PUBLIC CRITICISM FOR P4

Norway's national commercial AC station, P4, has been slammed by broadcast council AKR for its lack of speech and musical diversity. Page 3

DAY THE MUSIC DIED

On June 11, all of Spain's main music stations abstained from playing music for an hour in order to underline the importance of music in people's lives and to highlight the threat the industry faces from piracy. Page 4

Capital restructuring turns to programming

by Jon Heasman

LONDON — Following last week's announcement that Capital Radio is dispensing with the managing director's position at all of its stations (M&M, June 22) comes news of significant changes in the UK radio group's programming structure.

Ric Blaxhill (pictured, above left) is the new programme controller of London CHR powerhouse 95.8 Capital FM, while that job's previous incumbent, Jeff Smith (pictured centre), is moving to the new position of head of music and strategy for the Capital FM Network, a newly-created brand division which incorporates Capital FM/London and all the group's other CHR-formatted stations, plus dance/alternative rock station Beat 106 in Glasgow.

In his new role, Smith will report to John O'Hara (pictured, right) who, since his recruitment from the dying members of Atlantic 252 earlier this year, has been responsible for the programming of Capital's CHR stations outside of London, but who now adds London responsibilities in his new title of Capital FM Network brand programme director.

Slow-burn Kravitz returns to Eurochart

by Chris Barrett

LONDON — Despite Lenny Kravitz's rock icon status, his popularity in Europe has fluctuated considerably since his debut LP Let Love Rule (Virgin) first thrust him into the international spotlight back in 1989.

Now, with a 20-date European tour—which began in Germany on May 18 and included his first UK performance in three years—Kravitz's renewed focus on the territory has seen his latest single Stillness Of Heart (Virgin) finally enter M&M's Eurochart Hot 100 a month after release.

The slowness of pick-up in sales contrasts with the considerable amount of radio support which the single—originally continued on page 17

Italian industry looks to budget for CD tax cut

by Mark Worden

MILAN — The Italian music industry is waiting to see whether the government will bow to pressure and lower the sales tax on CDs in its forthcoming budget.

After a petition signed by 150 artists was carried as a full-page advertisement in two major daily newspapers, Italian music executives are confident they have finally persuaded the government to lower the sales tax (IVA) from its current 20% rate.

The petition, which took the form of an open letter to prime minister Silvio Berlusconi, finance minister Giulio

by Emmanuel Legrand, Music & Media editor-in-chief

Not much attention has been paid outside of Spain to the unique Day Without Music initiative (see story, page 4).

The country's leading music radio stations (including Los 40 and Cadena 100) ceased to play music for an hour on June 11, while key retailers shut for a symbolic few minutes.

The event had been reduced in scope from what was initially planned—no music all day—but it was nevertheless a success for the Spanish music industry in the sense that it managed to enlist the support of radio and retail to address one of the biggest problems currently facing the industry—piracy.

Getting radio stations to halt their regular programming is not an easy task, and a project like this one can only work if all parties involved agree to do it and no one breaks ranks (in this instance, the only station not to play the game was the highly elitist alternative public broadcaster RNE Radio 3...).

By teaming up with their most natural and oldest partners (media and retail) to reach a wider audience to convey their message, the Spanish labels—supported by the IFPI—have shown that proper, co-ordinated action can pay off. Both retail and radio have a vested interest in helping the music industry fight piracy, and this unprecedented joint effort will almost certainly have been more effective in drawing the public's attention to piracy problems than traditional campaigns.

Now, what has been done at a Spanish level must be replicated throughout Europe. Other countries, especially Germany, Holland and France—the three territories most affected by CD burning and online piracy—should be inspired to follow suit. Even the UK, which is starting to recognise the impact of piracy on its sales, could join the party.

This would also be a great lobbying tool for the whole industry, and another way of grabbing the attention of both national and European politicians. In a recent address to Spanish politicians and industry executives, EMI Recorded Music CEO Alain Levy blamed politicians for trying to befriending the younger generation by endorsing the idea that free or cheap music is cool.

So far, the music industry has not been very successful in trying to reverse that way of thinking (demagoguery and populism are the two dominant drivers for most politicians), but if they are suddenly joined by influential media outlets and established retailers, the message becomes suddenly much more powerful and will force politicians to sit up and take notice.

P4 under fire from media authority

by Kai R. Lofthus

OSLO — Norwegian broadcasting council the AKR, part of media authority SMF, is urging national commercial AC station P4 to pursue greater diversity in its output.

In its annual report, the council says it found that P4's "music/speech ratio leans [too much] in favour of music, which we doubt can give room for enough programming diversity." The report continues: "Our survey also shows that P4 is consistently applying its general music format in all dayparts, and that an uncomplicated presenter style dominates. The variety of programming has been significantly reduced since January 1, 2002."

The criticism from AKR comes ahead of the country's forthcoming radio licensing round.

