the world."

Sony Denies 'Prejudice' Against George Michael

In the George Michael vs. Sony Music trial in London, Sony took its turn on the stand in High Court last week.

Fred Erlich, senior vice president and general manager for Sony, denied the many accusations piled up against the company by Michael and his attorneys since Michael filed his suit last October, charging Sony with restraint of trade and seeking to break his contract with the label.

One point of contention was Michael's claim that Sony and its label, Columbia, underpromoted Michael's 1990 album, Listen Without Prejudice Vol. 1, on purpose.

Erlich said that any lack of spending to market the album was part of various established company policies.

Michael's attorney said the record company punished the artist for putting out the album without videos, without an image of himself on the cover, and without plans for any interviews. Michael had been quoted saying the album was more "artistic" than "commercial." The attorney compared Listen to Pearl Jam's Vs., which Epic is promoting without videos, Top 40 service, and minimal interviews. For Pearl Jam, the lawyer said, Sony made extra efforts that propelled the album to sales of 950,000 in its first week out.

Although "Praying for Time," Michael's first single from the album, topped the charts in fall of 1990, the artist was angered when Columbia released a second single, "Freedom '90," while "Praying" was still Number One. His attorneys said Columbia preferred "Freedom," pushed it out early and didn't promote the album until "Freedom" was out.

"That is totally incorrect," said Erlich. "It is often the custom and practice of the industry and Columbia to release another single when the first is Number One."

Another witness for the defense, U.K. music industry veteran Tony Morris, said that the album did well in the United States without the artist's cooperation. Morris said Michael did not allow his name to be used on promotional items and failed to appear at a label-sponsored event at the 1991 GAVIN Seminar.

Guns 'N' Tickets

"Wanna pair of Pearl Jam tickets? Hand over your gun."

That, in essence, is the deal being offered by the BASS ticket agency in Concord, Calif.

The Bay Area company is planning an exchange program—two tickets for any local concert—for a gun. BASS is working with officials to put the program in place in San Francisco, Oakland and San Jose.

Doug Levinson, co-owner and general manager of the ticket outlet, said he got the idea from a guns-for-tickets program in New Mexico, where Ticket Master has pulled in 80 guns since early October. The program has the support of a local newspaper and radio station, but is not connected to police, for fear of scaring off some potential participants.

"Every gun that we can get off the streets that could harm a child is worth its weight in gold," said Levinson.

San Francisco has had programs offering $50 for weapons turned into the police; they've netted some 1,700 pistols, rifles and shotguns.

A pair of concert tickets, Levinson said, would be valued at about $50 or $60. Gun owners, he hoped, would be enticed by the chance to acquire often difficult-to-obtain tickets.

"I don't know that $50 in cash has the same (psychological) value as two Pearl Jam tickets," he said.

Meantime, WZPL-FM in Indianapolis offered a variety of incentives for guns during a three-day "Gun Amnesty" campaign last week. The station set up four collection sites and hooked up with Ticketmaster and the Indiana Pacers to offer concert or basketball tickets in exchange for guns.

BY BEN FONG-TORRES

These past two weeks, we've been JFK-O'd by the outpouring of memories, stories, TV shows, and, yes, the latest conspiracy theories surrounding the assassination of John F. Kennedy 30 years ago.

And yet, those of us who were here cannot shake our memories of that day—the Friday before Thanksgiving that year. Whether we were adults, students, or children—or even unborn, destined to hear of JFK from parents, schoolbooks, or the media's constant revisits to Dealey Plaza and to Camelot—we continue to sense the changes wrought on this country and on ourselves by that singular moment.

And so, although the strict anniversary date has passed, GAVIN presents a few personal remembrances from some of our staffers, along with those of recording artists and broadcasters.

Sheila Rene, a Texas native, was 24 and living and working in Dallas. "I was a quarter mile away. I was at the pharmacist, and he was hysterical. 'Oh, my God, the President has been killed.' The whole town shut down for a week. I didn't feel guilty, and Dallas didn't. They told him not to come. He came. It happened, and we were all very sorry. He was the first President I voted for."

Lisa Smith was five years old in late 1963. "I was shopping with my mother at Montessi-Davidson supermarket in Memphis. The store manager made an announcement and everyone instantly stopped. My father worked at a radio station and brought home the teletype stating the president had been killed. The next few days were spent glued to the TV, and all I could think of was how sad it must be before Caroline, who was the same age as me."

Annette M. Lai was four and doesn't remember hearing about the assassination. "But," she says, "I remember watching on black and white TV with my babysitter, Ruth. My parents both worked, and I don't remember them talking about it. It wasn't until I visited the Kennedy Library, around '79 or '80, and saw all the news footage of him, that it impacted me. I wondered what might have been."

Linda Ryan was born a year after the president was murdered. "But," she says, "that's not to say that his life hasn't touched mine, albeit peripherally. Fond remembrances of a young President who gave hope to the nation's youth have, over the years, grown into an archetypal model for Presidential candidates. Who could forget Lloyd Bentsen's debate jab at Dan "You, sir, are no Jack Kennedy" Quayle?"

"The thing is, that model's a distorted one. I find it strange that, after all this time, we recognize his faults and weaknesses, yet continue to keep him on some kind of holier-than-thou pedestal. It just goes to show that you cannot compete with a ghost."

"So, what does JFK mean to me? Not much, I'm afraid. A good story; a worse movie. A contradiction I can't explain or reason through. I guess mine truly is a cynical generation."

David Dalton, our CEO, was a young lad in London when he heard the news. "The first reaction across the Atlantic," he recalls, "was a sense of disbelief, followed later, when Jack Ruby entered the picture, by a feeling of, 'Well, that's America for you.' At the time, it was still possible to stroll innocently along Downing Street and knock on the door of number 10. It was the first and, perhaps, only time we felt we had also lost our leader, for he seemed to be the one person capable of shaping the destiny of the world that you would trust to do it; someone capable of standing up to the Russians, yet who was a nice guy as well as one of the good guys; a charismatic modern leader in tune with the social revolution just starting in Britain. The dream may have been punctured had he lived, but the assassin's bullet has ensured he will rank, probably, second only to the Beatles as the most influential figure of the '60s."

Dave Sholin was in college in San Francisco. "My immediate reaction," he remembers, was "sheer disbelief, which quickly turned into shock. After lunch, our teacher, Mrs. Lindfors, entered the class nearly ten minutes late. The room was silent; her eyes were red, and she confirmed the awful news...On my way home that day I'll always remember turning on my radio and hearing somber classical music in place of the hits on San Francisco's two Top 40 stations."

Beverly Mire recalls: "I'm from just outside Boston, so it wasn't just a matter of my country losing its president; my family lost one of its own. I especially remember the way the air smelled: of fresh apples and dead leaves, and how all around me, I heard this 'white noise'—what you hear when everything's shut out. It was an unending, high-pitched whine."

And this writer was leaving an economics class at S.F. State and walking towards the coffee shop.

Just months before, I'd written and recorded a JFK takeoff, "Hey Jackie" (based on the hit, "Hey Paula"). I was always 'doing' Kennedy, and I was with my buddy, Tom, when we saw people gathered in groups, spreading the news. We thought they were joking at first. In the coffee shop, it was so quiet. Just a portable radio giving the bulletins—and the occasional ring of the cash register.

Celebrities answered the question, "Where were you the moment you heard John F. Kennedy was shot?" for various media.

Billy Joel told Newsweek magazine, "I was in school (8th grade) in English class and an announcement came over the school PA system, and everybody started crying, including the teacher. I remember it being one of the saddest days of my life."

For New Yorker magazine, Tom Peyer and Hart Seely sifted through celebrity memoirs for references to Kennedy's death. In Ronnie Milsap's book, Almost Like a Song, the 47-year-old singer wrote: "I think the disappointing sales had to do with the assassination of President Kennedy the same week my record went on sale. One side of the record was titled 'Total Disaster,' the other was 'It Went to Your Head.'"

Brian Wilson of the Beach Boys recalled: "Mike and I got together and wrote 'The Warmth of the Sun,' a plaintive, melancholy ballad that expressed our sentiments, beginning, 'What good is the dawn that grows into the day? The sunset at night or living this way?'"

The San Francisco Chronicle's Sylvia Rubin rounded up a number of people who were born after the assassination. Tabitha Soren of MTV commented: "My family is Irish-Catholic; my father's name is Jack. I remember in second grade we were required to write a long report on a famous person. I wrote about JFK. In the seventh grade we were asked to come to school dressed as a famous person, and I came as Jackie Bouvier Kennedy."

"On a larger level, whether you are interested in the conspiracy theories or not, it's the greatest murder mystery of all time."

Big Rick Stuart, afternoon drive DJ at Live 105 (KITS-FM), was two years old when Kennedy was killed. "People may hate me for what I think, but I don't care," he said. "I don't care who shot him, the CIA, FBI, the Russians...If I had been alive during the time when he lived, maybe I would care. But he's dead...he wasn't the greatest guy in the world. But I can understand how people could care. If I saw a president get shot on TV, it would make a great impact on my life. But for me, it's like, 'Oh, yeah, another article, another TV show.' It's like 'Where's Waldo?' Like a game."

And rapper MC Spice, who is not yet 30, said: "From what I know and what I've read, he was very influential in the black community. He was a young president and he tried to do a lot. I feel that every time we have something good going on, somebody gets assassinated. We have to learn to come together and stand strong, because that's what he stood for."

The FCC's Parade of Penalties

For shock-jocks and GMs alike, here's the most recent fine schedule from the FCC, the first one issued since 1991. Of special note: The Commission dropped base penalties in 17 categories of rules violations, but maintained its $12,500 fine for broadcasting what it defines as "indecent" material, and it has added base fines for broadcasting hoaxes and fraudulent material.

The schedule shows fines topping off at $20,000, but, as detailed in the footnotes below, these are base fines, and the Commission can go up or down from the base level. Since 1989, the FCC has had authority to levy fines as high as $25,000.

Reed Hundt Gets FCC Chair

Four months after President Clinton nominated him, Reed Hundt, a communications lawyer in Washington, D.C., has been confirmed the new FCC Chairman by the Senate.

By voice vote November 19, Hundt was named to replace Al Sikes, who resigned shortly after Clinton's inauguration. James Quello, 79, had been interim chairman.

Hundt, a member of Clinton's transition team, is an attorney with Latham & Watkins and has served as advisor to the Wireless Cable Association, individual cable operators, and Hughes Communications.

The confirmation follows some back-and-forth between the White House and Sen. Bob Dole, who was angling for an acceptable Republican appointment for the non-Democratic seat on the FCC. Five GOP women are reportedly being considered for nomination, including the reported front-runner, Regina Keeney, a counsel to the Senate Commerce, Science and Transportation committee.

Gavin Names Nashville Rep

The Nashville scene has a new GAVIN presence following the appointment of Lisa D'Addario as the company's sales and marketing representative. She replaces Lisa Austin, who recently moved to a promotion job with RCA.

