Green light for Seagram/PolyGram

LONDON — At time of going to press on Thursday May 21, Universal Music's parent company Seagram Co. Ltd. was expected to confirm it was acquiring PolyGram NV for $10.5 billion, creating the biggest record company in the world.

The joint turnover of PolyGram and Universal Music exceeded $7 billion for the fiscal year 1997/98, which would place a combined group ahead of Sony Music, which had revenues of $5.2

billion for the same period. PolyGram employs about 12,000 people worldwide, while Universal has 3,500 employees. The merger of the two companies could result in the loss of about 1,500 jobs in North America alone, according to U.S. sources.

The pending deal follows intense corporate activity during the week. First, the board of Seagram approved the principle of the transaction, then the board of Dutch giant manufacturer Philips—which owns 75 percent of PolyGram—met on May 20 and apparently gave the green light to the sale.

The final step was due to take place on May 21 in New York, where members of the PolyGram's supervisory board and board of management convened to review Seagram's offer.

U.K. radio wants delay on sales of new stations

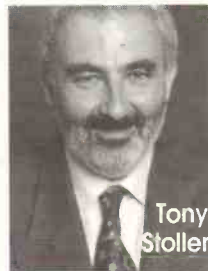

by Mike McGeever

LONDON — U.K. broadcasters have renewed their calls for a moratorium period during which a newly established commercial service cannot be the target of a takeover by a major radio group.

Concerns are being expressed by broadcasters and regulators alike in the wake of the Capital Radio group's recent acquisition of London alternative music station, Xfm, which had been on the air for only a matter of months (Xfm launched September 1997).

At U.K. regulatory body, the Radio Authority, chief executive Tony Stoller says the regulator feels a degree of frustration at recent events, particularly since it strenuously lobbied

EU hits minor chord for music

by Candida Jones & Andreas Arvanitakis

BRUSSELS — On May 28, EU ministers of culture will be presented with a draft proposal outlining the European Commission's policy in that sector.

The proposed programme, titled Culture 2000, combines the activities of the European Union's three existing culture programmes—Kaleidoscope, Ariane and Raphael—and broadens the scope of the European Commission. Culture 2000 was drafted by the Commission's DG X department—headed by European Commissioner Marcelino Oreja—which deals with audiovisual and cultural matters.

The new programme recognises all culture—popular or "highbrow"—as an

Farewell to 'voice of the millennium'

by Christian Lorenz

LONDON — The best known voice in popular music may have fallen silent on May 15, but Frank Sinatra's songs were very much alive on European radio this week.

Sinatra, regarded by many as the greatest popular singer of the 20th century, died aged 82 on Friday, May 15 after a long battle against illness. Within two sales days, public demand for Sinatra material in the U.K. and Germany had pushed the compilation My Way—The Best Of, Vol.1 (Reprise/Warner) back into the European Top 100 Albums chart at no.72.

However, as might be expected, the most immediate reaction came from radio, as stations across Europe broke

Upfront

by Emmanuel Legrand, Music & Media editor-in-chief

It's the end of the world (of music) as we know it—or at least, as we've known it for the past 10 years. That's the prospect facing us if current speculation on the future of PolyGram and EMI is proven right.

Over the past decade, the music business has grown and prospered like few others in the world to become a $40 billion industry. The interesting thing is that it's happened with so few changes in the geographical ownership of the key players. Two major companies (Warner and Universal) are North American, one is Japanese (Sony) and the remaining three are European (BMG, PolyGram and EMI).

All this is seemingly about to change if one, perhaps two, currently European-owned companies sail across the Atlantic Ocean to fall into their new master's fold within the next couple of days—or weeks, or months?

The first consequence—and the most unfortunate from a purely humane point of view—is the effect of the likely “consolidation” if the Seagram/Philips deal on PolyGram goes through. The tricky part will be deciding who takes over what and where. Apart from that, there is a risk that with this shifting of power, those companies will also experience some cultural changes.

What made PolyGram and EMI distinctive was their approach to the business—although they aimed to be global, they had a definite European feel (and a specific European management style). Both PolyGram and EMI's strengths lie in an ability to develop European local acts and give them global treatment. And because the decision centres in both cases remained in Europe, both companies avoided the risk of becoming too self-centered on a single market—the U.S.

The European music industry would probably have more to lose in terms of image through the combined effect of the acquisition of one or two major companies by North American interests, alongside the recent nomination of an American, Jay Berman, to represent the music industry through the IFPI. This could have a counter-productive effect with European policy-makers in Brussels, where the voice of the industry could be fading—if suddenly the music business is perceived as the preserve of the Americans.

But in the end, the saddest element in all this affair is surely that not a single European company has expressed interest in EMI or PolyGram (where are Branson, Lagardère, Kirch, Vivendi/Havas/Canal+, et al?). The loss of two of the few remaining jewels in the European crown could see the global importance of this continent's music industry relegated to minor status. And that is certainly not the most pleasant aspect of this acquisition process.

Chrysalis folded into EMI

by Mark Solomons,
 international editor, Billboard Bulletin

LONDON — The butterfly's wings have finally been folded. This week, the EMI Group brought its Chrysalis imprint into the EMI Records U.K. label group.

