AN OPEN LETTER TO: All Radio G.M.'s, G.S.M.'s, S.M.'s, S.'s, & Reps.

For the past year and a half, RKO General Radio has been compiling a course designed to train new sales personnel.

We're aware that the time you lose on the street by having to be involved in training and orientation of new people can amount to many productive hours and thousands of would-be dollars being irrevocably lost.

It's a problem the radio industry has had to face every time a new salesperson had to be hired. The only alternatives were hiring an "experienced" radio person, i.e., one who knew the difference between a Program Director and a log, — for a lot more money than they were usually worth — and letting them learn your call letters and dial position before taking a coverage map on the street to, hopefully, justify their high guarantee.

It didn't make economic or social sense. It created an in-breeding of high priced sales talent, and it effectively shut out anyone without any radio background. All because "training and orientation" was such a horrible drain on our time and personal productivity.

So, we created a very basic training and orientation course — which anyone could take any time — and which wouldn't cut into selling time — or management time. The course touches upon every fundamental of radio... the history of the medium, past, present and future; engineering; ... the understanding and application of ratings and research; the fundamentals of selling from prospecting, writing presentations and organizing, to closing; the in's-and-out's of retail selling; how to use merchandising; how to take advantage of co-op advertising; the uses of advertising and promotion... the whole gamut of what a new, or experienced salesperson should, (no, strike that, must) know to really succeed in selling radio time.

The course was recorded on cassettes because, as we said, we didn't want to tie up selling time on the street. It's also been printed in an accompanying handsome book. We've used it... refined it, polished it, and have succeeded with it.

We're proud of what we've done!!

Just thought we'd let you know!!

But more than that, we believe that the step-child which was radio warrants the best selling pro's in media. That means the whole industry. It means you... and your staff... and, particularly, whomever you want to bring in to sell your air, but don't have the time to train in radio's fundamentals.

That's why we're offering this course for sale to other radio broadcasters. To you. We may be idealists about our industry, but we're still in the business of selling.

The course is inexpensive if you measure it by results. It costs $250.00 for the entire line-up of cassettes and the printed book and worksheets which accompany them. You can order one course or as many as you'd like and for three or more, the price is $225.00 each. That's a 10% saving for three or more.

We're not saying you have to have this course in your station. But, with the business being the way it is, your competition is probably sending out an order for the course right now. With their check... because that's the way we're selling. Prepaid. And we guarantee delivery within 3 to 4-weeks.

We assume if you're a commercial entity you want to make more money. In addition, we know you have to continually train new people, regardless of whatever other responsibilities you may have. This course should help you in your training endeavors and enlighten and motivate your staff, and yourself to achieve the goal of higher station revenues.

We already do better, now we're growing bigger.

When you buy our ratings service, two things happen: You'll get more service, faster... and we'll get bigger.

We're already better.

You get basic data every six weeks.

You get consistent, reliable data in each audience survey from one survey to the next.

You never have to rely on outdated information. We deliver more data, more often than anyone else in the industry.

Twice a year, you'll get a separate demographic buyer with the most complete information available anywhere, including cume ratings and average quarter hour data on income, race, education, and more. We want to get bigger to serve you even better.

Thanks to support and acceptance from broadcasters, agencies and advertisers, we're expanding to twenty top markets.

Give us a call or write for information. We'll be glad to set up an appointment at your convenience to explain how we do things better.

Analysis of Listings in Spot Radio Rates and Data

SRDS policy requires that all information supplied by the station be clarified and organized in accordance with these numbered title segments. Where the numbered title segment is omitted from the listing, it is to be assumed the station has failed to provide the necessary information in accordance with SRDS prescribed criteria and practice.

Numbered titles for various subjects found within Spot Radio Rates and Data listings have been devised in order that this important data can be located easier. These titles, as listed below, form the basis of the uniform listing format.

1. PERSONNEL
2. REPRESENTATIVES
3. FACILITIES
4. AGENCY COMMISSION
5. GENERAL ADVERTISING TIME RATES
6. SPOT ANNOUNCEMENTS
7. PACKAGE PLANS
8. PROGRAM TIME RATES

EXPLANATION OF SRDS RADIO MARKET ESTIMATOR

Radio Market Estimators appear in the top 150 radio markets and are positioned at the beginning of the listings for the individual markets.

With the permission of the Katz Radio organization, SRDS has applied their formula to create these radio market estimators.

SRDS has extended the Katz procedures one logical step, in that the RADIO MARKET ESTIMATORS will be published every month, and updated to reflect the latest rate changes as they are reported in each issue.

SRDS RADIO MARKET ESTIMATORS appear directly below the city of license for the major city designation heading for each of the top 150 Radio Markets (based on FCC NATIONAL SPOT VOLUME Rankings).

CITY — MONTH, YEAR RADIO MARKET ESTIMATOR

Table reports one-minute rates (based on 12 per week for 13 weeks) for the four highest-cost stations (and the average thereof) in each daypart.

Station	Morning Traffic (6-10 am)	Daytime (10 am-3 pm)	Afternoon Traffic (3-7 pm)	Evening (7 pm-midnight)
A	180	100	180	115
B	175	98	135	110
C	165	75	125	58
D	130	70	110	45
AVERAGE	163	85	138	82

RATES

—All costs shown are based on rate cards published in the current issue of SRDS SPOT RADIO RATES and DATA.

—Costs were selected separately for each daypart, based on schedules of 12 one-minute announcements per week for 13 weeks, and reported for the four highest cost stations in each market. In addition, the average cost by each daypart was computed and reported at the bottom of each estimator table.

—In determination of the four highest cost stations by daypart in each market, all costs were calculated to the nearest cent. The final figures used for reporting in the estimator tables were rounded to the nearest dollar.

—In all cases, the lowest costs which appropriately qualified by the established criterion of a 13 week 12 one-minute announcements per week, were used. This included the use of all "special" or "pre-emptible" plans and discounts, but only when clearly applicable to the daypart involved.

—In most instances, total audience and weekend plans were not used. ROS plans were considered applicable to the least expensive of the major dayparts included in the ROS definition.

—In cases of AM-FM combinations, AM-only rates were used when available. Otherwise AM-FM combination rates were used.

