THE HIGHWAY TRAVELERS TUNING GUIDE

The Special K Breakfast

- 4 oz. orange juice, tomato juice, or ½ med. grapefruit
- ¼ cups (1 oz.) Kellogg's® Special K® high-protein cereal
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 4 oz. skim milk
- Black coffee or tea (less than 240 calories)

GOOD FOR YOU, MRS. HOWARD.

Mrs. Howard is 38 years old, a mother of three, and still looks terrific in a swimsuit. That's partly because she knows what's good for her!

For instance, she knows it's important to watch her nutrition while she watches her weight. So she eats smart at every meal, starting with the Special K Breakfast. It has protein, vitamins and iron for less than 240 calories. And it's delicious! The Kellogg's Special K Breakfast. Good for Mrs. Howard, and good for you, too!

The Special K Breakfast.
Serious nutrition for weight-conscious adults.

VDO

Cockpit Instruments

VDO Cockpit . . . the long, long line that introduced the motoring world to new standards of instrumentation. Unmatched accuracy, proven over millions of miles and hours. Matte black faces, white characters and red pointers, plus glare-free illumination mean faster, safer reading by day or night. Handsome Cockpit Instruments have the look of grand touring . . . with a broad range of mounting accessories for maximum mounting flexibility . . . in dash or console. As for selection, it can't be surpassed. Whatever instrumentation your car and driving style demand, you'll find it in Cockpit.

New VDO Catalog contains comprehensive guide to instrument function, selection, location, and installation. Send $1.

At hundreds of nationally known
Hotels, Motels, Motor Lodges and Inns you can... stay one night
Get the second night FREE!

THE INTERNATIONAL TRAVEL CARD can save you hundreds of dollars every year on your hotel and motel bills. In over 200 cities, coast-to-coast you can choose from participating Holiday Inns, Ramadas, Hilton Inns, Best Westerns, Sheratons, Rodeways, Hyatts, Quality Inns, Travelodges and other fine hotels. You pay the Inn's regular rate your first night... and, you get the second night FREE.

The International Travel Card, originally available only to business firms with a large staff of traveling executives, is now available to individual travelers or families for occasional weekend or vacation usage.

Pays for itself over and over again

Based on an average room rate of $25.00 per night at most hotels and motels, your International Travel Card will probably pay for itself the very first time you use it... and, the more you use it, the more you'll save.

U.S. News and World Report: "If you plan to use hotels and motels while traveling in the United States, Canada, Mexico, Latin America, and Europe, there is a way of getting two nights for the price of one. For an annual fee of $25.00, International Travel Card will send you a card which will entitle you to the "free night" arrangement at more than 400 hotels and motels across the country and abroad, including some members of such well known chains as Ramada, Best Western and Holiday Inns."

American Automobile Association - Western N.Y. Motorist: "...you can make a big part of your travel dollars go twice as far with the International Travel Card. It can cut the cost of your hotel accommodations in half at hundreds of fine hotels, resorts and inns..."

THE MORE YOU USE IT
THE MORE YOU SAVE.
Whether you're a "heavy" business traveler, one-a-year vacationer, holiday-hopping student, honeymooner or only an occasional long-weekender - you can make a big part of your travel dollars go twice as far with THE INTERNATIONAL TRAVEL CARD. It can cut the cost of your hotel accommodations in; half at hundreds - yes hundreds of fine hotels, resorts and inns in the U.S., Canada, Mexico, Latin America and overseas.

PAYS FOR ITSELF OVER AND OVER AGAIN.
Since our Annual Membership fee costs less than most single rooms for one night at most first class hotels, THE INTERNATIONAL TRAVEL CARD probably will pay for itself the very first time you use it. It'll keep on saving you a bundle, too, because you have the rest of the year to keep on using it... and it's renewable year after year.

Cut out and mail today... and cut your hotel bills in half.

CLIP THIS COUPON AND SEND IN FOR THE REST OF AMERICA

There are eight regional editions of Travelaide covering the United States

Each contains maps of the U.S. Interstate System and related highways plus listings of restaurants, motels, and interesting places to visit. All of them are designed to help you find your way around when you're far away from home

Travelaide is available at Interstate service stations and many state information centers. But you can order a complete set (or just a few) by sending the coupon directly to us

The cost is a modest 50¢ per copy for postage and handling, or order a complete set of eight plus Mexico for only $3.00.