At the same time, EMI appointed Chrysalis managing director Mark Collen to head the new label group, EMI/Chrysalis. Collen replaces Neil Ferris, who left on May 18 after less than a year as the EMI label's MD.

“Nobody's in any doubt that the market is changing, and if it means you have to make tough decisions, then you make them,” says an EMI Records spokesperson.

The Chrysalis label was first founded almost 30 years ago by Chris Wright (who maintains a link with the name via his own Chrysalis Group, with music publishing, broadcast and record label interests—see story, page 6) and his business partner Terry Ellis.

From its first hits in the late '60s and early '70s with such acts as Jethro Tull, Procol Harum and Ten Years After, Chrysalis went on to reap substantial rewards in the late '70s and '80s, with a broad-based Anglo-American roster. In the '90s, it has also enjoyed success with Sinead O'Connor, Mike Scott and—most recently—Robbie Williams.

EMI bought the Chrysalis label in two stages (1989 and 1991) from Wright. Along with Williams, its roster now includes Catherine Wheel, Felice, World Party and Philadelphia Bluntz.

Mark Collen joined Chrysalis as deputy managing director in 1996 from Parlophone label group. He was appointed MD last year. Ferris was appointed EMI label MD last June by former EMI Records U.K. president/CEO Jean-Francois Cecillon, who departed the company last month (M&M May 9).

Meanwhile, EMI has named Keith Wozencroft, currently A&R director at Parlophone, MD of that label group, which includes the Parlophone, Food, Capitol and Rhythm Series imprints. He succeeds Tony Wadsworth, who took over Cecillon's position on the latter's departure. Wozencroft joined EMI's sales division in 1990.

Victoires get a new president

by Rémi Bouton

PARIS — WEA Music France managing director Laurence Le Ny is the new president of French music awards body Victoires de la Musique.

Le Ny was elected president by the Victoires de la Musique board on May 15, to serve a one year term. She replaces former Mercury France MD Yves Bigot who resigned after he was appointed head of variety, entertainment and special projects at French public television channel France 2 at the end of April.

Bigot comments: “(Le Ny) has the right profile to continue the work started last year in reshaping the event and regaining commitment and confidence from the artists.”

The Victoires organise two yearly music awards shows for classical, jazz and pop/variety artists which usually take place in February. The shows will be broadcast next year on public channels France 3 and France 2, respectively.

Edel restructures its top level

by Wolfgang Spahr
Billboard Germany bureau chief

HAMBURG — Germany's Edel group of labels and related companies has revamped its top level of management.

Chief executive officer Michael Haentjes and chief financial officer Jorn Meyer are withdrawing from the management of Edel Records, Edel Media & Entertainment (EME), and CD manufacturing operation Optimal Media Produktion.

This leaves Chris Georgi as managing director of EME and Jorg Hahn as MD of Optimal. Jens Geisemeyer has been appointed new joint MD at Edel Records, alongside Georgi.

The group's roots label, Edel-Contraire, will continue to be MD'ed by Rolf Baehnk, who in turn will report directly to Haentjes. The administrative units of the Edel Group will report to the respective MDs as well as Meyer.

Says Haentjes, "With nine domestic and 12 international companies, we have turned into a small group, posting external revenues of over DM200 million [$356million] last year, and continuing to display strong growth potential.

"Under the new structure," Haentjes continues, "Jorn Meyer and I will be concentrating on overall group management. The operating companies will be managed by experienced executives who have proved over many years that they can act responsibly in the group's interests."

Haentjes says that he is pleased that Edel is able to find and nurture management talent from within.

All the Edel group MDs will continue to report to the group's management board, which represents the interests of shareholders in the publicly-quoted company.

Regulator disqualifies U.K. licence bidder

by Mike McGeever

LONDON — U.K. regulator the Radio Authority (RA) has disqualified Northern Radio Initiative (NRI) from bidding for the north east regional commercial radio licence.

According to the RA, the North Shields-based group failed to supply sufficient details about its proposed equity finance, in contravention of the RA's published application procedure.

The RA ruled that it would be unable to form an opinion on the applicant's ability to fund the establishment of the proposed rock format service. The regulator stated it would also be unable to meet its responsibilities, under current legislation, in determining whether NRI's investors would comply with its ownership rules.

Information about the proposed ownership of a licence must—according to the 1990 Broadcasting Act—be available to the public unless prior written agreement has been obtained by the applicant from the RA.

Permission was neither sought by NRI nor given by the authority.

There are 13 applicants remaining for the licence, which the RA hopes to award by early autumn.

Peter Van Dam

Managing director,
Radio Flandria

Licensed in Luxembourg, Radio Flandria went on air to Belgian listeners in Flanders via cable last November, ahead of its official launch in March. Currently, the commercial CHR station is available on most Flemish cable networks; around 2.8 million households. Here, Flandria MD Peter Van Dam reports on its progress to date.

Q: Six months after first going on air, how has the development of Radio Flandria's programming—and business—gone?

