1 Washington: Interior Secretary Udall says development of Ellis Island offers possibilities. 2 Washington: Los Angeles Angel's Bo Belinsky bounced from team for slugging sports writer. 3 Washington: Navy Secretary Nitze optimistic about Philadelphia shipyard future. 4 Washington: Senator McClellan says underworld is doubtless behind Chicago bombings. 5 Washington: Brooklyn Navy Yard workers protest threatened shutdown. 6 Washington: Senator Clark urges purchase of Army Base Piers by Philadelphia. 7 Washington: California's Engle makes final Senate appearance. 8 Washington: FBI unofficially investigating Chicago bombings. 9 Washington: Illinois Senator Douglas says Dunes must be saved. 10 Washington: St. Louis businessman, named "King" of West African village, poses protocol problem. 11 Washington: Representative Curtis reports on efforts to preserve old St. Louis Post Office.

Washington news, yes. But of particular local interest. When anything of special local or regional import happens in the capital, our 7-man Washington News Bureau headed by John Hart and Ivan Scott gets the whole story (279 stories filmed in the past 90 days alone). And speeds it directly to the CBS Owned station in the community where it matters most. That's what the Bureau was designed to do. That's what it does. And that's one more reason why audiences in five major U.S. population centers find—and have always found—the best, most complete news coverage on their local CBS Owned television station! CBS TELEVISION STATIONS ©

Quick guide to Yearbook sections

Information in this YEARBOOK is divided into homogeneous sections as described in the boxes at right. Here's how to locate a section rapidly:

Hold the YEARBOOK in your left hand. With your right hand bend the book back so that the black markings on the right edges of the pages appear. If you wish to find a page in the A section, for example, place your right thumb over the black bar to the right of the letter A at upper right on this page and riffle through all pages containing a similar black bar in the same position; at the end of that sequence of marking will appear the first page of the A section. The same procedure can be used to find the beginning of any other section, starting with your thumb on the black bar on this page to the right of the letter of the section you wish to locate.

What's it like to do business in Japan ?

Fascinating . . . and frustrating. Exciting . . . and exasperating. Stimulating . . . and savagely competitive.

And financially rewarding.

We've got more people (over 100 million) in less space (about 147,000 square miles) than any other country.

And the highest standard of living in Asia.

To say nothing of the fastest growth rate as well.

We're a country of paradox.

Take the fastest train in the world and cover 320 miles in about 3 hours.

Or get hung up in city traffic, and watch a shiny jidsha (self-powered car) snarl at the casual pace of a jinrikisha (man-powered car).

Sit in the lounge of a luxury hotel and take in Tokyo through immense picture windows. Even see Mount Fuji on a clear day.

But tucked away between these multi-storied buildings of steel and glass, are the tiled roofs of hundred-year old Japanese houses that refuse to give in to progress. Except for the ubiquitous television antenna on the roof. And brand new refrigerators, washing machines, automatic rice cookers and radios inside the house.

About now you might begin to wonder what all this has to do with Dentsu.

We're especially proud because we feel we've helped.

That we're the largest agency in Japan might not cut a lot of ice with you. When we add that we're fifth largest in the world, it makes a difference.

We have 28 branch offices in Japan. And 9 international offices . . . affiliations with about 70 agencies throughout the world . . . and complete coverage. Asia . . . Africa . . . Europe . . . North America . . . South America.

For our clients.

And for yours.

The pace of business here is different—as one might expect—from what you may be used to.

Our contact men are equally at home over martinis in the American Club, as they are over sake, in a private club.

Because our Gaijin (foreigners) clients might prefer martinis, while our Nihonjin (Japanese) clients might prefer the sake.

Or vice versa.

The point being . . . we generally know what to do . . . when.

Suppose you—or a client—have a product that's natural for the import-hungry Japanese market.

If you've had some international experience, you can probably handle it yourself, so far as Sales and Distribution are concerned.

Advertising's another story.