D'Addario was an account executive for WWYZ, Country 92.6 FM, in Hartford, Conn., and was assistant marketing director for Associates for the Performing Arts at the Oakdale Theatre in Wallingford, Conn., where she was responsible for media buying and liaison between the venue, artists and media.

"GAVIN's commitment to country goes back a long way and we are delighted to find someone who will fit right in with the Nashville community," says GAVIN CEO David Dalton.

Lou Galliani, GAVIN's head of sales and marketing, adds, "Lisa's experience and enthusiasm helped her to stand out from a number of highly-qualified candidates."

A Stern Warning...

From Music Week, our sister publication in London, comes proof that there's shock around the world:

The Radio Authority has issued a stern warning to Virgin 1215 after one of its presenters referred to a woman on air as a "bitch" whose "arse" he would "rip."

DJ Nick Abbot used the words in reference to veteran music writer Robin Katz after she had written an article in The Independent which was critical of the station.

(The Radio Authority ruled) that any similar lapse by the station is "likely to result in regulatory action." A Virgin spokesman says, "(The words) shouldn't have been said on the air but Robin has a bee in her bonnet about the station and has done a lot of things in the past few months to cause us problems."

CAMPAIGN OF THE WEEK

WU-TANG CLAN Enter the Wu-Tang (36 Chambers)

With Enter the Wu-Tang (36 Chambers), Loud/RCA is taking advantage of the Wu-Tang Clan's street following, created by the group itself when they released the single, "Protect Ya Neck," independently.

Since the band is already hot in clubs, on college radio and in New York City's underground scene the label should see significant action on the upcoming second single, "Da Mystery Of Chessboxin'."

LABEL: Loud/RCA

RADIO: Postcard campaign. Five-city snipe (poster) campaign upon release of album.

TV: Group appeared live on Yo! MTV. Also appeared on Box Talk and Uptown Comedy Club. Scheduled to be on BET's Teen Summit on December 4. Video on The Box and BET.

RETAIL: Flyers went out to one-stops. Point of purchase merchandise includes posters, flats, ad mats and minis.

PRINT: Ad schedule running in trade and rap publications including The Source, Rap Sheet, Rap Pages, One Nut Network.

TOUR: Group out on continuous promo tour.

OF SPECIAL INTEREST: The track "Protect Ya Neck" was originally released independently by the band. On the strength of the buzz that track created, Loud/RCA signed the band and re-released the single with "Method Man" as the b-side. Jeep tapes ("bootleg" type) which include three hard-core cuts from the album have been distributed.

Nothing less than Snoop Mania hit the street this week! Snoop Doggy Dogg's debut album Doggystyle made a big splash at a record release party in Marina Del Rey where an invited crowd of 500 turned into 1,500. TV stations sent out copter crews to cover the event and reportedly Wherehouse stores around L.A. sold 10,000 copies in a one hour period. It appears that the two million albums shipped will disappear quickly. Besides that, Dr. Dre's partner graces the cover of the November 29 issue of Newsweek.

Weeks of rumors were confirmed this week as Z100 (WHTZ)-New York announced their search for a new morning personality has finally ended. Chosen to lead the new Morning Zoo: Former EAGLE 106 (WEGX)-Philadelphia and longtime KKBQ-Houston morning star, John Lander. Following a short stint at B100-San Diego, Lander relocated to Philly where he was courted by numerous stations around the country. It's homecoming of sorts for Lander, who was born and raised in nearby Metuchen, N.J. Though his official start date isn't until around the first of the year, Z100 VP/director of operations and programming Steve Kingston says, "Don't be surprised to see and hear Lander in some obscure features and popping up on the station from time to time over the next several weeks."

Many have also been speculating about Evergreen selling off WAPE and WFYV-Jacksonville, Fla. to Carl Hirsch's OmniAmerica Communications. The sale is apparently coming down, to the tune of $19.6 mil.

The next time you talk to Zoo Entertainment's Bill Pfordresher, you can just refer to him as "VP Pfordresher." An "official" release will be out any day now.

It's a return to the upper Midwest for former WNVZ (Z104)-Norfolk night guy/production director, James Baker. Baker will take over as MD and PM driver at KZIO-Duluth, Minn. His last stint in the market was as MD/nights at WTBX-Hibbing, Minn. PD John Michaels feels that James' "great on-air sound and experience with mainstream Top 40 makes him a perfect addition to the staff."

Video Alert! Watch our own Annette M. Lai on CBS's The Bold And The Beautiful. Annette is part of the Forrester Creations' fashion show audience and the episodes will be shown on or around December 9. The theme of the program centered around a tribute to the American Film Institute with special guest star, Carol Channing. Steve Allen and Jayne Meadows were also in the house.

Also on the tube, legendary Los Angeles air personality The Real Don Steele will be featured on the December 2 episode of Wings. Currently doing PM Drive on Oldies outlet KRTH (K-EARTH 101), Steele plays the role of a deejay as the Wings' crew tries to win a contest. In real life, however, Steele will actually get to air a new release on his show. PD Mike Phillips reports the station's first add in well over a decade: Cher With Beavis And Butt-Head singing "I Got You Babe," is pulling lots of phones. The reaction is mixed according to Phillips who says, "Our older listeners are saying, 'Whaaat is that?' and the younger ones love it."

A group calling itself The African American Business Association has filed a petition with the FCC to deny the sale of WPGC-Washington, D.C. to Infinity. Does something tell you Howard Stern's show is included in the group's objections?

In San Francisco, K-101 (KIOI/FM) PD Bob Laurence resigns, effective December 15. APD/MD Angela Perelli is interim PD. Evergreen has purchased the station and is set to take over early next year.

After a year away from being behind the speakers, Shane McIntosh is back in the MD chair at WLZ (HOT 96 LAKES FM)-Cadillac, Mich.

First TV, then a record deal, and now everyone's favorite purple dinosaur comes to radio thanks to syndicator MJI Broadcasting. Can the movie be far off?

Twenty-five years in one market is cause for celebration and that's exactly what's going on in Boston where KISS 108 (WXKS) is in the midst of a month-long blowout for the one and only Dale Dorman. Currently KISS 108's afternoon entertainer, Dorman started in Boston at WRKO in the late '60s and spent a few years at WVBF in the late '70s. A party featuring Taylor Dayne, Hi-Five, Fem 2 Fem, Dino, Robin S., Culture Beat and Lisa Keith will take place next Friday night, December 3.

Get well QUICK wishes to Atlantic VP/promotion Joe Ianello, who was hospitalized in Chicago last week. Late word is Joe is doing just great.

It's not always the biggest budget that wins. Take K106 (KIOC)-Beaumont, Texas PD Mark Landis. He created a K106 Grunge Weekend where listeners registered to win a pair of tickets to see Pearl Jam. Besides the show, which was a three-hour drive from Beaumont, winners got two flannel shirts and stocking caps, and the station pitched in six bucks for dinner. It caused lots of buzz on the street. Oh, and how many tickets were given away? One pair!!

Radio junkies, especially those with a fondness for memories of the golden age of Top 40 in the Windy City, will want to pick up a copy of Chicago's Personality Radio: The WLS Disc Jockeys Of The Early 1960s by Stew Salowitz. Interviews with top personalities of the era are included with illustrations of those WLS' Silver Dollar Surveys.

KDWB-Minneapolis is the latest station to try an on-air music test. Hooks of over 600 songs were played with listeners rating them on a scale of one to five. The station then played the Best 101 Songs based on the results.

Charlee Simons and Brian Suits are the newly-named morning duo at ROCK 104 (KHOP-Modesto, Calif. Simons comes from a stint at OLDIES 104 (KRZQ)-Reno as does Suits, who at one time was morning producer for Kevin & Bean at KROQ-Los Angeles.

Raven Entertainment is the name of new firm that's been started by industry veteran Billy Bass. Raven's multi-faceted operation includes plans to consult management in addition to being a record company/management and publishing concern. They can be reached at (714) 721-8170.

J.J. McKay, who recently resigned as PD of KHKS-Dallas is standing by ready to voice your IDs and promos. Call him at (214) 539-2620.

New PD/morning personality at KIMN-Ft. Collins, Colorado is Pat Kay.

The Clash were one of the most vital and exciting rock and roll bands to come out of the mid-'70s punk explosion. Epic/Legacy is about to release 77 minutes and ten seconds of rare and classic Clash, including 12 songs never before available on CD. Super Black Market Clash starts with the original Black Market Clash "Nu-Disc," originally released in 1980 and features "City Of The Dead," "The Prisoner" and a cover of Booker T. & The MGs' "Time Is Tight." The new CD boasts a host of rarities: Clash dub experiments ("Robber Dub," "Justice Tonight"/"Kick It Over"), extended dance mixes ("The Cool Out," "The Magnificent Dance" "Mustapha Dance"), and cool B-sides such as ("Cool Confusion," "First Night Back In London" "1-2 Crush On You"). There are 21 songs in all, eight of which are otherwise available only on the Epic/Legacy box set Clash On Broadway. For diehard record fans with working turntables, Super Black Market Clash is also being issued in a limited-edition set of three ten-inch vinyl discs. It's the first triple-vinyl Clash release since Sandinistal, and will contain four additional tracks not available on the CD version or on any other official U.S. release...

Paul Westerberg has cancelled dates on his current North American tour due to a severe back strain. Westerberg, whose new Sire/Reprise Records release, 14 Songs features the single "Knockin' On Mine," will resume touring on November 26 in Pittsburgh. The singer/songwriter's injury occurred on stage in Columbia, Missouri in September. Make-up dates include Dallas, San Francisco, Los Angeles, New Orleans and Vancouver. Westerberg has already been scheduled for a December 4 Saturday Night Live on NBC-TV...

Touring in support of their debut album on Miles Copeland's indie, Bachoven Musicwerks, Mozart will open for The Tubes on a mini-tour. The album, produced by Roy Thomas Baker (Queen, Ozzy Osbourne, Journey, The Cars), is a melding of classical and straight-ahead rock and roll. Among the group's many supporters is Gene Simmons of KISS who recently added Mozart to his all-star lineup of multi-platinum artists recording personal renditions of KISS classics for a tribute album that's due in January '94. Mozart's contribution is a version of "Great Expectations..."

Mozart

Bits & Pieces: Cheap Trick has a new contract with Warner Bros., and while they continue to work on the new album with producer Ted Templeman, they're already out on the road testing new songs. Throughout November the band will be playing county fairs and festivals in Florida... Priority Records group Engines of Aggression has confirmed a major market tour of the U.S. opening for Virgin recording artists Curve. This tour will mark the band's first trip east of the Rockies. Their first video, "Illusion Is Real," was released simultaneously with the start of the tour...

SHELLI ANDRANIGIAN

Manager, media relations Hollywood Records Los Angeles

What was the first radio program you remember listening to?

I remember listening to Casey Kasem's countdown show every Sunday morning.

What station do you listen to now?

I flip around. I do love the retro show on Power 106 (KPWR).

What artist, not on Hollywood Records, do you admire the most and why?

En Vogue. I've followed their career and feel that they're real stars.