A: The whole format has become more stringent. We started with some 1,100 titles, ranging from Abba to The Verve. Sometimes we had the impression that things weren't fitting together, and we decided to go for the 18-35 audience core featuring material of 1985 upwards, plus the occasional standard or classic like Summertime Blues.

[On advertising], we've opened offices in Brussels where Saskia Taks is heading the sales force. I have the impression that advertisers don't so much look for new stations rather than for new outlets to have their commercials on. Compared to the public broadcaster, we offer the advantage of interactivity, allowing advertisers to link up their campaigns with our programmes.

Q: If you're now targetting the 18-35 demographic, how do you plan to cater for the older audience?

A: We have applied for a second licence for a new station, called Oldie FM. We expect approval in June and hope to go ahead before summer. The repertoire is there, it's just a matter of [the size of the] doses.

Q: You are a music station, but with a "human-interest" programme (hosted by Edwin Ysebaert), plus the usual traffic and weather reports etc, is Radio Flandria now moving away from its format?

A: Let's not forget that radio is made for people—the essence of what we do is to supply a service. We care about the people that listen, and Edwin Ysebaert's programme on Thursday evenings (21.00-23.00) has some 300 callers every week.

Q: Having pioneered private cable radio in Flanders, do you still hope to apply for a terrestrial frequency?

A: Is the Pope catholic? We have opened up the cable network—now everyone wants to be on the cable. But we will use every opportunity to broaden our audience and will be applying for a terrestrial frequency in Flanders.

Remember Christopher Cross? Back in 1980 he was the focus of much attention when he came out of nowhere to win Grammys for Best New Artist, Best Album and Best Song (for Sailing). His slide back into relative obscurity was just as remarkable, however. Recently, however, Cross put up this web site which attracted so many hits and mail order sales that CMC Records offered him a deal on the strength of it. Walking In Avalon, the resultant album, is due out this June and there's all sorts of information about the release here. The site also has the usual assortment of biography, discography, news and a chat area which calls itself Crosstalk.

MAY ROCKS ON FOR POWELL

Cozy Powell
LONDON — Queen guitarist Brian May is paying tribute to late British drummer Cozy Powell with the May 25 U.K. release of a specially mixed single The Business (Rock On Cozy Mix) (Parlophone). Powell, who died last month, was a long-time musical collaborator of May's. The Business—remixed to highlight Powell's drumming—is the first single from May's forthcoming album Another World, due for international release on June 1. A donation from sales of the single will be made to the World Society For The Protection Of Animals charity.

P4 1ST QUARTER RESULTS UNVEILED

OSLO — Lillehammer-based commercial radio group P4 saw its turnover rise 23 percent during the first three months of 1998 compared to the same period in 1997. However, exceptional costs saw operating profits only increase by 2 percent. Alongside its national AC service, P4 operates two jazz stations in South Africa and a London-based radio advertising firm; May-June will also see the launch of two classical stations in Hungary. First quarter turnover increased from Nkr48.7 million ($6.5m) to Nkr59.9m ($7.9m); operating profits rose from Nkr13.6m ($1.7m) to Nkr13.9m ($1.8m). P4 has confirmed it is looking to take over stations in Poland and the Czech Republic, although no details are yet confirmed.

ROSKILDE GOES GREEN

COPENHAGEN — Denmark's Roskilde Festival promises to be a greener affair this year. Along with bio-degradable eating utensils, healthy food and a strict recycling policy, this year's event will feature the return of grass underfoot—rain (and the effects of around 200,000 feet) turned the festival grounds into ankle-deep mud last year. Among the acts on the June 25-28 event's various stages will be the Beastie Boys, Garbage, Portishead, Primal Scream, Pulp, The Verve, Bob Dylan, Black Sabbath, Kraftwerk and Iggy Pop. This year's festival (the 29th) is expected to be a 90,000 capacity sell-out.

EMI AUSTRIA MERGES SALES, MARKETING

VIENNA — EMI Austria has merged its sales and marketing departments. The combined departments are headed by Albert Manzinger, sales director for the company since 1995. Previously, Manzinger had worked as regional sales director for EMI Electrola in Germany. EMI Austria MD Erich Krapfenbacher says he made the change because Austria faces increasing concentration in the retail sector. "The sales and marketing departments have to be more synchronized than in the past," Krapfenbacher comments.

NOSTALGIA FUELS TOPPOP YEAH

AMSTERDAM — From 1970-1988, TopPop was to Dutch youth what the BBC's Top Of The Pops still is to their British counterparts, a weekly cornerstone of public broadcaster AVRO's music programming. AVRO has now begun broadcasting a new TV quiz—in a series of 21 shows—based on its TopPop archives. For the show, dubbed TopPop Yeah, AVRO has licensed the BBC's Never Mind The Buzzcocks music quiz format, with two teams of celebrities taking part in a light-hearted competition presented by Flemish TV personality Bart Peeters. An adapted version of the quiz is to be broadcast by Belgian public broadcaster BRT.

Elsewhere, journalist Wim Jansen moves from VRT's radio news service to head VRT's Radio Vlaanderen Internationaal full service operation, ahead of the retirement of Monique Delvaux on June 1.