DAYPARTS

—The four dayparts used in the RADIO MARKET ESTIMATORS are defined as: Morning Traffic (6-10 am); Daytime (10 am-3 pm); Afternoon Traffic (3-7 pm); and Evening (7 pm-Midnight).

—In those circumstances where more than one rate level was available for a given daypart, the rate applicable to the most time within the dayparts (as defined above) were used.

STATION ASSIGNMENT TO MARKET

—AM and FM radio stations were considered as part of a given market in exact accordance with SRDS SPOT RADIO RATES and DATA listings. Thus, stations listed in SPOT RADIO in more than one market, were used in preparation of the radio market estimator once, in the market designated as their primary market.

IN THIS EDITION

Population Demos by Age/Sex

The new user feature, Population Demographics, appears in the Market Data Summary pages of this edition.

In the words of Editorial Director F. LeRoy Hess the population demographics estimates, titled Metro Demographic Characteristics Composition of Population by Age/Sex Breaks, are comparable in reporting structure to ARB's Arbitron Television and Radio reports.

Here, all SMSAs, except New England Metros and SRDS' Additional Metros, including SRDS' New England or Whole County Metros, are given in State/Metro alphabetical sequence from Anniston, Ala., through Casper, Wyo., and include populations for men and women in the four primary age ranges (18 through 64 years of age) with totals reporting the general population of women and men from 18 through 100 years of age.

SRDS' estimates are updated from the 1970 Census of Population, it is pointed out.

Columbia Pictures Sparks Entries in IBT Competition

Columbia Pictures Television offices around the world are encouraging entries in the 15th annual International Broadcasting Awards which will honor the "world's best" television and radio commercials of 1974.

General chairman of this year's awards, CPT President John H. Mitchell, said his company was joining in the effort to help provide recognition for the outstanding creative work now being done in other countries.

The IBA competition, established in 1960 by the Hollywood Radio and Television Society, drew more than 3300 entries from 40 nations last year.

Entries for awards' competition close Dec. 6. Finalists and award winners will be chosen in 12 television and nine radio categories. Trophy winners will then be selected in each category by an international board of final judges meeting in Hollywood. Sweepstakes winners also will be named for both television and radio. Winners will be announced and trophies presented by Hollywood celebrities at a dinner in the Century Plaza Hotel, Los Angeles, on March 11, 1975 with more than 1000 advertising and broadcasting executives and their guests in attendance.

INDUSTRY QUOTES

"If ever a word was subject to misinterpretation and confusion, it's the word creative . . .

"The truth is there are as many opinions of what is creative as there are creative people in the business. But no matter what your interpretation of the word, one thing is irrefutable: It's not creative unless it sells."—Alvin Hampel, executive vice president, Benton & Bowles, New York City.

American Association Advertising Agencies' Roster is Ready

The latest Roster and Organization of the American Association of Advertising Agencies is available.

John Crichton, president, in announcing the availability of the Roster, pointed out that during the average working day, AAAA agencies will bill around $28.5 million; that comes to $142.5 million a week, or $7.1 billion a year.

Pages 81 through 93 list the various committees involved in AAAA's media policies and procedures.

The Roster lists 391 AAAA member agencies operating 1054 offices; 679 of these offices are located in 161 cities in 44 states. Offices in other countries total 375 in 105 cities in 55 countries.

DID YOU KNOW . . .

. . . almost two-thirds of all complaints processed for all products by local Better Business Bureau offices in 1973 were based on service related problems?

BBB's study report in CBBB Overview said that complaints about billings (incorrect billings, non-receipt of statements, inaccurate crediting) increased tenfold from 0.5% in 1972 to 5.6% in 1973.

Selling methods ranked last among major causes of complaints, with product deficiencies second behind service (at 13.9% of total), followed by advertising (8.4%), credit problems (6.9%), and selling methods (5.7%).

BBB's data are based on reports from 17 Bureaus utilizing CBBB's inquiry/complaint information system, it has been stated.

HERE and THERE

The national convention of the Mortgage Bankers Association of America is slated for Fontainebleau Hotel, Miami Beach, Fla., Oct. 28-30.

The program will include addresses by James Lynn, secretary of the U. S. Department of Housing and Development; Walter B. Williams, MBA president; Garth Marston, member of the board of governors of the Federal Home Loan Bank board, and Saul Klamman, vice president and chief economist of the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks. There will be workshop sessions on accounting practices, Section 23, and appraising.

REIT (National Association of Real Estate Investment Trusts), has scheduled its 14th annual conference for Oct. 9-11, in the Cerromar Beach Hotel, Dorado Beach, Puerto Rico. Theme of the conference is "Problems and Potentials."

Summit Advertising, Inc., wholly-owned agency for the F & M Schaefer Brewing Co., will handle all of the company's media buying effective with 1975 schedules, according to Bob A. Newmark, director of advertising and promotion. Summit had been handling a portion of Schaefer's media buying (with BBD&O) since January of 1974. BBD&O, who has served Schaefer for 42 years, will continue as Schaefer's agency for development and execution of all creative work. Reason for the media-buying takeover, according to Mr. Newmark, is that "because of negotiated sponsorships and local buys that Schaefer makes, we feel it will be more efficient for us to purchase media through our own agency."

Bradley H. Roberts, vice chairman of Needham, Harper & Steers Advertising, Inc., has been named membership chairman of the Hollywood Radio and Television Society.

John Blair & Company, a diversified corporation with interests in broadcasting and graphic arts, reported net earnings of $620,000 or 26c per share, for the three months ended June 30, 1974, a decline of 17% from $743,000, or 31c per share, earned in the second quarter of 1973. Revenues for the second quarter of 1974 were $21,647,000, up 25% from $17,378,000 in the second quarter of 1973.

For the six months ended June 30, 1974, net earnings were $952,000, or 40c per share, a decline of 31% from $1,374,000, or 56c per share earned in the first half of 1973. Revenues for the first half of 1974 were $41,982,000, up 23% from $34,087,000 in the first half of 1973. Based on revised projections, the company anticipates that earnings for the full year 1974 will be below 1973 earnings.

Jack W. Fritz, president of Blair, stated that the reduction in the second quarter earnings was attributable to WHDH Corporation, which had been purchased in January 1974.