After abandoning the idea of a straight cash auction as a means of allocating 10-year national commercial radio licences (M&M, May 11), the Norwegian government now favours keeping a "beauty parade" licensing system, but also introducing a one-off fee to paid by successful applicants of Nkr 160 million (euros 21.5 million). This system will apply to both P4's licence renewal and a new licence for a second national commercial radio station.

P4 programme director Otto

Haug (pictured) doesn't believe the public criticism in the report will hamper his station's chances of retaining its licence. "We just have to agree that [AKR] and P4 disagree," he says. "But if you look at the report in its entirety, I think it confirms that the editorial efforts we've made over the past year are keeping P4 on the right track."

The AKR is also looking at the amount of local music played on the radio. Chairman of indie labels' body FONO, Larry Bringsjord, says the body has had a number of meetings with P4 about the broadcaster increasing the amount of Norwegian music it airs. "I don't think they're negative towards Norwegian music," he says, "but the process is just taking a very long time."

RMC aims to satisfy hunger for information

by Mark Worden

MILAN — Radio Montecarlo (RMC), the Milan-based AC network owned by the Hazan family's Finelco company, has significantly increased its speech content.

Hourly news bulletins have been extended from three to five minutes, while well-known Italian TV journalist Gad Lerner has been hired to provide one-minute commentaries on the news at 08.00 and 13.00, as well as a four-minute slot during RMC's evening show.

Paolo Del Forno (pictured), who is head of news for both RMC and another Finelco station, CHR-formatted Radio 105, tells M&M: "I wouldn't describe this as a change in format, so much as an adaptation. Research has shown that listeners in the 35 to 44 age group, who form our main target audience—as opposed to the younger Radio 105 audience—want more in-depth coverage, and not just in terms of news."

The newly-extended news bulletins will also contain lifestyle information on areas ranging from holidays to health and fitness.

Del Forno says the change is not a consequence of September 11, but "a desire for greater information" on the part of listeners.

According the last official Audiradio ratings for the first quarter of this year, RMC's average daily audience was 2.186 million. Says

Del Forno: "We tend to feel that Audiradio's figures aren't particularly scientific, but obviously we're hoping to increase our audience."

Radio Montecarlo's luring of Lerner from TV is something of a coup. After resigning as director of RAI 1 TV news over a controversial report on child pornography, Lerner initially switched to La 7 TV station (formerly Telemon-tecarlo 2), where he co-hosted a discussion show with Giuliano Ferrara.

Says Del Forno: "We are obviously honoured to have him on board, even if the feeling is that this is transitory and that he will eventually return to the RAI."

R3 breaks ranks on 'no music' day

by Howell Llewellyn

MADRID — Spain's "big five" music networks, which between them account for some 85% of Spanish music radio listening, all supported Spain's co-ordinated protest against piracy—the Day Without Music—on June 11.

The big networks—SER's Los 40 Principales (CHR), Cadena DIAL (latino), M-80 (AC//Gold), Radiolé (national music) and COPE's AC network Cadena 100—were joined by many smaller outlets, such as Madrid CHR Top Radio, which all stopped playing music during the designated hour of 13:00 to 14:00.

Instead, the stations broadcast events at Madrid's Fine Arts Circle, the focal point of the protest, where several artists recited the lyrics to their songs and an anti-piracy manifesto was read out by musician Teo Cardalda.

However, public alternative music station RNE Radio 3 decided to ignore the "no music" hour and played music throughout.

Radio 3's programme director Geraldo Belod defended the decision not to participate. "There was no interest from [station] director Federico Volpini, myself or anybody else here in uniting with this event, for the simple reason that Radio 3 is a radio station with content as well as music," he says. "Speech prevails over the music, so it was not seen as fitting or proper to support the protest."

"I thought a radically-inclined network such as Radio 3 would have come on board," says Cadena 100 director Jordi Casoliva. "We have put ourselves at the services of [labels' body] AFYVE who organised this, and for the first time in history the main music networks all broadcast the same programme in an act of solidarity."

A staggered closing of record stores began after 14:00, with outlets staying shut for a symbolic few minutes, with the protest moving to Barcelona between 16:00-18:00.

The Day Without Music failed to deter the music pirates from going about their normal business, however, with illegal street vendors continuing to sell pirated CDs for a sixth of the normal price within metres of the protests and meetings.

ERA launches ethnic station in Greece

by Maria Paravantes

ATHENS — Filia 1386AM has gone on air as the first multi-lingual station in Greece, catering to the needs of some one million economic migrants living in the country.

Under the aegis of public broadcaster ERA, Filia—meaning "friendship" in Greek—was set up two years ago as a pilot project of international service ERA-5-The Voice of Greece, which has been broadcasting to Greeks living abroad for decades.

"We've taken the know-how from The Voice of Greece programmes aimed at expatriot Greeks, and all the experience we've gained with the Greek community abroad, and decided to do the same for emigrants living and working in Greece," explains programme director Zinovia Vogiatzoglou.

