Power Struggle Rages Within RAI

by Mark Dezzani

MILAN - A power struggle between RAI president Letizia Moratti and director general Raffaele Minicucci has reached a climax, further deepening a long-running management crisis at the Italian pubcaster.

The news comes in spite of encouraging ratings for RAI's radio and TV nets.

Minicucci had verbally threatened to resign earlier this month and was forced to keep his word at a full board meeting on January 18, despite later withdrawing his resignation threat.

He is the second director general to leave the RAI within one year and is said to have personal and strategic differences with Moratti, who was appointed RAI president in June 1994 by ex-prime minister Silvio Berlusconi.

'Good Vintage MIDEM' In Record-Breaking Year

by Jeff Clark-Meads

CANNES - This year's MIDEM, the 30th anniversary of the music industry trade fair, has broken all records, prompting chief executive Xavier Roy to label it "a very good vintage."

The show, held in Cannes from January 21-25, attracted an unprecedented 1,779 exhibitors, compared with last year's 1,555.

This year's exhibitors were present on 420 stands from 53 countries. The country most represented by exhibitors was France, followed by the UK, US, Germany and Belgium.

The record-breaking number of delegates—counted on Wednesday—was 11,702, up from 10,795 last year.

The event also had a vigorous business atmosphere.

Many delegates commented on a determination to complete deals and the absence of stunts and gimmicks.

Michael Kenna, head of the international service department of the Irish trade board, states, "Unlike previous years, many people have concluded business here. All the 28 companies on our stand have expressed their satisfaction."

BPI chairman John Preston agrees. "I have been eavesdropping on the conversations [at the British At MIDEM stand] and about 80% are about licensing British repertoire in the world rather than the other way round.

"I think there's a realisation that there's something happening in British music—not something you could have said five years ago."

AIRC Attacks BBC 'Bias' In Media Bill

by Jonathan Heasman

LONDON - AIRC, the body representing UK commercial radio stations, has made public its strong reservations about aspects of the government's new Broadcasting Bill.

Whilst welcoming the incentives for radio to invest in DAB (Music & Media, January 6), the AIRC is critical of "unnecessarily complicated" plans to create digital multiplex owners, responsible for overseeing the nature of the DAB programme services provided by individual companies.

This, predicts the AIRC, means that the multiplex owners will "inevitably take on some of the power currently held by the Radio Authority."

Royal Honours For De Mol

MD of Dutch music foundation CONAMUS John de Mol was presented with the Order of Oranje (the Dutch version of the MBE) during MIDEM 1996. De Mol (left) received the award from the Dutch economic affairs state secretary Anneke van Dol van Weele on behalf of Queen Beatrix. In her speech, Van Dol Van Weele highlighted the importance of music as an international export article for the Dutch economy. Over the past 40 years De Mol has contributed to the success of Dutch music abroad as author, performer, publisher and finally head of CONAMUS.

Babylon's 'Spaceman' Rockets To UK Success

LONDON - Babylon Zoo has seen its single Spaceman rocket spectacularly into the UK singles chart at number 1.

The promotional boost of its speeded-up intro being used for the latest Levi's commercial has undoubtedly turned radio onto the single much faster than normal.

The release has also broken the UK's record for the most singles sold in one week—hitting the 500,000 copies mark.

Maddening MIDEM

Between The Lines

by Machgiel Bakker

How can I sum up this year's MIDEM? There were so many different things happening at the same time and so many events all vying for attention that any conclusion drawn is bound to be one-sided. From a reporter's point of view, it's almost maddening. "It's already Tuesday morning," I heard one colleague say, "and I still don't have a big story. If I'm at a press conference I miss the action on the floor, and if I attend the gigs at night, I'm not alert enough the next morning to go looking for that cover story my editor needs."

Let me give you some of my personal observations:

■ Despite the lousiest weather in years, MIDEM 1996 was buzzing with even more activity than ever. More concerts, more conferences, more stands and more people.

■ Despite the continuing talk about multimedia, most of the business was dominated by labels looking for licensing deals and exchanging good old-fashioned CDs and cassettes.

■ No matter what the subject of the panel, the record business is almost always conspicuous by its absence. It's still the same old crowd of radio people that attend, eager for knowledge and dialogue with an industry that just doesn't seem interested.

■ "Can someone please plug me?" In the "Who Needs Radio?" panel, Bayern 3/Munich music coordinator Jim Sampson made a strong plea for more help from the major labels. He argued that the labels are so busy promoting singles that many album projects fall by the wayside. It would seem with the growing number of new radio stations, the labels simply don't have the time to exercise that good old method of record promotion: a personal visit to a station.

■ The concert highlight? Celine Dion proved she's one of the most emotional and commanding singers in the world. She carefully builds a song up and then erupts like a volcano. Spin chilling. Watch out next week for more MIDEM musings.

Trax Loses Legal Battle

The High Court has rejected an application by Trax FM, a consortium backed by Lincs FM/Lincoln, for a judicial review of the Radio Authority's decision to award the Doncaster FM licence to the incumbent Hallam FM. Trax FM, which was proposing a service entirely originating from the town, was unhappy that the Authority re-awarded the licence to Sheffield's Radio Hallam despite the fact that Hallam was proposing no separate programming for the Doncaster area.

Epitaph Artists Get Promotion Boost

US-based Epitaph Records has struck a deal with EuroSun Media Corp, which will enable it to distribute releases by its roster of artists in Poland, the Baltic States, Russia and the CIS. The Epitaph roster includes Rancid, Wayne Kramer, Bad Religion, Ten Foot Pole and Offspring, whose album Smash has sold over eight million copies worldwide. Ten Foot Pole was the first act to benefit from the agreement with a live show in Poznan on January 23.

Global Music Sales To Rise

The value of global music sales is set to rise by 70% between 1994 and 2001, according to the fourth annual MBI World Report. Worldwide music sales were worth US$36 billion in 1994 and are predicted to have risen 14% to US$41.2 billion in 1995. By 2001 the total is set to hit US$61 billion. Meanwhile, the number of albums sold is predicted to rise from 3.1 billion units in 1994 to almost 5.3 billion in 2001. The MBI World Report 1996, researched and compiled by UK-based market research company MTL, forecasts that the global music market will remain the domain of the big six record companies—Sony, PolyGram, Warner, EMI, BMG and MCA.

Renown Producer Mary Quits BMG For EMI

by Emmanuel Legrand

PARIS - One of France's leading independent producers Georges Mary has left BMG after more than 10 years to join EMI.

The deal, effective this January, covers all of Georges Mary Production's back-catalogue and forthcoming releases. It is a long-term worldwide distribution deal excluding US and Canada.

Speaking at MIDEM 1996, Mary said his decision to change companies was mostly motivated by what he called "human reasons." He explained, "I usually make my decisions based on feelings.

"I was with WEA for 14 years and BMG for 10, where I worked with two great managers Bernard de Bosson and Bernard Carbonez. With [EMI France president] Gilbert Ohayon I have found this feeling again. We know each other quite well from his WEA days and we share the same passion for cinema. I like the way he runs his company and I've found someone who's speaks the same language as me."

It is understood that Carbonez' departure from BMG over a year ago and the subsequent appointment of Hervé Lasseigne has changed the nature of Mary's relationship with the company. Sources believe a clause in Mary's contract frees him from EMI if the British major were ever to be acquired by BMG.

Said Mary, "I spent 10 great years with BMG and I don't regret anything. I think the company has changed—not in money matters but in their philosophy of the way business is done."

During the past 10 years, Mary says he has sold close to eight million records in France. He brought Canadian pop star Roch Voisine and teen star Elsa to BMG and also owns a vast catalogue of soundtracks. Mary will continue to act as co-producer and publisher for Voisine, whose four forthcoming albums will be on BMG.

EMI's Ohayon views the new partnership as a "natural alliance." He says the arrival of Mary's past and future catalogue broadens the scope of EMI's roster, especially in soundtracks, a sector Ohayon wishes to develop.

Ohayon says Mary is a "skilled professional who has proved his ability to produce artists with great sales potential. We almost cut a deal six years ago when I started at EMI France but it was too soon."

'Much More' Sets Spanish Record

Spain's leading singer/songwriters for more than 20 years had good reason to celebrate when they met in a Madrid hotel last month. The double CD Mucho Más Que Dos (Much More Than Two) had just become the first singer/songwriter album to sell 500,000 copies in Spain alone. Combined sales in Latin America exceed 200,000, according to BMG Ariola. The album was released in May 1994 by married couple Victor Manuel and Ana Belén and features 31 songs. Pictured (l-r) are: Manuel, Juan Echanove, Belén, Joan Manuel Serrat, Joaquín Sabina and Miguel Ríos.

BritPop Lures MTV Europe Awards To UK

LONDON - The UK's current BritPop boom has lured the MTV Europe Music Awards across the channel for its 1996 show.

