WITHIN the amplitudinous confines of the spacious Memorial Auditorium, in the beautiful and historic city of Chattanooga, the Thirty-sixth Annual Convention of the American Federation of Musicians convened on Monday, June 8, 1931.

Two hundred and sixty-four delegates faced President Joseph N. Weber at the sound of his gavel at 2 o'clock on Monday afternoon.

The weather was warm—ideal corn weather—and there was no preliminary parade. To have forced a band to march up the hill on such a day would have been an infliction of "unusual and unnecessary punishment" which the fundamental law of the land forbids.

When the convention had been called to order President Weber turned the gavel over to Lester D. Cohn, Chairman of the Local Convention Committee, who presided over the opening ceremony.

Rev. Dr. James L. Fowle, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, delivered the invocation, which breathed the recognition of the beautiful and healing ministry of music in human life.

Mayor E. D. Bass, humbly confessing that he could not whistle a tune, nevertheless bespoke for the convention a week of harmonious deliberation, and gave a hearty welcome in behalf of the city.

President E. D. Walsh of the Chattanooga Chamber of Commerce, in the course of his cordial greetings, declared that "this should be the most important convention the organization has ever held, on account of the issue that faces you in the canned or embalmed music that we all object to so much."

President Paul Aymon of the Tennessee Federation of Labor and President M. H. Ortwein of the Central Labor Organization each expressed sympathy with the purpose of the convention and promised co-operation in the furtherance of its ideals.

Some people have the idea that a convention like the one herein reviewed is for the special purpose of legislative enactment and that failure to multiply laws in large number is a sign of indifference to duty.

There could be no more fallacious doctrine. Law-making is for the purpose of conserving human and property rights and not for the purpose of fad-exploitation. In the light of this precept let us examine the work accomplished. The number of resolutions introduced was fifty-eight. The number adopted was seventeen; substitutes adopted, six; referred to International Executive Board, six; withdrawn, five; lost, twenty; disposed of by previous action, four.

The matter uppermost in the majority mind is the industrial depression which pervades all lines of activity and is not only national, but world-wide in its scope. There were those to declare that the time was ripe for constructive action on the part of the Chattanooga Convention. There was an opportunity for the presentation of any kind of cure-all which any delegate desired to propose. But when the American Congress is baffled in all efforts to provide a speedy remedy—when all organized agencies—commercial, industrial and sociological—are practically agreed that we must abide our time until the natural forces of supply and demand have in some degree overcome their paralysis, it becomes quite clear that excessive legislation will provide no satisfactory papacea.

In the face of our disturbing times it was a conservative and not a radical convention.

The crying need of Federation membership is that of becoming posted on A. F. of M. affairs by reading the official reports which are laboriously prepared for their edification. The Committee on President's Report sounded a resonant keynote for Federation enlightenment when, in the conclusion thereof, it said: "We would respectfully urge upon every member that he carry back to his home local the exhortation of this committee, that he read with care and digest as thoroughly as possible the contents of our President's report."

Among the propositions earnestly and vigorously debated may be mentioned the proposal to eliminate the 2 per cent theatre defense fund tax. The convention decided the move was inopportune.

There was also a proposal to end or greatly minimize the advertising campaign. Out of the discussion came the settled conviction that the Federation must keep its place in the sun—even in troublous financial times and the campaign will be continued another year under the discretionary supervision of the National Executive Board.

Further along in the columns of this issue of the International Musician, and in subsequent issues as far as necessary, the detailed story of the convention work will be found.

The work of the convention was greatly expedited by taking a half day only for entertainment purposes instead of the full day so often demanded by local committees.

As a result of this time saving the convention was able to conclude its work in the late afternoon of Friday.

Following the final report of committees the newly elected officials were given the obligation by Delegate James F. Kenney of Boston; President Weber gave a brief concluding address, and the Thirty-sixth Annual Convention of the American Federation of Musicians was at an end.

The Mayer Memorial Hour

CONVENTION PAYS TRIBUTE TO DECEASED VICE-PRESIDENT

An impressive memorial service in honor of the late Vice-President William L. Mayer occurred at the hour of half-past four o'clock Thursday afternoon. Delegate Chas. L. Bagley presided. There was a large audience present and all seemed to deeply feel the spirit of the occasion.

The memorial program opened with the rendition of "Asa's Death," from "Peer Gynt Suite," by Greig, and played by a string sextet under the leadership of Delegate Al A. Green of Detroit—the six players being: Lester D. Cohn and John Casale, first violins; Louis Slabosky, second violin; Mrs. L. C. Dame, viola; Harold Cadek, cello, and Earl Van Arsdale, bass.

The music was played with fine artistic interpretation and feeling.

Delegate Harry M. Dunsbaugh of Youngstown, a friend of years, tenderly reviewed that intimate relationship and gave a beautiful word picture of the day of the final rites.

The string sextet then played Taischowsky's "Andante Cantabile."

Delegate Chairman Bagley recited Bryant's "Thanatopsis"—a poetic view of Death which will always have a fixed place in our American literature and which reads as follows:

THANATOPSIS

To him who in the love of nature holds
Communion with her visible forms, she speaks
A various language; for his gayer hours
She has a voice of gladness, and a smile
And eloquence of beauty; and she glides
Into his darker musings with a mild
And healing sympathy, that steals away
Their sharpness ere he is aware. When thoughts

Of the last bitter hour come like a blight
Over thy spirit, and sad images
Of the stern agony, and shroud, and pall,
And breathless darkness, and the narrow
house,
Make thee to shudder, and grow sick at heart—

Go forth under the open sky, and list
To Nature's teachings, while from all around—
Earth and her waters, and the depth of air—
Comes a still voice: Yet a few days and these

The all-beholding sun shall see no more
In all his course; nor yet in the cold ground,
Where thy pale form was laid, with many tears,

Nor in the embrace of ocean, shall exist
Thine image. Earth, that nourished thee, shall claim

Thy growth, to be resolved to earth again;
And, lost each human trace, surrendering up
Thine individual being shalt thou go
To mix forever with the elements—
To be a brother to the insensible rock,
And to the sluggish clod, which the rude
swain

Turns with his share, and treads upon. The oak
Shall send his roots abroad, and pierce thy mould.

Yet not to thine eternal resting place
Shalt thou retire alone; nor couldst thou wish

Couch more magnificent. Thou shalt lie down
With patriarchs of the infant world—with kings,

The powerful of the earth, the wise, the good,
Fair forms and hoary seers of ages past,
All in one mighty sepulchre. The hills,
Rock-ribbed, and ancient as the sun; the vales

Stretching in pensive quietness between;
The venerable woods; rivers that move
In majesty, and the complaining brooks,
That make the meadows green; and, poured round all,

Old ocean's gray and melancholy waste,
Are but the solemn decorations all
Of the great tomb of man. The golden sun,
The planets, all the infinite host of heaven,
Are shining on the sad abodes of death,
Through the still lapse of ages. All that tread

The globe are but a handful to the tribes
That slumber in its bosom. Take the wings
Of morning, and the Barcan desert pierce,
Or lose thyself in the continuous woods
Where rolls the Oregon, and hears no sound Save his own dashings—yet the dead are there;

And millions in those solitudes, since first
The flight of years began, have laid them down

In their last sleep—the dead reign there alone.

So shalt thou rest; and what if thou withdraw
In silence from the living, and no friend
Take note of thy departure? All that breathe
Will share thy destiny. The gay will laugh
When thou art gone, the solemn brood of care
Plod on, and each one as before will chase

His favorite phantom; yet all these shall leave
Their mirth and their employments, and shall come
And make their bed with thee. As the long train
Of ages glides away, the sons of men—
The youth in life's green spring, and he who goes
In the full strength of years, matron and maid,
And the sweet babe, and the gray-headed
man—
Shall one by one be gathered to thy side
By those who in their turn shall follow them.

So live, that when they summons comes to join
The innumerable caravan that moves
To that mysterious realm where each shall take
His chamber in the silent halls of death,
Thou go not like the quarry slave at night,
Scourged to his dungeon; but, sustained and soothed

By an unflinching trust, approach thy grave
Like one who wraps the drapery of his couch
About him, and lies down to pleasant dreams.

Executive Officer Chauncey A. Weaver of Des Moines, official colleague of Brother Mayer for a dozen years, delivered the following eulogy:

Mr. President, Federation Members and Friends:

In this quiet hour, tremulous with tender memories, the impulse is to cry out with Tennyson, who, when the full force of the personal loss sustained in the passing of his beloved Arthur Hallam, fell upon him, exclaimed:

"Oh, for the touch of a vanished hand,
And the sound of a voice that is still!"

We have turned aside from routine deliberation for a little while for the purpose of paying tribute to a stalwart personality, who for nearly a quarter of a century had been closely identified with the major activities of the American Federation of Musicians. His creative powers were unselfishly dedicated to its upbuilding. His thought and influence found concrete expression and were skillfully interwoven into the very warp and woof of the Federation fabric. Their golden threads will gleam as a stabilizing element of its texture in the coming years.

When the message came that William L. Mayer, our Vice-President, had answered the final summons, it seemed as though foundations were being shaken; that a great corner-stone had been moved out of its place. But on second reflection a sense of security came. Our departed brother was not one of those who build just for today; but for tomorrow. He belonged to that worthy classification of sociological architects of whom it has been said:

He builded better than he knew,
The conscious stone to beauty grew.

William L. Mayer was born with music in his soul. There was no struggle necessary on his part to comprehend its mysteries. No persuasion outside himself was essential to discover and appreciate its beauties. As the unfolding years came, one after another, he discovered an affinity between the harmonic elements within himself and those which permeate the external and natural world. He knew—

The harp at Nature's advent strung,
Has never ceased to play;
The song the stars of morning sung,
Has never died away.

Herein lies the secret of his wonderful powers—not only as a player, but as an interpreter.

Natural aptitude, coupled with eagerness to learn, was the keynote of an ever broadening culture, which gave to the profession of music the well-rounded symmetrical type of manhood which the American Federation of Musicians came to know, and to admire and to love.

Brother Mayer's natural capabilities were so many-sided he might have easily achieved eminence in any profession to which his inclination had been turned.

THE CHATTANOOGA CONVENTION

How distinctive would have been the loss to music had he chosen otherwise!

He was not only an organ-player, but an organ-builder. In the latter role he could erect the framework, adjust the pipes and set the keys; and then fairly lose himself in the spiritual glow of the artist under whose skilled touch the instrument is made to sound forth the music of the Masters.

It was in Pittsburgh, his home of many years, where the genius of Brother Mayer reached its finest flowering, and where as long-time President of Local No. 60 he made the record and paved the way for a call to the wider fields of Federation service. Organ-builder, organ-player, teacher, musical director and natural born executive, he brought dignity and character to every position called upon to fill.

Of his manifold activities, quite familiar to us all, we take occasion for one specific reference—his twenty years' service as Musical Director of Western Pennsylvania Institute for the Blind. No attendant upon the Federation Convention, held at Pittsburgh in 1920, will ever forget those Institute pupils—boys and girls with sightless eyes—moving across the stage of their darkened world, with faultless precision, speaking and singing as happily and harmoniously as though children of the light—and all intuitively responsive to the Master Spirit, who from the orchestra pit was their Director and Guide.

It was as a colleague on the National Executive Board of the American Federation of Musicians for a period of a dozen years we came to know William L. Mayer best. What a superb equipment he brought to the discharge of an important task! Those who are familiar with Federation polity know that the duties of the National Executive Board are not only administrative, but judicial as well. The problems are often as complicated as those with which modern courts are called upon to deal. To their solution he brought clearness of insight, lucidity of reasoning and a finality of conclusion which he was ever able to convincingly defend. Pervading all discussion was a kindness of spirit which illustrated his ability to be generous, while also being just. He made a place for himself at the Federation council table which will not be easily filled.

On a certain day the sweetheart of his youth, the wife of his adult years, the mother of his children, the faithful sharer of his joys and sorrows, was suddenly taken from him. This was a bolt from the azure blue from which he could not recover. It was a wound which the caressing touch of time could not heal. From that fateful hour those closest to him realized that his own sunset could not be so very far away.

On Tuesday morning, March 21, 1931, they laid our friend and brother away—amidst a wilderness of flowers.

As we review the life and achievements of a personality like William L. Mayer, and in the contemplation thereof reflect upon the seemingly unsolved and unsolvable problems of human destiny, what conclusions are we justified in seeking to draw?