HONG KONG — Former Mercury Records France product manager Ivan Sellier has been appointed VP of regional marketing (international pop) for PolyGram Far East, based in Hong Kong, effective immediately. Sellier replaces Robbie Dennis who recently relocated to PolyGram International headquarters in London as VP of catalogue marketing.

Spanish TV network Telecinco relaunches own record label

by Howell Llewellyn

MADRID — Spain's second most popular private TV network, Telecinco, has relunched its in-house record label as a vehicle for fresh talent and established acts.

Telecinco's GET (Grupo Editorial Telecinco) label has enjoyed substantial success with compilation albums styled on some of the network's most popular programmes, such as Esta Noche Cruzamos El Mississippi, a late evening adult show that includes classic rock tunes to announce ad breaks. The album based on the show was a collection of rock standards by acts such as Led Zeppelin and Eric Clapton, and sold 480,000 units.

Bolstered by that success, this month GET launched its first non "in-house album," Déjate De Cuentos by new singer/songwriter Carlos Valenciga.

The new approach was a direct result of the healthy sales notched up by albums such as the Esta Noche Cruzamos El Mississippi set, according to GET promotion head Victor Rodriguez. "[That album] made us Pta300 million ($2m) in profits, and led to the decision for GET to become a normal record label," he explains.

"Our intention is to create artists and to develop new talent, as well as sign up artists that are already consolidated," Rodriguez adds. "For this, we are setting up several joint promotion ventures with other labels."

Mikel Herzog, Spain's candidate in the May 9 Eurovision Song Contest is scheduled to record his debut album for GET. Because Eurovision candidate selection is arranged by a rival TV station, public broadcaster RTVE, Herzog was licenced out to Barcelona label Horus for the release of the single, which came 16th in the contest.

TELECINCO

Two Spanish acts who enjoyed domestic success in the 1980s, Gabinete Caligari and Los Inhumanos, will also both have new albums launched on GET shortly. "We are building up our catalogue from zero," comments Rodriguez.

The label's staff all have music industry experience. Rodriguez has worked in promotion at Warner, Polydor and various indie labels, and artistic director Alfonso Gonzalez learnt his craft at Warner, RCA and Polydor.

Rodriguez also notes that GET will have a major advantage when advertising its product on its Telecinco parent, which attracts around 20 percent of the national audience and last year registered record profits of Pta9 billion ($60m). "We'll still advertise through an agency, but at a reduced rate," he says.

$2m loss for Chrysalis Group

by Terry Heath

LONDON — Chrysalis Group plc, the UK-based radio, music and television conglomerate, announced an operating loss of £1.2 million ($1.96) for the six months to February 28 1998.

The loss was on turnover of £59.9m, up 14 percent compared to the same period last year. However, Chrysalis' deficit is a 38 percent improvement on the £2m lost in the six months to February 28 1997.

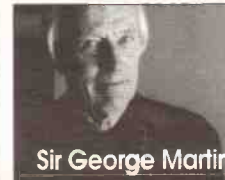

The group's visual entertainment division produced the best performance, quadrupling its profits. In a statement, chairman Chris Wright also claimed "excellent progress" for the radio division. AC-formatted Heart FM/London is now established as number 2 station in the capital, with a 14 percent reach and a weekly audience of 1.35 million adults, according to recent RAJAR figures.

"The signings of [presenters] Jonathan Coleman [ex-Virgin Radio] and David Jensen [ex-Capital Radio] should continue to raise awareness of the station, allowing it to build audience share further over the next 12 months," Wright adds.

Chrysalis Radios' mainstream dance-formatted Galaxy operation also benefited from the acquisition of two licences in Manchester and Yorkshire at the end of the last financial year, formerly franchised as Kiss FM brands but now re-branded as Galaxy outlets.

On the music front, Wright said investment in new writers for Chrysalis' publishing division, together with a "quiet" six months for record label Echo, had "a significant effect on the first six months' results." Sir George Martin's farewell album, In My Life, already certified gold in the U.K., is expected to contribute to a better second half for Echo.

Sir George Martin

Chrysalis' other record company, The Hit Label, "is also enjoying high profile success with LeAnn Rimes," says Wright. Her single How Do I Live "was in the U.K. top 10 for nine weeks and has been certified gold," Wright pointed out.

Mélanie Cohl, singer of Belgium's entry in this year's Eurovision Song Contest, receives a platinum disc for domestic sales of her single, Dis Oui (AMC/EMI), which finished 6th at the Eurovision Song Contest. # Compay Segundo: sex, rum and Cuban beats

"Moderation in sex, rum, and cigars."

That's the secret to which Compay Segundo—the chain-smoking 90-year-old master of Cuba's hottest export, the sensuous rhythm of 'son' music—attributes his durability. Segundo's concerts are still frenetic parties of more than two hours, just as they were (and must have sounded) back in the 1940s.

Segundo is now putting Spanish label DRO/East West on the international map with his album Lo Mejor De La Vida (The Best That Life Offers). According to DRO/East West product manager Katuska Medina, Lo Mejor is the label's most important international album launch ever.