We have our own likes and dislikes . . . prejudices and superstitions . . . customs and preferences. Just like any other people.

For example, red and white are happy colors, while black and white are tragic.

The numbers four and nine . . . or combinations adding up to these . . . are considered unlucky. And before you dismiss these as idle superstitions . . . how many of your offices have a thirteenth floor marked ?

Small points indeed !

And about as important as picturing a cow on your package in India, where it's regarded as a sacred symbol.

Or a pig in Moslem countries where pork is anathema.

This is where the fascinations and frustrations . . . excitement and exasperations begin to mean more.

There's also a language barrier.

Most of us have an especially high regard for the English language. And a lot of us can speak—or at least read English.

But our radio and TV is in Japanese.

And when we're home relaxing and reading, it's generally in Japanese. We read books and magazines in the English language, but it's tough to sell us that way.

Language structure is different. So are idioms . . . from region to region.

You know what we mean if you've ever listened to a man from Chattanooga talk to a Bostonian.

Or a Yorkshireman talk to a Lancashireman.

There are many ways in which we're vastly different from you.

And even more in which we're alike. Take a moment to ask for a copy of "Dentsu Japan."

Write to Haruo Yoneda, Director International Department, Dentsu Advertising Ltd., Nishi-Ginza, Tokyo.

If you're around New York, call Sam Hashimoto at Dentsu's office in the Time & Life Building.

Wherever we are, our services are at your disposal.

Radio and TV continue to grow

Television billings for 1964 estimated at $2,170 million; radio billings estimated at $749 million; three-way network programming race pleases agencies

Broadcasting rode the crest of the nation's wave of economic good fortune in 1964 with both radio and television billings showing increases over 1963.

Television hit a new peak with billings expected to hit $2,170 million for the year. The Television Bureau of Advertising predicted TV business would total $2,910 million by 1970.

Radio's new high was in the neighborhood of $749 million it was estimated by Radio Advertising Bureau. A few weeks earlier an RAB study indicated that both national spot and network business were up about 5% for the first six months of the year.

Radio's Top Ten ■ A study of top radio advertisers showed the following ranking for the first six months of 1964 (totals in millions): General Motors $8.1; Ford $7.6; Reynolds Tobacco $4.9; Chrysler $4.3; American Tobacco $3.9; Anheuser-Busch $2.4; Coca-Cola $2.4; American Tel & Tel $2.4; Nestle $2.1 and P. Lorillard $1.9.

Television's total business was divided into $1,095 million for network; $730 million for spot and $345 million for local.

Official FCC figures for 1963 showed that television gross came to $1.59 billion and profits before federal income taxes totalled over $343 million. This was a 7.5% increase over 1962. Both network and national spot sales increased with spot totalling $600.7 million and network $537.9 million. (The complete FCC report on TV, including market-by-market comparisons appeared in BROADCASTING, July 27, 1964.)

FCC official figures for 1963 radio also hit a new peak of $681.1 million in revenue and $54.9 million in profits before income taxes. (The complete FCC report on radio, including market-by-market comparisons, appeared in BROADCASTING, Oct. 12, 1964.)

As 1964 came to a close television network programming was evaluated by agency executives who seemed pleased that Nielsen ratings showed the three networks in a virtual tie. The Dec. 7 Nielsen Television Index, considered by some definitive because they were the first of the fall season clear of political preemptions or election programming, showed CBS and NBC with an average 19.4 for the two-week rating period ending Nov. 22 and ABC with 19.3.

Leading Agencies ■ BROADCASTING's annual report on the top 50 broadcasting agencies showed J. Walter Thompson Co. number one for the seventh year with broadcast billings of $151 million. The next nine agencies with their total broadcast billings were: Young & Rubicam $128.8 million; Ted Bates & Co. $126.3 million; BBDO $123.3 million; Leo Burnett Co. $111.3 million; Benton & Bowles $100 million; McCann-Erickson $93.2 million; Dancer-Fitzgerald-Sample $92 million; Foote, Cone & Belding $88.19 million, and William Esty $83.6 million. (BROADCASTING, Nov. 23, 1964).

