SINGLES

TLC's "Babies" still rule, but watch out for Madonna and her "Playground."

DIALOGUE

What better way to celebrate the summer heat than to gender-bend around the "camp"-fire with the B-52's, Deee-Lite and Army of Lovers? HITS' resident cross-dressers Janet Trakin, Brett Atwood and H. Lee David push the boundaries of good taste.

36

POST MODERN

Ministry hits the PoMo chart as Ivana sinks under the weight of all the grunge at the top.

43

JAMS

Capitol's suave crooner Freddie Jackson sings, "I Could Use A Little Love," which is just what JAMS' romantic icon J.J. "Mini" Johnson is offering.

57

METAL

Megadeth, Danzig and Ministry make for three newcomers in the Top Five, though Metal Editor "Wan" Lonnn Friend's ego is rising faster than any of 'em.

69

ALBUMS

Megadeth explodes out of the chute to debut at #1. Boomerang takes #2, while Too Short, Clint Black, Ministry and Danzig all have sensational first weeks.

Survival of Laffitte

Ron Laffitte is one of the hottest managers in town, as he celebrates Megadeth's #1 debut on the HITS Top 50 Albums chart with the just-released "Countdown to Extinction" and his new Capitol Records label deal. Thanks to massive MTV play, the disc has joined some elite company by bowing at the top. Of course, Ron joins some none-too-elite company with this appearance on the HITS Contents Page, but #1 is still #1 and even we can't ruin that.

On The Cover

Billy Ray Cyrus has the best pecs in country music, but his "Achy Breaky Heart" is about to get broken by this unwelcome HITS cover nod.

Capitol Rocks Hard With A #1 Album Debut

MEGA-MEGADETH!

RIAA Applauds Time Warner

Citing Time Warner's stand against censorship, as well as an excellent opportunity to get his name in the papers, RIAA President Jason Berman publicly applauded the conglomerate for not giving in to pressure over Body Count's "Cop Killer."

"All Americans have the right to express ideas even if these ideas are considered by some to be anti-establishment, offensive or frightening. The foundation of free speech is built on our willingness to uphold it, however controversial."

Berman then filed his statement in the "Generic Applauding Of Anti-Censorship" file and went back to awarding Platinum and Gold plaques to old Bee Gees records.

Quick Hits

The Most Added singles of the week at Top 40 radio are #1 Bryan Adams (A&M), #2 Patty Smyth (MCA), #3 Hi-Five (Jive), #4 Firehouse (Epic) and #5 Celine Dion (Epic). Slaughter (Chrysalis-/ERG) comes out of the box with a strong first week.

Patty Smyth: Top 40 welcomes her back — BIG TIME!

Advertisement

DO YOU KNOW
WHAT'S HAPPENING
SEPTEMBER 12TH?

OK, OK, so MTV's Cannelli and Krim were right about this one.

With a strong MTV push and a beautiful set-up by the folks on Vine, Capitol's Megadeth hit the street with a fury this week, debuting at #1 on the HITS Top 50 Albums chart.

That's right folks, numero uno.

With the two gunslingers at MTV certain that the band's "Countdown To Extinction" was the project to break the band into another stratosphere — with or without radio — the channel played and the consumers paid. This one's a monster, folks: #1 CD One Stop, #1 National Record Mart, #1 Pacific Coast One-Stop, #2 Harmony House, #2 Wherehouse and on and on....

"This is an amazing feat," said the band's manager, Ron Laffitte, who added, "No wonder I love myself so much."

Capitol Exec. VP Art Jaeger was not available for comment as he was counting the number of paper clips Capitol employees waste in a day.

Though he was unavailable for comment, a spokesperson confirmed that Capitol President Hale Milgrim planned on hugging the band's Dave Mustaine.

PIC OF THE WEEK

Two Losers

One-time presidential candidate Jerry Brown and HITS' adorable JAMS Editor J.J. Johnson spend some quality time comparing notes on what it's like not to be popular. The event was an opium party at Brown's Laurel Canyon home. Neither inhaled.

Huge Chart Debuts!

Besides the incredible activity on Capitol's Megadeth and their debut at #1, detailed in this week's lead story, it was a big week overall in the album sales marketplace. Major chart debuts were also recorded by Too Short (Jive) at #8, Clint Black (RCA) at #12, Lollapalooza tour and media darlings Ministry (Sire/WB) at #16 and hard rockin' Danzig (Def American) at #17.

Party Animals

It was just another summertime gathering — a little food, a little drink, a little merriment and a combined yearly income that exceeds the gross national product of Tanzania. Pictured (l-r): Epic President David Glew, Columbia President Don Ienner, Garrett Ienner (a person who fortunately looks like mommy), Robert DeNiro, Mariah Carey, Z100 Ruler Steve Kingston, Sony Music President Tommy Mottola, Columbia Sr. VP Promotion Burt Baumgartner, Michelle Ienner and Sony Music Exec. VP Mel Ilberman. The group then adjourned to the patio for a massive belching contest between DeNiro and Mariah. Aaaah, the good life.

Geffen Honored

David Geffen and Barbra Streisand will receive the 1992 Commitment to Life Award from AIDS Project L.A. for their continued commitment to helping people living with the virus. They'll be presented with the award during the sixth Commitment to Life event at the Universal Amphitheatre on November 18, 1992.

Geffen has donated one million dollars each to both AIDS Project L.A. and the Gay Men's Health Crisis in New York. He is also a member of the National Council for the American Foundation for AIDS Research (AMFAR).

The award was created in 1985 and previous winners include Betty Ford, Elizabeth Taylor, Whoopie Goldberg, Madonna, David Hockney, Bette Midler and Sidney Sheinberg, among others.

Bernie Taupin will serve as musical director for the gathering.

WILD CARD

BOBBY BROWN
MCA

It's been a long time, but he's back. And, he's back with one of his best efforts ever. He's back in the news with his marriage this past weekend to the lovely and extremely talented Whitney Houston. And he's about to be back on the radio, everywhere. Tenenbaum, Gorelick and company are cookin' — this week with Patty Smyth/ Don Henley, next with Bobby. So, place your order, quickly!

Quick Hits

MTV adds Pearl Jam (Epic), House Of Pain (Tommy Boy), Damn Yankees (WB), Cracker (Virgin) and Iron Maiden (Epic). Rotation increases go to George Michael (Columbia), Toad The Wet Sprocket (Columbia) and Jodeci (Up-town/MCA).

St. John, Brown, New HITS Radio Gurus Sass Gets Gas

Things are starting to get REAL ugly around here, folks.

After the failure of an exhaustive search for a qualified, knowledgeable radio veteran whose years of programming experience would make him the perfect person to shape and guide HITS' expanding radio team, HITS has instead settled for hiring Michael St. John as Sr. Broadcast Editor. The announcement was made by HITS Editor-In-Chief Lenny Beer, who expressed extreme confidence in the new executive by stating, "He was the only one who'd take the gig." Thanks Len, you can go back to playing with your raw liver now.

St. John is a classic Top 40 loser. He comes to HITS (a tip sheet) after programming KHTK in St. Louis. Among his (MANY) other PD gigs were Y95 Phoenix, Y107 Nashville, KX104 Nashville, KXX106 Birmingham and WTIC Hartford. In an even greater display of integrity, Michael was also a commentator for ESPN's Championship Wrestling, where he took pride in personally administering heavy doses of steroids into large muscular men's tushes. That's our guy.

Incidentally, no one looks better in polyester than Michael.

In his first official act besides marking his spot in the office by urinating on his desk, St. John has named Downtown Ed Brown as HITS Broadcast Editor, joining current tip-sheet geeks and former radio losers Todd Hensley, Connie Breeze and Nick Bull. Ed was most recently MD/Middays at PWR108 Cleveland. Prior to that, he held gigs at Z95.5 Detroit, WHYT Detroit and WTAC in Flint.

According to St. John, "Ed is the perfect addition to our new team. Not only does he understand the marketplace, but since he's from Cleveland, I know I'll always have someone to shop at K-Mart with. Is the glare off of my dacron pants bothering you?"

The incredible Sass Jordan is surrounded by Associated Distributors' Bob Fenty (l) and Henry Lynch because the talented chanteuse wanted a picture with "two people whose lives are worth less than horse manure." Oh, those nutty, nutty artists.

Out Of The Geto

Heeeere we go again.

Ex-Geto Boy gone solo Willie D.'s new album, "Goin' Out Lika Soldier," includes a track called "Fk Rodney King," which is already causing a commotion prior to the record's July 30 release date on Houston-based Rap-A-Lot Records, distributed by Priority Records and CEMA.

The single calls King "a sellout ho" for calling for an end to the violence during the L.A. riots last spring. Willie told the L.A. Times he wrote the song to vent his frustration.

"I feel like Rodney King turned his back on black people and on himself," he said. "The way to get the control back is not by protesting. It's not by picketing. It's by violence. But I'm not advocating anything here. I'm just stating my opinion."

Meanwhile, Bushwick Bill, the one-eyed, born-again rapper of the group, also has a solo album, "Little Big Man," coming August 15. That album will include the single "Ever So Clear," which tells the true story of how he got his eye shot out in a fight with his girlfriend.

"It's messed up," he says. "I had to lose an eye to see things clearly."

Downtown Ed Brown: Rest assured everyone in these pics hated him.

Here Comes Grammy

Initial Grammy entry forms from record companies and NARAS members reflecting the official eligibility list are due back at the Academy's Burbank offices on July 24 and August

7, respectively. The eligible entries compiled from these forms will make up the official list from which Recording Academy voting members will choose the nominations for this year's 35th annual Grammy Awards. In initial tallies, Frank Yankovich looks like an odds-on favorite to get his 1,987,567th consecutive nomination for Best Polka Recording.

Goodbye Murph...

LORD NOSE, WE'LL MISS YOU.

After almost six years of insanity, we bid farewell to Sr. Broadcast Editor Mike Murphy. We're not sure exactly what Mike will be doing in the future, but we think it has something to do with Wyoming. They like Mike in Wyoming. As a matter of fact, we wish Mike had spent the last six years in Wyoming. Anyway, everyone here at HITS will miss Mike and we'll remember him for his humor, wit, incredible work habits, and most of all, for the way he treated his staff. So there it is folks, the end of an error... we mean era. As we take a gander at some shots of Mike taken over the past years, we have only one thing to say, "We love ya Murph. Take care of your health, but most importantly, take care of that stupid ponytail."