MTV Networks Europe president/creative director Brent Hansen told a press conference at MIDEM 1996, "With the resurgence of British artists making their mark in the international music arena and the growing popularity of the BritPop scene, London was the obvious choice. There are a number of suitable venues for the show and we are currently exploring the various options."

MTV Europe launched its Music Awards in 1994 at a show held in a purpose-built auditorium in front of Berlin's Brandenburg Gate. The 1995 event was hosted by fashion guru Jean Paul Gaultier at Paris' Le Zenith venue.

MusikKomm Gets Two New Fairs

by Christian Lorenz

CANNES - The organisers of successful German music event PopKomm will add two new fairs to their programme this year.

MusikKomm deputy managing director Ralf Plaschke revealed at MIDEM 1996 that "we will introduce two fairs catering for the media and advertising industries."

The move brings MusikKomm's catalogue of trade events up to five, covering all aspects of the music industry from artists' interest to radio advertising.

Plaschke is confident that "the market is ripe for a specialised advertising and communication fair." The event will be called Komm and take place in Cologne.

"We have also been asked to take over the organisation of the Cologne Media Forum," adds Plaschke.

Initiated by the media authorities and state government of Northrhine-Westphalia, the Media Forum was held for the first time last year.

"It was a bigger-than-expected success," says Plaschke. "Because the positive feedback justified a larger event the state decided to look for a professional partner."

The Cologne Radio Day trade show organised by sales house RMS last year will be integrated into one of the two new MusikKomm events.

"Radio Day has a clear focus on radio advertising," says Plaschke. "We have not decided yet if it fits better into Komm or the Media Forum." Dates for both events have yet to be confirmed.

EMI Records Group UK & Ireland has launched a major initiative targeting the independent retail sector. Called the EMI Channel, the new permanent undertaking aims to improve the two-way flow of communication and marketing information. New Soul Sound At Radio 1
The A&R manager of Cooltempo Records Trevor Nelson is quitting London's dance outlet Kiss 100 FM to join BBC Radio 1. "Trevor Nelson's Rhythm Nation," which will replace Steve Edwards' Soul Show on Sunday afternoons, is being independently produced for Radio 1 by Wise Buddah Music Radio. Nelson is the fourth Kiss FM DJ to move to the national pubcaster, where he will rejoin former colleagues Dave Pearce, Lisa I'Anson and Danny Rampling.

Scottish Radio Moves For West Sound

Scottish Radio Holdings (SRH) has further increased its dominance of the Scottish radio scene by paying £1.6 million (app. US$2.5 million) for West Sound/Ayr and sister station South West Sound/Dumfries. The deal means that SRH now owns 12 out of the 19 radio licences in Scotland.

DENMARK

KODA Reduces Rights For Local Radio

The Danish composers' organisation KODA and local radio stations have struck a deal which will reduce rates paid for airplay of music. Stations will pay approximately Dkr14.5 million (app. US$2.6 million) in rights for music played in 1996, compared to Dkr16 million last year. The deal was made on the condition that stations play the same amount of music, but some industry sources believe the amount played will increase. Fees are based upon estimates of the number of listeners, so around 70% of all local radio stations will realise savings. For more on Europe's performance rights see page 6.

Kinnevik Pulls Out Of Classic Radio
Swedish media company Kinne-vik has announced it will pull out of its Classic Radio project in Denmark from February 1. Kinnevik operated seven stations in the Copenhagen area. The news has once again fueled the debate on networking, which is prohibited in Denmark. Culture minister Jytte Hilden responded to the news by telling newspaper Politiken, "Foreign companies should not be led to believe that we're going to open the gates so they can come flowing in and gain free access to our frequencies."

Dutch Stars On Columbo
Dutch-language music has been in the spotlight on Radio Colombo, after music director Kent Hansen paid a visit to the Netherlands. During the trip, Hansen picked up copies of the poppy ACE release Ademwood (Dino) by Dutch soap stars Linda, Roos and Jessica and has been playlisting it ever since. Says Hansen, "Even though the Danes don't understand the words, they're humming along and the song is now gaining airplay due to requests."

Medwenitsch Returns To IFPI For Phononet Launch

by Christian Lorenz

VIENNA - Former IFPI Austria managing director Franz Medwenitsch has returned to the organisation after a six-month stint as head of production and foreign relations at ORF TV.

He resumes his old position, taking advantage of an attractive IFPI offer.

"My range of responsibilities has increased considerably," explains Medwenitsch. "My first project is the launch of the Austrian Phonographic Association." The association, a long fostered brainchild of Medwenitsch, will deal with economic issues confronting Austria's music industry.

According to Medwenitsch, "IFPI will continue to look at the political and legal matters of the industry."

The Phonographic Association will also become founding member of the Austrian branch of computer-aided ordering system Phononet. "Phononet will launch in Austria this year," says Medwenitsch. "Through this move we keep up with the international trend towards centralised, digital order processing."

According to Phononet Germany MD Wolfgang Geisel, Phononet Austria is and will remain a completely separate entity. Phononet Austria will use the same software and the same clearing centre as its long-established German namesake.

However, Geisel rules out any further links between the two companies. "We will develop our respective networks along diverging lines."

Flying Records Expands Into US

by Mark Dezzani

MILAN - Flying Records—one of Italy's most prolific producers of domestic dance, rap and rock—has expanded its US operation from import and distribution into a fully-fledged record company.

Manlio Narici, president of Flying Records US, says the indie label is already active in A&R and intends to sign up several stateside acts.

"This is a natural progression for us. Having successfully brought US acts including De La Soul and Naughty By Nature to Italy, then exporting Italian dance to the US, we now intend to make a long-term investment in developing our US signings."

Flying US' first release is a compilation of Italian acid jazz acts licence from the Bologna-based indie IRMA Records, which is a minority partner in Flying US labels.

Entitled Juice the CD features Jestofunk, Black & Brown and Man Sueto. A compilation of underground dance from Flying's UMM (Underground Music Movement) label and remixes of Ralphie Rosario's single Brinca are scheduled for release next month.

Victoires Awards Honour Old Faces, Past Glories

by Emmanuel Legrand

PARIS - Compared to last year when a new generation of acts led the list of nominees for the Victoires de la Musique, the 1996 vintage is dominated by conservatism and a return to past glories.

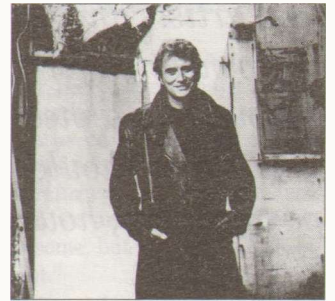

The selection for this year's French music awards reflects the rather weak year in terms of releases and development of new acts, and was in many ways predictable. The list of winners will be unveiled on February 12 at the Palais des Congrès in Paris during a live televised show on public TV channel France 2.

Rock icon Johnny Hallyday has three nominations (best male act, album, concert) as does Polydor singer Maxime Le Forestier (best male act, album, song). Celine Dion's album d'Eux composed by Jean-Jacques Goldman, is listed three times (best song, video and Francophone act).

Yet some in the industry have expressed their dissatisfaction at not seeing Dion in the Best Female category simply because she is from Quebec. The only reason she was listed in the two other categories is because the composer of the song is French and so is the maker of the video.

The list of upcoming male acts provides some interest with nominations for Dominique A., Lokua Kanza and Ménélik, who all represent a renewal in their genres—respectively, chanson, world music and rap.

DIALOGUE

Face To Face With Europe's Newsmakers

German Phono Academy President Werner Hay

Q: How has radio influenced your career?

A: Radio has made me more determined in my fight for the appreciation of new talent. The more public stations tailor their playlists to compete with the privates, the harder I try to create space for newcomers in daytime programming. I do not believe in the merits of the "midnight-ghetto" for young artists and I voice my opinion every time I talk to a radio person.

Q: What is your favourite radio station?

A: Any station which has an open ear for new talent. In this respect I have a high opinion of EHR pubcaster SWF 3 in Baden-Baden.

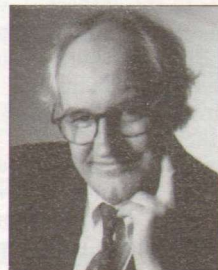

Q: If you could change something in radio today, what would it be?

A: I would introduce quality control for presenters. Honestly, I believe radio presenters should at least have a basic knowledge of the music played during their show. It is extremely annoying when presenters do not introduce tracks or make uninformed comments on artists or songs.

Q: Is there a German artist who deserves more attention abroad and if so why?

A: Rock singer Doro has a lot of international potential. In 1993 she won an Echo award as Best German Female artist. She has made some inroads in the US, but it is a long and thorny path for a relative newcomer.

Q: Which music do you listen to at home? Do you have a favourite song, album or artist at the moment?

