Mergers under European spotlight

Last gasp efforts by EMI/Time Warner to save mega deal

a Music & Media/Billboard staff report

LONDON/BRUSSELS — Will it be a case of Sing When You're Winning or will EMI and Time Warner end up In Blue?

The $20 billion merger of EMI Group and Time Warner's music divisions has entered its last phase and, as the European Commission is now expected to deliver its verdict before October 18, doubt is growing about the clearance of the deal.

In a last minute attempt to block it, opponents to the merger were putting the finishing touches to their final objections to meet with September 22 midday deadline set by the EC's competition department.

The objections follow the presentation a few days earlier by EMI and Time Warner of a series of undertakings they hope would salvage the deal. Executives from both companies at the highest level met with the European Commissioner in charge of competition, Mario Monti, on September 18.

"It took so long to get concessions on the table," reveals a senior Warner executive. "This deal is fighting for its life, and this past week, for the first time, EMI [internally] is not confident [about the outcome]." The source admits "nobody expected either the virulence of the Commission's objections or the broad sweep of its conclusions."

The undertakings were outlined in a document to the Commission seen by Music & Media. They include the selling of assets in several European countries so that their combined market share remains below 35% in these countries. These assets include EMI

Impala objects to Vivendi/Seagram

by Gordon Masson and Emmanuel Legrand

BRUSSELS — Regulators examining the proposed acquisition of Seagram by French utilities giant Vivendi have been presented with objections to the deal by Impala—Europe's Independent Music Publishers and Labels Association—and by UPFI, France's independent label's association.

Impala's concern over the deal involves the combination of Seagram's music business, through Universal Music Group, with the mobile telephony interests of Vivendi. Impala contends that the merged company "will give UMG

by Emmanuel Legrand, Music & Media editor-in-chief

What's wrong with Europe? Why do European consumers seem to be turning their backs on music while North Americans are in a buying frenzy?

This is a legitimate question, especially after looking at the most recent global market statistics for 1999 released by the IFPI.

Throughout the first half of the past decade, Europe's cumulative sales were superior to North America's, reaching a high point in 1996. Then it all started to crumble. Year after year, Europe started to lose ground, sinking to a new low in 1999. While North America now accounts for 39.3% of the world's total sales in value, Europe is down to 32.1%.

Of course, much can be explained by currency fluctuations, and it's no secret that the US dollar has outperformed all the other currencies in recent years (especially in 1999/2000). But there is certainly more than exchange rates to explain why the European market is at best at a standstill, at worse, in a recession.

Compared to North America—and its principal component, the USA—music sales in Europe have been penalised by several factors: a fragmented set of local markets, making difficult to organise global marketing and promotion campaigns; the lack of a single currency; higher wholesale prices and higher VAT rates applied to sounds recordings (in the region of 16% to 20% on average in Europe with peaks at 25%); a relatively weak retail base; and new competition from CD-Rs and the Internet.

All this has contributed to a rather poor performance in Europe. Most European countries are lagging far behind the US in terms of music sales per capita in value and units. While American consumers buy an average of 4 CDs a year per capita, it's closer to 2.5 in most of Europe.

Can anything be done to reverse this trend?

For a start, music has to become more affordable.

This will require a serious assessment on pricing policies and makes it even more urgent for the European Union to lower the VAT rate on records. But music has to become an exciting part of life again—and it is up to labels, artists, retail and the media to combine their efforts to make this happen.

Currie exits Emap for digital venture

by Jon Heasman

LONDON — The Emap Performance Network (EPN)'s music director Francis Currie is striking out on his own to develop what he describes as a "digital" project.

Currie refuses to be drawn further on the venture, for which he already has partners and is currently seeking finance, but says it revolves around an idea that "wouldn't wait," hence his decision to leave the EPN music director post after just five months.

The speculation is that Currie is the latest senior UK programmer to move into the dotcom sector, following the departure in February of Chrysalis Radio's group programmer Keith Pringle to start his Ride The Tiger venture and rumours that former Capital Radio group head of programmes Clive Dickens may also be plotting Internet moves following his departure from Capital in July.

Currie's appointment as music director (M&M, March 25) followed a realignment of Emap's business structure and the creation of the Emap Performance Network, which brought together all the company's UK music-related magazines, radio stations, TV channels and Internet ventures in one division.

"I had a fantastic time at Emap," says Currie, who programmed music TV channel the Box and Soft AC station Magic 105.4/London for Emap, prior being appointed EPN music director, which he describes as "the best job I've ever had."

It is understood from Emap sources that Currie will not be replaced as music director, but instead there will now be genre-specific heads of pop, rock and dance within EPN, working—like Currie—across print, broadcast and new media and reporting to EPN managing director Dee Ford.

Those appointments are expected to be announced within the next three weeks.

In addition, Piccadilly Key 103/Manchester programme director Dave Shearer has been appointed group head of music (M&M, September 16) with specific responsibility for co-ordinating music policy at Emap's Big City chain of CHR stations.

Radio 538 launches home-made radio

by Robbert Tilli

HILVERSUM — Dutch radio listeners are able to put together their own radio shows, thanks to an Internet initiative set up by commercial CHR station Radio 538.

In conjunction with software houses Lost Boys and SoftMachine, the station's website (www.538webstation.com) is giving listeners the chance to air their own shows through a specially designed CD-ROM.