What was the last record you spent money on, and why?

I think it was a Jody Watley record. I was a big Shalamar fan.

What artist, not on Hollywood Records, would you most like to do publicity for and why?

Tony Toni Tone. I love their music and style.

What is the most memorable concert you've ever attended?

Cameo when they opened for Rick James. Also, The Time when they played on Prince's 1999 tour.

If I owned a radio station I would...

Revive Rap/mixshow station KDAY-Los Angeles.

Warner Bros. Records.

They'll record two new songs for the boxed set with Ted Templeman, their favorite producer throughout the '80s. After the project ends, Pat Simmons is set to make the switch to Country for a Warner album... The Beach Boys are adding a special acoustic portion to their current show. This "unplugged" segment marks the first time the BB will pay acoustically for the public. The material will be taken from their boxed set Good Vibrations: Thirty Years of The Beach Boys, which was recently certified gold...

The Liverpool-based metal band Carcass is refining the limits of the genre on Heartwork, their new album on Earache/Columbia Records that's due out on January 11. With a scalpel in one hand and the hammer of the gods in the other, Carcass slices into ten tracks worth of strum und drang with diabolical precision and blood-chilling abandon. Guitarist Bill Steer and Mike Amott handle the high speed melody lines while bassist/vocalist Jeff Walker and drummer Ken Owen holds down the rhythm. "With the music," Steer has said, "we try to catch the impossible: sophisticated brutality. Carcass is a band full of paradoxes." Perhaps he alludes to the fact that they're all staunch vegetarians, the flip side to their obsession with carnage. It's appropriate that H.R. Giger, the renowned Swiss artist best known for his Academy Award-winning set design for the movie Alien, would permit one of his sublimely disturbing images to grace the album cover of Heartwork. This marks the fifth cover for Giger—this work includes the notorious fold-out poster for the Dead Kennedys' Frankenchrist album in 1986 and art for Emerson, Lake & Palmer, Debbie Harry and Danzig. The Alexander Gallery in New York City is presenting a major Giger retrospective which runs from November 1 through December 23...

SHO-PIECES

BRYAN ADAMS

Since he was 18, Bryan Adams has been managed by Bruce Allen. The two have never had a contract, just a handshake. Bryan says, "Any time I've signed a contract with anyone there's been trouble. A handshake is more honorable."

GARTH BROOKS

Garth Brooks is planning his first-ever European concert tour and the first shows, scheduled for Dublin, have already sold out. All 34,000 tickets for the four shows in April were snapped up in two hours.

KIKI DEE

Kiki Dee played the role of Mrs. Johnstone in the London production of the musical Blood Brothers. In the current Broadway version, Petula Clark has the role.

KENNY LOGGINS

In 1971 Kenny Loggins began recording his first solo album with Jim Messina producing. That project later became known as Loggins & Messina Sittin' In and was released in 1972. Loggins and Messina split in 1975 and Loggins eventually released his first real solo album, Celebrate Me Home, in 1977.

PHIL COLLINS

One of the more controversial songs on Phil Collins' new album, We Wait, We Wonder deals with the violence in Northern Ireland. In a recent interview with London's Capital FM, Collins says he now fears he may have incurred the wrath of I.R.A. terrorists.

TONY BENNETT

An accomplished painter, Tony Bennett will have his work on exhibit next year at the Smithsonian Institution. Also, a complete retrospective of his artwork will be on display at the Butler Museum in Youngstown, Ohio.

ART GARFUNKEL

Art Garfunkel is walking across America. Actually he's spent portions of the past eight years on a cross-country stroll. He says made it from New York City to about Butte, Montana in 20 legs.

SUZY BOGGUSS

WHO AM I?: Cyndi Lauper

the Ringling Brothers mansion in Sarasota, Florida.

MICHAEL JACKSON

Pepsi won't be supporting Michael Jackson concert tours, at least temporarily. Becky Madeira, Pepsi V.P. of public affairs says, "We're not his mother. We're not going to stand by him through thick and thin."

During the past decade in which Michael was a Pepsi spokesman the soft drink increased at least two market share points, an increase worth at least half a billion dollars.

JAMES TAYLOR

James Taylor's current duet with Art Garfunkel on "Crying In The Rain," isn't the first time he's recorded an old Everly Brothers hit. Fifteen years ago Taylor and then-wife Carly Simon recorded "Devoted To You" for her album Boys In The Trees.

JIMMY CLIFF

The singer who wrote and had the original hit with "I Can See Clearly Now" was Houston, Texas native Johnny Nash. Nash had hired a down-and-out songwriter named Bob Marley to write some of his earliest hits like "Guava Jelly" and "Stir It Up."

ELEANOR McEVOY

Besides her career as a solo singer/songwriter, Dublin, Ireland native Eleanor McEvoy, until recently, played violin in the Irish National Symphony.

Inside Top 40

As evidenced by last week's Top 40 column, there are many ways record companies evaluate the role of secondary markets in their overall game plan. Three more promotion executives give their viewpoints this week.

Since few will disagree that each release requires a unique marketing and promotion scheme, it's understandable that PLG's VP of promotion, Joe Riccitelli, believes, "The trick to using small markets to your advantage is finding the right niche records and getting them tested within a reasonable budget." label, Joe admits, "It's hard to justify an expenditure of promotion/marketing dollars in small markets to senior management. Studies we've done show that up to 80% of our album and single sales come from markets in the Top 100."

While Joe is aware that secondaries are important in developing air talent as well as tomorrow's programmers, he says, "Record companies live and die by profit margin, and when large expenditures are required to get small market airplay and then sales don't make up the difference, the red flag goes up." But ask Joe about the importance of small markets in helping train up-and-coming promotion people and he doesn't hesitate to say, "They're invaluable." As one who started his career doing local promotion in the Carolinas, Joe speaks from experience. A key training ground for PLG is Denver, where Joe proudly points to David Barbis, the market's last local rep, who was just named to a similar post in Los Angeles.

When it comes to building relationships, Riccitelli acknowledges that small markets are where he began talking with some of today's key major market PDs and MDs. But he's displeased that some programmers suffer from "amnesia" once they get to larger markets.

Echoing some of Epic senior VP, promotion Barbara Seltzer's feelings on the subject, Columbia's director, Top 40 secondary promotion, Dana Keil, says the lines between and within formats are becoming grey. Dana says that's also true when it comes to market size, "Too much emphasis is placed on it," she says. As for the future, Dana thinks, "A station's potential to become a driving force in their region combined with their contributions from week to week should become the real key factors." And she believes, "When it comes to breaking new artists and exposing new music there's one place where it happens, and that is in small markets."

While sales are certainly important, Dana feels that maximizing airplay for artists shouldn't be overlooked. And in some cases, secondary markets can prove a record's cross-the-board acceptance. By example she cites Haddaway's "What Is Love," a song that developed solely at the secondary level and in turn got the attention of major market programmers.

Though he's a music industry veteran, MCA's senior VP, promotion, Bruce Tenenbaum began his career playing and picking the hits at his college radio station, and later at a nearby small market outlet. This first-hand experience gives Tenenbaum a special appreciation for the joys and the frustrations his 1993 counterparts go through. Bruce recalls how he worked at building and cultivating relationships with those in the record community while at college. He says, "It would be helpful for programmers in the secondaries to do the same rather than operate on a 'If you do this I'll do that' type of arrangement."

Emphasizing that small markets remain a "very important part of the puzzle," Tenenbaum nevertheless says that rising marketing costs have forced him and others to re-evaluate those expenditures. What that has resulted in is what he terms redefining and redirecting" his company's resources so they're used more efficiently. Unfortunately, he says he sees too many small market stations mirroring their big city brethren. And this comes at a time when, Bruce says, "more niche programming is getting major market stations to play releases earlier and earlier." Yet Bruce maintains, "We never have and never will exclude people from the process, but we make our own value judgement on a station's importance based on our experience with them and our knowledge of the market." With nothing less than unwavering support, Bruce says, "It simply would be crazy for us to abandon small markets."

Debuting in the Top 20 doesn't happen often, but it's not too tough when you jump from a 0% HIT FACTOR to 23% in no time at all. Can you say Number One in 1994 (or maybe sooner) for Bryan Adams, Rod Stewart and Sting's "All For Love"?

All indications are that the Gin Blossoms' are on the way to logging their second Top 40 hit, "Found Out About You." Strong on the GO Chart at #18, they take solid gains at WSBG/FM18-14, WZYQ/FM 27-19, WBPM 37-29, WWKF 22-16, WEYQ 34-25, 102 ZOO 27-19, WSEI 30-20,

Cindy Mercer, MD at WSTO-Evansville, Indiana, joins the chorus of programmers who say Gabrielle's "Dreams" took a while to kick in, but now "It's exploded." Top five on the phones, it jumps 13-10. Doing great for Q99FM-Cape Girardeau, Mo. 22-15, WXMK-Brunswick, Ga. 19-14, WRCK-Utica, N.Y. 21-16, KGOT-Anchorage, 30-25, etc., New on: KROC, 104 KRBE, WZYQ/FM,

"Early midday requests and callers are asking about the artist and song," is the story from PD Liz Jordan on Celine Dion's "The Power Of Love" at WQGN-New London, Conn. Liz also reports that women 18-plus are asking for it and she charts it at #32. Nice growth as well at WAPE 26-21, WDDJ 32-17, KHOK 22-17, 98.9 KISS 22-18, WNKO 25-20, KAGO/FM 24-21, KWWV 29-25 and ZFUN 33-24.

Mark Feather and Alex Valentine take Babyface's "Never Keeping Secrets" Top 20 at KISF-Kansas City with a 22-18 move. Also hot at 92Q 14-7, B96 5-3, KSTN 18-9, WPGC 11-9, etc. Holds down the Number One spot for WIOQ-Philadelphia for another week. Fourteen ADDs including: ISLE 95, 98PXY, KISS 108, WJMN, KTRS, SWEET 98, WDBR, WEYQ, POWER 106, KGOT and KPLZ.

Xscape's "Understanding" is huge at Q96-Imperial Valley, Calif., where PD Dan Watson lists it 20-14 and is reporting around-the-clock rotation and top three album sales. On fire at KDON-Monterey/Salinas, racing ahead 34-22 after three weeks on the playlist. Other big gains at HOT 97 11-9 (46 plays), HOT 102 13-8, KMEL 9-5, MIX 93.5 16-12, KUBE 15-9, WPGC 30-21, HOT 97.7 29-20 and POWER 106 17-14.

SCHOOLLY D Another Sign (Ruffhouse/Columbia)

This track sees the OG storyteller back in full effect. Schoolly has dug down deep, unearthing his old Philly roots, to roll out with some o' that smooth-n-rich pimplistic stylee (like he used to kick way back in those "Saturday Nite" days). Lite metallic-tinged funk guitar pulls you into this tight, slinky jam and the sung chorus conjures up images of vintage Funkadelic madness. As always, Schoolly lets loose with the satin style, words oozing outta his mouth in smooth succession. DJ Eric juices the track with plenty of scratch and the addition of live drums & keyboards further enhances the smoky vibe. Gritty, down-n-dirty, lounge club blues-funk at its best. The B-side offers up the "Rollin' In My '64" mix, which ditches the guitar in favor of low-bottomed bass and snatches of sampled horns, creating a laid-back gangsta lean vibe. Contact Evan or Jonas at (215) 574-1742.