Besides broadcasting BBC World news bulletins every half hour, the nationwide, 18-hour service airs programmes in 12 different languages: German, French, English, Spanish, Polish, Bulgarian, Romanian, Russian, Turkish, Albanian, Serbian and Arabic.

The station plays traditional music from the 12 territories, as well as live sessions and interviews with foreign groups or artists present in Greece.

It also broadcasts news bulletins sourced directly from abroad and includes "foreign-language programmes of political and cultural interest aimed at foreign communities here," Vogiatzoglou tells M&M.

Greek media minister Christos Protopappas officially launched the station, describing the initiative as "a political answer to xenophobia and racism."

Vogiatzoglou, also head of ERA-5, says she expects Filia will be able to broadcast on a 24-hour basis on the FM band as early as this September.

BPI TO REASSESS CHAIRMAN'S ROLE

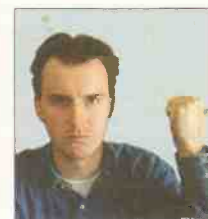

LONDON — When long-standing chairman Rob Dickens (pictured) steps down at the BPI's annual general meeting on July 3, the UK labels' body will launch a review of the chairman's role until a successor to Dickens is found. During the review, BPI director general Andrew Yeates will chair the meetings of the organisation's ruling council. A committee of six council members will conduct the review: First Night Records' managing director John Craig, Universal Music UK chairman/CEO Lucian Grainge, Telstar Records chairman Sean O'Brien, Warner Music UK chairman Nick Phillips, Sony Music Entertainment UK chairman/CEO Rob Stringer, and EMI Recorded Music UK & Ireland chairman/CEO Tony Wadsworth. One topic likely to be discussed will be the creation of a full-time, paid executive chairman post; the chairman has traditionally been the head of a major label. The review will also assess the BPI's working committees.

MTV CLASSIC TO LAUNCH IN POLAND

WARSAW — Following the success of MTV Polska, MTV Networks is to launch MTV Classic in Poland on June 29. The new 24-hour music TV channel, which targets viewers aged 25-40, will focus on classic hits from the past 40 years and will be programmed primarily in Polish. Although the channel replaces VH-1 European, some VH-1 programming strands such as Behind The Music and Storytellers will appear on the new channel. MTV Classic will be launched with a concert featuring Polish acts including Bajm, Budka Suflera, Lady Pank and T. Love.

C-DANCE AIRS ULTRATOP CHART

BRUSSELS — Flemish dance network C-Dance has begun broadcasting Belgium's Top 30 national dance chart, which public broadcaster VRT's alternative music station StuBru ceased broadcasting in September 2000. The move comes in the wake of an agreement between chart publishers Ultratop and VRT, which allows the chart to be broadcast on other stations if VRT is not exploiting its previously-agreed broadcast rights. The chart show is presented by Steve Hillen (pictured) and runs on Saturdays (15.00-18.00). Music TV channel TMF Flanders also runs the dance chart on Fridays and Saturdays (21.00-23.00).

TELLE LAUNCHES PUNK LABEL

OSLO — Tellé Records owner Mikal Telle, who released music by Röyksopp and Kings Of Convenience prior to them being signed in the UK, is set to explore the punk rock genre with new sub-label, Primitive Records. Initial signings on Primitive include Team Spirit, Kids Like US and JR Ewing. The latter recently announced it has struck a distribution deal for their latest record, Ride Paranoia, with US-based Gold Standard Laboratories for the world outside Norway.

MOVING CHAIRS

PARIS — Camille Trumer has been appointed VP of BMG Music France, a newly-created position. Trumer arrives from EMI Music France, where he was director general.

DUBLIN — Helen Shaw (pictured) has stepped down as director of Republic of Ireland public broadcaster RTE Radio, which operates CHR station 2FM, classical station Lyric FM and talk station RTE 1. Shaw is leaving, five years after taking up the post, to undertake a one-year international fellowship at Harvard University in the US.

SPACE & DETAILS FROM A PHOTOGRAPH BY WILFRID ROUFF

You heard it from the great Vines

by Chris Barrett

While Kylie feeds the relentless international appetite for pop, fellow Australians The Vines are providing sustenance to the growing alternative market. Relentless media hype has hailed them as the next Nirvana and there is little doubt their forthcoming album Highly Evolved (released via Capitol Records on July 15) is one of the most promising debuts of the year.

Recorded in L.A., Highly Evolved was produced by Rob Schnapf (Beck/FooFighters) over the latter six months of 2001. The four piece's raucous blend of melodic guitar-pop and grungy psychedelia first caught the attention of press and radio programmers in early April 2002, following the UK release of their debut single (also entitled) Highly Evolved. "It was one-and-a-half minutes of pure pop energy from a band who, by the sound of their new album, have thrown down the gauntlet to The Strokes and The Hives and are saying 'better that if you can!'" enthuses James Curran, head of music at UK rock station Virgin Radio.

