Policy

By law, the Voice of America, a part of the International Communication Agency, operates under the following directive: "The long-range interests of the United States are served by communicating directly with the peoples of the world by radio. To be effective, the Voice of America must win the attention and respect of listeners. These principles will govern VOA broadcasts:

"1. VOA will serve as a consistently reliable and authoritative source of news. VOA news will be accurate, objective, and comprehensive.

"2. VOA will represent America, not any single segment of American society, and will therefore present a balanced and comprehensive projection of significant American thought and institutions.

"3. VOA will present the policies of the United States clearly and effectively, and will also present responsible discussion and opinion on these policies."

To implement this directive, these broadcasts present news and news-related items of American and world events, news analyses, commentaries, correspondents' reports, editorial roundups, and feature material such as documentaries, roundtable discussions, interviews and special events all of which provides overseas audiences with a balanced and accurate concept of the many facets of American life and clear information regarding U.S. policies.

Facilities

The Voice of America has a network of 109 transmitters: 41 in the continental United States and 68 overseas. These are short and medium wave stations ranging in power from 35 kw to 1,000 kw. The largest transmitter complex is at Greenville, N.C. There, 18 transmitters relay programs received via microwave from the Washington studios to audiences and relay stations abroad over 73 directional antennas. Total power at Greenville is 4,800 kw. Other domestic facilities are at Bethany, Ohio; Marathon, Fla. (MW); Delano and Dixon, both California.

Overseas relay stations are at: Munich, Germany; Kavala and Rhodes, Greece; Tangier, Morocco; Monrovia, Liberia; Tinang and Poro, The Philippines; Woolerton, England; Colombo, Sri Lanka; Bangkok, Thailand. These include short and medium wave transmitters, among which are three one-megawatt transmitters. VOA's total power is now 21,840,000 watts.

Local Placement

Many VOA tapes, music recordings and script materials are furnished by International Communication Agency offices overseas for local distribution and broadcast. Other relays and rebroadcasts are made through arrangements with local broadcasters in Western Europe, Africa, the Near East, South Asia, the Far East and Latin America. For example, VOA's Spanish-language feed of 20 daily (M-F) correspondent reports are broadcast a total of 1,200 times on stations and networks throughout the southern hemisphere.

Radio and Television Audiences

Radio and television were in more U.S. homes than ever before as 1978 approached.

Radio. The Radio Advertising Bureau estimated that 74.6 million U.S. homes, 98.6%, were radio-equipped as of Jan. 1, 1978.

Radio Sets. The number of working-order radio sets in the U.S. totaled 444 million in January 1978, according to estimates by the Radio Advertising Bureau. RAB estimated that 328 million of these were home and personal radio sets and 116 million were out-of-home receivers.

Television. A total of 74.5 million homes, or 98% of all U.S. homes (excluding Alaska and Hawaii) were TV equipped as of September 1978, according to A. C. Nielsen Company.

Color TV. Homes equipped with color TV sets totaled 60.29 million, or 81% of all TV homes, as of September 1978, according to A. C. Nielsen Company estimates.

Viewing and Listening. The extent to which radio and television sets were used is indicated in the tables that follow. The television figures were furnished by the Nielsen company and its Nielsen Television Index (NTI). The radio data came from RAB and other sources as noted.

Radio Billings 1935-1977

Figures for the years 1935 through 1967 are net time sales by stations and networks after all frequency and promotional discounts but before deduction of commissions to agencies and representatives. Figures from 1969 on were computed under a new formula and represent total amounts paid by advertisers for the use of broadcast facilities. They include commissions paid to advertising agencies and representatives and payments for broadcast time and programs, materials, facilities and services supplied by broadcast stations and networks in connection with the sale of time. Figures are based on FCC data.

* Prior to 1971, data reflects factory sales by U.S. manufacturers plus those products imported directly by distributors or dealers for resale. All import statistics are based on average value as published by the U. S. Department of Commerce, which is F.O.B., and therefore excludes U.S. import duties, freight charged from the foreign country to the U.S. and insurance.

1971 and years following data reflects products produced or purchased by U.S. manufacturers plus those products imported directly by distributors or dealers for resale. Import statistics are adjusted to U.S. factory values, including U.S. import duties, freight charged from the foreign country to the U.S. and insurance.

¹Other imports reflect those products imported directly by distributors or dealers for resale.

NAB Television Code

Preamble

Television is seen and heard in nearly every American home. These homes include children and adults of all ages, embrace all races and all varieties of philosophic or religious conviction and reach those of every educational background. Television broadcasters must take this pluralistic audience into account in programming their stations. They are obligated to bring their positive responsibility for professionalism and reasoned judgment to bear upon all those involved in the development, production and selection of programs.

The free, competitive American system of broadcasting which offers programs of entertainment, news, general information, education and culture is supported and made possible by revenues from advertising. While television broadcasters are responsible for the programming and advertising on their stations, the advertisers who use television to convey their commercial messages also have a responsibility to the viewing audience. Their advertising messages should be presented in an honest, responsible and tasteful manner. Advertisers should also support the endeavors of broadcasters to offer a diversity of programs that meet the needs and expectations of the total viewing audience.

The viewer also has a responsibility to help broadcasters serve the public. All viewers should make their criticisms and positive suggestions about programming and advertising known to the broadcast licensee. Parents particularly should oversee the viewing habits of their children, encouraging them to watch programs that will enrich their experience and broaden their intellectual horizons.

Program Standards

I. Principles Governing Program Content

It is in the interest of television as a vital medium to encourage programs that are innovative, reflect a high degree of creative skill, deal with significant moral and social issues and present challenging concepts and other subject matter that relate to the world in which the viewer lives.

Television programs should not only reflect the influence of the established institutions that shape our values and culture, but also expose the dynamics of social change which bear upon our lives.

To achieve these goals, television broadcasters should be conversant with the general and specific needs, interests and aspirations of all the segments of the communities they serve. They should affirmatively seek out responsible representatives of all parts of their communities so that they may structure a broad range of programs that will inform, enlighten and entertain the total audience.

Broadcasters should also develop programs directed toward advancing the cultural and educational aspects of their communities.

To assure that broadcasters have the freedom to program fully and responsibly, none of the provisions of this Code should be construed as preventing or impeding broadcast of the broad range of material necessary to help broadcasters fulfill their obligations to operate in the public interest.

The challenge to the broadcaster is to determine how suitably to present the complexities of human behavior. For television, this requires exceptional awareness of considerations peculiar to the medium.

Accordingly, in selecting program subjects and themes, great care must be exercised to be sure that treatment and presentation are made in good faith and not for the purpose of sensationalism or to shock or exploit the audience or appeal to prurient interests or morbid curiosity.

Additionally, entertainment programming inappropriate for viewing by a general family audience should not be broadcast during the first hour of network entertainment programming in prime time and in the immediately preceding hour. In the occasional case when an entertainment program in this time period is deemed to be inappropriate for such an audience, advisories should be used to alert viewers. Advisories should also be used when programs in later prime time periods contain material that might be disturbing to significant segments of the audience.

These advisories should be presented in audio and video form at the beginning of the program and when deemed appropriate at a later point in the program. Advisories should also be used responsibly in promotional material in advance of the program. When using an advisory, the broadcaster should attempt to notify publishers of television program listings.

Special care should be taken with respect to the content and treatment of audience advisories so that they do not dissever their intended purpose by containing material that is promotional, sensational or exploitative. Promotional announcements for programs that include advisories should be scheduled on a basis consistent with the purpose of the advisory.

The scheduling provisions of Section 1 (Principles Governing Program Content) shall not apply to programs under contract to a station as of April 8, 1975, all episodes of which were then in existence, if such station is unable, despite reasonable good faith efforts, to edit such programs to make them appropriate for family viewing or to reschedule them so as not to occupy family viewing periods. This exception shall in no event apply after September 1, 1977. Any such programs excepted from scheduling provisions shall, of course, bear the required advisory notices. (Interpretation No. 5).

II. Responsibility Toward Children

Broadcasters have a special responsibility to children. Programs designed primarily for children should take into account the range of interests and needs of children, from instructional and cultural material to a wide variety of entertainment material. In their totality, programs should contribute to the sound, balanced development of children to help them achieve a sense of the world at large and informed adjustments to their society.

In the course of a child's development, numerous social factors and forces, including television, affect the ability of the child to make the transition to adult society.

The child's training and experience during the formative years should include positive sets of values which will allow the child to become a responsible adult, capable of coping with the challenges of maturity.

Children should also be exposed, at the appropriate times, to a reasonable range of the realities which exist in the world sufficient to help them make the transition to adulthood.

Because children are allowed to watch programs designed primarily for adults, broadcasters should take this practice into account in the presentation of material in such programs when children may constitute a substantial segment of the audience.

All the standards set forth in this section apply to both program and commercial material designed and intended for viewing by children.

III. Community Responsibility

1. Television broadcasters and their staffs occupy positions of unique responsibility in their communities and should conscientiously endeavor to be acquainted fully with the community's needs and characteristics in order better to serve the welfare of its citizens.

2. Requests for time for the placement of public service announcements or programs should be carefully reviewed with respect to the character and reputation of the group, campaign or organization involved, the public interest content of the message, and the manner of its presentation.

IV. Special Program Standards

1A. Violence, physical or psychological, may only be presented in responsibly handled contexts, not used exploitively. Programs involving violence should present the consequences of it to its victims and perpetrators.

Presentation of the details of violence should avoid the excessive, the gratuitous and the instructional.

The use of violence for its own sake and the detailed dwelling upon brutality or physical agony, by sight or by sound, are not permissible.

B. The depiction of conflict, when presented in programs designed primarily for children, should be handled with sensitivity.

2. The treatment of criminal activities should always convey their social and human effects.

The presentation of techniques of crime in such detail as to be instructional or invite imitation shall be avoided.

3A. Narcotics addiction shall not be presented except as a destructive habit. The use of illegal drugs or the abuse of legal drugs shall not be encouraged or shown as socially acceptable.

B. The use of gambling devices or scenes necessary to the development of plot or as appropriate background is acceptable only when presented with discretion and in moderation, and in a manner which would not excite interest in, or foster, betting nor be instructional in nature.

C. The use of liquor and the depiction of smoking in program content shall be deemphasized. When shown, they should be consistent with plot and character development.

4. Telecasts of actual sports programs at which on-the-scene betting is permitted by law shall be presented in a manner in keeping with federal, state and local laws, and should concentrate on the subject as a public sporting event.

5. Special precautions must be taken to avoid demeaning or ridiculing members of the audience who suffer from physical or mental affliction or deformities.

6. The presentation of marriage, the family and similarly important human relationships, and material with sexual connotations, shall not be treated exploitively or irresponsibly, but with sensitivity. Costuming and movements of all performers shall be handled in a similar fashion.

7. Special sensitivity is necessary in the use of material relating to sex, race, color, creed, religious functionalities or rites, or national or ethnic derivation.

8. Subscribers shall not broadcast any material which they determine to be obscene, profane or indecent. Above and beyond the requirements of law, broadcasters must consider the family atmosphere in which many of their programs are viewed. There shall be no graphic portrayal of sexual acts by sight or sound. The portrayal of implied sexual acts must be essential to the plot and presented in a responsible and tasteful manner. Subscribers are obligated to bring positive responsibility and reasoned judgment to bear upon all those involved in the development, production, and selection of programs.

9. The creation of a state of hypnosis by act or detailed demonstration on camera is prohibited and hypnosis as a form of "parlor game" antics to create humorous situations within a comedy setting is forbidden.

10. Program material pertaining to fortune-telling, occultism, astrology, phrenology, palm-reading, numerology, mind-reading, character-reading, and the like is unacceptable if it encourages people to regard such fields as providing commonly accepted appraisals of life.

11. Professional advice, diagnosis and treatment will be presented in conformity with law and recognized professional standards.

12. Any technique whereby an attempt is made to convey information to the viewer by transmitting messages below the threshold of normal awareness is not permitted.

13. The use of animals, consistent with plot and character delineation, shall be in conformity with accepted standards of humane treatment.

14A. Quiz and similar programs that are presented as contests of knowledge, information, skill or luck, must, in fact, be genuine contests; and the result must not be controlled by collusion with or between contestants, or by any other action which will favor one contestant against any other.

B. Contests may not constitute a lottery.

15. The broadcasters shall be constantly alert to prevent inclusion of elements within a program dictated by factors other than the requirements of the program itself. The acceptance of cash payments or other considerations in return for including scenic properties, the choice and identification of prizes, the selection of music and other creative program elements and inclusion of any identification of commercial products or services, their trade names or advertising slogan within the programs are prohibited except in accordance with Sections 317 and 508 of the Communications Act.

16A. No program shall be presented in a manner which through artifice or simulation would mislead the audience as to any material fact. Each broadcaster must exercise reasonable judgment to determine whether a particular method of presentation would constitute a material deception, or would be accepted by the audience as normal theatrical illusion.

B. A television broadcaster should not present fictional events or other non-news material as authentic news telecasts or announcements, nor permit dramatizations in any program which would give the false impression that the dramatized material constitutes news.

17. The standards of this Code covering program content are also understood to include, wherever applicable, the standards contained in the advertising section of the Code.

V. Treatment of News and Public Events

General

Television Code standards relating to the treatment of news and public events are, because of constitutional consideration, intended to be exhortatory. The standards set forth hereunder encourage high standards of professionalism in broadcast journalism. They are not to be interpreted as turning over to others the broadcaster's responsibility as to judgments necessary in news and public events programming.

News

1. A television station's news schedule should be adequate and well-balanced.

2. News reporting should be factual, fair and without bias.

3. A television broadcaster should exercise particular discrimination in the acceptance, placement and presentation of advertising in news programs so that such advertising should be clearly distinguishable from the news content.

4. At all times, pictorial and verbal material for both news and comment should conform to other sections of these standards, wherever such sections are reasonably applicable.

5. Good taste should prevail in the selection and handling of news:

Morbid, sensational or alarming details not essential to the factual report, especially in connection with stories of crime or sex, should be avoided. News should be telecast in such a manner as to avoid panic and unnecessary alarm.

6. Commentary and analysis should be clearly identified as such.

7. Pictorial material should be chosen with care and not presented in a misleading manner.

8. All news interview programs should be governed by accepted standards of ethical journalism, under which the interviewer selects the questions to be asked. Where there is advance agreement materially restricting an important or newsworthy area of questioning, the interviewer will state on the program that such limitation has been agreed upon. Such disclosure should be made if the person being interviewed requires that questions be submitted in advance or if he participates in editing a recording of the interview prior to its use on the air.

9. A television broadcaster should exercise due care in the supervision of content, format, and presentation of newscasts originated by his/her station, and in the selection of newscasters, commentators, and analysts.

Public Events

1. A television broadcaster has an affirmative responsibility at all times to be informed of public events, and to provide coverage consonant with the ends of an informed and enlightened citizenry.

2. The treatment of such events by a television broadcaster should provide adequate and informed coverage.

VI. Controversial Public Issues

1. Television provides a valuable forum for the expression of responsible views on public issues of a controversial nature. The television broadcaster should seek out and develop with accountable individuals, groups and organizations, programs relating to controversial public issues of import to his/her fellow citizens; and to give fair representation to opposing sides of issues which materially affect the life or welfare of a substantial segment of the public.

2. Requests by individuals, groups or organizations for time to discuss their views on controversial public issues, should be considered on the basis of their individual merits, and in the light of the contribution which the use requested would make to the public interest, and to a well-balanced program structure.

3. Programs devoted to the discussion of controversial public issues should be identified as such. They should not be presented in a manner which would mislead listeners or viewers to believe that the program is purely of an entertainment, news or other character.

4. Broadcasts in which stations express their own opinions about issues of general public interest should be clearly identified as editorials. They should be unmistakably identified as statements of station opinion and should be appropriately distinguished from news and other program material.

VII. Political Telecasts

1. Political telecasts should be clearly identified as such. They should not be presented by a television broadcaster in a manner which would mislead listeners or viewers to believe that the program is of any other character.

(Ref.: Communications Act of 1934, as amended, Secs. 315 and 317, and FCC Rules and Regulations, Secs. 3.654, 3.657, 3.663, as discussed in NAB's "Political Broadcast Catechism & The Fairness Doctrine.")

VIII. Religious Programs

1. It is the responsibility of a television broadcaster to make available to the community appropriate opportunity for religious presentations.

2. Programs reach audiences of all creeds simultaneously. Therefore, both the advocates of broad or ecumenical religious precepts, and the exponents of specific doctrines, are urged to present their positions in a manner conducive to viewer enlightenment on the role of religion in society.

3. In the allocation of time for telecasts of religious programs the television station should use its best efforts to apportion such time fairly among responsible individuals, groups and organizations.

Advertising Standards

IX. Presentation of Advertising

1A. This code establishes basic standards for all television broadcasting. The principles of acceptability and good taste within the program standards section govern the presentation of advertising where applicable. In addition, the code establishes in this section special standards which apply to television advertising.

B. Commercial television broadcasters make their facilities available for the advertising of products and services and accepts commercial presentations for such advertising. However, television broadcasters should, in recognition of their responsibility to the public, refuse the facilities of their station to an advertiser where they have good reason to doubt the integrity of the advertiser, the truth of the advertising representations, or the compliance of the advertiser with the spirit and purpose of all applicable legal requirements.

C. Since advertising by television is a dynamic technique, a television broadcaster should keep under surveillance new advertising devices so that the spirit and purpose of these standards are fulfilled.

2. Identification of sponsorship must be made in all sponsored programs in accordance with the requirements of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and the Rules and Regulations of the Federal Communications Commission.

3. Representations which disregard normal safety precautions shall be avoided.

Children shall not be represented, except under proper adult supervision, as being in contact with, or demonstrating a product recognized as potentially dangerous to them.

4A. In consideration of the customs and attitudes of the communities served, each television broadcaster should refuse his/her facilities to the advertisement of products and services, or the use of advertising scripts, which the station has good reason to believe would be objectionable to a substantial and responsible segment of the community. These standards should be applied with judgment and flexibility, taking into consideration the characteristics of the medium, its home and family audience, and the form and content of the particular presentation.

B. Advertising messages should be presented with courtesy and good taste; disturbing or annoying material should be avoided; every effort should be made to keep the advertising message in harmony with the content and general tone in which it appears.

5. A multiple product announcement is one in which two or more products or services are presented within the framework of a single announcement. A multiple product announcement shall not be scheduled in a unit of time less than 60 seconds, except where integrated so as to appear to the viewer as a single message. A multiple product announcement shall be considered integrated and counted as a single announcement if:—the products or services are related and interwoven within the framework of the announcement (related products or services shall be defined as those having a common character, purpose and use); and—the voice(s), setting, background and continuity are used consistently throughout so as to appear to the viewer as a single message.

Multiple product announcement of 60 seconds in length or longer not meeting this definition of integration shall be counted as two or more announcements under this section of the code. This provision shall not apply to retail or service establishments.

6A. The broadcaster and the advertiser should exercise special caution with the content and presentation of television commercials placed in or near programs designed for children. Exploitation of children should be avoided. Commercials directed to children should in no way mislead as to the product's performance and usefulness.

B. Commercials, whether live, film or tape, within programs initially designed primarily for children under 12 years of age shall be clearly separated from program material by an appropriate device.

C. Trade name identification or other merchandising practices involving the gratuitous naming of products is discouraged in programs designed primarily for children.