A: I have a fairly conservative taste, I like the Beatles, Elton John and Joe Cocker. My favourite album last year was Sheryl Crow's Tuesday Night Music Club. But if there is one artist who has accompanied me through the ups and downs of life, it is Van Morrison.

Interviewed by Christian Lorenz

Performance Rights Across Europe

Throughout Europe there is general agreement that artists and composers are entitled to receive compensation for the use of their works by radio. Amounts and means of calculating compensation, to whom it should be paid, and how to enforce payment are, however, by no means standardised.

A new system for determining copyright payments from Italian broadcasters has recently been extended to local and regional stations following the signing of an agreement last December between Italy's authors rights society SIAE and two major associations (AER and CORALLO) representing almost 800 of the country's 2,000 radio stations.

While Italy's 15 national radio networks have all adhered to the system for the past two years, most local and regional stations have either paid a flat rate of between 3-5% of their turnover to SIAE or have paid nothing at all.

New Italian Rate System

The new system charges stations a staggered rate based on the amount of music content in their schedules: 2% of turnover for stations with less than 25% music content; 8% for stations dedicating more than 75% of their air time to music and 5% for all other stations.

SIAE press spokesperson Sappo Matteucci says that the new agreement should increase the amount paid to authors by reducing the current high level of evasion. "Those stations which have not paid any copyright fees recently will receive a 10% discount if they pay 1994 and 1995 fees by March, whilst those who have paid regularly will receive a 10% credit. In the past two years, SIAE has initiated almost 500 legal actions against non-paying radio and TV stations in Italy."

There remains, however, a hardcore of some 500 local stations belonging to the independent local broadcasters association ANTI, which resists any form of rights payments to the authors through their rights collection society.

ANTI president Eugenio Porta claims that broadcasters should only pay copyright fees directly to record companies through their respective producer representative bodies FIMI and AFI. Porta says, "We obtained a landmark ruling from the Regional Appeals Court in Trento [north-east Italy] last November which says that since the authors cede all rights to the producer of the record when a piece is recorded, only the producers have the right to collect royalties," a point of view hotly contested by SIAE with further court cases and appeals expected to continue for the foreseeable future.

Porta admits that neither FIMI nor AFI are active in collecting rights from broadcasters and that therefore the majority of members pay no copyright at all for the music they play, however he added that most of ANTI's members were made up of Italy's smaller stations and that they are usually operating at a loss or on very low turnover.

Danish Locals Luck Out

In Denmark the calculation and distribution of performance rights fees is the responsibility of Gramex, an independent company approved by the ministry of culture.

Laws demand that artists and record companies must have a licence, which means that the public use of their works cannot be prohibited, but they are compensated for the use through user payment to Gramex if they are members.

The entities which pay for the use of works are Danmarks Radio's three national public TV channels and eight regional ones, some 290 local radio stations, two national public TV channels and eight regional ones and some 25 local TV stations. For other public performances, such as in clubs, work places, hotels, airplanes etc., the composers rights association KODA collects user fees and works together with Gramex for their distribution.

Distribution is based on reporting from Danmarks Radio, radio, DT-TV and another public channel TV2. Danmarks Radio has a filing number for all works, which is also used in Gramex' registration. The system provides accurate compilation of what is played, and how fees should be distributed.

"Local radio poses a problem," says Gramex director Bjoern Juell-Sundbye. "They won't tell us what they play, so we cannot distribute on actual use. We would like to see a change, but they are not obliged to report what is played."

Payment is exacted in proportion to the number of listeners, and as cuts from the US can be played freely, many local stations have a heavy US format. In fact, while local stations play about 40 times as many cuts as Danmarks Radio, fewer than 10 local stations pay the full amount of fees. Gramex must use a gross model to determine the number of minutes played, so income from local stations is distributed on the same basis as fees from Danmarks Radio.

Fees collected are distributed, after Gramex' overhead is paid, on a 50/50 basis to artists and record companies/producers. Gramex strives to register members of bands, orchestras and choirs individually. Fees are distributed to them on the basis of playing time and a points system calculated according to the contribution to the work, i.e. a soloist or conductor will get a bit more than other members of the group.

French Rates "Outrageous"

When Jean-Paul Baudecroux, president of leading EHR net NRJ, handed over a check for Ffr40 million (app. US$8.1 million) in November 1993 to collecting society SPRE (Société Civile Pour La Perception De La Rémunération Equitable), it marked the end of a six-year disagreement about broadcasting rights between the radio and music industries.

Neighbouring rights, and among them broadcasting rights, were introduced in France by the 1985 Lang law, named after the minister of culture who sponsored it. The law called for a new fee paid by broadcasters (TV and radio stations) that would add to the author's rights they were already paying to performing rights society Sacem.

It took almost a decade to get all the radio stations to pay their dues to SPRE. If full-service stations were the first to agree that these rights should be paid, most FM networks and local stations resented what they called "another tax," feeling it would further weaken their economic situation.

Representatives of artists and producers, who receive the proceeds from the fees, countered that the fees were a just compensation radio has to pay to use their works. "Music is the backbone of the radio station's programming, so it is normal that they pay a fair remuneration for the use of it," said a French music industry executive.

NRJ and Skyrock gave SPRE a hard time, NRJ even getting a high court to tear down the rate system used for broadcasting rights. NRJ complained that the rates were "outrageous." The government was forced to pass an addendum to the 1985 law to enforce payment, following underground lobbying from the music community. Thus, facing serious penalties, NRJ decided to settle with SPRE.

A new rate system, negotiated by a commission representing right holders and music users, has been in effect since January 1, 1994. Broadcasting rights are set at 4.25% of gross advertising revenues of radio stations, after the ad rep rate has been deducted.

Several rebates have also been agreed upon: a 22% rebate for stations airing more than five hours of news programmes, and a similar rate for stations broadcasting over five hours of programming of local origin. "Today, the situation regarding radio stations is practically normal," says SPRE director general Michel Rolland.

Spain's System Ad-Based

Authors rights in Spain are collected by the Sociedad General de Autores y Editores (SGAE), the sixth largest such group in the world with 40,000 members. Under the 1987 Law of Intellectual Property, SGAE imposes a 5% tariff on radio stations' revenues in return for two basic rights—that of public communication (3.75%) and of reproduction (1.25%).

This fee has nothing to do with the station's audience, but with its advertising revenue, as well as public subsidies in the case of municipal, regional or state-funded radio. There are several discounts, which mean that stations do not in fact pay as much as 5%. In addition, SGAE deducts a 15% administrative fee, which means that for every Pta100 (app. US$0.80) collected, just Pta85 go to authors.

SGAE has a repertoire of 1.5 million works covering music, cinema and other audio-visual productions, and theatre. But in Spain it represents 150 other societies from 92 countries with a total repertoire of four million works.

Each station is obliged to declare its income, but SGAE has teams of inspectors who are authorised to audit any station's accounts at any time. SGAE believes the stations return honest audits. Stations have a blanket licence to use all available repertoire, regardless of which works they play or how often.

The problem of sharing out the money SGAE collects is solved by the British-controlled company Alef-Millward Brown, an external, independent firm that monitors "sample" four-hour radio broadcasting sessions.

SGAE general manager Enrique Loras says that Alef-Millward Brown statistical and mathematical calculation is 93% reliable. The company is paid Pta120 million a year for the service, and while Loras says SGAE could pay another monitoring company less, it is prepared to pay the sum in return for reliability.

The 1987 law has been revised three times (1992, 1993 and 1994) in accordance with EU directives that extended the copyright validity from 60 to 70 years after the author's death, laid down rules on satellite and cable transmission, and the leasing and rental of sound carriers. The culture ministry is scheduled to include these revisions into a single body of legislation this January (Law of Intellectual Property 1996).

Flash FM Speaks Language Of Success

by Suzanne Wales

PROGRAMMING

"This year is going to be a great one, now we can truly say that we are in the same league as all the others." Miquel Calzada, otherwise known as Kikimoto and the driving force behind Barcelona's Flash FM, is very pleased with himself.

He should be. What started out as a dream has turned into a reality. Back in 1992, a pivotal year for Spain but especially for Catalonia, he successfully tendered for the licence for an FM frequency in the neighbouring town of Terrassa. He then convinced six more local frequencies that were also up for tender at the same time throughout Catalonia to take his

Los 40 Principales, Calzada replies, "Here we're not really trying to discover anybody. Los 40 Principales is betting on discovering new Spanish talent. That's not us. Neither with Spanish nor international artists."

Calzada's independent streak also shines through in his refusal to comply with the local government initiative to play a Catalan artist every two hours, as in the case of Catalunya Radio. "I just don't think there is enough local output to cover it," he says. "Although we do give all Catalan artists a fair go—probably more so than a lot of other stations."