To coincide with a full UK tour in June that culminates at the Glastonbury Festival on June 29, The Vines released the follow-up single Get Free on June 17, complete with a stunning video directed by Roman Coppola (son of Francis Ford), that has won them further friends at both music television—where it is playlisted at MTV2—and radio. Andy Ashton, head of music at London alternative station Xfm, says, "Everyone seems to be losing their minds over The Vines. This is a band hell-bent on expressing themselves in an honest yet explosive fashion. The new single Get Free may sound like a Nirvana tribute but dig beneath the surface and you will find it is more than an ode to them."

To help promote the album, a 21-date North American tour is planned for July. Taking in radio stations, summer festivals, solo dates and appearances on the David Letterman Show and MTV's Live From The Rock N' Roll Hall of Fame, it's a far cry from turning burgers at McDonalds in Connells Point, Sydney, where the band first met. The feisty group of 24-year-olds were first discovered following an appearance on a community radio station in Sydney called FBI, while their band name comes from the father of frontman Craig Nicholls who once played guitar in '60s pop group The Vines.

While Get Free is currently being promoted to radio in the US, Highly Evolved will make The Vines fist mark on the US music shelves, a week after the UK. Although signed to Capitol Records in LA, it's the EMI Recorded Music UK imprint Heavenly Recordings that has been instrumental in giving the band their first commercial release. Robin Turner, head of A&R at Heavenly is extremely passionate about the act: "What attracted our attention was a 19-track demo—the first song sounded like The Stooges and the second The Stone Roses circa their debut album. I thought anyone that can cross those two boundaries within five minutes is staggeringly good". Turner is no less enthusiastic about their live performances. "I went over to see their first American gig at The Viper Rooms in September," he says, "and Craig is one of the greatest performers I've ever seen."

Reggae's Journey to Germany

by Miriam Hubner

"There is definitely a great deal of media interest in reggae in Germany at the moment," says Tilmann Otto, aka Gentleman. "Ten years ago, when I started out, there was no reggae culture."

The change, he believes, is "due to the success of acts like Seeed (who won an Echo award), Jan Delay and Flame—there are reggae tracks in the German charts now".

Indeed there are, and one of them is Gentleman's Journey To Jah (FourMusic), which entered the album charts at 19 following its March 25 release. The first cut off the album, Leave Us Alone, was playlisted on music TV channel VIVA and by radio stations across the country the same month, setting up the June 10 release of sophomore single Dem Gone.

Journey To Jah features collaborations with the cream of Jamaican reggae such as Bounty Killer, Morgan Heritage and Luciano. "We are not a major label with a big cheque book—these artists work with Gentleman because they enjoy working with him, not for the money," says the artist's product manager Mark

Loescher. At first, it was not easy to secure airplay for a reggae track, continues Loescher. "Music TV and radio are the same—they always look what the other is doing," he says. "If you don't get airplay on mainstream radio, no music television channel in Germany will play the track and vice-versa."

"We playlisted both Gentleman singles," says Frank Eckert, head of music at CHR station HR XXL in Frankfurt. "Journey To Jah is a brilliant album and when he tours Germany throughout the summer, I am sure that he will develop from Germany's reggae ambassador to a universal artist. And by universal I mean global!"

Loescher says plans are in place to release the album internationally. "Through our current label deal we are tied to Columbia, and we are talking to Columbia A&Rs all over the world about possible releases. However, we have not ruled out going with independents in the future. For us, it's not important to find a big label with a lot of money, but rather to find someone that shares our vision and is also musically on the same wave length."

DANCE GROOVES

by Gary Smith

WALL OF SOUND

A brilliant first release from new Dutch imprint Pitch Records comes in the form of DJ Jeroenski's Climb The Wall. Combining the best of tech-house (a solid, upful funky groove and phat textures) with some choice vocal samples and furious organ riffing, is sure to see this highly atmospheric yet pumping tune become an Ibiza classic. B-side Beat Break is a darkly funky affair with a monkish/trance chant and dramatic piano. Both tracks seem destined for big things.

SOMEBODY IN NEED

One of the rash of new releases from Italian label Time Records Need Somebody (Who Needs Me) by Echoes of Sound (Time/Italy) is rapidly picking up airplay in Italy. Meanwhile, licensee WEA Germany has decided on a budget of euros 40,000 for a videoclip that is to be filmed at the end of June. "We'll have two big remixes from JCA, the French team and from Olaf Diekmann who works under the names Wippenberg and Aquagen," says Paolo Caputo, Time records promotion manager. "His last remixes for Fragma, Marc Et Claude and Blank & Jones were Top 10 hits around the world."