D. Appeals involving matters of health which should be determined by physicians should not be directed primarily to children.

E. No children's program personality or cartoon characters shall be utilized to deliver commercial messages within or adjacent to the programs in which such a personality or cartoon character regularly appears. This provision shall also apply to lead-ins to commercials when such lead-ins contain sell copy of implied endorsement of the product by program personalities or cartoon character.

7A. The advertising of hard liquor (distilled spirits) is not acceptable.

B. The advertising of beer and wine is acceptable only when presented in the best of good taste and discretion, and is acceptable only subject to federal and local laws.

This requires that commercials involving beer and wine avoid any representation of on-camera drinking. Television Code Interpretation No. 4

8. Advertising by institutions or enterprises which in their offers of instruction imply promises of employment or make exaggerated claims for the opportunities awaiting those who enroll for courses is generally unacceptable.

9. The advertising of firearms/ammunition is acceptable provided it promotes the product only as sporting equipment and conforms to recognized standards of safety as well as all applicable laws and regulations. Advertisements of firearms/ammunition by mail order are unacceptable. The advertising of fireworks is unacceptable.

10. The advertising of fortune-telling, occultism, astrology, phrenology, palm-reading, numerology, mind-reading, character reading or subjects of a like nature is not permitted.

11. Because all products of a personal nature create special problems, acceptability of such products should be determined with special emphasis on ethics and the canons of good taste. Such advertising of personal products as is accepted must be presented in a restrained and obviously inoffensive manner.

12. The advertising of tip sheets and other publications seeking to advertise for the purpose of giving odds or promoting betting is unacceptable.

The lawful advertising of government organizations which conduct legalized lotteries and the advertising of private or governmental organizations which conduct legalized betting on sporting contests are acceptable provided such advertising does not unduly exhort the public to bet.

13. An advertiser who markets more than one product should not be permitted to use advertising copy devoted to an acceptable product for purposes of publicizing the brand name or other identification of a product which is not acceptable.

14. "Bait-switch" advertising, whereby goods or services which the advertiser has no intention of selling are offered merely to lure the customer into purchasing higher-priced substitutes, is not acceptable.

15. The "pitchman" technique of advertising on television is inconsistent with good broadcast practice and generally damages the reputation of the industry and the advertising profession.

Sponsored program-length segments consisting substantially of continuous demonstrations or sales presentation, violate not only the time standards established in the Code, but the broad philosophy of improvement implicit in the voluntary Code operation and are not acceptable. (Interpretation No. 1)

16. Personal endorsements (testimonials) shall be genuine and reflect personal experience. They shall contain no statement that cannot be supported if presented in the advertiser's own words.

17. A charge for television time to churches and religious bodies is not recommended.

X. Claims: General

1. The role and capability of television to market sponsors' products are well recognized. In turn, this fact dictates that great care be exercised by the broadcaster to prevent the presentation of false, misleading or deceptive advertising. While it is entirely appropriate to present a product in a favorable light and atmosphere, the presentation must not, by copy or demonstration, involve a material deception as to the characteristics, performance or appearance of the product.

Broadcast advertisers are responsible for making available, at the request of the Code Authority, documentation adequate to support the validity and truthfulness of claims, demonstrations and testimonials contained in their commercial messages.

2. References to the results of bona fide research, surveys or tests relating to the product to be advertised shall not be presented in a manner so as to create an impression of fact beyond that established by the work that has been conducted.

3. Appeals to help fictitious characters in television programs by purchasing the advertiser's product or service or sending for a premium should not be permitted, and such fictitious characters should not be introduced into the advertising message for such purposes.

4. Advertising should offer a product or service on its positive merits and refrain from discrediting, disparaging or unfairly attacking competitors, competing products, other industries, professions or institutions.

5. A sponsor's advertising messages should be confined within the framework of the sponsor's program structure. A television broadcaster should avoid the use of commercial announcements which are divorced from the program either by preceding the introduction of the program (as in the case of so-called "cow-catcher" announcements) or by following the apparent sign-off of the program (as in the case of so-called trailer or "hitchhike" announcements). To this end, the program itself should be announced and clearly identified, both audio and video, before the sponsor's advertising material is first used, and should be signed off, both audio and video, after the sponsor's advertising material is last used.

XI. Advertising of Medical Products Services

1. The advertising of medical products presents considerations of intimate and far-reaching importance to consumers because of the direct bearing on their health.

2. Because of the personal nature of the advertising of medical products, claims that a product will effect a cure and the indiscriminate use of such words as "safe", "without risk", "harmless", or terms of similar meaning should not be accepted in the advertising of medical products on television stations.

3. A television broadcaster should not accept advertising material which in his/her opinion offensively describes or dramatizes distress or morbid situations involving ailments, by spoken word, sound or visual effects.

4. Commercials for services or over-the-counter products involving health considerations are of intimate and far-reaching importance to the consumer. The following principles should apply to such advertising:

A. Physicians, dentists or nurses or actors representing physicians, dentists or nurses, shall not be employed directly or by implication. These restrictions also apply to persons professionally engaged in medical services (e.g., physical therapists, pharmacists, dental assistants, nurses' aides).

B. Visual representation of laboratory settings may be employed provided they bear a direct relationship to bona fide research which has been conducted for the product or service. (See Television Code, X, 11) In such cases, laboratory technicians shall be identified as such and shall not be employed as spokespersons or in any other way speak on behalf of the product.

C. Institutional announcements not intended to sell a specific product or service to the consumer and public service announcements by non-profit organizations may be presented by accredited physicians, dentist or nurses, subject to approval by the broadcaster. An accredited professional is one who has met required qualifications and has been licensed in his/her resident state.

XII. Contests

1. Contests shall be conducted with fairness to all entrants, and shall comply with all pertinent laws and regulations. Care should be taken to avoid the concurrent use of the three elements which together constitute a lottery-prize, chance and consideration.

2. All contest details, including rules, eligibility requirements, opening and termination dates should be clearly and completely announced and/or shown, or easily accessible to the viewing public, and the winners' names should be released and prizes awarded as soon as possible after the close of the contest.

3. When advertising is accepted which requests contestants to submit items of product identification or other evidence of purchase of products, reasonable facsimiles thereof should be made acceptable unless the award is based upon skill and not upon chance.

4. All copy pertaining to any contest (except that which is required by law) associated with the exploitation or sale of the sponsor's product or service, and all references to prizes or gifts offered in such connection should be considered a part of and included in the total time allowances as herein provided. (See Television Code, XI V)

XIII. Premiums and Offers

1. Full details of proposed offers should be required by the television broadcaster for investigation and approved before the first announcement of the offer is made to the public.

2. A final date for the termination of an offer should be announced as far in advance as possible.

3. Before accepting for telecast offers involving a monetary consideration, a television broadcaster should be satisfied as to the integrity of the advertiser and the advertiser's willingness to honor complaints indicating dissatisfaction with the premium by returning the monetary consideration.

4. There should be no misleading descriptions or visual representations of any premiums or gifts which would distort or enlarge their value in the minds of the viewers.

5. Assurances should be obtained from the advertiser that premiums offered are not harmful to person or property.

6. Premiums should not be approved which appeal to superstition on the basis of "luck-bearing" powers or otherwise.

XIV. Time Standards for Network-Affiliated Stations

In order that the time for non-program material and its placement shall best serve the viewer, the following standards are set forth in accordance with sound television practice:

Non-Program Material Definition. Non-program material, in both prime time and all other time, includes billboards, commercials, promotional announcements.

A. In programs of 90 minutes in length or less, credits in excess of 30 seconds per program shall be counted against the allowable time for non-program material. In no event should credits exceed 40 seconds in such programs. The 40-second limitation on credits shall not apply, however, in any situation governed by a contract entered into before October 1, 1971.

B. In programs longer than 90 minutes, credits in excess of 50 seconds per program shall be counted against the allowable time for non-program material. In no event should credits exceed 60 seconds. Public service announcements and promotional announcements for the same program are excluded from this definition.

2. Allowable Time for Non-Program Material.

A. In prime time on network affiliated stations, non-program material shall not exceed nine minutes 30 seconds in any 60-minute period.

Prime time is a continuous period of not less than three consecutive hours per broadcast day as designated by the station between the hours of 6:00 PM and midnight.

B. In all other time, non-program material shall not exceed 16 minutes in any 60-minute period.

C. Children's Programming Time—Defined as those hours other than prime time in which programs initially designed primarily for children under 12 years of age are scheduled.

Within this time period on Saturday and Sunday, non-program material shall not exceed nine minutes 30 seconds in any 60-minute period.

Within this time period on Monday through Friday, non-program material shall not exceed 12 minutes in any 60-minute period.

3. Program Interruptions.

A. Definition: A program interruption is any occurrence of non-program material within the main body of the program.

B. In prime time, the number of program interruptions shall not exceed two within any 30-minute program, or four within any 60-minute program.

Programs longer than 60 minutes shall be pro-rated at two interruptions per half-hour.

The number of interruptions in 60-minute variety shows shall not exceed five.

C. In all other time, the number of interruptions shall not exceed four within any 30-minute program period.

D. In children's weekend programming time, as above defined in 2C, the number of program interruptions shall not exceed two within any 30-minute program or four within any 60-minute program

E. In both prime time and all other time, the following interruption standard shall apply within programs of 15 minutes or less in length:

- 5-minute program—1 interruption;
- 10-minute program—2 interruptions;
- 15-minute program—2 interruptions.

F. News, weather, sports and special events programs are exempt from the interruption standard because of the nature of such programs.

4. No more than four non-program material announcements shall be scheduled consecutively within programs, and no more than three non-program material announcements shall be scheduled consecutively during station breaks. The consecutive non-program material limitation shall not apply to a single sponsor who wishes to further reduce the number of interruptions in the program.

5. Reasonable and limited identification of prizes and donors, names where the presentation of contest awards or prizes in a necessary part of program content shall not be included as non-program material as defined above.

Aural and/or visual prize identification of up to 10 seconds duration may be deemed "reasonable and limited." Where such identification is longer than 10 seconds, the entire announcement or visual presentation will be charged against the total commercial time for the program period. (Interpretation No. 3)

6. Programs presenting women's/men's service features, shopping guides, fashion shows, demonstrations and similar material provide a special service to the public in which certain material normally classified as non-program is an informative and necessary part of the program content. Because of this, the time standards may be waived by the Code Authority to a reasonable extent on a case-by-case basis.

7. Gratuitous references in a program to non-sponsor's product or service should be avoided except for normal guest identification.

8. The presentation of commentary or film excerpts from current theatrical releases in some instances may constitute commercial material under the Time Standards for Non-Program Material. Specifically, for example, when such presentation, directly or by inference, urges viewers to attend, it shall be counted against the commercial allowance for the program of which it is a part. (Interpretation No. 2)

9. Stationary backdrops or properties in television presentations showing the sponsor's name or product, the name of the sponsor's product, trade-mark or slogan should be used only incidentally and should not intrude on program interest or entertainment.

XV. Time Standards for Independent Stations

1. Non-program elements shall be considered as all-inclusive, with the exception of required credits, legally required station identifications, and "bumbers". Promotion spots and public service announcements, as well as commercials, are to be considered non-program elements.

2. The allowed time for non-program elements, as defined above, shall not exceed seven minutes in a 30-minute period or multiples thereof in prime time (prime time is defined as any three contiguous hours between 6 p.m. and midnight, local time), or eight minutes in a 30-minute period or multiples thereof during all other times.

3. Where a station does not carry a commercial in a station break between programs, the number of program interruptions shall not exceed four within any 30-minute program, or seven within any 60-minute program, or 10 within any 90-minute program, or 13 in any 120-minute program. Stations which do carry commercials in station breaks between programs shall limit the number of program interruptions to three within any 30-minute program, or six within any 60-minute program, or nine within any 90-minute program, or 12 in any 120-minute program. News, weather, sports, and special events are exempted because of format.

4. Not more than four non-program material announcements as defined above shall be scheduled consecutively. An exception may be made only in the case of a program 60 minutes or more in length, when no more than seven non-program elements may be scheduled consecutively by stations who wish to reduce the number of program interruptions.

5. The conditions of paragraphs three and four shall not apply to live sports programs where the program format dictates and limits the number of program interruptions.

(For children's time standards on independent stations see provisions XIV-2C, 3D under Time Standards for Network Affiliated Stations.)

Guidelines/Interpretations Based on Code Standards

From time to time the Code Authority issues advertising guidelines and clarifications expanding on provisions of the Code. Among areas covered are acne, alcoholic beverages, arthritis and, rheumatism remedies, bronchitis, comparative advertising, children's premiums and offers, children's TV advertising, disparagement, hallucinogens, hypnosis, men-in-white, non-prescription medications, personal products, testimonials, time standards, toys, vegetable oils and margarine, and weight reducing products/services. Copies may be obtained from any NAB Code Authority office.

Regulations and Procedures

The following regulations and procedures shall obtain as an integral part of the Television Code of the National Association of Broadcasters:

I. Name

The name of this code shall be The Television Code of the National Association of Broadcasters.

II. Purpose of the Code

The purpose of this code is cooperatively to maintain a level of television programming which gives full consideration to the educational, informational, cultural, economic, moral and entertainment needs of the American public to the end that more and more people will be better served.

III. Subscribers

Section 1. Eligibility

Any individual, firm or corporation which is engaged in the operation of a television broadcast station or network or which holds a construction permit for a television broadcast station within the United States or its dependencies, shall, subject to the approval of the Television Board of Directors as hereinafter provided, be eligible to subscribe to the Television Code of the NAB to the extent of one subscription for each such station and/or network which it operates or for which it holds a construction permit; provided, that a non-television member of NAB shall not become eligible via code subscription to receive any of the member services or to exercise any of the voting privileges of a member.

Section 2. Certification of Subscription

Upon subscribing to the code, subject to the approval of the Television Board of Directors, there shall be granted forthwith to each such subscribing stations authority to use the "NAB Television Seal of Good Practice," a copyrighted and registered seal to be provided in the form of a certificate, a slide and/or a film, signifying that the recipient thereof is a subscriber in good standing to the Television Code of the NAB. The seal and its significance shall be appropriately publicized by the NAB.

Section 3. Duration of Subscription

Subscription shall continue in full force and effect until thirty days after the first of the month following receipt of notice of written resignation. Subscription to the Code shall be effective from the date of application subject to the approval of the Television Board of Directors; provided, that the subscription of a television station going on the air for the first time shall, for the first six months of such subscription, be probationary, during which time its subscription can be summarily revoked by an affirmative two-thirds vote of the Television Board of Directors without the usual process specified below.

Section 4. Suspension of Subscription

Any subscription, and/or the authority to utilize and show the above-noted seal, may be voided, revoked or temporarily suspended for television programming, including commercial copy, which, by theme, treatment or incident, in the judgment of the Television Board constitutes a continuing, willful or gross violation of any of the provision of the Television Code, by an affirmative two-thirds vote of the Television Board of Directors at a regular or special meeting; provided, however, that the following conditions and procedures shall apply:

A. Preferring of Charges—Conditions Precedent:

Prior to the preferring of charges to the Television Board of Directors concerning violation of the Code by a subscriber, the Television Code Board (hereinafter provided for) (1) Shall have appropriately, and in good time, informed and advised such subscriber of any and all complaints and information coming to the attention of the Television Code Board and relating to the programming of said subscriber, (2) Shall have reported to, and advised, said subscriber by analysis, interpretation, recommendation or otherwise, of the possibility of a violation or breach of the television code by the subscriber, and (3) Shall have served upon the subscriber, by registered Mail a Notice of Intent to prefer charges, at least 20 days prior to the filing of any such charges with the Television Board of Directors. During this period the television code review board may, within its sole discretion, reconsider its proposed action based upon such written reply as the subscriber may care to make, or upon such action as the subscriber may care to take program-wise, in conformance with the analysis, interpretation, or recommendation of the Television Code Board.

(i) Notice of intent

The Notice of intent shall include a statement of the grounds and reasons for the proposed charges, including appropriate references to the television code.

(ii) Time

In the event that the nature of the program in question is such that time is of the essence, the Television Code Board may prefer charges within less than the 20 days above specified, provided that a time certain in which reply may be made is included in its Notice of Intent, and provided that its reasons therefor must be specified in its statement of charges preferred.

B. The Charges:

The subscriber shall be advised in writing by Registered Mail of the charges preferred. The charges preferred by the Television Code Board to the Television Board of Directors shall include the grounds and reasons therefor, together with specific references to the Television Code. The charges shall contain a statement that the conditions precedent, herein before described, have been met.

NAB Television Code

C. Hearing:

The subscriber shall have the right to a hearing and may exercise same by filing an answer within 10 days of the date of such notification.

D. Waiver:

Failure to request a hearing shall be deemed a waiver of the subscriber's right thereto.

E. Designation:

If hearing is requested by the subscriber, it shall be designated as promptly as possible and at such time and place as the Television Board may specify:

F. Confidential Status:

Hearings shall be closed; and all correspondence between a subscriber and the Television Code Board and/or the Television Board of Directors concerning specific programming shall be confidential; provided, however, that the confidential status of these procedures may be waived by a subscriber.

G. Presentation: Representation:

A subscriber against whom charges have been preferred, and who has exercised his/her right to a hearing, shall be entitled to effect presentation of his/her case personally, by agent, by attorney, or by deposition and interrogatory.

H. Intervention:

Upon request by the subscriber-respondent or the Television Code Board, the Television Board of Directors, in its discretion, may permit the intervention of one or more other subscribers as parties-in-interest.

I. Transcript:

A Stenographic transcript record shall be taken and shall be certified by the chairperson of the Television Board of Directors to the office of the Secretary of the National Association of Broadcasters, where it shall be maintained. The transcript shall not be open to inspection unless otherwise provided by the party respondent in the proceeding.

J. Television Code Board: Counsel:

The Television Code Board may, at its discretion, utilize the services of an attorney from the staff of the NAB for the purpose of effecting its presentation in a hearing matter.

K. Order of Procedure:

At hearings the Television Code Board shall open and close.

L. Cross-Examination:

The right of cross-examination shall specifically obtain. Where procedure has been by deposition or interrogatory, the use of cross-interrogatories shall satisfy this right.

M. Presentation:

Oral and written evidence may be introduced by the subscriber and by the Television Code Board. Oral argument may be had at the hearing and written or briefs may be submitted by the subscriber and by the Television Code Review Board. The Television Board of Directors may admit such evidence as it deems relevant, material and competent, and may determine the nature and length of the oral argument and the written argument or briefs.

N. Authority of Presiding Officer: of Television Board of Directors:

The Presiding Officer shall rule upon all interlocutory matters, such as, but not limited to, the admissibility of evidence, the qualifications of witnesses, etc. On all other matters, authority to act shall be vested in a majority of the Television Board unless otherwise provided.

O. Films, Transcriptions, etc.:

Films, kinescopes, records, transcriptions, or other mechanical reproductions of television programs, properly identified, shall be accepted into evidence when relevant.

P. Continuances and Extensions:

Continuance and extension of any proceeding or for the time of filing or performing any act required or allowed to be done within a specific time may be granted upon request, for a good cause shown. The Board or the Presiding Officer may recess or adjourn a hearing for such time as may be deemed necessary, and may change the place thereof.