If you've been using this Travelaide, you know you're getting a lot for your money

Please send me the following Travelaide editions at a cost of 50¢ per copy, or a complete set of eight for only $3.00.

 DIRECTORY AND MAP

We specialize in Motorhome and Travel Trailer Insurance.

Take along a strong sense of security next time you hit the road. Insure your motorhome or travel trailer with Foremost, one of the nation's leading specialists in Rec Vehicle Insurance. Foremost Insurance not only covers your rig (and almost everything inside if you want) but also provides an Emergency Expense Allowance. It pays you up to $150 for alternate living expenses if your rig is not usable due to an insured loss while you're on vacation. For all the facts, see us before you pack up and go.

CLIP THIS COUPON AND SEND IN FOR THE REST OF AMERICA

There are eight regional editions of Travelaide covering the United States.

Each contains maps of the U.S. Interstate System and related highways plus listings of restaurants, motels, and interesting places to visit. All of them are designed to help you find your way around when you're far away from home.

Travelaide is available at Interstate service stations and many state information centers. But you can order a complete set (or just a few) by sending the coupon directly to us.

The cost is a modest 50¢ per copy for postage and handling, or order a complete set of eight plus Mexico for only $3.00.

If you've been using this Travelaide, you know you're getting a lot for your money.

Please send me the following Travelaide editions at a cost of 50¢ per copy, or a complete set of eight for only $3.00.

CLIP THIS COUPON AND SEND IN FOR THE REST OF AMERICA

There are eight regional editions of Travelaide covering the United States.

Each contains maps of the U.S. Interstate System and related highways plus listings of restaurants, motels, and interesting places to visit. All of them are designed to help you find your way around when you're far away from home.

Travelaide is available at Interstate service stations and many state information centers. But you can order a complete set (or just a few) by sending the coupon directly to us.

The cost is a modest 50¢ per copy for postage and handling, or order a complete set of eight plus Mexico for only $3.00.

If you've been using this Travelaide, you know you're getting a lot for your money.

Please send me the following Travelaide editions at a cost of 50¢ per copy, or a complete set of eight for only $3.00.

Visit SHAMU the Killer Whale at SEA WORLD®

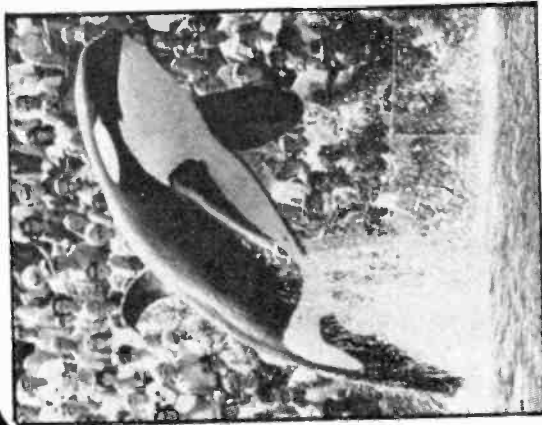

A Whole Day of Fun for the Entire Family.

There's something for everyone at Sea World where you'll find non-stop shows. See SHAMU®, the friendly 2-ton killer whale, in his brand NEW show. Watch your favorite comic book heroes, Batman & Robin and Superman, come to life in the water ski spectacular, Salute to the Superheroes.

Enjoy talented dolphins as they compete with humans in the Brainy Bunch. And visit the Ding-a-Ling Bros. Circus and see seals and otters perform feats of skill under the big top.

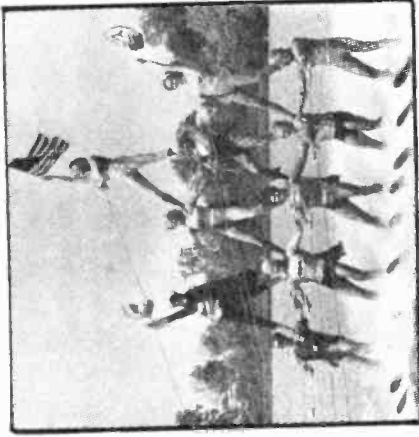

Sea World has a super place for kids to play pirate. They'll love Cap'n Kids World, America's newest and most unusual playground.