EXTRAORDINARY

Parisian-based DJ/Producer Olaf

Hund is back with a playfully thumpy tune called Carino Mio (Musiques Hybrides/France). Alongside its deep and nasty bass end, the track also features a semi-operatic vocal, sassy horns and clattering electro influences. Hund's previous work has most usually been typified by a careful, minimalist approach allied to the sort of playful eclecticism often heard in his DJ sets. In its production style, Carino Mio carries on that idea but the track is also shot-through with all manner of frippery including distorted guitar and manic brass riffing in a manner reminiscent of Earth Wind & Fire.

Leonard de Leonard's Naked Kung Fu Cowboy, from the same label sampler, is another pleasantly off-kilter tune with a hypnotic, dirty bass figure supporting scratching, space themes and a Theramin. Noiz 1, also by Leonard de Leonard, is nothing like the title suggests. Kicking-in with a lazy reggae shuffle and steel guitar the track is perfect for a laid-back afternoon on the beach, preferably in a hammock. Both artists, alongside new signings like Hack-Tao, Dwarf Punk and Coumac et Les Magiciens D'Ondes, are planning to do a series of shows in a circus tent in France this summer under the collective name FreeCX.

STRANGE RELATIONSHIPS
(Columbia)

Release date: July 8
Darren Hayes, the familiar voice of Savage Garden, has resurfaced as a solo artist. Hayes began co-producing and co-writing his solo album Spin—released in March 2002—after he split two years ago with the other half of Savage Garden, Daniel Jones. On his new album, the Australian's smooth voice resonates throughout the 12 tracks, which mostly deal with love and relationships (thus covering much the same ground as Savage Garden). Appealing mainly to AC but also to softer CHR stations, Hayes' new single Strange Relationship combines strings and mixed electronic beats to complement the varying emotions of his lyrics. The song confronts an individual's frustration at feeling suffocated in a game-playing relationship. Stuart Davis, programme director of CHR station Fox FM in Oxford, UK, says: "He was the voice behind Savage Garden, and this is very similar. The fanbase will move over immediately. It was a clever transition, and it has gone over really smoothly." MR

Currently playing at: Bayern 3/Germany, DR P3/Denmark, 95.8 Capital FM/UK, BBC Radio 2/UK, RTL Radio Letzeburg/Luxembourg

ARE YOU IN?
(Epic)

Release date: July 15
Are You In is the latest cut from Incubus' sixth album Morning View, which came out last year. The track was featured in M&M's Rock CD four weeks ago and enjoys growing success with European programmers. A slow-moving, melodic and funky track with a catchy refrain, Are You In was recorded in Malibu, and has captured the area's sunny energy. The Californian rock outfit formed seven years ago and have so far sold over two million albums.

Frank Kuffer, head of music at alternative station Couleur 3 in Lausanne, Switzerland says: "We playlisted the track right away because we like it, but we have supported Incubus from the beginning. When we first playlisted the track, the label wasn't sure whether it would be commercially released as a single or not. We're also still playing their previous single, Nice To Know You. I would describe Are You In as a pop song—Incubus are normally a lot more rocky. It's their 'easiest' song to date and it fits the summer season very well; I don't think they would have released this song in December. However, Incubus have always been open to lots of different music." MH

Currently playing at: Couleur 3/Switzerland, Danmarks Radio P3/Denmark, XFM 104.9/UK, 101 Network/Italy, Radio DeeJay Network/Italy, MTV/European Feed

DANCE BEAT

The weekly dance chart comment by Harald Roth

While Mad'House's Like A Prayer (Bio Records) is sitting pretty at number two on the European Dance Traxx chart this week, its follow-up Holiday (Bio Records) is already moving rapidly up the chart, jumping from 20 to six.

Moby's (pictured) We Are All Made of Stars (Mute) climbs to five, while Eminem's Without Me (Web/Aftermath/Interscope) moves from 14 to seven this week with debuts in France and the Czech Republic. Also entering the top 10, Aquagen feat. Rozalla's Everybody's Free (Dos or Die) moves up four notches to nine.

While the Dance Traxx number one exactly one year ago was Faithless' We Come 1 (Cheeky), and five years ago was Sash's Ecuador (X-it), this week sees Swiss act Shakedown's At Night (Naive) hold the number one crown on the chart for a third week. However, at number three, Italy's Moony has been enjoying increasing support. Originally the voice behind the recent chart-topper Point Of View by DB Boulevard, Moony's very own Dove (I'll Be Loving You) (Airplane!) tops this week's Movers chart and has a good chance of reaching the top spot.

Two tracks made big jumps into this week's top 20. High-flying Belgian label A&S Records has another surefire hit with Dee Dee's Forever, moving up from 29 to 13. And Blank & Jones's summer-sounding Watching The Waves (Gang Go) is up to 16 from 28, enjoying massive support in the Netherlands.

Meanwhile, strong debuts in the UK and Ireland are responsible for Art Of Trance's classic Madagascar (Platipus), which re-enters the chart at nine and scores the award for the biggest gain at dance retail.