Other programmes include "Màs y Màs Flash" (covering new releases, acid jazz, rhythm and blues and hip hop), "Extra Flash" (phone-ins and interviews)

pirates in the UK."

So does he see himself as a modern-day crusader for the development of the Catalan language and its culture? After all, he is on record stating that "in Catalonia pretty soon it will be strange to hear someone speaking on the radio in Spanish."

"I do believe," he states, "if the surveys are not incorrect, that 80-90% of the population understands Catalan even if they don't speak it. So it's not a matter of language, it's a matter of the quality of the programmes. Obviously we are working for ourselves and to make this little station success and grow, but we are also working for our country.

"During the three years that we have been on air the Catalans have become unpopular in Spain for political reasons. We used to be an independent country and I know of a lot of people who would like us to return to being independent, not because we are better or richer or more handsome, but simply because we are different."

COM Radio Opens Up Catalan News Market

The veritable war of the airwaves that has been raging in Catalonia over the past months shows no sign of slowing down, writes Suzanne Wales.

COM Radio has irritated the autonomous government of Catalonia, the centre-right CIU, since its appearance last February. Set up as an independent producer of radio programmes and funded by the opposition left, it is seen as a threat to the publicly funded Catalunya Radio.

Until COM was set up the only support that Catalonia's huge network of over 200 municipal stations had was the under-funded Radio 4 or Catalunya Radio. These small, local stations relied on it for their overnight programming and coverage of national and international news.

Ana Comas, spokesperson for the Catalan Journalists Union sheds some light on the subject, "Although Radio 4 received some funding from the opposition left during the last elections there was a group of municipals which didn't want to connect with it because they said that the news coverage just wasn't sufficient. They didn't have the correspondents to cover national and international news, so with that excuse a lot of them continued to connect with Catalunya Radio."

COM was created by the Federation of Municipal Stations of Catalonia (EMUC) to "give support to the municipals." It has stated that it is "not a radio station, but produces radio programmes that are offered to any municipal station."

COM head of programming Miguel Rosso, denies that the organisation is offering the same service as Catalunya Radio. "We produce programmes, tailor-made for the municipals, and transmit them via satellite in real time." So far, 63 municipal stations have connected with COM, including some in towns governed by the CIU.

"What we've done is broken down the monopoly in Catalonia," says Rosso. "Up until now everything was controlled by Catalunya Radio. What we are doing is exposing the limitations that exist within it. We've shown that it is possible to do a more pluralist type of radio in Catalan."

programming.

That, plus being the only fully privately-owned digital network in Spain, having a unique form of programming, and his recent link to the main telecommunications tower Collserola (which allows Flash greater coverage of Barcelona's major metropolitan area) puts Flash FM up with the big guns; the publicly-owned Catalunya Radio and Rock Cent-Cinc.

Flash FM is the only privately-owned radio station to transmit EHR radio in the native language of the Catalans. An objective that Calzada, who openly admits to wanting full independence for Catalonia, has had from the beginning.

"At the moment we live in a stateless country. As the Catalan language is becoming normalised and is now taught in all schools, it just wasn't right that the only stations that broadcast in Catalan for our target audience were Catalunya Radio and Rock Cent-Cinc. Now you're talking about 350,000 listeners. We thought to ourselves, 'Why can't we have a piece of the pie?'"

Flash FM's "pie" has notched up a healthy 150,000 listeners in the 17-31 age group. Based around a formula that transmits 50 minutes of non-stop music with news "flashes" and publicity just before, on and after the hour, it is a pioneer in Spain in treating publicity "as part of the formula" while avoiding a PR saturation "which at certain times of the year can become unbearable."

The station's music programming is also a breath of fresh air in a radio panorama still completely dominated by rock. More pop is on the agenda with a healthy dose of post-'70s revival. Dance music gets its first serious look-in with the station's non-stop Friday and Saturday night "Flashdance" programme.

When asked about the basic difference in his programming from EHR-formatted

Like most Catalans, Calzada is quick to point out the supremacy of Barcelona over Madrid. "Madrid is still reigned by medium wave," he says. "Here in Barcelona we are more European, more creative. Catalonia has a different panorama due to the power of the municipals [a network of over 200 locally-run stations dotted across Catalonia], which is similar to the development of the independents in France and the

ALICE & THE NORMAN SISTERS

Alice Strikes Back - SPV ehr/ace
 PRODUCERS: Mister Que, Alice Norman
 If you were wondering who the * Alice is, listening to the 24-year old Alice Norman should solve the mystery. Supposedly from the UK, but with a suspiciously heavy German accent, this singer has a raspy, Smokie-worthy voice. The F-word is deleted from the Nice Radio Mix.

ALPHABASE

Heaven Help My Heart - Latitude/EAMS d/ehr
 PRODUCER: Latitude
 Alphabase is the brainchild of French dance wizard Régis Ducatillon. Heaven Help My Heart sounds like a fast, loud German rave stomper, but the female Europop singer turns it into an irresistible dance floor favourite.

AMEN

Justify - Primal Music/MCA ehr/d
 PRODUCER: Amen
 It's hard to be refreshing in the multi-faceted world of dance, techno and ambient, but Amen has melted a mid-tempo beat, hallucinatory aural effects and irresistible vocals into a track which wouldn't sound out of place in evening EHR programming.

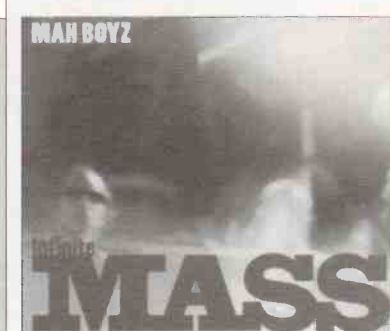

BASIA

Half A Minute Remix - Epic ace
 PRODUCERS: Danny White, Basia
 It's recycling time! Only this time Basia has improved her original, which was a frothy sweet nothing sung with Matt Bianco. She has given it more body with a latin jazz big band flavour, challenging percussion and a matured voice.

DUBSTAR

No So Manic Now - Food/EMI ehr/d
 PRODUCERS: Stephen Hague, Graeme Robinson
 This friendly pop tune has "European Smash Hit" written all over it. The strong female vocals are reminiscent of the

INFINITE MASS

Mah Boys - Rooftop/Pitch Control/Sony d/ehr
 PRODUCERS: Polarbear
 Swedish duo Infinite Mass blends rap with R&B and poppy background vocals, which makes it a radio-friendly EHR track. The keyboard bass line sounds particularly cheerful. The chorus is so catchy, you won't hum anything else for the rest of the day. The extended radio version is deeper and groovier, but not as perky as the original. Eurorap at its best.

Cranberries' Dolores O Riordan, but it's the combination with spacey synthesizers and a Eurodance beat which makes it a guaranteed EHR success.

LEILA

Le Retour Du Funk - Cristal/WEA ehr/d
 PRODUCERS: P. Roffé, D. Mixx
 One moment Leila sings "I got the groove baby", and the next she's crooning in French, which is far more charming. This single has some of the fattest basslines this side of the Sugar Hill Gang, which makes it a very infectious '70s inspired dance tune.

LIGABUE

Viva! - Mescal/WEA r/ehr/ace
 PRODUCERS: Fabrizio Barbacci, Luciano Ligabue
 Taken from the top-selling Buon Compleanno Elvis album, this track is a mid-tempo ballad with a catchy bassline, delightful acoustic and electric guitars. Italian rock doesn't come better than Ligabue's raw edged brand of R&R.

LIGHTNING SEEDS Lucky You - Epic r/a

PRODUCERS: Ian Broudie, Simon Rogers
 The Seeds haven't done much on the continent. Their quintessential British sound, including sneering lyrics and shoegazer guitars, should definitely be exportable, considering BritPop is doing well globally. The light psychedelic guitars and organs are the icing on this cake.

ORIGINAL SON

Moodswings - RCA ehr/d
 PRODUCER: not listed
 Slow funky swingbeat tune, the US way: smooth and sexy. Linslee Funk Mix sounds like Marvin Gaye, while Bluey's Safron Hill Mix has a hip hop beat, a '70s organ and a jazzy trumpet in the background. Equally laid-back.

RUBY

Tiny Meat - Creation/Sony a
 PRODUCERS: Mark Walk, Lesley Rankine
 Former Silverfish vocalist Rankine has regrouped with Walk and Eric Anderson as the delightful Ruby, a group whose main purpose seems to be to go against the grain à la Garbage. The upbeat album version is more accessible than the special radio edit, whose slow dance groove makes the song even more complicated.

MATTIA SALVI

Povero Cuore - WEA ehr/ace
 PRODUCER: Oscar Prudente
 In his self-penned tale of broken hearts, the young Italian singer pays homage to the lost feelings of people of his age. Simple arrangements of piano, synthesizers and drums slowly build up into a more up-tempo song with a wailing, but clean-sounding guitar solo.

