About The Federal Radio Commission

Because usually the persons who "don't know" are first to criticise, we are printing, verbatim, part of a letter written by former chairman of the Federal Radio Commission, the late Admiral W. H. G. Bullard, which explains the position of the Federal Radio Commission very clearly and concisely.

Under the Radio Act of 1927 the Commission is obliged to use as its yard-stick in the allocation of frequencies and power "public interest, convenience and necessity." Furthermore, the Commission is instructed by the act either specifically or by inference, to make allocations according to priority, the mechanical equipment of stations, and the public service rendered by the various stations.

Guided by such instructions and restrictions the Commission had no other alternative than to assign to the old, well-established stations, which have been rendering good public service for a number of years preferred waves with reasonable power. Our investigation disclosed that there is a tremendous public demand for many pioneer stations which have shown great versatility in the preparation of their programs and ability to cater to the public demands.

In making allocations the Commission has been guided by the letter and spirit of the act which created it and our best judgment been brought to bear in dealing with the various broadcasting stations.

Allocations have been made solely on the basis of the demonstrated capacity of the individual station to serve the public, and without regard to whether the station belongs to a chain or contemplates such a step.

We have always been mindful of the fact that the small local stations have a large following and render a unique service in their various communities. Because of the vast sum needed to maintain a high class station and to obtain high grade talent these local stations are necessarily handicapped in comparison with the large stations. But we have made sincere efforts to be fair and just to the small stations, giving them such waves and power as are available and we believe they have not been seriously handicapped by recent assignments. Furthermore it is a fact that many of the small stations have not kept pace with the radio art.

The commission has taken no part in the organization of chains of stations for broadcasting, nor has it had any voice regarding membership in the various chains. The so-called independent stations, we understand, are constantly joining the chains of their own volition, imbued with the idea that such a plan of broadcasting is mutually advantageous.

The Commission is doing everything in their power to be fair to all in placing almost seven hundred stations on ninety-six channels and we hope this article will help our readers realize the tremendous task before them.

THE RADIO LISTENERS RED BOOK MAGAZINE is scientifically compiled and arranged from reports obtained directly from the Government. Properly used, according to the directions below, it will add greatly to the pleasures of Radio reception.

List the readings in the DIAL READING SECTION as soon as a station is heard so they can be turned to instantly in the future. "Hit or Miss", "Guesswork", and "Remember" methods of tuning cause squeals and howls.

Owing to the exclusive and copyrighted method of cross-indexing by page and line number used in the RED BOOK, it is only necessary to record your dial readings in one section, not in two or three. Any station can be easily found in the RED BOOK. Page 23 lists Call Letters alphabetically. Page 26 lists Cities alphabetically. Both of these alphabetical listings give page and line number for recording Dial readings.

Dial readings of each station should be listed separately, regardless of how many others are on the same wave length, because frequently, readings of stations on the same wave length vary slightly through no fault of yours or your sets. In addition, it's a pleasure to know definitely how many stations you have actually tuned in.

The RED BOOK will indicate where on your dials you can tune in any station which your set will reach after the dial readings of a few easily "picked up" stations have been listed. Its progressive listing of stations by wave lengths and frequencies gives you the names of stations above and below a listed dial reading which can be tuned in by slowly moving your dials to either side of this same listed dial reading.

For instance, suppose the dial readings of station WGY at Schenectady, N. Y., (page 20, line 24) were listed and you wanted to listen to WOC at Davenport, Ia., (line 22). Merely turn your dials to WGY'S dial readings and then slowly move them backwards a point or two. If WOC is "on the air" and your set will reach them, a slight adjustment of one or two of your dials should bring them in.

Again, suppose you want to listen to KTHS at Hot Springs, Ark., (page 20, line 28). Turn your dials to the nearest listed dial reading which might be WGY at Schenectady (line 24). Then slowly move them ahead a point or two, and if they are broadcasting and your set will reach them, you can easily tune them in.

If the station desired is more than one wave length above or below the station whose dial reading is listed, the dials should be turned a point or two further. After a little practice RED BOOK users will be able to judge the distance to move dials and you will be surprised at how easily and quickly it can be done.

Stations are grouped according to kilocycles and corresponding wave lengths with a line separating each group. In each group, stations are listed alphabetically by call letter.

CHAIN STATIONS ARE INDICATED IN FOLLOWING LISTS

In Dial Reading, Call Letter and Location indexes, the chain stations are indicated as follows:

Red Network (®), Blue Net Work (®), Columbia (©),
Pacific Coast Network (®), American (®)

PROGRAMS AND HOURS OF BROADCASTINGS

For accurate, reliable and authoritative information of this nature, we recommend your using your local newspapers.

Many things such as dividing time with other stations, advertising contracts, available entertainers, etc., enter into the schedule of a station's program and time "on the air", and in many instances this schedule changes every few days.

Should we print this information which might be correct at the time of our going to press but which in a very few days would be misleading, it would only serve to confuse the radio listener.