J. Walter Thompson and BBDO tied for the biggest radio agencies, each with $20 million in billings.

Rejection of pay TV by the voters of California gave that movement a considerable setback and forced suspension of operations in that state by Sylvester L. (Pat) Weaver's Subscription Television Inc. Promising a fight in the courts the company moved out of the state and set up offices in New York City.

As in any election year, politics had a considerable influence on broadcasters. An estimated $40 million was spent in TV and radio during the campaign as compared to only about $14 million in 1960. About half of the 1964 total was spent promoting the two national tickets with the rest going into state and local races.

Section 315 ■ Some blamed these soaring campaign costs on Section 315 restrictions which prevented broadcasters, in many cases, from donating time for candidates and broadening their coverage without equal-time inhibitions.

Newspaper and magazine ownership of radio and television stations continued to increase in 1964. At the end of the year there were 383 AM stations with newspaper or magazine ownership as compared to 381 last year. FM's totaled 159 as compared with 147. Television stations with newspaper-magazine ownership totalled 181 as compared with 174.

Community antenna television increased rapidly in 1964. Some 1,400 systems were reported.

Nearly 6,000 Stations ■ Total broadcasting stations on the air as of Oct. 31, 1964 was 5,925 as compared to 5,659 a year earlier.

Of these stations 584 were commercial TV stations.

There were 135 TV station applications pending.

Some 61 noncommercial, educational VHF stations were on the air and 56 noncommercial, educational UHF stations, making the total noncommercial educational stations operating 114.

The total noncommercial and commercial television stations operating was 698 as compared to 642 a year earlier.

Total AM radio stations on the air was 3,995 and total FM stations 1,232.

The radio and television audiences showed increases. In 1964 there were 52,600,000 television homes in the United States. Radio homes totalled 54,000,000.

Of U.S. homes 48,890,000 tune to TV in an average week and 39,240,000 homes tune to radio. Total TV viewing in the average day was estimated at 6 hours, 48 minutes. This may be compared with average viewing of 6 hours, 8 minutes in 1963.

Businesses related to radio and television listed in the 1965 Yearbook were as follows (totals of a year ago in parenthesis): talent agents and managers 70 (70); program services 724 (668); companies providing research services 56 (56); unions 48 (52); consulting engineers 242 (238); management consultants 57 (65); news services 37 (33); public relations, publicity, promotion services 66 (67); station brokers 26 (27); station representatives 147 (145); and station finance companies 16 (16).

AUDIENCES

THE RADIO AND TELEVISION AUDIENCES

Radio and television were in more U. S. homes than ever before as 1964 neared an end.

▪ Television.—A total of 52.6 million homes, or 93% of all U. S. homes, were TV-equipped as of September 1964, according to the A. C. Nielsen Co. The American Research Bureau estimated the total at 52,920,000 in December 1964, not counting an unspecified number of sets in Alaska.

▪ Radio.—The Radio Advertising Bureau estimated that 54 million U. S. homes, or almost 98%, were radio-equipped in 1964.

▪ Radio Sets.—The number of working-order radio sets in the U. S. would be 228 million as of Jan. 1, 1965, according to preliminary estimates of the RAB. The estimates anticipated this distribution: 160,512,000 in homes, 56,772,000 in automobiles, 10,716,000 in public places. The new total would represent a gain of 13,647,000 sets, or 6%, over the 214,353,000 estimated by RAB for Jan. 1, 1964.

▪ Viewing and Listening.—The extent to which radio and television sets were used is indicated in numerous ways in the tables that follow. All of the television data and most of the radio figures were furnished by the Nielsen company and its Nielsen Television Index (NTI) and Nielsen Radio Index (NRI). The one exception is the 1964 radio-homes estimate in the table immediately below; this RAB estimate is used because the Nielsen company went out of the radio audience measurement business in the spring of 1964. The other radio data, comparable to that used in preceding BROADCASTING YEARBOOKS, was compiled by Nielsen while its radio service was still in operation.