U.M.C.'S Time To Set It Straight (Wild Pitch/ERG)

Musically, this cut is a standard bring-the-ruckus, fist waving jammie, but it is pushed beyond the edge of mediocrity by Haas G and Kool Kin's exceptional lyrical flow. The duo's pure, unadulterated energy carries the track up, up and away. Over a bobbing bassline and a catchy organ riff, the duo drop multi-lingual lyrics flippin' between English, Spanish and a tad bit of French. The cut is given an additional boost by the turntable wiki-wiki and a tight snare rhythm track. For the flipside, the U.M.C.'s drop a thick EPMDesque track fulluv below the belt, guttural bass and twisted twang guitar. This jam is bumpin'! The duo are joined by the ill Demonique Clique, consisting of guest rappers Goldrush, Rux and 3-2-1. The IDC crew dish out extra spicy lyrical flavors, causing this U.M.C.'s concoction to boil over with the tasty styles. Contact Marc Genova at (212) 594-5050 or Marcus Morton at (212) 492-1279.

NEFERTITI

FROM: Born in Chicago, raised in Los Angeles

LABEL: Mercury

PROMOTION CONTACTS: Garnett March and Brian Samson

LATEST RELEASE: "Miss Amutha Nature"

FORTHCOMING ALBUM: L.I.F.E. (Living In Fear of Extinction)

LITTLE-KNOWN FACT:

Nefertiti accepted her record deal with Mercury Records with the stipulation that they apply $50,000 of her deal toward tuition at the college of her choice.

SHE SAYS: "I believe that rappers are the next politicians. If I were to call my fellow rappers now, I could get a riot going on in Los Angeles quicker than they can calm one down. So basically we're running shit already. We as rappers need to be connected; we're the power. The kids are listening to us. I want to bring that power to the forefront, making it known and understood by society."

SHE ALSO SAYS: "...I was raised within the Nation Of Islam. I didn't have to figure out that I was a queen, I just always knew. My preception is totally a different thing. It's not philosophical, it's science. Everything I say, I stand behind. I only speak when spoken to and only if it's correct and accurate."

TOUR DETAILS: Currently on a national promotion tour.

PRINCE

Nothing Compares 2 U (Paisley Park/Warner Bros.)

The former Prince felt obligated to give his interpretation of the song he originally wrote for his group The Family, and was a hit for Sinéad O'Connor in 1988. Recorded at a private party at Paisley Park in 1992, the former Prince, accompanied by Rosie Gaines, delivers a more bluesy rendition than O'Connor. Added at WLOU, WKYS, WBLX, WZAK, OC104, KFXZ, WTLZ, KXZZ.

VERTICAL HOLD
Matter Of Time (A&M)

This is the title track from this versatile trio's debut album. Angie B. Stone's sultry vocals are the added touch that make this track's good old R&B sound better.

BOYZ II MEN

Let It Snow (Motown)

Next stop, a winter wonderland and yuletide cheer. Not to be confused with the Christmas standard, this "Let It Snow" is an original piece co-written by Wanya Morris and Brian McKnight (producer), and the first release from BIIM's Christmas Interpretations CD. Debuted in Up & Coming this week.

MARY J. BLIGE

You Don't Have To Worry (Uptown/MCA)

Originally from the Who's The Man Soundtrack, this single gets a well-deserved chance to stand on its own. Produced by DJ Eddie F from Untouchables Entertainment, this track sparkles like pure silver in the rough, and Mary J's vocals are the polish. Also be sure to treat your listeners to the remix compliments of Sean "Puffy" Combs and Tony Dofat.

—ROD EDWARDS

ERIC GABLE

Process Of Elimination (Epic)

This debut single from Eric Gable's album of the same title has "hit potential" written all over it. Combining the funky sounds of the smokin' track along with Gable's outstanding vocals, the song is a definite audience pleaser. If this is any indication of what the album sounds like, you might as well start calling for advance copies for immediate airplay.

—ROD EDWARDS

MC LYTE

I Go On (First Priority/Atlantic)

Back with the follow-up to the smash "Roughneck," Lyte slows the tempo down just a bit, but still manages to kick the dope lyrics. With quite a bit of airplay on most Rap shows, this one has dual format appeal, and should also do well for urban programmers. Also, if you haven't seen the video, make an effort to check it out since it's one of the most creative this year.

Jazz/Adult Alternative New Releases

HUMBERTO RAMIREZ
ASPECTS (TROPIJAZZ/SONY)

Some of today's top Latin jazz musicians congregated on this smooth new release by trumpet player/arranger/producer Humberto Ramirez. Aspects has many of the musical blends present on many Salsa productions, most notably seamless note-for-note duets between trumpet with flute or sax backed with a steady rhythm bed of congas, bongos and timbales. But on tracks like "El Ministro" and "Rumbero Siempre," the chords and solos are decidedly molded into a hardened jazz texture. Musicians like Eddie Gomez, Justo Almario, Giovanni Hidalgo and Tito Puente—all GAVIN jazz chartbusters in their own right—contribute sturdy support. As an Afro-Cuban jazz stylist, Ramirez is a bit more tempered than, say, Arturo Sandoval, but don't write him off when it's time to climb the octaves necessary to polish off some fiery solos. Pianist Luis Marin is Aspect's musical weathervane. If he digs into a support role, chances are it's a breezy A<sup>2</sup> groove thing. A<sup>2</sup> stations can gravitate toward the more dreamy selections like "Amanda" or the opening title cut. If Marin steps out a bit more, as on "Camino Azul," chances are Ramirez and band are headed toward some hoppin' trade-offs.

CEDAR WALTON
AS LONG AS THERE'S MUSIC
(MUSE)

Great musicians, like great music, seem to have a timeless quality. A founding father of the Timeless All-Stars and Eastern Rebellion, and with more than 30 years of studio time under his belt as both sideman and leader, Cedar's constant employment and proliferation attests to his musical agelessness. His latest recording, As Long As There's Music, on Muse, is a solid, swingin' set of eight melodic numbers, half from Cedar's pen. This 1990 recording finds long-time allies David Williams and Billy Higgins as nimble and sympathetic as ever, dark-toned trumpeter Terence Blanchard is at his melancholied best; and we find altoist Jesse Davis thoroughly steeped in the canon of Adderley. But it's Cedar who sets the vibe for this one-day gig at Rudy's. Replacing flashy bravura with a combination of tasteful understatement, soft-spoken bop runs, lush comping, and enlightened interplay, this disc is mature and interesting. The Morgan-esque church groove of C.W.'s "I'm Not So Sure," his 12-bar blowing vehicle "Newest Blues," the perpetual groove of his "Voices Deep Within," and the brooding of "The Meaning Of The Blues," are a few of the standout selections. —JASON OLAINÉ

GENE HARRIS QUARTET A LITTLE PIECE OF HEAVEN (CONCORD JAZZ)

Gene Harris' latest, A Little Piece of Heaven, is aptly titled, because Gene's got something that just ain't human. He's the master of inducing unconscious head-bobbing in his audience; foot-tapping is infectious when the band breaks it down for one of Gene's patented soulful piannissimo things. The setting of this live date on Concord was the Ste. Chapelle Winery in Idaho, a spot where Harris and company have been performing for the locals for 12 years. The crowd on this day, like at all Harris family gatherings, was intimate but lively. Gene's credo is to make people happy, a task that is made infinitely easier when the band is happy. One look at this Cheshire Cat and his litter (these cats are constantly smiling and nodding to each other on the bandstand) and one listen to this recording will convince you that, yes, they really are happy. From the shuffling opener of "Blues In Baxter's Pad" to the final bars of "Ode To Billy Joe," Gene gracefully glides over gospel grooves and playfully romps through the blues. With Ron Eschete on guitar, Luther Hughes on bass and Paul Humphrey on drums, A Little Piece Of Heaven is sure to put you in a good mood. That's what it's all about —JASON OLAINÉ

ARTIST PROFILE

WARREN HILL

FROM: Toronto

LATEST RELEASE:
Devotion

LABEL: RCA

WARREN HILL TALKS ABOUT: TIGHT PLAYLISTS: "Naturally, I'm faced with major competition from other sax players, but I don't consciously try to do something different to separate myself. Being an A/C crossover artist, as opposed to Urban, you know there's competition when you have to wait for Kenny G or Dave Koz to finish what they're doing."

FILM SOUNDTRACKS: "My music lends itself well to films, but I'm not such a prolific composer that I could go in and score an entire movie. I'd like to collaborate on a score one day soon, but right now it's too hard for me to have a recording career and do film scores."

FUTURE PLANS: "I'll be headlining on the club circuit through the Mid-west, Florida, back to the West Coast until the holidays. Then I'll concentrate on touring through the summer, do scattered writing and hopefully be back into the studio by next September."

INFLUENCES: Cannonball, Coltrane, Bird, David Sanborn, Spyro Gyra and Grover

SANTI DEBRIANO PANAMANIACS (FREE LANCE)

Oh boy, this is bad! I mean, I've seen this bassist gig and he's got chops to burn. I know he's played with everyone in the Yellow Pages and he's on the road more than Goodyear, but his disc is deep. Hard-edged jamming, lush, aural paintings, fiery syncopation, inventive, subtle interplay, honest introspection, and inspired blowing puts this hard-to-find Free Lance offering into the "most listened to" pile. The classically-trained, thirtysomething Debriano, who has two previous discs as a leader and numerous sideman jobs, contributes six of the eight cuts on Panamaniacs. Surrounded by his killer working band—tenor saxist David Sanchez, pianist David Kikoski, Tommy Campbell on drums, and percussionist Mino Cinelu—Debriano gives the musicians plenty of freedom within a structured setting, plays his bass with beauty and conviction without dominating, and writes with a complexity that somehow transcends needing a musical intellect. What Panamaniacs does is make you feel the music in a way that only bands that believe in the quality of their music can do. Some favorites include the opening romp "Sensacion," the melodic "Tio," the burnin' "Xin Xin Swing," Herbie Hancock's refreshing "Mimosa," the emotive "Broken Wing," the dark calypso "Darrien" with its arco solo, the beautifully searching "Baladana," and the peaceful ride "Como Fue." If you can find this tasty offering, I highly recommend it.

JOHN MCLAUGHLIN Plays BILL EVANS TIME REMEMBERED (VERVE/POLYGRAM)

John McLaughlin accomplished two extraordinary things while piecing together this Bill Evans concept album. The first was using the guitar to interpret a piano master which McLaughlin did by assembling a six acoustic guitar orchestra (accompanied by one of his students on bass) that naturally interpreted the counter melody characteristics of Evans' compositions. It's quite entertaining to hear certain guitarists relegated to left- and right-hand aspects of Evans' rhythm and melody. Second, McLaughlin took an almost classical approach in reflecting the romance of a Evans' compositions. The results are often sweeping, resulting in dance-like interpretations like "Waltz For Debby." Sonically, Time Remembered has little in common with a Bill Evans Trio recording, which makes it all the more extraordinary.