The highest new entry this week is UK funk king Jamiroquai's Main Vein (Soho Square) which comes in at 36 on the basis of club play in the UK only.

THIS WEEK'S MOVERS

M&M's weekly airplay analysis column

Already a slow-moving creature, the heat has done nothing to speed up the dynamics of the European Radio Top 50. Also, the World Cup is clearly occupying a lot of programmers' attention—as evident in the success of World Cup-related songs A Little Less Conversation (RCA), which climbs up from 12 to seven this week, and Anastacia's Boom (Epic) which makes it to 34 in its second week on the chart.

Two of the big movies of the summer, Spiderman and the Men In Black sequel MIIB, are also having an impact at European radio. Spiderman theme Hero (Roadrunner), performed by Nickelback front-man Chad Kroeger and Saliva's Josey Scott, is quickly gaining ground in most formats, and shoots up from 26 to 15 this week. And artist/actor Will Smith returns to the airplay chart with the Men In Black theme tune Black Suits Comin' (Nod Ya Head) (Columbia), in at 47 this week as the one and only new entry.

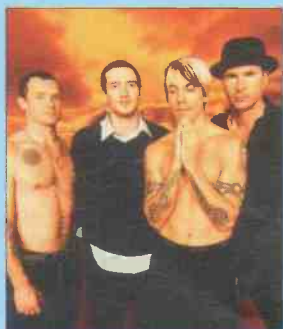

"We've always played Will Smith—all of his hits," says Robert Sehlberg, head of music at Dance/CHR station Power Hit Radio in Stockholm. "This is more rocky than his earlier material, and it's got a good, catchy chorus. Will Smith has an image and an attitude which is exactly right for us." The film premieres in Stockholm in mid-July, and Sehlberg expects a certain level of hype, since Smith himself is expected to attend. "His last film was a success in Sweden," he notes.

A favourite track of Sehlberg's, Nelly's (pictured) Hot In Here (Fo'Reel), is "a potential summer hit on Power Hit Radio." Nelly both raps and sings, it's a summery mid-tempo cut with a good chorus." Already a hit at US radio, the track is now starting to pick up airplay in Europe, and could enter the European Radio Top 50 very soon. Sehlberg also tips Jennifer Lopez feat. Nas' I'm Gonna Be Alright (Columbia) as one of the big airplay hits of the summer. Another a hit Stateside, the track is enjoying a lot of airtime on MTV's feeds in Europe, and CHR outlets including Emap's Big City stations in the UK, Radio Viborg in Denmark and NRK Petre in Norway have all picked it up this week, which could mean a Radio Top 50 chart entry soon.

Meanwhile, Red Hot Chili Peppers (pictured) return in style with By The Way (Warner Bros.), which tops the Most Added listing for the third week running and leaps up from 34 to 18 in its second week on the top 50.

Hopefuls for next week include Destiny's Child front woman Beyonce Knowles' Work It Out (Columbia)—another film-related cut taken from forthcoming Austin Powers release Goldmember, in which Knowles stars—and UK Pop Idol Gareth Gates' Anyone Of Us (Stupid Mistake) (S/RCA).

The European Radio Top 50 chart is based on a weighted-scoring system. Songs score points by achieving airplay on all of M&M's reporting stations with contemporary music fulltime or during specific dayparts. Stations are weighted by market size and by the number of hours per week. TW = This Week, LW = Last Week, NE = New Entry, TS = Total Stations. Indicates singles which previously featured in the Border Breakers chart. Highest New Entry Greatest chart points gainer

At Capital's flagship London FM station, one-time producer of BBC TV show Top Of The Pops Blaxhill moves up from the deputy programme controller's position he has been occupying since his appointment earlier this year, and, like Smith, will report to O'Hara.

The role of group programme and content director Keith Pringle, meanwhile, is described by an insider as a "super-consultant" overseeing all of Capital's brands—the Capital FM Network (CHR), Capital Gold (Gold), Century FM (AC/talk, also incorporating AC station Ocean FM/Portsmouth) and Xfm (Alternative Rock)—and working on the group's longer-term programming strategies. He will also personally oversee the group's news operation.

Following a more youthful programming approach designed to head off the challenge of dance station Kiss 100, Capital FM/London has had a bumpy ride in the ratings lately, slumping to an all-time low share of 10.0% in the most recent RAJAR survey. But Smith refutes any suggestion that his new role—which bears similarities to his previous head of music policy position at public CHR BBC Radio 1—is any kind of demotion. "If it had just been a head of music role then it wouldn't have been what I wanted to do," he says. "But what it has given me is the opportunity to extend a lot of things we've learnt at Capital FM in London across the whole network."

In his new role, Smith has already announced his intention to create a common Capital FM Network playlist, which will apply to all Capital's CHR services. "I'm hoping for the benefit of the music industry to deliver a group A and B list which will be an accurate preview of what's going to be played next week across the Capital FM Network," he says. Noting, however, that there may be some differences in rotation levels and possibly back-catalogue between stations, Smith adds: "What I won't say is that every station will be playing the same song at the same time."