Hamlet, in one of those rare moments when a rift in the clouds of melancholy which often enshrouded him, catches a glimpse of personality at its best, and exclaims—

What a piece of work is man! How noble in reason!

How infinite in faculty! In form and moving how express and admirable! In action how like an angel! In apprehension how like a God!

And when we behold a specimen of manhood like William L. Mayer, physically cast in Nature's finest mold; in professional life going about his task with consummate mastery; refusing to become a recluse in any one line of activity, but exploring all realms offering possibilities of additional culture; sparing no pains to acquire the art of speaking other languages as fluently as he spoke his own—with all this equipment sweetened and enriched with a spirit which found joy in service and reward in the appreciation of his fellow men—before such a type of human kind are there yet those to sound that minor chord of human perplexity—"Does Death end all?" Is such a mind a mere candle-flame to be extinguished by some fitful wind-gust of destiny?—a star to radiate its clear white light for a season and then be swallowed up in the impenetrable shadows of eternal night?

From Alger's "Doctrine of a Future Life," recently reviewed, there is one paragraph which we are moved to quote here:

"If we are utterly to die with the ceasing of breath then there is an amazing want of symmetry between our endowments and our opportunity; our attainments are most superfluously superior to our destiny. Can it be that an earth-house of six feet is to imprison forever the intellect of a Laplace, whose telescopic eye, piercing the unfenced fields of immensity, systematized more worlds than there are sands upon the ocean shore? The heart of a Boromeo, whose seraphic love expanded to the very limits of sympathetic being? The soul of a Wycliffe, whose undaunted will, in faithful consecration to duty, faced the fires of martyrdom and never blenched? The genius of a Shakespeare, whose imagination exhausted worlds and then invented new? There is a vast incongruity between our faculties and the scope given them here. On all it sees below the soul reads—'Inadequate, and rise dissatisfied from every feast, craving with divine hunger and thirst, the ambrosia and nectar of a fetterless and immortal world. Were we fated to perish at the goal of three-score years and ten, the Infinite would have harmonized our powers with our lot. He never would have set such magnificent conceptions over against such limited possibilities, nor have kindled so insatiable an ambition for so trivial a prize of dust to dust.'"

O, Victor Hugo, thou hast spoken wisely—"The tomb is not a blind alley. Though it begins in darkness, it ends amid the splendors of the dawn!"

Following the Weaver eulogy, the Convention arose and remained standing for one moment while the strains of "Old Lang Syne" were being softly played.

President Weber's gavel sounded. Delegates and friends went out. The life service of William L. Mayer had become a permanent part of Federation history.

CHATTANOOGA LOOKOUTS

Local No. 80 had long been anxious for an opportunity to entertain a national convention of the American Federation of Musicians. Defeat did not quench that aspiration. Finally at Boston last year the invitation was accepted. When convention time rolled around this year Local No. 80 had a membership of only seventy. The Local rallied to its task with a zeal which would have been a credit to an organization many times its size. Entertainment was carried forward under a general convention committee composed of the following members: Lester D. Cohn, chairman, Ralph Miller, John T. Mahoney, Sidney Shallett, E. R. Van Arsdale, Mrs. G. A. Van Arsdale, Wallace W. Cash and E. A. Rankin. The committee performed its work exceptionally well and may rest assured that delegates and visitors returned home in a highly appreciative frame of mind over the untiring efforts expended in their behalf.

Delegates who had been somewhat apprehensive over the brand of weather that Tennessee might provide for convention purposes in the month of June were most agreeably surprised. With the exception of the last day the weather was almost ideal.

Delegates and guests from Illinois to the Chattanooga Convention were entertained on Wednesday of Convention week at a dinner, details of which were arranged by W. F. Groover, President of the Illinois Conference; James Petrillo and Emil Borrie of Chicago, E. C. Wascher of Champaign, A. Keifer of Peoria—Mr. Keifer being one of the original organizers of the A. F. of M. Other guests present were Mrs. Petrillo and son Leroy, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Leeder of Springfield, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jones of Danville, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Ehr Gott of Jacksonville, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Schiltz of Aurora, Alfred G. Rackett of Chicago, Clayton Laumier of Sparta, Everett Henne of Mattoon, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Stein of Waukegan, Clark F., Charles W. and Elbert Mason, also of Waukegan.

We wish California would hurry up and get Mooney pardoned.

William F. Canavan, President of the I. A. T. S. E., was a fraternal delegate from his organization and was well received in two addresses delivered at the beginning and at the end of Convention week.

Delegate William Bailey of Local No. 5, Detroit, was unable to attend the Convention on account of the serious illness of his father.

One of the results of the Chattanooga Convention was the addition of a new member to the National Executive Board in the person of C. L. Bagley of Local No. 47, Los Angeles, who was elected Vice-President to succeed the late W. L. Mayer.

There was a spirited contest between Bagley and James C. Petrillo of Local No. 10, Chicago. The final count showed Bagley 319; Petrillo 229. It was no disparagement of the exceptional work which President Petrillo has accomplished in the Chicago jurisdiction; but the Convention recalled twenty-three years in which Bagley had been an untiring worker for the Federation and the many years in which he had served with high ability as chairman of the convention law committee. The delegates were determined, therefore, to give this evidence of appreciation of long and valuable service.

President William Green of the American Federation of Labor journeyed all the way from Washington to deliver an address on the opening Convention day. We believe it to be one of the finest addresses we have ever heard from President Green. It was plainly to be seen that he is an earnest student of current industrial problems and is doing his best to blaze a trail out of the present wilderness of turmoil and unrest.

On Tuesday afternoon the Convention responded to an appeal of the Local Entertainment Committee and visited the summit of Lookout Mountain. It is a delightful spot—fraught with undying interest as the scene of one of the great battles of the Civil War, and as a vantage ground from which to see far afield over surrounding territory which constituted the dramatic arena in which the conflict over human slavery on American soil was fought. It was a memorable afternoon for the delegates.

The Convention was startled and saddened on the second day by the announcement that Delegate James A. Saxby of Local No. 71, of Memphis, had very suddenly passed away at 7 o'clock that morning. His co-delegate, Joseph Henkel, summoned a physician, but Brother Saxby was no more within ten minutes after the doctor's arrival. Angina pectoris was pronounced as the cause of death. Brother Saxby was secretary of his home Local and was a delegate to the Boston Convention last year. He was 49 years of age, and leaves a wife and two sisters, Miss Lavina Saxby and Mrs. W. J. Phelan.

Delegate Frank Field, of Local No. 52, South Norwalk, Conn., who, by the way, is assistant postmaster in his home town, has just completed twenty years' service as Local Secretary, and upon retirement from the position was made recipient of a beautiful gold watch as a token of local appreciation. Frank found Convention attendance a delightful means of spending an assistant postmastership vacation.

There was much regret that Delegate Daniel Bruno, a duly elected delegate from Local No. 802, New York, was unable to attend the Convention on account of a severe illness.

One of the delightful features of Local entertainment was the concert given by Chattanooga musical talent on Sunday evening before Convention opening at Memorial Auditorium. The concert was arranged in honor of the delegates and visitors. Among the participants were McConnell Erwin, municipal organist; Lee Greene Guley, pianist; Alvin Blumberg, violinist, and J. Oscar Miller, conductor. The Cadek Choral Society rendered selections from "The Rose Maiden." President Joseph N. Weber spoke on "What the American Federation of Musicians Means to the Art of Music." The entire program was a most creditable presentation and reflected high musical standards for the community.

Fraternal greetings came from far and wide—showing that former delegates and members love to keep in close touch with the major workings of the organization.

The golden apples of California proved as tempting as the apples of ancient Eden.

It was a kindly providential dispensation which tempered Tennessee summer heat to the comfort of the Convention. There was a marked minimum of complaint about weather conditions.

While the Convention was in session the Tennessee Legislature reaffirmed its disbelief in the evolution theory—although this may have been a mere coincidence without analogous signification.

The phrase, "In Sunny Tennessee," has been invested with a new significance.

Southern hospitality has a charm which time cannot wither or custom stale.

Omission of the opening day parade was marked by a singular absence of protest.

Speaking of summer resorts, we shall always recall the attractiveness of Lookout Mountain.

You may rend, you may shatter the vase if you will, But the scent of the moonshine yet clings to the still.

The Chattanooga newspapers knew the Convention was there.

From Boston to Los Angeles, with Chattanooga as a halfway station, shows a majestic sweep of the Convention pendulum.

Paul Whiteman's Orchestra Equipped 100% With "MASTER METAL MOUTHPIECES" FOR SAXOPHONES. Why the Master? We call them the "MASTER MOUTHPIECES" because: With them and through them a player can do everything better than with any other mouthpiece on the market. They are made of one piece and being seamless provide a solid foundation for the vibrations to radiate from. They are absolutely sanitary. The teeth rest on a hard rubber inlay exclusive in our mouthpieces, eliminating the germ carrying glued-on soft rubber patch. A new style, single screw ligature assures an even pressure acting directly on the reed. Pat. Pend. Used and Endorsed by Paul Whiteman's Saxophone Section. A Flute Classic Made by an artist, for artists; with an understanding heart, and a practical appreciation of an artist's critical exactness, is this flute classic from the House of Selmer. Low register tones are as mellow as moonlight, with maximum volume capacity. In high register is that bird-like sweetness characteristic of the true flute voice. Easy to play; a marvelous key mechanism with many Selmer improvements; adjustments of watch-maker delicacy; perfect tuning and scale accuracy; balance; wonderful workmanship; and withal, sturdy, durable construction. These Selmer made silver flutes, used by many of the finest flutists, come in several models, including the custom made Les Model coin silver instruments. Write for illustrated literature and prices. There is nothing equal to a Selmer.

A Happy Death

"What! Hawkins dead!" exclaimed the chaplain to the warden. "Why did you not send for me?"

"Well, sire, it was midnight," replied the officer, "and I didn't like to disturb you—but I managed it all right myself."

"'Awkins,' says I, 'you have been a bad 'un.'

"'Yes,' says he. "'Awkins, you can't expect to go to heaven."

"'No,' says he. "'Then you must go to the other place.'

"'Yes,' says he. "'And, oh, 'Awkins,' says I, 'how thank-ful you ought to be to have anywhere to go at all.' And so he died peacefully, sir."—Ex.

Knew Himself

A Negro boxer was to fight a heavy-weight champion. When he reached the ring it was noticed he hung back.

"It's all right, Sambo," said his second. "Just you say to yourself, 'I'm going to beat him,' and you will win."

"That's no good, boss," replied Sambo. "I know what a liar I am."—Ex.

It Couldn't Err

"Do you know, my dear," said the young husband, "there's something wrong with that cake. It doesn't taste right."

The Cherry Tree

Where with our Little Hatchet we tell the truth about many things, sometimes profoundly, sometimes flippantly, sometimes recklessly

Letters from Mexico bring news of the Mexican labor movement—good news.

The passing of Obregon, with its concomitant unjust accusations against Mexican union leaders, brought parlous days to the movement.

By no means fully do we appraise or appreciate the courage and the stability of the leaders of that movement in that dark hour. They refused to run. In dignity and with faith in the rightness of their movement they stood silent while the storm raged.

The storm passed, as it was bound to. News of today is that the Mexican Federation of Labor—the Crom—is building back with amazing speed.

At the head of the movement there is the same Luis N. Morones, the rock of Gibraltar of that movement that has fought its way out of peonage, the main-spring of revolutionary faith in Mexico and the balance wheel of those tremen-dous forces that rebelled against the old order with little pattern by which to build the new.

Morones still leads—the man who has braved everything for the wage-earning masses of his country and who, more than any other Mexican, has understood the United States and interpreted los Americanos del norte to his people.

That this revival of growth of trade unionism in Mexico is good news will be understood by all who have watched the course of events in Latin America and by those who understand the value of inter-national understanding in this hemi-sphere.

The letters that come from Mexico tell of thousands flocking into the unions af-filiated with the Mexican Federation of La-bor, convinced through the supreme test of experience that nothing else can so effectively serve the interests of the workers.

Mexican organized labor battled brave-ly against the fantastic Portes Gil pro-posal for state control of labor, standing for freedom in a time when it was not easy to oppose the government's plans.

The highest tribute that can be paid to the Mexican Federation of Labor is to say that it has stood unflinchingly, under-standingly and with scant resources for true trade union principles, for the right of labor to direct its progress toward its own destiny and against every movement calculated to undermine either labor or the Republic.