Newspapers in cities as well as rural districts are in constant and close touch with the larger broadcasting stations throughout the country as well as the smaller ones in their immediate vicinity and keep "up to the minute" with this information by making the necessary changes each day or as often as they go to press.

(*) Daytime Only Broadcasters

A few broadcasting stations are on the air during day only, usually from six A. M. to six P. M. and these are indicated by an asterisk * immediately following wattage of station in question.

(D) More Power During Day than at Night

A number of stations are licensed to broadcast with more power during day, usually from six A. M. to six P. M. than at night. These stations are indicated by the letter "D" preceding wattage. The number of watts used at night is usually one-third to one-half less than during the day.

() Special Information Regarding these Stations

Page 19, Line 1, Station KOA, Denver, Colorado, is licensed to broadcast from six P. M. to eight P. M. with 5000 watts. Their license specifies 2500 watts during other hours.

Dial Readings

Ample space is provided between watt column and owner column for recording dial readings. Date first received may also be recorded in this space, if so desired.

Memorandum

Any special information may be recorded in the space provided for this purpose between lines 23 and 24 on each page in the Dial Reading section.

Lists the Principal Indications of Radio Receiving Set Troubles and Suggests Possible Sources and Conditions Causing them.

If you are thoroughly convinced that your batteries, loudspeaker, tubes, etc., are O. K., and the noises still remain, you can feel reasonably sure your trouble is due to either trouble inside your set which only an experienced service man should repair or to outside interference.

Outside interference is of three varieties:

Controllable Interference which is almost always created in your own home and is caused by improperly adjusted or dirty brushes on the motors of washing machines, sewing machines, vacuum sweepers, etc.; violet ray machines, vibrators, ozonators, door bells and buzzers, telephone ringers, oil burners with spark ignition, battery chargers of the vibrator type, poor contacts in light and fuse sockets and switches. Usually these troubles can be traced to their source and remedied either by you or your electrician.

Semi-Controllable Interference, which is caused by live wires arcing in trees, dirty or worn commutator brushes on motors and generators, sign flashers, arcing trolley wires and defective rail bonds, certain kinds of electric medical apparatus, such as "X" and violet ray machines, etc., leaking power lines, insulators and transformers, charging apparatus for electrical batteries, improperly adjusted regenerative radio sets. Locating these sources is your biggest problem but after this is accomplished, most owners will gladly remedy the trouble.

Uncontrollable Interference, which, when caused by atmospheric conditions, is commonly known as "static" and "fading." There is no practical remedy for this trouble. Stations broadcasting on the same wavelength or closely related wavelengths frequently overlap or "run together" to such an extent that their incoming signals are badly distorted. Tuning your set to a station on another wavelength or located in another part of the country will sometimes reduce or eliminate undesirable noises in your set. If not, about all you can do is to either shut off your set or "grin and bear it."

A FEW DO'S AND DON'TS

Undoubtedly the manufacturer of your set knows more about it than anyone else, so follow his instructions as closely as possible while assembling and installing it.

Be sure it is operating to your entire satisfaction, according to the instruction sheet which accompanies each set, before trying any experiments or connecting any additional equipment.

Be particular about who services your set. Find a reliable, conscientious, experienced service man, thoroughly familiar with your type of set, and stick to him. A service man can do much more harm than good if he is not thoroughly competent.

Be sure switch is turned on.

Interchanging tubes in their sockets is sometimes beneficial to reception. Care must be taken that special detector tubes are not placed in any other stage than that for which they are intended. Other tubes may be inter-changed without damage.

Solder joints wherever practical and possible, especially aerial wire connections which corrode very easily, and cover battery terminals and connections with vaseline after a clean contact has been made and screwed down tight.

DON'T place your set on a radiator or near excessive heat. Insulations will be melted and the set ruined.

DON'T run your aerial directly over or under telephone or electric light wires.

DON'T use a cheap lightning arrester. It must have the approval of the Insurance Underwriters; otherwise your insurance may be void.

DON'T hook ground wire to gas pipe. Always use water pipe.

DON'T connect your set with tubes in the sockets. An accidental touch of the wrong battery wire might ruin them all. Connect batteries first, then put in tubes.

DON'T try to tighten any connection in your set with a metal tool while the "B" batteries are connected. An accidental touch of the wrong wire might burn out all of your tubes.

DON'T direct the loud speaker towards the receiving set. Sound vibrations affect the tubes.

DON'T turn tubes too bright. Turn as low as possible consistent with good reception. This gives better music and saves batteries.

DON'T try to paralyze your ears with loud reception. Best results and real music are in the modified tones.

DON'T let your storage battery lie idle. It is cheaper to use it every day than once a week. Permitting a storage battery to become completely exhausted injures it. Hydrometer reading should never fall below 1250 and plates should be covered with distilled water.

DON'T permit your set to remain open so that dust can get in it. Dust between the plates of your variable condenser spoils reception. Clean them occasionally by drawing pipe-cleaners between the plates. Care should be used not to spring the plates in any way.