RAISING MONEY RAISES SPIRITS

BY NATALIE DUITSMAN

When Dave Allyn, program director at KDLK/KLKE-Del Rio, Texas, was in the military at Laughlin Air Force Base, in the mid-'80s, he got involved in Project Nino, a non-profit organization which provides underprivileged children in Del Rio and Ciudad Acuna, Mexico a Christmas dinner and presents, affording them a Christmas they would not otherwise have.

"One Christmas morning I was there to help hand out toys to the kids," says Allyn. "It's unbelievable—it brings tears to your eyes to see those kids' faces light up."

The experience was so powerful that Allyn, who joined KDLK/KLKE in 1983 and became program director in 1987, now has his stations involved in the project, creating a special holiday promotion for his Top 40/Country combo. This year the stations will host a rock auction with all proceeds going to Project Nino.

Allyn sent letters soliciting items to the record labels, as well as the San Antonio Spurs and the Dallas Cowboys, whose games are carried on KDLK/KLKE. "We've already received an autographed t-shirt from Ricky Van Shelton, an autographed tour cap from Colin Raye and an autographed CD from Billy Ray Cyrus." Allyn reports, "Practically everybody I've talked to has said they're going to do their best to get us whatever they can."

The event is planned for December 18 at the Plaza Del Sol Mall in Del Rio, which is 150 miles west of San Antonio, with a county population of 50,000. The day kicks off with a silent auction. For the larger items, Allyn is working to get a local auctioneer to stage a live auction. The station announcers will donate their time for the Saturday event, which will be broadcast live.

Project Nino was founded by Ruben "Pollo" Barragan, who 16 years ago raised $21 to give Christmas presents to four children. Last year, Barragan was able to raise enough money to provide presents for 2,700 children, and a Christmas dinner with their families.

There have been private local donations from the community, and support from the Laughlin Air Force Base, but this is the first time radio has been involved.

Families apply to Project Nino and request the toys their children have been asking for. The organization reviews the applications and determines which families are eligible.

"On Christmas morning the families meet at 6 a.m. at Brown Plaza in old Del Rio, Texas," says Allyn who's been a volunteer with the project since Christmas of 1987. "Anywhere from two to three thousand children and families start lining up." The children sit on Santa Claus' lap and receive the toy they asked for. After the toys are handed out, the families, which includes approximately 3,500 people sit down to a Mexican Christmas dinner provided by Project Nino.

Allyn's stations produce benefits around the year. "We've done free live remotes for 4H programs and any benefits that help the community," he says. "At Easter we get involved in the easter egg hunt at the local mall. We help hide eggs and one of our announcers dresses up as the Easter bunny," he says. "Some of the eggs are plastic, and we put certificates in them for cassettes and CDs."

But for now, he's getting ready for Christmas—for himself and a few thousand friends.

FROM: St. Paul, MN

CHRIS DANIELS TALKS ABOUT: His Decade Of Fun: "We'll be celebrating our tenth year together in 1994. We still have four original members. We spent a lot of time touring Europe. We're just darn huge in all the Benelux countries, Germany, Switzerland, Italy and Denmark."

HIS SLIDE GUITAR INFLUENCES. "Obviously Lowell George. Sonny Landreth plays on the record. Bonnie Raitt and Ry Cooder, of course. David Bromberg was kind enough to show the best use for an 11/32 socket wrench."

BEING HOOKED ON HORNS: "A lot of people compare us to Little Feat with horns. Hey, that's okay. Bill Payne played on seven tracks. That's a wonderful comparison as opposed to being compared to the Blues Brothers and Tower Of Power. We have fun putting Fishbone back to back with Benny Goodman."

WORDS: "Lyrically, I've always been in love with Randy Newman and Mac McAnally. I love strange, outside lyrics."

VISUALS: "This band is so visual with the horn section doing crazy moves. It's a little like the Three Stooges meet Stax/Volt."

ONE DOVE Morning Dove White (FFRR)

A most impressive effort! Of all the Alternative bands toying with progressive adult textures (Cocteau Twins, Dead Can Dance and Not Drowning, Waving come to mind), One Dove is the most adventurously melodic. Similar in execution to Scotland's Primal Scream, One Dove's music drifts into extremely sensual and dreamy territory, roaring with an expansive opening

RECORD TO WATCH

COWBOY JUNKIES Pale Sun, Crescent Moon (RCA)

Look for an impressive debut next week as the Cowboy Junkies finally have a home radio format that appreciates their art.

five-track front line, "Fallen," "White Love," "Breakdown," "There Goes The Cure" (our fave) and "Sirens," that explores the outer boundaries of "full frequency range recording." One Dove is really neither dance nor ambient. Rather, the computer programs are both futuristic and Gothic. The two special radio mixes tacked onto the end of the disc have neither the depth nor the pioneering spirit of the original tracks. We found ourselves sticking to the original contexts, which are stunning enough untouched.

THE SAMPLES

The Last Drag (W.A.R.)

The reason I'm late on this one is there was a mailing snafu. Other than that, The Samples are a textbook case of independent perseverance. It's hard to imagine any major label association that would improve on a song like "Everytime," a beautifully recorded gem. On quite a few of the tracks, The Samples still have a scary resemblance to The Police. However, the writing styles are totally different. Few major label bands are as ingenious when it comes to packaging and distributing their catalogue. No doubt the reason for this band's resilience is their talent for being melodic and clever.

DAVID BROZA
Watching The World EP
(November)

"Watching The World" is sonically closer to the bump and grind of David Broza's stage act, giving the classical guitar more dramatic prominence. Like "Time Of Trains," the song is warm and mature. Following the A3 cardinal rule, Broza has released a follow-up air-play disc with additional goodies that include an alternative take of "Blood For Blood" followed by a live acoustic rendition cut at WXPN and produced by Bruce Ranes of World Cafe. While Time Of Trains will undoubtedly end up on my year end best-of list, this special EP is a strong rival recording.

BRUCE COCKBURN
Christmas (Columbia)

I'll admit it. Round Christmas time I can be a bit of a humbug, but if every Christmas carol had the appeal of "Mary Had A Baby," I could become the holiday season's biggest proponent. Bruce Cockburn chases the retail demons of Christmas right off the calendar page with his brand of festive performance. Consider this one a gift, a new standard for holiday caroling.

CHRISTINE LAVIN
Live At The Cactus Cafe (Philo)

Christine Lavin is a bit of an Erma Bombeck with an acoustic guitar, but on Live At The Cactus Cafe, it's easy to see what the fuss is about regarding her live rapport with a crowd. This was recorded on campus at University of Texas, and Christine forgot to tell the crowd the tape was rolling. The result is an entertaining dialogue for those who feel comfortable with real "wooden" American folk.

OMAR & THE HOWLERS
Courts Of Lulu (Bullseye Blues/Rounder)

Just across town, while Christine Lavin was wowing the crowd with folk, Omar & The Howlers were ushering in another last call. The opening refrain of "Rose Tattoo," "Old enough to know/too young to drink champagne" pretty much sets the pace. Omar, who hails from McComb, Mississippi, has been Austin's leading howler for over a decade. He's been juking since the age of eight, and Courts Of Lulu is a mental flashback back to Beartown, where Omar first heard the blues in a "Wild At Heart-ish" motel court. You guessed it, Courts Of Lulu.

Watching the World

DAVID BROZA

*FROM THE ALBUM, TIME OF TRAINS

"Our listeners have responded to the passion of David Broza. He's consistently a Top 5 request item."
- Kim Alexander • WXPN

"David Broza captured the attention of our adult audience immediately. Sales are Top 10 at Elkland and stores call repeatedly with customers singing "Time of Trains" looking for more information."
- Lauren Macleash • WKOC

"Can't keep Time Of Trains in the store. Call to reserve a copy. Great record."

Inside A/C

Doing the old labelmate switch, Mariah Carey and Michael Bolton swap the number one and two ranks this week. Michael still lags behind Mariah in Heavy rotation reports, but leads in total stations and Mediums.

Janet Jackson's "Again" pops into the top ten with 90 of its 168 players reporting Heavy rotation. Doing again in a Heavy way are: B100, WBMX, WKYE, WLEV, KBIG, KSSK/FM, KEY1, K99 etc.

Last week's HOT continues to rip up the chart. Linda Ronstadt's "Heartbeats Accelerating" moves #15 to #9 with 11 ADDs to bring its airplay roster to 180 A/C stations, including KBOI, WBDX, KFOR, WQLH, WTPI, WSVV and WHLM.

Elton & Kiki's Bing & Grace send-up, "True Love," is about to enter the top ten. With 183 stations and 14 ADDs, it's likely to clear its 200th station at about the same time it gets a single digit ranking. New for WSPT, KBIG, KFQD, WGMG and WEAL etc.

The occasional crunch of worth records can sometimes best be seen when excellent records like Lauren Christie's "Steep" gathers 22 ADDs over two weeks and can only improve one rank, #14-#13.

This issue's HOT A/C single is Celine Dion's "Power Of Love." Its two-week rank increase from Chartbound to #19 beats everything. In the past two weeks it has 64 ADDs and its Hit Factor has climbed from 18% to 57%. New to the power of Celine are KMXV, KBIG, KXYQ, WQTU, WLMX, WBDX and JOY 99.

Records which receive the greatest increase in Hit Factor

The talk of the format is "All For Love," the Adams, Stewart and Sting (above) single from the film Three Musketeers. It opens at a 42% Hit Factor while once again copping #1 Most Added with 63 new. That means 170 of a possible 235 stations are already on it.

Misters Garfunkel and Taylor move handsomely from #37 to #29 on this week's chart. Their re-do of Phil & Don's "Crying In The Rain" is already on over 10 A/C stations and 55% of the stations on it before this week are already committed to quality rotations including K103, WSUL, WAHR, WFRO, WSKY, WMT/FM, KTID, WHAI, KRNO and WOBB.

A big week for Toni Braxton's (right) new single, "Breathe Again." A nice bump in Hit Factor from 25% to 41% comes with 28 more ADDs as well. The newest include KEYI, KMXV, WMBX, WLDR, WKYE, JOY 99, WTSX and KFMO.

Last week's Record To Watch, Aimee Mann's "Stupid Thing," picked up a strong 17 ADDs this week. Among the newest Mann-handlers are KXSX, KBMG, WCKQ, KBCQ, KKOR, KCMT and KIIK. Should pull a solid Chartbound this coming week.

The current Record To Watch is the Cranberries' "Linger." Even before becoming a Record To Watch this week, it picked up 15% in Hit Factor, and only four records in the entire format had better increases.