"I think we're the first radio station in the world to launch a concept like this," says Erik de Zwart, managing director at Radio 538. "As an added bonus it will serve as the perfect means to discover new radio talent. Our own DJs will regularly check these home-made programmes."

Webstation uses similar radio software as the real 538 and features instructions and visuals by popular 538 DJs such as Edwin Evers and Jeroen van Inkel.

The DIY software also enables aspiring radio DJs to download vintage 538 jingles for their own shows on the web, while they are operating their virtual 538 home studio.

Cadena 100 rings the changes and works closer with labels

by Howell Llewellyn

MADRID — AC/CHR station Cadena 100, which is owned by Cadena COPE, has adopted programming changes in a bid to turn the tide following a slump that saw its daily audience fall below the one million mark for the first time in four years.

Cadena 100's national director Jordi Casoliva now presents the first two hours of the popular morning show La Jungla, with José Antonio Abellán taking over the last four hours, as well as fronting his own late-night sports show.

There is also a new evening programme, which will stick mainly to the Cadena 100 playlist, but Casoliva says will be "younger, fresher, and more dynamic." In order to achieve "more internal cohesion," playlist slots will now be heard on all programmes. "This way the presence of our playlist music will tangibly improve," says Casoliva.

"These are crucial times," says Casoliva, "and, after years of stability, things are changing. We are renewing our contents to adapt to the market's new tastes and evolutions."

In another change, record labels are being invited to join the regular weekly playlist meetings in Madrid attended by regional Cadena 100 programmers. The station says the move is a "gesture" to the industry and claims it will not affect programming decisions.

"We haven't done this before, as we wanted to avoid complications with everybody pumping us with their new singles," says Casoliva. "The idea is for our regional people to get to know the guys from the labels, and vice-versa. It's a public relations exercise."

Casoliva says he is optimistic for the future. "Of course I want to recuperate the level of one million listeners, but we would have introduced these changes anyway," he says. "I am optimistic that things will improve, although I believe that all real changes take up to three years to show real benefit."

Sky and Planet get FM frequencies

by Miriam Hubner

BERLIN — The local radio broadcasting authority for the Hessian state of Germany (LPR) has voted in favour of diversity with the awarding of FM licences to two very different stations.

Urban-formatted station, Planet Radio, has been awarded three frequencies for the towns of Bad Hersfeld, Fulda and Giessen.

The station is owned by the Radio/Tele FFH group and has been broadcasting digitally and on satellite since April 1997 before moving on to FM.

Planet Radio will focus on youth culture playing hip-hop, R&B and dance and, according to a spokesperson at the station, will "target the MTV/VIVA audience."

Programme director at Planet Radio Andreas Schulz says: "We don't define our target audience in terms of age but by the music we play. Depending on what music people like, we attract an audience across all age ranges."

Based in Kassel, soft AC Sky Radio has been awarded a licence for three FM frequencies in Dieburg, Kassel and Wetzlar. It is the sister station to Sky Radio in the Netherlands, part of Rupert Murdoch's News Corporation and is investing DM 3.5 million (€1.8m) in setting up the new station.

Sky Radio Hessen says it will "fill a gap in the local market and feature a mix of information and entertainment with listener-interaction." Other Sky stations dispense with presenters, relying on a melodic music format.

"LPR Hessen has made a decision in favour of diversity," says Martin Banga, managing director of Sky Radio Hessen. He promises "diverse and informative radio programming with a clear regional focus."

Andreas Schulz of Planet Radio says: "There will be no clash in audiences between the stations, with Planet Radio being a youth station and Sky Radio addressing the older generation. We don't know what Sky Radio will play, but we will observe the developments."

RTL releases first results since merger

LUXEMBOURG — For the first time since its merger with Pearson, its floatation and change of name, the RTL Group—formerly known as CLT-UFA—has published figures for the first six months of the year ending June 30.

Radio operations accounted for 6% of the group's total revenues at €121 million and 10% of its profits (€38 million).

RTL Group's radio activities in France—RTL, Fun Radio and RTL2—account for the bulk of the group's revenues (€113m) and profits (€37m).

RTL Group says that radio business posted a 6% increase in sales and a 12% increase in profits.

CHR/Dance station Fun Radio "produced an impressive turnaround," according to the group, and posted a profit of €1m for the first half of the year compared to €3m for the same period the year before.

German radio operations account for €6m in revenues and €1m in profits, while UK operations, reduced to Irish-based long wave CHR station Atlantic 252 "made progress breaking even, compared to a loss of €2 m a year ago," with sales of €2m for the period.

Details of the group's other radio operations were not available.

Overall, the group posted pre-tax profits of €316 million (+46%) for sales in excess of €2.02 billion (+21%). TV is the group's main business.

WIRELESS GROUP LOSSES CONTINUE

LONDON — The Wireless Group—which owns national station TalkSport as well as a number of radio stations mainly in the north of England and Scotland—reported first-half losses of £25.7m (€45.9m) in its first interim results since its flotation in May. The group said the results had been affected by the £6.5m expenditure on the launch of its flagship station TalkSport and the increased investment in sports broadcasting rights. The integration of The Radio Partnership and The Independent Radio Group helped to boost first-half turnover from £4.2m to £13.8m.