Q. Findings and Conclusions:

The Television Board of Directors shall decide the case as expeditiously as possible and shall notify the subscriber and the Television Code Board, in writing, of the decision. The decision of the Television Board of Directors shall contain findings of fact with conclusions, as well as the reasons or bases therefor. Findings of fact shall set out in detail and with particularity all basic evidentiary facts developed on the record (with appropriate citations to the transcript of record or exhibit relied on for each evidentiary fact) supporting the conclusion reached.

R. Reconsideration or Rehearing:

A request for reconsideration or rehearing may be filed by parties to the hearing. Requests for reconsideration or rehearing shall state with particularity in what respect the decision or any matter determined therein is claimed to be unjust, unwarranted, or erroneous, and with respect to any finding of fact shall specify the pages of record relied on. If the existence of any newly-discovered evidence is claimed, the request shall be accompanied by a verified statement of the facts together with the facts relied on to show that the party, with due diligence, could not have known or discovered such facts at the time of the hearing. The request for rehearing may seek:

- Reconsideration
 - Additional oral argument
 - Reopening of the proceedings
 - Amendment of any findings, or
 - Other relief.
- S. Time for Filing:

Requests for reconsideration or rehearing shall be filed within 10 days after receipt by the respondent of the decision. Opposition thereto may be filed within five (5) days after the filing of the request.

T. Penalty, Suspension of:

At the discretion of the Television Board, application of any penalty provided for in the decision may be suspended until the Board makes final disposition of the request for reconsideration or rehearing.

U. Disqualification:

Any member of the Television Board may disqualify himself/herself, or upon good cause shown by any interested party, may be disqualified by a majority vote of the Television Board.

Section 5. Additional Procedures

When necessary to the proper administration of the Code, additional rules of procedure will be established from time to time as authorized by the By-Laws of the NAB; in keeping therewith, special consideration shall be given to the procedures for receipt and processing of complaints and to necessary rules to be adopted from time to time, taking into account the source and nature of such complaints; such rules to include precautionary measures such as the posting of bonds to cover costs and expenses of processing same; and further provided that special consideration will be given to procedures insuring the confidential status of proceedings relating to Code observance.

Section 6. Amendment and Review

Because of the new and dynamic aspects inherent in television broadcast, the Television Code, as a living, flexible and continuing document, may be amended from time to time by the Television Board of Directors; provided that said board is specifically charged with review and reconsideration of the entire Code, its appendices and procedures, at least once each year.

Section 7. Termination of Contracts

All subscribers on the air at the time of subscription to the Code shall be permitted that period prior to and including the earliest legal cancellation date to terminate any contracts, then outstanding, calling for program presentations which would not be in conformity with the Television Code, provided, however, that in no event shall such period be longer than 52 weeks.

IV. Affiliate Subscribers

Section 1. Eligibility

Any individual, firm or corporation, which is engaged in the production or distribution, lease, or sale of recorded programs for television presentation, subject to the approval of the Television Code Board as hereinafter provided, shall be eligible to become an affiliate subscriber to the Television Code of the NAB.

Section 2. Certification of Subscription

Upon becoming an affiliate subscriber to the code, subject to the approval of the Television Code Board, there shall be granted forthwith to each such affiliate subscriber authority to use a copyrighted and registered seal and declaration, in a manner approved by the Television Code Board, identifying the individual firm or corporation as an affiliate subscriber to the Television Code of the NAB. Such authority shall not constitute formal clearance or approval by the Television Code Board of specific films, programs or other recorded material.

Section 3. Duration of Affiliate Subscription

The affiliate subscription shall continue in full force and effect until 30 days after the first of the month following receipt of a written notice or resignation. The affiliate subscription to the code shall be effective from the date of application subject to the approval of the Television Code Board.

Section 4. Suspension of Affiliate Subscription

Any affiliate subscription and the authority to utilize and show the above-noted seal may be voided, revoked, or temporarily suspended for the sale or distribution for television presentation of any film or other recorded material which by theme, treatment, or incident, in the judgment of the Television Code Board, constitutes a continuing, willful or gross violation of any of the provisions of the Television Code, by a majority vote of the Television Code Board at any regular or special meeting. The conditions and procedures applicable to subscribers shall not apply to affiliate subscribers.

Section 5. Representation of Affiliate Subscribers

Any affiliate subscriber or group of affiliate subscribers may authorize an individual or association to act for them in connection with their relations with the Television Code Board by filing a written notice of such representation with the Board. Such representation, however, in no way will limit the right of the Television Code Board to suspend individual affiliate subscribers in accordance with the provisions of Section 4.

V. Rates

Each subscriber and affiliate subscriber shall pay "administrative" rates in accordance with such schedule, at such time, and under such conditions as may be determined from time to time by the Television Board (see Article VI, section 8, C. Television Board [3] and [4], By-Laws of the NAB); provided, that appropriate credit shall be afforded to a television member of the NAB against the regular dues paid to NAB.

VI. The Television Code Board

Section 1. Composition

There shall be a continuing committee entitled the Television Code Board to be composed of not more than nine members, all of whom shall be from subscribers to the Television Code. They shall be appointed by the President of NAB, subject to confirmation by the Television Board, and may include one member from each of the subscribing nationwide television networks. Members of the Television Board shall not be eligible to serve on the Board. Due consideration shall be given, in making the appointments, to factors of diversification of geographical location, market size, company representation and network affiliation.

No person shall continue as a member of the Television Code Board if the station or entity he/she represents ceases to subscribe to the Television Code. In such case a vacancy occurs in the office immediately, and a successor may be appointed to serve out the unexpired term.

All terms shall be for two years, commencing at the close of the annual meeting of the membership following appointment.

A. Limitation of Service:

No person shall serve for more than two terms of two years each, consecutively, as a member of the Television Code Board; provided, however, this limitation shall not apply to network representatives.

Serving out the unexpired term of a former member shall not constitute a term within the meaning of this section.

B. Meetings:

The Television Code Board shall meet at least twice in each calendar year on a date to be determined by the Chairperson. The chairperson, or the Code Authority General Manager, may, at any time, on at least five days written notice, call a special meeting of the Board.

C. Quorum:

For all purposes, a majority of the members of the Television Code Board shall constitute a quorum.

Section 2. Authority and Responsibilities

The Television Code Board is authorized and directed:

(1) to recommend to the Television Board of Directors amendments to the Television Code; (2) to consider, in its discretion, any appeal from any decision made by the Code Authority General Manager with respect to any matter which has arisen under the Code, and to suspend, reverse, or modify any such decision; (3) to prefer formal charges, looking toward the suspension or revocation of the authority to show the Code seal, to the Television Board of Directors concerning violations and breaches of the Television Code by a subscriber; (4) to be available to the Code Authority General Manager for consultation on any and all matters affecting the Television Code.

VII. Code Authority General Manager

Section 1. Code Authority General Manager

There shall be a position designated as the Code Authority General Manager. This position shall be filled by appointment of the President of NAB, subject to ap-approval of the Board of Directors.

Section 2. Authority and Responsibilities.

The Code Authority General Manager is authorized and directed: (1) to maintain a continuing review of all programming and advertising material presented over television, especially that of subscribers to the Television Code of NAB; (2) to receive, screen and clear complaints concerning television programing; (3) to define and interpret words and phrases in the Television Code; (4) to develop and maintain appropriate liaison with governmental agencies and with responsible and accountable organizations and institutions; (5) to inform, expeditiously and properly, a subscriber to the Television Code of complaints or commendations, as well as to advise all subscribers concerning the attitudes and desires program-wise of accountable organizations and institutions, and of the American public in general; (6) to review and monitor, if necessary, any certain series of programs, daily programing, or any other program presentations of a subscriber, as well as to request recorded material, or script and copy, with regard to certain program presented by a subscriber; (7) to reach conclusions and make recommendations or prefer charges to the Television Code Board concerning violations and breaches of the Television Code by a subscriber; (8) to recommend to the Code Board amendments to the Television Code.

A. Delegation of Powers and Responsibilities:

The Code Authority General Manager shall appoint such executive staff as is needed, consistent with resources, to carry out the above described functions, and may delegate to this staff such responsibilities as he/she may deem necessary.

issues should be considered on the basis of their individual merits, and in the light of the contributions which the use requested would make to the public interest.

3. Discussion of controversial public issues should not be presented in a manner which would create the impression that the program is other than one dealing with a public issue.

C. Community Responsibility

1. Broadcasters and their staffs occupy a position of responsibility in the community and should conscientiously endeavor to be acquainted with its needs and characteristics to best serve the welfare of its citizens.

2. Requests for time for the placement of public service announcements or programs should be carefully reviewed with respect to the character and reputation of the group, campaign or organization involved, the public interest content of the message, and the manner of its presentation.

D. Political Broadcasts

1. Political broadcasts, or the dramatization of political issues designed to influence voters, shall be properly identified as such.

2. Political broadcasts should not be presented in a manner which would mislead listeners to believe that they are of any other character.

3. Because of the unique character of political broadcasts and the necessity to retain broad freedoms of policy void of restrictive interference, it is incumbent upon all political candidates and all political parties to observe the canons of good taste and political ethics, keeping in mind the intimacy of broadcasting in the American home.

E. Advancement of Education and Culture

1. Because radio is an integral part of American life, there is inherent in radio broadcasting a continuing opportunity to enrich the experience of living through the advancement of education and culture.

2. Radio broadcasters, in augmenting the educational and cultural influences of the home, schools, religious institutions and institutions of higher education and other entities should:

(a) be thoroughly conversant with the educational and cultural needs and aspirations of the community served;

(b) develop programing consonant with the stations particular target audience.

F. Religion and Religious Programing

1. Religious programing shall be presented by responsible individuals, groups or organizations.

2. Radio broadcasting reaches audiences of all creeds simultaneously. Therefore, both the advocates of broad or ecumenical religious precepts, and the exponents of specific doctrines, are urged to present their positions in a manner conducive to listener enlightenment on the role of religion in society.

G. Responsibility Toward Children

Broadcasters have a special responsibility to children. Programing which might reasonably be expected to hold the attention of children should be presented with due regard for its effect on children.

1. Programing should be based upon sound social concepts and should include positive sets of values which will allow children to become responsible adults capable of coping with the challenges of maturity.

2. Programing should convey a reasonable range of the realities which exist in the world to help children make the transition to adulthood.

3. Programing should contribute to the healthy development of personality and character.

4. Programing should afford opportunities for cultural growth as well as for wholesome entertainment.

5. Programing should be consistent with integrity of realistic production, but should avoid material of extreme nature which might create undesirable emotional reaction in children.

6. Programing should avoid appeals urging children to purchase the product specifically for the purpose of keeping the program on the air or which, for any reason, encourage children to enter inappropriate places.

7. Programing should present such subjects as violence and sex without undue emphasis and only as required by plot development or character delineation.

NAB Radio Code

Preamble

In 1937 a major segment of U.S. commercial radio broadcasters first adopted industry-wide standards of practice. The purpose of such standards, then, as now, is to establish guideposts and professional tenets for performance in the areas of programing and advertising content.

Admittedly, such standards for broadcasting can never be final or complete, because broadcasting is a creative art, always seeking new ways to achieve maximum appeal and service. Therefore, its standards are subject to periodic revision to reasonably reflect changing attitudes in our society.

In 1945 after two years devoted to reviewing and revising the 1937 document, new standards were promulgated. Further revisions were made in subsequent years when deemed necessary. The objectives behind them have been to assure that advertising messages be presented in an honest, responsible and tasteful manner and that broadcasters, in their programing, tailor their content to meet the needs and expectations of that particular audience to which their programing is directed.

The growth of broadcasting as a medium of entertainment, education and information has been made possible by its commercial underpinning. This aspect of commercial broadcasting as it has developed in the United States has enabled the industry to grow as a free medium in the tradition of American enterprise. The extent of this freedom is underscored by those laws which prohibit censorship of broadcast material. Rather, those who own the nation's radio broadcasting stations operate them—pursuant to this self-adopted Radio Code—in recognition of the needs of the American people and the reasonable self-interests of broadcasters and broadcast advertisers.

The Radio Broadcaster's Creed

We Believe:

That Radio Broadcasting in the United States of America is a living symbol of democracy; a significant and necessary instrument for maintaining freedom of expression, as established by the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States;

That its contributions to the arts, to science, to education, to commerce, and therefore to the public welfare have the potential of influencing the common good achievements of our society as a whole;

That it is our obligation to serve the people in such manner as to reflect credit upon our profession and to encourage aspiration toward a better estate for our audiences. This entails making available to them through all phases of the broadcasting art such programing as will convey the traditional strivings of the U.S. towards goals beneficial to the populace;

That we should make full and ingenious use of the many sources of knowledge, talents and skills and exercise critical and discerning judgment concerning all broadcasting operations to the end that we may, intelligently and sympathetically;

Observe both existing principles and developing concepts affecting our society;

Respect and advance the rights and the dignity of all people;

Enrich the daily life of the people through the factual reporting and analysis of news, and through programing of education, entertainment, and information;

Provide for the fair discussion of matters of public concern; engage in works directed toward the common good; and volunteer our aid and comfort in times of stress and emergency;

Contribute to the economic welfare of all by expanding the channels of trade, by encouraging the development and conservation of natural resources, and by bringing together the buyer and seller through the broadcasting of information pertaining to goods and services.

Toward the achievement of these purposes we agree to observe the following:

I. Program Standards

A. News

Radio is unique in its capacity to reach the largest number of people first with reports on current events. This competitive advantage bespeaks caution—being first is not as important as being accurate. The radio code standards relating to the treatment of news and public events are, because of constitutional considerations intended to be exhortatory. The standards set forth hereunder encourage high standards of professionalism in broadcast journalism. They are not to be interpreted as turning over to others the broadcaster's responsibility as to judgments necessary in news and public events programing.

1. News Sources. Those responsible for news on radio should exercise constant professional care in the selection of sources—on the premise that the integrity of the news and the consequent good reputation of radio as a dominant well-balanced news medium depend largely upon the reliability of such sources.

2. News Reporting. News reporting should be factual, fair and without bias. Good taste should prevail in the selection and handling of news. Morbid, sensational, or alarming details not essential to factual reporting should be avoided. News should be broadcast in such a manner as to avoid creation of panic and unnecessary alarm. Broadcasters should be diligent in their supervision of content, format, and presentation of news broadcasts. Equal diligence should be exercised in selection of editors and reporters who direct news gathering and dissemination, since the station's performance in this vital informational field depends largely upon them.

3. Commentaries and Analyses. Special obligations devolve upon those who analyze and/or comment upon news developments, and management should be satisfied completely that the task is to be performed in the best interest of the listening public. Programs of news analysis and commentary should be clearly identified as such, distinguishing them from straight news reporting.

4. Editorializing. Broadcasts in which stations express their own opinions about issues of general public interest should be clearly identified as editorials.

5. Coverage of News and Public Events. In the coverage of news and public events broadcasters should exercise their judgments consonant with the accepted standards of ethical journalism and should provide accurate, informed and adequate coverage.

6. Placement of Advertising. Broadcasters should exercise particular discrimination in the acceptance, placement and presentation of advertising in news programs so that such advertising is clearly distinguishable from the news content.

B. Controversial Public Issues

1. Radio provides a valuable forum for the expression of responsible views on public issues of a controversial nature. Controversial public issues of importance to fellow citizens should give fair representation to opposing sides of issues.

2. Requests by individuals, groups or organizations for time to discuss their views on controversial public

NAB Radio Code

Violence, physical or psychological, should only be projected in responsibly handled contexts, not used to excess or exploitatively. Programs involving violence should present the consequences of it to its victims and perpetrators.

The depiction of conflict, and of material reflective of sexual considerations, when presented in programs designed primarily for children, should be handled with sensitivity.

8. The treatment of criminal activities should always convey their social and human effects.

H. Dramatic Programing

1. In the design of dramatic programs it is in the interest of radio as a vital medium to encourage those that are innovative, reflect a high degree of creative skill, deal with significant moral and social issues and present challenging concepts and other subject matter that relate to the world in which the listener lives.

2. Radio programing should not only reflect the influence of the established institutions that shape our values and culture, but also expose the dynamics of social change which bear upon our lives.

3. To achieve these goals, radio broadcasters should be conversant with the general and specific needs, interests and aspirations of all the segments of the communities they serve.

4. Radio should reflect realistically the experience of living, in both its pleasant and tragic aspects, if it is to serve the listener honestly. Nevertheless, it holds a concurrent obligation to provide programing which will encourage positive adjustments to life.

In selecting program subjects and themes, great care must be exercised to be sure that treatment and presentation are made in good faith and not for the purpose of sensationalism or to shock or exploit the audience or appeal to prurient interests or morbid curiosity.

5. In determining the acceptability of any dramatic program, especially those containing elements of crime, mystery, or horror, consideration should be given to the possible effect on all members of the listening audience.

In addition, without sacrificing integrity of presentation, dramatic programs on radio shall avoid:

- (a) the presentation of techniques of crime in such detail as to be instructional or invite imitation;
- (b) presentation of the details of violence involving the excessive, the gratuitous and the instructional;
- (c) sound effects calculated to mislead, shock, or unduly alarm the listener;
- (d) portrayals of law enforcement in a manner which does not contribute to its proper role in our society.

I. General

1. The intimacy and confidence placed in radio demand of the broadcaster, the networks and other program sources that they be vigilant in protecting the audience from deceptive broadcast practices.

2. Sound effects and expressions characteristically associated with news broadcasts (such as "bulletin," "flash," "we interrupt this program to bring you," etc.) shall be reserved for announcement of news, and the use of any deceptive techniques in connection with fictional events and non-news programing shall not be employed.

3. The broadcasters shall be constantly alert to prevent inclusion of elements within programing dictated by factors other than the requirements of the programing itself. The acceptance of cash payments or other considerations in return for including the choice and identification of prizes, the selection of music and other creative programing elements and inclusion of any identification of commercial products or services, trade names or advertising slogans within the programing are prohibited unless consideration for such inclusion is revealed to the listeners in accordance with Sections 317 and 508 of the Communications Act.

4. Special precautions should be taken to avoid demeaning or ridiculing members of the audience who suffer from physical or mental afflictions or deformities.

5. The broadcast of gambling sequences deemed necessary to the development of plot or as appropriate background is acceptable only when presented with discretion and in moderation, and in a manner which would not excite interest in, or foster, betting nor be instructional in nature.

6. Quiz and similar programing that is presented as a contest of knowledge, information, skill or luck, must in fact, be a genuine contest and the results must not be controlled by collusion with or between contestants, or by any other action which will favor one contestant against any other.

7. Contests may not constitute a lottery.

8. Listener contests should not mislead as to the nature or value of prizes, likelihood of winning, nor encourage thoughtless or unsafe acts.

9. No programing shall be presented in a manner which through artifice or simulation would mislead the audience as to any material fact. Each broadcast must exercise reasonable judgment to determine whether a particular method of presentation would constitute a material deception, or would be accepted by the audience as normal theatrical illusion.

10. Legal, medical and other professional advice will be permitted only in conformity with law and recognized ethical and professional standards.

11. Narcotic addiction shall not be presented except as a destructive habit. The use of illegal drugs or the abuse of legal drugs shall not be encouraged or be presented as desirable or socially acceptable.

12. Material pertaining to fortune-telling, occultism, astrology, phrenology, palm-reading, numerology, mind-reading, character-reading, or subjects of a like nature is unacceptable if it encourages people to regard such fields as providing commonly accepted appraisals of life.