Bureau of Economic Analysis Revises Figures on National Income, Products

Gross national product — the market value of the Nation's output of goods and services — increased $24.7 billion or 7.5% at an annual rate in the second quarter to reach a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $1,383.5 billion, according to preliminary figures released by the Bureau of Economic Analysis, an agency of the Commerce Department's Social and Economic Statistics Administration. The first quarter increase was $14.8 billion or 4.5% at an annual rate.

Real output (GNP adjusted for price changes) declined at an annual rate of 1.2% in the second quarter, compared with a decrease of 7.0% in the first. Prices, as measured by the GNP implicit price deflator, rose at an annual rate of 8.8%, compared with 12.3% in the first quarter.

The figures released in mid-July reflect the revision of the national income and product accounts that is made each July to incorporate revised and newly available source data for recent years.

The Bureau emphasized that the second quarter figures are based on preliminary and incomplete source data. Data are not available for June on foreign trade and consumer prices, and are incomplete for inventories and domestic trade.

Final sales increased $26.5 billion in the second quarter, about the same as in the first. All major components increased except net exports.

The decline in inventory investment slowed to $1.8 billion, after declining $12.0 billion in the first. Inventory investment amounted to $15.1 billion, compared with $16.9 billion in the 1st and $28.9 billion in the 4th.

Personal consumption expenditures increased $26.2 billion, compared with $16.7 billion in the first quarter. Purchases of durable goods increased $6.3 billion, following a $0.4 billion decline. Purchases of nondurable goods increased $10.8 billion, compared with $12.3 billion. Purchases of services increased $9.0 billion, compared with $5.0 billion.

Disposable (after-tax) personal income increased $15.3 billion in the second quarter, compared with an increase of $26.4 billion in personal outlays. As a result, personal saving decreased $11.1 billion and the saving rate (saving as percentage of disposable income) fell from 8.9% in the first quarter to 7.6% in the second.

Business fixed investment rose $4.0 billion, compared with $3.3 billion in the first quarter.

Nonresidential construction outlays increased $1.2 billion, compared with $2.0 billion. Purchases of producers' durable equipment increased $2.8 billion, compared with $1.3 billion.

Residential construction outlays increased $0.3 billion, following a $5.2 billion decline.

Net exports. Based on preliminary and incomplete data, it appears that net exports fell sharply in the second quarter as imports increased more than exports.

Federal Government purchases of goods and services increased $2.4 billion, compared with $3.1 billion in the first quarter. Defense spending accounted for $0.3 billion of the increase in the second quarter. State and local government purchases rose $4.8 billion, compared with $6.9 billion.

Alternative measure of price change. The implicit deflator is a measure of price change based on shifting weights that reflect changes in the composition of GNP. An alternative measure of price change, the chain price index, uses the weights of the prior quarter in the calculation of price change each quarter. This index rose at an annual rate of 9.4% in the second quarter, compared with 11.6% in the first.

July revision of national income and product accounts. The national income and product accounts are customarily revised each July for the three preceding years to incorporate source data that become available with varying lags. The most important of the new data are: Internal Revenue Service statistics, which provided the basis for estimating business profits, property income, and capital consumption allowances for 1971 and 1972; revised U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates of farm income for 1971-73; State unemployment insurance payroll statistics, which provided new information for the wage and salary estimates; 1972 Annual Survey of Manufactures data, which contributed to the estimates of producers' durable equipment and manufacturers' inventories; revised Census statistics on private and government construction expenditures and on construction price and cost indexes for 1971-73; the fiscal year 1975 Budget and other Federal Government financial reports, which were used to update the Federal Government components of the national accounts; and Census statistics on the finances of State and local governments for fiscal year 1972 and selected State and local government data for fiscal year 1973. In addition, the quarterly estimates reflect updating of seasonal adjustments.

As a result of these revisions, GNP was lowered $0.5 billion for 1971 and raised $2.8 billion for 1972 and $5.8 billion for 1973. National income was lowered $1.8 billion for 1970 and raised $4.7 billion for 1972 and $11.7 billion for 1973. Personal income was raised $0.5 billion for 1971, $5.7 billion for 1972, and $19.6 billion for 1973. The revisions in national income and personal income for 1973 are unusually large and are attributable mainly to an upward revision in farm proprietors' income based upon estimates of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Detailed national income and product tables appeared in the July Survey of Current Business, which is available from District Offices of the Department of Commerce or from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402, at an annual subscription of $34.45, including weekly supplements.

Economist Urges "Seize Hold of the Future"

"Seize hold of the future and refuse to be overwhelmed by a now tired trend," said consulting economist Miles L. Colean in a recent issue of The Mortgage Banker, official publication of the Mortgage Bankers Association of America.

It was Mr. Colean's swan song, as it were, following 40 years of observing the trend of government in its relations with business and the public.

"The principal business of government," he noted, "has shifted from governing to participating—that is, intervening and most often, interfering—in nearly every aspect of economic and social life.

"Participation is usually on an 'emergency' basis—a knee-jerk reaction to a real or trumped-up crisis. Every actual or imagined emergency must be met with a 'bold new program.' Such programs invariably promise more than they can achieve and produce unforeseen side effects that tend to outweigh and pervert the intent of the action.

"The methods of government participation consist in (1) the creation of institutions, usually for a special purpose, (2) the regulation of institutions and of those who make use of them, usually to the complication of the operation; (3) the subsidization and direction of institutions when the initial administrative structure falters. The usual course of action is to proceed from (1) through (3), since a short-fall in achievement or a perversion of purpose at any one stage leads, not to the elimination of a flawed program, but to additional and more direct forms of participation."

Colean cited the housing program as illustrative of these propositions, but noted, "abundant illustrations may be found elsewhere—the agricultural program, the maritime program, the environmental protection program, the evolving energy conservation program, the automotive safety program, and others. The results are inherent in the type of government we have developed—first the welfare state, then the nursemaid state that doesn't permit private enterprise to blow its nose without government running with a handkerchief. The sad thing is that private enterprise often welcomes the handkerchief."

Colean's conclusion was on a note of hope: "The present confusion of the executive and legislative branches of the federal government may offer one more opportunity to bring about the type of change in the FHA structure and position that MBA has long advocated, or if not, to strike in new directions to create, through the use of pooled conventional mortgages and private insurance, a new type of nationwide mortgage operation. In the one case, the objective would be to decrease governmental meddling; in the other to keep the meddling to a minimum."