Ciao Babe!

Jodeci's The Light

MCA and Uptown execs celebrate the Platinum success of Jodeci at some star-studded party that we weren't invited to. Pictured just before calling "for all the wonderful people from Billboard" to get in a picture are (l-r): MCA President Richard Palmese, Uptown's Sam "Puffy" Combs, the band's JoJo, MCA Sr. VP Promotion & Marketing Black Music A.D. Washington, the band's K-Ci, Mr. Dalvin and DeVante "Swing", Dileo management's Steve Lucas, Uptown Ent. CEO Andre Harrell and MCA Black Music Division President Ernie Singleton.

Ice Ice Baby

The rapping Ices, Ice-T and Ice Cube, are writing and recording songs for "Trespass," the Walter Hill-directed film they both star in, with a soundtrack on Sire Records.

The film was originally dubbed "Looters," and was scheduled for release last spring, but the L.A. riots convinced Universal Pictures to change the name and delay its opening. Studio execs considered calling the film "We Love the L.A.P.D." or "The Daryl Gates Story" before marketing surveys convinced them to go with "Trespass."

In a move intended to strengthen its music business, Michael "Let's Make A" Dilbeck has been upped to Executive VP Music of SPE (Sony Pictures Entertainment) by Motion Picture Group President Jonathan Dolgen.

Dilbeck will be responsible for attracting and utilizing the top musical talent in films from SPE's companies, which include Columbia and Michael Dilbeck: He'll be making mo' money, too.

TriStar, with particular emphasis on soundtracks, scores and use of top composers and recording artists.

Prior to his promotion, Dilbeck was Executive VP Soundtracks for SPE, where he worked closely on the music for the hit films "A League of Their Own" and "Mo' Money." Dilbeck was previously Sr. VP Music for Guber-Peters Entertainment Company, serving as music supervisor for "Batman" and "Rain Man," among others. He was also Sr. VP Film and Special Projects for CBS Records, West Coast, and VP A&R West Coast for Columbia Records.

Said Dilbeck: "I look forward to fulfilling the needs of our filmmakers by linking them with the top composers, the best songwriters and the leading recording artists in the world. That way, I get to hang out in the stars' trailers on the set and charge my meals at the studio commissary."

James Tolerates Hollywood Nimrods

Aaaah Los Angeles.... artists love to perform here. And can you blame them? Too-cool-to-scream-&-applaud reaction from sold-out houses where 70% of the audience are industry geeks who scored comps; hundreds of seats empty after the second song because those geeks are still in the lobby schmoozing. And don't forget the after-show backstage scene where celebrities pretend like they're good friends with the artist despite the fact they've never met before. Pictured at L.A.'s Universal Amphitheatre (l-r): James Taylor, who's counting the minutes until his Sacramento show as "best friends" Rob Reiner, Michele Reiner, Annette Bening and Warren Beatty glow that Hollywood glow.

BOX Talk

The big action at The Box continues to be LaFace/Arista recording artists TLC and their smash hit "Baby, Baby." It remains #1 at the channel, and their Box Talk feature also stays scorching hot. Also breaking are M.C. Ren (Priority), Jacci McGhee (MCA), Arrested Development "People Everyday" (SBK/ERG), Ralph Tresvant (A&M) and A.L.T. (Atco/East-West).

Eeeesh

If Harmony House's Lisa Bica and Catherine Wheel's Dave Hawes ever got married, how much would you pay them not to have children? Hey, just asking.

Quick Hits

VH-1 adds Cover Girls (Epic) and Toad The Wet Sprocket (Columbia). Santana (PLG) is named Artist Of The Month. Greatest Hits rotation includes Mariah Carey (Columbia), En Vogue (Atco/East-West), Madonna (Sire/WB), Richard Marx (Capitol), George Michael (Columbia) and Vanessa Williams (Wing/Mercury).

Jordan will report to Sr. VP Talent & Artist Relations John "Candy" Cannelli. Her responsibilities will include seeking out and developing new artists and supporting existing relationships with the talent and the music industry.

As the smoke clears around the executive situation at Arnon Milchan's Regency imprint, it looks like manager Peter Asher will be responsible for the day-to-day activities of the fledgling label, while manager Patrick Rains will liaison between the music and film companies. Sounds like big plans on the horizon....The highly publicized and often controversial marriage between Luther Campbell and Atlantic has ended. Look for Campbell's Luke imprint to go the indie route.... And Chrysalis Founder Chris Wright's non-compete clause (a result of the EMI purchase) is up in January. Is a major re-entry into the thick of things in the planning stages?.... At presstime, chatter circulating that MCA was prepared to release Uni Distribution topper Luke Lewis from his contract due to personal and family reasons. Lewis has been commuting from L.A. to be with his family in Nashville. Meanwhile, there's buzzing down Nashville way that if Lewis does relocate, he won't be unemployed for long. President of Mercury Nashville? Stay tuned.... Speaking of Universal City, is MCA about to serve papers on ERG's Michael Steele for breach of agreement?.... Moss Jacobs exits as GM of L.A.'s Avalon Attractions. Look for a replacement to emerge shortly.... Columbia rides its Toad the Wet Sprocket/Alice In Chains success with the signing of a Post Modern tri-fecta. The label recently inked Daniel Ash, Gumball and Mercury Rev.... Yes folks, the Jim Swindel-to-Qwest deal remains in the "almost done" stage. Any minute now.... MTV is cutting back on its weekend special programming for the summer. Look for more regular playlist rotation to go down.... Mike Bone's move to Def American was apparently newsworthy enough to make the front page of the L.A. Times Calendar section.... Meanwhile, Bone is walking into an inferno as Rick Rubin and company continue its incredible streak with a #17 Album chart debut from Danzig.... And has anyone noticed that eight of the Top 20 albums on the HITS Top 50 Album chart don't have singles yet?.... Speaking of singles, kudos to the Stiefel/Phillips management team as client Patty Smyth's debut MCA track has a stellar first week at Top 40. The cut is a duet with Don Henley.... And what's up with Virgin Promotion topper Michael Plen? And while we're in the culturally enlightened world of promotion, we'll look in the "Nice Timing" file and see Mercury Promo Domo David Leach renegotiating his deal at the House That Alain Rebuilt as the label enjoys a steady hot streak.... Names in the Rumor Mill this week: Michael Mitchell, Harlan Goodman, Fox Records, Lee Phillips and Jill Glass.

LETTERS

Moon Struck

HITS:

I like your magazine so much that I'm trying to turn myself into glue with mind control so that I can put all of Issue 298 on my naked body and a picture of Tori Amos on my left nipple.

This is how bored I get when Gary Demaroney forces me to run the Casey Kasem show. Love you, mean it.

Moon Trent
Morning Show Homo
FM104
Modesto, CA

HITS replies: Whoops, sorry Moon, we missed, and now you've got a tattoo of Lionel Richie on your left butt.

Foul Player

Dear Larry:

Thanks for your glowing remarks regarding the mix on the new Enuff Z'nuff LP. Unfortunately, the LP is being mixed in its entirety by Nigel Green, not Thompson and Barbiero as per your column in the July 13th issue of HITS.

I've attached a credit sheet on Nigel so that you may become more familiar with his credits. I would appreciate a correction in your column.

Best regards,
David Renzer
Zomba Mgmt.
New York, N.Y.

Larry replies: What column? These guys have already busted me down to buffing I. B. Bad's toenails.

Fair-Weather Friend

Dear Lon:

Caught your blurb in last week's column about Ministry. Glad you dig the album. To all the other "Oh-Ministry-Is-So-Cool-And-They're-Gonna-Be-Huge-And-Wow-They-Even-Rock-Dude" wagon-jumpers, well, dunh!!

You should know ten years ago, Ministry was actually in their quasi-Brit-accent-synth-nuevo-wavo phase, even though I still think that record holds up. It wasn't until "Nature of Love" (Wax Trax) and our first release, "Twitch," in '85 that Al really started to push the envelope, and he's been going miles to the left ever since.

You better think twice if you think you can claim Ministry as more Metal than PoMo. Sorry dude, we ain't gonna let go that easy.

Paul V.
Warner Bros. Records
Burbank, CA

Editors reply: Yeah, and we remember Ministry when they were a three-piece bar mitzvah band and Al Jourgenson was singing "Mine Papa" to senior citizens in the Catskills. So what? Everyone knows klezmer music came before both Metal and PoMo.

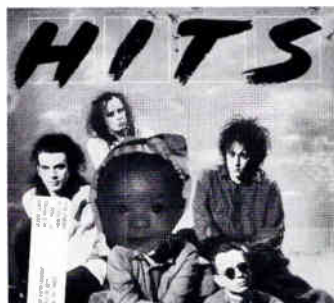

Cover Girl

Dear Dave:

My mom's Marla McNally and my dad is L. Lee Phillips. I don't know if I'm nauseating, but I'm CUTE!! (My mom said something about the cover??) My shirt says "California Here I Come" in honor of Sophie B. Hawkins. Thanks.

Camille Nicole Phillips

Dave replies: With that kind of genealogy, she can buy the whole damn magazine and put herself on the cover every week. So ante up, Mom and Pop!