13. Representations of liquor and smoking shall be de-emphasized. When represented, they should be consistent with plot and character development.

14. Obscene, indecent or profane matter, as proscribed by law, is unacceptable.

15. Special sensitivity is necessary in the use of material relating to sex, race, color, age, creed, religious functionaries, or rites, or national or ethnic derivation.

16. The presentation of marriage, the family and similarly important human relationships, and material with sexual connotations, should not be treated exploitatively or irresponsibly, but with sensitivity.

17. Broadcasts of actual sporting events at which on-the-scene betting is permitted by law should be presented in a manner in keeping with federal, state and local laws, and should concentrate on the subject as a public sporting event.

18. Detailed exposition of hypnosis or material capable of having an hypnotic effect on listeners is forbidden.

19. Any technique whereby an attempt is made to convey information to the listener by transmitting messages below the threshold of normal awareness is not permitted.

20. The commonly accepted standards of humane animal treatment should be adhered to as applicable in programing.

21. Broadcasters are responsible for making good faith determinations on the acceptability of lyrics under applicable Radio Code standards.

22. Guests on discussion/interview programs and members of the public who participate in phone-in programs shall be treated with due respect by the program host/hostess.

Interview/discussion programs, including telephone participation programs, should be governed by accepted standards of ethical journalism. Any agreement substantively limiting areas of discussion/questions should be announced at the outset of the program.

23. The standards of this code covering programing content are also understood to include, wherever applicable, the standards contained in the advertising section of the Code.

24. To assure that broadcasters have the freedom to program fully and responsibly, none of the provisions of this Code should be construed as preventing or impeding broadcasts of the broad range of material necessary to help broadcasters fulfill their obligations to operate in the public interest.

II. Advertising Standards

Advertising is the principal source of revenue of the free, competitive American system of radio broadcasting. It makes possible the presentation of all American people of the finest programs of entertainment, education, and information.

Since the great strength of American radio broadcasting derives from the public respect for and the public approval of its programs, it must be the purpose of each broadcaster to establish and maintain high standards of performance, not only in the selection and production of all programs, but also in the presentation of advertising.

This Code establishes basic standards for all radio broadcasting. The principles of acceptability and good taste within the Program Standards section govern the presentation of advertising where applicable. In addition, the Code establishes in this section special standards which apply to radio advertising.

A. General Advertising Standards

1. Commercial radio broadcasters make their facilities available for the advertising of products and services and accepts commercial presentations for such advertising. However, they shall, in recognition of their responsibility to the public, refuse the facilities of their station to an advertiser where they have good reason to doubt the integrity of the advertiser, the truth of the advertising representations, or the compliance of the advertiser with the spirit and purpose of all applicable legal requirements.

2. In consideration of the customs and attitudes of the communities served, each radio broadcaster should refuse his/her facilities to the advertisement of products and services, or the use of advertising scripts, which the station has good reason to believe would be objectionable to a substantial and responsible segment of the community. These standards should be applied with judgment and flexibility, taking into consideration the characteristics of the medium, its home and family audience, and the format and content of the particular presentation.

B. Presentation of Advertising

1. The advancing techniques of the broadcast art have shown that the quality and proper integration of advertising copy are just as important as measurement in time. The measure of a station's service to its audience is determined by its overall performance.

2. The final measurement of any commercial broadcast service is quality. To this, every broadcaster shall dedicate his/her best effort.

3. Great care shall be exercised by the broadcaster to prevent the presentation of false, misleading or deceptive advertising. While it is entirely appropriate to present a product in a favorable light and atmosphere, the presentation must not, by copy or demonstration, involve a material deception as to the characteristics or performance of a product.

4. The broadcaster and the advertiser should exercise special caution with the content and presentation of commercials placed in or near programs designed for children. Exploitation of children should be avoided. Commercials directed to children should in no way mislead as to the product's performance and usefulness. Appeals involving matters of health which should be determined by physicians should be avoided.

5. Reference to the results of research, surveys or tests relating to the product to be advertised shall not be presented in a manner so as to create an impression of fact beyond that established by the study. Surveys, tests or other research results upon which claims are based must be conducted under recognized research techniques and standards.

C. Acceptability of Advertisers and Products

In general, because radio broadcasting is designed for the home and the entire family, the following principles shall govern the business classifications:

1. The advertising of hard liquor shall not be accepted.

2. The advertising of beer and wines is acceptable when presented in the best of good taste and discretion.

3. The advertising of fortune-telling, occultism, astrology, phrenology, palm-reading, numerology, mind-reading, character-reading, or subjects of a like nature is not acceptable.

4. Because the advertising of all products and services of a personal nature raises special problems, such advertising, when accepted, should be treated with emphasis on ethics and the canons of good taste, and presented in a restrained and inoffensive manner.

5. The advertising of tip sheets and other publications seeking to advertise for the purpose of giving odds or promoting betting is unacceptable.

The lawful advertising of government organizations which conduct legalized lotteries and the advertising of private or governmental organizations which conduct legalized betting on sporting contests are acceptable provided such advertising does not unduly exhort the public to bet.

6. An advertiser who markets more than one product shall not be permitted to use advertising copy devoted to an acceptable product for purposes of publicizing the brand name or other identification of a product which is not acceptable.

7. Care should be taken to avoid presentation of "bait-switch" advertising whereby goods or services which the advertiser has no intention of selling are offered merely to lure the customer into purchasing higher-priced substitutes.

8. Advertising should offer a product or service on its positive merits and refrain from discrediting, disparaging or unfairly attacking competitors, competing products, other industries, professions or institutions.

Any identification or comparison of a competitive product or service, by name, or other means, should be confined to specific facts rather than generalized statements or conclusions, unless such statements or conclusions are not derogatory in nature.

9. Advertising testimonials should be genuine, and reflect an honest appraisal of personal experience.

10. Advertising by institutions or enterprises offering instruction with exaggerated claims for opportunities awaiting those who enroll, is unacceptable.

11. The advertising of firearms/ammunition is acceptable provided it promotes the product only as sporting equipment and conforms to recognized standards of safety as well as all applicable laws and regulations. Advertisements of firearms/ammunition by mail orders are unacceptable.

D. Advertising of Medical Products

Because advertising for over-the-counter products involving health considerations are of intimate and far-reaching importance to the consumer, the following principles should apply to such advertising:

1. When dramatized advertising material involves statements by doctors, dentists, nurses or other professional people, the material should be presented by members of such profession reciting actual experience, or it should be made apparent from the presentation itself that the portrayal is dramatized.

2. Because of the personal nature of the advertising of medical products, the indiscriminate use of such words as "safe," "without risk," "harmless," or other terms of similar meaning, either direct or implied, should not be expressed in the advertising of medical products.

3. Advertising material which offensively describes or dramatizes distress or morbid situations involving ailments is not acceptable.

E. Time Standards for Advertising Copy

1. The amount of time to be used for advertising should not exceed 18 minutes within any clock hour. The Code Authority, however, for good cause may approve advertising exceeding the above standard for special circumstances.

2. Any reference to another's products or services under any trade name, or language sufficiently descriptive to identify it, shall, except for normal guest identification, be considered as advertising copy.

3. For the purpose of determining advertising limitations, such program types as "classified," "swap shop," "shopping guides," and "farm auction" programs etc., shall be regarded as containing one and one-half minutes of advertising for each five-minute segment.

F. Contests

1. Contests shall be conducted with fairness to all entrants, and shall comply with all pertinent laws and regulations.

2. All contest details, including rules, eligibility requirements, opening and termination dates, should be clearly and completely announced or easily accessible to the listening public; and the winners' names should be released as soon as possible after the close of the contest.

3. When advertising is accepted which requests contestants to submit items of product identification or other evidence of purchase of products, reasonable facsimiles thereof should be made acceptable. However, when the award is based upon skill and not upon chance, evidence of purchase may be required.

4. All copy pertaining to any contest (except that which is required by law) associated with the exploitation or sale of the sponsor's product or service, and all references to prizes or gifts offered in such connection should be considered a part of and included in the total time limitations heretofore provided. (See Time Standards for Advertising Copy.)

G. Premiums and Offers

1. The broadcaster should require that full details of proposed offers be submitted for investigation and approval before the first announcement of the offer is made to the public.

2. A final date for the termination of an offer should be announced as far in advance as possible.

3. If a consideration is required, the advertiser should agree to honor complaints indicating dissatisfaction with the premium by returning the consideration.

4. There should be no misleading descriptions or comparisons of any premiums or gifts which will distort or enlarge their value in the minds of the listeners.

Voice of Democracy Scholarship Program. A nationwide broadcast scriptwriting competition for 10th, 11th and 12th grade students. The program is sponsored annually by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States and its ladies auxiliary with the cooperation of broadcasters and secondary school principals during the fall term of each school year. $22,500 in national scholarship awards are made. The deadline for completion of school competition is Dec. 5. Contact: Voice of Democracy Program, VFW National Headquarters, Broadway at 34th St., Kansas City, Mo. 64111.

Western Heritage Awards. Made in three television categories: western documentaries, factual TV shows and fictional TV programs. Deadline: January 15, 1979. Contact: National Cowboy Hall of Fame, 1700 N.E. 63rd, Oklahoma City.

Programing on Radio Stations in the United States

Formats

Following, in alphabetical order, by city, state and call letter within each classification, is a listing of program formats and the radio stations that use them.

For convenience the editors have combined the format types indicated by the stations into logical groupings. A station using a combination of formats may appear under several classifications. Blocks of programing averaging less than some 20 hours per week are considered "special programing"; a list of stations by special programs is presented in a supplementary directory.

In many cases more specific information on format or special programing is given in individual listings in the C section station directory, including addresses for each station.

We interrupt this magazine

One call is all it takes to get anything and everything you need in broadcast equipment — from turntables to AM and FM transmitters.

Choose from Rockwell-Collins equipment plus that of close to a hundred different manufacturers. It's one-stop shopping with fourfold advantages:

1. Quality products. Our transmitters and consoles are the result of our technical excellence and single-minded dedication exclusively to the radio broadcaster for over 40 years. We've never once deviated from our goal: to make our name synonymous with quality, reliability and long life... for your benefit.

2. Broad choice of products. In addition to our own Generation 4[™] FM transmitters and our all-new Power Rock 5-kW AM transmitters (the cleanest, to bring you all you need in broadcast equipment.

brightest, loudest AM in town), we carry products from the largest team of respected specialty vendors available anywhere from a single source — from ADC to UREI, with nearly a hundred other such leaders in between. If we don't have what you want, chances are we can get it for you. Fast.

3. Flexible financing arrangements. If it's under $1000, you can use your own or your company's Master Charge. For larger orders, take your choice of time-purchase (up to 5 years) or lease plans.

4. Unbeatable customer support. Your emergency is our emergency. We're ready to respond — without delay — 24 hours a day, 365 days a year.

MEASURES CHROMA NOISE AND LUMINANCE NOISE

World's first Instrument to Measure Chroma Noise Generated In Color and Black and White Television Transmission Equipment, TV Cameras, VTRs, Video Disc Units, Digital Image Processors.

Measure the value of this unique instrument*, Model 925C Video Noise Meter, and you'll see why it has been purchased by a major USA network. It measures chrome band noise with a single color signal of desired level that contains both a sync signal and a color burst signal. Chroma noise can even be split into AM and PM components which can be measured separately. Unbalanced 2 head of VTR can be corrected for proper measurement.

A must for every station and production house in TV. Write for information.

Central Dynamics Creator of "the Smart Switcher"

The super powerful CD-480 Video Switcher

Revolutionary modular switchers with unprecedented production power. They outperform the largest conventional switchers, yet are extremely simple to operate. Their power and ease of operation are due to CDL's new Sequential Effects (SFX) Amplifier, which can cut, mix or wipe between background sources and two separate key sources either individually or in any combination. Models with one or two SFX Amplifiers provide all the standard and optional features you need. A variety of modular accessories will continue to keep your switchers smarter than the rest as new technology develops.

The sophisticated VS-14

Sophisticated enough for large studio production, yet compact and inexpensive enough for small mobiles. Soft wipes and keys—even a Downstreamer keyer are standard. Self-contained and remote versions available.

The inexpensive VS-10

An inexpensive broadcast quality 8-input switcher that features flexibility and ease of operation. Self-contained electronics for rapid installation in ENG and other small mobiles.

THINKING VIDEO? THINK CAMERA MART.

Because at Camera Mart, we feature an entire line of video equipment including Ikegami, Hitachi, Panasonic, Sony, Microtime and many others. The Ikegami ENG package shown here is just one of many we offer. It's got everything you need to cover the story, indoors or out.

The camera: Ikegami's HL-77, the completely self-contained, high sensitivity Plumbicon®* color shoulder camera that's light weight and easy to handle. Its low-profile, with eye-level CRT monitor (on both take and playback, by the way), gives it the convenience and maneuverability you'll appreciate during those hectic, on-the-spot coverage sessions.

The recorder: Sony's easy-to-operate VO-3800 gives you up to 20 minutes of NTSC color on a single U-Matic® cassette which can be edited on the 2860.

This custom package and whatever you need in video, are all available for sale, rent or through convenient lease-purchase options which can be arranged to suit nearly any budget. And we're flexible, too. If there's a special package or custom purchase option you'd like to work out, let us know.

So when your thoughts turn to video, turn your attention to Camera Mart. Whether you're equipping a studio for the future, or producing a program for tomorrow, we've got what you need. The way you need it.

*Plumbicon is a registered trademark of N.V. Philips.

Camera Mart
40 years of excellence.

DELTA ELECTRONICS

NEW

AMC-1 AMPLITUDE MODULATION CONTROLLER — Provides automatic control of the modulation levels of an AM broadcast transmitter.

NEW

DPM-1 DIGITAL PANEL METER — Provides remote meter reading for Delta's RF ammeter systems. Up to 16 channels available with front panel pushbuttons.

Antenna Monitoring

AAM-1 ANALOG ANTENNA MONITOR — FCC type approved. Provides accurate true ratio and phase readings. Easy to interface with existing control systems. AAMH-1 provides hardwired remote control of AAM-1.

DAM-1 DIGITAL ANTENNA MONITOR — FCC type approved. Provides digital readout of amplitude, ratio and phase. Also available: DAMA-1 Base Current Adapter for remote digital readout of antenna base currents; DAMX-1 to extend capacity of DAM-1 up to 12 towers.

Transmitter/Antenna Remote Control

TMCS-1 TRANSMITTER/ANTENNA REMOTE CONTROL SYSTEM — Provides digital readout and control of the DAM-1 and transmitter over a single voice channel. Other systems available: DAMR-1/DAML-1 for digital readout and control of the DAM-1 only; DAMH-1 for use where the remote control point is close enough to the monitor to permit hardwired inter-connection.

Measurement/Test Instruments

OIB-1 OPERATING IMPEDANCE BRIDGE — For antenna system measurements under transmitter power. May also be used as a conventional bridge.

OIB-3 OPERATING IMPEDANCE BRIDGE — The new OIB-3 features direct reading of 'R' to 1000 Ohms and 'X' to 900 Ohms. The OIB-3 also contains an integral rf amplifier.

RG-3 RECEIVER/GENERATOR — Two-watt signal generator with a tracking detector. Built-in rechargeable battery power supply for full portability in making low power impedance measurements. For use with OIB-1 or other RF bridges.

CPB-1 COMMON POINT IMPEDANCE BRIDGE — Monitors common point impedance continuously. Designed for permanent installation.

TCA-N-EX AND TCA-N-EXR SERIES RF AMMETERS — Equipped with output provisions for direct attachment of remote reading meters. Complies fully with new FCC regulations for remote metering.

Other Products

TCT-() TOROIDAL CURRENT TRANSFORMER—TCT-() Hv High Voltage Current Transformers provide accurate, stable R. F. Samples for phase and amplitude measurements. Available in three sensitivities. Also available: TCTR-1 Compensated Rectifier Circuit to provide DC voltage for remote current measurement when used with toroidal current transformers.

6730 COAXIAL TRANSFER SWITCHES (for 1-5/8 in, 50-ohm transmission lines) — used to switch transmitters, transmission lines, antennas, dummy loads, and auxiliary equipment quickly and efficiently when failures occur, when operating procedure is changed, or during scheduled maintenance periods.

MJ-50 METER JACK — A make-before-break in line jack assembly that permits "hot" insertion of OIB-1 Bridge or Ammeters.

Good FM sound is good FM business.

Dolby Laboratories' Model 334 FM Broadcast Unit is the only station equipment needed for Dolby FM.

More and more FM listeners these days are sensitive to good sound. If you have any doubts, just take a look at the sales of quality home and automotive stereo equipment. For these listeners, signal quality could well be a significant factor in distinguishing your station from the run of the mill.

Signal quality is what Dolby FM is all about. The Dolby FM process incorporates a reduction of pre-emphasis from 75 to 25 μ s, along with B-type Dolby encoding. That gives you about 8 dB more headroom at 10 kHz — just the thing for today's program sources that are rich in high frequencies. Limiting can go back to doing what it was originally designed for — handling the occasional difficult peak — rather than filtering out the highs most of the time.

Listeners with receivers equipped for Dolby FM reception* have the opportunity, for the first time, to recover your signal in virtually the same form it left the studio. Your FM signal can sound as good as the high quality records and tapes your listeners play at home. At the same time, listeners with conventional receivers aren't penalized, because 75 μ s de-emphasis subjectively complements the Dolby encoded 25 μ s signal for compatibility.

Attracting new listeners to your FM station is one thing; keeping today's sound sensitive listeners happily tuned in is another. That's where signal quality — and Dolby FM — come in. If you would like to find out more about how the good sound of Dolby FM can be good for your business, please contact us at the address below.

*There are now more than 80 consumer product models equipped for Dolby FM reception, including several new car stereo systems.

"Cinema Products has it all... The ideal equipment mix for film and electronic field production: CP-16R, MNC-71CP and Steadicam!"

Dennis Burns
PACIFIC FOCUS
Honolulu, Hawaii

Today, video and film is the way to go. With the Oscar-winning Steadicam, of course.

For the small-to-medium sized production company shooting industrials, documentaries, TV commercials, as well as docu-dramas and specials for television, Cinema Products offers the ideal film and EFP equipment mix. Lightweight, rugged and reliable production equipment, recording broadcast-quality film and tape. All covered by the standard Cinema Products full one-year warranty and around-the-clock* service backup.

To meet their extremely varied and demanding production requirements, forward-looking and dynamic production companies — like Honolulu-based Pacific Focus — make use of Cinema Products' easy-term lease/purchase program to maintain a versatile mix of the highest quality 16mm film and electronic field production equipment available today.

In addition to its existing CP-16R camera equipment, Pacific Focus has recently acquired two MNC-71CP video cameras with all the ancillary equipment needed to convert them to MNC-710CP studio/field production configuration.

"We shoot video or film, depending on what would best serve the needs of each particular project," says Dennis Burns, award-winning producer/cameraman and president of Pacific Focus. "In Hawaii, though, we produce on location almost entirely. So it's important that our broadcast-quality MNC-71CP cameras are rugged enough to take the kind of abuse that the CP-16R can take.

"Combined with the versatility and cost savings provided by Steadicam, which can be used interchangeably between our CP-16R and MNC-71CP cameras, there's no assignment we cannot handle!"