SWEDISH MUSIC CHANNELS GO ON LINE

STOCKHOLM — The biggest player in Swedish Internet radio, Spraydio—owned by Internet company Spray—is to launch two more channels catering for classical and punk rock fans. Spraydio currently runs seven channels, covering hard rock, techno, R&B/rap, alternative music and pop, plus two channels geared towards gay men and young women. "We want to show that we can cover all styles," says Spraydio's creative director Jonas Troedson. Launch dates and channel names for the two new services are yet to be confirmed.

Campomaor, who is to relocate from Madrid to Amsterdam, will report to IMVJ CEO IJsbrand Galema. With the appointment of Campomaor Galema has finalised the recruitment of IMVJ's truly international management team, which now consists of British, American, Spanish and Dutch staff.

AIM APPOINTS LICENSING CONSULTANT

LONDON — UK independent labels' body AIM (Association of Independent Music) has appointed Sky TV's director of music services Mo Darbyshire (pictured) as a consultant in its development of a licensing system for music online. AIM launched a trial two months ago as the first step towards formulating a licensing system for the use of streaming music, including Internet radio, in the UK. Darbyshire, who is also founding member at copyrighting company Soundmouse, will advise on licensing issues for AIM, as well as continuing her work at Sky. Darbyshire says she expects a comprehensive licensing standard will be completed by Christmas.

OSLO — Virgin Records Norway has appointed Ida Walther as promotion manager for radio and regional press. Meanwhile, Elisabeth Sjaastad is named promotion manager press/TV to work alongside existing promotion manager press/TV Pernille Torp-Holte. All three report to marketing manager Bjørn Rogstad.

MUNICH — New head of programming for commercial station Antenne Bayern is Robert Urban (pictured). Urban replaces Dorothea Seitz who is leaving to found her own company.

COLOGNE — Fritz Pleitgen has been re-confirmed as president of public WDR (Westdeutscher Rundfunk). Pleitgen has been president of WDR for TV and radio since 1995.

JIM-TV goes live in Belgium

by Marc Maes

BRUSSELS — A new music TV channel featuring live performances by artists will be launched on cable and the Internet in Belgium next year.

JIM-TV has been set up by the Flemish media company VMM (Vlaamse Media Maatschappij)—the parent company of commercial TV stations VTM and Kanaal 2 and radio networks Top Radio and Mango. The new channel is being aimed at a 15-25-year-old audience.

According to Eric Claeys, managing director at VTM, the new station will be complementary to VTM and Kanaal 2. It also plans to be distinctive to MTV and TMF (The Music Factory), featuring as much live and interactive output as possible.

Opportunities to feature artists in TV programmes in Flanders are relatively limited and the initiative is being welcomed by the domestic music industry. "When we see how TMF has been able to establish itself with the Flemish viewers—doing better than MTV—I think JIM-TV may also reach those expectations," says Niels Dierckx, marketing manager international pop repertoire at Universal Music Belgium. "They target a younger audience and have the in-house expertise of VTM and Kanaal 2 to back them up. I think their big advantage lies in the fact that they go beyond a 'clip-station' with their intention to broadcast as many artists as possible live on the air."

The decision to launch the channel was inspired by radio presenter and producer Peter Hoogland's nighttime programmes on Kanaal 2.

Hoogland

While the station will primarily feature music and entertainment, the programming will also include two news bulletins and e-business information.

JIM-TV is due to launch early next year. Staff is currently being recruited from within VMM with some 20 people likely to join the station.

American artist Marilyn Manson paid a visit to Universal Music International's (UMI) European marketing meeting in the UK in September. Manson's new album Holy Wood is released on November 14 ahead of a single Disposible Teens due for a 30 November release. Pictured left-to-right are: Martin Kierszenbaum (head of international, Interscope Records), Andrew Kronfeld (VP marketing, UMI), Jurgen Grebner (VP marketing, Interscope/Greffen/A&M), Marilyn Manson, Max Hole (senior VP marketing and A&R, UMI), Tony Ciulla (Marilyn Manson's manager), Simon Baeyertz (consultant, Interscope/Nothing Records).

Schmidt leads fight for ratings

by Gesa Birnkrant

BERLIN — For the first time a woman will be head of programming in Germany's most competitive radio market—Berlin.

Antje Schmidt (38) has taken on the job at Berliner Rundfunk 91.4 in a city where some 26 radio stations fight for the listeners' attention.

"I don't think that it's harder for women to get into the position of a programme directors," says Schmidt. "But I am convinced that women think more about this step than men and because of that I would say women are a lot easier about the rankings of positions."

Schmidt and her deputy Alex Kind (30) will lead the CHR/AC-formatted station in the fight for ratings. Berliner Rundfunk 91.4 lost its market leadership in the last survey, but the station saw an increase of 20% in reach, attracting a younger audience.

"There is no need for major changes in programming because my predecessor Rüdiger Kreklau already focused the programming perfectly in tune with the needs of the Berlin market," explains Schmidt.

Schmidt takes over from Kreklau (44), who, with his deputy Sebastian Fitzek (28), left the station to found their own consulting company and will advise the station in Berlin and Brandenburg.

Antje Schmidt has been working in radio for 12 years, including four years as deputy head of programming at commercial Hit Radio Antenne Niedersachsen and four years in the same position at commercial Radio ffn.

Alex Kind is editor-in-chief at Berliner Rundfunk 91.4 and has worked at the station since 1992.