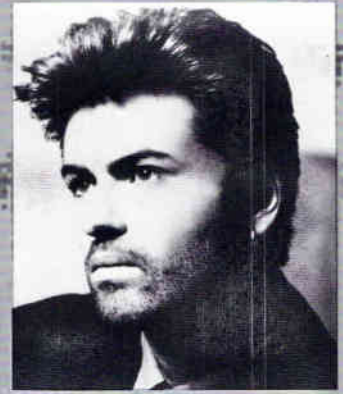

FAR TRUTHS

By Danny Fields, New York

Columbia's noble fund-raising project, "Red Hot + Dance," the sequel to Chrysalis' million-making "Red Hot + Blue," was launched here at the Ritz with great ado. Though Elizabeth Taylor and George Michael were headlined in pre-event press releases as "helpers" of the evening, Ms. Taylor, Founding Chairman of AmFAR (American Foundation for AIDS Research), which co-sponsored the party, pleaded an aching tooth and was a no-show. Mr. Michael, who contributed four original tracks to the project, including his gigantic "Too Funky," was indeed there, and actually entered through the main door, making his way to the VIP room, where he spent the rest of the evening. For him, this was considered a very generous amount of time in public, though his generosity is not an issue considering what he's given to the cause. In any case, he had lots of company in the inner sanctum, including Sony tonies Tommy Mottola, Don Ienner, Michelle Anthony, Shelley Selover, Amy Strauss, Jay Krugman, Mark Ghuneim and Ron Wilcox; and stars PM Dawn, David Lee Roth, Taylor Dayne, Marla Hansen, Debbie Gibson, Anthony Michael Hall, et al. Food was cunningly served from various "ethnic stations," including Italian Street Fair (Caesar salad, fruit with chianti, chicken rigatoni); Little Asia (Thai chicken, cold sesame noodles); Picnic Table (hot dogs, ice cream); and 125th Street (fried chicken, field potato salad with hickory smoked bacon) and well, you get the picture. Simultaneously, MTV broadcast the edgy "Red Hot + Dance" video, produced by Leigh Blake and John Carlin. Special kudos to AmFAR's David Kirby, who took and deflected much heat... RCA hosted a New Orleans-style Mardi Gras

GREG HEAD, KBXX

“Listen to this song once and you’ll be singing it all day...so will your listeners. I listened to it once and it went straight on the air. When can I add it?!!!!”

MIKE RING, K107

“This is a great sounding song. The more I hear it, the more I like it.”

HITSBOUND

Bryan Adams brings home the bacon (Canadian) and the Most Added song this week. Patty Smyth nips at his heels with the hot Henley duet. Former Wildcard Celine Dion adds more Top 40s. It takes metal monsters Megadeth to unseat Cyrus, debuting at #1 Albums. TLC hangs tough at #1 on the Singles tip with Madonna close behind.

HITS goes to SUMMER CAMP SPECTACULAR!!!

Hello Muddah, Hello Faddah. Sure wish I was at Camp Granada instead of toiling at this sweatshop. But hey, it's summertime and the living is easy, and a young man's fancy turns to putting on some rouge and a powdered wig and prancing around like some 18th century French count. So what better way to while away these lazy, hazy days than pulling up around the campfire with three of the foremost proponents of — Tipper Gore love 'em — radical genre confusion today: the B-52's, that li'l ole dance band from Athens who've come to be, as much as the Beach Boys, associated with summer, downtown global dance denizens Deee-Lite and unabashed Eurotrash Army of Lovers. Everybody into the pool!!

TO B OR NOT TO B AN EXCLUSIVE HITS INTERVIEW WITH THE B-52'S BY JANET TRAKIN

"Sometimes
Nonsense
Makes the Most Sense."

DEEP in the heart of Hell's Kitchen, about as different from Athens, Georgia as one can get, The B's, as the B-52's are affectionately known, are practicing three-part harmonies with Kate Pierson, dressed in a burnt orange suit and matching stockings, instructing Julee Cruise and their newly acquired bass player Tracy Wormworth. Fred Schneider is conspicuously absent, letting the girls rehearse "Revolution Earth," the love song where the B's display their gift for double entendre and goofy metaphor.

On their just-released seventh album, "Good Stuff," the 52's continue their antics of coining words and creating hysterical sexual situations in songs such as "Hot Pants Explosion" and the title cut. "Vision of a Kiss" carries on the theme and beat of "Love Shack," while "Is That You Mo' Dean" is a patented nonsensical extra-terrestrial wish. But hot fun in the summertime is not all the B's are about, as demonstrated by benefits for Jerry Brown and their plans to have environmental action groups and PETA traveling with them on their upcoming summer tour.

It's the first day of rehearsals for the tour, as Fred walks in to the studio in his plaid Bermuda shorts and boat sneakers, futzes with the equipment, then sits down with guitarist Keith Strickland and Kate for a roundtable discussion with HITS' Noo Yawk correspondent, the poor individual carrying around the horrifying burden of being our Sr. Editor's blood relation, Janet Trakin.

Like the Beach Boys, the B-52's are always associated with summer. Do you aim to release your records at this time of year?

Kate: We just have a summer mood. We have a lot of songs about being outside. It comes from having started in Georgia. It's warm there so much, and so many activities take place outdoors. We wanted the last one, "Cosmic Thing," to come out in summer because songs like "Deadbeat Club," "Room" and "Love Shack" were all associated with hot weather.

With the commercial success of your last record, do you still view yourselves as being apart from the mainstream?

Fred: We're just in our own stream and our own canoe. We just do what we do, and I guess we finally got accepted. In the early '80s, radio was so awful, and they didn't like us. We were on the radio programmer's list of what not to play. Now we're on the list of what to play because people got tired of hearing the same old thing. People who were d.j.s in college became radio programmers that now want to play us.

Why did Cindy [Wilson] leave the band?

Keith: She said during the last tour she was thinking of stopping. She wanted to move back to Georgia and live closer to her family. She said that she had been a B-52 for a third of her life and wanted to do something else for a while. How has it affected the group?

Keith: We had to establish a new balance and it forced us to try new ways of working together. There's more of a dialogue between Kate and Fred now.

Kate: It forced us to change, but it's a good idea for a bond to change.

What are your plans for Julee Cruise?

Kate: Basically to do Cindy's parts on the old songs. She's also going to be playing keyboards and bongos. She was a French horn major in college and can play a lot of different instruments. She also has a wide vocal range.

How do you reconcile your nonsensical side with your social activism?

Keith: Sometimes nonsense makes the most sense. And then there are other times when you have to "Tell It Like It T-I-S," as we say. Sometimes when I'm at my happiest, there's still a sense of sadness. You become aware of the suffering around you. This is what the B-52's are quintessentially all about.

Kate: Without nonsense, you can't have sense.

Your sense of camp has always made you popular with the gay community.

Fred: We're out there for everybody. We're multidimensional, which a lot of people don't understand.

Kate: I think we come from a certain sensibility that is tuned into being gay, but it has a wider range than that. It's a celebration of trash culture. We're high camp.

Fred: It's like you can't have a sense of humor without being labeled camp.

We wore what we wore on-stage because that's all we could afford. I didn't like half the stuff I wore. Some of it was horrible, but it made me laugh. We weren't trying to set a style. It just loosened us up.

Do you ever see the results of your benefits for social causes?

Kate: You know that any amount of money is going to have some effect, especially for organizations such as AIDS Athens, which is such a small group they don't even have anybody on the payroll. The local level is a good place to start.

Keith: After Ricky passed away, we stopped playing for a while. During that time, we realized how precious life is — the impermanence of it. Before we did "Cosmic Thing," we felt it was necessary to improve the quality of life on this planet.

You dedicated the album to "all of our brothers and sisters who are living with HIV." Why did you keep quiet the fact Ricky Wilson died from AIDS?

Keith: After Ricky passed away, we had to be sensitive to his family. They weren't aware of the fact that he had AIDS. It was a very delicate situation. After they understood and became more comfortable with it, we felt freer to speak out.

How do you manage to maintain such a positive outlook in the cynical '90s?

Kate: We've always had this dancing-on-the-edge-of-flames attitude. We're aware of the horrors of the world, but at the same time, we have an optimistic outlook.

Fred: The one thing we want to bring back from the '60s is that whole spirit of coming together and doing things. We want to bring about change in a positive way. We're not about doom and gloom. ■

SEEING DEEE-LITE

AN EXCLUSIVE HITS INTERVIEW WITH DEEE-LITE BY BRETT ATWOOD

"We don't think it's a crime to think and dance at the same time."

IT all began innocently enough. Two years ago, there was "World Clique," an optimistic, upbeat musical expression of hope and commitment to peace, unity and self-pride. The messengers of the medium were all art-scene trendies — Lady Kier Kirby, Super D.J. Dmitry and Towa "Towa" Tei — three wild, wordy and worldly individuals who hit it big with the bouncy gold single "Groove is in the Heart." That song signified a fun, care-free presence. Then shit happened. Riots. The Persian War. Ecological torment. What's a pro-choice, anti-war, environmentally-aware, politically-correct collective to do? Get real specific. "Vote, Baby, Vote," "I Had A Dream I Was Falling Through A Hole In Ozone Layer," "Rubber Lover" and "Fuddy Duddy Judge" all are significant stabs at mixing maximum groove potential with full-out frontal assaults on serious issues. Within the self-proclaimed "holographic techno soul" of their sophomore release, "Infinity Within," are grooves that move the mind, body and soul without compromise. The result is a blend of technological bliss and inexcusable insanity. This is a good thing. The bad thing is having to deal with HITS' own resident spacecase Brett "Knock On" Atwood, who gets the lowdown from the Lady her bad self.

What's the official Deee-Lite word on mixing politics and groove?

We don't think it's a crime to think and dance at the same time. We like to break stereotypes. I don't think that you have to limit political statements in music to the folk stereotype with Birkenstocks and ponchos. All dance music isn't necessarily brainless disco.

The album cover mentions that "This is a Pro-Choice album." Do you fear alienating part of your fan base with a strong, clear stance like that?

Of course, I do think about that — but I don't express myself through my art just to make money or to chart. Certainly, it would be easier to write about sex or love. I would feel hypocritical singing these songs on-stage if they weren't reflecting my inner thoughts.

What is "holographic techno soul"?

Well, it's technology with a spiritual presence. It's music that reflects the balance of life, the beauty and destruction.

You seem to have a lot of fun with words.

I consider myself a wordsmith. We put together a dictionary of "slanguage" — 376 Deee-Liteful words. Some are our own creations, some are Dr. Seuss-isms and some are colloquialisms that are used around the world.

Have your touring experiences given you a new political perspective?