BOOKS • REPORTS

Dukane Corporation, St. Charles, Ill., through its Audio-Visual Division, is offering free of charge to educators the 8th edition of a directory of over 18,000 sound film strips for the Dukane system of equipment. These educational materials, it is pointed out, are available from over 150 sources and the directory provides a single, easy-to-use reference.

Reflecting an ever increasing public interest in water and the strong demand for reference books on the subject, the Water Atlas of the U. S. has gone into a second printing of 4500 copies.

The work contains over 120 color maps with explanatory texts covering almost every imaginable water subject. It is a 9" x 14" hard-cover edition and is available at $35 from Water Information Center, Inc., Dept. C, 44 Sintsink Drive East, Port Washington, N. Y. 11050.

A 12-year (1962-1973) Cumulative Index to adverse drug reactions reported in Clin-Alert is now available at $17.50 from Science Editors, Inc., publisher, P. O. Box 7185, Louisville, Ky. 40207.

The Index is designed to assist those who wish to retrieve specific information on drug reactions and related therapeutic hazards.

To supplement the Index, copies of any, or all, previous Clin-Alert abstracts since 1962 are available by return mail.

A supplementary section entitled Biomedical Data and Laboratory Values is included in the Index. This section of "normal" values includes forensic data and test results which indicate the presence or absence of specific diseases.

Free 1974 Bulk Mail Postage Table showing the new rates is available from Market Compilation and Research Bureau. Costs to send from 10 to 1,000,000 plus pieces of 3rd class bulk mail during 1974 are pre-calculated in four tables, which automatically do the mathematics for direct mailers.

HERE and THERE

WMEX, Boston, teamed up with Canobie Lake Park, Salem, N. H., to provide an evening of entertainment and fun recently for the benefit of Muscular Dystrophy.

Lennie St. Jean of the "Boston Patriots" put in an appearance and Ronald McDonald amused and bewildered the small fry. To climax the evening, "The Second Society," fast-rising recording group gave a concert in the lake-side ballroom which has seen most of the big bands, as well as current contemporary groups perform. The group flew in for the performance from their road tour with "Three Dog Night" and continued the tour the next day. Tom Allen, station disc jockey, emceed the concert.

More than $6,000 was raised for Muscular Dystrophy, a substantial increase over last year's event, it is said. In addition to the concert and other entertainment, patrons got unlimited rides in the amusement area. WMEX-15 handled the promotion the same as a commercial campaign, utilizing different length spot announcements.

KUT (FM), San Antonio/Austin, Tex., has received a three-star award of merit, the highest given to radio stations, in the 1974 Parade of American Music, sponsored by the National Federation of Music Clubs.

The three-star award is presented to outstanding clubs in the Federation, to radio and television stations, concert managements and concert artists who make a "significant contribution to the advancement of music by American composers and performers."

Eleanor Page, music supervisor of the Communication Center, explained that KUT's entry was twofold. The station recorded and broadcast a special half-hour program of performances by the Wednesday Morning Music Club of Austin, and set aside the week of Feb. 17-23 as American Music Week. All local programs aired during that week featured music by American composers and performers.

U. S. Senator Hartke's Legislative Report on Payroll Tax Facts

U. S. Senator Vance Hartke in a recent legislative report outlined some facts "you might like to know about the payroll tax.

"More than half of all working Americans pay more in payroll taxes than they pay in Federal income taxes;

"The payroll tax is now the second largest source of Federal income;

"Since 1949, the size of payroll tax revenues has grown 37 times;

"During the past 13 years, the income tax bite on middle income workers has actually decreased while the payroll tax bite has increased by more than 250%;

"Both the employer and the employee portions of the payroll tax are actually borne by the worker;

"The payroll tax is a regressive tax. Everyone pays at the same rate, regardless of income, marital status or family size;

"With all of the talk of the need for a tax cut in 1974, the payroll tax is where that cut will help the most."

This information was presented in line with Senator Hartke's proposal that social security taxes for working Americans be reduced by 15%.

In order to assure the soundness of the Social Security Trust Fund, Senator Hartke proposes that the $6 billion in payroll tax reductions be replaced with $6 billion from the Federal Treasury. The difference, it is pointed out, is that the social security payroll tax is a flat-rate tax — everyone pays at the same rate regardless of his or her income — while most of the funds in the Federal Treasury come from personal and corporate income taxes which are graduated taxes — those with higher incomes pay more.

The net effect of the Hartke proposal, it is stated, would lift much of the payroll tax burden from lower and middle income workers and put $6 billion into the economy at a time when recession and unemployment are facts of life.

Methods and Sources:
Employing a rotation system SRDS station questionnaires are being mailed with greater frequency to insure data reported is current and accurate.

A station whose entire schedule is devoted to a foreign language is identified by the word, All, under hours per week.

Definition as to what constitutes Foreign Language Programming is left to the discretion of the stations.

Each station is advised that failure to return a completed form will mean deletion of the station from this tabulation as information from previous reports is not carried forward.

EXPLANATION OF SRDS SPANISH POPULATION DATA

The Spanish Population data presented below, are sourced to the April 1, 1970 Census of Population. The Bureau of the Census identified those of Spanish Heritage in different ways, dependent upon geographic location:

1. In 45 states and the District of Columbia, population is identified as "Persons of Spanish language." This includes all persons who claimed Spanish as their mother tongue and all other persons in families in which the head or wife reported Spanish as his or her mother tongue.

2. In the five Southwestern States, as "Persons of Spanish language or Spanish surname." This adds to those of Spanish language, all persons identified by means of a list of over 8,000 Spanish surnames originally compiled by the Immigration and Naturalization Service (and updated by the Bureau of the Census).

SRDS has employed, after careful review of the data available, the following criteria in reporting population of Spanish Heritage for areas of significant concentration:

1. For all official SMSA's, SRDS Additional Metros, and counties reported by the Bureau of the Census for the five Southwestern States.
2. For the remaining states, all metro areas of 10,000 or more Spanish population.

NOTE: Table 130 of Census reports, General Social and Economic Characteristics, employed minimum for reporting county Spanish language or surname population at 400 or more persons. Population counts below this level are available on Table 119 of same reports.