"The Steadicam camera stabilizing system lends itself to many innovative uses," says Dennis Burns. "For instance, by placing Steadicam on a special mount (built by Bud Weisbrod of Pacific Instrumentation — the CP dealer in Hawaii) and rigging it to a forklift, we were able to simulate boom/crane capabilities.

"And for shooting aials, the same mount can be easily rigged to a helicopter or a fixed-wing aircraft."

When you need microphones with "reach," reach for these!

CL42S Shotgun System

The CL42S reaches farther and rejects more ambient noise than any other shotgun of its size ever made. Our exclusive line bypass port makes it more directional at low frequencies so you won't have to sacrifice frequency response when you use it on a boom. Diffraction vanes maintain high-frequency directivity to preserve uniform frequency response if the "talent" gets a little off-mike.

Phantom or AB powered, the CL42S comes complete with windscreen, shock mount, carrying case and handle for hand-held applications. And it's rugged.

CH15S Hypercardioid System

The CH15S is actually more directional than a mini shotgun mike – in a package that's only 4 inches long that weighs less than 6 oz. Specially designed for boom and fishpole use in TV and motion picture studios, but equally at home wherever working space is small and you have need for a compact, highly directional microphone.

Compatible with phantom or AB power, the CH15S comes complete with windscreen, shock mount and carrying case. And, this microphone is rugged.

The Electro-Voice Warranty

Electro-Voice backs up these two microphones with the only unconditional warranty in the business: for two years we will replace or repair your CL42S or CH15S microphone, when returned to Electro-Voice for service, at no charge – no matter what caused the damage!

We can do this because we build these microphones to meet our standards for performance, ruggedness and durability. We accept nothing less, and if you're a professional, buying a professional quality microphone, you shouldn't either.

MASTER AUDIO METER™

Toward the development of excellence

Excellence is achievable if it can be measured. Master Audio Meter is a precision dual-channel panel instrument that can display those important PEAK program levels as well as RMS (VU) values, selectably in stereo or simultaneously in mono.

Master Audio Meters combine exceptional resolution and accuracy over a wide dynamic range with easy-to-read light bars providing the precision measurement capability so necessary in the development of audio excellence.

your wallet?

A. FIDELIPAC®
WOW &
FLUTTER METER.

For less than $430.00 you can have a portable, solid-state instrument that quickly and accurately measures the wow, flutter and drift characteristics of any sound reproducing device . . . cartridge or reel-to-reel tape recorder, turntable, film chain, etc. It's easily connected to your equipment and features a standard phone output jack for oscilloscope connection as well as a self contained switchable weighting filter. With its internal precision 3,150 Hz reference oscillator and its complete immunity to EMI and RFI, Fidelity's Model 65-390 Wow and Flutter Meter is truly indispensable for your test bench or studio.

For you,
the new breed of video professional,
the new breed of professional video from JVC.

If you're a video professional today, you're a tougher customer than ever. So JVC's rugged professional line delivers the quality and features you demand at prices you want to pay.

We know you've got a lean new attitude about the video equipment you buy, no matter how long you've been in the business. Or whether you're in broadcasting...a sophisticated corporate A/V operation...a top production house...or building your first video capability.

And that attitude is, with all the people vying for your video dollar, you want more state-of-the-art technology in equipment that costs you less to own and maintain.

JVC's attitude is basic too. We build in engineering innovations—we don't add them on later. And we do it first. Which means you enjoy better picture and sound quality, easier operation, and sophisticated features you may not even find in equipment selling for twice the price.

For instance:

You wanted faster performance and greater accuracy in 3/4-Inch video editing.

And JVC's new CR-8500LU Recorder/Editor System offers bi-directional fast/slow search from approximately 10 times to 1/20 time, with editing accuracy to ± 2 frames.

It's a new generation of 3/4-Inch VCR editing—the fastest, surest way to get the frame-by-frame accuracy you need.

But JVC's CR-8500LU is still priced well below its closest performing competition.

With a single unit, you can edit with full functions and broadcast quality. Even if you don't happen to have special technical knowledge.

With a complete editing system of two CR-8500LU units and the new RM-85U Control Unit, you can perform the most advanced editing feats at approximately 10 times actual speed, then stop on a single frame.

Here's how the CR-8500LU gives you that kind of precision:

- Frame to frame editing is made possible with the capstan servo/built-in rotary erase head/blanking switcher frame servo design. A design that also ensures true assemble and insert editing with no distortion at the edit points. Plus horizontal sync phase compensation to minimize timing error at the editing points.

- Variable speed auto-search lets you perform both high speed and low speed search. You can search at approximately 10 times in fast forward or reverse to find edit points faster. Or slow speed search at 2 times, 1 time, 1/5 time and 1/20 time. Or use the special auto-speed shift feature to automatically slow you down from 2 times, real time, 1/5 time, 1/20 time.

- Automatic pre-roll enables you to pre-roll tape between edits, with an automatic on/off switch. Which can come in especially handy during successive assemble edits using camera signals.

- Self-illuminated control buttons, allowing easy identification of the operation mode.

- Full logic control for direct mode change without pressing the stop button.

- Remote control of all operations, with the optional remote control unit RM-85U.

- Audio level control with meters, preventing over-level recording without audible distortion, with attenuator. Also, manual audio level controls let you adjust the audio recording level by checking the level meters.

- Auto/Manual selection for video recording level control, adjustable by the automatic gain control circuit or manually by referring to an independent video level meter.

- RF output to connect an external drop-out compensator.

- Patented color dubbing switch for stable color multi-generation dupes.

- S.C./sync input connector allows connection of time base corrector and allows for two second pre-roll.

- Chroma level can be controlled manually for convenient connection to an external system.

- Built-in comb-filter for playback (switchable on-off).

- Servo-lock indicator to check the tape transport condition.

- Counter search mechanism, permitting Auto-Search of a particular section of the tape.

- Solid construction for easy maintenance: both side panels, top and bottom panels are detachable for easy access to the inside.

- Tracking control meter for maximum tracking adjustment.

- Heavy fan motor for better circulation.

All that with one editing unit. But when you combine two editing units with our new RM-85U automatic editing control unit, you'll enjoy all the benefits of a total-performance system.

Starting with the kind of control only JVC's RM-85U can give you:

- Independent LED time counters for player and recorder, read out edit points in minutes, seconds and frames.

- Edit-in and edit-out automatic control. Four built-in memories let you control edit-in and edit-out points of both the player and recorder. And once starting and ending points are determined, accurate editing is memory-controlled automatically.

- Edit shift control allows frame-to-frame edit point correction.

- Lap time indicated for each insert edit length by LED display.
- Edit preview mode available, for "rehearsals" of actual edits.
- Edit-in point search mechanism. After each edit, a Return button rewinds the tape automatically to the edit-in point, so it's easier to check edit conditions.
- Auto-shift search mechanism to step down the tape speed automatically, and ensure quick and accurate location of the editing point.
- Tape safety guard circuit. Because leaving the unit in the still-frame mode can eventually cause damage to tape or video heads, a tape safety guard circuit places the unit into the stop mode automatically

You demanded more versatility in a moderate-priced, broadcast-quality camera.

And JVC's value-packed CY-8800U goes with you from studio to location.

Our CY-8800U offers a lot more than picture quality and stability that compares favorably with units costing twice as much. Thanks to JVC's technology, the CY-8800U camera, utilizing three 2/3" magnetic focus, magnetic deflection Plumbicon* or Saticon tubes offer total flexibility. And a rugged die cast chassis in front and back to hold up under the toughest conditions.

With the Basic configuration, it's a compact ENG/EFP camera that's completely self-contained—no CCU required. It's easy to operate, ready to plug into our CR-4400LU/CR-4400U portable recorder, with optional cables available up to 66 feet.

With the Studio configuration it's a hard-working studio camera. Just add the RS-8800U remote Synchronizing unit and the large screen, top mounted viewfinder.

And as for big-ticket features, we've built in what the others would let you add on later:

if it is left in the still-frame mode for more than 10 minutes.

- Selective editing modes—assemble editing, insert editing for audio channel-1, audio channel-2 or video.
- Versatile editing capability offering techniques like "edit-in/out," pre-roll, and automatic pre-roll.

You'll find that nothing in its price class performs anywhere near the CR-8500LU/RM-85U videocassette editing system. And that you'd have to spend a lot more on the competitive unit that offers many of the same features.

That's what we mean by giving video people more of what they want, for less than they expect to pay.

- A built-in 1.5 Inch adjustable electronic viewfinder for the convenience of the operator.
- A built-in battery warning system.
- A built-in tally light.
- A built-in VSI—video system indicator for precision F-stop control.
- A built-in color bar generator.
- A built-in +6dB, +12dB sensitivity switch for low light level applications.

- A built-in auto white balance.
- A built-in fast warm-up capability.
- A built-in electrical color temperature adjustment for different applications (variable from 3000°K to 10,000°K).
- A built-in filter system (neutral density) for variable light levels.
- A built-in level switch (+ 50%, 0, -50%) provides 1/2 F-stop adjustment, letting you fine tune for added contrast.

- A built-in time lapse meter to show total hours of camera use.
- A built-in intercom system for studio applications.
- An RGB output, and NTSC encoding (Y, I, Q).
- A built-in Gamma control to fine tune gamma level.
- An AC Adaptor—standard.

- Lightweight—17.4 lbs.—portability.
- Optional 12-to-1 zoom lens with automatic iris and power zoom.

- Built-in horizontal and vertical contour correction circuits.
- Signal-to-noise ratio of 49dB, F 4/3000 lux.
- Resolution of 500 lines at center.
- Return video in the viewfinder.
- A built-in -G circuit for registration.
- Minimum illumination F 1.9/300 lux (+ 6dB switch on).
- A comfortable hand grip to stop and start the recorder. With a switch to operate iris control and a switch for return video.
- A built-in CCU.

And that adds up to a lot more features than you'd find in similarly-priced cameras.

You needed studio quality recording in the field.

And JVC's field-tested CR-4400LU

Portable Videocassette Recorder with automatic editing lets you bring your recording/editing capability wherever you need to shoot.

If you spend time on location in either ENG or EFP applications, you need a portable video system that can shoot, edit, and give you something to show in no time flat. Without awkward equipment hassles.

JVC's CR-4400LU is the one to take along when you can't bring a studio.

Because it's the lightweight machine with heavyweight features:

- Weights in under 27 lbs. So you can take it anywhere, and assemble edit on the spot. You enjoy total flexibility. Complete freedom. Fast results.
- AEF (Automatic Editing Function) gives you clean assemble edits.
- Built-in, full color recording and playback circuitry. No need to buy an adaptor.
- Low-power consumption that lets you operate on a miserly 13.5 watts, for longer battery life. A multi-purpose meter checks battery, audio, video and servo levels for precise control of all functions.
- Flexibility to record with the CY-8800U or other high quality color cameras.

So if you need a field-tested recording system with the features you want at a price you can afford, check out our CR-4400LU Portable Videocassette Recorder.

THE WORD FOR FORT WORTH TOWER EARTH STATIONS: PERFORMANCE.

Fort Worth Tower's five and seven meter antennas offer maximum reliability in performance with prime focus feeds for operation in the 3.7-4.2 GHz frequency band. Feeds are capable of 360 degree polarization by rotation from rear reflectors. Antenna meets sidelobe suppression requirements of FCC Rule 25.209 with averaging.

FIBERGLASS CONSTRUCTION GIVES YOU:

- Seven Meter Gain = 46.4 dB measured at 3.82 GHz
- Five Meter Gain = 44.5 dB measured at 4.14 GHz
- Low Expansion Coefficient for Dependable Reception
- Minimized Lightning Hazard
- Longer Life, Less Maintenance Cost
- Precision Engineered Steel Mounting Structure
- Complete Installation Services Available

BUILDINGS

Mobilt portable fiberglass, steel and aluminum headend buildings are ready when you are! The world's number 1 portable communications building is completely wired and finished to your specifications, then ready to ship to your site — anywhere in the world.

TOWERS

We can help solve all of your tower problems because we understand your business as well as ours. Our years of experience have given us the expertise that can take the uncertainties out of tower specification. You give us the questions, we'll give you the answers.

PROFESSIONAL WUHY-FM, Philadelphia, rates Stanton's 881S superior in every aspect!

Disc Jockey, Stephen Brooks at the mike

The Stanton 881S cartridge, with its Stereohedron stylus, has been rated, worldwide, as the outstanding stereo cartridge of its time. So, it ought to be a rather delicate pick-up. Not so, says WUHY... outstanding National Public Radio FM Station in Philadelphia. Mr. Ajit George, Director of Development and Awareness, quotes his Engineering Staff in this way:

- 1) "We back cue the 881S with no damage to the stylus.
- 2) It has excellent flat frequency response.
- 3) It handles high level complex music passages with complete freedom from mis-tracking.
- 4) The 881S has the highest output compared to average high quality magnetic cartridges, plus the fact that it gives superior signal-to-noise ratio from the phono pre-amp."

We are in total agreement with all of the above except, honestly, the 881S was not designed for back cueing.

Stanton guarantees each 881S to meet the specifications within exacting limits. The most meaningful warranty possible, individual calibration test results, come packed with each unit. Whether your usage involves recording, broadcasting or home entertainment, your choice should be the choice of the professionals... the Stanton 881S.

When Good Isn't Good Enough

The Image Plus™ Correction System will improve any video signal. Improve multiple generation tapes, noisy, problem tapes. Reduce noise in tapes recorded in low light, or deteriorated tapes. Experience dramatic improvement of picture quality through 6 dB video noise reduction, horizontal detail synthesis, vertical aperture correction, automatic group delay correction, comb filtering to remove cross color errors, chroma crispning, and chroma hue error reduction.

Image Plus can be used at any point and as many times as desired in the tele-production process, with or without external subcarrier.

So make poor tapes good, and good tapes even better. Write or call today for more information on the Image Plus Correction System from MICROTIME.

Continental Electronics

Introducing the new heavy-duty two-track. Otari MX7200.

ote controllability for all transport functions, digital timing and variable speed record and playback.

It's the sheer heavy-duty machine you can rely on for every critical application you have in mind. For overnight recording sessions and tough editing processes that follow. For broadcasting day and night. Ask your nearest Otari dealer for its full details. You'll be satisfied with the professional characteristics inside and out.

The latest Otari recorder/reproducer is designed strictly for the heavy-duty operation. For critical professional applications for hours and hours on end. That's why it comes with extra ruggedness, operation convenience, full-professional functions and improved serviceability.

Its features include 15/7½ ips DC-servo direct drive with ±12% pitch control. Full motion-sensing control logic, new dynamic braking and constant-tension reel servo on both the supply and take-up reels, all of which add up to tightest timing and fool-proof tape handling. The unrivalled editing facilities including front panel edit and cueing control. Built-in 700Hz/15kHz test oscillator for efficient routine machine alignment. 250 or 320 nWb/m calibrated recording level and 600 ohm +4dBm fixed output. NAB or IEC equalization. And it comes with perfect re-

AUDIO EQUIPMENT THAT DEFIES COMPARISON — PRICE OR PERFORMANCE

The headline above is not just another hollow advertising claim. It is simply a statement of facts. A fact that started out as a goal over eight years ago and is the result of both an intensive developmental program and an ongoing awareness of your, the broadcasters, needs.

We openly encourage your comparison with anything else on the market. Write, wire or call COLLECT for further information. Better yet, take advantage of our 2 week trial offer and prove us to yourself. We will both come out ahead.

Sincerely,

RAY KOHFELD

President/Director of Engineering

The products shown on these pages are but representative examples of over 150 items manufactured or sold thru RAMKO RESEARCH. From turntables, audio consoles, distribution amplifiers, and audio switchers to cart machines, tape winders and mic and line amplifiers.

TURNTABLE PREAMPS. Leaders in their field. MP-8 & SP-8 — Bal. out; 0.05% dist.; 68dB gain; +8dBm out (+21dBm max); S/N —77dB down ref. to 12mv in @ 1kHz & +8dBm out. ±1dB RIAA, remote scratch & brilliance activation. Mono, stereo, table top, and rack mount versions. $98 to $166.
ESP-38 — Bal. out; 0.03% distortion; S/N, —85dB down referred to 12mv in @ 1kHz and +8dBm out; ±0.5dB RIAA; remote & local scratch, brilliance, rumble filter and mono activation; +8dBm out (+21dBm max.), +60dB gain. Left & right Hi/Low equalization trimmers and recessed level controls. Built-in turntable remote start/stop relay. Stereo only. Price — $325.

AUDIO DISTRIBUTION AMPLIFIERS. Available in 12 different rack and table top versions. All inputs and outputs may be used balanced or unbalanced and in any combination on the same amplifier. All outputs are individually amplifier isolated and will work into any load over 125 ohms without change in distortion or response. Response 10Hz to 30kHz, ±0.5 dB. Distortion 0.1% or less, Hum and Noise 98dB down referenced to +20dBm out. Channel separation —75dB. DA's start as low as $145 for our 1x30 mass feed model, thru our 1x6 line and mic level units, to our modular 20x80 rack mount design. No need to pay more or settle for less. Price — $145 to $2,276.

DC38 SERIES AUDIO CONSOLES. Outstanding versatility and advanced technology. Unparalleled features such as 4 inputs per mixer, high Z balanced bridging inputs accept mic level thru high level, patch-panel input gain select, DC control of all audio, back lit alpha numeric readouts above each mixer, solid state LED VU meters, dual channel (plus mono mixdown channel on stereo), solid state switching and muting for noiseless operation, selectable muting, plug in electronics, and optional built in Clock/Timer. Available mono or stereo and 5, 8, or 10 mixer versions. 4 year warranty with 2 week trial period. Price — $2,400 to $4,980.

DC-12 SERIES AUDIO CONSOLES. A remote control console with low profile control head and rack mount electronics that may be located up to 90 feet away. Features 2 inputs per mixer, silent illuminated touch switches, dual channel (plus mono mix down channel on stereo), solid state LED VU meters, DC control of all audio, patch panel input gain select, selectable solid state muting and switching, slide faders with dual cue entry and plug in electronics. Since the DC-12's are totally modular you may order any number of mixers and add on later. Twelve channels may be accommodated and an additional 8 may be added via the DC-12 extender. 4 year warranty. Price — $4,700 to $5,900.

SC-5, DC-5, & DC-8 SERIES AUDIO CONSOLES. This series of consoles, whether single or dual channel; table models or rack mount; 5 or 8 mixers, mono or stereo, feature illuminated touch-pad audio select switching, solid state LED VU meters, Simul-Q monitoring capability, full-range gain selects on each input, selectable solid state cue and monitor muting on all channels, and plug-in electronics. DC control of all audio with built-in relays for on-air lights and aux. muting. Options include 4 and 8 channel extenders, Simul-Q latching and remote control of AC equipment. These popular consoles have recently been up-dated to incorporate many new features. Price — $864 to $2,298.

PORTABLE CONSOLE. P5M — A full 5 mixer audio console in miniature. Bal. in & out, 8 inputs, 3 of which are mic/line selectable & individual compressors on mic channels #1 & #2. Tone gen., cue and monitor feed with gain controls & phones select with gain control. Last 3 channels equipped with Q switch & the first 2 channels provide muting. A folding stand is part of the unit and may be removed for rack mounting. +8dBm out nominally (+18dBm max); ±2dB, 20Hz to 20kHz; S/N —75dB high level and —62dB mic level. Max gain of 90dB and distortion of 0.3%. Compression/limiting range of 35dB and a slope of 50:1. 9 3/4" W x 9 1/2" D x 3 1/2" H. Price — $545.