The concept of "World Clique" was to transcend all international barriers and boundaries — to think of the planet as one. We all share the same sun. Our logo is not an Exxon sign; it is the sun and the moon — Mother Nature. When the Gulf War broke out, it made us think about being more specific. "World Clique" was an invitation to include all five billion members on the planet — animal, vegetable and mineral. It was not an elitest fashion statement. The songs on "Infinity Within" are more specific — particularly because the anti-war opinion was not expressed in the media. We wanted to make our views perfectly clear. How'd you get so strange?

Our influences are constantly changing. Right now, I'm having a love affair with powder-blue! Next year, it will be a different color. There's a big difference between fashion and style. Fashion you can buy and style is something that you don't need money to have. Some of the most stylish people are homeless. I don't believe in fashion fascists and "in and out" lists are definitely out!

What's the "Infinity Within"?

We're asking people to look at themselves and see what actions they take. If money makes the world go around — how are you spending your money? Do you buy products with excess plastics? Have you registered to vote? It's the little things we do. We can't always blame big corporations. We must look at ourselves first. Change lies within the self. That's the infinity within.

Continuing on a politically correct note, your new album is the first to use the Eco-Pak, isn't it?

Yeah, the song, "I Had A Dream I Was Falling Through A Hole In The Ozone Layer," was written for our first album, which we tried to get out on the Eco-Pak, but the record company wouldn't let us. It would have taken four months advance notice. So, rather than be hypocrites, we decided to take the song off the record at the last minute. When it came time to prepare the second album, we asked six months early for the Eco-Pak. It's a matter of being persistent.

Here in L.A., the club scene is currently dominated by the Techno-Rave movement. Do trends like this affect Deee-Lite?

There have been a lot of Techno records that have sampled us. "What Is Love?" was an early Techno record of sorts. The scene is something we are a part of. We have always been influenced by Throbbing Gristle and Kraftwerk — the early techno stuff. Technology has enabled kids to write music in their living room, which has revolutionized the music industry.

What musical direction do you want to explore that you haven't done yet?

Muzak. I hear so much bad Muzak, that I think it would be a challenge to make good Muzak. I want to create something you can jam to on an elevator. ■

ARMY OF LOVERS WANT YOU

AN EXCLUSIVE HITS INTERVIEW WITH ARMY OF LOVERS BY H. LEE DAVID

"I'm into
sex."

LOOKS are deceiving. It's the sound that counts. Many cynical, tone-deaf, nose-picking, fat and ugly music writers will fixate on Army of Lovers' ornate and extravagant costumes and image, ignoring the real story of the Swedish group's lush lavish dance tunes, a sly-like-a-fox mix of styles and beats with razor-sharp hooks. But the hell with that — let's stick to appearances. They look mahvelous! Three fashion plates who probably wouldn't mind if you ate off them. Leader Alexander Bard looks like he just stepped off a Dutch Master cigar box, while co-leader Jean-Pierre Barda is a dark and swarthy bar-mitzvah boy with the attitude of a pirate. And the regal bearing of third co-co-leader, femme fatale De La Cour, verifies she's the reincarnate mistress of French King Louis XVI. Witty and whimsical, effervescent and exhilarating, they are, as their album on Giant Records is titled, "Massive Luxury Overdose." Of course, that couldn't quite prepare them for HITS' own answer to Stuttering John, Major Fashion Risk H. (for "How the hell do I know?") Lee David.

So what do you think about America?

Alexander: It's vulgar... and nice.

Jean-Pierre: Vulgar has a charm too.

De La Cour: We don't consider ourselves vulgar.

Alexander: People think we're so controversial, but we're not! Just what are people saying about you?

Alexander: That we're faggots doing sacrilegious hymns.

Who's telling you that?

Alexander: Radio station people and record company people. But because we sell so many records in other parts of the world, they have to market us. They know if people get a chance to hear it, they'll go out and buy it.

Are you surprised by how closed-minded the radio people are here?

De La Cour: They're being controlled.

Alexander: The music industry is one big animal. You can't get insight into it; you have to go around and watch it eat.

Jean-Pierre: It's a nice surprise that we're making it here. Because they try to push us away as a fake act, faggy and controversial. We're aware of it and we don't expect to be successful in this country, but there's something they should like about us.

Alexander: We're being fought by the fundamentalists. We're all the things that they hate. To start with, we don't have suntans.

Do you really live in castles?

De La Cour: I'm a countess.

Jean-Pierre: There's a lot of royal blood spread out all over Europe.

Alexander: Wait a second! You don't have royal blood. You're Jewish! Jews don't have royal blood!

Jean-Pierre: They do! They do!

Alexander: [Laughs.] Except you don't have any blood at all.

Jean-Pierre: Royal Jewish blood goes back to King Solomon and David. That's where it all starts.

What's your vice of choice?

Alexander: Sex, sex, sex, sex is the only hobby I've got.

De La Cour: It's sex for everybody.

Alexander: You don't get as much sex as I do!

Jean-Pierre: I go for quality more than quantity.

Alexander: I go for quality, too — bad quality. I'm into bad sex.

Who's your perfect partner?

Alexander: Jeffrey Dahmer, I think he's so sexy. I have fantasies about having sex with him — how they'd have to lock him up before I see him because he could be dangerous to me.

What is it you're doing that people respond to?

Alexander: We're continental Europeans, which makes us different to start with. And we write proper songs. It's not rock and it's not traditional pop. The songs themselves are very European. They could only come from Germany or France. We like to use big choruses and things that aren't very happening right now. We don't wait a lot. There's no soul in Army of Lovers and no street. We're being pigeonholed as doing dance music, but we're not really thinking of it in that terms. We just write songs. We don't play live, either. We think live performances are old fashioned. We have the music on tape and just mime.

But it is your voices?

Alexander: Yes, absolutely.

Jean-Pierre: That's the difference between us and Milli Vanilli.

De La Cour: We also write the music and the lyrics.

Alexander: We do everything ourselves. We're control freaks. ■

POST TOASTED By Ivana B. Adored

BEST FRIEND TO ALL: (Note: This column was written after attending only two weeks of Lonn Friend's "Anything You Can Do, I Can Do Better" Seminar).....After staying up all night dishing the dirt with my super-good friend Syd Straw, is it any wonder I received a frantic call the next day saying she left the van-lock to Freddy Johnston's van at Casa Ivana! Sources tell me that Lenny never checks our Fed-Ex shipments, so the lock was

LONN FRIEND:

Ivana's Soul And Inspiration!

overnighted to the Meat Puppets' leader (and longtime pal o' mine) Curt Kirkwood in time for Freddy's show in Phoenix. Thanks to my friend Jamie Kitman for setting up the exchange and for running the happeningest PoMo management company in the biz!..... Speaking of the Kitman stable, the unreleased Pere Ubu album can be yours for a song! Give Jamie a call at (201)-886-8416 and tell him Ivana sent you. Wake up! This one's mega! Kudos to Fontana's David Bates for making yet another brilliant record for the UK label! (I mean, is the Catherine Wheel tailor made for PoMo Radio, or what!).....Mike Mena and Hilary Lerner, y'all rule and you know why! (Could the Reading Festival have anything to do with it?).....Do my keen eyes sense a trend when I see the Metal world embrace bands like Ministry, Faith No More, Soundgarden and Sonic Youth, who were solely considered PoMo in their early careers?.....Speaking of Ministry, will MTV dust off their incredibly lame "Work For Love" clip?.....The more I hear Utah Saints "Something Good" the more I hear HIT.....Great numbers at PoMo radio! Check out "Wavelength" for further details.....RCA megadude Bruce Flohr master-minded an intimate dinner at his Manhattan Beach pied a terre for Michael Penn and KROQ luminaries such as Kevin Weatherly, Jed The Fish and Kennedy. If Penn's brilliant "Seen The Doctor" isn't a hit, I'm moving back to Cleveland! Weatherly and I truly bonded that night. Guess he's stuck with a friend for life! Thanks again, Bruce, dinner was one for the books.....Jeff Suhy laid the Kitchens Of Distinction import on me at dinner AND played me the upcoming Suzanne Vega album. How many ways can I say monstrous! Jeff's busy planning a birthday party for yours truly; guess he's forgiven me for all the times I threw a stapler at his head during my A&M days.....On the HITS 8-track player: Jump In The Water and the 25th of May.

Ivana's favorite PoMo pin-up ('cept for Rick Krim) has graced these pages more times than Teri Garr has appeared on Letterman! Besides making it fashionable for men to have feathered haircuts, what has boy-wonder Bob Waugh done now? Howzabout those numbers in Baltimore, where WHFS is the #1 AOR 25-54, moving to a 3.7 from a 2.4! Or the small crowd (30,000) at the recent WHFS Festival! Have a Happy Birthday, Bob, you've earned it!

IAN MCCULLOCH'S NEW ALBUM, "MYSTERIO," COMES TWO YEARS AFTER

"Candleland," his first solo album since leaving the legendary Echo and the Bunnymen, a departure which deposited no small amount of bitterness in its wake. Particularly galling to McCulloch was the decision of the remaining group members to keep using the name, but that is all very much in the past. Born May 5, 1959 in Liverpool, McCulloch formed his first band in 1977, and Echo and the Bunnymen made its debut in that city in November of the following year. For the next decade, the group had a string of hit singles and albums in the U.K., and a devoted cult following in this country. When McCulloch announced his departure in '88, he went solo with a vengeance, playing most of the instruments on "Candleland" himself. Since then, he's put together a bit of a band, which played on "Mysterio," and accompanied him last December on what was billed as Ian McCulloch's Mysterio Show — And Acoustic Evening. The one-time Bunnymen went head-to-head with another legend, HITS' own one-man Michelin Guide Danny Fields, in the following gastronomical chit-chat.

MAC ATTACK
TIME FOR A CUP OF JOE AND A DOUGHNUT WITH IAN MCCULLOCH BY DANNY FIELDS

WHAT WOULD YOU LIKE YOUR NEXT TOUR TO BE LIKE?

The last one, we did Los Angeles, New York, Boston, you know, the usual kind of thing. But the next one will be slightly longer, and take us more places, like Sacramento. And we're going to Mexico as well.

Don't eat the lettuce.
Really?

Yes, Jhonette from Concrete Blonde almost died from eating a salad in Mexico. What was wrong with her?