It is regrettable that diversity of speech prevents a constant and complete flow of information back and forth, for were that not the case we should have more of con-tact and understanding and more of rea-son to know the unity of these two great movements in everything that is funda-mentally right.

So little comes from Mexico in these days that it is worth while to take this space to contemplate progress south of the Rio Grande. It seems probable that no movement of labor anywhere is gain-ing membership strength more rapidly just now than the Mexican Federation of Labor.

Mexico is no less troubled than other nations by the world depression and growth is consequently the more remark-able. It rests upon one thing and one thing alone—realization by the workers that in the trade union movement and there alone lies hope.

The United States is about due for its own great tide of inflow to the unions. And when it comes we, too, shall have news for the world. It won't be long!

Dishonesty

One never knows how many dishonest folks there are until he tries to collect a debt due him. "You know Percy Jones? I lent him $10 about a year ago, and I simply couldn't get him to pay it back. Last week I heard he had started a debt-collecting agency, so I thought it would be a good joke to write asking him to collect the $10 he owes me."

"Well?"

"Now I've got a letter from him saying that he's collected the amount, but it was such hard work that he's compelled to charge me a fee of $12."—Ex.

Taxi Driver—Where shall I drive you, sir?

"Yes, sir."

"Well, don't drive me there; that's where I live."—Ex.

Oh!

An inquirer asking Rastus about his native village:

"Rastus, how many people live in this town?"

"Bout 4,000 people, suh."

"How long you lived here, Rastus?"

"Bout 40 years, suh."

"How many people when you came here?"

"Bout 4,000 people, suh."

"You mean to tell me there were 4,000 people 40 years ago, and only 4,000 now? Hasn't the population grown? Have no people moved in; no babies been born?"

"Yes, suh; yes, suh—babies been born, but you see, it is this way: Every time a baby is born, someone leaves town."—Ex.

GASOLINE TAX ROBBERY

By FRANKLYN WOLFE

The odious and burdensome gasoline tax is widening in scope and growing more irksome as the years pass. Legislators intent on raising vast amounts of money, much of which will be wasted and much devoted to sheer graft, are passing more and more laws and advancing the impost.

The average retail price of gasoline has decreased more than 48 per cent in ten years, while the gasoline tax rate has increased 2,650 per cent, adding 13 to 52 per cent to the price of fuel. These two facts are the highlights of a survey recently made in fifty representative cities of the nation. On March 1, 1931, the average retail price of gas, exclusive of tax, was 14.46 cents per gallon, as compared with 28.25 cents in 1921. The average tax was 3.86 cents per gallon, as compared with .0014 in 1921, when only sixteen States taxed gasoline.

Some States are now collecting the excessive rate of 6 cents for gasoline when that amount exceeds the actual cost of the product. If the householder should go to his grocer and be told that sugar was 10 cents a pound and this was divided as 4 cents for the sugar and 6 cents for taxes there would soon be a revolt.

Last year the States collected $522,110,961 from the tax, a new high record, despite the fact that less gasoline was used in 1930 than in 1929. This represents an income of about $1,400,000 a day and takes no account of taxes collected by counties and municipalities.

Gasoline producers, through increasing efficiency, have been saving motorists money that the States have been busy taking away. "High prices of gasoline" today are largely "high gas taxes."

One way to arouse the apathetic and long suffering public would be for the consumers to organize a protective league. They could agree to buy only from stations in sympathy with the move to fight high gasoline taxes.

Each station would then be required to display a sign, which the league might provide, setting forth in plain words the amount of the tax on each gallon and such comment on it as might be made in well-chosen and emphatic language. We would like the job of writing texts for filling station bulletin boards. It would be a lot of fun—and it might make somebody think.

"Only fools are certain, Bobby; wise men hesitate."

"Are you sure of that, Pop?"

"Yes, certain of it."—Ex.

Tourist—Is it an offense to park on Main Street in this town?

Native—No, sir; by gum, if you kin park on Main Street here it's a miracle.

Judge (in Chicago)—The officer said you were doing sixty miles an hour.

Defendant—Yes, sir. But I had just stolen the car.

Judge—Oh, that's different. Case dismissed.

As the Worker Sees His World

Summary and Digest of Important Events Here and Abroad.

Striking employees of the newspaper Excelsior in Mexico City were reported on June 13 to have closed the plant and placed pickets outside, who were later reinforced by the police to prevent anyone from entering the building.

The number of bank suspensions in May was greater than for any month since January, and the dollar volume of deposits involved was likewise greater than in February, March or April, the Federal Reserve Bulletin for June reveals.

As a result of drought conditions in the Northwest, reported as even worse than last year, Senators Walsh of Montana and Caraway of Arkansas have announced they will press for a special session of Congress to deal with the emergency.

The New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad is prepared to start seaplane passenger service between New York and Boston if there is definite demand for it, it was announced at the road's offices in New York City recently.

Contending that the agreement of the New York City Board of Education to grant credit to students who complete courses in Bible study constitutes a violation of the spirit of the principle of the separation of Church and State, the Teachers' Union has formally protested against the board's action.

Fire caused property damage totalling $499,739,132 in the United States in 1930, according to data just compiled by the National Board of Fire Underwriters. This tops the loss of 1929 by $40,286,354 and is the highest damage in any year since 1926.

"FLESH" MUSIC FOR FREE ACTS NECESSARY FOR ARTISTIC PURPOSES

(The Billboard—June 27)

Much has been written pro and con about mechanical and "flesh" music to accompany free acts at parks, fairs and celebrations. True, there are thousands of musicians who have been "at liberty" since the "canned" element came into being, but the economic factor, while containing certain merits as an argumentative basis, is hardly a fair plea with which to attempt to seduce, beguile or persuade managers of attractions for these parks, fairs and celebrations.

More important, more fortifying, sounder and more sincere is the argument relating to artistic values. "Canned" music is hardly to be recognized as consistent with artistic performance. In motion pictures it has alienated thousands of patrons (who, in the final analysis, must be the judges of output), so that the flicker moguls last year were forced to curtail or abandon completely their program of musicals and operettas. In ballrooms one notes the dancers take to the floor in droves when the band is on stage, but diminish in numbers in cases where mechanical or radio music is used as an alternate. It must occur to even the least resourceful of impresarios that this "tin-foil" music such as put forward by them in their enterprises may be had similarly in homes, neighborhood auditoriums and social clubs.

We have deviated somewhat from our theme: "Flesh" music to accompany performers. It is a maxim of the profession that music must follow performers' movements, but nowadays, strangely enough, it is the performer who is forced to follow the music bursting forth from loud speakers or recording apparatus. This artifice, which protagonists are pleased to call synchronization, is predicated on the presumption that performers are automatons, robots and modern miracles; that the routine at the night show is a facsimile of the matinee show. The operator of the records has been known (as who will deny?) to make futile attempts to "pickup" and to follow the routine, an attempt which most generally is followed by an absurd variety of squawk or musical babble emitting from the sound box, same falling flat on the ears. On occasion the operator doesn't time the finale chord to cue in with performers' fall-aways, breakaways, "blowoffs" or whatever finish the act calls for. Even the worst brass band never falls into this pitiful category.

The musician deserves to be restored to the scheme of things, and most certainly acts are enhanced and beautified by "flesh" accompaniment. Personally, life-blood of the profession, needs resurrection. Revision should commence at once.

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS Of the Thirty-sixth Annual Convention of the American Federation of Musicians

Opening Session

MEMORIAL AUDITORIUM

Chattanooga, Tenn., June 8, 1931.
Convention called to order by President Weber at 2 P. M.

President Weber introduces President Lester Cohn of Local 80, Chattanooga, Tenn., our host. After the invocation by the Rev. James L. Fowle of the First Presbyterian Church, President Cohn welcomes the Convention to this city. The manner of his welcome left no doubt in the minds of those selected to represent their locals of its sincerity.

The Hon. E. D. Bass, the mayor of Chattanooga, is introduced. He extends an official assurance of our welcome to Chattanooga and calls attention to all that is at our disposal.

The President of the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. E. D. Walsh, is presented. He calls attention to the importance of our Convention at this time and his remarks are well received.

Bro. Paul Aymon, President of the Tennessee State Federation of Labor, assures the American Federation of Musicians of the appreciation of the Labor movement of the South of its having selected the South for the seat of its Convention this year after an interval of twenty years, and trusts that a shorter period of time will elapse ere we again repeat to this section of the country. The speaker expresses his belief that the end of the depression is in sight and assures the representatives that organized labor is with the A. F. of M. in its fight on "canned music."

The Central Labor Body of Chattanooga, through its President, Bro. M. H. Ortwein, welcomes the Convention to this city.

President Weber responds to the speakers. He reviews the result of the efforts of the American Federation of Musicians to raise the standard of life of its members and the furthering of the art of music, and points out specific instances wherein its success cannot be questioned.

The Convention is called into business session by President Weber.

 Mid-year meeting of the INTERNATIONAL EXECUTIVE BOARD called to order by President Weber at 10:00 A. M.

Present — Mayer, Brenton, Hayden, Weaver, Greenbaum, Birnbach, Henderson, Kerngood.

Matters of interest to the Federation are discussed.

The Board considers Case No. 705, claims of Members Jay Klopfenstein, Earl Covault, Al Costanzo of Local 58, Ft. Wayne, Ind., and Arthur Tenglund of Local 690, Hornell, N. New York City, Dec. 4, 1930.

Meeting of the International Executive Board called to order by President Weber at 10:00 A. M. All present.

Charges preferred by Local 802, New York City, against Members Francis Knopf and Arthur Hirsch of Local 802, New York City, and Joe Estren of Local 234, New Haven, Conn., for violation of the laws of the A. F. of M. is considered, and on motion the charges are sustained and fines of $50.00 each are imposed on Members Francis Knopf, Arthur Hirsch and Joe Estren.

Consideration is given to Case No. 184, claim of Member W. H. Slayden of Local 257, Nashville, Tenn., against Member Bob Finlay of Local 665, Miami, Fla., for $100 alleged to be due him. On motion a claim of $11.33 is allowed.

A voluntary committee of seventeen members of Local 802, A. F. of M., is granted an audience and its members address the Board on the subject of some possible relief for the unemployment situation and the form of government of Local 802.

The subject of one day off a week, taxing those where substitution is impractical, is discussed.

Opinions are voiced by Members Jules Coccozza, D. Florio, Jos. Maruca, Albert Pearl, Weiser, Lang, Beggs.

The consensus of opinion is that it would not be advisable to change the present form of government at this time, as the interests of the membership have been properly safeguarded by the present regime and by the present personnel of the Governing Board.

It is alleged that at such meetings of the body at large as are now held in the jurisdiction of Local 802, it is impossible for a member to get respectful attention despite all the efforts of the chairman.

It is the unanimous opinion of the delegation that an election of officers would not result in the selection of as competent a set of officers as now hold office by appointment of the Federation under the articles of association.

It is pointed out that the clamor for self-government is very largely due to the prevailing opinion that if complete local autonomy is granted, the unemployed will put through laws that will divide all employment opportunities, such as theatres, etc., and that the local itself would assign members for short periods of time.

In answer to question it is stated that no intimidation has been indulged in to induce the signing of petitions to continue the form of government at this time.

A further consensus of opinion is that something must be done to contribute to the relief of the unemployed.

The committee retires.

The Board considers Case No. 129, appeal of Members Neil Gilham, Frank Bashore, Joseph N. Vence, John E. Brice, Edward W. Hendricks, Jr., Anthony J. Vivaldo, George D. Edmunds and Gordon Thompson of Local 456, Shamokin, Pa., from its action in imposing fines upon them. On motion the appeal is denied, but the amounts of fines are reduced to $100 for Neil Gilham and $50 each on Members Frank Bashore, Joseph M. Vence, John E. Brice, Edward W. Hendricks, Jr., Anthony J. Vivaldo, George D. Edmunds and Gordon Thompson.

An application for reinstatement of former Local 591, Philadelphia, Pa., is referred to the Treasurer for investigation and recommendation for disposition to the Board.

The Board considers an application for remission of $750.00 balance due on fine of $1,000 of Member Abe Salinger of Local 77, Philadelphia, Pa. On motion the total amount of fine is reduced to $500.

An appeal for financial assistance of the Textile Workers is considered and on motion the sum of $500 is donated.

The Chicago Opera Co. sets forth that the arrangements for its tour were completed before the change of scale was made by the last Convention and, therefore, it should not be bound by said action. The Board concurs in the contention.

The President is authorized to finance the cost of an appeal to the higher courts in an action in the jurisdiction of Local 561, Allentown, Pa., which affects the interests of every local.