EXPLANATION OF RADIO STATION PROGRAMMING STATEMENT PROGRAM

CRITERIA GOVERNING ACCEPTANCE

The Station Programming statement must reflect current activity and may be detailed and/or specific, as desired.

Stations are requested to use the standard description terms developed for the Programming Description to assure communication between station and buyer of spot time. See accompanying music glossary and analysis of program classifications.

Limit 100 words, excluding percentage. Percentages are not counted in total word count. Standard abbreviations are permitted. Check word count values on back of questionnaire.

Promotional language is prohibited. Program titles and talent identifications are regarded as promotion. Samples of typical promotional language phrasing listed on back of questionnaire.

Descriptions may discuss programming for typical week, day, week parts and/or day parts.

All percentages reported for target audience, program classifications and/or sub-categories should be against a base of time on the air per typical broadcast week.

Programming description may not contain references to coverage, audience, ratings, power, transmitting equipment, costs, etc.—in fact, any statement which does not actually describe that which is placed on the air for broadcast purposes.

Each primary program classification may be listed, detailed and described as to content. Please do not overlap program description between categories.

For example, music and talk description as sub-categories for Air Personalities should not appear again under the primary classification of Music or Talk. Each primary program classification is expected to report a self-contained description.

GENERAL PROCEDURES

1. Submission of Programming Description by stations is voluntary.
2. SRDS will reserve the right to refuse to print any Programming Description which, in its opinion, does not meet the above criteria.
3. A permanent ADVISORY COMMITTEE, comprised of persons knowledgeable within the broadcast industry, will arbitrate differences between SRDS and stations, when such issues arise. Its primary functions are to make judgments on acceptability of entire Programming Descriptions and/or definitions for new terms and phrases submitted by stations.
4. Stations accept the responsibility for revision of their statements as changes occur, to assure they are accurate and current at all times.
5. A Programming statement which no longer reflects accurate description of current station programming will be deleted if not revised by the station. Summary action by SRDS will be taken only if compelled by station's failure to cooperate in the ensuing inquiry. Stations may submit a new statement at any time thereafter.

OUTLINE AND GUIDE FOR DEVELOPING PROGRAMMING STATEMENTS

NOTE: It is anticipated each station will appropriate as much detail as is necessary to permit adequate and proper description of the station's programming emphasis and uniqueness within the 100 word limitation.

Target Audience

The target audience is that primary audience to whom the broadcaster directs his programming and hopes to attract as listeners. This audience may be general in nature or specific in terms of special demographic and/or ethnic groups. For example, statements might read:

- General—programmed for general interest; or mass appeal
- Demographic—programmed for young, married women; or teens; or adults
- Ethnic—programmed for Negroes; or foreign populations; or Spanish speaking individuals
- Subject interest—programmed for farmers

If there are target audiences (2 or more), station is requested to identify each and to report, in percentages, the amount of broadcast time per typical week devoted to each: Possible example:

- Negro, 40%; teens, 40%; general interest, 20%

Primary Program Classifications

In its simplest form, primary programming classifications may be identified, first, by generic name and accompanied by a percentage based on the total number of hours per broadcast week. Possible example:

- News, 20%; Air Personalities, 40%; Talk, 40%
- Music, 50%; Sports, 40%; News, 10%

Sub-categories

Stations may qualify their primary program classification employing sub-categories to distinguish between various forms of broadcast and to demonstrate programming emphasis — percentage for sub-categories should total to primary percentage total and is also based on total number of hours broadcast for typical broadcast week. Possible examples:

- News, 20% — local and regional, 10%; national and international, 10%
- Music, 50% — serious, 15%, rhythm and blues, 15%; religious, 20%

Primary program classifications have been identified. Note: If the music glossary fails to provide for a new category of music broadcasting which the stations may wish to report, the station is requested to submit a definition for the term so that it may be evaluated by the Advisory Committee for acceptability.

Description of Type and Kind with Primary Classification and Sub-categories

Stations may further delineate as to type and kind to distinguish further their unique and different programming emphasis. Possible example:

- News, 20% — community news, 3%; area news, 4%; local weather time, 2%; school, 1%; analysis of national news, 8%; international headlines, 2%
- Music, 50% — modern chamber ensemble concerto, 15%; rhythm-blues vocals and instrument ensemble, 15%; religious spirituals, 8%; religious gospel chorus, 12%

Explanation of SRDS Consumer Market Data

SRDS Consumer Market Data reflect the socio-economic status for all states, metropolitan areas, counties, and cities of at least 20,000 inhabitants. Population and households are estimated as of January 1, 1974. Consumer Spendable Income and Retail Sales, in total and by store types, are for the year ending December 31, 1973. Farm population data are as of January 1, 1974 and Gross Farm Income estimates are for the calendar year 1973.

Market data may be reproduced without charge or written permission, but must carry the customary credit line: "Source: SRDS Consumer Market Data, January 1, 1974."

DEFINITIONS, ESTIMATING PROCEDURES AND SOURCES

Population

All population estimates are as of January 1, 1974 and include all population (civilian, institutional, and military) in the United States. This is the definition used in the 1970 Census of Population. Population figures are shown in thousands, with one decimal. In other words, where SRDS population estimate is 60.1, the figure is actually 60,100.

The sources of data used to prepare the SRDS population estimates include the 1970 Census of Population.

Households

The SRDS definition of a household is identical with that used by the Bureau of the Census; namely, that a household is synonymous with an occupied dwelling unit. It consists of one or a number of persons living together under the same roof.

The January 1, 1974 household estimates were obtained using procedures similar to the population procedures keyed to the official 1970 government housing reports. Population data were also a basic part of the estimating procedures. These figures are expressed in thousands with two decimals. Where the household estimate is 10.33, for example, the figure is actually 10,330.

Consumer Spendable Income

The total or aggregate Consumer Spendable Income for each region, state, metropolitan statistical area, county, and city is similar to the Department of Commerce term "disposable personal income," which is income remaining to persons after deduction of personal tax and non-tax payments to the federal and state governments. (For the complete and very detailed statement regarding this definition, see the Statistical Supplement, Survey of Current Business.)

Each major component of state income was separately estimated and added to obtain projections of total income. Wages and salaries, for example, were estimated by using rates of change in "covered" wages as indicators. The other components were estimated using similar procedures.