Well, she was poisoned with some bacteria. They use human fertilizer or something like that. I think it's not wise to eat the lettuce south of the Rio Grande.

I probably won't eat anyway down there.
I'm not a big Mexican food fan.

You'll have to eat something. Bring canned food, like tunafish.

Why don't they make sandwiches that kind of stay in the sandwich, instead of spewing everywhere?

You could get pita bread. It's sort of sewn up.

But you give it a good chomping and it spews out somewhere else. And you don't get the same breadiness. I have made a few tuna melts at home on pita bread. But when I'm on tour, I tend to eat one thing for the whole tour. I was into buffalo wings once... is it buffalo chicken wings?

Chicken wings, yeah.

I just ate them every day for the whole tour. Once I get into something, I just stay with it, like Peking duck. Though that's difficult, since I like to eat early, well before the show, or not eat at all. You know, I hate when people moan about not eating on tour. You're at the venue, and everyone's saying, "Where's the food?" We're not there to be catered to. Food's got nothing to do with music, I don't think. So basically, I just eat whatever, you know? I'm into oysters. Six oysters, and you're done for the day. And it doesn't feel like you've eaten. You know something's gone in there and that's enough. It seems to be calorie-free, 'cause it's just like some squiggly piece of crap, you know, stuck on the shell. They're good with some Margaritas, although I've stopped drinking at the moment. I just found myself drinking too much, and I wasn't paying attention to what I actually enjoy.

"I'm into oysters. Six oysters, and you're done for the day."

Did other people tell you that you were drinking too much, or is it something you realized yourself?

It always stems from other people, and then you think, "Yeah, he's right," you know? For a while, you kind of think, "Yeah, well, I'm in rock and roll, what do they expect me to do? It's part of the job." And then it only takes a few reminders... I just found myself changing character too quickly, too often and not for the better. I was not being considerate to people. This is getting a bit heavy. Basically, it was just to get myself together. I used to drink a lot, just to show people I could, which is a stupid thing to do.

But it wasn't a case of me being drunk all the time. It was just, if I was bored, I'd go have a drink instead of doing a crossword, you know, 'cause I like doing crosswords.

Have you gotten past people calling you Echo or Mr. Bunnymen?

It's four years since I left the Bunnymen, so I think "Candleland" kind of confused people. I think they expected me to come out with a rockin' album. But I always knew that record was like the epitaph for the Bunnymen, it was the burial ground for all that went before, and this album is like another new start. So, I think four years on, people are gradually realizing I can write stuff on my own, and it doesn't have to hark back to the Bunnymen. I mean, four years is a long time.

What resources did you use to get through the transition?

Friends, I suppose, and people that don't do your head in. Y'know, with "Candleland," I was basically on my own. But it was a lonely experience, and it wasn't the quickest album to make, and looking back, I wasn't having a great time making it. I mean, I thought I was, because I was pleased to be doing it. But with this album, I remember we were laughing our heads off all the time. I just like being in a gang again. So it's basically that. Just simple laddish encouragement, you know?

TIME FOR A CUP OF JOE AND A DOUGHNUT WITH BALLOON

BY ELIANNE HALBERSBERG

UP, UP AND AWAY

Coming soon to a flea market near you: Ian Bickerton and David Sheppard, a.k.a. Balloon, who recently released their debut album, "Gravity" (Dedicated/RCA), an atmospheric blend of sounds, styles and lyrical discoveries. The British duo honed their sound in London pubs and coffee houses, brought together by mutual friends on the music scene. Making tape after tape, they grew from an acoustic duo, to duo with a fiddler, to a full-sized band, and back to duo with a fiddler, before stripping down to a twosome again. As demos proliferated, so did record company interest and eventual signing. Upon the completion of "Gravity" and its release in the U.S., the pair set off on a unique promotional adventure — trekking across the country in a van covered with assorted paraphernalia they have collected along the way, and setting up to play in unconventional places whenever the urge strikes. HITS' own receptacle for hot air, Elianne "Open The Pod Bay Door" Halbersberg, took time out from shagging golf balls on the back nine at Augusta to inhale belium and talk funny with the Balloon boys.

You've been on tour a couple of weeks now. Care to share a few impressions of America's parking lots and laundromats?

Ian Bickerton: We just play to whoever's there. Sometimes it's a couple of kids, sometimes a bunch of people doing their washing. Some stop and listen; others run screaming. It's not easy to do. We've also played barbecues to branch out and get our show on the road. Mostly we like playing for children.

Isn't there a law against that?

Ian: I said for children, not with children! They appreciate our music more than adults. They retain the innocence and childlike thing, which is what we do.

Your van is now covered with assorted items. What are some of your most interesting acquisitions?

David Sheppard: We've got the van loaded with Americana. It looks like a funeral pyre.

Ian: We've got a whole white picket fence and we dug up a grassy knoll. We found Abraham Lincoln, but lost him in Eugene, Oregon with a couple of nickels in his eyes. I believe he was eaten by eagles.

When you first met, what impressed each of you about the other?

David: He was wearing a really great suit.

Ian: He was shorter than I imagined him to be. We were sharing the same cell — brain cell that is — and he was about 5'8", maybe 5'8" and a quarter. We met as teens and we were probably drunk most of the time. Our paths crossed many times at parties, and when we'd go to see bands. We knew of each other before we knew each other and it grew from there. We drifted together and are still discovering common ground. There was no great moment or revelation on the banks of the Ganges. It had a lot to do with desperation.

David: You cling to the person who has not fallen into the 9-to-5 life by age 21. We were the only ones burning to do music.

Ian: It's easier not to do it than to do it. You have to be driven. It's an unthinking thing, a very isolated field. There is a lot of discouragement and you need the subconscious motivation to do it regardless of what anyone else says. It's not even a question of choice. You just do it. A lot of people get knocked out at first hurdle or feel they are kidding themselves, that they aren't really talented. We always felt we were the geniuses we are.

David: That's genii.

Your sound has changed several times over the years. How close is what you're doing now to what you were doing then?

David: In spirit, it is very much the same, just refined and better than it was. From the first time we played together, something worked and that feeling still remains.

Ian: The Balloon sound is characterized by emotional context and atmosphere rather than any style, guitar or drum sound. As a duo, we are fortunate to be able to go in any direction we want and anything we write will fit in the context of our unthinking cry. The great things are unclassifiable and stand on their own. The way that seems to lead backwards actually leads forwards.

"SOME STOP AND LISTEN; OTHERS RUN SCREAMING."

How did you end up recording in New Orleans?

David: That was because of our producer, Michael Brook, who has an affiliation with Daniel Lanois. The reason we went there was musicianship. Michael suggested the musicians there would be adaptable, sensitive and performance-led. It was a gamble and an adventure. We had never been to America before, but it worked, proving it was worth the risk.

Ian: The atmosphere was great. Making a record is about taking chances, and to have a chance is quite rare, so we took it.

David: It was also a chance to use a studio that is not a studio, but Daniel Lanois' house. There are no secretaries; you don't clock on and off. It was very flexible in that sense and suited the way we work — very live, straight to tape, at all hours. It was ideal for us.

Where would you like to be a year from now?

David: Talking to you from the stage of a large auditorium at sound-check. I would like a lot of people to buy our record, hopefully have made a second record, and be playing big places here. Be on the upward curve.

Ian: I want each record we make to be better than the last. ♡

POSTER MODERN

TIME FOR A CUP OF JOE AND A DOUGHNUT WITH POSTER CHILDREN BY JON FINE

Champaign, Illinois' Poster Children have been hidden on indies with distribution problems for most of their career, but now Sire is re-releasing their 1991 LP "Daisy Chain Reaction" and there's an album of new (and even better) stuff on the way this Fall. The mainstream press mentions they've garnered thus far have had a helluva time pinning them down. Some even resort to Zeppelin comparisons (who they at least physically resemble), but I like to think that PC are smart enough to have absorbed lessons from America's more adventurous indie bands and applied them to a straighter format without totally fucking up.

They're also hell to interview, because they're so unfailingly polite it's impossible to get them to say anything terrible about anyone. Jon "Ivana's Not So" Fine cornered the surname-less Posterkids Rick, Rose, Jim and John during a stopover in Hoboken, N.J., where they played an impromptu game of "Spot the Sarcasm."

"I did smoke pot once, but not while I was playing Dungeons and Dragons."

Give us a little background on the band.

Rose: It was really boring having no reason to skip classes, so we started this band back in '87. Rick used to be in bands, but I was a geek. I used to play Dungeons and Dragons.

Did you smoke pot?

Rose: Incessantly.

These are serious questions, and I would appreciate them being treated as such.

Rose: I did smoke pot once, but not while I was playing Dungeons and Dragons. I was going out with Rick's neighbor...

Rick: I was in a band and the bassist kept quitting.

Rose: So I said I'd play bass. He smoked a lot of pot. Had you played bass before?

Rose: No, I just started, but it's real easy.

How did such well-mannered youngsters get into punk rock?

John: I had a friend with eight-tracks of Devo and the Vapors, and we used to slam dance to them in his basement.

Jim: I don't think I can top that.

Poster Children have already chewed through several drummers and guitarists. Are you guys just impossible to work with?

Jim: I dunno. It doesn't seem too bad to me.

Rose: Well, you're Rick's brother. You're used to him.

John: I looove these guys. They're great.

Rose: C'mon, let's hear one complaint that you have.

John: No, I'm just glad to be here.

Jim, did you and Rick fight a lot as kids?

Jim: Sure did.

Who won?

Rick: Actually, we both lost.

After your first record, "Flower Power" (since re-released with extra tracks), it seems like you've been tackling increasingly adventurous material. How has this come about?

Rick: Originally I wrote songs with a lot more structure. But it became blatantly obvious that when everybody worked together, the songs were much better. Now I'm too lazy to write a complete song. If they're going to do it for me, what's the point?

Do you mind when people start stage-diving at one of your shows?

Rick: It's always nice to know the audience is enjoying it, but we have really good shows when there are five people in the audience, too. Musically, we play better when there are less people there, but if it's more frenzied, we often play a really splayed, energetic, but not very precise show. You begin to feel like you're going off track.