AUDIO ROUTER/ AMPLIFIER. The most versatile, feature loaded switcher on the market. Plug in cards for up to 16 inputs & 12 outputs. Each input has an amplifier and level adjust for attenuation and up to 17dB of gain. Output cards feature dual bal. 600 Ohm outputs, momentary BCD coded controls (may be slaved from other locations), LED output status lights show thru the front panel, and on-board mono/stereo select switch. A smoked plexiglass front panel allows the operator to tell the status of any output. Also on the front panel are 2 rows of silent momentary contact switches. One row for output selection & one row for input select. Contact RAMKO for further information and specs. Price — $716 - $2,108

LINE AMPLIFIERS. The ideal solution for your line level problems can be found in one of the 4 different models offered. LA-2 (table top or rack) and LA-5S/10M: mono or stereo, balanced or unbalanced high impedance inputs, +21dBm maximum input level, +21dBm maximum output into 600 ohm balanced line, frequency response +0 -1dB 10 Hz to 50kHz, distortion 0.008% at +8dBm out. The LA-2 is a 2 channel amplifier. The LA-5S/10M is a modular rack mount unit with up to 5 stereo or 10 mono channels. The LE-3 is a 3 channel mono line amplifier with equalization for high and low frequencies and is also modular. Gain of all units, variable to +20dB. Price — $16 to $469.

DUAL MIC COMPRESSOR/AMPLIFIERS. Portable dual mono & stereo mic limiters that amplify, mix, limit and control gain. The DML-dual mono is used where 2 separate mics must be independently amplified and compressed and mixed into a common 600 ohm output. Primary and backup batteries (or an optional AC supply). Includes tone generator & talkback ability. The DML-1S is an AC powered, stereo version. Input: -60dB nominal, -18dB max. Gain: 90dB max. Limiting Output Level: DML-2M, +10dBm. DML-1S, +18dBm or +8dBm. Balanced Inputs and Outputs. Dist.: 0.3%. Attack Time: 2 microseconds. Noise: 80dB below limiting output. Size 2 1/2" H x 5 1/4" W x 8 1/2" D. Price — $239 to $274.

MIC/LINE AMPLIFIERS. Dual function for microphone or line. The MLA series are ideal for remote broadcasts, churches, mixer expansion, and emergency situations. Front panel controls for mic or line selection and level. Mic input -60dB in for +4dBm out. Line input balanced bridging with gain variable +26dB. -18dBm in provides +8dBm out with an additional 13dBm of headroom. Distortion is 0.1% or less. Response: Mic channel ±2dB 20Hz to 20kHz. High level channel: ±1dB 5Hz to 30kHz. Inputs may be used bal. or unbal. XLR Mic connectors. Single or dual channel, table top or rack mount. Price — $128 to $195.

STUDIO MONITOR AMPLIFIERS. Exceptional reproduction with high performance and versatility. 7 different models to choose from. MA-7 (mono), MA-14 (stereo): 5W per channel into 8 ohms. Response: +0, -2dB 20 Hz to 19kHz at rated output. Distortion: 0.4% max. at 1kHz and rated output. Input: 5k unbalanced, 0.7V in for max. output. Table top or rack mount. SMA series: mono or stereo, table top or rack mount. 25W RMS per channel into 8 ohms. Inputs: high Z balanced bridging. Response: ±1dB 15Hz to 90kHz at rated output. Distortion: 0.6% at rated output. Built in muting circuit with input and output level controls and bass contour adjust. Price — $96 to $269.

AUTOMATIC CARTRIDGE & CASSETTE LOADER. Precision wind your own carts and cassettes and save up to 40% on reloading costs. The ACL-25/E is simple to use, just dial in the time desired and push the run switch. The ACL stops automatically, precisely to -0, +1 second of playback time. The exclusive playback speed selector ends mental gymnastics figuring tape length versus playback speed. Simply set the selector to 1 7/8, 3 3/4, or 7 1/2 i.p.s. and the ACL does the rest. An optional cassette adaptor enables you to wind both carts and cassettes on the same machine. An optional pancake adaptor is also available. The ACL-25/E has a nominal winding speed of 30 i.p.s. Price $325.

TECHNICS PROFESSIONAL SERIES BY PANASONIC. Ramko Research is proud to be one of the largest distributors of this extraordinary equipment. The SP-10MKII and the SL-1500-MK2 Turntables have set new standards by which turntables will be judged for many years. These direct drive units with Quartz-phase locked speed control maintain speed within 0.002%. Wow and flutter is 0.025% WRMS and Rumble -73dB. Also available are reel to reel tape recorders, portable and fixed cassette R/P units, power amps, parametric equalizers, tuners, and a series of studio monitor speakers that will astound you with their phase-linear reproduction.

TOWERS BY STAINLESS ARE PROVEN!

Performance-proven under the worst environmental conditions, "towers by Stainless" have earned us our reputation as number one in tall tower construction.

A Stainless microwave tower in Florida, built to withstand 160 mph winds, showed no structural damage during hurricane "Eloise" in 1975. Other Stainless towers have withstood ice and winter winds equally well.

We build with integrity — through experience, advanced engineering techniques, uncompromising standards and quality of materials.

Yet our prices are extremely competitive. We keep costs down through use of automated fabrication wherever possible and though we've built 2000' towers, we're just as particular in building 200' ones.

Worldwide, for AM/FM, TV, microwave or radar, we've satisfied commercial, government, industrial and military needs for over 30 years.

"Package" programs are available with site selection, soil analysis, fabrication and erection.

For your tower needs — choose Stainless, the proven performer.

IF YOUR OPERATION REQUIRES AUTOMATION
WITH ABILITY
THEN WE'VE GOT ESP FOR YOU.

Introducing the new ESP-1 programmer system from SMC, the innovators in broadcast audio control.

The ESP offers a modern microprocessor controller with a deep 4,000 event memory, including sub-routines and fully programmable clock. The only simple thing about ESP is the ease of service and the lack of knobs, buttons and complex video terminals.

And whats even better, the ESP just happens to be the lowest priced programmer of its ability on the market.

Investigate before you buy. Call or write SMC for complete information and a proposal on how ESP can work for you and your station.

Our Model 9000 is a winner.

We knew our Digital Noise Reducer was something special—now it appears the industry does too. We are proud to accept this coveted Emmy for Engineering Achievement on behalf of our Model 9000 Digital Noise Reducer.

Thomson-CSF will continue in research and development toward ever more dramatic innovations in the electronic media industry.

The Model 9000 Digital Noise Reducer analyzes incoming video signals on an element-by-element basis, achieving a dynamic 12 db signal-to-noise improvement with up to 15 db available for special applications.

It provides significant operational value where low lighting or streaky chroma-noise makes picture quality poor. With our Model 9000 Digital Noise Reducer, a marginal noisy input color signal becomes a broadcast quality output signal. And no objectionable artifacts are introduced at normal settings.

Dramatic improvements have been accomplished in both studio and remote applications: 2" multi-generation video tape, U-Matic multi-generation, studio cameras, film-to-tape transfers, Electronic Film Production, microwave transmission, C.A.T.V., satellite transmission, off-air reception, Telecine film grain reduction and Electronic Journalism at low light levels are some examples of the Model 9000 Digital Noise Reducer's successful applications.

Make your picture a winner with our winner as so many TV stations and production houses already have. The Thomson-CSF Model 9000 Digital Noise Reducer.

Tip of the iceberg or flash in the pan? Our competitors thought we were just dabbling in the broadcast equipment market, but as we added Beaucart® Splice Finders and Cart Machines to our Beau Motors and Heads, it became obvious that we were here to stay. And now we've coordinated all these activities into our new Broadcast Products Division to make us more productive and efficient. And there's more to come. A whole lot more. For a look at your future, write today or call (203) 288-7731. We're the Broadcast Products Division, UMC Electronics Co., 460 Sackett Point Road, North Haven, Connecticut 06473.

Western Union owns and operates two 12-transponder satellites, Westar I and Westar II. Five earth stations serve New York, Atlanta, Chicago, Dallas and Los Angeles. Audio, video, data and facsimile service is available.

Satellites

Several companies offer domestic satellite communications services with rates depending on type of service and whether service is part time, full time, scheduled or unscheduled. The companies—American Satellite Corp.; RCA American Communications and RCA Alaska Communications; Western Union Telegraph Co.; and a joint venture between AT&T and GTE Satellite Corp.—are using Westar, Satcom and Comstar satellites. Backup time can be leased from Canadian Anik satellites. Terrestrial links connect the various earth stations scattered across the country with regional carrier operation centers, from which customer feeds originate. In addition, Satellite Business Systems plans a domestic operation to provide such services as voice, data and facsimile.

Comstar I, Comstar II The first two of three 24-transponder satellites were launched and began operating in 1976, with the third scheduled for a May 1978 launch. Comsat General Corp. owns and operates the satellites, leasing full time to AT&T, which in turn leases to GTE Satellite Corp. Specialized non-telephone uses are prohibited for the first three years of operation by FCC order, except for government communications traffic throughout the country and television transmission between Hawaii and the mainland.

Satcom I, Satcom II Both RCA satellites began operation in 1976. Each provides 24 transponder capability serving all 50 states.

Anik I, Anik II, Anik III Telesat Canada's three Anik satellites each have 12-transponder capacity. The Canadian Broadcasting Corp. uses video and audio circuits on the satellite systems. The first Anik was launched in November 1972. Satellite service is provided over all Canada.

Westar I, Westar II Owned and operated by Western Union, each satellite provides 12-transponder capability. Both satellites were launched and began operating in 1974, with broadcast transmissions beginning in July 1975. Service is available in all 50 states.

Exactly. Everytime. From edge to edge, corner to corner. The color, the clarity and the fringe transmission are all unexcelled. In fact, no other lenses can equal Fujinon's low distortion, spectral transmission and flare characteristics. It all helps explain why more television cameras are equipped with Fujinon lenses. And why more people now pick up cameras show Fujinon lenses.

Whatever the application, whatever the conditions, Fujinon offers a lens that will give you exactly what you want. For ENG/EFP cameras, Fujinon can put you in the middle of the action even when you can't get anywhere near it. (Our 14x10 zoom with built-in 2X extender gives you 10 to 280mm zoom; that's equal to 544mm on a 1 1/4" format.) And when things get close, you can, too, with a 6mm lens that focuses down to 0-inch.

For studio and field cameras, choose from 10 to 30X zooms including the widest, close focusing lens up to a 60X zoom that gives you 620mm focal length without attachments. In addition to broadcast, Fujinon offers the longest line of lenses for closed circuit television, including lenses for surveillance, for surveillance and education. You can also turn to Fujinon for hologram and movie cameras, medical fiber optic devices, and binoculars (from 4x25 up to 25x150).

Besides being light years ahead in performance, value and quality, Fujinon backs you up with service that's the best available. Check the specs below on Fujinon CCTV lenses. Then ask for a free side-by-side demo. You'll soon agree that with Fujinon, what you see is always what you get. And if you don't see exactly what you want, just ask.

At Last, a Cart Machine that Keeps its Cool

Telex/Magnecord broadcast cart machines run cool and steady. So cool no ventilation is required, so steady not even voltage or frequency fluctuations will alter their speed. Thanks to our dc servo flutter-filter drive.

The MC series offers broadcasters a host of options, including field convertability from mono to stereo or play to record and, of course, end of message, secondary/tertiary cue tones.

Designed for type A or B carts, the MC series meets all NAB specifications, offers full immunity to EMI and RFI, is remote controllable and automation compatible with CMOS digital logic. Audio muting, air damped low voltage dc solenoid and fast forward are standard features on every MC unit.

Four broadcast cart machines to choose from in the Telex/Magnecord MC series. Running cool and steady. With a pleasant surprise—they're affordable.

THERE'S NO SUBSTITUTE FOR EXPERIENCE

... when it comes to planning video systems.

Many video systems supply companies are like some used car salesmen. Here today, gone tomorrow. But not us.

We rely on experience that has been helping television stations and private companies set up video systems since 1954. Our hundreds of customers can attest to that.

We can help you plan your system and supply you with equipment from most any major manufacturer in the world. Then, we'll set up your system and service it for life.

We were here yesterday. We're here today. And we'll be here tomorrow.

BROADCAST SERVICES

The following directory is a service to those interested in particular types of programs or other services. It shows where to obtain desired services, and is made possible through the cooperation of companies who have asked to be spotlighted in this way. For further information on an individual program supplier see its alphabetical listing in the appropriate division of section D, under programming or section F. Suppliers whose names are in bold face are advertisers in the 1979 BROADCASTING YEARBOOK.

The second-happiest day
in your life.

We've had broadcasters tell us the second-happiest day in their lives was the day they bought a station. The happiest day, they explain, was the day they sold it. We see our responsibility as making the day any property changes hands "the happiest day" for buyer AND seller.

To that end, the men of The Keith W. Horton Company apply professional marketing and communication skills to the search, qualification and negotiation process whether we represent buyer OR seller. Throughout, the confidentiality of every transaction is stoutly maintained.

Years of experience in working with attorneys, bankers, real estate people and the Commission are mobilized to bring each transfer to fruition, whether the property is large or small.

Sure, we're busy. But never too busy to serve you.

International

World Radio and Television

The following summarizes radio and television broadcasting around the world. Stations and transmitters used for international and armed forces programs are included. Transmitter counts for each country are for main transmitters and often include low power relays, repeaters, satellites and/or translators. Where current information is not available, radio set counts have been estimated by Broadcasting.

Note: Domestic radio stations in foreign countries often use shortwave and longwave frequencies, as well as the medium wave frequencies corresponding with the standard AM broadcast band in the U.S. Longwave (lw) frequencies below 500 khz are generally used in Europe, Africa, the Middle East, and Asiatic U.S.S.R. Medium wave (mw) frequencies are between 500 and 1600 khz and are used on all continents. Shortwave (sw) frequencies are between 1600 and 30,000 khz and are used for domestic broadcasting on all continents, especially in tropical areas. On long, medium, and shortwave, the mode of transmission is amplitude modulation (AM). Most foreign frequency modulation (FM) radio broadcasting is on the same frequencies as those used in the U.S., although some countries use a band between 60 and 88 mhz.

Unless shown as commercial (coml), government broadcasting activity identified below is without advertising. Some independent broadcasting organizations, such as the BBC, operate under statutory authority, and are so identified. Statutory, non-governmental broadcasting may be supported by receiver license fees, advertising, subsidies, or a combination.

Books

paper, a response to that, a multi-author assessment of costs and benefits of cable deregulation, and a summary of recent developments—and predictions of the future.

Rivkin, Steven. A New Guide to Federal Cable Television Regulation. Cambridge, Mass.: MIT Press, 1978. 314 pp. $25.00.

A complete rewriting of the 1973 Rand Corp. study, this now concentrates on the five years of case law since the 1972 "definitive FCC cable rules were handed down. About half the volume is reprinted FCC rules, forms, and regulations, the rest being analytical discussion of that material.

World Broadcasting

Hale, Julian. Radio Power: Propaganda and International Broadcasting. Philadelphia: Temple University Press, 1975. 196 pp. $12.50.

Historical review and current analysis of radio broadcasting between nations in all parts of the world, comparing among other things, the Nazi, Communist, American and BBC models.

Head, Sydney W. Broadcasting in Africa: A Continental Survey of Radio and Television. Philadelphia: Temple University Press, 1974. 453 pp. $23.

A country-by-country survey by a score of scholars, with discussion as well of cross-system functions and international services, foreign aid, religious broadcasting, training, educational uses of radio and television, technical problems, etc.

Katz, Elihu, and George Wedell. Broadcasting in the Third World: Promise and Performance. Cambridge, Mass.: Harvard University Press, 1977. 303 pp. $15.00.

Presents some new information on 11 sample countries, plus a wealth of data from other countries to sum up what is now known and thought about the potential role of radio (especially) and television in developing areas—plus some sense of what effect these media have had over the past decade or so.

Namurois, Albert. Structures and Organization of Broadcasting in the Framework of Radiocommunications. Geneva: European Broadcasting Union Monograph 8, 1973. 211 pp. $5.

Highly organized outline of the different ways world broadcasting systems are arranged, financed and operated, with a stress on comparative analysis.

Paulu, Burton. Radio and Television Broadcasting on the European Continent. Minneapolis: University of Minnesota Press, 1967. 290 pp. $7.50.

Best current analysis of broadcasting in Western Europe (excluding United Kingdom) arranged by topic: facilities, structure and organization, finances, information and entertainment programs, etc.

Smith, Delbert D. Communication via Satellite: A Vision in Retrospect. Lyden, Netherlands and Boston: A.W. Sijthoff, 1976. 335 pp. $28.00.

An interesting and incisive overview of policy, technology, and economic developments both domestic and international on the communications satellite front over the past two decades. The development and role of both Comsat and Intelsat are detailed, along with some discussion of domestic communication satellites and direct broadcasting.

Tunstall, Jeremy. The Media Are American: Anglo-American Media in the World. New York: Columbia University Press, 1977. 352 pp. $14.95.

Latest and most balanced of the several recent books critical of the industrialized countries' domination of world press and broadcasting communication, this provides a wealth of information on the development and economic clout of British and American media—and a review of where each system is dominant, and with what effect.

World Communications: A 200-Country Survey of Press, Radio, Television, Film. New York: Unipub (Unesco), 1975. 533 pp. $21.

The standard comparative description of major media, by region of the world, and by country, first issued in 1950, and last revised in 1964. Wealth of data.

World Radio & TV Handbook. New York: Billboard Publications, annual. Pagination and cost varies.

Standard guide to the hours, frequencies and programs of international shortwave and television broadcasting.

Production and Performance Guides

Hawes, William. The Performer in Mass Media. New York: Hastings House, 1978. 350 pp. $15.75/8.95.

A broad general introduction with material on voice, movement and other aspects of appearance, the studio, preparation, rehearsals, on the air, and evaluation as well as career suggestions.

Hilliard, Robert L. Writing for Television and Radio. New York: Hastings House, 1976 (3rd ed.). 461 pp. $16.50.

A standard writing text first published in 1962, this is arranged by type of program from commercials, news and sports, features and documentaries, talk programs and game shows, to music and variety, children's shows, women's programs, minority and ethnic features, educational programs, and drama. Many script examples.

Hyde, Stuart. Television and Radio Announcing. Boston: Houghton-Mifflin, 1971 (2nd ed.). 400 pp. $9.95.

Revision of a standard first published in 1959 with the first part providing guidance, and the second giving practice assignments.

Levitant, Eli L. An Alphabetical Guide to Motion Picture, Television and Videotape Production. New York: McGraw-Hill, 1970. 797 pp. $24.50.

Illustrated guide to facilities and procedures.

Millerson, Gerald. The Technique of Television Production. New York: Hastings House, 1970 (3rd ed.). 440 pp. $14.50/7.20.

One of the best standard guides to the overall production process (another is Zettl), this offers more than 1,100 diagrams to supplement a detailed text.

The Technique of Lighting for Television and Motion Pictures. New York: Hastings House, 1972. 366 pp. $17.95.

Standard book on the subject (see also the same author's shorter version TV Lighting Methods from the same publisher for $7.95).