NEW LOOK FOR PARLOPHONE PROMOTIONS

LONDON — Keith Wozencroft, managing director of Parlophone has announced a new structure to the label's promotions department, following the departure of director of promotions Malcolm Hill. Hill, who has worked for 26 years for EMI Records Group UK & Ireland, is taking up his new position as director of promotions for EMI Music Australia. New director of promotions, reporting directly to Wozencroft, is Steve Hayes, who was previously head of TV promotions. Taking his place will be Helena McGough, who worked most recently as senior promotions manager. Kevin McCabe is promoted to head of radio promotion Parlophone. He has been appointed from his current position as national promotions manager and head of regional promotions. Pictured left-to-right are Steve Hayes, Helena McGeough and Kevin McCabe.

ARS INKS UNIVERSAL DEAL

BRUSSELS — Antwerp-based ARS Productions has signed a distribution deal with Universal Music. The deal involves the company's new releases, back catalogue and compilation projects. ARS was previously distributed by Sony Music Belgium. "The main reason for the move was the fact that compilations become more and more important to us—with Universal Music we have access to a much broader catalogue compared to Sony Music," comments Patrick Busschots, managing director at ARS. Their first release will be Tina Bride's Get To You and a double-album compilation titled Ambi.

WOMEN TAKE OVER AT BBC RADIO 1

LONDON — BBC Radio 1's newest recruit, Nemone, has taken over the Saturday breakfast show, meaning all of the public broadcaster's breakfast shows are now hosted by women, with Sarah Cox weekdays, and Sarah HB on Sunday mornings. Nemone began her career on local radio in Manchester, where her Greek influences have shown through in her Olympic athletic achievements. Last year she became the Greater Manchester 400 metres champion. She takes over from Mark Goodier who is to concentrate on presenting the station's Official UK Top 40 show. Radio 1's other new recruit, Vicky Marsden has already taken to the air, providing holiday relief for other DJs, before she takes on overnights and the Saturday early breakfast show from the end of the month.

New release time is upon us and all the major labels are gearing up for the traditionally lucrative pre-Christmas market by preparing to launch major new releases—many of them long-awaited—into a highly charged marketplace.

In the second of a three-part report, Music & Media correspondents from Scandinavia and Holland preview the major label releases in their respective territories.

Medley's director of international exploitation. Meanwhile the season's big one for BMG will be Thomas Helmig, a sure seller whose Dream album was one of the best selling CDs of last year.

FINLAND

Despite its recent fixation with discovering new talent with international potential, the Finnish music scene will be dominated by major releases from established talent during the autumn. MOR station Radio Suomi is looking at a swarm of new titles with definite hit potential.

"The quality this autumn will make it tough even for established acts to get noticed," says Mika Suikkanen, music presenter at the station.

One of the most anticipated new albums comes from singer Kirka, celebrating his 50th birthday with the release of Suuri Hetki (Grand Moment). "His latest single Katheraa Katheraa viini (Bitter Wine) is already one of our most-played, and I'm sure more tracks will be lifted off the album," says Suikkanen. BMG's promotion manager Pekka Nieminen also has high hopes for the release: "Kirka is the most successful Finnish male-singer ever, having sold over a million copies of his albums."

Despite major releases catering to more traditional tastes, national CHR station Radiomafia will be keeping an eye on emerging genres, according to head of music Ville Vilen. "There is a lot of quality material coming out from the dance music and hip-hop scenes, music that can do well anywhere," he says.

Definite hit

Another eagerly awaited effort is trance-act Darude's debut Before The Storm. "That is a definite hit in Finland, thanks to two excellent singles and success abroad," Vilen says, referring to Darude's Sandstorm single which reached No.3 in the British charts during the summer. Nieminen at BMG says that the storm has yet to stop: "Things are happening all around, the single also went into the German top 10 recently."

Finnish-language rappers Fintelligens have been growing in popularity single by single, with extensive air-play especially on national CHR station Radiomafia, whose head of music Ville Vilen believes their debut Reenasssi (Renaissance): "Could be one of the biggest releases this autumn."

Established acts

A string of established male singers have new albums out, including Kari Vepsä, Kari Tapio, Riki Sorsa and in the younger generation Samuli Edelmann. Ultra Bra and Mamba can expect major radio play across the stations, the latter having reached a new high in popularity, after selling 70,000 copies of their compilation last year.

Veteran-rocker Ismo Alanko has a strong ethnic-influenced album out and Kalle Ahola, frontman of Don Huonot, has completed his first solo effort which is out in late September.

Leaning into alternative rock CMX has managed to become a regular on the Radiomafia playlist and their new album is an ambitious double. And in metal—traditionally a strong genre in Finland—the autumn's main release is Children of Bodom's new album, with which they aim to capture a new international audience.

NETHERLANDS

Major releases are arriving like leaves falling off the trees this fall in the Netherlands, with country diva Ilse DeLange's second-as yet untitled album (due out on Warner Brothers) among the most eagerly anticipated. With sales of around 400,000 copies her 1998 debut album World Of Hurt (Warner Bros) will be a tough act to follow, but she has help in the form of Nashville veteran Barry Beckett, who again took on production duties.

Marinus De Goederen, producer of Radio 3FM's daily show Isabelle, is especially looking forward to the second outing of Dyzack (Polydor) who could be the Dutch answer to Beck. "Both [Dutch-language rock bands] Skik (Polydor) and The Scene (Mercury) will guest on our show," he adds, underlining the potential impact of their releases too.