SQUEEZE

"Loving You Tonight" (A&amp;M)

Songmeisters Difford and Tilbrook have a real shot at impacting today's A/C radio with this super cool and timeless gem from their album Some Fantastic Place. Have they changed, or have we? That sounds like Paul Carrack on lead vocals.

k.d. lang
"Just Keep Moving"
(Sire/Warner Bros.)

This remixed album version of the track featured on k.d.'s soundtrack to the film Even Cowgirls Get The Blues, is full of its funky self. Get down k.d.!!

LISA KEITH
"I'm In Love" (A&M)

This thing swings as only hits do. Ms. Keith's introduction to radio as a solo was so long and successful that this follow-up has been on a back burner for months waiting for airplay to peter out on her debut, "Better Than You."

BOY GEORGE
"Everything I Own" (Virgin)

If UB40 can reggae-up the standards, then Georgie Boy can too. David Gates' ballad is given the mighty beat as backing to a solid Boy vocal.

CARNIE and WENDY WILSON

"Hey, Santa" (SBK/ERG)

Nothing like a little sibling harmony for the holidays. This should freshen up that otherwise tired Christmas library. It's safe to assume that there's plenty of curiosity as to what the Wilson sisters would sound like without Chynna. Well, here we are.

HARRY CONNICK, JR.
"When My Heart Finds Christmas" (Columbia)

Mr. C celebrates the holidays with an fresh, self-written Hallmark card for everyone who gets into the spirit of the season.

A PLAINTIVE CRY FROM A TOP 40 PD

Here is a letter from a frustrated PD/MD from the Southwestern United States who wishes to remain anonymous:

"Every day I wake up and think maybe it was all a bad dream... 'Hot Country.' Please somebody, tell me it ain't so. Is Top 40 really losing listeners to this format? What are the reasons? Could it be that people are tired of all the dance songs, and rap disguised as dance songs? Could it be that so many jocks have been reduced to reading liners and promos? Passive radio has usually been thought of as A/C radio...not Top 40.

"Could it be that too many stations place too much importance on what the trades say is hot? I think too many times small and medium market stations try to justify playing that new rap or dance song because it is doing so well at large market stations. This is where 'hot country' seems to come into the picture: It's nice and safe...not only for the listener, but for the advertiser also. 'Hot Country' is safe radio at its best (or worst, depending on how you look at it). The retail store that has used our station exclusively for years is now on the Country station down the road.

"One of the things that amazes

"Could it be that too many stations place too much importance on what the trades say is hot?"

me most is how fast people in the business are willing to just write Top 40 out of the picture. How many stations have changed from Top 40 to Country in the past year? Why are people giving up so easily on Top 40? We've been through this before. Does anybody remember the late '70s?

" 'Hot Country' will fade and die. I'm just not sure when. You can't help but get a good laugh at the oldies these 'Hot country' stations are playing. And you hear the same 15 'Hot Country' artists over and over again. It goes something like this: Garth Brooks, then the Eagles, then Roy Orbison singing 'You Got It,' followed by Reba McEntire. C'mon, give me a break!

"I would also like to give some of the blame for this to TV. Every time you turn on the TV all you hear is how country is now king. Entertainment Tonight, Inside Edition, Hard Copy, and A Current Affair have run stories about how 'Hot country' is the new Top 40. What are radio executives supposed to think when everywhere they turn, it's country, country, and more country? I live radio and music, and sometimes even I wonder.

"I do feel Top 40 is getting stronger. Some of the excitement is coming back. But a lot of people have left the format. I wonder if things will ever be the same. I grew up with fun Top 40. The jocks were fun, the songs were fun, and it was not the kind of radio my parents listened to. They couldn't stand it. Things are so different now. I will end with this: Money is a sure nice thing to have, but sometimes I feel it takes more away from us than we will ever know."

Since I received this letter, several more Top 40 stations have either tilted toward Hot A/C (is this really a format?) or have left the format altogether, in search of the elusive adult demo. My Top 40 experience, years ago, suggests that doing a broad-based Top 40 right is a way to get adults as well as teens; if you're doing a format that doesn't attract teens, it's not Top 40.

Now it's your turn. Whether you're in Top 40, Country or some other format, maybe you'd like to respond? Write or fax me c/o GAVIN. ●

GEORGE STRAIT
"I'd Like To Have That One Back"

The second single from Easy Come, Easy Go is an easy rollin' ballad, perfect for Strait. Though many have copied his effortless delivery and inspired phrasing, no one can top the original.

SUZY BOGGUSS
"Hey Cinderella" (Liberty)

Wow. What a killer song. Suzy wrote this modern day fable with Matraca Berg and Gary Harrison, and it has to be the best song she's ever written. The lyrics capture the '90s woman's dilemma—caught between a fairy tale and the real world.

"No Doubt About It" (Atlantic)

You all know by now that Neal is an amazing entertainer; he can finally back it up with a hit song. This John Scott Sherrill/Steve Seskin composition is a wonderful love song with great metaphors and a very cool groove.

JOHN BRANNEN
"Lonesome Side Of Midnight"
(Mercury)

Brannen's edgy, just-barely-reigned-in vocals never fail to make us take notice. A wacky cross between Jason D. Williams and Jim Lauderdale, there is no doubt that there is nothing else like him on the radio.

CONWAY TWITTY
"Don't It Make You Lonely" (MCA)

It's clear that Conway's final recorded project, Final Touches, is some of the freshest work he'd done in awhile. "Don't It Make You Lonely," written by Jackson Leap, has a nice, subtle feel, and Conway sounds relaxed and in charge.

FROM: Kentucky

AGE: 28

LABEL: Atlantic

PROMOTION VP: Bryan Switzer

CURRENT SINGLE: "I Swear"

MUSICAL BEGINNINGS: John Michael's singer/guitarist father had a band; his mother played the drums and John Michael, his older brother Eddy and his baby sister would perform together every weekend.

PET PROJECT: John Michael, who dropped out of high school in 12th grade, recently got his General Equivalency diploma. He feels so strongly about the value of getting his GED that he's agreed to do commercials for a Kentucky television network encouraging others to complete their education.

HE SAYS: "Looking good is not going to help sell a record that is bad. I know I've been referred to as one of Country music's 'hunks.' But I'm not depending on that—I want my fans to be able to say that I'm a legitimate Country music singer. That's what I want."

IT'S SAID: "Montgomery turns in a first-rate collection of traditional jukebox fare, and he sings it like he knows he's going to be the next guy to own Nashville. Watch Montgomery become a mega-star."

HOW

Frank Sinatra

HOOKED UP WITH CAPITOL

RECORDS, A GALAXY OF STARS

AND PLENTY OF HIGH TECH

A self-described saloon singer has scored the comeback of the decade. Frank Sinatra, at 77 years old, has returned to the pop charts with Duets, his first album in nearly a decade.

At a time in life when nearly everyone his age is content with retirement, the Chairman of the Board signed a new record contract with Capitol Records, a label with whom he'd had many of his greatest musical moments thirty and forty years.

Sinatra, who began his recording career with Harry James and his Orchestra in 1939, soon experienced the kind of popularity reserved in later years for the likes of Michael Jackson and The Beatles. From his modest beginnings as a $75 a week singer for James and, later, Tommy Dorsey, Sinatra's concert and recording career flourished throughout the '40s, when he became the first pop music star to incite bobby soxer fan frenzy where ever he performed.

In 1953, at about the time he was cast in the Oscar-winning role of Maggio in the film From Here To Eternity, Sinatra signed with Capitol Records. During the next nine years he made 17 of his most important albums, with producer/arrangers like Nelson Riddle, Billy May and Gordon Jenkins.

In the early '60s Sinatra became the first major entertainer to own his record company when he formed Reprise Records. Within three years, Sinatra would sell it to Warner Bros., but he continued to record for Reprise for more than 20 years and capped his Warner Bros. relationship with L.A. Is My Lady recorded with Quincy Jones in 1984. And that was it, as far as studio work was concerned.

Since then, Sinatra has concentrated on live performances including a recent concert in Rio de Janeiro that drew 175,000 people. In 1993 he had more than 70 scheduled concerts around the world.

The Sinatra legend as a live performer probably still eclipses his status as a recording artist. For two decades the most consistently difficult ticket to get was one to a Sinatra show. Elvis Presley, at his peak in Las Vegas, provided the only serious challenge to his dominance.

A year ago, Sinatra met with Charles Koppelman, newly-installed Chairman of the Board and CEO of EMI Records Group, North America (Capitol Records' parent company). They agreed to rekindle the Capitol/Sinatra association. For such a momentous event as his return to Capitol, it was agreed that he needed to make a statement. The company came up with two ideas: either a live album or a volume of duets hooking Sinatra up with some of today's best singers. Sinatra OK'd the idea. For years, as it turned out, he and his wife Barbara had the duets idea in mind for a future album, and Koppelman and his senior A&R people like Don Rubin and producer Phil Ramone were thinking along the same lines.

In July of this year Sinatra entered Studio A at the Capitol Tower in Hollywood and began recording. The list included 20 of the 50 songs in his current concert repertory. The arrangements were, for the most part, the originals, owing in large part to the genius of Don Costa and the late Nelson Riddle. Directing the sessions was Ramone, a man whose efforts as a producer have resulted in more than 250 million unit sales for the likes of Billy Joel, Barbra Streisand and Paul McCartney. Ramone had served on the production team with Quincy Jones for Sinatra's last album, L.A. Is My Lady. Sinatra's in-concert production manager for the past 11 years was Hank Cattaneo, Ramone's c-producer for Duets.

Patrick Williams served as musical director and conductor of a 54-piece orchestra. Williams' compositions and arrangements have distinguished scores of television and film soundtracks.

Most of the basic tracks and Sinatra's vocals were done in three nights. Sinatra works fast—a lot faster than rock and rollers. "Producing Sinatra is the ultimate gig," says Ramone, "because you know he's a perfectionist. The name of the game is to get it done as quickly as possible, because that's the way he works."

Greg Field, a young drummer who'd toured with Sinatra but had never worked with him in a studio recalls the first night, "We took our first pass at a song and I'm completely expecting to do another er one, figuring out how I'm gonna change this and alter that. Then all of a sudden I hear him say, "Next tune."

Next came the guest singers. There were never plans for the invited singers to be in the same studio with Sinatra. As Don Rubin, who serves as executive co-producer puts it, "We had a pre-production meeting where we all had a wish list and presented it to Frank and he was very accommodating and felt very good about the ideas we had. There were several people we didn't have on our list that he wanted, but by the end of the day we had a list we could all get behind and start talking to. It was actually Frank's idea to get Bono."

The Bono/U2/Sinatra connection needs a little explaining. Rubin does the honors, "It goes back to about the time U2 had released Joshua Tree and they were in the Vegas area, and U2 and Bono came to see Sinatra at the Desert Inn." Rubin remembers Sinatra telling the story of how he first met the band backstage after a show. "The band had just been on the cover of Time magazine and had the number one album Sinatra jokingly says, 'Fellas, you got the number one album, you're on the cover of Time magazine. Do ya think you could spend a little bit more money on your wardrobe?'"