Recess taken at 1:00 P. M.

On motion the appeal is sustained.

An appeal is considered from Member Johnnie Mullaney of Local 10, Chicago, Ill., from an action of Local 11, Louisville, Ky., in imposing a fine upon him. The case is read in its entirety. On motion the appeal is sustained without prejudice to the rights of members who received notice of termination of services presenting claims for balance due by reason of the engagement lasting for less than ten weeks for them.

Request of Local 436, Lansford, Pa., to place the parish of St. Joseph's Church, Summit Hill, Pa., on the National Unfair List is on motion denied.

Ohio; Leon Ketchum, Local 5, Detroit, Mich.; Jack E. Lawrence, cond. member, No. 4833; O. R. Henderschott, Local 166, Madison, Wis., for performing a theatrical season engagement for less than the scheduled rate of wages.

Y., from an action of that local in the matter of charges preferred against Member Ernst Luz, and wherein the appeal was denied. On motion the former decision is reaffirmed.

The Board considers the question of a modification of the form of government in Local 802, New York City, N. Y., which came before the Board by the appearance of committees favoring and opposing modification, as well as by the receipt of petitions containing thousands of signatures and opposing changes.

The Board holds that by reason of existing circumstances, a change in the form of government of Local 802, which was given to the New York musicians at their own request, is not advisable at present.

For a proper supervision of the local it is suggested to the Governing Board that the jurisdiction of the local be zoned and a proper number of business agents be appointed to supervise the interests of the local under the direction of the Governing Board.

The President is directed in conjunction with the Governing Board and authorized committees to lend all aid in the emergency situation and use for this purpose all other agencies as in his opinion may be helpful in this direction.

The unemployment situation is thoroughly discussed and all locals are urged to lend all aid in the emergency situation and to use for this purpose all practical agencies that may be available.

Changes in Laws, Effective August 15, 1931

THE following was included in legislation enacted at the Thirty-sixth Annual Convention of the American Federation of Musicians, held at Chattanooga, Tenn., June 8-12, 1931, and will become effective on August 15, 1931:

Section 2A of Art. X, By-Laws, is amended to read as follows:

Every application to a local for membership must be referred by such local to the International Executive Board wherever:

1. Such applicant at any time theretofore was a member of the American Federation of Musicians or any of its Local Unions, except he lost his membership through non-payment of dues and assessments, and did not follow the profession between the loss of membership and application for reinstatement; or

2. Such applicant at any time has committed any act contrary to the provisions of the Constitution, By-Laws, Standing Resolutions or orders of the American Federation of Musicians or of its International Executive Board.

Art. X, Sec. 37, By-Laws, was amended to provide as follows:

Any member who solicits FROM or accepts an engagement with an organization, BOOKING AGENT OR INDIVIDUAL UNFAIR TO the American Federation of Musicians may be fined by the local in whose jurisdiction he committed the offense or by the International Executive Board a sum not exceeding $100.00 or be expelled from the Federation, or both.

The last paragraph of Art. XI, Sec. 3, Paragraph A, By-Laws, is amended to read:

Members found guilty under this section cannot, without the consent of the Federation, return to the jurisdiction wherein they offended, to play a permanent engagement as members of the same orchestra or band for a period of two years next after conviction. In each instance before enforcement of this provision a local must secure consent of the Federation.

Art. XII, Sec. 2, third paragraph, By-Laws, shall read as follows:

Members of the American Federation of Musicians who are not as yet entitled to a transfer card and fill a traveling engagement in the jurisdiction of a local for a longer period than one week, and for this reason are obliged, in accordance with the laws of the Federation, to deposit a transfer card, but who, by reason of the law which provides that a member must be affiliated with the Federation at least six months before he becomes entitled to a transfer card, cannot deposit same, shall receive from the local in whose jurisdiction they play the traveling engagement a working permit, after paying the current dues of the local, which said permit shall only cover the engagement in question and shall immediately expire upon the close of same. If during the engagement the member becomes entitled to a transfer card in conformity with the laws of the Federation, he must immediately procure and deposit card with the local in whose jurisdiction he fills the engagement.

Art. XII, Sec. 10, By-Laws is amended to read as follows:

Members of the Federation who, either individually or as members of a band or orchestra, play engagements of LESS THAN ONE WEEK in the jurisdiction of any local, on demand of the local whose jurisdiction they have entered, must identify themselves as members of the Federation by submitting their membership cards to the local for inspection. If they fail or refuse to do this, they may be fined by the local a sum not exceeding $5.00.

Members of bands or orchestras other than those traveling with theatrical companies playing engagements OF ONE WEEK OR MORE shall not later than thirty-six hours after they begin same submit their local membership or transfer cards to the local for inspection and at the beginning of the second week deposit their transfer cards with the local and are obliged to pay dues from the time they entered the jurisdiction; PROVIDED, THAT NO MEMBER SHALL BE REQUIRED TO PAY DUES

MORE THAN ONCE TO THE SAME LOCAL IN ANY ONE QUARTER. Members traveling with theatrical companies must identify themselves with the local house leader or a representative of a local during the first day of their engagement, etc., etc.

The law governing Conditional Membership is amended to read as follows:

Traveling musicians desiring to become members of the American Federation of Musicians shall make application for membership, accompanied by recommendation and endorsement of the authorities of some local of the American Federation of Musicians, AND THE SECRETARY OF THE AMERICAN FEDERATION OF MUSICIANS SHALL ISSUE A CARD ENTITLING SUCH APPLICANT TO CONDITIONAL MEMBERSHIP ON PAYMENT IN ADVANCE OF $1.00 PER MONTH OR THE UNEXPIRED PORTION THEREOF FOR THE MONTHS OF THE YEAR DURING WHICH CONDITIONAL CARD IS GRANTED. ALL CONDITIONAL CARDS SHALL EXPIRE EACH YEAR ON JUNE 30TH. (Balance of Section 15 to remain as at present).

In the rules governing traveling orchestras, Art. XIII, Sec. 10, of the By-Laws, the second part of paragraph C is changed to read:

A contracting member or leader, as the case may be, must, if requested by the authorities of the local union in whose jurisdiction an engagement is played, allow the local, if it desires, to collect the money for the engagement, and pay the members of the band or orchestra, provided, that where the local believes that the law is in some manner being violated, it shall have the right to demand that the contracting member or leader SHALL DELIVER (IN PERSON OR OTHERWISE) TO THE LOCAL SECRETARY WITHIN 48 HOURS AFTER DATE OF COLLECTION (AS STATED IN CONTRACT OR AFFIDAVIT), and to hold for such limited period as it may decide, subject to the approval of the International Executive Board or President, the 30% in excess of the local scale as provided in Sections 9 and 10 of this article.

The laws governing Traveling Bands in Art. XIV, are amended by adding the following:

A contracting member or leader, as the case may be, MUST, in every case, either before, or within two days after the engagement is played, submit his contract to the Local Union in whose jurisdiction the engagement is played, or in the absence of a written contract, file a sworn statement, fully explaining therein the conditions under which the engagement is played, together with the names of members who played same and the locals to which they belong. The Local Union in the jurisdiction where the engagement is played, shall also have the right, independent of any other provision herein, to compel the contracting member or leader to submit to it his contract or to make the affidavit above required when there is no contract, but the failure of the local to take such action shall not relieve the contracting member or leader from complying with this action.

The following Standing Resolutions were adopted:

The International Executive Board is instructed to advocate through our locals and all affiliated bodies that State laws be enacted, setting up State examinations for teachers of music throughout this country and Canada of a nature that would compare well with the examinations of other professions, without which no one could give service for remuneration, in order to preserve our culture and eliminate objectionable, detrimental and unfair competition.

The American Federation of Musicians endorses the action of the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor demanding the repeal of the Volstead Act, and instructs its locals to support the American Federation of Labor Committee and to become active, in conjunction with affiliated bodies in their respective territories to influence their Legislators, Congressmen and Senators in the successful culmination of such effort.

The 1932 Convention will be held in Los Angeles, Calif., beginning June 13th, 1932.

Starving in the Midst of Plenty

"MEN and women are starving in this State," declared General President MacDonald of the California State Building Trades Council, in a sensational speech at a mass meeting of Santa Barbara trade unionists.

Mr. MacDonald said fruit is permitted to rot and fruit trees are being destroyed with the approval of government officials as a means to check large crops. He declared that wage cutting continues.

"There has not been enough protest about unemployment," said the trade unionist. "In the San Joaquin Valley hundreds of thousands of tons of fruit are left to rot. Right now they are cutting fruit trees with the sanction and approval of the agricultural officials of Uncle Sam, who are advocating such reduction of the crop. Uncle Sam bought a lot of wheat to bolster up the price and there it lies in the government warehouses. All this is taking place while men and women starve.

"I have been hoping that the worst had been reached, but if this wage cutting is not stopped I fear next winter will be worse than last winter.

"They have been using the anti-combination law against trade unions, but when it comes to price fixing, the law against combination does not apply.

"We are confronted with a situation under which we are manufacturing so much that men and women must starve. Could anything be more illogical?

"There is but one solution. Labor must get a larger share of its product. This is now openly advocated and admitted by the heads of leading churches who recognize that there must be a readjustment of the profits of industry in the direction of giving labor a larger share."

Out Beyond the Surf--

Where thought, unhastened by necessity or trepidation, sometimes penetrates to truth. Here, where the shallows throw no spray, let us ponder and enjoy the lessons of the art and the work and play of life.

It is not easy to think in calmness of the present depression and its effects on the humanity of the nation.

A few men are "sitting pretty," taking toll on the sufferings of great masses.

Bankers issue solid statements about solutions, as if they had a right to pretend to wisdom after the wreckage they have so largely helped to make.

The truth is that after what has happened there is scarcely one of the big bankers or one of the so-called big authorities on economics that ought to be worth taking a second look at, after what they have done.

"Cheats" in big letters ought to be written over their front doors.

"Liars" is not too bad a name for a lot of them.

And the report goes whispering along that every here and there a decent business man goes to his banker for a loan and is told, "you can have it if you cut your wages so and so much."

It is strange how many bankers try to show people how to be saved through cutting wages. There are four million wage earners in the United States who get less than the average wage. That means they get less than $1,308 a year and most of that four million get less than $1,000 a year.

The strange thing is that if the wages of these workers were to be brought up to the average of all wages it would at the most add only a trifle over 4 per cent to the factory price of things. The chances are that the higher wage would produce greater efficiency and so offset entirely the cost of the raise.

But look at the human betterment it would mean! And yet bankers talk about reducing wages.

Advocating wage reductions is about the slimiest, most miserable thing that can be done today. If there is any such thing as patriotism in the industrial phase of national life, this wage cutting business is its basest betrayal.

The maladjustment of industry has thrown more than six million out of work. At least another four million are impoverished and degraded by totally inadequate wages. That is a total of ten million direct victims of maladjustment.

To cut wages would add more millions to the roll of victims.

Have we not had enough of this hideous destruction of human happiness and well-being?

Isn't it about time to start hot-foot for increased wages?—C. M. W.

New York, N. Y.,

Mr. Joseph Weber, President,
American Federation of Musicians,
Mr. Harry S. Kennedy, President,
Chattanooga Musical Society.

Dear Brothers:

I regret exceedingly that I cannot accept your very kind and cordial invitation to attend the Thirty-sixth Annual Convention of the Federation of Musicians, in Chattanooga. I wish, however, to extend to you and to the delegates my sincerest good wishes for a successful consummation of this Convention.

I think I would be amiss if I merely confined myself to a few banal greetings. I think that in this time of stress, to musicians and to the whole world largely, it is only right that we should try to face conditions as they are without any sugared coating. I personally feel that music in America has reached its turning point and I have a fond hope that the future cannot help but bring greater music with ameliorated conditions to those in this country who make music.

With fraternal greetings to all of you, I am,

Sincerely yours,

BORIS MORROS.

Mr. G. B. Henderson,

Canadian Executive Officer, A. F. of M.
Chattanooga, Tenn.

Dear Bro. Henderson:

Will you be good enough to have spread upon the Official Proceedings our greetings to the delegates assembled and confidence that still further progress will be accomplished in the interests of Federation members by this Convention.

With kindest personal regards, I am,

Yours faithfully,

H. L. SARGEANT,
Secretary, Local 276, Sault Ste. Marie,
Ontario, Canada.

Decatur, Ill.,
June 6, 1931.