SUPREME NTM

Live - Epic d
 PRODUCERS: Supreme NTM, Volodia
 These French rappers manage to sound more menacing than Ice-T, Slayer and Ozzy Osbourne put together on these five live tracks. Not an enjoyable listen, but definitely unique.

Albums

NICK CAVE AND THE BAD SEEDS

Murder Ballads - Mute a/ehr
 PRODUCERS: Nick Cave, Bad Seeds, Tony Cohen, Victor van Vugt
 No matter how unsavoury the concept behind this album, Cave's collaborations with Kylie Minogue (Where The Wild Roses Grow) and PJ Harvey (Henry Lee) are beautifully arranged ballads which wouldn't be out of place on EHR radio. Cave packaged some of his murder songs in lush violins, the ladies' fragile voices and sweet melodies, which makes their message even more chilling. At times, he borrows a little too much from his heroes Leonard Cohen and William Faulkner, but he does it so well, that you forgive him.

THE DUKE ROBILLARD BAND

Duke's Blues - Stony Plain/Virgin r/j
 PRODUCER: Duke Robillard
 It's not easy to be original on the well-trodden blues path, but the former Fabulous Thunderbird's album is so sweet, smooth and warm, it practically pours into your ears. Duke's Blues is a tribute to his musical heroes: blues greats like Howlin' Wolf and John Lee Hooker on one side and jazz giants such as Count Basie on the other. The resulting mix is pure R&B with big band overtones, never raw, never pained.

GIPSY VAGABONDS

Viva - Global Satellite/BMG ehr/ace
 PRODUCER: Luis "Chico" Manolo
 Europe has been hit by flamenco fever ever since the Gipsy Kings made it big. The Vagabonds have added a little twist to the genre by doing flamenco versions of evergreens such as House Of The Rising Sun and Can't Help Falling In Love. Already kicking up some dust in Germany, this Munich-based international ensemble has a fondness for '60s rock. Frontman George Kopecsni is such an admirer of John Lennon that his version of War Is Over stays pretty close to the original. A truly pan-European act.

KRIS KROSS

Young, Rich & Dangerous - Ruffhouse/Columbia ehr/d
 PRODUCERS: Jermaine Dupri, Kris Kross
 The cute little guys in their oversized twisted pants may pretend to have turned into real gangsta's, but their smooth Atlanta sound guarantees sweet melodies and sexy vocals, no matter how loud and deep the bass lines are. Female colleagues like Da Brat and Aaliyah provide a nice touch on the title track and Live And Die For Hip Hop.

MATHILDE SANTING

Choosy - Epic ace
 PRODUCERS: Mathilde Santing, Sebastiaan Koolhoven
 The Dutch singer is most comfortable with the skillful, exquisite compositions of others and has never gone out of the way of an interesting cover. Choosy is the ironic title of this live album with work by Tim Finn, Randy Newman and Karl Wallinger. Santing proves once again her impressive voice can do justice to a funky ballad like Joni Mitchell's I Had A King or a fragile, bluesy version of Just One Victory Todd Rundgren. The warm live atmosphere is an extra bonus.

STAKKA BO

The Great Blondino - Stockholm/PolyGram ehr/d
 PRODUCER: Jonas von der Burg
 The Swede's fascination with British triphop and ambient has resulted in mellow, laid-back album. Don't expect the upbeat, don't-worry-be-happiness of his previous hit Here We Go, although the Great Blondino single comes close. Stakka Bo's world seems darkened by a big cloud of melancholy. Occasionally, he jokes around: "Two little frogs in a luscious pond (...). One of them's a MBA from Swamp University, the other shows signs of immaturity" (Frogs). The second single Softroom is a perfect EHR ballad with simple verses and a full-blown choir chorus.

THE TREBLE SPANKERS

Hasheeda - Polydor r/a
 PRODUCERS: Martin Cramer, Treble Spankers
 Dutch surf rockers explore easy listening kitsch (Popcorn) and the Arab connection, which Dick Dale initiated by incorporating a Lebanese folk tune into his biggest hit Miserlou. In particular, the album's title track sounds like it should have been in the soundtrack for "Lawrence Of Arabia". Moroccan singer Abdellatif does guest vocals on Samira which works well among the instrumentals.

TORI AMOS

Boys For Pele - East West a
 PRODUCER: Tori Amos
 Amos may have flirted with off-the-wall orchestrations on her 1994 album Under The Pink, but she ventures into completely uncharted territory with Boys For Pele. Her harpsichord, harmonium and clavichord dominate this complex album, which offers almost no radio-friendly material. It's a welcome relief from today's fixation on the past, having resulted in so many tribute albums. If Ministry and a medieval minstrel bumped into each other, they would sound like the first single Caught A Little Sneeze. Blood Roses and Professional Widow are essentially mid-tempo blues songs, despite the eccentric choice of instruments. It takes a while to take in the enormous wealth of Amos' fourth album, but then again true works of art don't have to compete for easy listening awards.

Babylon Zoo Shoots His Spaceman Into Orbit

by Thessa Mooij

LONDON - Part Punjabi, part Native American 24-year-old Jas Mann has suddenly been propelled into the limelight. He grew up on a pop culture diet of Indian films and formed a multimedia collective with his former art school classmates. Now his creation Babylon Zoo has seen the single Spaceman skyrocket into the number 1 slot of the UK's Gallup chart even before it was released. Mann's stint with Stone Roses support act the Sandkings undoubtedly helped promote the release, as did the fact that a speeded-up intro of Spaceman has been used for the latest Levi's commercial. It's probably the appealing mix of samples, distorted guitars and poppy hooks—all recorded on a lo-fi basis in his own studio—which is shattering shipping records for EMI and has wooed radio stations from Belgium to Sweden. Or, as Swedish pubcaster P3 head of music Pia Kalischer puts it, "after seeing the Levi's commercial, my entire hit instinct was on a red alert and I started bugging EMI about an advance copy."

EMI UK managing director Clive Black has been personally involved with Babylon Zoo, taking the act with him after moving to WEA and back again to EMI. His great interest in Jas

Mann's project was justified when a Levi's employee heard a sneak broadcast of Spaceman on Kiss 100 FM in October and set the ball rolling. Manager of international artist development Phil Patterson says the commercial is "an added bonus, since MTV is broadcasting it in all European markets. They heard it on the radio and thought it was a good piece of music, which is how we think of him." Patterson is convinced there is more to Babylon Zoo than just a hot single. "We see him as an artist for the next 10 years, because he writes and plays everything himself; we can keep the doors open with the second single and the album Boy With The X-Ray Eyes. His manager Clive Banks is getting him on the road to prove he's a live act, so we can set our stall up."

Banks decided to work with Babylon Zoo for Mann's "creative and engaging individuality" 18 months ago, before Clive Black took him to WEA. He confirms his artist will be on the road touring with a band and promoting from late spring until the end of the summer. "He has already played some 250 live shows with the Sandkings so he knows what he's doing. He has been writing and producing in his studio before he got a record contract." Although Banks was well aware of Mann's potential, he says "it all happened a lot quicker than we expected. His previous work and a white label 12" version of Spaceman were out there, which created some buzz prior to the Levi's commercial. But now it's the fastest-selling UK single, which probably makes it the fastest-selling single in the world."

One of the countries which has taken an instant liking to Babylon Zoo is Sweden, where 8,800 copies of Spaceman were shipped, more than the Beatles' Free As A Bird. Product manager Per Erik Hottie says, "Everything is in line for a smash hit. Swedish radio was already playing it before Christmas. I'll be disappointed if it doesn't become a top 5 hit. The UK will lead the way, but I'm sure the Scandinavian countries will follow closely." P3 head of music Pia Kalischer managed to get an early copy of the single after having seen the commercial on MTV. Her hit instinct and a sudden interest for Babylon Zoo from Internet discussion groups prompted her to track down the record company. "The single has a very broad appeal; it doesn't sound like Europop with fat beats. But I didn't put it in heavy rotation at once. After all, we're a public station and it's not my job to sell jeans. The single will probably be put into higher rotation later on. We played it for a small panel of Swedish pop stars during one of our recent shows and none of them liked it, but they all expected it to be a huge hit."

Kalischer is not the only one who called the local Levi's office for information about Spaceman. According to label manager Marc Toussaint the same thing happened in Belgium, where many people called the jeans manufacturer for inquiries. "Rarely have I seen that a single was picked up so quickly. We sold 3,000 copies in one week. Half of the top 10 consists of gimmick acts and Babylon Zoo has an interesting frontman with a remarkable look. The mystery around him will certainly appeal to a young audience." After tipping the single daily on his "Keineig" show, Studio Brussels programmer Gerrit Kerremans was surprised to see it enter the station's top 30, compiled by listeners, at number 9. "New entries are usually anywhere between number 20-30. This song is really different; it's original and really enjoyable, no matter how often you've heard it."