Somewhat surprisingly, nearly all the other top releases are Dutch-

NORWAY

It's all happening in Norway this autumn. Releases from big names like Espen Lind, Sissel Kyrkjebø, Jørn Hoel and Lars Lillo Stenberg will sit next to BigBang, Briskeby and Opus X's debut albums on the shop shelves.

Norwegian music has recently proved it can travel well, with artists like Lene Marlin, M2M and A-Ha making waves internationally, and the theme of the season seems to be the desire to take more Norwegian acts abroad.

"Norwegian repertoire is very impres-

set to lift the fall market

sive this autumn," says Mats Nilsson, managing director at Warner Music Norway. "We are in the process of feeding our colleagues in Europe with both BigBang and Multicyde," he reveals. NRK P3's head of music Marius Lillelien says: "I've heard all of BigBang's new album and it's very good." He is also a fan of Universal act Briskeby, saying: "I can't wait to hear the album!"

Optimistic

Universal are also optimistic about their repertoire. "It's one of the biggest autumns we've ever had," says Yngve Næss, head of local develanywhere.

Busy 25-year old EMI artist Bertine Zetlitz has released a book as well as her second album this year. Egil Houeland, head of music at Radio 102 particularly likes her single: "Adore Me is brilliant and I think it can probably do well elsewhere."

SWEDEN

In traditional Swedish fashion, the album repertoire from the country this season is packed with solid local acts as well as exportable world class artists, only this year things look better than ever.

"This is a strong autumn, fantastic compared to last year," says Stefan Gullberg MD EMI Svenska, who says that EMI's priorities this season will be two debut acts. "Modern pop act Stand Fast have recorded the best album that's been made in Sweden in ten years and I think they will also do very well internationally," says Gullberg. Stand Fast's first single before Christmas, and in the US and the rest of Europe in the new year. The first single To Be Able To Love is already out on radio in Sweden.

Top priorities

Per Sundin, managing director at Sony Music Entertainment Sweden, says that Sony's main priorities for the season are Peter Jöback and Magnus Uggle. Jöback's single Higher went to number two in the Swedish singles chart last week and the album will be released in Finland the week after its Swedish date, with Norway and Denmark expected to follow before Christmas. Swedish-singing Magnus Uggle is a local priority, but also has a fanbase in Norway, and Sundin expects the album to be released there as well.

Another Sony priority is Meja's second album which will be released later in the autumn.

Bertine Zetlitz

opment. He reveals that Universal has high ambitions for Espen Lind, who already has had an international hit with When Susannah Cries, and Briskeby whose first single Propaganda, according to Næss, could have been made and been a hit Carcashes goes to radio at the end of September, and will be followed by the duo's debut album, which was co-produced by Arnthov, who has worked with Ronan Keating, and Brad Gilderman who has worked with 98° and Madonna.

International break

EMI also has hopes for an international break-through for its other debut act Shimoli. "We played Shimoli's first single Damned, which was brilliant," says Wow 105.5's Marcus Önnestam. "[The station is] really more guitar based, but [Shimoli's] a good cross-over act." Both Stand Fast and Shimoli will be released in Scandinavia before going to the rest of Europe.

At Zomba, Jessica Folcker's new album Dino is a big priority, and will be released in Scandinavia in October, before hitting the Benelux countries

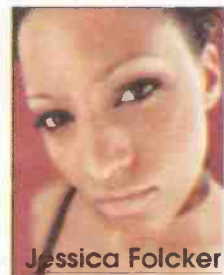

Warner's international exploitation manager Helene Wigren says that Dr. Bombay is back in a new guise as Scottish-inspired Dr. MacDoo, and the first Macahula Dance comes with a dance a la Macarena.

"The album will be released simultaneously throughout Scandinavia and the rest of Europe just after," says Wigren. Another priority is Tomas Andersson Wij. "He is a wonderful artist who sings in Swedish with strong lyrics, who could possibly be released in Norway as well," says Wigren.

The hit Big Big World made a name for Emilia in Europe and her second album is a priority for Universal this autumn. International exploitation manager Peter Hart says that "[from] what I've heard so far the album is very strong. We will be building on the success of the first album with this

BEN HARPER & THE INNOCENT CRIMINALS STEAL MY KISSES

Virgin

Release date: tbc

With the release of his first album Welcome To The Cruel World in 1994, Ben Harper instantly gained a reputation as one of the most creative and talented new artists in his native US. His latest album, Burn to Shine, released last year in the US, spent several months on Billboard's Top 200 chart and enlarged an already loyal fanbase. His music is an eclectic mix of blues, soul and rock. Harper has always looked to his musical roots which lie in the old blues tradition. Aiming to reach a diverse group of listeners, at the same time as keeping a high level of innovation, Harper connects with a wide audience, reaching from young hip-hoppers to reggae and Jimi Hendrix fans. Music director at AC station P5 Radio Stockholm Robert Sehlberg says, "Steal My Kisses is a happy, acoustic song with a perfect radio format." He continues, "Ben Harper inspired one of Sweden's famous artists, Eagle-Eye Cherry. He is Eagle-Eye's favourite artist and they sound alike as well."