Mr. Joseph N. Weber, President,
A. F. of M.,
Chattanooga, Tenn.

My dear Joe:

I regret to say that at the last moment I find circumstances are such that it will be impossible for me to attend the 1931 Convention.

To say that I am disappointed would be putting it but mildly, as I have been looking forward with pleasurable anticipation to again greeting and again meeting with my old friends and comrades.

However, while I am unable to be with you in person I am and always will be with you all in spirit and wish you all a most pleasant time and a most successful convention.

Convey to all my old friends and the delegates to the Convention my most sincere regards and well wishes for their happiness and good health.

Most sincerely and fraternally yours,

C. P. HOUSUM.

P. S.: "Somewhere I think I hear the call of the BIG DOGS, or is it fantastic fleeting fancy coming out of the mist of happy years gone by."

To the Thirty-sixth Annual Convention,
American Federation of Musicians:
Local 47 cordially invites you to name Los Angeles as the Convention city for 1932.

To the President and Delegates, American Federation of Musicians, in Convention Assembled, Chattanooga, Tennessee:

Greetings:

It gives me pleasure to join with the local members of your organization in extending you a cordial invitation to hold your 1932 Convention in this city.

Los Angeles has achieved a national reputation as a convention center. We are well equipped to entertain large assemblies; every facility for the comfort and convenience of delegates and their many friends is afforded here. Further, the Olympic Games will be held in Los Angeles next year and will provide worthwhile entertainment for convention guests.

Assuring you of our desire to cooperate in making your Convention, if held here, a success and one of pleasant memories for all who attend, I remain,

Yours sincerely,

W. J. SANBORN,
Acting Mayor.

Los Angeles, Calif.,
May 21, 1931.

To the President and Delegates, American Federation of Musicians, in Convention Assembled, Chattanooga, Tennessee:

It is my pleasure to extend to your Association the greetings of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and a cordial invitation to make Los Angeles your host city next year.

We can assure you that you will find our city an ideal meeting place, with every facility for the convenience and comfort of convention guests, and much that will delight and entertain you.

It will be our privilege to cooperate with your local members to make your Convention, if held here, a success and one of happy memories for all who attend.

Very truly yours,

J. A. H. KERR, President,
Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

The Chairman presents President William Green of the American Federation of Labor to the Convention.

An enthusiastic welcome is accorded Bro. Green by the delegates assembled. In his usual forceful and inspiring manner Bro. Green held the interest of the Convention, its members sitting in rapt attention throughout his address, and at its conclusion rising and properly expressing their full approval of his utterances.

President Weber expresses our thanks to Bro. Green and assures him that our membership stands ready to make every sacrifice to maintain a cultural wage for the wage-earner.

Bro. William Canavan of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees and Moving Picture Machine Operators is introduced to the Convention by the Chairman. A very interesting address is made by Bro. Canavan and a cordial welcome is extended to him by the delegates assembled.

INTRODUCTION OF RESOLUTIONS RESOLUTION NO. 1—LAW

RESOLUTION NO. 2—LAW

Resolved: That in all cases where a charge of 30 per cent extra must be charged above the local scale applying, any member or members who shall be convicted and fined for any violation or violations of the International Constitution or By-Laws of the Federation shall forfeit the amount due under the 30 per cent charge. The forfeiture shall be in addition to any fine that may be levied. Such monies as may be forfeited shall accrue to the International Federation general fund and to the Local Federation bringing charges upon which the conviction is based, in equal amounts.

E. D. GRAHAM,
Local 375.

RESOLUTION NO. 3—LAW

Resolved: That when a local secures the conviction for violation of any national law in its jurisdiction, at least 10 per cent of the fine imposed shall be given to the local.

RESOLUTION NO. 4—GOOD AND WELFARE

Whereas, the following resolution was adopted by the Thirty-fifth Annual Convention of the American Federation of Musicians, June, 1930:

Resolved, That our National Executive Board is hereby instructed to advocate through our locals and all affiliated bodies that State laws be enacted, setting up State examinations throughout this country and Canada of a nature that would compare well with the examinations of other professions, without which no one could give service for remuneration, in order to preserve our culture and eliminate objectionable, detrimental and unfair competition; and

Whereas, Music is the universal language of the people of the world and is used to express as many moods as there are reflections of the races of this mundane sphere; and

Whereas, What is music to one person is merely a cacophony of sounds to another, and vice versa; and

Whereas, Certain most expert performers of instruments know nothing of the theory of music, and, on the other hand, many persons well educated in harmony and composition do not perform creditably on instruments; and

Whereas, Certain musical engagements are filled by instrumentalists who are more valued for their vocal ability and personality than for perfection on their instruments; be it, therefore,

Resolved, That as the only real test of a musician is his ability to please the audience for which he plays, it is impracticable to establish an examination that would be fair to all the members of the musical profession; and, be it further

Resolved, That this Convention go on record as rescinding the action of the previous Convention on this subject.

OSCAR APPLE,

RESOLUTION NO. 5—LAW

Resolved, That the 2 per cent tax now being paid into the Theatre Defense Fund be eliminated, effective as of August 1, 1931.

LOUIS GREENBERG,

ROBERT STANNARD,
Local 400.

RESOLUTION NO. 6—LAW

Whereas, It has been noticed by Local 40 that our present method of combating canned music by advertisements containing ludicrous illustrations has caused much criticism of its utility by the press and the public; and

Whereas, This local is unadvised of any instance where this advertising campaign has put back to work a single member of the Federation; and

Whereas, It seems a travesty on good judgment to spend hundreds of thousands of dollars per year on this useless propaganda when thousands of our members are in actual want; and

Whereas, This money is being paid by our men employed in theatres who can ill afford to spare this tax from their income; and

Whereas, It is the sense of this Local that if this tax is continued it should be used only for the purpose for which it is collected; be it, therefore,

Resolved, That this Convention order the discontinuance of the present advertising campaign at once; and, if it is decided that there will be no further use for the Theatrical Defense Fund for paying strike benefits, that this tax be immediately cancelled, and the balance remaining in the National Treasury, if any, be divided pro rata among the Locals supporting this fund.

OSCAR APPLE,
Local 40.

RESOLUTION NO. 7—LAW

Whereas, Burlesque shows traveling on the road do not carry a leader, and

Whereas, The absence of such leader makes it very difficult for the orchestra, wherever these shows make their stand, to properly function, therefore, be it

Resolved, That burlesque traveling shows be obliged to carry a leader, and that the President be herewith empowered to enforce same.

RESOLUTION NO. 8—MEASURES AND BENEFITS

Whereas, The American Federation of Labor has in its wisdom created a National Committee that has for its purpose the modification of the Volstead Act, and

Whereas, Such modification is not only timely and humane, because of the crimes committed in its name and the innocent privileges it has deprived the citizens of in the past, but also because of the possible employment of approximately two million workers, particularly the musicians, who through such modification will again find employment in hotels, cafes, clubs, etc.; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the American Federation of Musicians go on record in support of such modification and instruct its locals to support the National American Federation of Labor Committee and to become active, in conjunction with affiliated bodies in their respective territories to influence their Legislators, Congressmen and Senators in the successful culmination of such effort.

RESOLUTION NO. 9—LAW

Whereas, The President's report indicates that local wage controversies with theatre corporations are all settled at and through the President's office, and

Whereas, The corporations invariably play one Local against the other, by making settlements in unimportant territories in order to make certain Locals their target; therefore, be it

Resolved, That no Local be permitted to make final settlement with any corporation unless said corporation is ready to make settlement with all Locals involved, same to be governed and controlled through the President's office.

RESOLUTION NO. 12—LAW

Whereas, Owing to the widespread and unprecedented unemployment that stalks the land and which has reduced the consuming ability of millions of our people to the barest necessities of life and which has tremendously curtailed expenditures for luxuries, among which is the employment of musical services; and

Whereas, Because of chaotic and disturbed conditions not only in this land of ours, but throughout the entire world, it seems reasonable to predict that these universal conditions will be prolonged over a considerable period of time; and

Whereas, Couple with the reasons stated above the deadly paralyzing competition of mechanized music and you witness the constantly diminishing membership of our locals from sheer inability to pay dues; and

Whereas, Locals with their decreasing membership are now staggering under a national per capita tax to maintain a terrific national overhead, conceived and imposed during the years of prosperity and maximum membership, to meet which Locals are deprived of the means of doing things necessary to their welfare; and

Whereas, The salaries of our National Officers are excessive and indefensible at any time, yet if it be contended to the contrary that they were just and fair during the years of prosperity and increasing membership, it is obvious that they are unjust and unfair in these grave and trying times of depression and unemployment and shrinking membership; and

Whereas, A continuance of these princely emoluments and extravagant overhead is a challenge to justice, a menace to the existence of locals and a tragic condition for our unemployed members, and is meeting severe criticism both inside and outside the Federation; and

Whereas, The saving effected by a reduction in the salaries of the National Officers and the additional economies which may be secured by a drastic pruning of expenses in the departments, functions and activities of this Federation should open the way for an appreciable reduction of the per capita tax; and

Whereas, In order to forestall and prevent the utter destruction of the locals, and as a natural sequence, the destruction of the Federation itself; be it

Resolved, That the American Federation of Musicians in Convention assembled at Chattanooga, Tenn., hereby orders a reduction of 25 per cent of existing salaries of all National Officers, to take effect July 1st, 1931; and, be it further

Resolved, that a special committee be appointed to make a survey of all departments, functions and activities of the American Federation of Musicians in order to disclose where economies may be instituted, and report their findings to this Convention.

Local 40.

RESOLUTION NO. 13—MEASURES AND BENEFITS

Resolved, That the words "four weeks," as contained in the fourth line, third Paragraph of Section 2, Article XII, Page 79, of the By-Laws of the American Federation of Musicians, be changed to read "one week," so that same will conform to the second paragraph of Section 10, Article XII, Page 85, of said By-Laws.

HAL CARR,
Local 15.

RESOLUTION NO. 14—MEASURES AND BENEFITS

Resolved, That the last paragraph of Section 3-A, Article XI, Page 73, of the By-Laws of the American Federation of Musicians be changed to read:

"Members found guilty under this section cannot, without the consent of the Federation, return to the jurisdiction wherein they offended, to play a permanent engagement as members of the same orchestra or band, for a period of two years next after conviction. In each instance before enforcement of this provision a local must secure consent of the Federation."

MEETING OF THE INTERNATIONAL EXECUTIVE BOARD

Hotel Patten, Chattanooga, Tenn.,
June 8, 1931.

Meeting of the International Executive Board called to order by President Weber at 8:15 P. M. All present.

Miss Lila Wareham, representing Young & Rubiam, appears before the Board and requests the co-operation of the Federation in determining the value of improved radio receiving sets * in which the company is interested by the passing of judgment by the A. F. of M. as to which one of the sets to be submitted most appeals to the trained musical ear. Laid over for further consideration.

Delegate Frank W. Ryan of Local 393, Framingham, Mass., is heard in regard to a protest of that local against its being compelled to adhere to the price list in force in the jurisdiction of Local 246, Marlboro, Mass. On motion the Secretary is directed to take the matter up with the latter local and thereafter submit the same to the Board.

The delegate requests that the name of Chas. Woodward be added to the National Unfair List. The Secretary is instructed to proceed in the usual manner in this case.

Delegate Maurice Bernhardt of Local 802, New York City, N. Y., appears in connection with affairs in that jurisdiction. Laid over for further consideration.

Delegates Logan O. Teagle and A. C. Light of Local 24, Akron, Ohio, are heard in relation to a local situation. The delegation is advised to take the subject matter up later with the President's office.

Delegates Adolph Hirschberg, Romeo Cella and John Lutz of Local 77, Philadelphia, Pa., appear and request reimbursement for a part of the expense incurred in securing the return of monies of the local and the Theatre Defense Fund with which a former officer of that local had absconded. On motion a reimbursement of $334.50 is directed.

A request for a remittance of a balance of $140.00 due on a fine of member A. Salinger of that local is presented by the delegation. The matter is referred to the office of the President for further investigation and with full power to act therein.

Delegate G. Pipitone of Local 174, New Orleans, La., presents an appeal for reinstatement of former members of that local who had been erased from membership therein for failure to pay outstanding fines. The Board holds that the applicants must deposit $40.00 per man and $100.00 for the leader as evidence of good faith before the appeal can be considered.