You guys have spent an awful lot of time on the road recently. Do you ever get sick of it?

Rick: When we got home after the two months we toured last fall, I was starting to get antsy to go back after a month. Rose and I had these frightening cubicle jobs, so we're grateful to tour.

Rose: If you don't work, it's like, "Oh, touring is so grueling — I have to drive today." But once you've gotten up at 6:30 in the morning to sit at a desk until 5, you don't find it very hard.

May we assume that "If You See Kay" is an oblique attempt to get an obscenity on MTV?

Rick: Yeah... I didn't believe they would show the video! I wrote the song around that phrase thinking that it was entirely original, and someone pointed out to me that April Wine had a song called that, too.

Well, it's definitely cooler than "For Unlawful Carnal Knowledge." How come you guys never use your last names?

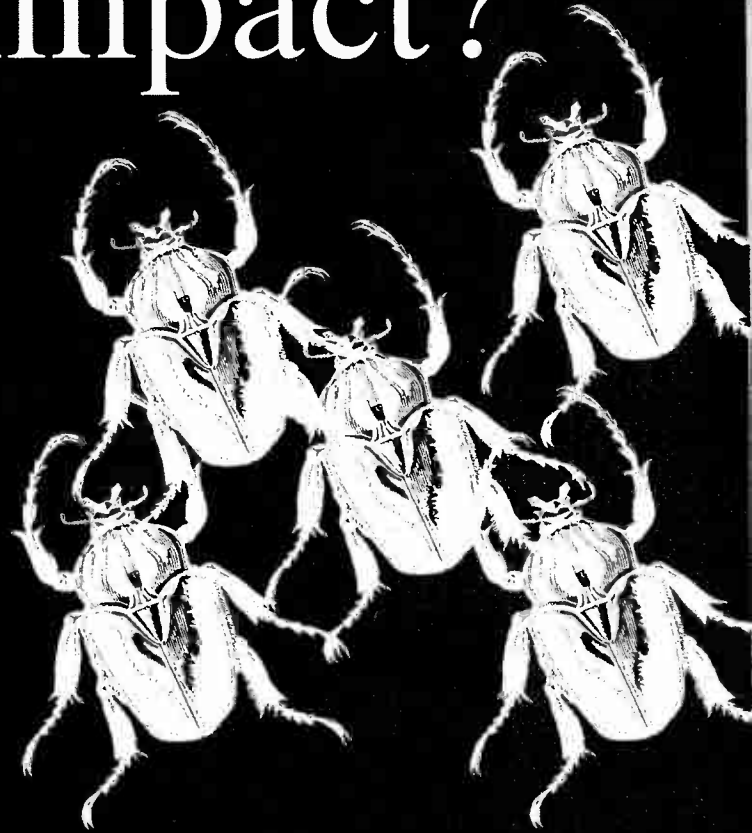

Rick: I don't even remember why.

Rose: I think it was supposed to be more...

Rick: ...friendly. Friendly and compact.

Rose: Yeah, like anyone can do this. ■

POST MODERN

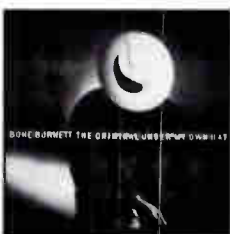

POMO PICKS

Edited by Karen Glauber

Sonic Youth, "Dirty" (DGC): Where Sonic Youth fits in commercially in the post-Nirvana fallout is a question best left for "Newsweek," but music-lovers (present industry excluded) will be heartened to learn that with "Dirty," the Sonics have made the record of their lives, one that grafts the danger and thrill of "EVOL" or "Sister" with the (post)modern maturity of "Goo." Whereas in the past Sonic Youth seemed hellbent on keeping their audience at arm's length — irregular tunings, oblique lyrical content and a healthy distrust (continued...)

Sonic Youth (...continued): of outsiders made them the original dream-pop narcotic, way before My Bloody Valentine and the like — "Dirty," for all its torrents of gtr noise and abrasive growling (courtesy of Kim, who sounds like she's been listening to a lot of Hole around the loft), is a warm, embraceable step forward. Defiance and confrontation are still SY's trusty weapons, but now they want you to join 'em in the battle. "100%," "Sugar Kane," "Chapel Hill," "Creme Brulee" and esp. "Youth Against Fascism" make it easy. (Andre LePlume)

T Bone Burnett, "The Criminal Under My Hat" (Columbia): Practically a legend-by-association, T Bone has been made a household name by the company who keeps him, some of the best known and notoriously difficult artists who have continually called upon his jack-of-all-trades services. His new album will make his presence felt as an artist; his best since the "Trap Door" EP. Using only minimal production and instrumentation, T Bone's laments and lovesongs are starkly vivid portrayals of twisted minds and twisted hearts.

Carter The Unstoppable Sex Machine, "1992 - The Love Album" (Chrysalis/ERG): The last four years or so have hearkened toward a year of darkness, like the one we're in now. "1992 - The Love Album" is a funny (ironic)/sad record that puts life "The Impossible Dream" (from "Man of LaMancha"!), death "Suppose You Gave A Funeral," AIDS "Is Wrestling Fixed?" and issues such as multiple sclerosis "The Only Living Boy In New Cross" into terms perhaps we can swallow a little more easily than the issues themselves. In a very obtuse way, this LP must be love. (Meredith Chinn)

POMO MUGS

THE RAINBOW (CELLULAR) CONNECTION: It's a place where kids come to play and everything's "A-O.K." — until Leeds and Krim crashed the scene! Before security confiscated their cellulators, the two spent a good portion of their time at Sesame Place scouting out the next Kris Kross. They didn't find the next MTV phenomenon, but they did find Emmanuel Lewis, TV's "Webster," stuck underneath some plastic balls. He had been missing ever since his show was cancelled and Michael Jackson dumped him to hang around with MacCauley Caulkin.

ACHY BREAKY ALAN MEETS THE KING: Looking as happy as Charlie Brown are Loz Hardy from U.K. sensation Kingmaker and WBCN PD Oedipus. Good grief! Is it just us, or is MD (and noted author) Carter Alan starting to resemble country singer and Elvis-clone Billy Ray Cyrus? Did he really do the "Achy Breaky Dance" naked in a moment of intoxicated bliss after finishing rewrites for "Outside Is America: U2 In The US?"

DAILY AFFIRMATION, GOD AND DAVE STEWART: Just why is Dave Stewart praying in plaid? Is he happy that the Diva is departed? Is it that Curve cutie Toni Halliday makes him see God? Is he thanking his higher power for lucking into marrying Siobhan Fahey, who is about to score one of the biggest international hits ("Stav") of the year? Maybe he's just praying we won't mention the Spiritual Cowboys. Amen.

READY FOR FREDDIE!

There's a B-I-G song breaking at radio and retail — and you better believe that it's gonna get bigger than Pearl Bailey! The new Freddie Jackson jam, "I Could Use A Little Love," is gettin' serious strokes from industry folks nationwide!

Secret agent 007, Roger Moore, MD at WBLK in Buffalo, NY, sleuths out the truth: "I knew that Freddie Jackson would come back with a slammin', crammin' sho' 'nuff jam! He has yet to let me down!" He likes his jams shaken, not stirred.

Over at Shantiniques in Detroit, MI, Josie Beal testifies, "The new single is doing very well. It's a very sensuous and sexy song. It makes you think about doing things." We here at JAMS wonder exactly what activities Ms. Beal is referring to — many of us are still sweatin' up a storm trying to complete this thought!

Barbara Lewis, VP of Promotion in the Black Music Division of Capitol Records, reports: "Freddie's ready — and when you hear his latest LP, you'll have to agree. This ain't hype!" If you don't believe that this jam is gonna slam it's way all the way to the top, you're probably stupid enough to read this rag mag in public!

Step Johnson, Senior VP/GM of the Black Music Division at Capitol, sums up: "Freddie delivers the most soulful music of this summer."

I was hangin' out with Epic's Clifford Russell the other night. He's rather enthused about Next Issue and their "Dear Mr. President" single, which, upon review, sounds like it could be the next New Edition! Two questions come to mind regarding Cliff: Where does he get those wonderful clothes and is he about to get bumped up in the Epic hierarchy?... Talked to Robert Johnson, owner of Delicious Records in South Central L.A. According to Robert, one cannot qualify for a loan under the following conditions: 1. You owe back taxes. 2. You haven't paid enough in taxes to demonstrate an ability to repay a loan at 4% within the prescribed period. 3. You have a felony on your criminal record despite subsequent good behavior/citizenship. (All felonies are not drug-weapon-related). 4. Your business records were destroyed and, hence, you cannot fill out the SBA forms properly. 5. You can't return to your former location so you pick a new site. The SBA requires that you obtain a demographic assessment of the new location at a cost of $350 and can still refuse the loan based on government criteria (which is what happened to Robert). Dear Mr. President, could the government spare a little kindness and/or gentleness for the hard-working retailers of South-Central?... Over at the Mouse House in Orlando, Jill tells me there'll be a retailers' seminar and a street jocks' seminar at Family Affair '92. Hope you are pre-registered....Viki Williams is back in the Golden State with Greg Mack's KTA in Fresno. Welcome back — they're the best. Later.