The sources of data used to prepare the SRDS Consumer Spendable Income estimates include the 1970 Census of Population.

Consumer Spendable Income Per Household

This is an arithmetic average obtained by dividing Consumer Spendable Income in the specified unit by the number of Households.

Family Income Distribution

The Family Income Distribution series is an expression of the distribution of families by percentages within each of five income classes. Each family's income is defined as the combined Consumer Spendable Income of all members of the family.

A family is defined as a group whose members are related by blood, marriage, or adoption, residing in the same household. Consequently, a household may contain one or more families.

Statistics of Family Income Distribution from the 1970 Census of Population were used as the base for these estimates. Adjustments for conceptual differences were made with information provided by the Department of Commerce and with tax payment statistics. Updating was accomplished in much the same manner as the updating of our Consumer Spendable Income.

NOTE: The income class intervals for 1973 shown in this issue are 3000 to 4999, 5000 to 7999, 8000 to 9999, 10000 to 14999 and 15000 and over. The sum of the five income classes subtracted from 100% will give the 0 to 2999 class interval.

Retail Sales

SRDS' definition of the term "retail sales" is the same as that used by the U. S. Department of Commerce. It represents all sales and receipts of all retail establishments. Retail establishments are primarily engaged in selling merchandise for personal, household, or farm consumption. Sales include total receipts from customers after deductions or refunds or allowances for merchandise returned by the customer.

The Department of Commerce monthly estimates of total retail sales, individual state sales-tax data, bank debits, and population; and the 1967 Census of Retail Trade served as the basic data for computing the retail sales estimates.

Many states now report sales-tax data. Much care is exercised in using these taxes because of differences and changes in rates, variety of types of store and merchandise items taxed, and the difference between states in providing data at county and place levels. Monthly and quarterly sales-tax data are used as indices of change. Twelve-month totals are computed and the ratio of each total to the previous year's total is used as the basis for updating the figures. In other states, bank debits and other data are used as the indices of change.

A dagger (†) placed after a county name signifies that the county contains a military installation. Data referring to total retail sales and sales by store type in these areas do not include sales made by commissaries, exchanges and eating places operated for military personnel by the U. S. Department of Defense. (SOURCE: 1967 Census of Business-Retail Trade.)

Retail Sales Per Household

This is a derived figure; Total Retail Sales were divided by the estimated households for the specified unit. It should be noted that a relatively high level of retail sales per household does not necessarily imply high consumption per household. If the city, metro area and/or county attracts trade from a wide area, the retail sales per household would be relatively high due to shopping habits of people living outside the city, metro area and/or county.

Store Types

The sales of seven major store types are reported for all regions, states, counties, cities, Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas, and Additional Metropolitan Areas as designated by SRDS. It is important to note that both SRDS and the Bureau of the Census report sales by store type, not by commodity type. For example, foodstore sales consist of all sales made in food stores. They include food sales and also the sales of non-food items. Other stores may sell food items, too, but these sales are reported in their store type — General Merchandise, Drug, etc. SRDS provides estimates for all places for the following store types:

Food Stores: This group includes those retail establishments which are primarily engaged in selling food for home preparation and consumption.

Drug Stores: These stores are classified on the basis of their usual trade designation rather than the merchandise lines carried.

General Merchandise Stores: This group includes department stores, variety stores, and general stores.

Apparel Stores: Included in this group are stores primarily engaged in selling clothing, shoes, hats, underwear, and related articles for personal wear and adornment.

Home Furnishing Stores: This is comparable to the "furniture, furnishing and appliance group" classification of the Census and includes stores selling goods used for furnishing the home.

Automotive Stores: Store types covered are motor vehicle dealers, tire, battery and accessory dealers, motorcycle dealers, aircraft dealers (for private use only), boat dealers, passenger automobile trailer dealers, and related automobile product dealers.

Service Stations: Establishments primarily selling gasoline and other automotive petroleum products.

The sum of the sales of the seven major store groups will not add to the total retail sales for any particular area, because other store classifications are not shown.

Passenger Cars

Passenger Car data were collected from the various State Departments of Motor Vehicles. The reports specify passenger car registrations as of a specific date.

All passenger car estimates are as of January 1, 1974. The majority of states reported County breakdowns. However, where only total State data were available, the county figures were pro-rated with statistical formulae.

An additional source was the U. S. Department of Transportation 1973 Bureau of Public Roads estimates.

Farm Data

The Newspaper, Spot Radio and Spot Television editions provide county, state, regional and U. S. estimates of Farm Population (January 1, 1974) and Gross Farm Income for 1973. SRDS Consumer Magazine and Farm Publication Rates and Data and Spot Radio Rates and Data carry additional farm market data—Farm Population, Farm Households, Gross Farm Income, Gross Income per Farm, Farm Livestock Income, Farm Poultry Income, Farm Crops Income, Total Farms, Farm Income by Select Commodity Groups, Total Commercial Farms Producing Sales over $2,500 (1969), Land Crop Harvested (1969), Total Farm Tractors (1969).

These data are the latest available from the Department of Agriculture. Farm mergers, consolidations and changes in ownership make it impractical to update the figures on a yearly basis. These data therefore are included in SRDS tabulations as a matter of convenience or reference for buyers of media. More detailed data are available from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Farm Population: Estimates are as of January 1, 1974 and include all persons residing on farms.

The 1-1-74 farm population data has the 1970 Census of Population as its base of projection. In both the 1960 and 1970 Censuses, the farm population consists of persons living in rural territory on places of 10 or more acres from which sales of farm products amounted to $50 or more or on places of less than 10 acres from which sales of farm products amounted to $250 or more.

Gross Farm Income: This includes all cash receipts from farm marketings, income in kind (value of items grown and consumed on the farm) and government payments. Expenses and taxes have not been deducted from the gross figures.

MARKET AREAS INCLUDED

Cities

All places reported (cities, villages, boroughs) are estimated as of January 1, 1974. Cities which cross county lines are listed in the county that has the larger share of the city's population, and other counties where population is substantial.

Cities which are shown as multiple or combined city markets are listed with the first city in the combination. When these cities are in more than one county the combination is listed in each of the applicable counties.