Spend a few hours or a full day at mid-America's largest and most famous marine life park.

For a colorful free brochure and a list of nearby campgrounds, phone (216) 562-8101 or write:

“Tell me the truth, Steve. What kind of tires do I need?”

Here's Firestone Tire Engineer Steve Petrasek to answer your RV tire questions:

Q: I have a pickup camper. How do I know which tire to buy?

A: If you don't believe ads, read the articles in the RV magazines. In the Popular Science Motorcamping handbook for 1974, they talk about high flotation tires that give you an extra wide footprint and spread the camper's weight over more ground surface. Firestone strongly recommends them for pickup campers and fifth wheel campers — it's our Wide Oval System. On the front put the Firestone Transport 500 Wide Oval® for steering and stability. On the rear go the Traction All Season™ Wide Oval tires that are good on highways, great in soft stuff.

Q: What about tires for trailers?

A: Trailer tires need to carry load, and help in braking. So you can be sure you're getting what you need with Firestone's Transport® tire. You don't pay a lot for it, yet you have the capacity and load range of a truck tire.

Q: What do you recommend for motorhomes?

A: The same article tells it like it is — “Motorhomes are really trucks, and they require truck tires.” So we say put on the Firestone Transport 110™ tire. Since you bought your unit for fun, not tire trouble, I think you'll like this tough, fleet-tested tire with a noise-treated tread that can handle a heavy chassis nicely.

NATIONAL PUBLIC RADIO

National Public Radio (NPR) is the national programming center and an interconnected system of more than 190 public radio stations throughout the United States. Together, we serve communities in 43 states, Puerto Rico, and the District of Columbia.

Primarily, you'll find us between 88.1 and 91.9 MHz on the FM radio band. For at least 18 hours each day, 365 days a year, the NPR member station in your vicinity is broadcasting a diverse package of news and cultural events, public affairs, music and drama.

NPR, now in its fifth year of operation, is funded by the Corporation for Public Broadcasting, private foundations, and corporate underwriting. All NPR member stations are non-profit. All are non-commercial. That aside, no two stations are exactly alike.

Because we're "public," each NPR member station is responsible for serving the distinct needs of its community. So we speak to you in Navajo from Ramah, New Mexico, and in Eskimo dialects from Kotzebue, Alaska. And we speak to you from a lot of unexpected places.

From Washington, D.C., the nation's news center and the base of our production headquarters, NPR brings you reports on national legislation, international events, trends in the arts, and significant developments in the fields of science and technology. We speak to you live from the floor of Congressional hearings, the speaker's podium of the National Press Club, and the performance halls of the Kennedy Center.

With equal acumen, we speak to you directly from the small towns and major cities that dot our nation's landscape. Wherever there's a NPR member station, there is also a production center collecting the sounds and recording the events unique to that area of the country. Those programs, local color and appeal in fact, are collected at NPR headquarters for distribution throughout the system.

Typical of the diverse programming made possible by this "two-way system" is our nightly news magazine, the Peabody Award-winning ALL THINGS CONSIDERED. A 90-minute omnibus of art, news, public affairs, music and interviews, ALL THINGS CONSIDERED is a showcase for the production talents of our system. Reports from our Washington-based correspondents are juxtaposed with those from the member stations. So, in a single broadcast, we can speak to you from the White House and the United Nations; from a folk festival in Kentucky and a logging camp in Oregon; from a concert hall in Minneapolis and a Broadway stage in New York.

But we not only speak to you. We speak with you. On NPR, we explore news and public affairs from your viewpoint—asking what topics concern you, then producing programs which fulfill your needs. Frequently, we also invite you to tell us what you think during our nationwide call-in discussions.

Aurally speaking, NPR probes the world for you. We bring you coverage of special events in their entirety; interviews acclaimed for their unhurried and in-depth approach; music and drama from the open-air stages and major performance halls of the nation; and reports from a news staff that has won the Peabody, Dupont and Headliners awards.