Who will Eric Thrasher scoop for Weston's vacated slot? Insider's word is that another gunslinger is about to part for PLG. Could Ronnie Johnson be one of two possible new jacks to swing to New York. If money talks, Johnson walks.... HAZE HEADS TO REPRIS: Lynne Haze returns to Dallas for Southwest Promotion duties after departing a recent RCA west coast regional position.... MIAMI MYSTERY: What's the deal with this Hot 105 rumor involving Max Myrick and Hector Hannibal? IMMORTAL FUTURE FOR MILLER: Breaking rank from the Steve Rifkin Co. is Rap-meister Adrian Miller, who is now "in" at Immortal Records.... Looks like Salt 'N' Pepa and some of the Next Plateau acts are headin' towards PLG. These new acts, as well as the recently acquired Positive K, are makin' the switch as the label's roster multiplies faster than bunnies in heat. All you labels better hope that your artist relations are in order!... COP KILLER 2: Seems as if there's more new controversy than product this week, with Tim Dog leading the pack. His latest video for "Bronx Nigga" won't be seen anywhere — Columbia is refusing to release it due to some controversial scenes. We won't go into specifics, but let's just say that Ice-T would be proud.... What up with this new Willie D rap, "Fk Rodney King"? The Rap-A-Lot release is stirrin' up some major commotion with this full-out assault on King. A sample lyric: "Goddamn sell-out, on TV crying for a cop/ the same mother fkers who beat the hell outcha/ Now I wish they would've shotcha/ Cause this sh is deeper than Vietnam/ And ain't no room for the Uncle Tom," etc., etc. Seems as if this Geto Boy-gone-solo is givin' hard a new name — and it ain't pretty... Another rap song in the crossfire of controversy is "Class In Session," the latest from D.J. Magic Mike on Cheetah. The video has been banned from BET and Fox's "Pump it Up" rap show after review boards complained about the song's lyrics — specifically "put a bullet in the rover" — as potentially inciting violence against police. The song actually mentions a few cops by name, and the video shows expressed concern about possible legal repercussions from this.... The newly freed Luke Records is searchin' for a Sales Manager to handle their newly independent duties. If you are an experienced chart person with national Black Radio promotion experience, contact Luther Campbell (a.k.a. Luke) or Debbie Z. Bennett at (305) 757-1969. Peace.

NASTY-NES: Holding on to his "Heavyweight of Rap Radio" title in the Pacific Northwest, Nasty-Nes continues to stay strong after 12 years of radio experience. His "Rap Attack" show on KCMU is best known for breaking new artists nationally and locally first. Nes balances time between Seattle's only all-rap show in Seattle on KCMU and on-air talent and remix work at top-rated KUBE. It is Nes' Nastymix label that has received attention from the hip-hop community. Sometimes, the attention can cause problems. Says Nes, "I get these phony DJ's who call me up sayin' they got a rap show just to get free product to sell and make money. Together with about 10 other labels, we've gotten together to rid this problem of 'phony DJ's.' In the past two months, we've busted three of 'em!!!" On the strength

SOFT & WARM

STORM WATCH: While our lovely Mistress of the Infinite Moment Kandace enjoys listening to David Black's "Nothing But You" on Bust-It, she often gets in one of those sultry, slow, seductive moods. It's moments like this when you'll find her listening to Nnenna Freelon's self-titled release on Columbia. This is classy stuff. There are some traditional renditions of "Stella By Starlight" and "Black Butterfly" — Sarah Vaughn and Nancy Wilson will come to mind. "Close Your Eyes" and "Angel Eyes" offer a breath of fresh air as Freelon's pure artistic talents engulf your emotions and carry them to a land of bliss. There's even a smooth duet with Grady Tate on "I Fall in Love Too Easily." For Quiet Storm formats that need some variety, this album could be your answer. See ya in seven.

R. KELLY MAKES PUBLIC ANNOUNCEMENT: It was dinner time at New York's Le Madri restaurant, with Jive recording artist R. Kelly in the house to celebrate the success of his first number one R&B single, "Honey Love," and gold album, "Born into the 90's." Also present were: Jive VP of R&B Promotion Varnell Johnson; Chairman/CEO Zomba Group Clive Calder; manager Barry Hankerson and Sr. VP/GM of Jive Barry Weiss. Sharing the celebrating at the restaurant was Tipper Gore, who was seen dining with Sister Souljah and Ice-T as she tries to change her standing in the industry. You can hear secret recordings of that dinner conversation by dialing 1-900-SUCK UP.

SHAFT MEETS THE MACK DADDY: It was a meeting of the macks during the recent Players Ball in Oaktown, where 70's "blaxploitation" kingpin Richard Roundtree (a.k.a. "Shaft"), 90's Ghetto-god Too Short, legendary Antonio Fargas (a.k.a. "Foxy Brown") and acclaimed director John Singleton came together to hear Short's new release, "Shorty the Pimp."

WE RAN THIS PHOTO CUZ WE LIKE LARRY: In honor of the new release by A&M recording artist Larry Springfield, we proudly present to you this joyous Kodak moment. Chillin' with the Polaroid posse are CD's and More owner Seth Tanner, V.I.P. Music owner Alvin Buck Halter, Fortune Records owner Royce Fortune and A&M hysteper Darrin Fahaw.

CHAKA KHAN — THIS WOMAN FEELS FOR YOU: Celebrating her return to the top of the charts is Warner Bros. recording artist Chaka Khan, who is doin' well with "You Can Make the Story Right." Khan recently stopped by the studios of WNOV, where she was joined by air personality Rob Hardy, PD Ernie G., Warner Bros. Co-National Promo Director Hilda Williams and Midwest Promo Manager Kirkland Burke. Khan was chillin' with the crew until Hardy refused to stop rapping Khan's name to the beat of the new Kris Kross tune. Ms. Khan was not amused.

FRIEND TO ALL

Your roving reporter has been roving his tush off this week. Friday, I caught the first GN'R/Metallica/FNM extravaganza at DC's RFK Stadium. Let me just say, the Daily News' Bruce Britt must have had his head up his ass during that show. His merciless (and clueless) slamming of Guns' performance was way out of line. AxI was on 15 minutes after the stage was ready for GN'R. This production is so massive, when Metallica finishes their set, three semis of gear come off the stage — a process that takes 45 minutes to an hour, minimum. I thought the performances were kick-ass, despite the brutal 95 degree heat and withering humidity. Kudos to Jake, Charlie, Opie and the crew for making this circus work... Last night, in Vancouver, Jon Bon Jovi played me six new tracks from the band's forthcoming October release, "Keep The Faith." Regardless of the managerial distractions, these boys have laid down some awesome, cutting-edge music. The 10-minute "Dry County" is phenomenal. Bob Rock looks tired (but still handsome). Today, I'm taking Jon and Richie Sambora to Lollapalooza II — the fun never stops... Speaking of the aforementioned SRO festival tour, my friend Peter Lubin at Giant Merch reports a hearty $10-per-head at the debut San Francisco show... Can you say "smokin'"? Congrats to A&M for a gold "Temple"... Katherine Turman's underground scoop: Caught Raging Slab at Hollywood's English Acid club, where Rick Rubin and Co. were hanging, checking out their very wise (and loud) investment... Across town, the biz were on hand to cheer Sass Jordan's very rocking, heartfelt gig at L.A.'s Roxy, where the Sassy one was supporting DGC's Arc Angels. Finally, Third Stone/Atlantic's way-cool Saigon Kick are seeking a bass player, and SBK has dropped big-buck signing Mozart. (As Lonneroo wisely noted upon hearing Mozart's now-shelved debut, "I told 'em not to fuck with Freddie")... MTV's Democratic Convention campaign was terrific, especially the Dave Mustaine reports. It's good to see the network raising political awareness in this important election year. Well done!... Contrary to rumors, Westwood One is not selling Pirate Radio. Norm and Co. are most likely dumping WYNY but, and I quote, "No way are we selling Pirate." The rumor was apparently started by KLOS. If I were that station, I'd concern myself more with the pending demolition of Mark & Brian by the steamrolling Howard Stern than perpetuating corporate untruths... Later.

Jon Bon Jovi — New record's awesome.

OVER THE EDGE

Heard the Guns, Metallica, Faith show was incredible. Big kudos to Metallica, who proved once again why they get the respect they deserve. With only 45 minutes downtime between Faith and Metallica, Hetfield and Co. slam-dunked a powerful two-hour-plus set. And the Gunners? Hit two hours later. Jeez... Hey, don't try to figure any of this out — it was a death metal show for crapes sakes: Had one of our spies at the Milwaukee Metallfest. Ricki Rachtman got booted off the stage (definitely the wrong crowd and our sympathy goes out to him) as did Keanu (Don't give up your day job, K) Reeves' Dogstar. King Diamond didn't perform, but got best audience response of anyone next to Agnostic Front. Worst audience response but best performance was Scat Opera... Ramones' debut for Radioactive is "Mondo Bizarro," out in September... Trust me babe, it's only seven inches: Polydor signees Quicksand got the opening slot on the hotter-than-a pistol Helmet tour and a gift from their label. The band will be selling their own vinyl singles at shows that will run thru summer's end. Band will personally pocket profits as non-recoupable tour support! Talk about a summer vacation!... Glad it's only a rumor: Trent Renzor from 9 Inch Nails is very much alive... Kiss hosting MTV Headbangers Ball August 1... Mr. Big's live eight-song "Raw Like Sushi 2" Japanese import goes exclusively to metal radio end of August... Contrary to what you may have heard, Saigon Kick is actively looking for a new bassist. Send tape/video/photo/bio UPS blue label to Phil Plaskin, 19705 Hampton Dr., Boca Raton, FL 33434 or call 407/488-1924... Suicidal Tendencies was supposed to be on Dennis Miller July 30th. Very sad to report show's been cancelled... Temple of the Dog!!!!... Love ya Pops.

RADIO KNOB O' THE WEEK

ANN GARRETT, JIMMIE FREDERICK
WBGU, BOWLING GREEN, OH

Co-Metal directors Ann and Jimmie mix some of the best death, hardcore, mosh-pitting metal in NW Ohio. Ann's Friday night "Metal Storm" slams a slew of gut-wrenching tunes and listener requests which "mostly pertain to music or phone sex." Jimmie's "Conflict with Conformity" is named for raising a teenaged (!) daughter. The show has a faithful following of local drunks, delinquents and "other creatures too hideous to mention." A dose of Gwar and strong coffee are Jimmie's only requirements for getting through the day. We love ya!

strikes again with big sales for Clint Black, and Mr. Loverman Shabba Ranks is off to a strong start with his latest.

WHEELS & DEALS

BY LARRY PLAYER

The Lollapalooza tour started in S.F. last weekend. Among the highlights were the Chili Peppers' smokin' set, Ministry (they will explode out of the tour this year the way Nine Inch Nails did last year) and the show's M.C. Ice T, who got a huge response and brought local hero Jello Biafra on stage to ramble on about Tipper Gore, etc... Major weaselfest at Tramps last week for the farewell show of the wonderful Family Stand. Patrick Clifford, Sue Drew, Peter Lubin, Michael Galelli, Peter Koepke, David Massey, Kenny MacPherson and Holly Greene were on hand to try to sign lead vocalist Sandra St. Victor to a solo deal... What's going on at Sony UK? Managers Nick

Love Fest

David Lowery: L.A. is his lady.