There were no plans to pay any of the invited singers for their work. But in exchange for their services, each artist has the right to include his or her contribution on one of their own albums. The challenge to producer Ramone and the artists was to make each performance seamless, or at least synchronistic.

The first to record his takes was Luther Vandross. Apparently his performance on Rodgers and Hart's "The Lady Is A Tramp" was to be critical to the project. According to the New York Times, "If the duet worked, the project would be home free. The team members held their breath when playing the finished duet for Mr. Sinatra." Fortunately, recalls Don Rubin, "He (Sinatra) was very excited. He just kept shaking his head and saying it was marvelous."

Some of the guest vocals were put on tape and later mixed into the tracks already recorded by Sinatra and orchestra. The technique of exchanging tapes to complete a project is not new. What made the the making of this album so unusual was the use of EDNet, an international multimedia network of fiber-optically linked recording studios around the world.

To accommodate the schedules of some singers it was going to be necessary to work with them where they were, rather than fly them to Hollywood. "It would have been a logistical nightmare," remembers Rubin. Everyone was either on the road, making their own record, or otherwise impossible."

Ramone knew that the cost of making an album with so many busy singers would be more easily done if the singers could be recorded at his or her convenience. And as a proponent of a new technology known as EDNet, (see accompanying story) he had at his disposal an efficient means of getting it done. Ramone had worked with EDNet (Entertainment Digital Network) and LucasFilm in 1992 and also used the system for some work he did on the new Gloria Estefan album, Christmas Through Your Eyes. The three EDNet tracks were Estefan's "Come Rain Or Come Shine," Charles Aznavour's "You Make Me Feel So Young," and Carly Simon's medley, "Guess I'll Hang My Tears Out To Dry/In The Wee Small Hours Of The Morning." Says Ramone of the EDNet process, "This new technology changes the way artists record music. And when you hear how wonderful it sounds, there is absolutely no question about its quality."

The release of Duets last month is a moment of musical history as Sinatra becomes the first recording artist to have released albums in seven different decades.

Initial public reaction to this all-star production has been exceptional. In its first week out, Duets debuted at number two on the charts, right behind Pearl Jam's Vs. and this week we see the project's second single, the Barbra Streisand duet on "I've Got A Crush On You," joining the Bono/Sinatra pairing on "I've Got You Under My Skin" in the singles racks. Two weeks ago, Bono and Sinatra filmed a video for "Skin" together, in Palm Springs, with noted rock video director Kevin Godley.

Capitol has big plans in celebration of Sinatra's 78th birthday next month (December 12) and he's already recorded eight tracks for a possible follow-up, Duets II album. Everyone involved is remaining tight-lipped about who is, but speculation includes traditionalists like Willie Nelson, Luciano Pavarotti, Dolly Parton, Linda Ronstadt and Harry Connick, Jr. as well as more extreme possibilities like Axl Rose, Bruce Springsteen, Janet Jackson and Elton John. ●

THE HISTORY OF THE ENTERTAINMENT DIGITAL NETWORK

The Entertainment Digital Network, headquartered in San Francisco, was formed last year under the auspices of film maker George Lucas' Skywalker Sound to link its two production facilities that were and are 400 miles apart. Originally conceived to allow for cost-efficient, digitally-perfect recording of soundtrack material for Lucas films like the Ron Howard-directed Backdraft, the network's studios and telecommunications technology have already been adapted to record and edit television programs and commercials.

Digital recording capabilities have existed at leading recording studios for a decade or more, but it has only been in recent years that digital telephone lines have made remote connections possible without reliance on the micro-second delays of satellite transmissions or a dependency on ancient analog technology.

For a modest investment of only $10,000-$15,000, a studio that has access to fiber-optic telephone lines has the potential to link-up with one or more other studios simultaneously. This is not necessarily satellite transmitted (although it's likely phone company uplinks and downlinks will take place in the transmission of any phone connection). Clients of EDNet merely use existing fiber-optic phone lines that now link most of the civilized world.

EDNet is in place at 60 production facilities on three continents including 32 cities in North America. It offers a cost-efficient means of linking otherwise unconnectable talent to make state-of-the-art digitally perfect audio. And while the bulk of its past work has been in film audio, aiding in the overdubbing, mixing of soundtrack music and dialogue, its potential for making music is just now becoming a reality. In the not too distant future, EDNet will also be linking video through another network of facilities called ETCs (Entertainment Transfer Centers).

Congratulations to KUSF-San Francisco on capturing Station Of The Year honors from the NACB. Presented during the NACB's sixth annual conference in early November, KUSF took home the Station Of The Year award, and was recognized in the Community Service Programming and Promotion/Marketing categories.

Again, congrats to the entire KUSF staff, which stood still long enough for this group photo to be taken.

Ronald J. Morey, President of Jarad Broadcasting Company, announces the expansion of the WDRE Modern Rock Network with the inclusion of 98.5 FM (WMRW) in Suffolk County, Connecticut. The network enjoys continued success in the Philadelphia market with WIBF, which has consistently been ranked in the top five for persons 18-34.

Imagine my surprise when Phil Slash, former KKDJ and KUSF air personality, called me from Hawaii to let me know KPOI (The Edge) had found a place for him on their airwaves (7-12 p.m.). Imagine my bigger surprise when I learned that MD Ted Taylor is none other than Ted Taylor, the ex-KUSF MD who had a big hand in shaping my early musical tastes. Almost ten years later, I get to work with him again. Maybe this time I'll turn him on to a group or two. A suggestion from someone who knows: If you want to get on Ted's good side, send him a case of Anchor Steam beer. He misses this local brew something fierce!

When you're talking with WPRB-Princeton's Tim O'Reilly this week, be sure to ask how his band's gig with Eggs and Tsunami went.

"I feel you rising...Butterfly McQueen." My friend says that the Boo Radleys give him a woody, and after Sunday night's absolutely stunning performance in San Francisco, I know what he means—Well, you know, figuratively speaking. The band says, and Columbia's Todd Bisson concurs, that they'll be Stateside once again in February, so if you missed them this time out, you're not completely out of luck — except you missed an amazing show. Speaking of Todd and The Boo Radleys, here's the purple wonder in action, doing whatever it takes to get you guys to add "Barney & Me."

Tim Hyde organized a Book & Music Mixer last week, but I haven't from him as to how it turned out. Another lost weekend, perhaps?

As of December 1, Sarah Rubenstein will no longer be at Restless Records. She is resigning to volunteer full-time at a local shelter where her energy and dedication will be put to good use. Keith Moran will be taking over radio and can be reached at (612) 933-6727.

By now I'm most of you have heard about the untimely death of Cliff Lippman, formerly of of Slash Records and KUSF. Anyone who knew Cliff also knew that he was a rigid individualist and a genuine music lover—two traits that in this day and age don't always mesh with the music business. I'm grateful for the hectic, often chaotic times working with Cliff while we were both at KUSF, and then in our respective industry jobs. His wonderful smile will be missed by many, and certainly, his loss is felt here. Rest in peace.

Lacquer (Snap!)

A few issues back I wrote up Popsicle's "Hey Princess"—a song so charming I actually got in touch with a few A&R people about it. Now these Swedish popsters have released their first album, Lacquer, and I'm 'bout ready to burst it's so great. Popsicle make sometimes-chaotic-sometimes-sweet, epic sounding pop, the intensity of which brings to mind The Wedding Present, while its sheer brilliance resonates of dynamic bands like The Boo Radleys, J&M Chain or The Smiths. There's a definite British spin on Popsicle's sound, and they're the first to cop to it. In fact, when an NME journalist asked when then band was going to play in England, guitarist/vocalist Andy Mattson replied, "Taking our music to your country would be a bit like selling sand to the Arabs." Well, if that's the case, here's sand in yer face. I love the noisy bliss of "Pale Honey,"

ARTIST PROFILE

THE SPINANES

FROM: Portland, Ore.

LATEST RELEASE: Manos

LABEL: Sub Pop

THEY ARE: Rebecca Gates, guitar and vocals; Scott Plouf, drums.

THEY SAY: "We're not stuck on this two-person thing. If we get bored of just having this sound, maybe we'll get a bass player. Maybe we'll get a guitar player and it'll be two guitars. If we do that, we'll omit it because the songs need it or because we're tired of just lookin' at each other."

—Scott Plouf

ABOUT THEIR LIVE SHOW:

"Imagine Fugazi with a female singer taking on the Verlaines' catalogue." —Puncture

IT'S SAID: "Half the fun of this band is their own evident excitement at sounding so huge. So when Gates comes back to talking about being shy in "Uneasy," she might be murmuring under her own breath, trying to combat stuttery fear with "a certain largesse." Or she might be reassuring some other geek—a friend, maybe, or a fan. Telling them that they, too, could not only speak, but write a song as startlingly fine as Manos' title track." —The Village Voice

IN THE "FIRSTS" FILE: The Spinanes' first live appearance was at the now-legendary International Pop Underground Convention in Olympia, Washington in 1991. K Records culled a live recording of the band's "Jad Fair Drives Women Wild" for their IPU Compilation, a retrospective of some of the convention's performances.

SHONEN KNIFE
"Brown Mushrooms" (Virgin)

Since the drum is mixed louder than the guitar, Shonen Knife's latest isn't the three-chord bash'n'grind I expected it to be. In fact, this mid-tempo charmer is quite melodic. But while "Brown Mushrooms" may sport a slightly revamped sound, Naoko's guitar, when given the opportunity, still stings, and their lyrics are still very much in the Hello Kitty vein—which to me, is what most defines Shonen Knife's sound. During this slow holiday week, 28 stations put this one in rotation, helping Shonen Knife to walk away with Most Added honors. Also check out "Strawberry Cream Puff" and their version of The Kinks' "Til The End Of The Day."