"We had never invested so much in a world music or a traditional album [before]," she declares. The album has sold over 100,000 units in Europe since its release in March—despite all its songs being sung in Cuban Spanish, Segundo's album is proving popular outside Spain.

"[We've sold] nearly 20,000 in both France and Germany," says Medina. Lo Mejor will be released later this year in the U.S. on Nonesuch, which, like DRO/East West, is an affiliate of Warner Music International.

Compay Segundo—or Francisco Repilado according to his passport—is the master of the 'son,' a danceable, older cousin of salsa which, for many purists, is at the heart of traditional Cuban music, alongside bolero, conga, guaracha, and guajiro.

On Lo Mejor, Segundo plays his way through most of the styles mentioned, with guests such as singer Omara Portuondo, Nueva Trova's Silvio Rodríguez, Pio Leyva, Spanish singer Martirio and gypsy flamenco guitarist Raimundo Amador.

Compay Segundo achieved international acclaim with the album Buena Vista Social Club (World Circuit/Nonesuch), on which American guitarist and producer Ry Cooder brought together several Cuban musical legends such as Segundo, the 79-year-old pianist Ruben Gonzalez and 70-year-old singer Ibrahim Ferrer. Buena Vista sold over 500,000 albums, entered the Billboard 200 chart and was awarded a Grammy earlier this year (M&M, April 25).

Cooder's fascination with Cuban music certainly opened doors in the industry for Segundo, who has seen more hard times than high life in his 76 years in the music business. The trade-mark cigars stuck between his lips are silent witness to that past. "I smoke the brand Montecristo," he says. "[They're made in] the same factory where I worked for 18 years without taking a single day off!"

In 1927 Segundo invented the "armónico," a six-string guitar with a double-strung third string, to combine the tonal quality of the traditional

Cuban "tres" and the Spanish guitar. "It's the piano of the poor," he jokes, "and I'm the last man who knows how to play it."

The first breakthrough in his performing career came in 1942, when he formed the duo Los Compadres with Lorenzo Hierrezuelo. A radio presenter named them Compay (Cuban for 'mate') Primo and Compay Segundo. The name has stuck ever since.

The 1959 Revolution of Fidel Castro and Ernesto 'Che' Guevara had more important priorities than music, and Segundo subsequently fell into what his Spanish manager Luis Lázaro calls "unjustified oblivion." Asked how he feels about this, Segundo says, "I'm not political... but I say this: why did Fidel triumph when he started out with just seven men in the mountains? Think about it! Yes, there are one million Cubans [living] abroad, but there are 11 million who stayed here, like me."

Compay Segundo's musical resurrection can be dated to 1994, when Cuban musicologist Danilo Orozco arranged for him to attend a flamenco festival in the southern Spanish city of Seville. The local gypsy musicians were taken with the old man from Cuba who stayed up with them night after night playing and talking. Soon after, he began performing in small clubs around Spain. Word-of-mouth travelled fast, and he ventured into neighbouring European countries where he has often proved as successful as in Spain.

"I play traditional music," says

Compay Segundo with Ry Cooder (right)

Segundo, "and you can see that young people want to know what happened before them. In the old days, we knew how to serenade senioritas, and they knew how to fall in love."

Not many of the new Compay Segundo new fans—even in Cuba, where he became a household name again last year after his song Chan Chan was chosen as the theme tune to a TV soap opera—have been around long enough to remember his heyday in the 1940s and 1950s. "After Chan Chan, I can't walk past the schools any more," says Compay. "All the kids ask me to sing the song."

The revival of traditional Cuban music is reportedly causing bad feeling in Cuba among the new generation of salsa bands, envious of the international acclaim of the "oldies." However, in Europe, it's that older generation which has put Cuba back on the world music map after an absence of some 30 years.

Compay Segundo has just finished a tour through six European countries at London's Barbican Theatre on a May 9 show, but in August and September he will return to play several European festivals. Lázaro adds that there are plans for a July concert of the full Buena Vista Social Club lineup, featuring Segundo, in New York.

Italian DJs 'tamper' with the Jacksons

by Mark Dezzani

Infectious house sounds from Italy are once again cracking M&M's Border Breakers chart, indicating that the recent dance records drought from this once prolific peninsula is officially over.

Two producers at Milan-based CHR dance network Radio DeeJay-Mario Fargetta and Alex Farolfi are The Tamperer feat. Maya, whose smash hit Feel It (Time Records) picked up M&M's Road Runner award for the fastest moving track on the European Border Breakers chart last week.

Feel It is based on The Jacksons' 1981 disco hit Can You Feel It (Epic), which blazed the trail for the classic sound of Michael Jackson's 1982 solo album Thriller. "Alex [Farolfi] went to Ibiza last summer," explains Fargetta, "and when a club DJ played the original by the Jacksons' the crowd went wild. We made a version using a sample of the original and tested it in Italian clubs." The track went down a storm with Italian punters, so Fargetta and Farolfi decided to re-record it properly. "We re-recorded the track using an orchestra and vocals by Maya instead of the sample."