Nisbett, Alec. The Technique of the Sound Studio for Radio, Television and Film. New York: Hastings House, 1972 (3rd ed.). 557 pp. $14.50/10.50.

The standard and most detailed book on all aspects of audio (part of the information is presented in simpler form in the author's The Use of Microphones from the same publisher).

Oriik, Peter B. Broadcast Copywriting. Boston: Holbrook Press/Allyn and Bacon, 1978. 439 pp.

The most current comprehensive handbook on writing copy for radio and TV with chapters on both radio and television copy of all types from specific programs, to commercials and general "housekeeping" material. Many examples and exercises.

Spottiswoode, Raymond, ed. The Focal Encyclopedia of Film and Television Techniques. New York: Hastings House, 1969. 1,100 pp. $37.50.

Monumental gathering of alphabetically arranged information (with symbols to show application to either film or television), which combines equipment, history, production methods, facilities use, etc. Clear diagrams supplement often technical text.

Zettl, Herbert. Television Production Handbook. Belmont, Calif.: Wadsworth, 1976 (3rd ed.). 534 pp. $12.95.

Heavily revised and updated revision of standard task first published in 1962, this book now relies on photos rather than diagrams. Includes portable TV equipment, up-to-date videotape equipment, and small-format television. This (with Millerson above) is a standard source.

Zettl, Herbert. Sight, Sound, Motion: Applied Media Aesthetics. Belmont, Calif.: Wadsworth, 1973. 399 pp. $18.95.

Unique work providing heavily illustrated discussions of use of light, color, area, depth and volume, time and motion, and sound, as well as inter-related use of all of these.

Technical Books

Bartlett, George, ed. Engineering Handbook. Washington: National Association of Broadcasters, 1975 (6th ed.). 540 pp. $45.

Standard loose-leaf volume of technical information for both radio and television operations.

Costigan, Daniel M. FAX: The Principles and Practice of Facsimile Communication. Philadelphia: Chilton Book Co., 1971. 270 pp. $10.

Includes history, how it works, transmission standards, quality, economics, standards, and a survey of commercial hardware and systems as of 1970.

DeMaw, Doug, ed. The Radio Amateur's Handbook. Newington, Conn.: American Radio Relay League, annual. Pagination and price varies.

Standard guide of technical and legal information for "hams" and others.

Etkin, Harry A. AM/FM Broadcast Station Planning Guide. Blue Ridge Summit, Pa.: TAB Books, 1970. 192 pp. $12.95.

Chapters are offered on planning, frequency search and channel allocation, preparing engineering data for Form 301, basic floor plans, transmitter plant, wire and power needs, towers and antenna systems, studio and monitoring equipment, program automation, mikes, preventive maintenance tips, proof-of-performance tests and description of some sample operations. Many diagrams accompany the text.

Fink, Donald G., and David M. Lutyens. The Physics of Television. New York: Doubleday Anchor Science Series, 1960. 160 pp. $1.95.

Chapters on communication process, light, electricity, etc. lead to specific and chart-illustrated descriptions of the American standards for both black and white and color television.

Knecht, Kenneth. Designing and Maintaining the CATV and Small TV Studio. Blue Ridge Summit, Pa.: TAB Books, 1976 (2nd ed.). 281 pp. $12.95.

Writing in non-technical terms, although dealing with technical subjects this is a helpful book for those entering this field with little experience. Chapters include study of the studio pulse system, switching systems and video effects, cameras and lighting equipment, RF and video monitors, video terminals, distribution systems, audio mixing consoles, audio program sources, maintenance shop etc.

Kiver, Milton S., and Milton Kaufman. Television Simplified. New York: Van Nostrand Reinhold, 1973 (7th ed.). 612 pp. $15.95.

Most recent edition of a standard reference work for more than 25 years—covers all aspects of television operation and transmission.

Marsh, Ken. Independent Video: A Complete Guide to the Physics, Operation and Application of the New Television. San Francisco: Straight Arrow Books (order from Simon and Schuster in New York), 1975. 212 pp. $7.95.

A vividly clear diagram-illustrated exposition on electronics basics, AM-FM optics, acoustics, the camera, VTRs, color video, sound systems, cables, switching and generators, the production process, etc. Though aimed at community video types, this book is solid and offers much to anyone concerned with the technical background of broadcasting.

Martin, James. Future Developments in Telecommunications. Englewood Cliffs, N.J.: Prentice-Hall, 1978 (2nd ed.).

Text and diagrams by an IBM scientist look to the near and distant future of cable TV, other means of transmission, tie-ins to computers, spectrum use changes, satellites, mobile radio transceivers, etc.

Sessions, Kendall W. 2nd Class FCC Encyclopedia. Blue Ridge Summit, Pa.: TAB Books, 1975. 604 pp. $10.95/7.95.

Coverage of FCC exam elements 1-2-3 and 9 in question and answer format with over 400 illustrations and a 5,000 word index with cross-references.

Swearer, Harvey F. Commercial FCC License Handbook. Blue Ridge Summit, Pa.: TAB Books, 1971. 432 pp. $8.95/5.95.

Material, including illustrations and sample questions, for FCC 1st, 2nd, and 3rd class phone licenses.

Television Newgathering. Scarsdale, N.Y.: SMPTE, 1976. 168 pp. $12.50.

One of the first detailed discussions of the technical requirements for the operation of an ENG newsroom with details on equipment, set-up of facilities, etc.

Woram, John M. The Recording Studio Handbook. Plainview, N.Y.: Sagamore Publishing Co., Inc., 1976. 496 pp. $35.00.

Information on the basics (decibels, sound), microphones and loudspeakers, signal processing devices, magnetic recording, noise and noise reduction, recording consoles, recording techniques and several appendices.

A guide to radio station news operations on the scene, during civil disorders, involving fairness to minorities, the police beat and courtrooms, searches and rescues, government and politics, the style of the newscast, and the industry and the profession.

Powers, Ron. The Newscasters. New York: St. Martin's Press, 1977. 243 pp. $8.95.

Critical analysis of both national and local TV newscasts and newscasters, decrying the happy talk syndrome and lack of substance, especially in local journalism. There is much detail in specific national figures, and national trends in news presentation—with few good words for the "news doctors."

Routt, Edd. Dimensions of Broadcast Editorializing. Blue Ridge Summit, Pa.: TAB Books, 1974. 204 pp. $8.95.

One of the few books on this subject the text explores the differences between print and broadcast-ing, discusses FCC rules, ways and means of editorializing. Sample station editorial practices in varied-sized markets are included.

Entertainment Programing
(see also section on history)

Adler, Richard, ed. Television as a Social Force: New Approaches to Television Criticism. New York: Praeger Special Studies, 1975. 171 pp. $15.00/3.95.

Eight essays on the role of television programing in American life.

Adler, Richard, ed. Television as a Cultural Force. New York: Praeger Special Studies, 1976. 199 pp. $15.00/4.95.

Sequel to the book above, this offers nine essays focusing on entertainment programing of various types, along with a brief bibliography.

Cantor, Muriel G. The Hollywood TV Producer: His Work and His Audience. New York: Basic Books, 1972. 264 pp. $7.95.

Only study of its kind, this is based on a scholarly survey of television series producers, exploring their working conditions, views of the audience, and how these things effect their product—TV entertainment.

David, Nina. TV Season 76-77. Phoenix, Ariz.: Oryx Press, 1978. 299 pp. $15.95.

The third volume of an annual reference series covering all network, syndicated, and national public broadcasting programs aired in the past season. The indexed volume lists more than 1350 entertainment series, movies, special and documentary programs, etc., providing full cast and credits for each as well as time and network. For historical information like this, see Terrace under history, above.

Johnson, William O. Jr. Super Spectator and the Electric Lilliputians. Boston: Little, Brown, 1971. 237 pp. $6.95.

Based on a five part series in Sports Illustrated, this is an overview of how television has effected and covered professional sports in America.

Newcomb, Horace. TV: The Most Popular Art. New York: Anchor Books, 1974. 272 pp. $2.50.

Dissects and analyzes the major kinds of popular network television programing, concentrating on prime-time examples, with chapters on comedies, westerns, mysteries, doctors and lawyers, adventure shows, soap operas, news sports and documentaries.

Newcomb, Horace, ed. Television: The Critical View. New York: Oxford University Press, 1976. 314 pp. $4.

Twenty essays on particular shows, program genres, the role of television in our culture, and the esthetics of television content.

Parish, James Robert. Actors' Television Credits: 1950-1972. Metuchen, N.J.: Scarecrow Press, 1973. 879 pp. $18.50.

Listed in alphabetical order by name, then chronological order by program series, with specific episode and network as well as date noted. Supplement I (1978) continues, corrects, and expands the reference work.

Shanks, Bob. The Cool Fire: How to Make it in Television. New York: W. W. Norton, 1976. 318 pp. $9.95/3.95.

Behind-the-scenes information several notches better than most books of the type—this one written by an ABC executive who discusses national and local television programing as a continuing process with many examples from his own background.

Smith, Robert R. Beyond the Wasteland: The Criticism of Broadcasting. Falls Church, Va.: Speech Communication Association, 1976. 105 pp. $5.

Two parts deal with the process of criticism, and then specific issues in broadcast criticism (journalism, cable, social effects, etc.).

Whitfield, Stephen E., and Gene Roddenberry. The Making of Star Trek. New York: Ballentine Books, 1968. 414 pp. $1.95.

Useful as a behind-the-scenes analysis of the development, design, and production of a network television series. See also David Gerold's The World of Star Trek (Ballentine Books, 1973—$1.50) for a different approach to the same program and background analysis.

Public (Noncommercial) Broadcasting

Brown, James W., ed. Educational Media Yearbook: 1978. New York: R. R. Bowker, 1978. 531 pp. $25.00.

The fifth volume of an annual review series that includes extensive bibliographies and reference material on the status of public broadcasting and instructional media as well.

Gibson, George H. Public Broadcasting: The Role of the Federal Government, 1912-76. New York: Praeger Special Studies, 1977. 236 pp.

Traces the changing inter-relationship concerning both radio and television, including licensing, reserved frequencies, funding and long-range financing, and other issues. In the absence of a general history of public broadcasting, this is especially useful.

Nyhan, Michael J., ed. The Future of Public Broadcasting. New York: Praeger Special Studies, 1976. 372 pp. $18.50/6.95.

Eighteen articles on all aspects of current public broadcasting make this an important policy-oriented overview of public television and radio today, including instructional broadcasting, financing, specialized audiences, program trends, patterns of control, and an annotated bibliography.

Schramm, Wilbur. Big Media, Little Media: Tools and Technologies for Instruction. Beverly Hills, Calif.: Sage Publications, 1977. 315 pp. $17.50/7.50.

A detailed overview of the literature assessing the effectiveness of instructional media, including evidence from the field, from experimental studies, from teachers, and economic angles. "Big" media include television and sound film while "little" media mean less complex systems like radio and slides.

Wood, Donald N., and Donald G. Wylie. Educational Telecommunications. Belmont, Calif.: Wadsworth Publishing Co., 1977. 370 pp. $9.95, paper.

The best current text overview of both public broadcasting and instructional media including the convoluted history of public broadcasting, the current structure, issues in public and instructional media, program production and storage-utilization, etc. A cogent and well-organized overview of a large field.

The Broadcast Audience

Bower, Robert. Television and the Public. New York: Holt, Rinehart & Winston, 1973. 205 pp. $7.95.

Based on a national 1970 survey, this is an updating of the 1963 book by the late Gary A. Steiner, The People Look at Television. About a third of the questions used were the same for both surveys. The basic conclusion is that people are watching more television, but are also somewhat more critical of what they see.

Comstock, George, et al. Television and Human Behavior. Santa Monica, Calif.: Rand Corp., 1975. Three volumes, $27.

The first volume is a large, unannotated but subject-divided guide to the literature on television's effects, the second deals in annotated abstracts of selected key studies, and the third reviews what we know now, and research efforts now going on and projected for the future. A comprehensive guide to post-1960 research.

Davison, W. Phillips, and Frederick T. C. Yu, eds. Mass Communication Research: Major Issues and Future Directions. New York: Praeger Special Studies, 1974. 248 pp. $13.50/5.95.

A summary of what is known about uses of mass communication by individuals, media and socialization, functions of media for groups, media and the state, media and the political system, professional personnel and organizational structure in media, media management, new information technology and areas of needed research.

Kline, F. Gerald, and Phillip J. Tichenor, eds. Current Perspectives in Mass Communications Research. Beverly Hills, Calif.: Sage Publications, 1972. 320 pp. $15/7.50.

Despite the similarity in title and purpose, there is little overlap here with the book above. Sections cover research on gatekeeping, information diffusion, the interpersonal context of mass communication, socialization and media, media in political campaigns, the communication environment of the urban poor, sex and violence, and environment and communication.

Noble, Grant. Children in Front of the Small Screen. Beverly Hills, Calif.: Sage Publications, 1975. 256 pp. $15.

An international overview of research on and concern about all aspects of children's television and its effects. Emphasis is on reviewing television as an escape, child development and televisioning, media definitions of roles, TV and violence and delinquent behavior, etc.

Stein, Aletha Huston, and Lynette Kohn Freidrich. Impact of Television on Children and Youth. Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 1975. 72 pp. $2.50, paper.

The best concise overview of the mass of research (and general essay writing) on TV violence and kids, prosocial television, social knowledge and stereotype research, general viewing patterns, etc. Extensive reference in text and tables to many other studies.

Cable Television

Baer, Walter S. Cable Television: A Handbook for Decision-Making. New York: Crane, Russak, 1974. 241 pp. $11.

A reprint of a Rand Corp. study, this overview discusses cable technology, cable system economics, ownership options, local planning for a cable system, cable franchising considerations, making public access effective, and public services on cable.

Baer, Walter S. Cable Television: Franchising Considerations. New York: Crane, Russak, 1974. 294 pp. $13.50.

Combines five Rand Corp reports: a guide to the technology of cable, the process of franchising, technical considerations in franchising, citizen participation in planning, and citizen participation after the franchise.

Carpenter-Huffman, Polly, Richard C. Kletter, and Robert K. Yin. Cable Television: Developing Community Services. New York: Crane, Russak, 1975. 274 pp. $12.75.

Reprints Rand Corp. reports on making public access effective, cable applications for municipal services, cable's uses in education, and a cable guide for education planners.

Committee for Economic Development. Broadcasting and Cable Television: Policies for Diversity and Change. New York: CED, 1975. 120 pp. $4/2.50.

Based on studies begun in late 1971 by a research and policy committee consisting of people inside broadcasting and cable as well as outside observers, critics and researchers. The report contains an introduction and summary of recommendations and sections on the public responsibilities of commercial broadcasting, a policy for public broadcasting, the potential of cable and organizing regulation for change.

Hollowell, Mary Louise, ed. Cable Handbook 1975-1976. Washington: Communications Press, Inc., 1975. 303 pp. $6.95.

Sixteen sections deal with technology, regulation, cable development models, cable world-wide, the many different public services potentially available through cable, and local origination and funding. There is also a glossary and bibliography.

— —. The Cable/Broadband Communications Book: 1977-1978. Washington: Communications Press, Inc. 1977. $16.25, paper. 155 pp.

Something of an update to the book above, this includes newer information, and some new subjects such as basic data on communication satellites, fiber optics, and home video systems, as well as the role of broadband communications to rural areas.

MacAvoy, Paul W., ed. Deregulation of Cable Television. Washington, D.C.: American Enterprise Institute for Public Policy Research, 1977. 169 pp. $3.75, paper.

Part of the Ford Administration papers on regulatory reform, this book includes a general background

Dessart, George, ed. Television in the Real World: A Case Study in Broadcast Management. New York: Hastings House, 1978. 434 pp. $16.50/8.95.

A single detailed case study, this presents the papers around which a conference was built late in 1975. It posits construction and operation of a top 100 market VHF station, and explores from a managerial point of view such things as application process, ascertainment, programing, news specifically, sales, promotion, and financial planning. As printed, can be used both as a case study (basic materials are all here), or as something of a self-learning series of lessons.

Duncan, James Jr. American Radio. Kalamazoo, Mich.: Gilmore Advertising, 1978 (annual revision). ca 300 pp. $37.00 ($31.00 to libraries and faculty).

Based on Arbitron's market-by-market radio surveys, this annual compilation provides a summary of the market information (stations in market, power and channel, rates, formats, audience, etc.) as well as useful national data (most popular stations, formats, syndicated programmers, radio reps, station groups, etc.). A very handy collection of comparative data.

Heighton, Elizabeth J., and Don R. Cunningham. Advertising in the Broadcast Media. Belmont, Calif.: Wadsworth, 1976. 349 pp. $12.95.

The first broad book-length overview of this subject published since 1959, this book includes chapters on the development of broadcast advertising, structure of the industry, objectives and strategies, marketing research and media planning, talent, producing and evaluating commercials, buying and selling time, and questions of social responsibility in advertising.

Johnson, Joseph, and Kenneth K. Jones. Modern Radio Station Practices. Belmont, Calif.: Wadsworth, 1978 (2nd ed.). 418 pp. $12.95

Sections on programing (with special chapters on both music and news), promotion, sales, research, governmental and nongovernmental controls, and the physical and operational plant. Supplemented with 14 station profiles providing in-depth analysis of issues discussed earlier.

Koenig, Allen E., ed. Broadcasting and Bargaining: Labor Relations in Radio and Television. Madison: University of Wisconsin Press, 1970. 344 pp. $8.

The only book of its kind, this reviews the development and effect of unions in radio-TV, arbitration in broadcasting, and problems of specific kinds of employes and unions, with a look at the likely future.

Noll, Roger G., Merton J. Peck, and John J. McGowan. Economic Aspects of Television Regulation. Washington: Brookings Institution, 1973. 342 pp. $8.95.

The regulatory options situation and prospects for change in commercial television, pay TV, cable television, public TV, new television technology, and what policies should be developed for improving television. This is a detailed and annotated scholarly analysis.

Jack Beebe, and Willard Manning Jr. Television Economics. Lexington, Mass.: Lexington Books, 1974. 218 pp. $15.

The first part explores economics of television programing while the second reviews other questions of public policy toward television. Both parts suggest a variety of policy options based on data presented.

Quaal, Ward L., and James A. Brown. Broadcast Management: Radio, Television. New York: Hastings House, 1975. (2nd ed.). 464 pp. $16.50/8.95.

A totally rewritten version of the 1968 book, this now has sections on principles of management, the management of personnel, the audience, programing, broadcast sales, managing for profit, broadcast engineering, the manager and regulation, and lengthy essays by the authors as to the likely future.

Routt, Edd. The Business of Radio Broadcasting. Blue Ridge Summit, Pa.: TAB Books, 1972. 400 pp. $12.95.

The role of the radio station in the community, sales, programing, administration, technical operations, and legal aspects including licensing, fairness, etc.

Zeigler, Sherilyn K., and Herbert H. Howard. Broadcast Advertising: A Comprehensive Working Textbook. Columbus, Ohio: GRID, 1978. 341 pp.

Title sums it up—including coverage of structure and operation of the industry, ad agencies, regulation of advertising, commercials and responsibility, programing and production, writing commercials, copy testing, audience research, time buying, etc—all for both radio and television.

Ashley, Paul P., in collaboration with Camden M. Hall. Say it Safely: Legal Limits in Publishing, Radio, and Television. Seattle: University of Washington Press, 1976 (5th ed.). 238 pp. $9.50.