LOOKERS & LISTENERS.—The size of the weekly television audience, in homes, is shown in the table at left. The most recent (1963) comparable count of homes tuning on line-cord (non-portable) radio sets ranges from 25,385,000 in evening hours to 31,020,000 in morning hours, and totals 39,240,000 in a full week; but because much radio listening is to auto and portable sets, the line-cord

"homes" figures mean less in radio than TV. More complete data, showing the average home's weekly listening to all radio sources, in home and out, is presented in the table at right, which also distinguishes between summer and winter listening levels. Tables supplied by A. C. Nielsen Co.

The county-size classifications are as follows: Class A, all counties belonging to the 25 largest metropolitan areas; Class B, all counties with over 120,000 population that are not in Class A that are part of the metropolitan area of cities in such B counties; Class C, all other counties not included in A or B having a population over 32,000 plus counties that are part of the metropolitan areas of cities in such C counties; Class D, all remaining counties. The editorializing survey was obtained from the YEARBOOK questionnaire sent to all radio and TV stations. Here are the results:

	AM	FM	TV
Stations editorializing	1,692	149*	185
Stations on the air (as of July 1, 1964)	3,976	468*	582

Percent editorializing daily	8.6%	2.8%	8.2%
Percent editorializing weekly	4.6%	4.9%	4.6%
Percent editorializing occasionally	29.4%	24.1%	18.9%

*Only FM stations that are independently programed are considered in this survey.

check the winter lineup at Scottsdale Country Club Resort

Dead-Eye Dan, a real tough golfer, claims you can't steal a putt on the 18-hole championship course. Society Sal swings at cocktail parties and the Club's social affairs; during the day she cases the nearby shops and stores; says she can pick up everything. Tex, tall in the saddle, likes wide open spaces and picturesque trails, says the horse hide's better at the Club (and that's something from Tex). The Sun Tan Kid always holes out in the West during the winter, he likes the two pools and average 80 degree temperature. Gorgeous Georgia gave up all the rackets but one—she can't resist the fast set on the championship courts.

OH . . . OH! Where's Fast Fred? He made reservations early for one of the 80 superb accommodations. He's probably having a thick, juicy steak in the Club's dining room, right now. Why don't you hide out this winter? Write Jud Bunnell for the winter lineup.

Radio-TV Station Employment

In this table, groupings of fulltime staffs of radio and television stations have been made. Percentage figures of the total reporting stations employing a given number of people are shown. For example, 1.6% of all reporting television stations and 13.9% of all reporting radio stations employ full-time staffs of from one to five persons. Figures in parentheses are cumulative figures to a given point on the chart. For example, 6.6% of all reporting television stations, and 52.2% of all reporting radio stations, employ full-time staffs of 10 or less persons.

The South Bend Market Has Been Redefined by WSBT-TV

Two years ago WSBT-TV erected a 1047' tower and almost doubled its power. The above map shows the increase in range.

What it does not show is the work that has gone into station promotion in the new coverage area.

By home town radio and newspaper and by direct mail the word has been spread . . . WSBT-TV has everything to offer. And the promotion program is paying off. Our mail pull from towns 50 to 75 miles from South Bend continues to grow daily . . . we know WSBT-TV programming is making inroads into the Chicago, Ft. Wayne and Kalamazoo markets. Care to join us?

This is a new South Bend market as created by WSBT-TV. For complete details contact WSBT-TV, South Bend.

NEWS IS THE MAGNET
PULLS

The gathering and presentation of news; the personality and believability of individual newscasters; and the accuracy and speed of getting the news to the public is the most significant area in which a local TV station can capture and hold the loyalty of the community it serves. The Quad-Cities' viewer acceptance of all of WOC-TV's programming is more than adequate testimony that "news is the magnet that pulls!"