In addition, NPR brings you reports that come from the British Broadcasting Corporation (BBC), Radio Nederland, and the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation (CBC). And, from the European Broadcast Union (EUB) we bring you more chamber music and jazz.

So, wherever you go, take NPR with you. We're where you are; where you're going. And we expand your horizons to include the entire range of human events—wherever they might happen.

HAM RADIO

Anyone who has flown a small plane can tell you—when you're in the approach pattern of a busy metropolitan airport with a dead radio, you can be in trouble. Fred Chitwood knows—first-hand.

An engineer on a routine flight from Phoenix, Chitwood's twin-engine plane lost its radio at a crucial time—while approaching Tucson International Airport.

"Around Pichaco Peak I realized I was talking to myself," he recalls. His initial reaction, fear, was soon replaced by hope, as Fred switched on his battery-powered two-meter transceiver and started calling for assistance. On the ground, a fellow amateur radio operator, Bart Paine, who holds the amateur call letters K7CC, happened to have his portable "handy-talkie" tuned to the frequency Fred Chitwood was transmitting on. Luckily, Bart had access to special equipment that transferred the pilot's voice into the telephone system. The result of this "autopatch": Fred and the air traffic controller quickly regained clear, reliable contact—amateur radio transceiver to telephone! It was the first such landing at Tucson International.

For the participants involved, this experience was anything but routine. But ham radio operators as a group are in no way strangers to emergencies. Whether on the highway, at a distant earthquake site or in the air, ham radio operators have provided invaluable emergency communications for more than 60 years.

When a devastating earthquake nearly leveled the tiny country of Guatemala, amateur radio was the only reliable link to the outside world for the first vital hours. In the aftermath of Hurricane Belle, hams using the same two-meter fm that Fred Chitwood used were credited with saving lives and property on the Gulf Coast of the U.S.

An increasingly popular form of amateur communication, two-meter fm is often used in cars, vans and campers. By using repeaters—relay stations on tall buildings and mountain tops that amplify signals—communication is extended up to 100 miles. Uncrowded and noise-free, the two-meter amateur band is ideal for frequent travelers who need to know the best route from Point A to Point B, or weather conditions at their destination.

Radio amateurs can also operate long distance communications from their car. Many hams have installed 100 watt single sideband radios in their autos, and talk throughout the country and even to foreign countries as they drive. One amateur, Fred Merry, W2GN, has installed a satellite station in his car, can talk to stations up to 5000 miles away as he drives. He has even run experiments relaying complex medical data, such as electrocardiographs, from the car to a hospital on the other side of the continent, simulating satellite relay of vital medical information from a disaster area.

You are not limited to mobile or emergency communications with your ham license, either. The world of amateur radio is as diverse as the amateurs who make it up: kings and congressmen, housewives and elementary school students. Besides participating in emergency communications drills, ham radio operators spend their time on the radio making friends in more than 300 countries on every continent. Other amateur activities include amateur television, pursuing operating awards, operating amateur radio contests, and even talking through one of several amateur radio satellites which circle the globe every two hours.

This satellite operation is rapidly becoming a very popular aspect of ham radio. Talking to other stations through OSCAR (Orbiting Satellite Carrying Amateur Radio) is a unique thrill, a thrill which is enhanced by the knowledge that the satellite was designed and built by fellow radio amateurs. The first OSCAR, launched by NASA in 1961 as a "piggyback" on another satellite, cost $63., and was constructed in a garage in California. Today's amateur radio satellites cost many times that of OSCAR 1, and have many times the capabilities. OSCAR 6, for example, has far surpassed its expected one-year lifetime, and has even outlived the "professional" satellite on whose launch OSCAR 6 hitchhiked. Every day as OSCAR races overhead at more than 15,000 miles per hour, hundreds of amateur radio operators swing their antennas skyward, following the path of the rapidly moving object. Stations from more than 100 different countries can be heard with a simple antenna and receiver, and you don't even need a license. Thousands of high school students regularly use the OSCAR satellite to illustrate physics, mathematics and electronic principles.

The hundreds of new amateurs who join the ranks each week come from all walks of life. Very few are electronics technicians or engineers. A five-year-old boy from Vincennes, Indiana, surprised the amateur fraternity recently by passing his FCC examination with flying colors. There are nearly a million hams world-wide, and the number is growing rapidly.