Delegates Wm. H. Faust and Chas. C. Halvorsen of Local 166, Madison, Wis., appear for information in connection with Case No. 690, of the docket of 1929-1930, and wherein a claim of a local manager against member Isham Jones had been dismissed. The information, as far as possible at this time, is imparted to the delegation, and the matter will have further proper attention by the President's office.

Delegates P. F. Petersen and Grafton J. Fox of Local 94, Tulsa, Okla., and E. D. Graham of Local 375, Oklahoma City, Okla., are heard in relation to matters of importance to that section of the country.

Session adjourns.

The Committee on Law reports through Chairman Bagley:

The President has recommended the following changes:

Sec. 37, Article X, Page 65, provided: "That a member who solicits or accepts an engagement with an organization unfair to the American Federation of Musicians may be fined, etc."

I suggest that the first two lines of said section be amended to read as follows:

"Any member who solicits from or accepts an engagement with an organization, booking agent or individual unfair to the American Federation of Musicians may be fined, etc."

A favorable report of the Committee is on motion concurred in by the Convention.

Section 2-A, Article X, Page 50, provides in effect:

"That every application to a local for membership must be referred by such local to the International Executive Board wherever:

1. Such applicant at any time theretofore was a member of the American Federation of Musicians or any of its locals, etc."

I suggest that the section above quoted be amended to read as follows:

1. "Such applicant at any time theretofore was a member of the American Federation of Musicians or any of its Local Unions, except he lost his membership through non-payment of dues and assessments, and did not follow the profession between the loss of his membership and application for reinstatement; or etc."

The Committee reports favorably. Convention concurs.

Section 7-A of Article X provides that no band or orchestra, composed of members of the Federation or individual members thereof, shall be permitted to render service for any function in any jurisdiction with non-members, etc.

This can be construed to mean that a member of the Federation, who does not belong to a band or orchestra, may play with non-members. Such was not the intent of the law. I suggest that in the third line of said Section 7-A the word "thereof" be stricken out so as to have the law read:

"No band or orchestra composed of members of the American Federation of Musicians or individual members shall be permitted to render service for any function in any jurisdiction with non-members, etc."

A favorable report of the Committee is concurred in by the Convention.

In connection with the following recommendation, is considered.

RESOLUTION NO. 1

I suggest that Article XVII, Section 4, Page 130, be changed to read:

"That the reports of the officers should be mailed to the delegates on a date not earlier than two weeks preceding the convening of the Convention."

The Committee offers the following substitute:

"Printed copies of the annual reports of the President and Secretary shall be mailed to the accredited delegates to the Convention of the American Federation of Musicians not later than two weeks preceding the opening of the Convention."

Discussed by President Weber and Secretary Kerngood.

On motion, the entire subject matter is recommitted to the Committee.

I would suggest that the Convention take under advisement either the last Monday in May or the first Monday in June for the Convention to convene, or else postpone the date on which the laws become effective to August 15th.

The Committee recommends in conformity therewith that Special Resolution No. 6 be amended as follows:

"All amendments and additions to the laws enacted by the American Federation of Musicians shall go into effect the 15th day of August following the Convention which enacts them. But this provision shall have no application to amendments and additions for the enforcement of which such convention has designated another date."

On motion the substitute of the Committee is adopted.

RESOLUTION NO. 12

Committee reports unfavorably. Moved and seconded to concur in the unfavorable report.

Delegate Gibbs in the Chair. The Convention concurs in the report of the Committee.

President Weber addresses the Convention on the subject of per capita tax, to which reference was made in the preamble to this resolution.

President Weber resumes the Chair.

RESOLUTION NO. 2

The Committee report is unfavorable and is concurred in by the Convention.

RESOLUTION NO. 9

An unfavorable report is made by the Committee.

Discussed by delegate Hirschberg, Chairman Bagley, President Weber and delegate Canavan.

An extended explanation of the conduct of his office in certain matters is made by the President.

The following amendment is offered:

"That the entire matter be left to the discretion of the President of the American Federation of Musicians to apply the principle involved whenever he finds it practicable."

Discussed by Secretary Kerngood and Chairman Bagley.

On motion the amendment is lost and the report of the Committee, unfavorable to the resolution, is concurred in.

Attention is called that this day is the thirty-first anniversary of the election of Jos. N. Weber to the Presidency of the American Federation of Musicians at Philadelphia, Pa., on June 9, 1900.

President Weber briefly addresses the Convention in response to the acknowledgment of that event by the Convention.

On motion a unanimous rising vote of confidence is tendered to Jos. N. Weber for his efforts in behalf of the musicians of this country and Canada and the manner in which he has carried out the trust imposed in him.

Announcements are made.

INTRODUCTION OF RESOLUTIONS

RESOLUTION NO. 15—LAW

Whereas, we believe much of the unemployment of legitimate members of our profession is caused by the individual members of the various so-called "Named Orchestras," playing several instruments on an engagement—in fact, it has been called to our attention that one man played as many as six instruments; and

Whereas, we further believe that the elimination of this practice will result in the employment of more instrumentalists; therefore, be it

Resolved, That no member be permitted to play more than one instrument on any engagement.

EDWARD CANAVAN,
Local 802.

RESOLUTION NO. 16—LAW

Whereas, The American Federation of Musicians for many years maintained jurisdiction over the operation of mechanical sound devices, thereby showing that such jurisdiction is a natural and legal right; and

Whereas, We bear witness to the spectacle of thousands of musicians thrown out of work by the sound reproducing devices in theatres while members of the I. A. T. S. E. have assumed complete control of such devices; and

Whereas, It is to the best interests of the theatrical business that the highly trained faculties of musicians as to the regulation and direction of sound producing devices be employed for the efficient operation thereof; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Federation take such steps as necessary to take jurisdiction over such sound producing devices and create a position of sound supervisor in each theatre, said position to be filled by a member of the Federation, and that we secure the co-operation of all locals in making such a policy coincident throughout the jurisdiction of the Federation.

RESOLUTION NO. 19—LAW

Whereas, The chief burden of actual struggle to maintain living music in theatres devolves upon the local; and

Whereas, The 2 per cent Federation tax upon the earnings of the musicians is a withdrawal of funds from the locals that could better be expended locally; therefore, be it

Resolved, That this Convention in session go on record as discontinuing this tax.

W. J. DOUGLAS,
Local 76.
H. A. PELLETIER,
Local 76.

RESOLUTION NO. 20—LAW

Whereas, It has been the experience of locals that the joint agreement between the I. A. T. S. E. and American Federation of Musicians (Standing Resolution No. 28) operates chiefly for the benefit of Operators and Stage Hands and seldom for the benefit of the musicians; now, therefore, be it Resolved, That the National Executive Board and officers be instructed to modify and revise said joint agreement, whereby locals of the A. F. of M. will get protection necessary for their interests.

W. J. DOUGLAS,
Local 76.
H. A. PELLETIER,
Local 76.

RESOLUTION NO. 21—LAW

Whereas; Broadcasting commercially is admitted to be one of the best mediums of reaching the public, and therefore being utilized by most aggressive businesses; and

Whereas, The musicians rarely, if ever, resort to any medium of advertising, though it be most essential to do so in order to ward off unfair competition; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the locals of the A. F. of M. be requested to take advantage of the radio facilities by inaugurating a music hour, at which time they may illustrate the advantages of employing the organized professional musician as well as the necessity of continuing the human element in music.

RESOLUTION No. 23—LAW

Whereas, broadcasting and hook-up makes it possible for localities to underbid each other; and

Whereas, conditions are frequently made unfair through the employment of non-union musicians, transmissions, etc. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That the government and control of same become national, as in the case of phonograph recording, the highest prices in existence to be used as a guide. Be it further

Resolved, That a station employing non-union bands or orchestras be considered unfair, and a station permitting itself to hook up with such station shall also be considered unfair.

RESOLUTION No. 24—MEASURES AND BENEFITS

Whereas, locals of the American Federation of Musicians frequently suffer financial loss in the prosecution of trials as a result of violations of National By-Laws by traveling and transfer members; and

Whereas, Such financial loss would seem to be unjust and in many instances a hardship upon the local so affected. Be it

Resolved, That Sec. 3, Art. IX. of the National Constitution be amended to read as follows:

"A Local which procures evidence or prosecutes charges for violation of any Federation law against members other than those who belong to such Local shall retain for its own treasury 25% of any fines imposed as a result of convictions in such cases."

RESOLUTION NO. 3

Committee reports favorably. Convention concurs.

RESOLUTION NO. 13

RESOLUTION NO. 14

Committee reports favorably. Convention concurs.

On motion a special order of business is set for 10:15 A. M. to hear an address from a representative from the American Newspaper Publishers' Association.

President Weber addresses the Convention.

Delegates Canavan and Hirschberg are granted the floor.

Delegate Bagley, on behalf of the committee to arrange a service in memory of our departed brother, the late Vice-President William L. Mayer, offers a motion that 4:30 P. M. THURSDAY, JUNE 11, 1931, be set for that purpose.

The motion is adopted.

The special order of business set for 10:15 A. M. is taken up and the Convention is addressed by William A. Thomson, Director, Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers' Association.

His address was well received by the Convention.

Executive Officer Weaver offers the following report of the delegates elected to represent the A. F. of M. at the 50th Annual Convention of the American Federation of Labor at Boston, Mass., in 1930:

LABOR DELEGATES' REPORT

To the Delegates of the 36th Annual Convention of the American Federation of Musicians:

The National Convention of the American Federation of Labor, held during the first two weeks of October, 1930, in the city of Boston, marked the fiftieth national gathering of the representatives of organized labor in delegate convention assembled.

It was a notable occasion. It was a convocation held on historic ground. In the arena where the original struggle for human liberty began it was not strange that men should be deeply moved; that part time should be utilized in measuring the progress already made, and the other part to the forecasting of new incursions into realms of freedom, industrial and social, hitherto unexplored.

Boston has ever been a vantage ground for the proclaiming of new ideals; and speakers, debaters and delegates felt the urge of new forces. Never has a labor convention been so richly regaled with oratory. Never were invitations to the nation's distinguished sons more eagerly accepted. Never have finer notes of cordiality and sympathy for the labor cause been sounded by human lips than was heard at the Labor Convention Auditorium in Boston last year.

The New England States—and especially Massachusetts and the city of Boston—became the Mecca for many a national and international pilgrim. Six full months were devoted to an observance of the 300th anniversary of the founding of the Massachusetts Bay Colonies in 1630; and lovers of historic shrines from all over the world thither made their way.

Within the borders of that ever interesting domain, conventions trod upon each other's heels, so fast they followed, and sometimes found themselves contesting for supremacy at the very same time and place.

The Labor Convention discovered itself in friendly juxtaposition with 75,000 Le-gionnaires assembled in annual conclave, but there was no clash. Organized labor which sent 658,000 men into the World War with union cards in their pockets held its place in the sun and Boston cordially and graciously cared for all strangers within her gates and kept a kindly eye upon thousands who were camped just outside.

The Labor Convention opening looked upon 418 delegates. Official proceedings were marked by addresses from the President of the United States, two cabinet officers, two United States Senators, one Governor, by eminent clergymen from nearly every known ecclesiastical jurisdiction, and last, but not least, by the Honorable James M. Curley, Mayor of Boston, whose eloquence and demonstrated capacity for constructive thinking constituted one of the memorable incidents of the convention.

Summarizing the Boston Labor Convention activities, the following may be emphasized as worthy of special mention: The Boston convention placed the stamp of its disapproval upon all forms of racketeering and promised co-operation in all programs for its suppression.

Promised to wage eternal warfare against yellow-dog contracts.

Proclaimed purpose of continuance of labor organizations throughout the South.

Other resolutions adopted include the following:

Demanding favorable action by Congress on the Welch bill, which would regulate immigration of Filipinos.

Urging a law under which only civilian mechanics would be employed on federal penal institution construction.

Urging speedy enactment of the Kendall-LaFollette bill, which would provide a shorter work week for postal employees.

Calling for maintenance by the government of employment standards at least as high as those prevailing in private industry.

Instructing the Federation's Executive Council to continue its efforts to assist postal laborers' fight for increased wages.

Indorsing the bill now pending in Congress which would provide for the modernizing of the battlehips New Mexico, Mississippi and Idaho.

Favoring bill providing for four-hour day on Saturdays through the year for all federal employees.

Favoring passage of the bill proposing restriction of employment of enlisted men in the navy in competition with civil workers.

Favoring House joint resolution 334, proposing radio broadcasting rights for departments of agriculture, labor and interior for apportionment to stations of the most representative groups.

Indorsing the Senate bill providing pensions for crews of transportation vessels used in the United States military service.