Stakka Bo Exchanges Rap For Poppy Triphop

STOCKHOLM - Two years ago Stakka Bo dominated playlists all over Europe, with his swinging hip hop tune Here We Go, writes Thessa Mooij. Its laid-back nonchalance and infectious beat played a great part in the universal success of the track. Originally aimed at being a club hit, the Swede's debut became a surprise EHR success. So it seems logical that "radio is more important than the club scene for his new album," according to Stockholm Records general manager Eric Hasselqvist. For his new album The Great Blondino Stakka Bo decided to move away from rap sequences in favour of singing melodies. He was so adamant about this change that he even took singing lessons. "He hated the Eurorapper image," says Hasselqvist. "And he has a good voice, so he's not going to go back to rap."

The Great Blondino will be released by Polydor this week in most European countries, except for the UK where, according to Hasselqvist, "Polydor wants to wait until March to see how the single is doing in other countries. By that time the video will be finished, so they can take it to MTV.

We're also doing special UK remixes so we can focus on that market." After his current tour of Scandinavia with the ambient techno outfit Lucky People Center, which he signed for his own Stockholm Records-distributed Beverage label, Stakka Bo will be touring and promoting in the rest of Europe from late spring until the end of the summer. The second single from the album will be The Soft Room. Key territories are the UK, Holland and the GSA.

Stakka Bo is particularly popular in Switzerland, which was the first country outside Sweden where Here We Go charted, according to PolyGram Switzerland label & promotion manager Stephen Pressinger. "All three singles were airplay hits and the album sold 10,000 copies, which is a lot for a debut. Also, he toured extensively in our healthy club scene and in 1,000 seat theatres," explains Pressinger. He expects a similar success for The Great Blondino. "He's more serious about himself, this album is going deeper, but the mix of hip hop, techno and his humorous lyrics is still radio-friendly. If Roxy Music were around today, they would make intelligent pop like Stakka Bo." Although he has moved away from Eurorap, Pressinger still thinks his hip hop flavour might do well in Switzerland. "Nowadays hip hop is not something exclusively American. European hip hop like MC Solaar, Jovanotti and Stakka Bo works very well here because it has a lot of pop influences. I don't think The Great Blondino will be a big club hit, it's more of a radio thing."

Zurich-based Radio Zürisee head of music Michelle Kramer agrees with Pressinger. "We've played it since late November, but now we put in powerplay for eight times a week, because it fits into our programming," she says. "I like it a lot. He's very funny, it's almost like cabaret singing. It's definitely something different."

Milan's Rete 105 head of music Angelo De Robertis has put The Great Blondino in medium rotation. "He creates a special atmosphere on this single. It sounds more magical and a little less happy-go-lucky than Here We Go, which will not make it a big sales hit unless he does some remixes. Still, it's an easy song to listen to, so we've been playing it especially in the mornings."

Salsa Flamenca - ARC (CD) (Spain)
 PRODUCER: Pablo Cárcamo
 Flamenco is the main flavour here but as the title implies, there is a strong salsa undercurrent present, together with Arabic and pop elements. The flamenco side prevails, however, and leads to a rejuvenating approach to the genre. Try De Andalucia A Rio or the samba-influenced La Gente for instance. Contact Jesse Reuben Wilson at tel: (+44) 1342.328 567; fax: 1342 315 958.

MARTYNA JAKUBOWICZ

Dziewczynka Z Pozytywka Edwarda - (CD) (Polton) (Poland)
 PRODUCER: Wojciech Waglewski
 By deftly fusing Celtic folk with jazz, this expressive singer covers the middle-ground between Enya and Rickie Lee Jones. Her mastery of both genres is undisputed and her warm voice is the added bonus, which could lead to appreciation by an audience outside her home country. Tracks like Przyjdz Do Mnie Dwa and Blues 4 Rano are just a few examples. Contact Jan Chojnacki at tel: (+48) 22.255 487; fax: 22.252 705.

THIERRY NOX

No Comprendo - HDF PRO (Belgium)
 PRODUCER: Thierry Nox
 Fortified by a sparse but powerful backing, this midtempo rocker boasts a strong hook and chorus. On top of this, Nox possesses a solid, distinctive baritone, which is the reason that this track could work well across a multitude of formats. Contact Philippe Laurent at tel: (+32) 71.819 504; fax: 71.655 300.

DE PARELS EN DE FUNKY REDDINGSBRIGADE

Alle Remmen Los - Splank/PROPS (CD) (Holland)
 PRODUCER: Parels/Funky Reddingsbrigade
 With its roots firmly planted in George Clinton's P-funk soil, this group sticks to the fundamentals of the genre all the way through. The fact that the lyrics are sung in Dutch goes largely unnoticed as the phrasing and diction of the multitude of vocalists present is similar to that of the originals and the instrumentation is a fitting match. Contact Dirk Verhoef at tel/fax: (31) 20.624 2891 or at tel: (+31) 15.214 7631; fax: 15.212 5603.

BARRY SAUNDERS

Weatherman - Pagan (CD) (New Zealand)
 PRODUCER: Barry Saunders/David Ginnane
 This seasoned singer-songwriter has established rock roots but here he prefers predominantly acoustic folk settings. All in all, this is a smart move because the generally sparse arrangements allow his songs to really shine. Tunes like Which Way The Wind Blows, You Can't Go Back (Sydney Song) and Winter Sun are just the tip of the iceberg. Contact Trevor Reekie at tel: (+64) 9.302 3228; fax: 9.302 3229.

CARSTEN SCHNELL

U! - BSC (CD) (Germany)
 PRODUCER: Carsten Schnell
 Hailed as a major discovery in the field of new instrumental music, this composer/keyboardist deepens his style even more here, a fact that can be attributed to the use of acoustic instruments. All this is executed with great skill thanks to his exacting classical training. Contact Christoph Bühring-Uhle at tel: (+49) 8178.1246/1533; fax: 8178.1212.

Dance Grooves

by Maria Jiménez

TRANCE INDUCING HOUSE:

Transformer 2 returns with the winner Can't Get Enough (Positiva/EMI) which slams in five versions. Ken Doh's mix is most accessible for radio programming and The Goodfellas powerful and captivating mix sweeps listeners into a serious house trance. Tel: +44 171 467 2000.

A STOMPER WITH CHARM:

Topped with the memorable diva voice of Marissa Turner, Who's Gonna Kiss That Man (Hansa/BMG) is an immediately appealing potential smash. Commercial crossover house with two strong radio options. The radio version includes a heavy bass à la Reel II Real, while the Soft Radio Mix is smoother in a Robin S sort of way. Remixes from George Morel, the Olive Boys, Heider & Kalif, and Udo Sandmann offer sufficient club material. Tel: +49 30 884 560.

THE NORTH WIND BLOWS:

Nordic Rave (Fluid Records) is an impressive double CD compilation of rave, techno, trance and more from our northern neighbours in Scandinavia. Peanut Planet, Suburban Children of Planet Earth and Stereo Scope are a few of the highlights on this revealing collection. Tel/fax: +46 8 334329.

■ 49ERS LOVIN' YOU: 49ers are back with the pumped progressive Italo house track Lovin' You (Media). Uptempo crossover dance number with a bit of hysteria, buildup drumrolls and electro-nica for effect. The Hard House and ProfXor Club mixes are more adventurous. Tel: +39 30 2586008, fax: 2584320.

■ U BE THE 1: Mary Wilson, formerly of the Supremes, is kicking on an R&B tip in '96. U, her new single on 80 West Entertainment, is a mellow jam with a laidback beat. Hip hop, dancehall and midnight mixes are provided. Extra strong remixes would put this song over the top. Tel: +1 818 761 3777.

■ UMM NEW MUSIC: Underground Music Movement (UMM), the label responsible for Alex Party (Don't Give Me Your Life, Wrap Me Up), delivers three new promising tracks. Blast featuring VDC's new single Sex And Infidelity is the followup to the smash hit Crazy Man. With the production in the Swemix hands of Stone and Nick, the soulful vocals are laid formidably across a moving mellow house track. Also on UMM is Club Freaks' It Must Be Love delivered in a deep, prime Funky Groove Mix and Feel My Body from Frank O Moiraghi featuring Amnesia, a hypnotic house shuffler. Tel: +39 81 762 8278, fax: 762 8279.

■ UPFRONT DANCE MUSIC: It's What's Up Front That Counts (Limbo Records), the recent single from Yosh, looks set to break across Europe after having had a respectably long clublife. Numerous mixes and radio edits offer all necessary options.