Counties

Included are all of the 3,081 counties, parishes, and/or their equivalents (independent cities, Census Divisions) as reported by the 1970 Census.

In order that users may compile state summaries by adding all counties within the state, data for independent cities (those which are not included in any county) have been added to their adjoining counties. Baltimore and St. Louis are independent cities and their data are added to their respective counties. The state of Virginia has 38 cities in this category.

Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas

SRDS reports all Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas as determined by the Office of Management and Budget. SRDS Consumer Market staff has also designated Additional Metropolitan Areas based upon "Metropolitan in Character" criteria.

Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas are listed in the State-County-City section. Each follows the corporate city data.

The definitions and titles of standard metropolitan statistical areas are established by the Office of Management and Budget with the advice of the Federal Committee on Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas. This Committee is composed of representatives of the major statistical agencies of the Federal Government.

CRITERIA FOLLOWED IN ESTABLISHING STANDARD METROPOLITAN STATISTICAL AREAS

(Revised November 4, 1971)

A standard metropolitan statistical area always includes a city (cities) of specified population which constitutes the central city and the county (counties) in which it is located. A standard metropolitan statistical area also includes contiguous counties when the economic and social relationships between the central and contiguous counties meet specified criteria of metropolitan character and integration. A standard metropolitan statistical area may cross State lines. In New England, standard metropolitan statistical areas are composed of cities and towns instead of counties.

Basic Criteria

1. Each standard metropolitan statistical area must include at least:

(a) One city with 50,000 or more inhabitants, or

(b) A city having a population of at least 25,000 which, with the addition of the population of contiguous places, incorporated or unincorporated, which have a population density of at least 1,000 persons per square mile, and which together constitute for general economic and social purposes, a single community with a combined population of at least 50,000, provided that the county or counties in which the city and contiguous places are located has a total population of at least 75,000.

2. A contiguous county will be included in a standard metropolitan statistical area if

(a) At least 75% of the resident labor force in the county is in the nonagricultural labor force, and

(b) At least 30% of the employed workers living in the county work in the central county or counties of the area.

3. A contiguous county which does not meet the requirements of Criterion 2 will be included in a standard metropolitan statistical area if at least 75% of the resident labor force is in the nonagricultural labor force and it meets two of the following additional criteria of metropolitan character and one of the following criteria of integration.

(a) Criteria of metropolitan character.

(1) At least 25% of the population is urban.

(2) The county had an increase of at least 15% in total population during the period covered by the two most recent Censuses of Population.

(3) The county has a population density of at least 50 persons per square mile.

(b) Criteria of integration

(1) At least 15% of the employed workers living in the county work in the central county or counties of the area, or

(2) The number of people working in the county who live in the central county or counties of the area is equal to at least 15% of the employed workers living in the county, or

(3) The sum of the number of workers commuting to and from the central county or counties is equal to 20% of the employed workers living in the county.

NOTE: The following presents in abbreviated form the remaining qualifying criteria. To obtain the fully outlined criteria, contact: Office of Statistical Policy, Office of Management and Budget, Executive Office Building, Washington, D. C. 20503.

Area Titles

The title of an SMSA always includes the state or states included in the area, the name of the largest city, and may include additional cities, so that there may be up to three city names in a title.

The addition of a city or cities depends on minimum and relative population sizes to the central city or cities.

Special Provisions: New England

In New England, the city and town are administratively more important than the county, and data are compiled locally for such minor civil divisions. Here, towns and cities are the units used in defining standard metropolitan statistical areas. In New England, because smaller units are used, and more restricted areas result, a population density criterion of at least 100 persons per square mile is used as the measure of metropolitan character.

Qualifying Cities in Adjacent Counties

If two or more adjacent counties each have a city qualifying under Criteria 1 (a) or 1 (b) and the cities are within 20 miles of each other (city limits to city limits), they will be included in the same area unless there is definite evidence that the two cities are not economically and socially integrated.

If two or more adjacent counties each have a city qualifying under Criterion 1 (a) or 1 (b) and the cities are more than 20 miles from each other (city limits to city limits), they will not be included in the same area unless there is definite evidence that the two cities are economically and socially integrated.

New England Metros: Official and Whole County

In the regular ranking tables, the New England Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas are ranked on town and not county definitions. However, since users have indicated a preference for New England Metropolitan Areas built along county lines, these data are shown following the official township Metro Area ranking. The New England Metropolitan Areas are reported in the state sections, both on the official Office of Management and Budget definition and on the county concept.

Much of the logic for the SRDS whole county metropolitan area designations can be sourced to the U. S. Department of Commerce which annually publishes County Business Patterns. Included therein are Metropolitan State Economic Areas (MSEA's), which are the government's defined whole county equivalents of New England SMSA's.

SRDS Additional Metropolitan Areas

Because of the rigid structure of the government's requirements for SMSA designation, many markets, which are, in fact, "Metropolitan in Character" do not qualify under the government's criteria. There are many factors other than central city population size (the main Government requirement) which reflect the urbanization of a market:

1. Total Retail Sales of the central city
2. Total Retail Sales of the home county
3. Degree of economic integration between central city and home county — the "drawing power" of a central city on the remaining portion of the county expressed in percentage of the county's Total Retail Sales which the central city captures.

Therefore, SRDS designates "Additional Metros" which, in our opinion, are "Metropolitan in Character." Primarily, these are markets which possess social and economic attributes representative of attractive marketing centers.

To qualify for SRDS "Additional Metro" status, one of the following three criteria must be met:

1. The central city must have 45,000 or more inhabitants, or
2. The central city, with a minimum of 25,000 inhabitants must have at least 50% of its home county's Total Retail Sales volume, with either:
  - (a) A central city TRS of $135 million or more,
or
  - (b) A home county TRS of $185 million or more,

3. The central city, with a minimum of 25,000 inhabitants must have a minimum of $145 million TRS, irrespective of its ratio to the county TRS.

The actual volume of Total Retail Sales and the degree of central city/home county integration expressed as a percentage, is a "moving requirement." Utilization of the effective wage and salaries, U. S. Retail Sales Growth, and benchmark figures representative of smaller-sized but official SMSA's may necessitate appropriate revision from year to year.

Ranking Tables

Both Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas and Additional Metropolitan Areas are integrated in the ranking tables and state tables.