Another resolution favoring extension of age limits of applicants for employment in federal service was referred to the Executive Council.

The Boston Labor Convention was reviewed at special length in the November and December issues of the 1930 International Musician, and more detailed review will not be necessary here.

The fine spirit of hospitality exhibited by Local 9 at the June Convention of the American Federation of Musicians was still flowing at high tide in October—for which the delegates herein record once more their keen appreciation. No reference to this feature would be complete which failed to recognize the fine co-operation of President B. C. McSheehy of Local 126, whose close proximity to the Hub and familiarity with everything interesting made him seem like one "to the manor born."

Deeply appreciating the honor of representing the American Federation of Musicians as delegates to this historic mid-century gathering of the parent labor body, the foregoing report is respectfully and fraternally submitted.

The following resolution is offered by Executive Officer Greenbaum for immediate action:

Whereas, Thomas Mooney, for many years a staunch trades unionist, a member of the Molders' Union of San Francisco, has been confined in San Quentin State Prison in California for almost fourteen years upon the most flimsy evidence, since proven to be false and admittedly perjured; and

Whereas, Recent developments and investigation have shown that he has been unjustly convicted for a crime which he did not commit; and

Whereas, The judge who presided at his trial, the jury which convicted him and many officers of the law who were active in prosecuting him and having him sentenced to the penitentiary are now satisfied that he is innocent of the crime alleged against him and have become active and earnest in their efforts to induce the former Governor of the State of California to exercise executive clemency and grant a full and complete pardon to said Thomas Mooney, but which efforts have been without avail; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the 36th annual convention of the A. F. of M., assembled at Chattanooga, Tenn., does hereby instruct the Secretary of the A. F. of M. to communicate immediately with the present Governor of the State of California, Hon. James Rolph, Jr., at Sacramento, Calif., and on behalf of this convention to request that a full pardon be speedily granted to Thomas Mooney.

INTRODUCTION OF RESOLUTIONS

RESOLUTION NO. 35—LAW

Whereas, The Advertising Campaign for the Music Defense League has resulted in so many responses from the theatregoers of the United States that it is now possible to use this vast influence for our benefit if it is directed toward a proper and definite objective; and

Whereas, While it is well known that the public is interested in motion pictures, the talkies, pantomime and live music, they have been receiving only the talkies, eliminating the pantomime and live music, with the result that practically all motion picture theatres are offering the same level of entertainment; and

Whereas, It is true that the element of competition between theatres has been destroyed by reason of the sameness of their offering except when expensive stage presentations or other added attractions are resorted to; and

Whereas, It is undoubtedly true that the entire theatrical world is in a state of fear from the threatened invasion of television, three dimension photography and other innovations which would cause an immediate reconstruction or scrapping of their present expensive equipment; and

Whereas, If a film should be made which would combine the use of the talkies, the sound effects, the pantomime with sub-titles and the theatre orchestra it would immediately restore competition to the different theatres, since the success of the pictures would depend to a great extent upon the orchestra; and

Whereas, If such film had the added features of automatically stopping and starting the sound equipment, simultaneously starting and stopping an electric flash to the pit for the guidance of the orchestra while still permitting its use without the automatic feature when used in theatres without an orchestra, thus making it possible for the producer to manufacture such a film with a nominal expense above its present cost; and

Whereas, Such automatic feature has been perfected and can be installed at any time to the present motion picture theatre equipment; and

Whereas, Such a picture would add enough of the restful quality of the old silent picture with its sub-titles to enable the spectator to relax the rigid attention necessary as is now the case in following the continuity of the dialogue for the duration of the whole picture while the orchestra could function with absolute preciseness from cues given with mathematical certainty; and

Whereas, If the orchestra is once again installed in a theatre as a customary feature no experiment, invention or innovation could hope to succeed in the popular favor which attempted to eliminate live music. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That this Convention order the National officers to take such steps as will be necessary to have such film produced and presented to the public and also to be prepared to acquaint the signers of the Music Defense League cards with our method of meeting their wishes if such action is deemed necessary to create sufficient pressure on the film producers and theatrical interest to accomplish our purpose.

K. O. STEINBACH, Local 542. FRANK LAMESFIELD, Local 542.

RESOLUTION NO. 36—LAW

Whereas, A large number of the members of the A. F. of M. have been and are now engaged in the instructing and directing of High School and College Bands and Orchestras throughout the country, which not only furnishes a broad field of employment for musicians, but also places members of the A. F. of M. in a position to present the true aims and functions of the A. F. of M. to the coming generation of the musicians, thereby molding the minds of these young musicians into a favorable attitude toward the A. F. of M. and assuring the A. F. of M. a large percentage of these students as future members; and

Whereas, Certain States have seen fit to pass laws requiring these Band and Orchestra teachers to obtain certain High School Credits and College Degrees in Academic Subjects regardless of their direct value to the teaching of bands and orchestras and in the most cases practically impossible for those who have devoted their whole lives to the study of music to obtain. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Law Committee draft into concise and concrete form laws or resolutions calling upon all Locals of the A. F. of M., together with all their affiliated organizations, to communicate immediately with the various members of their State and National Legislatures with a view of discouraging such laws, but rather to encourage the establishment or appointment of various Conservatories or Colleges of Music authorized to hold examinations and award certificates which will entitle the holder to teach Bands and Orchestras in any High School or College in any State in the Union regardless of his or her standing in Academic Subjects.

INTRODUCTION OF RESOLUTIONS

RESOLUTION NO. 42—LAW

Resolved, That the National Executive Board's decisions in all appeals shall be final.

No appeals to be considered on the Convention floor.

W. B. HOOPER, Local 192.

RESOLUTION NO. 43—GOOD AND WELFARE

Whereas, The International Association of Hotel Waiters, Cooks and Restaurant Workers have been made victims of a prolonged lock-out in the city of Cleveland in retaliation for their demand for a living wage and the maintenance of decent working conditions; and

Whereas, The union musicians of Cleveland are giving said strike their moral support by refusing to render professional service in such places of employment; be it, therefore,

Resolved, That the American Federation of Musicians, in Thirty-sixth Annual Delegate Convention assembled, hereby expresses its deep appreciation of the action of the Loyal Order of Moose and the Fraternal Order of Eagles in cancelling dates for holding national conventions in the city of Cleveland during the month of July, 1931, as a protest against such lock-out and in sympathy with the principles for which the above named organization workers are making a heroic stand.

A. C. LIGHT, LOGAN O. TEAGLE, Local 24.

RESOLUTION NO. 44—MEASURES AND BENEFITS

Whereas, All locals are compelled to collect the theatre tax, fines and all other monies due to National Headquarters; and

Whereas, This money must be deposited in an authorized bank; and

Whereas, Through no negligence or fault of the Local, the said bank closes its doors, by the State Bank Examiner, or Commissioner; therefore, be it

Resolved, That no Local shall be held responsible for monies which they have in good faith deposited and held in abeyance for the Treasurer of the American Federation of Musicians; and be it further

RESOLUTION NO. 45—GOOD AND WELFARE

Whereas, There is much of unemployment among the members of the Federation; and

Whereas, Several State legislatures (notably Iowa and Illinois) have been induced to enact legislation permitting municipalities to vote a fractional mill for band concerts, materially aiding our members in those States; and

Whereas, One of our brother delegates (Frank Holten of East St. Louis) is a member of the House of Representatives of the State of Illinois and has been influential in introducing and amending the Illinois Band Law; therefore, be it

Resolved, That time be given brother Holten and delegates from Illinois and Iowa to discuss this Illinois Band Law, or the Iowa Band Law, and that the International President's Office be requested to assemble existent band laws and pertinent information relating to same, have same printed and mailed to all Locals.

RESOLUTION NO. 46—GOOD AND WELFARE

Whereas, Throughout the period of trades union organization of the musicians of the United States and Canada, musicians generally have recognized and legislated by and through their respective unions for death benefits; and

Whereas, Experience has proven that scientific insurance principles and expert actuarial calculations as to the cost of carrying such insurance at the lowest cost consistent with safety have not been applied; and

Whereas, The Union Labor Life Insurance Company issues group insurance at a minimum cost secured by modern up-to-date scientific insurance methods; and

Whereas, The American Federation of Musicians is best organized and qualified to insure and protect its members as a whole in this, as well as in their professional calling; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Executive Board of the A. F. of M. inquire into, ascertain and investigate the cost of carrying such group insurance in the Union Labor Life Insurance Company in the sums of $1,000 and $500.00, respectively, for the entire membership of the American Federation of Musicians; and, be it further

Resolved, That the said Executive Board in the course of this investigation submit to the respective Locals of the American Federation of Musicians the matter of the substance of this resolution for their mature consideration in time sufficient to enable the next succeeding Convention to intelligently act upon the report then to be made by the Executive Board of its investigation.

RESOLUTION NO. 50—GOOD AND WELFARE

Whereas, Local 6, San Francisco, Calif., among other activities in behalf of "living music," and to offset the great injury visited upon professional musicians by the use of "canned" music, which included the expenditure of many thousands of dollars, inaugurated a new innovation which is designated as "Living Music Day," which in collaboration with the San Francisco Chronicle, having an extremely large circulation, being the oldest daily newspaper in San Francisco, provided for the placing of bands and orchestras of all kinds in the large retail business houses, stores and other prominent places visited by the general public, and for the Municipal Band on the steps of the City Hall giving a short concert, followed by a wonderfully effective proclamation by the mayor of the city, followed by a concert in the Civic Center Park, facing City Hall; and

Whereas, We are of the firm opinion and belief that "Living Music Day" as successfully celebrated by Local 6 during the years of 1930 and 1931 has been an important factor in our struggle against machine competition and has created favorable thought and comment from the community at large who crowded round the many bands and orchestras who participated in the great musical event; and

Whereas, We feel that a like "Living Music Day," inaugurated by the American Federation of Musicians, could be given in every city represented by one of our locals; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the President of the A. F. of M. be and is hereby empowered to name and designate one particular day in the year as our "Living Music Day," and advise all locals with the plan of operation and each local to be advised to celebrate this day as a movement in advocacy and encouragement of the employment of living musicians as against the use of machine-made music.

- CLARENCE KING, Local 6.
- WALTER A. WEBER, Local 6.

RESOLUTION NO. 51—LAW

Whereas, Owing to the widespread and unprecedented unemployment that stalks throughout the ranks of the membership of the American Federation of Musicians, due to the depression facing our country, as well as the unemployment of 10,000 professional musicians formerly employed in moving picture theaters; and

Whereas, If this condition continues throughout the coming winter, hunger and distress will continue to grow, taxing the resources of the locals throughout the Federation; therefore, be it

Resolved and Ordered, That our National President and Executive Board are empowered and instructed to set aside a sum not in excess of 20 per cent for relief purposes, to be expended through locals that submit satisfactory proof of these conditions and verify the depletion of their resources.

The Executive Board shall adopt regulations and rules to meet the emergency.

It is provided that this relief shall be confined to only theater musicians who have been regular contributors to this fund and who have lost employment through displacement by synchronized talking pictures.

RESOLUTION NO. 52—LAW

Resolved, That one-half of the 30 per cent which must be charged on engagements as in Article XIII, Section 9, Paragraph 4, be paid into the treasury of the local in whose jurisdiction the engagement is being played.

The Chair announces that at the close of the memorial exercises for our late Vice-President, William L. Mayer, the session will stand adjourned. The business session closed at 4:30 P. M.

Following the Weaver eulogy, the Convention arose and remained standing for one moment while the strains of "Old Lang Syne" were being softly played. President Weber's gavel sounded. Delegates and friends went out. The life service of William L. Mayer had become a permanent part of Federation history.

The Finance Committee reports through Chairman Luyben:

To the Delegates of the Thirty-sixth Annual Convention of the American Federation of Musicians:

Your Committee on Finance begs leave to report that they have carefully checked the reports of the Auditors and the Treasurer and find them correct and submitted in a manner so as to be easily understood by the members of the Federation.

Your Committee wishes to call the attention of the delegates to an error in the verbiage of the caption on page 14 of the Report of the Auditor, which reads as follows: "Less amount of commission collected through the International Musician through the International Advertising." This article, when corrected, should read as follows: "Less amount of commission collected through the International Musician on Federation theatrical advertisements."

Your Committee also wishes to call to the attention of the delegates that while the deficit in the Theatre Tax Fund was the amount of $62,081.59, as of April 1, 1931, the actual loss in the above fund was considerably less due to monies received after the close of the fiscal year. Your Committee has requested our Treasurer, Bro. Harry Brenton, to address the delegates in an explanation of the above matter.