Wechsler and Danny Heaps have not only taken on the fabulous Soul Asylum, but Alison Moyet, Fishbone, T Bone Burnett and Screaming Trees... Arista A&R weasel Tom Sarig jumps to TVT... Sonic Youth's "Dirty" is blowing out the doors at record shops... Danzig is about to ink a huge pub deal... New John Kalodner project Jackyl features an awesome chainsaw solo... The new Brand New Heavies album is epic! Each track has a different rapper, including Black Sheep, Main Source, Gang Starr and new Delicious

Vinyl signing Phar Cyde... Jill Berliner's phone is ringing off the hook. She represents MC 900 Ft Jesus and Swell... Publishers Kenny MacPherson and Kathleen Carey got together and signed Maria Muldaur's daughter Jenny, whose new WB LP was produced by Russ Tittleman... Quote of the week: "I'm tired of playing fking L.A. There's nothing but industry geeks here!" Cracker leader David Lowery at the Palace... Jumbo buzz around former Neil Young guitarist Anthony Crawford... Biggest weaselfest of the week in L.A. was the soiree for the unnamed group featuring ex-Jellyfish guitarist Jason Faulkner and former 'til Tuesday members Jon O'Brien and Buddy Judge. In attendance were Gary Gersh, Tom Whalley, Jeff Aldridge, Bennett Kaufman, Karen Dumont and Jody Gerson, among other curious execs. The lowlight of the evening was definitely attorney Alan Mintz joining the group on-stage to play keyboards. Talk about clearing a room!... Danny Elfman's Little Maestro Music reaches a publishing agreement with Zamboni Songs, owned by Elfman's longtime manager Mike Gormley... Remember S.F.'s legendary jingle-jangle popsters Translator (who recorded for Howie Klein's 415 label)? Word is they're on the verge of getting back together... The new Sundays disc is finished and sounds great! It'll be out in October... Hal Willner will be producing music for Robert Altman's new film, "L.A. Shortcut." The soundtrack will be on Imago... The Suede sweepstakes continue as Geffen, Interscope, East West, Columbia and London exchange fisticuffs over the pop group's services... Led Zep bassist John Paul Jones producing Butthole Surfers... Watch for an ultra-credible east coast group to sell out in a big way.

Title
"All Over The World"

Label
Chaos

Legendary Kingston harmony reggae duo, lead singer Winston "Pipe" Matthews and Lloyd "Bread" McDonald, makes its stateside debut as the first record from Columbia Records' new imprint. The group combines hard-core reggae and rock-steady riddims with cutting edge R&B grooves to create a global sound which includes covers of the Stones' "Sweet Black Angel" and Kate and Anna McGarrigle's "Heartbeats Accelerating." Matthews and McDonald were contemporaries of Bob Marley, Peter Tosh and Joe Higgs, scoring several Jamaican chart-toppers on the Tuff Gong label. The album includes such special guests as famed toaster U-Roy, the Brand-New Heavies' vocalist N'Dea Davenport and Snap lead singer Penny Ford.

Suggested Cuts

"All Over The World" has a modern dance feel which could overcome Top 40's traditional resistance to hardcore reggae music.

Comments:

Guest analyst is New York Mayor David Dinkins, who said, "I don't need any more Chaos around here. Now will you pass me that spliff?"

Title
"Mind Fruit"

Label
Atco/EW

This mysterious U.K. foursome features an exotic lead singer known simply as Kirsty and a sound that combines the elements of England's rave and sound system scene with New Age ambience. While recording samples of chirping birds in a Hertfordshire forest, the group's Kevin Dodds, Ian Munro and Nigel Walton overheard Kirsty singing as she traipsed through the woods. The classically-trained musician, the daughter of an English TV theme composer, joined the trio and recorded a single, "It's A Fine Day," the cover of a song originally recorded in '83 by a singer named Jane for the U.K. indie Cherry Red label. It immediately became a British club smash. Kirsty is best-known as a member of England's Spiral Tribe, a rave/hippie commune that made headlines for underscoring the homeless problem by "legally" squatting in abandoned buildings.

Suggested Cuts

"It's A Fine Day" is already garnering significant adds at pop radio.

Comments:

Said Dinkins: "It'll be a fine day when I get that nudge Koch off my back."

Mo' Money. That seems to be on everybody's mind today and, with the soundtrack heading up the charts and the movie getting set to open next weekend, customers of Abbey Road are getting an opportunity to show their skills by entering a display contest with the opportunity to win 50 tickets to see "Mo' Money" at a local theatre. Other prizes include up to $300 in Abbey credit and a limited edition "Mo' Money" T-shirt to all accounts who turn in pictures. While Abbey and all other one-stops have numerous display contests, what makes this special, according to Director of Marketing Ron Simms: "While we want all accounts to get involved in the promotion, we're really trying to target urban accounts and are doing a special mailing to them on this one." Simms and Abbey L.A. GM Sam Ginsburg held a meeting recently with the distribution and label regional urban marketing reps in an effort to work with them on finding ways to get urban accounts more involved in marketing ideas, and, according to Simms, "This is the first opportunity that came up." Any account wanting to get involved will receive a discount on the product, the Abbey Advantage product guarantee and the appropriate display materials.... Record & Tape Trader's Ross Hewson reports that this year's HFS Fest, held last Saturday at Prince George's Equestrian Center outside of Washington D.C. and featuring the Soup Dragons, Graham Parker, Charlatans UK, Catherine Wheel, They Might Be Giants and Wolfgang Press, was a huge success. "It's the most organized event of this size I've ever seen, much more than Lollapalooza." Hewson reported that his chain benefited twice from the show; they sold over 7,000 tickets before the show and then "lots of product" by the featured artists in the first few days after the festivities ended. Tickets were only $7, with part of the proceeds going to charity.... Major Elvis fanatic Kathy P. Gordon, major label buyer at Select-O-Hits in Memphis, was disappointed to hear that Priscilla Presley will receive #1 of the numbered Elvis box set at a special ceremony on August 15, commemorating the anniversary of the day the King died. She hoped that a consumer (or her) would have a shot at the first in the series..... Major chain retailers and mass merchants hoping for a big bump in sales (and customers) this week with the release of Hook, the first sell-through title on home video being released this year. L.A. chains are pre-selling the $24.98 list title for under $19..... Body Count continues to sell strongly in indie stores around the country, possibly due to the fact that over 1,500 major chain stores will not sell this controversial title.... Top three records at almost every indie account this week are Megadeth, Ministry and Danzig, with Too Short and Clint Black not far behind at many.....

THEY SEE DEEE-LITE: Elektra Records artists Deee-Lite celebrate the release of their new album, "Infinity Within," at Suzanne Bartsch's simply fabulous drag queen ball and H. Ross Perot fundraiser at the Roxy in New York City. Here, the band are seen extolling the joys of crossdressing to label VP/CFO Aaron Levy (l), who reveals he's wearing lycra underwear and a garter belt underneath his suit, shocking the following (l-r): Deee-Lite's DJ Dimitry Brill and Lady Kier Kirby; Chairman Bob Krasnow; Sr. VP Urban Music Ruben Rodriguez; and Sr. VP Promo. RICHARD "Don't Call Me Dick" Alden.

TWO FINGER EXERCISE: The Queen of Soul, Aretha Franklin (l) and producer John Barnes (r) show off the remarkable artificial digits they received from Sy Sperling's Latest Offshoot, "The Finger Club For Men and Women," in which worn-out members are replaced. Or, they could be giving the IQ of the braindead editor who thought up this inane caption. Actually, they're touting the release of the Capitol Records soundtrack album for the Paramount film, "Bebe's Kids," on which they're appearing along with Arrested Development, King Tee, Phil Perry, Maxi Priest, the O'Jays and others.

JACKSON FIVE: Rev. Jesse Jackson (l) joins with rappers (l-r) Hen-Gee, Evil-E, Kid Frost and Young MC as well as the Crenshaw High School Choir on "The Arsenio Hall Show" to sing "City of Fallen Angels," the single released by Frontline Spirit Records to benefit the First AME Church in South Central L.A. Unfortunately, the guys showed up at Dennis Miller's studio instead, so no one saw the performance.

As of presstime, Noble Communications lawyers were drawing up an official contract to present to one Elvis Duran. All signs are that Mr. Duran will sign the contract later this week if the terms (read money and bonus structure) and protections hit paper as they were negotiated, but you never know. We'll have the final score for you next week.... Also at presstime, it was learned that both PD Sunny Joe White and APD Jerry McKenna had been let go by WZOU Boston, in what appears to be an immediate management reaction to the latest Arbitron ratings. Consultant and former KCBQ San Diego PD (a long, long time ago) Jack McCoy is handling interim chores, while a PD search begins. Also rumors abound of a format change.... Those of you who still think the Post Modern format won't work should check the following Arbitron numbers: WFNY Boston 1.8-2.5, WBRU Providence 2.7-4.2, 91X San Diego 4.5-5.7, WDRE Long Island/NY 1.7-2.1 and WWCD Columbus 2.1-4.2 (18-24).... KRTH Los Angeles signs Robert W. Morgan for mornings and "The Real" Don Steele for afternoons, reuniting the legendary Boss Radio KHJ duo.... Q106 San Diego and newly relocated OM/PD Tracy Johnson are searching for an MD.... At WGTZ Dayton the PD derby continues. By the time you read this, former KEGL Dallas MD Jimmy Steal will have been in for an interview. Louis Kaplan is also alive in this one, but our sources tell us it's still wide open. GM David Macejko is the man in charge.... WZOK Rockford PD Sean Phillips has resigned as of the end of next week. MD

For those of you who think promo guys are lowlife, do-nothing, know-nothing slugs with miserable lives, we offer the following photo. That's right fans, ERG promo domo Ken Lane may spend his days kissing up to single-celled radio weasels from Wyoming, but he's the one holding Chynna Phillips. Think about it!