Release date: August 28 (Germany)

Reamonn, formed at the end of 1998, comprise four German instrumentalists and an Irish singer. The band had immediate success with their first single Supergirl—released in Germany last March—which sold more than 350,000 copies according to Virgin. The follow up single, Josephine, a more relaxed song than the highly emotional Supergirl, came out at the end of August and quickly gained radio attention across Germany. The appeal of Reamonn's music is its immediacy and fervour. The band like to make music that reflects their lives—a mix of passion, energy, harmonies and noise. Their producer, UK-based Steve Lyon, has successfully worked with acts such as Depeche Mode, The Cure, and Paradise Lost. Reamonn are the first German band Lyon has worked with. Bernd Albrecht, head of music of Alternative ORB FRITZ/Potzdamm says: "We have been playing Josephine for a pretty long time now. Its easy going guitar-pop feel, with an edge, fits well into our freestyle format. Although we don't believe the song will have the same huge success as Supergirl, it's been well received by our listeners and is often being requested."

Currently playing at: Radio 21/Brussels, Oui FM/Paris, Radio France Le Mouv'/Toulouse, P5 Radio Stockholm/Stockholm.

Dance Beat

The weekly dance chart comment by Harald Roth

Going back to her roots is nothing new for the ever evolving Madonna (pictured during an early incarnation). This time she has returned to her dance music roots, in addition to her coiffeur, and it's proved to be a good move. Music (Maverick/Warner) climbs the final notch this week to become the 40th No.1 in the history of the chart.

Eighteen years after her first dance chart number one in the US—Everybody (Sire)—Madonna now has a worldwide hit and the cut features on 18 out of the 23 charts that contribute to the European Dance Traxx (debuting in Austria and Spain this week).

Only one track moves into the top ten. ATFC presents Onephatdeeva's Bad Habit (Defected) jumps from 11 to seven due to heavy sales. This represents progress for the act, whose last track In And Out Of My Life peaked at 11 last January.

Aussie duo Madison Avenue are in the fast lane to the top with the sophomore Who The Hell Are You (Vicious Grooves). Currently favoured in The UK, Scandinavia and the Czech Republic, a predicted high entry in the German sales chart should in turn send the cut into the Traxx top ten next week.

Italian act Floorfilla's Anthem (DFC/Expanded Music) series continues and becomes ever more successful. Anthem #1 didn't make the Traxx 40, but #2 reached 36 at the end of last January and #3 peaked at 20 last May. The current edition, Anthem #4, soars from 33 to 15 this week. The track performs well in its home market, Germany and Austria, as well as in the Italian dance track friendly country of France.

UK DJ Sonique's It Feels So Good (Serious) drops out of the chart's top ten this week. However, her new track, Sky (Serious), scores the highest new entry at 30. The UK and trancey Norway are the current supporters, but DJs in other territories are sure to reach for it shortly.

Germany's act André Tanneberger aka ATB teams up with York on The Fields of Love (Kontor) and it looks set to enter the chart next week. Fellow German DJ Tomcraft's Silence (Kosmo) is another contender.

On the air

M&M's weekly airplay analysis column

Whether apart or together, the Spice Girls still make a lot of noise.

Their latest single Holler (Virgin) has been added to playlists en masse across Europe. It enters the European Top 50 at 16 and must be in with a shout of a top ten ranking next week. It's the first single to be released from their new album, Forever, due out in November, their first for three years.

Spice member Mel B is especially busy this week, as her solo single Tell Me (Virgin) competes with the group effort and is new at 43.

Music director at Berlin station Hundert 6, Rainer Gruhn, has mixed feelings towards Holler. "It's a great chart single," he says, "but it's a bit too young for us. I need a song like Mel C's I Turn To You. Maybe I'll play Holler when it gets to the charts, or perhaps I'll wait for the album to come out and see if there's a Two Becomes One on it."

Hundert 6's output is evenly split between speech and music. Currently, the station is broadcasting numerous updates and information on the Olympic Games in Sydney, but Gruhn is not impressed with the availability of Olympics-themed music. "I have tried to get hold of songs performed at the opening ceremony, but I've not found anyone who can get them to me. It's not very well organised," he comments.

Gruhn is currently playing Eros Ramazzotti's Fuoco Nel Fuoco (DDD). "The track is a great hit," he says. Stations such as Radio NRW in Germany, M-80 in Spain and SR P3 in Sweden have also added the track, which is a new entry in both the Radio Top 50, at 37, and in the Border Breakers chart, at 4.

Hundert 6 still carries Robbie Williams' Rock DJ (Chrysalis), which drops to two on our chart this week, but Gruhn is planning to replace it with Williams' duet with Kylie Minogue entitled Kids (Chrysalis) shortly.

Swedish New Yorker Eagle-Eye Cherry is taking no shortcuts with Long Way Around. The song enters at 42 this week. Supporters include Virgin Radio in the UK, Wit FM in France and Radio Uptown in Denmark.

Billie Piper's Something Deep Inside (Virgin) enters at 48 and Mark Knopfler has no trouble going straight in at 49 with What It Is (Mercury).

Lenny Kravitz is on his way back with a Greatest Hits album in October. Again (Virgin) is the first single from the set and it looks likely to enter the chart next week. US artist Pink, who has let the colour go to her head, also is a strong contender with Most Girls (LaFace/Arista).

● For the record, incorrect additions were given for Virgin Radio in last week's Power Players. Also, in the same section, the photo of Galaxy's group head of music, Vaughan Hobbs, was inadvertently replaced by one of Gordon Crawford.

The European Radio Top 50 chart is based on a weighted-scoring system.

Songs score points by achieving airplay on all of M&M's reporting stations with contemporary music fulltime or during specific dayparts.