First issued under this title two decades ago, this book has become a standard introduction to a changing and complicated field. Coverage is updated on libel, quotations and ads, privilege, comment and criticism, pictures, the right of privacy, political broadcasts, a new chapter on pornography, free speech and fair trial, copyright, etc.

Cole, Barry, and Mal Oettinger. Reluctant Regulators: The FCC and the Broadcast Audience. Reading, Mass.: Addison-Wesley, 1978. 315 pp. $10.95.

Part memoir, part expose, this volume is primarily an analysis from behind the scenes of just what makes the FCC move, based on the senior author's several years working as a consultant in the FCC chairman's office. The authors analyse the players, dealing with the commission, various regulatory functions (renewals, FCC sanctions, etc.), and the children's television controversy.

Devol, Kenneth S., ed. Mass Media and the Supreme Court: The Legacy of the Warren Years. New York: Hastings House, 1976 (2nd ed.). 400 pp. $14.50/8.50.

Best current collection of important decisions and parts of media-related decisions divided into such topics as prior restraint, censorship of obscenity, libel, right of privacy, trial by newspaper or television, public access to the media, etc. Includes useful case notes and overview articles as well.

Francois, William E. Mass Media Law and Regulation. Columbus, Ohio: Grid Inc., 1978 (2nd ed.). 616 pp.

With 100 pages devoted to specific problems of broadcasting, this volume offers a broader media context in discussing libel, privacy, free press vs. fair trial, newsmen's privilege, advertising etc. The result is a good mixture of journalism and law, stressing recent important cases, decisions and trends.

Franklin, Marc A. Cases and Material on Mass Media Law. Mineola, N.Y.: Foundation Press, 1977. 878 pp. $19.00.

Of the several available legal case books on the media (especially useful in supplementing one of the basic texts in this field), this provides both broad concepts and a good deal of specific broadcasting material. Court and administrative decisions are reprinted in whole or part with comment and questions from the editor providing context.

Friendly Fred W. The Good Guys, the Bad Guys, and the First Amendment: Free Speech vs. Fairness in Broadcasting. New York: Random House, 1976. 268 pp. $10/2.95.

A narrative and analysis of the Red Lion and other cases that have shaped the fairness doctrine, this book concludes that the issues are not clear-cut, making it difficult to tell the good from the bad guys.

Kahn, Frank J., ed. Documents of American Broadcasting. Englewood Cliffs, N.J.: Prentice-Hall, 1978 (3rd ed.). 638 pp. $15.95.

Collected cases, decisions, and other documents of the FCC, Congress and various courts on regulation of broadcasting, program controls, freedom of expression, broadcast journalism and the public interest. This edition is chronologically arranged.

Johnson, Donald F. Copyright Handbook. New York: R.R. Bowker, 1978. 309 pp. $14.95.

One of the better sources of current information on the new copyright law, this includes data on how the law affects broadcasting and cable, the details of compulsory licensing and fees, etc.

Krasnow, Erwin G., and Lawrence D. Longley. The Politics of Broadcast Regulation. New York: St. Martin's Press, 1978 (2nd ed.). 213 pp. $12.95/5.95.

Updated and expanded (with coverage of licensing, CB radio, etc.) from the first edition of five years ago, this remains the best short introduction to the arena, some of the players, and many of the issues in regulation of radio-television and cable. It's a good combination of academic research and pragmatic legal analysis.

Levin, Harvey J. The Invisible Resource: Use and Regulation of the Radio Spectrum. Baltimore: Johns Hopkins Press, 1971. 432 pp. $12.

The book is divided into four parts. One, the spectrum system—including the major users of the spectrum. Two, alternatives in the allocation and management of the spectrum. Three, the level of spectrum development. Four, the potential of competition as a means of preserving resources of the spectrum.

National Association of Broadcasters' Legal Guide to FCC Broadcast Rules, Regulations and Policies. Washington, D.C.: NAB, 1977. 600 pp. $70.00 ($35.00 to NAB member).

Prepared under the direction of NAB General Counsel Erwin G. Krasnow, this invaluable book makes some ordered sense out of a welter of rules and regulations—and thanks to its loose-leaf format will be regularly updated. Content includes deadlines, application and filing process, programing policies and practices, announcements, commercial policies, contests and promotions, ascertainment, equal employment, etc. Reprints many important FCC and NAB regulatory documents and has a detailed topical index.

Schmidt, Benno C. Jr. Freedom of the Press vs. Public Access. New York: Praeger Special Studies, 1976. 296 pp. $17.50/6.95.

Compares the differences between print media and broadcasting from a regulatory point of view. Not easy reading, but the discussion and analysis is comprehensive on the questions of libel and access, fairness in broadcasting, and Tornillo vs Red Lion.

Broadcast Journalism

Ashmore, Harry S. Fear in the Air: Broadcasting and the First Amendment—the Anatomy of a Constitutional Crisis. New York: Norton, 1973. 180 pp. $6.95.

A discussion of the major pressures on broadcasting, especially in news and special events programing. Mr. Ashmore believes the major problem is a public feeling that broadcasters are somehow to blame for many of the nation's problems.

Bagdikian, Ben H. The Information Machines: Their Impact on Men and the Media. New York: Harper & Row, 1971. 359 pp. $8.95/2.95.

A Rand Corp. study on the organization and operation of print and broadcast journalism which projects likely future technological developments and their impact on news and society. Discussion shows interrelations between economics, news problems, audience needs, and the business operation of the news media.

Barrett, Marvin. Rich News, Poor News: The Sixty Alfred I. duPont-Columbia University Survey of Broadcast Journalism. New York: Crowell, 1978. $7.95/3.95.

Now published every two years, this series of reviews dates back to 1968 and is becoming an evermore valuable analysis of the medium's strong and weak points both on the national and local levels. Concentrating as before on television journalism, chapters review general trends and specific issues of the year.

Fang, Irving E. Television News. New York: Hastings House, 1972 (2nd ed.). 478 pp. $12.50/7.50.

An expanded and revised edition of a standard text first issued in 1968. Deals with the problems of TV news, how to handle them, editorials and fairness, election coverage, libel, access, section 315, privacy etc. New are a glossary, reference notes and a bibliography. Examples and illustrations throughout.

Gates, Gary Paul. Air Time: The Inside Story of CBS News. New York: Harper & Row, 1978. 428 pp. $12.95.

Informal and anecdotal, this is a review of the post-World War II development of the main on-air and behind-the-scenes personnel at CBS radio and television news. Most of the book deals with the past 15 years of television journalism.

Johnstone, John W. C., Edward J. Slawski, and William W. Bowman. The News People: A Sociological Portrait of American Journalists and Their Work. Urbana: University of Illinois Press, 1976. 257 pp. $9.95.

The result of a 1971 national study of press, wire service, news magazine, and broadcast newspeople. The book analyses their background, education and training, differences between print and broadcast media types, division of labor within the field, rewards and satisfactions in journalism, and the role of news people in the news process.

Kraus, Sidney, and Dennis Davis. The Effects of Mass Communication on Political Behavior. State College: Pennsylvania State University Press, 1976. 308 pp. $16.50/7.95.

The most recent review of research and industry findings on print and broadcast coverage of campaigns and other political events, this volume offers sections on the role of the media in supplying political information, media and the political process, and media and the electoral process.

Miles, Donald W. Broadcast News Handbook. Indianapolis: Howard W. Sams Co., 1976. 397 pp. $7.95.

Books on Broadcasting

Compiled with the assistance of Christopher H. Sterling, department of radio-television-film, Temple University.

This bibliography supplements other listings published in previous Yearbooks. It is intended to briefly organize and annotate a selective list of the most useful currently-available titles on general broadcasting, history of radio and television, organization and economics, law and regulation, broadcast journalism, entertainment programming, public (non-commercial) broadcasting, the broadcast audience, cable television, world broadcasting, production and performance guides, and technical books.

Prices and publication data are as of September 1978. Titles are listed only once. Annotations are intended to be descriptive rather than evaluative.

General Reviews

Bogart, Leo. The Age of Television. New York: Ungar, 1972 (3rd ed.). 549 pp. $14.50.

Update of the 1958 edition of the best early book on TV's role, programming, patterns of viewing, radio listening in the TV age, and TV's relationship to effect on reading, movies, sports, etc. This edition adds 125 pages of notes keyed to text, plus new introduction and appendix on broadcast research (with bibliography) for the 1958-71 period.

Brown, Les. The New York Times Encyclopedia of Television. New York: Times Books, 1977. 492 pp. $20.00.

The business and programming sides of television are detailed in some several thousands entries covering both commercial and public television, and including data on important people, organizations, legal cases, specific programs, technical terms, and issues—all described and placed in context by the New York Times' respected television reporter. The reference value of this book will be obvious to those who watch—and those inside the industry.

Diamant, Lincoln, ed. The Broadcast Communications Dictionary. New York: Hastings House, 1978 (2nd ed.). 201 pp. $9.95.

There are several glossaries of technical, business, programming, and production terms in radio and television, but this is one of the more current and widely-available. Arranged alphabetically, the definitions are brief and easy to understand. Some 4,000 terms are covered—twice the number in the first edition.

Head, Sydney W. Broadcasting in America: A Survey of Television and Radio. Boston: Houghton-Mifflin, 1976 (3rd ed.). 629 pp. $16.

Single volume history, description and analysis (often critical) of the industry, complete with detailed and chart-supported discussions of the physical basis of radio-TV, with a review of the economics and regulation of broadcasting, and the industry's influence on the nation. Supplemented with more than 100 pages of annotated and subject-divided bibliography.

Sterling, Christopher H., and Timothy R. Haight, eds. The Mass Media: Aspen Institute Guide to Communication Industry Trends. New York: Praeger Special Studies, 1978. 510 pp. $22.00/11.95.

A statistical abstract of all media (books, newspapers, magazines, films, recordings, radio, television, and cable) covering size, ownership, economics, employment, content, audience, and U.S. media abroad. Consists mainly of some 300 tables with accompanying text description and sources.

History of Broadcasting

Barnouw, Erik. A History of Broadcasting in the United States. New York: Oxford University Press, 1966, 1968, 1970. 344 pp., 391 pp., and 396 pp. $11 each. Entitled A Tower in Babel (to 1933), The Golden Web (1933-1953), and The Image Empire (from 1953), this is a standard history of the industry and its content, written in a flowing fashion tying broadcasting to related societal events.

Barnouw, Eric. Tube of Plenty: The Evolution of American Television. New York: Oxford University Press, 1975. 518 pp. $14.95/15.95.

A condensation of the series above (and an updating for the early 1970's), but covering only television, this is an illustrated social history of the medium dealing more with the news and documentary content of television than with entertainment.

Dunning, John. Tune in Yesterday: The Ultimate Encyclopedia of Old-Time Radio, 1925-1976. Englewood Cliffs, N.J.: Prentice-Hall, 1976. 702 pp. $17.95.

Probably the best of an increasing number of such alphabetical guides to the salad days of network radio entertainment programming, this provides lengthy essays on most shows with cast lists, dates on and off, etc. Best used with Summers (below).

Greenfield, Jeff. Television: The First Fifty Years. New York: Abrams, 1977. $35.00.

Most recent and lavish of the pictorial treatments, this book provides not only an educated selection of pictures (mainly of shows and performers—but mostly in color), but also an analytical text several cuts above the norm for such coffee-table books.

Schools, Books

Licht, Lawrence W., and Malachi C. Topping, eds. American Broadcasting: A Sourcebook on the History of Radio and Television. New York: Hastings House, 1975. 723 pp. $26.50/15.

A collection of nearly 100 articles (many contemporary with the events described) on the technical development of radio, stations, networks, economics, employment, programming, audience and regulation. Each section concludes with several tables of historical statistics and illustrations, and the book offers bibliography and index.

Metz, Robert. CBS: Reflections in a Bloodshot Eye. Chicago: Playboy Press, 1975. 428 pp. $13.50.

A chronology of CBS's almost 50 years of development. Mr. Metz, reporter for the New York Times, presents a series of vignettes stressing the roles of various individuals in CBS's past and present. With chapters on the creation of the network, the development of TV.

Shulman, Arthur, and Roger Youman. How Sweet It Was: Television, a Pictorial Commentary. New York: Shorecrest, 1966. 448 pp. $5.95 (Bonanza reprint).

Detailed coverage of network television programs, arranged by genre, and consisting almost entirely of pictures and captions on personalities, music shows, comedy, specials, drama, action-adventure, westerns, quiz shows, daytime programming, and news. Unfortunately a decade out of date, this is still the best television pictorial review available. (A chronological version going up to 1972 appeared as The Television Years in a Popular Library paperback for $1.50 in 1973).

Sterling, Christopher H., and John M. Kittross. Stay Tuned: A Concise History of American Broadcasting. Belmont, Calif.: Wadsworth Publishing Co., 1978. 562 pp. $19.95.

An organized history which attempts to give balanced treatment to industry size and organization, economics, educational and later public broadcasting, content (both entertainment and news), audience research and characteristics, regulation, and a bit of context of international broadcasting—all of this done in a series of chapters on specific periods in broadcasting's development. Chronology, statistical tables, photos, a unique technical guide-glossary, bibliography.

Summers, Harrison B., ed. A Thirty-Year History of Programs Carried on National Radio Networks in the United States, 1926-1956. New York: Arno Press, 1971 (reprint of 1958 edition). 228 pp. $10.00.

The standard source listing of radio network programs by season including program title, sponsor, number of seasons on the air, network, program length, day and time on the air, and sample seasonal rating. Best used with descriptions in Dunning (above).

Terrace, Vincent. The Complete Encyclopedia of Television Programs, 1947-1976. New Brunswick, N.J.: A. S. Barnes, 1978 (2nd ed.). 1200pp. (two volumes). $29.95.

The best listing of network TV shows available to date, with alphabetical format by title and information on cast, program type, network, dates on and off, etc. Best updated by David (see under entertainment programming below).

Organization and Economics

Barnouw, Erik. The Sponsor: Notes on a Modern Potentate. New York: Oxford University Press, 1978. 220 pp. $10.00.

Divided into three parts (the rise of broadcast advertising, its present-day domain, and the prospects for change in the future), this is something of a descriptive polemic against the role and dominance of advertisers. It builds on the author's histories (see above), but is more opinionated.

Coleman, Howard W. Case Studies in Broadcast Management. New York: Hastings House, 1978 (2nd ed.). 154 pp. $10.75/4.95.

A third longer with 11 more case studies in this edition (total of 24), Coleman's work combines both real and invented case situations for reader's to figure out from a management decision-making point of view. Intended for use with Quaal-Brown (below).

Yearbook 1979

Broadcast Education

Broadcasting Education

The following guides, most of which are regularly updated, can provide detailed information on educational opportunities in most areas of communications-broadcasting:

Aspen Handbook on the Media: 1977-79 Edition. New York: Praeger Special Studies, 1977. (3rd edition). 440 pp. $22.00/6.95. This unique guide to media includes much information on schools (research ongoing, a detailed list of guides to all of communication education, schools with communications law education, etc.) and due to regular updating is the most current source here.

Bohnenkamp, Dennis R., and Sam L. Grogg Jr., eds. The American Film Institute Guide to College Courses in Film and Television. Princeton, N.J.: Peterson's Guides, 1978 (6th ed.). 430 pp. $9.75, paper. The guide to have if you are having only one... this provides the most current and detailed information on schools, their faculty and facilities, listings of actual courses offered, and other information not found in the other guides listed below. More than 1,000 institutions are covered, arranged by state, and then alphabetically within each state. The curricular information provided here is unavailable elsewhere—except in the individual college catalogs.

Broadcast Education: 1975. Washington, D.C.: National Association of Broadcasters, 1975 (14th edition). This usually biennial guide lists colleges (2 year, 4 year and graduate programs) by state, showing number of courses and credits offered, major facilities, scholarships or assistantships provided for graduate students, and a list of faculty members. The gist of this booklet, with some additional statistical information, appears in Journal of Broadcasting 19:453-495 (Fall 1975).

Colleges and Universities Offering Courses and Degree Programs Involving Educational Broadcasting. Washington, D.C.: National Association of Educational Broadcasters, 1974. This guide provides answers to a 10 question mail survey with schools listed alphabetically, regardless of state.

Sterling, Christopher H. "Doctoral Programs in Broadcasting-Mass Communication," in Educational Media Yearbook 1978, edited by James W. Brown, New York: R.R. Bowker, 1978. 531 pp. $25.00 This is the first of an annual series of reviews of PhD programs stressing broadcast studies and research. Over 30 programs are listed from 27 different universities, each with a descriptive paragraph and all compared in one large table (see pp. 417-432).

Schools Specializing in Radio-TV

Note—This list includes only those schools which specialize in professional or technical courses in broadcasting. Many colleges and universities also offer courses in radio and television. Current information on colleges and universities which offer degrees in radio-TV is covered in a separate listing.

With our new 3200
your audio can equal your video

Somewhere along the line, video technology got ahead of audio technology. Now, Audio Designs and Manufacturing has evened the score.

Our new modular audio consoles are the perfect match for today's video equipment. In fact, we believe our new 3200 and 1600 broadcast production consoles are the forerunners of the audio equipment of the 80's. You won't see anything else like them, at least not this side of late 1979.

Our totally new consoles employ the finest proven components and integrate them into a cohesive, versatile, reliable unit . . . one that will accommodate your most exacting requirements. Our total in-house design and manufacturing capability put so much quality into all of our consoles that ADM® offers an exclusive 5-year warranty, the most comprehensive in the industry.

ELECTRONICS RESEARCH INC

ERI Multiuser FM Facility Products

Series 900
FM Band Pass Combiners

Temperature compensation provides high-power stability without forced air cooling. Built-in temperature gauge provides system monitoring. Designed to be floor-mounted, our series 900 combiners are adjustable under power and are provided with r.f. directional couplers on all ports.

- Internal feed with pressurized balun and feed point
- Directional or omni-directional with excellent pattern stability

Series 1080
Iris Multiuser Antennas

- Broadband input makes 1080 an excellent multiuser antenna
- Built-in power splitter provides excellent axial ratio
- Built-in 3db hybrid provides excellent axial ratio and broadband impedance characteristic

The Vertex 2.6 DMK Ku Band Uplink Antenna The Heart of the S-23 RF System

And one of the reasons there are over 30 Midwest S-23's in service today. In the US., Italy and Japan.

Over the past year, the Vertex 2.6m DMK outsold all comparable antennas in its class. The reason?

No prime focus antenna can perform as efficiently as the Vertex 2.6m DMK, due to its offset Gregorian feed system. The sub-reflector offers more complete illumination of the main reflector, and the offset configuration insures that the antenna meets the FCC 2° spacing curves, while providing a nominal transmit gain of 50.1 dB. Including 4 port diplexer. Cross polar isolation performance exceeds 35 dB.

Unlike most other mobile antennas, the Vertex 2.6 DMK is built to withstand many years of rugged service. A 25" diameter azimuth ring bearing insures stable mounting of the antenna while large DC drive motors provide all the power necessary to point the antenna even during high wind conditions.

If you're considering a mobile satellite system, compare the actual performance measurements of the Vertex 2.6 DMK to any other antenna in its class. Ask the space segment providers which antenna outperforms all others.

Then you'll know the reasons there are so many Midwest S-23's on the road today. Contact us for complete specifications and information.