Club re-mixes from U.K. DJ/Producer Sharp and Dirty Rotten Scoundrels caught the attention of U.K. DJ Pete Tong, who featured a different re-mix each Friday night for six weeks on his Essential Selection dance music show on CHR network BBC Radio 1. MTV Europe and Germany's Viva are also giving the track rotation. France and Germany are next to feel the new Italian vibe with releases via Scorpio and Orbit/Virgin respectively.

The track is a prime example of Brescia based Time Records' new direction in dance production. "It is more Euro-house than the classic Italo-house music of acts like Blackbox in the late 1980," comments Time Records promotions director Paolo Caputo. He adds that the new label policy is to produce less releases and focus more on quality and international production standards.

Dance grooves

by Gary Smith

SMOOTH FINNISH

Koneveljet's Man On The Moon (Sauna Connections/Finland) takes a down beat orbit. A smooth groove, a sprinkling of pleasantly off-the-wall vocal samples and a lazy horn riff are moulded to fit this duo's vision of progressive entertainment. Music in the chilled style of labels like Ninja Tune or MoWax from the Nordic region is becoming increasingly common—and usually well executed, as is the case here. Solid lounge-funk.

STERN BUT SOULFUL

Beat Boutique's Sternschanze (Blau/Germany) combines elements of the Stax/Volt sounds of '60s soul with wah-wah guitar and a strong lounge-core feel. Opening with grinding percussion and dramatic orchestral punctuation, it develops into a laidback deep house number with a haunting, memorable tune. A perfect ambient/beat combination for a lazy summer afternoon.

FRENCH HARDSTEP

Delit-K's debut for French drum'n'bass label Future Talk, I Like/Scherma, is probably best described as acid-space-funk. Minimalist with an industrial-strength breakbeat and big, sweeping synth lines, this is serious—and seriously strange—music. Tough enough for the hardstep community and good enough for any drum'n'bass aficionado.

TECHNO LIVES

While the phrase "techno is dead" has re-emerged on a regular basis since 1991, evidence to the contrary continues to pop up every year, mainly from Germany. Fueled by the enthusiasm of a new generation of rave kids, the genre seems to have found a fresh boost of energy.

Marco Zaffarano's new album, Minimalism, on Berlin indie MFS is a fine example of the human face of techno. It's no pop record, but an above average, original piece of work which has sold a respectable 3,000 copies in Germany in two weeks. "This is not the sort of material we'd ever push to radio," says MFS co-founder Mark Reeder, "even though it's not only a club record."

Something of a specialist imprint for crossover material thanks to artists like Paul Van Dyk and Jay Ray, MFS has found that, with some tracks, a four minute edit can work wonders. But in Zaffarano's case, the prescription is live work. So far this year, he has visited South Africa, Serbia, Scandinavia, Austria, Switzerland, Italy and the U.K... and there's more to come.

"We'll keep him on the road until after this summer's [Berlin dance music/street festival] Love Parade," says Reeder, "then he'll be recording new material for a single."

RIMINI CALLING

Perhaps the best of the current crop of tracks featuring the rugged vocals of Michelle Weeks is Give Me Love, released as DJ Dado vs. Michelle Weeks (EMI/Italy). The track's violins and disco bassline create a potential summer anthem, with a strong, sinuous, rhythm and shades of Chic in the string parts. The track has a chorus strong enough for daytime programming and grooves phat enough for long, hot club nights.

Bring it on home: Spaniards reclaim 'adopted Mexican'

by Howell Llewellyn

Recognised as the world's best selling Spanish singer at the World Music Awards in Monaco on May 6, Mónica Naranjo is only now becoming well-known in her home country, despite having sold nearly 800,000 units of her second album Palabra De Mujer (Women's Words) (Epic) there.

Until recently, the general public in Spain seemed to be under the impression that the singer with the powerful voice was Mexican. This situation largely came about because her debut album—released four years ago when she was barely 19—sold one million units in Mexico yet flopped completely in Spain.

Naranjo's initial support at home came from Spain's gay community, but her career received a major mainstream boost at the Premios De La Musica awards ceremony in Madrid on April 16, where she was the only one of 15 acts performing live to win a standing ovation. Now, after relatively little media exposure, she is on her first ever concert tour of Spain, covering more than 60 cities and lasting well into the autumn.

Epic Spain president Claudio Condé, says he is convinced that Naranjo's Spanish sales will top one million albums during this tour. In

Mónica Naranjo

Mexico, Palabra has already sold 700,000 copies, according to Epic.

Naranjo was born in the Catalan town of Figueres—also the birthplace of surrealist artist Salvador Dalí—and lives on Spain's eastern Mediterranean coast at Alicante. Not surprisingly, she regards Mexico as her second home. "I didn't really want to release the second album in Spain after the first one flopped," she said during a recent press conference at the Spanish authors' and publishers' society SGAE in Madrid.

Naranjo writes her own material, and her album was co-produced with her husband, Cristóbal Sansano, whom she married six years ago at the age of 17. Asked to explain her success second time around, she says: "Look, I don't believe in false modesty. I'm gorgeous, I sing like nobody else, I perform like nobody else, I compose like nobody else, and I produce like nobody else."