Stations are weighted by market size and by the number of hours per week.

preferential treatment to the detriment of competitors—and especially independent companies—to access cellular services and subscribers.”

The association is requesting that the European Commission ensures safeguards and guarantees are put in place to avoid a situation where the independent companies would be excluded from the emerging mobile platforms because of consolidation between operators of technical platforms and large content companies.

The document claims that Vivendi is involved in the largest mobile telephony group in the world, after Vivendi and mobile telephony giant Vodafone Air-Touch formed an alliance earlier this year, reaching 32.7 million cellular subscribers in France, Germany and the UK alone.

The position paper states: “The market of mobile devices is of strategic importance for the music industry, as it constitutes a very popular tool to access music. It is expected that within a few years a substantial portion of the phones sold will have multimedia capabilities. This provides a huge market potential for music companies that will be able to offer music services via new mobile channels.”

onto playlists with the single Tell Me and an album, Hot, following on October 16, and fellow Spice Victoria Beckham and Emma Bunton have charted amid considerable media hype with spin-off releases. Meanwhile, all four are back on the collective Spice rack on November 2 with the third Virgin album Forever, from which Holler, one side of the opening, double-bill single, is now at radio, with the other, Let Love Lead The Way due to premiere on October 6. But Melanie Chisholm is the only Spice Girl to walk it like she talks it, so to speak, by mounting a major European tour, which she is now rolling out to the accompaniment of continent-wide single and album success.

The album Northern Star, released last October and the recipient of an IFPI Platinum Europe Award in June for one million European sales, is surprising many by continuing its powerful run on M&M's European Top 100 Albums, where this week it stands at number 7. The album's longevity is underpinned by its latest single, I Turn To You, which followed Never Be The Same Again (featuring Lisa “Left Eye” Lopes) to number 1 in the UK in August. I Turn To You is at 4 on this week's Eurochart Hot 100 Singles, and at 5 on the European Radio Top 50.

I Turn To You continues to satisfy programmers such as Christian Jebens, head of music at Radio 1/Norway. “You bet we're playing it!” he says. “We saw it first on MTV and thought ‘we have to play that’. We've played all her singles

Impala adds: “The notified concentration represents a threat to the development of a healthy music market in the new digital environment, in particular in relation to wireless applications. Impala calls on the European Commission to scrutinise very closely this merger to appreciate all its consequences on the music market.”

UPFI's paper is close to Impala's in its analysis, says the organisation's general manager Jérôme Roger, but includes additional French aspects to it. “Because Vivendi is a French company and because of the situation of the French music market, there is a French dimension to the deal,” says Roger. He says Vivendi's leadership in the music sector in France, with a 35% market share combined with Vivendi's phone and Internet operations, “could create a dominant position and open the door to an abuse of that dominant position.”

European antitrust regulators will issue a first-phase decision on the proposed merger of Vivendi SA, Seagram Co., and Canal Plus SA by October 2. At that point, the European Commission will elect to either clear the deal or take it to a phase two examination over a four-month period.

except for the first one, Going Down. Never Be The Same Again was such a big hit and it kind of laid the base for I Turn To You. I think it's great the way she tries out different musical styles—out of all the Spicé Girls, she is definitely the one who has had the most success and the one who has managed to position herself the best musically.”

“I'm not the greatest singer on earth, but I want to take chances and have some fun,” says Chisholm, who defiantly rode out the antipathy of those elements of the British media more interested in her personal life than her music and who were swift to attack her tongue-in-cheek inclusion of the Sex Pistols' Anarchy In The UK in her early solo shows last year. Britain's weekly rock press chose to be outraged by her singing: “I am an antichrist, I am Sporty Spice” at her V99 festival date. “I mean, a Spice Girl doing a Sex Pistols song, it was the biggest pistake ever,” she laughs. After playing UK dates throughout September, she starts European concerts in Amsterdam on October 15.

“This has been a really rewarding project, ten months on and we're still going,” says Lorraine Barry, director of international at Virgin. “And this will definitely go on for another six months.” The only problem now, as Chisholm admits, is fitting in both collective and individual work schedules. “Being that there's four of us and a band, there's not enough months in the year, but it all promotes each other,” she says.

Richard Ogden Management has announced its first signing for world-wide artist management of Finnish duo The Bomfunk MCs. Former Sony Music Europe executive Ogden has been closely involved with the development of the group since the release of their first international single Freestyler at the end of last year. Pictured (l-r) are: Paul Russell (president Sony Music Europe), Richard Ogden, DJ Gismo, Raymond Ebanks (aka B.O.W.) and Matthew Sztumpf (Richard Ogden Management).

Pathé Marconi in France, owned by EMI and described in the undertaking document as having “a 3% market share”; DRO in Spain, a Warner property with a 3% share of the Spanish market; EMI-owned Minos in Greece with an 8% share; and CMC in Denmark, claiming a 16% share and owned by EMI. Parties agreed that they will not sell to either Universal or Sony, proposing BMG as a potential acquirer.

They have also offered to dispose of their joint venture distribution agreements, and of their joint ventures for the production and the distribution of compilations throughout the EEA [European Economic Area]. They will also dispose of their partnership in German music channel Viva.

On the music publishing side, EMI/Time Warner would sell, within a “reasonable period,” Virgin Songs (UK) and Magnet. In Scandinavia, Nordic catalogue Nordiska and Swedish outfits Fazer and Serious Music would be sold.