TIGER TRAP
Sour Grass (K)

Sacramento's Tiger Trap, with their new EP Sour Grass, exhibit a bit more maturity than they did on their eponymous full-length released earlier this year. Maturity—by my definition—equals diversity, and with Sour Grass the Trap have ever-so-slightly expanded their sound; alongside those surfy, breezy, lilting and spunky pop tunes, the band has tucked a punky, smart-assed rocker and an acoustic, pristine ballad. "Sour Grass," "Carrie's Song" and "Treasure" are trademark Tiger Trap tunes—chatty/gnashy drums, lazy surf-stained leads, busy rhythm guitar, basic bass, detached ethereal vocals—that at first seem too similar, but, with each listen, resolve into more distinct entities. "Don't Ask" is snappy, frantic and, lyrically, a close cousin to "For Sure" from the band's full-length. While they crank out a din that's a notch brattier than what they've offered heretofore, wide-eyed Rose intones, "I might stay with you/Don't ask me why/'Cause you don't come close to fulfilling all my dreams." "Sweetheart," the ballad, boasts chiming, chilling acoustic guitars, cheap organ that's just right, and beautiful vocals that finally move to the front of the mix. My only beef with this stop-gap EP might be the production—Pat Maley's slightly low-fi treatment muddies a band who're best when brightest. —SEANA BARUTH

LUCY'S FUR COAT
Et Cetera
(Relativity, 187-07 Henderson Ave., Hollis, NY 11423)

Sorry, Sympathy, you're SOL—looks like Relativity's finally decided they're cool enough to release their own 7" singles. And it's an ambitious first project, a double single debut from San Diego's Lucy's Fur Coat (wordplay on Lucifer's Goat—get it?). The four tracks here spice gnarly, toothy, revved-up San Diego and Stooges-style rock with some melodic moments. "Treasure Hands" offers a choppy riff, a soulful (sometimes snarly) vocal and the idiot savant lyric "Times are changin' for the worst/I wish they weren't/But I know they are." Rather like Paw, if they moved to SD. "Not My Fault" is a simple and brief punk-derived tune that offers a tinge of Aussie-style grinding and a surprisingly polished, somewhat incongruous chorus of "yeah's." With its manly lyrics and testosterone-charged guitar, single two's "Falling Down" might seem right at home next to Nazareth on Album radio, and that classic feel, along with its lighter little riff and cool bass thing in the break make "Falling Down" my fave track here. Lucy's wrap up their debut with "I Give Up," which boasts a skipping, fluttering bass, big fuzzy dinosaur chords and a distorted, spoken vocal. The verdict? Single one is great, but single two is super. —SEANA BARUTH

THE WANDERIN' STARS
This Far
(Nuf Sed, P.O. Box 591075, San Francisco, CA 94159)

Nuf Sed has just released 7" vinyl from San Francisco's Wanderin' Stars. Three of the four songs included here are covers, but the lead-off original, "Lighting The Pilot Light," is a folksy, country, Webb Pierce-reminiscent campfire singalong that comes complete with faux crickets and soothing backup vocalists who croon "ahh" in a recognizable classic-country style. The Wanderin' Stars' version of "It's Such A Pretty World," which was recorded by Wynn Stewart in 1967, has a similarly dated sound boasting boxy vocals and plinky banjo, and "I'm Yours," a dreamy ballroom offering, conjures faded taffeta, swirling chiffon, a midnight-dark dance floor, a twinkling mirrored ball and a more innocent age. And the final track, "If God Is Dead (Who's That Living In My Soul)" (originally a Connie Smith duet with Nat Stukey) applies that "old" country style to some spiritual material and stands as the single's finest offering. 'Nuff said.

BEAVIS AND BUTT-HEAD The Beavis and Butt-Head Experience (Geffen)

Hard Rock and Album radio have been spinning White Zombie's "I Am Hell" and Megadeth's "99 Ways To Die" the past few weeks, giving listeners a taste of The Beavis and Butt-Head Experience. Positive listener response from both songs has allowed this compilation to creep up the Gavin Rocks chart, and now that the full CD is out, it will continue its upward movement. Beavis and Butt-Head ramble throughout the CD, chatting with Anthrax and Run DMC or just babbling among themselves. They also do a lovely duet with Cher on "I Got You Babe." One can hardly keep the tears from flowing. Rock radio should focus on tracks like Nirvana's "I Hate Myself And Want To Die," which contains grungy, hard-edged guitars and Kurt Cobain's patented dry vocal sneers. Anthrax's "Looking Down The Barrel Of A gun" features metallic hard rock guitar slams and layers of raspy vocals. Aerosmith's "Deuces Are Wild," with its soothing guitars and vocals, will make album radio's day. "Poetry And Prose" by Primus contains wailing guitar distortion backed by Les' fluttering bass, but after two and a half minutes Beavis and Butt-Head start talking so this may not be a heavy rotation track. The fast, quick tempo tracks include Jack's "Mental *@%#!" and Red Hot Chili Peppers' "Search And Destroy" which is probably one of the only songs by the Peppers that don't have any sort of funk rock beats. It's strictly rock. Other songs to check out: RUN DMC's "Bounce" and Sir Mix-a-Lot's "Monsta Mack." Both tracks are hip hop/rap sound that may not be suitable for rock radio. The Beavis and Butt-Head Experience contains tracks that Hard rock and Album stations should play because they're "cool." Give it a thorough listen.

GAVIN PICKS

Singles .....

KATE BUSH Rubberband Girl (Columbia)

Few artists have a following as devoted as Kate Bush's. She had some luck at Top 40 in the mid-'80s with "Running Up That Hill," but with "Rubberband Girl," she is poised to expose her incredible talent to a whole new audience. Great high energy track. Hey, what a segue this would be into The Spinners' "Rubberband Man"! (Sorry, just couldn't help it.)

BOY GEORGE Everything I Own (SBK/ERG)

When Bread had this on the chart some 21 years ago, Boy George was still nearly a decade away from having his first hit with the Culture Club. In 1987, he took "Everything I Own" to Number One in the U.K. His pop reggae spin on the song makes this familiar melody fresh for the '90s.

LISA KEITH I'm In Love (Perspective/A&M)

Seems that a star is emerging from the house of Jimmy Jam and Terry Lewis. Lisa's impressive debut single, "Better Than You," took off quickly and never slowed down. Expect this follow-up to have similar success.

WAILING SOULS Wild Wild Life (Chaos)

Here's the second release on this page to get a reggae makeover. Written by the Talking Heads' David Byrne, the song definitely makes its impact felt on the soundtrack of Cool Runnings, a picture that continues to do big box office.

MICHAEL JACKSON Gone Too Soon (Epic)

A touching emotionally-charged ballad dedicated to courageous AIDS victim, Ryan White. It's difficult not to be touched by the sensitive way Michael delivers each line.

U2 Stay (Faraway/So Close!) (Island/PLG)

What better explanation as to why Bono and company are one of the most popular acts on the planet? Their always inventive lyrics and stellar production make this ballad shine.

HEART Will You Be There (In The Morning) (Capitol)

Pairing the vocals of Nancy and Ann Wilson with a song written by Robert John "Mutt" Lange seems like a no brainer. The combination is pure magic on this track from Heart's long-awaited, new album, Desire Walks On.

K.D. LANG Just Keep Me Moving (Sire/Warner Bros.)

While the storyline of the movie, Even Cowgirls Get The Blues, which stars Uma Thurman, sounds a bit strange, this track that k.d. co-wrote sounds very, very cool. An upper demo pleaser for sure.

GUNS N' ROSES Estranged (Geffen)

Currently getting a lot of attention due to the release of a new album, GNR still has one more track from Your Illusion II for Top 40. "Estranged" has the intensity and much of the same appeal as "November Rain."

Albums .....

GUNS N' ROSES The Spaghetti Incident? (Geffen)

And now for something completely different. Guns N' Roses are discovering their roots through a barrage of cover songs on their latest project, The Spaghetti Incident? Whether it's gliding with The Skyliners' "Since I Don't Have You" or wailing with The Sex Pistols' "Black Leather," Guns N' Roses pumps out vigorous guitar-riddled rock that screams nostalgia. Be sure to listen to The UK Subs' "Down On The Farm," which features Axl's faux-British vocals. —ROB FIEND

THE BEAVIS and BUTT-HEAD EXPERIENCE (Geffen)

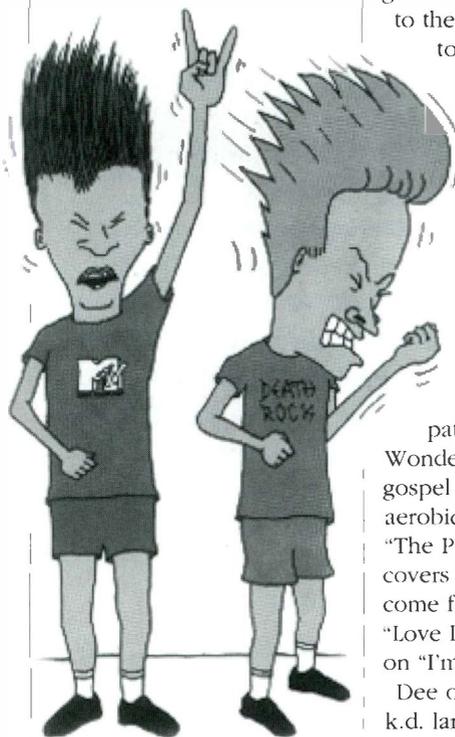

As two crudely drawn cartoon couch potatoes expand their cable television empire to radio, The Beavis And Butt-Head Experience conforms to the "taste" exhibited on their hilarious top-rated MTV show. Part comedy album, part suburban rock/rap soundtrack, we particularly like the bit where Beavis and Butt-Head meet Anthrax on their tour bus. On their first single, Cher steps away from her cosmetic info-mercials to perform a Butt-ectomy on "I Got You Babe." Headbangers need not panic, though. There's enough hard stuff to choke Beavis' chicken, and not a Winger track to be found. File next to your Simpsons CD. —KENT ZIMMERMAN

MICHELE ROSEWOMAN Harvest (Enja)

In 1983 the Downbeat Magazine poll awarded pianist Michele Rosewoman with "Talent Deserving Wider Recognition" honors. Since then she's gained a reputation as a "musician's musician," particularly for her work in performing trio. Ten years later, Harvest is a testament to Rosewoman's keen composing skills. Imagine the elegance of Ellington-fused with the crisp, atonal attack of Cecil Taylor. That's the closest we'll come to describing her. She injects vital swing into modern, avant garde jazz sounds. —K. ZIMMERMAN

LINDA RONSTADT Winter Light (Elektra)

For the most part, this is another journey back in time for Ms. Ronstadt. The majority of the songs come from the mid '60s—the Boomers' core years. She treats such songs as Bacharach & David's "Anyone Who Had A Heart," an obscure Beach Boys', "Don't Talk (Put Your Head On My Shoulder)," Carole King and Gerry Goffin's "Oh No, Not My Baby," The Orioles' "It's Too Soon To Know" and Dusty Springfield's "I Just Don't Know What To Do With Myself" with reverence. Less nostalgic, is her treatment of Anna McGarrigle's "Heartbeats Accelerating." McGarrigle wrote the Ronstadt standard "Heart Like A Wheel" and the nine-year-old "Heartbeats" is sure to become the same. It's worth noting that the set begins with "Heartbeats" and ends with the title track, "Winter Light." Both songs employ the most modern production elements which gives them a Clannad-ian feel.—RON FELL

ELTON JOHN Duets (MCA)

With 16 songs from 15 guest acts spread out over nearly 75 minutes on one disc, Elton's newest album is a generous anthology with plenty of wonderful musical moments. There's an unexpected variety of energy levels with a varietal blend of nostalgic and contemporary songs. The guests are equal in stature to the ones who RSVPed to Sinatra. Highlights include new songs with familiar voices like Tammy Wynette's on "A Woman's Needs," Nik Kershaw's on "Old Friend," Gladys Knight's on "Go On And On" (with major participation from Stevie Wonder), and a rousing gospel workout from the aerobic Little Richard on "The Power." Sparkling covers of pop standards come from Bonnie Raitt on "Love Letters," Paul Young on "I'm Your Puppet," Kiki Dee on "True Love" and k.d. lang on "Teardrops." —RON FELL