Naranjo's chutzpah and staying power are now paying off big time in her home market. The Spanish press is already calling her the country's new diva and SGAE executive president Teddy Bautista has declared that she is "the most important [female] singer in the Spanish language."

Michiels finds way to the charts

by Marc Maes

After 10 years, Belgian singer/songwriter Paul Michiels has finally stepped out of the shadow of his previous act, Soulsister.

Michiels' career began back in the '60s, when he recorded his first album as part of Belgian band Octopus. However, it wasn't until the late '80s, when he teamed up with Jan Leyers to form Soulsister, that real success knocked on his door for the first time.

Their biggest hit, The Way To Your Heart (EMI) even broke into the Top 40 of the U.S. airplay chart in 1989 and reached number 41 on Billboard's Hot 100 singles charts. By the time Michiels and Leyers split up, they had sold over one million albums worldwide, largely on the strength of that hit.

Now Michiels is back with The Inner Child (CNR), the album he says he "always wanted to make." That may sound like a well-worn cliché, but coming from Michiels, it carries a certain ring of truth. "This album really is my inner child, because it combines a number of different musical styles which influenced my career," says Michiels. "Producer Wouter Van Belle," he adds, "put them in the right perspective."

The album, Michiels' first solo effort, was released internationally through CNR Music on April 3 and has sold 13,000 copies to date. Its release was preceded by the single One Day At A Time, which enjoyed "tremendous" airplay support in the Netherlands, according to CNR Music Belgium General Manager Peter Vanderhallen. Arcade affiliates in Norway and Sweden will release the single in September and the song is beginning to make inroads into Spain.

"We had been aware of Paul Michiels since his stint with Soulsister," says Santiago Alcanda, vice president of Spanish AC/CHR radio network M80. He adds: "His mix of R&B, soul and pop and his clear voice are ideal for our audience."

"At M80, One Day At A Time is currently on the 'Maximum Rotation' list, with up to four plays a day."

The album was released on May 15, and Michiels will be promoting the album at showcases in Barcelona on June 18 and Madrid on June 19.

CLEOPATRA COMIN' ATCHA

WEA
International release date: May 25
Madonna's signed them to her Maverick label for the U.S., their new single Life Ain't Easy entered M&M's European Airplay Top 50 last week and they're currently basking in the sun on a promotion trip through Spain. Now, the three charming brats with a penchant for wearing the sort of clobber that makes parents and style editors faint are coming for kids' pocket money across Europe with their debut album. This features the hits to date—Cleopatra's Theme and Life Ain't Easy—along with other highlights such as the R&B-flavoured What You Gonna Do Boy? and a cover of the Jackson 5 classic I Want You Back. Amongst this summer's plethora of covers, I Want You Back still sounds as fresh as back in 1969 and you'd be hard pressed to find any group or artist today who could belt it out with equal charm.

4 THE CAUSE STAND BY ME

RCA/BMG Ariola Hamburg
International release date: June 2
These four teenage siblings from Chicago are currently tearing up the Eurochart Hot 100 Singles listing with their cover of Stand By Me, and they entered the European Top 50 Airplay charts this week. The Leiber/Stoller song, made famous by Ben E. King in 1961 and 1986, has been covered by countless artists; now 4 The Cause give it the Euro-house treatment. The foursome got their musical training in church (their first band name was Young Warriors For Christ), but this album features quite worldly R&B material, sped-up for European tastes, plus covers of Papa Was A Rolling Stone and Ain't No Sunshine.

TOKYO COMBO UH YEAH

April
International release date: June 2
The first true summer album of the year comes from Denmark; chill out with Peter and Peter, AKA Tokyo Combo, the Danish duo who make Daft Punk sound hyperactive. The nine tracks on Uh Yeah were actually originally written and recorded for open air concerts in a Copenhagen park last summer. The album is full of lazy, slowed-down hip-hop beats, dreamy basslines and very little else. Tokyo Combo have been the house-band at Copenhagen's trendy Oslo Bar for over a year now, and that amount of practice shows—there's no filler on this album. Check out He's My Brother, There She Goes or the title track for a quick introduction.

Please send review copies, information and artist photographs for consideration as Album Spotlight entries to: Christian Lorenz, Music Editor, Music & Media, 23 Ridgmount Street, London, WC1E 7AH, U.K.

This convincing duet between two of America's leading R&B divas is taken from Brandy's forthcoming Never Say Never album. The Boy Is Mine is already a climber in the U.S.—in its second week on the chart, it was at number 26 on Billboard's Hot 100 Airplay listing, and it's been heavily featured on MTV. A quality track, it's also likely to appeal to a variety of formats on this side of the Atlantic. Stefano Carboni is music director at Italian CHR network Station One, headquartered in Milan. He claims: "I fell in love with this song the first time I heard it. I am really into R&B anyway, so when two of the biggest of today's stars team up I am naturally very interested... and I'm quite pleased to see that our audience seems to agree." Carboni also points out: "The track has a rather broad appeal, so we can play it in all dayparts without any reservations, although we first started playing it regularly during our nightly R&B shows. As it is, playing it at least three times a day (on Station One's B rotation list) doesn't seem to have hurt the record at all."