The parties also agreed to terminate several sub-publishing agreements which are currently either with EMI Music Publishing or Warner Chappell. These sub-publishing agreements concern catalogues such as Chrysalis, Walt Disney, 20th Century Fox, Dreyfus Music, Controversy, Cherry Lane and Fundamental Music among others.

The parties also undertake, as previously reported in M&M, not to withdraw from mechanical and performing rights collecting societies in the EEA for a period of five years, both for offline and online exploitation.

On the vertical issues linked to the AOL/Time Warner merger, the parties have submitted undertakings that consist of: a) not discriminating in favour of AOL in the online distribution of music, and b) supporting a wide format and software compatibility. For a period of five years, WEMI will make its catalogue available through, and compatible with, at least three encryption technologies, at least three compression/decompression technologies and at least three software music player technologies not owned by AOL, Time Warner or EMI.

In a statement EMI says the companies proposed a “balanced set of remedies intended comprehensively to address the issues raised by the Commission” during the September 6-7 hearings and the “statement of objections” issued by the Commission. The formal remedies, EMI says, are “intended to increase competition across the European music industry.”

However, one objecting party described the undertakings as “totally insufficient. It's well thought of, but I'm not convinced this will impress the Commission,” while another stated somewhat more bluntly: “It's bullshit.”

Jérôme Roger, general manager of France's indie labels body UPFI, says “the undertakings are a long way from satisfying us.” Philippe Kern, general secretary of European indies association Impala, declined to comment, citing a confidentiality agreement with the EC, but says that his organisation will file comment before the September 22 deadline. He thinks that the Commission will react during the weekend and “probably ask for more concessions.”

The Commission has until October 18 to deliver its final verdict on the EMI/Time Warner Group. Observers note that a meeting of the State members set for September 27 may well speed things up, as the Commission might be willing to present its decision on that occasion.

The deadline for AOL and Time Warner verdict is October 24. Some sources suggest that, as the Commission has already linked the fate of both mergers in the EMI/Time Warner statement of objections, it could as well decide that one merger is going to be cleared, but not both of them.

Impala chairman, Michel Lambot, is of the opinion that all the deals are linked, including the Vivendi/Seagram merger: “The acquisition and concentration of a large musical catalogue by a few dominant delivery operators poses a threat to consumers' choice and the economic viability of independent production and distribution.” He added, “We have a simple message: If concentration is allowed, the diverse and innovative independent music sector will become extinct.”

Hotline

Edited by Emmanuel Legrand

Hotline hears that UMI's VP marketing/international repertoire Monica Marin has left the company. The reason for her departure is not known. In non-related news, former VP marketing/MCA Yoel Kenan, is returning to UMI after a six-month hiatus during which he worked for Internet company eveo.com. Kenan is believed to join a new online unit being put together under UMI executive vice president Tim Bowen.

More changes at Universal. Universal Music Netherlands A&R director Paul Zijlstra is to leave his post on October 1. He will remain active in the music industry as an A&R consultant at his own company, Bula Music, with EMI Music as his first big client. Zijlstra tells Hotline that his split from Universal was amicable.

How fast things move in the virtual world. We report on page five of a new site launched by Swedish company Spray Networks. At time of going to press, news is coming in that ISP Lycos Europe (a joint venture between Lycos Inc and Bertelsmann) has acquired the company through a share-swapping transaction worth Skr 5.7 billion (€ 0.67million).

Two record companies are on the move in Paris... EMI and Warner Music. EMI is planning to re-enter Paris after more than a decade in the suburban city of Issy-les-Moulineaux, while Warner Music will unite its two labels WEA and East West, which were in separate locations in a single building.

Matthias Immel leaves BMG Entertainment Germany at the end of October. He was responsible for online activities and of the marketing co-ordination of national artists since 1994. No replacement has been announced.

Hotline understands that several of WEA Records UK artists have been let go, following the arrival of new managing director John Reid. Speculation has focused on R&B-oriented artists Mark Morrison and Shola Ama, among others.

European music e-tailer Boxman has indefinitely postponed its initial public offering. Instead, it is seeking additional capital from its shareholders. Boxman earlier this year announced plans to go public in London and Stockholm.

UK radio group GWR, through its new media arm ecast ventures, has become the first UK company to sign a deal with US company Hiwire, which provides a technology allowing the insertion of targeted ads in to audio streaming.

The management of NRJ Group has made clear that they don't intend to sell their comedy/AC station Rire et Chansons to comply with ownership regulations following the acquisition of RMC. The group would rather dispose from the long wave transmitters used by RMC to fall below the 150 million cumulative potential listeners with all its five networks.

The power of radio... A fuel crisis was provoked across the UK after a presenter and his side-kick on Capital Radio-owned Welsh station Red Dragon implied that new petrol blockades were underway. Police say motorists put petrol stations under siege as the rumour spread. The UK's radio watchdog the Radio Authority has asked for tapes of the show and will rule if it constitutes a breach of the Broadcasting Act.

Finally, Hotline welcomes the birth of Frida Kristine to M&M correspondent in Norway, Kai R. Lofthus, and his partner Kristin.

This chart tracks the border-crossing movement of product. The Border Breakers chart ranks the 25 most successful Continental European records making airplay impact outside their country of signing (airplay achieved in the original country is excluded from the calculations).
