GREAT

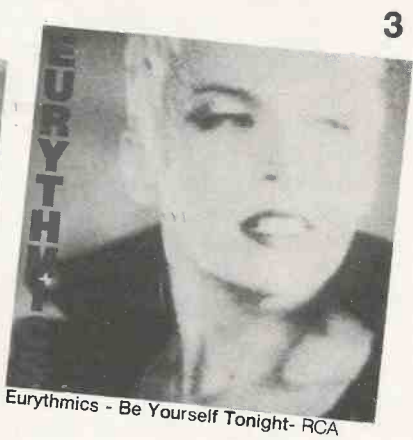

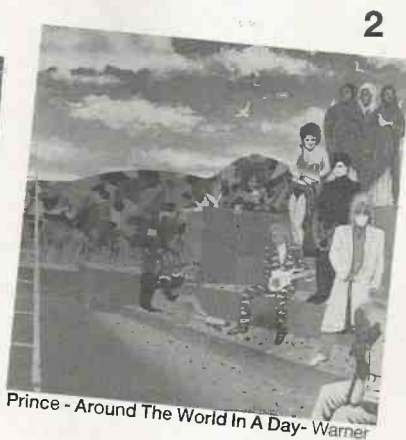

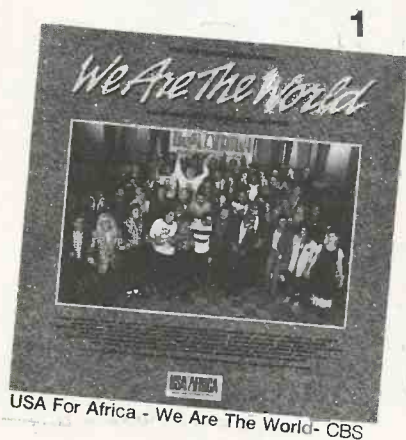

EURYTHMICS LP

The U.S.A. For Africa album remains the best played album in Europe, very closely followed by Prince. The acceptance on radio level in Europe of the new Prince album is somewhat controversial due to the no-singles policy (and maybe the 'Sgt. Pepper'-like influences). Although the album confounds radio, it nevertheless does not prevent the buying by the public as it is this week's highest entry at no 19. Some stations are creating their own Prince singles with the most favourite tracks being Raspberry Beret, Paisley Park (Prince's recording studios) and the title track. An album sure to enter the Album Top 100 next week is Eurythmics' latest Be Yourself Tonight. The lp could be an instant number one with tracks like There Must Be An Angel (Playing With My Heart), Sisters Are Doin' It For Themselves and It's Alright (Baby's Coming Back). There Must Be An Angel with Annie Lennox' inspired vocals over the beautiful melody and the harmonica fillers by Stevie Wonder combine to give a catchy track, sure to become Euro-radio's favourite. The "Sisters" track is a killer, a funky dance track with vocal assistance by the Queen Of Soul

Aretha Franklin. This one will set your station on fire!! Other standouts like Adrian (with harmony vocal of Elvis Costello) and Conditioned Soul prove the versatility of the duo and make them one of the major forces in today's music. Another entry in our Albums Route is the first solo outing from Freddy Mercury. Mr. Bad Guy has chosen a modern electronic dance direction coupled with some softer spots. Tracks like Let's Turn It On, Living On My Own and Your Kind Of Lover prove that the combination of catchy and effective melodies embedded in a Moroder-type of production still is bound to make chart impact. China Crisis present their follow-up to last year's success story Working With Fire And Steel, entitled Flaunt The Imperfection. It is Walter Becker's (of Steely Dan fame) first production since the Gaucho album. His influence on production and arrangements is more than obvious and although two sides of the same become a bit boring, we still recommend titles like King In A Catholic Style, The Highest High and You Did Cut Me as suitable for nighttime play. The release of the new Stevie Wonder album (in Square Circle will be his first new studio album in 4 years) seems delayed once again. Stevie still has not given his final ok to Motown and so we have to keep hoping to hear something soon.

Singles Guide

Brand new and already a favourite amongst Euro deejays is Bryan Ferry's latest solo single Slave To Love. The single brings back memories of the successful Avalon single and it is interesting to see that two other members of Roxy Music are also out with a single at the same time. Andy Mackay and Phil Manzanera make two thirds of the group The Explorers who come up with a slow and intriguing ballad entitled Two World's Apart. There are not so many Euro-Crossover records this week apart from Modern Talking's new single You Can Win If You Want and Mai Tai's History. Mai Tai are three ladies from Surinam and their powerful vocals were already noticed by Radio London where the record was a 'climber' 2 weeks ago. Modern Talking release their new single, while their first one You're My Heart is shooting up the European Top 100, presently at no 5 from 18! Philip Bailey's new one Walking On A Chinese Wall is not really breaking yet, probably blocked by the continued success of Easy

Lover which via its new high positions in the Southern European countries, holds at no 2 in its 15th week. Easy Lover would be a very strong contender as "best radio track of the year" as it really was superbly mixed for the airwaves.

Three new 12-inches were chosen by us as new to our weekly Maxi Route. The Cool Notes surprise us with a sparkling Shakatak-like dance song; Paul Hardcastle's new single 19 (about the average age of the combat soldier in Vietnam) is causing controversial reactions to the lyrics and the video. But we selected it for our recommendations as a strong record with a driving force through the whole mix. Loose Ends present their new example of their splendid vocal work Magic Touch, hot on the heels of their recent UK top 20 hit, Hangin' On A String.

TOASTING DEEJAY

Scritti Politti were joined on their new single The Worc Girl by Ranking Ann, the toasting deejay currently hosting her own show on BBC Radio 1. After a couple of dance-orientated singles (like Would Beez, Absolute and Hypnotise) The Word Girl recalls the tracks of the earlier Songs To Remember album. Although at first it seems a rather ordinary song it gets a special treatment through Green's distinctive vocals.

Style Council was one of the first groups who commercially exploited the return of jazz into popmusic. Jazz has returned to the clubs with artists like Ben Webster, Chico Hamilton and Sara Vaughan making people dance and The Style Council try for another successful way: their latest single Walls Come Tumbling Down is a hectic mix of keyboards, horns with a pumping dancebeat. One of our chosen Sure Hits this week is Willie & The Poor Boys with their rendition of the blues classic Baby Please Don't Go (for more details see issue 16).

FINDING REPLACEMENT

Bronski Beat's latest I Feel Love at first didn't seem to be getting the same success as their previous ones, but this week it is catching up strongly with chart positions in the UK, Germany, Belgium and Holland and holds no 14 (from 34) in its third week. The bad news is that singer Jimmy Sommerville has decided to leave the group, which puts the remaining members to the difficult task of finding suitable replacement. Kim Wilde zooms to no 38 (from 79) with the terrific remix of her Rage To Love, done by Dave Edmunds; Although the single only has broken in the UK and Germany so far we expect further success in many European markets.