In addition to the common playlist, Capital also intends, if the right talent becomes available, to increase the amount of networking on its CHR stations, while staying within Radio Authority guidelines. The first manifestation of this will be a new weekday late show to be presented by Steve Penk, who is returning to Capital after an unsuccessful period on the breakfast show at national rock station Virgin Radio.

Smith admits that more networking and a centralised playlist will, to some extent, downgrade the current role of Capital's local programme controllers. On the other hand, says

Smith, they are likely to have more power since, in the absence of local station MDs, they will in most cases become "the most senior person at the station."

The changes bring Capital into line with the UK's other two big radio groups, GWR and Emap, which both operate centralised playlists for their local CHR stations and both utilise networking.

At Emap, this is a relatively recent development, but the GWR Group has operated in this way for some years, and some in the industry attribute the fall in ratings at its "Mix" chain of CHR stations in recent times directly to it. "GWR did it from a different position altogether," claims Smith. "We're doing it from a position of trying to celebrate and develop our brands, actually investing in people and resources. Shared programming and playlists, we believe, will enhance the listening experience."

nally released March 25—has received in Europe. Its playlisting by Switzerland's Radio 24, Germany's RTL Berlin and Antenne Bayern/Munich, and France's WIT FM (all CHR), to name but a few, has enabled the single to maintain a footing on M&M's European Radio Top 50 for a solid 18 weeks.

The single's initial inability to shift units is exemplified by its story in the UK market, where Stillness Of Heart—the third single to be taken from Kravitz's sixth studio album Lenny released in November last year—failed to sell despite being A-listed at London CHR station 95.8 Capital FM and B-listed at public AC/MOR network BBC Radio 2.

Sheena Mason, head of music at Capital FM, says: "Stillness Of Heart was a great radio record that added breadth to our playlist. Unfortunately, it didn't translate in terms of a chart position."

Colin Martin, Radio 2's executive producer, music is also a supporter of the track. "Lenny's last single was chosen for Single of the Week on Radio 2 and featured on our B-list for a number of weeks," he reports. "We liked it, not because he's this famous American superstar—but because it was a genuine radio record."

Andy Tribe, UK product manager at Virgin, believes that radio support and, in particular, Kravitz's live work in Europe, should see the artist regain the kind of retail momentum that caused 2000's Greatest Hits collection to sell in excess of eight million copies worldwide.

"Hopefully what we have done is create a base on which we can build with the new record," Tribe says. "But it's not going to happen overnight," he warns. "It's about changing people's perception of an artist who, having sold millions of albums, is sometimes incorrectly considered to be almost a heritage artist. We hope to reposition him in the market, give him the opportunity to be heard and gradually claw back some of his market."

Tremonto and culture minister Giuliano Urbani, was signed by a number of leading artists, including Andrea Bocelli, Laura Pausini, Eros Ramazzotti and Zucchero.

Appearing in the June 12 editions of La Repubblica and Il Corriere della Sera, it noted that CDs in Italy attract one of the highest tax rates in Europe (20%), while the rate for other "intellectual products" such as books is just 4%. It also underlined the signatories' belief that the high tax rates contribute to piracy, which now accounts for 25% of the Italian music market, and that this is to the detriment of Italy's legal music industry, which provides employment for an estimated 115,000 people.

The Italian industry is clearly pleased with its efforts. Adrian Berwick, president and CEO of BMG Ricordi and a committee member of industry body FIMI, tells M&M: "I'm really proud of the way the industry has pulled together on this one. The petition was put together in no time at all, showing a unity that may have been lacking in the past. When we put our minds to it, we really can achieve things."

For FIMI director-general Enzo Mazza (pictured): "This is a great effort and an important gesture which is gaining a lot of publicity. It now, of course, remains to be seen what the government will actually do."

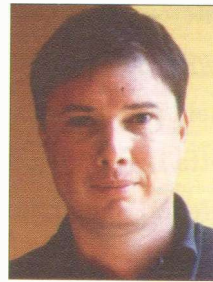

The petition was a timely reminder to the government to keep its promises. Earlier this year, the industry skillfully used the Sanremo Song Festival and its vast TV audience to bring attention to the plight of the record business. The move appeared to work, as the week following the festival culture minister Giuliano Urbani met with FIMI and other industry representatives to assure them that the sales tax would be lowered "by the summer".

Summer is now here and the budget is imminent. While the government waits for the European Parliament to legislate on the matter, under EU regulations individual member states are entitled to make temporary adjustments to the sales tax on music product. Yet the immediate signs are that the Italian government is still hesitant. The day the advert appeared, culture minister Urbani said: "The International Monetary Fund has told us to balance our books and, if we start reducing our sources of revenue, then we will be forced to make further spending cuts."