Breakin' & Entering

A weekly Eurochart analysis by Ramon Dahmen

After a 12-week reign of the Eurochart Hot 100 Singles chart, Coolio feat. LV with Gangsta's Paradise is losing its bullet this week. However, thanks to number 1 positions in the national lists of seven territories, the release still holds onto the Hot 100 top spot. In the UK the act climbs up one notch to number 30. The loss of the bullet is primarily due to downward movement in the national lists of Denmark (2), Finland (7), Ireland (12), Holland (13) and Norway (3). But it's not all bad news for the US rapper, as his new single is ascending the chart—a cover from the 1980 hit Too Hot (Tommy Boy) from Kool & The Gang. The release is currently positioned at number 36 and appears in the countdowns of Germany (48), Ireland (26), Holland (28) and the UK (13). It is the first track released from Coolio's album Gangsta's Paradise (Tommy Boy), which currently features at number 9 in the European Top 100 Albums while present in the lists of Austria (8), Denmark (15), Finland (12), France (16), Germany (6), Holland (76), Norway (76), Sweden (19), Switzerland (4), Hungary (25) and the UK (31). Meanwhile, the soundtrack from Dangerous Minds (MCA) enters the Top 100 Albums at number 52.

The second most-wanted position is claimed by George Michael climbing up one notch with his latest effort Jesus To A Child (Virgin). He thereby earns enough chart points to snatch this week's Sales Breaker Award. As well as charting in the top 10 of 13 countries (see page 13), the record appears in the countdowns of Austria (11) and Germany (16). Although this signifies an improvement in chart points of more than 50%, the single is still 22.7% away from the number one position. The fact that it is difficult to beat soundtrack material is also emphasised in this week's album chart, where no less than five film titles appear.

Harder to notice, but no less impressive is the superb achievement by last week's highest new entry Babylon Zoo with Space Man (EMI). Last week, the act was only positioned in the UK where it entered at number 1, but in this issue it has managed to keep this position (already quite an achievement in the UK) and expand it with new entries straight in at number one in Norway and Ireland. This new Levi advertisement "soundtrack" can also be found in the countdowns of Germany (72) and Denmark (7). For the story behind Babylon Zoo's success see page 9.

M&M's EHR Top 40, European Alternative Rock Radio top 25, Adult Contemporary Europe top 25, European Dance Radio top 25, Border Breakers, Channel Crossovers, Atlantic Crossovers and Major Market Airplay charts (except the list supplied by the Hungarian Commercial Radio Association) are based 100% on airplay reported each week by M&M's reporter team. Participating stations are selected as reporters and "weighted" as "Platinum," "Gold," "Silver" or "Bronze" stations based on the following criteria: market population, location, weekly reach and/or average share of the available audience, policy of programming current music, retail sales influence and ability to report in a timely, consistent and accurate manner. More detailed definitions follow below. It should be noted that points awarded for airplay may vary slightly from one station to another within one of these four groups. For example, some Platinum stations are weighted slightly more or less than other Platinum stations. However, all Platinum reporters will be weighted more than Gold, Silver, or Bronze stations. Individual station classifications are subject to regular review as ratings and station policies change. Broadcasters interested in joining M&M's Reporter Roster should call or fax M&M Station Reports Manager Pieter Kops; tel: (+31) 20.487 5134; fax: 487 5151 or 5141.

Platinum (P): Leading stations/networks/dominant programmes in major markets. Most of these stations have an estimated average weekly reach of at least 1 million listeners and are regarded as having moderate to heavy level of retail influence. Gold (G): Leading stations/networks/dominant programmes in medium markets or secondary broadcasters in major markets. Most of these stations have an estimated average weekly reach of 200,000 to 1 million listeners. Stations from smaller markets usually have an above-average level of retail influence. Silver (S): Leading stations in smaller markets or secondary broadcasters in medium markets. Most of these stations have an estimated average weekly reach of 50,000 to 200,000 listeners. Stations from smaller markets usually have an above-average level of retail influence. Bronze (B): Smaller broadcast operations, individual programmes at larger stations, certain cable-only stations, and/or departed blocks of programming on small market stations. Most of these stations/programmes reach between 15,000 and 50,000 listeners weekly. Small market stations have at least a moderate level of retail influence; larger stations in this group may have a low level of retail influence.

Station Reports include all new additions to the playlist. Some reports will also include "Power Play" songs, which receive special emphasis during the week. All Power Play songs are printed, whether they are reported for the first time or not. Some lists include featured new albums, as indicated by the abbreviation "AL." Within each country, stations are grouped by ranking and listed alphabetically. Rankings include: Platinum (P), Gold (G), Silver (S) and Bronze (B). All playlists must be received by Monday at 13.00 h. CET.

KATRIN GROTE, MUSIKCHEFIN ANTENNE MV:
„Ein gutes Route 66-Feeling!“

STEPHAN HAMPE, MUSIKCHEF RADIO SCHLESWIG-HOLSTEIN (RSH):
„Super Song! Eine Chance auch in Deutschlands Fonmatradios Alternative Rock zu breaken.“

MARKUS STEINKUHL, MUSIKCHEF RADIO CHARLIE 87.9 BERLIN:
„Für uns als Classic-Rock Station ein absolutes „MUSS“ in der Powerrotation und das nicht erst seit gestern!“

Moving Chairs At PolyGram

LONDON - PolyGram has introduced a number of personnel changes, which will see new faces at the head of its Swiss and Greek operations.

After 14 years as managing director of Zurich-based PolyGram Switzerland, Ossi Drechsler is retiring. He will be succeeded by PolyGram Greece managing director Victor Antippos.

The new managing director of PolyGram Greece will be Tony Ioannou who is rejoining PolyGram from Arcade Records in Germany.

Drechsler spent 45 years working with PolyGram and its predecessor Philips Phonographische Industrie (PPI).

He joined PolyGram Switzerland as managing director in 1982. Antippos, meanwhile, has been the managing director of PolyGram Greece since 1983.

Tony Ioannou

Victor Antippos

Ioannou, a Greek national, worked for nearly 20 years in the concert promotion business in Germany. He was ousted from the post of Arcade Germany managing director at the end of last year (Music & Media, December 23).

Both Antippos and Ioannou will report directly to PolyGram Continental Europe president Rick Dobbis.

■ In an unrelated move, PolyGram has announced the appointment of Karsten Witt as president of Hamburg-based Deutsche Grammophon.

He replaces Gianfranco Rebulla, who resigned last year.

MIDEM Comes Of Age

Other nations also say their products attracted greater interest. For the Germans, a marked increase in enthusiasm for their work came from representatives from the Asian markets, while dance was the catalyst for Dutch music promotion agency CONAMUS.

This year's MIDEM also displayed a growing US presence. US rights body BMI VP corporate relations Robbin Ahrold adds, "MIDEM is gaining impact for US companies. The question they have to ask themselves is; if you don't come here can you be a player in the international business?"

For MIDEM chief Roy there were plenty of reasons to regard the 30th anniversary as a birthday celebration. On top of the record-breaking size of the event, piracy within MIDEM appears to have been largely contained and protests about French nuclear testing

Minicucci is reported to have felt excluded from the decision-making process and disagreed with Moratti's far-reaching restructuring plans. Instead, he prefers to await the outcome of proposals to overhaul RAI's executive structure which need government approval. If these plans are approved, the existing board of governors could be replaced.

Despite his enforced resignation, Minicucci is staying put while the RAI's majority shareholder, the state-owned holding company IRI, investigates his dismissal. Minicucci, who took up his post a year ago, replaced Gianni Billia, who resigned after just six months also over "personal differences" with Moratti.

Says Roy, "1996 was a very good vintage. I'm pleased because I think we've done what we had to do to make this 30th anniversary everything it should have been."

The most controversial element of MIDEM was a poll by organisers asking attendees how they would feel about the event being moved to June. Though the MIDEM organisation says the voting was tight, most delegates expressed disquiet about the number of tourists in Cannes in June, and potentially higher prices.

Jeff Clark-Meads is European news editor for Billboard. Additional reporting by Billboard's Wolfgang Spahr and Christian Lorenz.

AIRC Attacks Media Bill

The AIRC instead proposes that digital radio licences be awarded by the Department of Trade and Industry (DTI) and the Radio Authority in the same way that analogue licences are awarded.

The AIRC also criticises an apparent bias towards the BBC in the proposals. It says that national commercial radio will not be given the same DAB advantages as the BBC, which will be able to own its own national multiplex.

The trade body also criticises the decision to guarantee BBC local stations places on local multiplexes, while local commercial broadcasters may be forced to compete with each other for places.

"We had hoped that this inequality would be addressed by the Bill, not supported by it," says AIRC chairman Jimmy Gordon.

The Broadcasting Bill is expected to become law by July.

Off The Record

Rumoured This Week...

Could BMG's Lasseigne Be Planning A Merger?

Antoine Chouchani, general manager of BMG France's RCA label, has left the company. No replacement has been announced and rumours are circulating that BMG president Hervé Lasseigne could merge the two labels RCA and Ariola into one structure.