A recent qualitative survey conducted by (but not identified with) WOC was made to find the strengths and weaknesses that exist in WOC-TV's news segments. The compilation of answers showed WOC as the news leader in 28 of 31 categories in this 3-station community.

We invite you to share the benefits of WOC's leadership in this 1½ billion dollar retail sales market.

HOW TO SQUEEZE THE MOST OUT OF A DETROIT MINUTE

In Detroit, the WWJ Stations enjoy an acknowledged acceptance. For many reasons: Special emphasis on local affairs and news. A knowledgeable approach to total programming. A sincere devotion to community service. An affiliation with NBC dating back 38 years. And home ownership by The Detroit News.

Because of this acceptance, the WWJ Stations provide advertisers with a more receptive atmosphere for their sales messages. Consistent results through the years have proved that the way to squeeze the most out of a Detroit minute is to spend it on the WWJ Stations. Whether you sell oranges or oil.

FOR A NEWS-HUNGRY PUBLIC

...THE LARGEST STAFF AND BEST FACILITIES IN OUR PART OF AMERICA

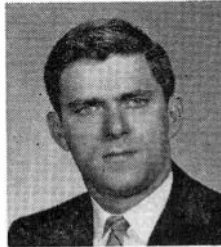

These are the men—and the machines—that collect, photograph, and broadcast WHIO news via AM, FM and TV. There is no comparable service in our part of the nation. The natural consequence: around the clock more news-hungry people listen to WHIO-AM and FM—watch WHIO-TV. Ask George P. Hollingbery to prove it.

Blue chips? The 306-plus blue circles on the 26-county WIS-Television coverage area map are just that. They represent the industries employing 50 or more people in these 26 counties.

The many new blue-chip industries locating here impress the observer—half a million dollars' worth a day coming into the surprising new South Carolina. To be honest, it impresses us, too.

This is why Columbia is the fastest-growing metropolitan area in both Carolinas. This is why this booming area is a must for any cannily-constructed spot schedule. Only WIS-Television reaches it effectively, without the need for peripheral buys.

According to the latest count, there were 89,101 producing oil wells in the KMID-TV coverage area.

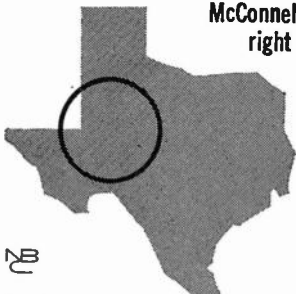

So what's one more among all those others?

As of now, they're producing a billion dollars worth of crude oil per year, and more keeps coming.

With maximum power, a low-frequency channel, and 1137 feet of antenna structure on a 2,912-foot elevation base, KMID-TV's Tall Tower casts a long shadow indeed.

This is high consumer spendable income country. And 91% of all homes have at least one television set.

"Your new plant will succeed in Virginia"
Herman H. Pevler, President

NORFOLK AND WESTERN RAILWAY ROANOKE, VIRGINIA

"Over the past decade, our Industrial Development Department has assisted scores of national companies in the location of new plant sites within the western Virginia area. These new locations have succeeded because all the ingredients for industrial growth are present — a good, intelligent labor supply; growing consumer markets; a reasonable tax situation; and exceptional community cooperation. These are some of the factors that have contributed to the growth of our railroad — and they will help your company to grow."

The N&W, America's most prosperous and efficient railroad, is headquartered in Roanoke. It provides fast, dependable distribution throughout the area served by WDBJ Television. We would extend our invitation to manufacturers to locate here, and also to market their products, whether they be "established" or "on test."

Roanoke television is a primary advertising force . . . when you market your product within this rich and economically fertile area.

where can you find a station that Colorcasts
 92 programs a week?

You Found It—WTMJ-TV in Milwaukee!