While the initial draft of the budget does not mention the sales tax on CDs, parties in both the government and the opposition are expected to propose amendments for its lowering from 20%. One proposal is for 15%, another is for 10%.

In spite of the current IMF pressure on the Italian government to sort out its finances, industry insiders are cautiously optimistic that the more modest proposal—15%—will pass.

the Platinum Awards as "an important date in the European cultural calendar, as well as being one of the liveliest events to hit Brussels." He adds: "As an avid follower of music, I look forward to taking part once again in this celebration of the creativity and diversity of European musical talent."

Some 400 guests—among them MEPs, EC officials, music industry executives and the media—will attend the ceremony, hosted by French instrumentalist and former IFPI Europe artists spokesman Jean-Michel Jarre. It will all take place at the Hotel Plaza in Brussels.

French jazz veteran Henri Salvador has been added to the lineup of performing acts, alongside British band Blue and the Finnish dance act Bomfunk MC's. Pavarotti and Geldof are the most recent additions to the artist who will be in Brussels to receive awards. The IFPI will present both Pavarotti and Geldof with special awards.

Explains IFPI chairman and CEO Jay Berman: "For the first time, the IFPI Platinum Europe Awards is honouring classical music and its contribution to European culture." Berman adds that Pavarotti is "a towering figure in the music world" and he described Geldof as "an inspirational figure."

For the fourth consecutive time, Music & Media will be producing the official IFPI Platinum Europe Awards commemorative brochure. It will be the definitive guide to the Awards, and will include extensive reports from the show as well as highlighting European creativity and musical diversity.

"IFPI is pleased to be working with Music & Media once again, as it enables the Platinum Awards to benefit from the magazine's considerable experience in operating on a pan-European basis," comments IFPI communications director Adrain Strain. The brochure will be distributed at the beginning of September to all M&M subscribers plus the readership of sister publication Billboard.

HOTLINE

The EMI Group's annual report for the financial year 2001-02 reveals some interesting information about the remuneration of its top executives. Former chief executive of EMI Recorded Music, Ken Berry, received a compensation package "for loss of office" worth £6 million, plus close to £1.4m in salary and benefits. His successor Alain Levy (pictured) has agreed to "a significantly reduced level of base salary and cash bonus" but has "a greater level of share options" (a policy implemented on a wider level among the company's top executives). Levy, who joined on October 15, was paid a salary of £317,000 (which would put his annual salary in the region of £650,000), and was awarded £350,000 in bonuses.

And, talking of wealthy music executives, sources tell Hotline that the situation of Zomba founder and chairman Clive Calder, who sold his company last week to BMG for $3 billion, should become clear by the end of August.

Soon-to-depart BPI chairman Rob Dickins was among the those recognised in the UK's Queen's Birthday Honours List, published on June 15. Dickins was given a CBE, as was GWR Group chairman Ralph Bernard. Mick Jagger was knighted, while influential club DJ and BBC London presenter Norman Jay received an MBE.

V2 Music Scandinavia has inked a sales and distribution deal with Bonnier Amigo Music Group for the Nordic region, effective July 1. V2's repertoire in Scandinavia has, since its inception in 1997, been sold and distributed by MNW.

Former Virgin Records UK managing director Jon Webster is joining London-based communications firm Clinic as a consultant. Webster left Virgin at the end of 2001 after 27 years with the company.

Kjeld Wennick has formed Capella Music, a new Copenhagen-based A&R, production and publishing firm "to develop home-grown and European talent." Wennick founded Danish label Mega Records, home to Ace Of Base and Savage Rose, which he sold to Edel in 1999. Meanwhile, Playground Music Scandinavia has cancelled its membership of IFPI Norway, due to "differences". The label has instead been approved as a member of indie labels body FONO.

Brit-Asian hip hoppers Asian Dub Foundation have signed a worldwide deal with Virgin France division Labels. The group were previously signed to London Records, while Labels had the act for France, Belgium, and Switzerland.

German music TV channel Viva is expanding its brand into Lithuania. A one-hour Viva music show will be broadcast each Friday by Lithuania's public TV channel LRT.

And speaking of Viva, German media giant Bertelsmann could be launching a direct competitor to it in Germany, according to an interview with Bertelsmann CEO Thomas Middelhoff in Germany's Sueddeutsche Zeitung newspaper. He indicated that the aim would be, through its RTL broadcasting division, to pave the way for the development of its own pan-European music TV channel.

Michael Jackson made a rare visit to the UK last week which included an unexpected appearance in London's Leicester Square where, surrounded by a legion of fans, he made his row with Sony Music public. Jackson was carrying a sign reading "Sony Sucks" (see picture). The artist blames the major for badly promoting his last album Invincible. Sony Music responded in a statement that Invincible benefited from "a series of world-class marketing, promotion and publicity campaigns." Reportedly, the recording costs of the album reached $30 million, with Sony spending another $20 million to promote the album. Jackson still owes Sony a Best Of package.