The ranking tables enable buyers to measure, compare and/or combine the marketing data of Metropolitan Areas.

To show the relationship of each of these areas, ranking tables have been provided on the following:

1. Population
2. Households
3. Consumer Spendable Income
4. Consumer Spendable Income per Household
5. Total Retail Sales
6. Retail Sales per Household
7. Food Store Sales
8. Drug Store Sales
9. General Merchandise Store Sales
10. Apparel Store Sales
11. Home Furnishing Store Sales
12. Automotive Store Sales
13. Service Station Sales
14. Number of Passenger Cars

Territories

Estimates for population, households, retail sales (including the seven major store types) and passenger cars were supplied by the Economic Development Administration, Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

STATE MEDIA MAPS

At the beginning of each state section, a state media map shows state, county, and metro area boundaries and daily media cities. The cities have symbols indicating their SRDS population estimates as well as indications for daily newspaper, operating commercial radio station and/or TV station. Media symbols are kept current on either the map or in a special listing with the appropriate state tables. If space is available, the listing will be adjacent to the map, otherwise it will follow the Consumer Market data.

These maps have been made especially for the SRDS books and are copyrighted by Standard Rate & Data Service, Inc., and Rand McNally & Co. Written permission to reproduce any of the maps must be secured from SRDS.

All maps have been updated to reflect the latest information available on media locations, metro area identifications, and city population sizes.

U. S. MAPS

A map showing U. S. Census Regions, States, and Key Cities is provided at the beginning of the U. S. Summary section.

State, Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas (SMSA's), county and city estimates are developed exclusively by Market Data division of SRDS.

Explanation of SRDS Consumer Market Farm Data

Farm Population

All estimates of farm population are as of January 1, 1974 and include all persons residing on farms. The sources of data used to prepare SRDS farm population estimates include basic reports prepared by the Bureau of the Census and the Department of Agriculture.

The basic definition of farm population, as reported in the 1970 Census of Population, remains the same as the 1960 Census definition. That is, the farm population consists of persons living on places of 10 or more acres from which sales of farm products amounted to $50 or more in the preceding calendar year or on places of less than 10 acres from which sales of farm products amounted to $250 or more in the preceding year.

Farm Households

The SRDS definition is identical to that used by the Bureau of the Census, namely, that a household is synonymous with an occupied dwelling unit. It consists of one or a number of persons living together under the same roof.

The January 1, 1974 farm household estimates were obtained by using Census "bench marks" and allowing for growth as reflected by a variety of government reports.

Total Farms

The definition of total farms is the same as shown in both the 1969 Census of Agriculture and the 1970 Census of Population: namely, places in rural territory which have 10 or more acres from which sales of farm products amounted to $50 or more in 1969 or on places of less than 10 acres from which sales of farm products amounted to $250 or more in 1969.

For more details concerning this definition, see "General Social and Economic Characteristics," PC(1)-C series, prepared by the Department of Census.

Farm Income

Gross Farm Income (1973) includes cash receipts from farm marketings, income in kind (value of items grown and consumed on the farm) and government payments. No expenses or taxes are deducted from the figure. Gross Income per Farm is the arithmetic mean obtained by dividing the Gross Farm Income (1973) by the Number of Farms (1973).

State, Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas (SMSA's), county and city estimates are developed exclusively by Market Data division of SRDS.

Because radio reps
 can help you . . .
SRDS
 helps YOU find THEM

For your convenience, there's a complete and up-to-the-minute list of radio station representatives at the beginning of every issue of Spot Radio Rates & Data. Company names are arranged alphabetically, and the list includes addresses and telephone numbers of sales offices.

Next time you need first-hand information about a station's market . . . areas where retail sales are best . . . places where dealers and wholesalers really use tie-in copy and point-of-purchase displays . . . and, of course, information on station policies and programming, check our list for the representative nearest you. Then check with him.

PHOENIX (18 AM; 11 FM)

(including Glendale, Mesa, Scottsdale, Tempe, Tolleson)

Maricopa County—Map Location F-4

See SRDS consumer market map and data at beginning of the State.

Stations contiguous to the major city are consolidated under the major city heading. This is not to imply that all of the stations provide equal coverage of the entire area or cities involved. It is part of the time buying function to determine extent of individual station coverage, audience delivered, etc. within the area.

RADIO MARKET ESTIMATOR

Table reports one-minute rates (based on 12 per week for 13 weeks) for the four highest-cost stations (and the average thereof) in each daypart.

Station	Morning Traffic (6-10am)	Daytime Traffic (10am-3pm)	Afternoon Traffic (3-7pm)	Evening Traffic (7 pm-midnight)
A	56	44	48	27
B	38	34	35	25
C	35	30	34	23
D	34	30	32	22
AVERAGE	41	35	37	24

For busy buyers of media: MORE INFORMATION IN LESS TIME

For half a century of publishing a basic service for the people who exercise advertising's media-buying function, SRDS has learned a lot about the information that buyers of media want and need. And one of their needs is Service-Ads.

The agency media director, space buyer, account man, and advertising manager, all want to know what they're buying. It's impossible to keep all the information they need in their media files, and they can't afford to waste time or make errors. When they're looking for information, they want information—fast! Consequently they need complete-information ads.

Service-Ads and the regular listings offer a "double exposure." The regular listings give the quantitative data while the Service-Ads give the needed information relative to editorial trends, current market trends, circulation and distribution, and other qualitative data which may not be in the regular listings. Service-Ads work with the regular listings—they give you the information you need, when you need it.

SRDS is current and timely. The Service-Ads are not "puffs"; they are as concise and to the point as you would have them. They are up-to-date qualitative data about media to aid you in your comparisons and selections.

Use the Service-Ads in SRDS

Phoenix is a one station market.

Hard to believe isn't it?

Media people know that buying Phoenix has always been an exasperating experience, an effort to accumulate audience in a 33-station market.

But shrewd buyers are discovering that a combined buy of KOY and KRFM can give them dominance in a fragmented market. In fact, for the past eight years, the one station that has consistently been the leader in adults is KOYKRFM.*

When you think of us as one station, Phoenix suddenly becomes a one-station market.

KOYKRFM. Think of us as one station. And then you won't have to think so long about what to buy in Phoenix. You'll know.