BBC Radio 1's 100% 'Quotas'

BBC Radio 1 head of production Trevor Dann gave away a programming secret at a radio panel during MIDEM 1996. Commenting on a remark by Swedish colleagues on unofficial radio quotas, Dann joked that the BBC could easily introduce a 100% quota for UK productions. Two days later, the BBC officially announced it was to play exclusively UK tracks in the run-up to this year's Brit Awards on February 19.

Europe 2 Ready To Take Over At AFP Audio

Europe 2's plans to acquire AFP Audio—the radio supplier affiliate of news agency AFP—are believed to have been sealed with an announcement expected at the beginning of February. Europe 2 has said it will transform the programme supplier into a music and news-based company aimed at local radio stations.

Tommy Boy Rewrites European Strategy

Music & Media hears that the US hip hop label Tommy Boy Music is not happy with its representation in Europe. At present, Tommy Boy product is licensed to a variety of local companies including CNR in the Netherlands and East West Records in Germany. Rumour has it that Tommy Boy plans to get out of its licensing contracts and set up European headquarters in London.

Berwick Leaves Polydor Italy

Polydor Italy managing director Adrian Berwick is to leave the company, reportedly over "philosophical differences" with PolyGram Italy president Stefano Senardi. An official announcement is expected shortly.

Spillmann Joins Roadrunner

OTR hears that Louis Spillmann has joined the German branch of Roadrunner to become managing director, reporting to Cees Wessels who is heading the worldwide operations of the Dutch-based independent. For many years, Spillmann headed Phonogram Germany but left in April of 1994, following a restructuring and a new MD Dietmar Glodde.

Piracy Raids At MIDEM

Music & Media had the dubious pleasure of watching a live raid at MIDEM's Palais des Festivals. Organised by French rights organisation SCPP and filmed by French television, Italian company Canaria was raided and a man was arrested and taken into custody. The stand openly displayed pirate albums by Bruce Springsteen, Led Zeppelin and Elvis Presley. With French laws recently being toughened, the man could face two years of prison and/or a fine of Ffr1 million (app. US$190,000).

Dance Gurus Shun Motor's Hot Seat

According to sources in the German dance scene, Motor Music is facing a tough time finding a new head of dance A&R. Germany's most successful dance label has not yet replaced hit-maker Sascha Basler who left to set up his own company last November. OTR hears that Germany's top dance talent scouts have been deterred by PolyGram's profit expectations for Motor. Based on a string of hit singles by Marusha, U96 and Mark'Oh in 1995, Motor's parent company believes it's sitting on a goldmine. But informed sources are certain that Motor's trademark happy rave sound is only good for half the budgeted figures this year.

Could France Get An FM National Music Net?

French culture minister Philippe Douste-Blazy took everyone by surprise at MIDEM 1996 when he said he was in favour of a national FM net broadcasting 100% French music with 50% new talent. He said a couple of projects were being considered. The questions arising from his comments are countless. Who can it be? Douste-Blazy said he thought highly of regional station L'Onde Latine, but observers doubt it has enough strength. But which frequencies could this station use? There is a shortage of frequencies and no-one sees how this project could exist.

EuroPop Days Moves South

Rumour has it that successful alternative music fair EuroPop Days will move from Freiburg to Munich next year. Many in the industry hope the change of scenery from the medieval border town to the cosmopolitan nightlife capital of southern Germany will not effect the fair's indie flair.

Linde Leaves Dragnet

OTR hears that Dragnet label manager Markus Linde is leaving Sony Music Germany at the end of March. Linde has built a strong alternative roster at Dragnet, with acts like Selig and Nationalgalerie. Linde is said to be pursuing plans to set up a music-related business of his own. Inside sources say Dragnet will become an independently-operating unit within Sony Music's Epic division before the end of the year.

The EHR Top 40 chart is based on a weighted-scoring system. Songs score points by achieving airplay at M&M's EHR (European Hit Radio) reporting stations, that target 12-34 year-old listeners with contemporary music fulltime or during specific dayparts. Stations are weighted by market size and by the number of hours per week committed to the format.

▼ indicates Europe's most Radio Active record, registering the biggest increase in chart points.

The EHR "chartbound" chart lists the total number of EHR reporting stations playing newer songs that do not yet have enough airplay points to rank among the EHR Top 40. The second number represents how many stations reported it to M&M for the first time. Songs which have received no new airplay for two consecutive weeks will be deleted from this chart, but may reappear with new airplay. In the case of a tie, songs are listed by new adds. Asterisks indicate new entries in Chartbound.

Airplay Action

EHR Top 40 commentary by Pieter Kops

Having topped the chart for four consecutive weeks, Michael Jackson has to hand over the reins to George Michael, whose Jesus To A Child is the best playlisted record on European Hit Radio now, as anticipated last week. It is the third number 1 hit on the format for Michael that is exclusively his own. Apart from Somebody To Love, his collaboration with Queen that topped the chart for one week in 1993, his previous conquests included Freedom (1991, three weeks at the pole position) and Toofunky (1992, two weeks).

Jesus To A Child is currently playlisted in 24 countries across Europe, with Holland, the UK, Austria and Hungary standing out as most supportive—penetration ratios ranging from 81-100% in those countries.

US rock singer Joan Osborne grabs the highest new entry in the EHR Top 40 at number 16 with her debut single One Of Us, recently a CD insert in Music & Media and currently a top 5 hit in the US. One Of Us was taken from the artist's bluesy and gospel-influenced debut album Relish—reviewed as "album of the week" in our January 13 issue.

One Of Us is reported in rotation by 50 stations, including solid support in Austria, Denmark, the UK, Poland, Italy and Germany. As no less than 23 of these stations have reported the track for the first time this week, it also qualifies as Most Added leader.

The second highest new entry belongs to British reggae artist Shaggy, whose Why You Treat Me So Bad kicks off at number 26 with a 38-station roster. Shaggy enjoyed three EHR hits before, which all went top 20, two of them top 10—Oh Carolina in 1993 peaked at number 9 and In The Summertime in 1995 at 6, whereas Boombastic (also 1995) peaked at number 16 'only'. The new track's EHR roster encompasses 13 countries with relative emphasis on Poland, Holland, Belgium and Italy.

On The Road

Border Breakers commentary by Pieter Kops

Rebecka Törnqvist

Swedish songstress Rebecka Törnqvist enters this week's Border Breakers chart at number 20 with her new single I Do. In addition, Good Thing, the title-track of her current album, simultaneously re-enters at number 22, two weeks after its 17-week stay on the list had terminated. Good Thing spent three weeks in the top 10, peaking at number 7.

The new single by Törnqvist, whose repertoire combines a striking jazzy sensibility with mainstream, even MOR appeal (Music & Media, November 11), is particularly embraced by Polish stations. No less than 17 reporters in that country are playlisting I Do, including Platinum-ranked public national EHR outlet Polskie Radio 3/Warsaw and eight Gold-ranked stations. Although otherwise mainly EHR-formatted, among these supporters are also ACE and rock-formatted stations (Radio Merkury/Poznan and Radio Lublin/Lublin respectively).

Good Thing, the re-entering track, still appears on Platinum playlists in France, Spain and Portugal, and gets Gold support in Slovenia. Incidental playlistings in Switzerland and Slovakia complete the list. Coinciding with these chart entries, Törnqvist has recently started promotional activities across Europe, including dates in France, Switzerland, Spain, Holland and Denmark, with more countries to follow.

Also joining this week's Border Breakers is Randy Crawford's new single, a cover version of George Benson's 1980 hit Give Me The Night. The single is taken from the album Naked And True, which was recorded in Germany with Hannover-based producer Ralf Droeemeyer and features Bootsy Collins, Bernie Worell and Fred Wesley. The album also comprises covers of Purple Rain (Prince), Cajun Moon (JJ Cale), Come Into My Life (Joyce Sims), Joy Inside My Tears (Stevie Wonder), What A Difference A Day Makes (Dinah Washington), Holdin' Back The Years (Simply Red) and Forget Me Nots (Patrice Rushen). At the moment, the US, Germany-signed artist is crossing over to five countries outside GSA, including Denmark, France, Italy, Slovenia and Spain.

The charts on this page track the border-crossing movement of product. The Border Breakers chart ranks the 25 most successful Continental European records making airplay impact outside their country of signing (airplay achieved in the original country is excluded from the calculations).

The second chart, Channel Crossovers, registers the airplay penetration of UK-signed artists in mainland Europe, while the third Top 25, the Atlantic Crossover chart, ranks the most successful Non-European artists according to airplay impact in Europe.

All three charts are non-format specific. "Country Of Signing" is not necessarily an indication of where the artist comes from but, more significantly, where he/she is signed. An increasing number of national artists are signed to "foreign" labels and M&M wants to acknowledge the crossover impact of such deals.