To operate your own amateur radio station, you will need to be able to communicate in Morse code and pass a simple, 20-question test covering rules and regulations governing amateur radio and basic radio theory. New methods of instruction and simplified testing procedures have made obtaining a license easier than ever.

People from all walks of life are discovering the excitement of two-way communication that only amateur radio can provide. You can join them. For more information, write the American Radio Relay League, 225 Main Street, Newington, CT 06111. The ARRL will provide the name and address of a nearby amateur radio class upon request.

Whether you enjoy talking to a fellow ham in Norway via satellite or to a friend in the next town, amateur radio is your hobby.

Why You Need a CB Radio Handle

Most CB operators use a handle.

Your handle or station name is your I.D. on the air.

When you start using your CB, you may refer to yourself on the air with your FCC call signs.

FCC rules say that the call sign should be used to identify a CB station, but they do allow for the use of a handle so long as the call sign is also given.

But, most operators prefer to just use a handle.

How you select your handle is very important.

Do it with care because if you choose a handle already in use in your area, it will not only be confusing but those who had it first will get very upset.

To avoid duplication of handles, refer to this directory to see who's using what in your area.

Some handles are oriented to the job (Pill Roller). Others relate to your hobby (Scuba Man) or astrological sign (Scorpio). Some like a handle that depicts a personal attribute (Chow Hound) or distinctly physical attribute (Red Nose).

Long-standing nickname, (Suzy-Q) may be used or it may apply to your favorite wheels.

Select a handle that is easily understood on the air and be bold.

Anything is acceptable in a handle if it's not obscene and not used in your area.

Our CO-OP directory, America's largest collector of handles, is the best way to find out the most popular handles nationwide and to avoid picking a handle already in use in your town and state.

Once you have picked your handle, then, listen on the air to see if it's used by any other "good buddy."

Then, register your handle with us at Communication CO-OP so that others who may want to use your handle can see you were there first, and will pick another station name.

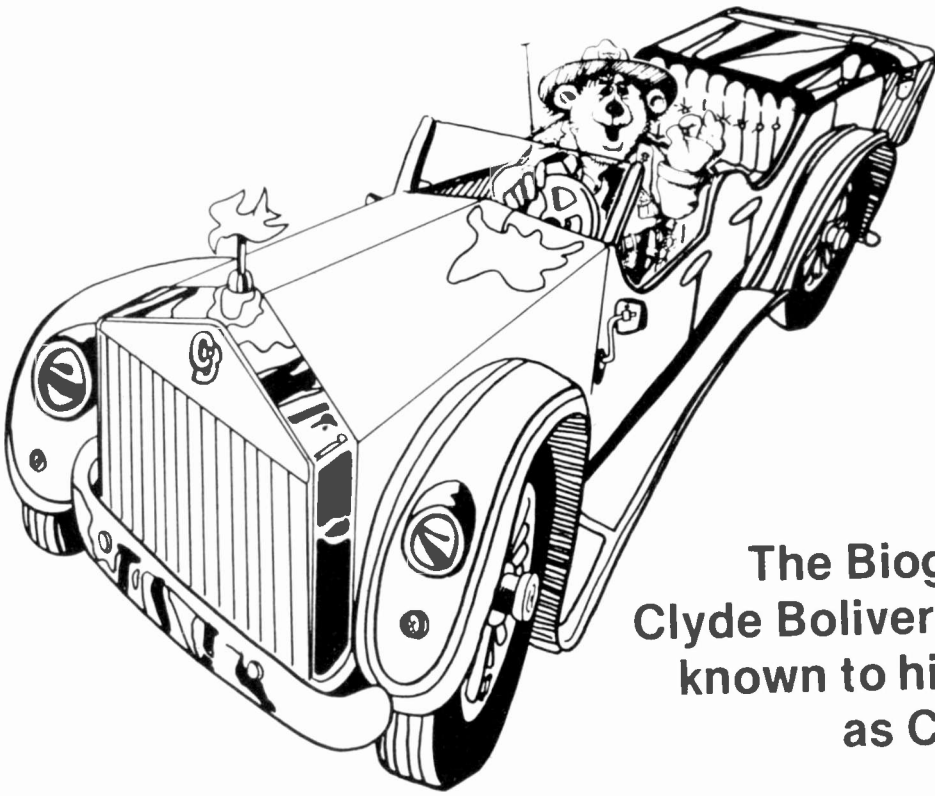

There are three ways to register your handle with CO-OP to guard against others using yours:

- 1. For $5.00, your handle will be registered and listed in the next CO-OP Handle Travel Directory and you will receive a beautiful certificate, suitable for framing.
- 2. For $7, you can receive a copy of the next CB Handle and Travel Directory and we will publish your handle in it.
- 3. You can buy the complete CO-OP membership package including a listing and copy of the next directory, certificate and decals for $11.

All handles remain registered with CO-OP and are listed in all directories and publications during the 12 months following receipt of your registration fee.

Register your handle and keep it current each year. That's how to keep your claim on your handle.

The Biography of Clyde Boliver Magee... known to his friends as CB Magee

Clyde Boliver Magee was spawned by Boliver T. Bustogver Magee and Mollye Murphy in the year PAST, in an Away Place at the end of the Yellow Road. The records were never found because of an exploding proof of nature that spun Clyde Boliver out into the family's new four wheeler, the Bolis Bounder (apologies to Rolls Royce). This Classic Vehicle became known as the Boliver Bender because of its uncanny ability to follow the smallest bend in the road to constant new adventures. It feates a distinctive yellow body with red arrows on the fenders pointing to its own special white bird of truth.

As an average, intelligent human bear, Clyde Boliver discovered the wonderful world of CB radio early in life, after completing his professional training in the school of Blunder-Bluster. His first encounter with CB radio came while helping a distant cousin in forestry work. After using cousin bear's CB radio to aid in finding some campers lost in a blizzard, Clyde Boliver knew he just had to have a CB of his own.

From that moment on, CB radio became his total life. He listened to all the current CB records, used all the proper lingo and never missed an opportunity to use his CB to help someone. As he became further acquainted with the "Smokey Bear" law enforcement, he decided this was a natural place for him. He would join the Highway Patrol. But they turned him down. They couldn't use a human bear. Clyde Boliver was crushed. What could he possibly do with his life?

Then he spotted a CO-OP CB Center and Clyde Boliver Magee became a CO-OPERATOR!

He had so much fun, saved so much money and helped so many people that he was awarded an honorary CO-OP Smokey Patrol Bear uniform. Now he drives the great Boliver-Bender which has never been known to exceed $54\frac{2}{3}$ miles per hour with his big whip CB antenna following the red CO-OP arrows to new CB adventures—ready all the time to enroll the dedicated CBers as a student of his in the educational fun-life of the CO-OPERATOR.

Watch for this boogeying bear at your next CB Club meeting, he has been known to bop in on breaks for the entertainment and education of any dedicated CBer.

CB Channels

Proper Use of Call Letters

Remember, the FCC requires that ALL transmissions from each unit of a CB station must be identified by the transmission of its assigned call sign at the beginning and end of each transmission or series of transmissions, at least every 10 minutes. It is permissible to use your CB Handle between these identifications.

CHANNEL 9

The FCC has designated Channel 9 as the official CB Emergency Channel and its use is restricted to communications of an emergency nature only. When seeking or responding to an emergency situation, as soon as the call has been acknowledged, ask the other station to switch over to another channel. This is imperative, so as to leave Channel 9 open for other emergency calls. The FCC is strictly enforcing the emergency use ONLY of Channel 9!

Avis introduces the Weekend Wagon.

When the load is just too much for your car to handle, rent an Avis Weekend Wagon and have loads of fun instead. Our Dodge Sportsman Wagon can do things even station wagons can't. It comfortably seats eight people and all their gear. Skis. Scuba gear. Even the moose head you bought at the auction. You can get it all together in a Weekend Wagon.

And that's the whole idea. Rent a Weekend Wagon for only $21.95 a day plus mileage. Just buy the gas and drop the wagon off where you rented it.

For loads, and

Rent one this weekend.

Only $21.95 a day plus mileage.

Call Avis toll free (800-331-1212) or your travel agent, or check at your local Avis counter for full details.

We try harder to get you there together.