Your Committee recommends that in order that a more clear and concise report of the finances of the Federation may be made to the delegates at conventions in the future that the law in regard to the fiscal year be changed to read as follows: The fiscal year shall close April 30th of each year. (Sec. 5, Art. 1. By-Laws, Page 18.)

Your committee wishes to compliment our Treasurer in the matter of the handling of the detail work connected with his office which has greatly increased since the inception of the Theatrical Defense Fund.

Respectfully submitted,
A. W. LUYBEN, Chairman.

The Committee on Location reports through Chairman Graham:

To the Officers and Delegates of the Thirty-sixth Annual Convention of the American Federation of Musicians:

We, your Committee on Location, have had under consideration invitations for the meeting place for the Thirty-seventh Annual Convention of the A. F. of M. to be held in 1932.

An official invitation was received from Local 47 of Los Angeles, California, together with letters of invitation from the Mayor of Los Angeles and the President of the Chamber of Commerce from said city.

Other invitations were received from various places, but were not considered, due to the fact they were of an unofficial nature.

The delegates from Los Angeles appeared before the committee to assure us of the perfect co-operation that would be forthcoming to make the convention of 1932 one to be long remembered.

In view of the facts it was unanimously voted to recommend that the Thirty-seventh Annual Convention be held in Los Angeles with Local 47.

The Committee on International Musician reports through Chairman Jarrott: To the Thirty-sixth Annual Convention of the American Federation of Musicians:

Your Committee on International Musician begs leave to report that we have examined the report of the Secretary on the International Musician and have discussed with him the method employed in managing the plant. The Committee is of the opinion that the printing plant and publishing of the International Musician has been most satisfactorily managed.

By referring to the report of the Secretary you will find that the plant has earned a net profit of about $7,000.00. This we consider a fine showing during this period of general depression and, furthermore, the Secretary has been able to maintain a full working force at full time and without loss of wages. In past years the Committee has repeatedly requested that the locals give as much of their work to the plant as possible. The Committee feels now that it is only necessary to leave it to the good judgement of the Delegates to urge upon their locals the advisability of giving at least a portion of their printing to the plant in order that it may be maintained at as high a standard as in the past.

We wish to extend thanks to members and others who have contributed special articles to the journal throughout the year.

The Committee feels that it should make special reference to the capable and efficient manner in which the Secretary has managed the plant.

Respectfully submitted by the Committee,
J. ED. JARROTT, Chairman.

The Committee on Secretary's report submits the following through Chairman Rice:

To the Officers and Delegates of the Thirty-sixth Annual Convention of the American Federation of Musicians:

Greetings:

The report of the International Secretary for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1931, has received careful consideration by your Committee and the statistical information contained therein for the delegates and members of the Federation covers the usual activities of the Secretary's office. The report shows that approximately 600 cases received final consideration from the International Executive Board and 75 cases are in process of adjudication. These figures are practically identical with those given last year. Five hundred and twenty-three Conditional Membership Cards, to expire on June 11, 1931, were issued, the number being 151 less than issued during the previous year, also a total of 18 conditional Transfer Cards were issued.

The report of charters issued and lapsed show a net loss of nineteen locals, the roster now comprising 716 locals in good standing, which is most remarkable in view of existing conditions.

There were no resolutions placed before this committee for consideration.

Your Committee highly commends the Secretary upon the excellent appearance and arrangement of his voluminous report as submitted to this convention and it is the unanimous opinion of your committee that the Secretary has conducted the duties of his office with the proper efficiency and responsibility so essentially necessary in the maintenance of this important office.

That portion of the report pertaining to the International Musician and printing plant received the attention of the committee on that matter.

Respectfully submitted,

The Committee on President's report, through Chairman Walter A. Weber of Local No. 6, submits the following:

To the Delegates of the Thirty-sixth Annual Convention of the American Federation of Musicians:

Greeting:

Admittedly we are now passing through perhaps the greatest financial depression this country has ever known and, in consequence of this fact, our members have in the past year suffered many hardships and a burden has been placed upon the officers of our Federation, the like of which has not heretofore been known.

The report of President Weber must take cognizance of these facts and it is necessarily colored by the vicissitudes of the times. The report is one which should be studied with care and from a careful perusal of its pages much of an illuminating and instructive character may be learned.

The President begins his report by calling attention to the many revolutionary changes which have taken place in the past thirty years, completely revolutionizing the economic field in the highest degree and with tremendous rapidity. He calls attention to the development of the automobile, the radio, photography of motion, photography of sound, aviation and discoveries making other inventions possible which have combined to make the change in progress during this period one of mastodonic proportions.

The report goes on with a masterly exposition of the many changes through which we have been passing. He treats of the causes of unemployment in general and launches into an illuminating analysis of the changes which have taken place in the moving picture industry. He tells also of the indiscriminate building of theatres. He goes on to explain at great length the many changes which have taken place in our profession and which have culminated in the wholesale unemployment of our members. He calls our attention to the problems we had to meet when the machine entered the realm of the art of music. Particular attention is called to our advertising campaign which may be safely said to have achieved a very great success and has earned the great admiration of discerning and astute advertising experts. He lays particular stress upon the fact that we waged a very high-class cultural fight. We did not resort to mud slinging, neither did we attempt to foment strikes, picket or boycott the theatres. The President's office believed, and subsequent events have proven the soundness of this belief, that the only way in which we could enlist the sympathy of the public was to call its attention to the imperfection of "canned music" and to impress upon theatre patrons that when they paid their money to secure admission to the theatre that if they were regaled with "canned music" alone they were not getting their money's worth.

In the report, further explanation is made of the method of checking up on the advertising put forth and we are reminded that at the present time the manufacture of "canned music" for theatrical fare has been greatly minimized, in some cases to as much as 75 per cent. That the talking picture has lost its novelty is also shown by the report of President Weber.

An amusing incident is related with regard to some loose talk indulged in by Walter Damrosch, widely known American conductor. It appears that Mr. Damrosch spoke without a full knowledge of the facts in the case and many observers in the public press were quick to note that he was on dangerous ground and did not hesitate to call his attention to that fact. We learn of the tremendous number of men and women who have become members of the Defense League, not only in this country, but in many other sections of the civilized world.

Much stress is laid upon the success of the President's office in resisting demands made by theatrical employers that hours of work be lengthened, wages decreased, no charge to be made for overtime, no payment for extra performances, no season contracts, no minimum number of men clauses and other things which would have been to the benefit of the managers, but not to the benefit of our own members. That the President's office was successful in resisting these demands speaks eloquently for the admirable tact and the firmness of character displayed therein.

The theatrical situation is treated at very great length and embraces relations with our local unions, reciting details concerning controversies which developed in many cities of the country.

He also speaks at length of our loss, for a time at least, of our strike power, on the minimum laws, dramatic and legitimate theatres, the tragedy of the older musician in being forced out of employment because of his age and the general situation as concerns changed conditions in our profession.

A half page is devoted to a touching eulogy of our late lamented Vice-President, William L. Mayer.

Succeeding paragraphs treat in turn with electrical transcriptions of music and dubbing, of which we will undoubtedly hear more in the future; traveling bands which still appear to be a burning question among our members and in connection therewith President Weber submits a proposition whereby agents who desire to book orchestras would be required to obtain a license from the American Federation of Musicians; State Officers, giving a list of those appointed to this office and an account of the activities of many of these officers during the year just passed.

Considerable space is taken up with facts appertaining to the trade agreement between the A. F. of M. and the I. A. T. S. E.

A succeeding paragraph is devoted to the Union Labor Life Insurance Company.

The problems of the musicians' position and the activities of locals are next treated at very great length and in a most exhaustive manner. A careful reading of this subject is earnestly recommended. At equally great length the subject of the President's office is likewise treated. President Weber then explains in detail the finances of our organization which is followed by a splendid article on unemployment, overproduction and predatory wealth.

It seems to the members of this committee that the entire logic of this subject is epitomized in the one sentence on page 44, namely: "It is the abuse of profit which is at the base of all economic injustice."

The next paragraph of the report treats of laws and makes recommendations for necessary changes in them.

The concluding paragraph treats of the future of the Federation and Conventions.

It is obvious that in a review of such length we cannot enter into such a dissertation upon the many features of this report as we would like. We must of necessity be brief and endeavor in as great measure as is consistently possible to call attention to the highlights of this truly remarkable report. We would respectfully urge upon every member of the Convention that he carry back to his home local the exhortation of this Committee that every member read with care and digest as thoroughly as possible the contents of our President's report.

REMARKABLE THINGS SAID

J. C. Carlile, D. D.:

If people are housed like pigs you cannot expect them to become saints.

G. A. Atkinson:

How many Americans know that the city of London forswore its allegiance to George III while the War of Independence was in progress?

Dr. E. W. Gudger:

We've pinned evidence upon the spiders. They kill, kidnap and eat small fishes, frogs, mice, birds, even rattlesnakes.

J. L. Garvin:

The cause of peace is drifting backward.

Ex-Premier Baldwin:

The best citizens to the world and in their world relationship are those who fulfill their duties best to their own country.

Prof. E. G. Spalding:

Standing pat is negative retrogression.

Paul Poiret:

There is nothing reasonable in fashion.

Elmer Rice:

Decency varies according to time and place, to conditions and social strata.

Hen Fruit

"Good morning!" she said to the man behind the counter. "I want half a dozen eggs laid by a black hen."

The other frowned.

"But I can't tell which of my eggs were laid by a black hen," he protested. "Can you?"

"Sure," said the woman.

"Very well," said the storekeeper. "You'd better go and pick them out."

She did as she was bid. A minute later she had selected her six eggs.

"Now tell me," continued the grocer, "how you can pick out eggs that have been laid by a black hen?"

"It's easy," she replied. "You see, they're always the biggest."—Ex.

CONDUCTORS CHANGE INSURANCE

POLICIES—The Order of Railway Conductors, with headquarters at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, is changing $80,000,000 worth of insurance policies, held by its 47,000 members in the United States and Canada, from a flat assessment basis to legal reserve policies. It is hoped to complete the task August 1. The change was decided on at the recent convention at Kansas City.

The form of insurance carried by the organization provides for protection from year to year on policies running up to $5,000. The order will maintain reserves sufficient to guarantee payment of every policy and arrangements have been made whereby $3,500,000, accumulated under the flat assessment plan, will be set aside to guarantee paid-up protection.

ROUSE DEFEATED AS BIG SIX

PRESIDENT—Leon Rouse, president for sixteen years of New York Typographical Union No. 6 ("Big Six") was defeated for re-election June 10 by Austin Hewson, formerly a New York World printer and now with the New York Daily News. The election was a run-off between Rouse and Hewson.

Before the regular polling two weeks previous to the final election, it was ruled that the winner must receive a majority of the votes cast. There were five nominees. Rouse received 3,100 of the 8,868 votes cast, Hewson 2,200, Frank Cozzolina 1,500, William Towse 500, and Edward Martin 200. At the second election only Rouse and Hewson were candidates. Hewson polled 4,095 votes to Rouse's 3,897, a gain of 1,895 in two weeks' time.

COLORADO REPORTS MANY EIGHT-

HOUR LAW VIOLATIONS—The last biennial report of the Colorado Industrial Commission shows a large number of violations of the women's eight-hour law during 1928-1930. Upon investigation, the majority of the law-breaking employers agreed to observe the statute in the future, but several arrests had to be made in accordance with the law's provisions. The report emphasizes the difficulty of securing information in cases of violation of the eight-hour law, the average woman employe being afraid to give information which may lead to her discharge.

MOORE RE-ELECTED TO LABOR

OFFICE—Tom Moore, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada and Canadian delegate to the International Labor Conference, was re-elected to the governing body of the International Labor Office at Geneva, Switzerland, for a period of three years.

WOMEN PROTECTED AT CHILD-

BIRTH PERIOD—Two striking examples of an increasing interest in the protection of women before and after childbirth have recently been noted. Reports of the German Factory Inspection Service for 1929 draw attention to the favorable effect of 1929 legislation which increased the maternity benefits from one-half to three-fourths of the wage during the last four weeks preceding confinement. A recent statute enacted in Panama provides that women shall not be employed in industrial and commercial establishments during eight weeks before and after childbirth, but shall be on vacation during this period at half pay and shall not be discharged on account of pregnancy.—Women's Bureau, Department of Labor.