WTMJ-TV is now colorcasting 37% locally produced programs. And in the 6-12 P.M. prime viewing hours 75% are in color. Number one color station in Milwaukee, WTMJ-TV has been a leader in color television since its inception. On December 20, 1953, WTMJ-TV offered the first colorcast by a Wisconsin station. In 1954, WTMJ-TV broadcast the first locally produced live color program in Wisconsin and within two days of this broadcast the first commercially sponsored color program in Wisconsin.

Now, 12 years later, WTMJ-TV continues to build its leading position in color television by broadcasting 92 color programs a week. In order to continue broadcasting the best in color, WTMJ-TV has the latest in color equipment: two indoor and one outdoor color studios, three color television cameras, color slide, film and video tape equipment. And a new $1½ million round studio is now under construction. During the 1965 season WTMJ-TV anticipates a further increase in color programming.

MR. BROADCASTER: You belong at both ends of the signal

More and more broadcasters are finding that the operation of community-antenna systems is a natural business for them.

Like broadcasting, CATV is a public service, demanding a management familiar with and sensitive to the needs and desires of the public for high-quality television pictures regardless of the distance from the transmitter.

And so, to assure studio-quality reception and a rich variety of programs to homes in your broadcast area, you should investigate the advantages of entering community-antenna television (CATV).

Consult the leader • To make your entrance into CATV uncomplicated and economical, Jerrold—pioneer and leader in this field—offers you a range and depth of technical and management services unmatched anywhere. Jerrold's tremendous experience and nationwide organization can help in any or every stage of setting up a new community system—in conducting signal surveys; engineering the system; supplying all electronic equipment, including microwave; constructing the entire plant, from antenna site to house-drop; training your personnel; arranging financing to meet your needs; and, finally, turning over the key to an operating system to your system manager.

Someone suggested:
"Show a fellow who isn't listening"

SO...

This fellow obviously isn't tuned to KABC RADIO. Our listeners listen. That's our point. KABC is an all-talk station (with ten hours of news daily plus a wide variety of stimulating conversation). So, the only reason people tune to KABC is to listen. With an audience ready to give its undivided attention to your sales message, our Sales Manager puts it this way — "the nicest 'helper' a good commercial ever had."

For details, call us or your Katz man. We're good listeners, too.

Another important plus...

In another step to better serve Mid-America with the most complete national and international news coverage . . . WGN is now operating a fully staffed Washington news bureau. The bureau develops and reports news, including exclusive interviews with regional political figures, for both WGN Radio and WGN Television. (As well as KDAL Radio and Television, Duluth, Minn.) Another important plus for WGN audiences and advertisers and . . . one more example of why, in radio and television . . .

To cross the mighty Mississippi at this point, you have a choice of three bridges — and WOC Radio. Like the bridges, WOC links five great communities (and eleven surrounding counties) with an EBI of more than 1 billion dollars. WOC — the Quad-Cities senior station — has increased its adult audience the fastest of any station, and is the only station in the area with a single-rate card.

Each of the counties within the WOC coverage area ranks in the top 18% of all the U. S. counties in gross farm income and three of the major farm machinery manufacturers are located here.

Since 1922

Our aerial act is absolutely colossal!

It's so big that every morning and every evening thousands upon thousands of loyal WJR listeners, with auto aerials everywhere in evidence, literally stand in line to catch our daily performances! This tremendous audience is drawn from the 74% of Michiganders who travel to and from work by car—a greater percentage of car commuters than in New York, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Texas or California!

Add these folks to the WJR listener-commuters in the rest of the Great Lakes area and the result is an audience of astronomical proportions.

These are the commuters who tune to WJR for foreground radio—programming that people listen to. They get generous helpings of information, entertainment and adult companionship. Because we know that adult listeners have no desire to be rocked, rolled, shouted or twisted to and from work.

Care to join our act—and “captivate” one of the most captive audiences in America? Your Henry I. Christal representative will show you how our traffic can increase your traffic.