With the first single taken from the new Adore album, Billy Corgan and crew prove they haven't lost their ability to combine the unsettling with the enticing. This song may not seem over-endowed with instant appeal, but it's definitely a grower. The album will be supported by extensive touring on both sides of the Atlantic, and the European leg is already underway. Jochen Rausch, music director at public CHR network Eins Live, which covers the German state of North-Rhine Westphalia from Cologne, says: "Like their previous efforts, this is highly innovative and boasts a strong melody—but it does push the limits of what we can put into daytime programming." Rausch continues: "Currently, we feature it in our 'Melodien von Morgen' programming, where we put records that we have faith in but which are off the beaten track. We also put parts of those songs in jingles so that our listeners become more familiar with them." Rausch adds: "We broadcast the band's first show from Hamburg's Reeperbahn last week and got a lot of feedback (calls, faxes, e-mails) from our listeners, so we're confident that both single and album are going a long way."

Hamburg's Reeperbahn last week and got a lot of feedback (calls, faxes, e-mails) from our listeners, so we're confident that both single and album are going a long way."

On the air

M&M's weekly airplay analysis column

The first effects of the latest Eurovision Song Contest can be seen on M&M's European Radio Top 50 this week.

The U.K. entry in the competition, Where Are You by Imaani (EMI), is the first to show, appearing at 41. The R&B-flavoured song ended up in second place in the competition, and is already a sales hit in the U.K. The single is also performing well at radio in the Netherlands, Switzerland and Sweden as a result of her Eurovision appearance.

One advantage which Imaani enjoyed over other competition entries was that her single was already commercially available. By contrast, the rush-released winning song, Diva by Israel's Dana International (CNR/Sony Dance Pool) is only now picking up its first additions, although it's likely to appear in the Top 50 soon.

Sonja Celen, producer at Belgian regional CHR-station Radio Mol, says she enjoyed watching the Eurovision Song contest: "There were a lot of good songs this year. My own personal favorite was the Norwegian entry, although I don't expect to hear much from them anymore."

Currently, Radio Mol is playing Imaani's Where Are You, the Dutch entry Hemel En Aarde by Edsilia Rombley (Dino) and of course the Belgian entry, Dis Oui by Mélanie Cohl (AMC). Celen comments: "I like Imaani's song as it's timeless and reminiscent of the Motown repertoire. The Dutch entry we even playlisted long before it was available over here, because it's such a sunny and uplifting tune. I expect both Edsilia and Imaani to have long careers, but Dana International is, in my opinion, no more than a one-hit-wonder."

At the top of the airplay chart, there's a battle between two Warner Music acts, as Simply Red's Say You Love Me (East West) blocks out Madonna's Ray Of Light (Maverick) for a second week. As the Major Market Airplay section shows, Say You Love Me is currently the most played record in Italy and the G/S/A countries. In the meantime, Ray Of Light has collected another 17 new adds, and La Ciccone's previous hit Frozen (Maverick), at number 13 in the overall list, is still picking up substantial airplay.

Highest new entry this week is My All by Mariah Carey (Columbia) at 31. After a relatively slow start, the track is now appearing on playlists across Europe, and this week picks up its first adds in Italy and the Netherlands.

Further down the list, at 46, American college rock act Marcy Playground are making a mark at mainstream radio in Denmark and Germany with their ballad Sex & Candy (Capitol). At 47, U.S. teenagers 4 The Cause debut with Stand By Me (RCA), their loose version of the Ben E. King standard which is already a huge success in the G/S/A countries.

And finally this week, behind those new names War Babies (Virgin)—the second single from veteran Scottish band Simple Minds' "come-back" album Néapolis—makes an appearance, mainly due to its popularity in Italy.

Titanic, Brits brighten U.K. sales picture

by Tom Ferguson

LONDON — Pictures sell sounds.

That's one of the conclusions to be drawn from new trade delivery figures from U.K. labels' body the British Phonographic Industry which show domestic sales of recorded music up just under 8 percent in value during the first three months of 1998. The BPI identifies the knock-on effect of this year's Brit Awards TV show and the ongoing success of the Titanic film soundtrack (Sony Classical) as key contributors to the positive picture.

The good news for the U.K. industry comes despite what the BPI describes as "continued difficult trading conditions brought about by the high level of sterling." A 5 percent sales increase in album units and a rise in the average trade price of singles lie behind the 7.8 percent rise in the music market's value.

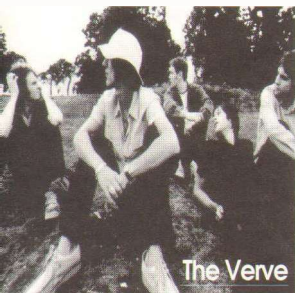

Although cassette and vinyl album sales continued their steady decline (to 13.6 percent and 1.2 percent respectively of units shipped), a 6.1 percent increase in CD album shipments at a higher unit trade price of £4.89 ($7.97). According to the BPI, mid-price CD album shipment rose by 10 percent during the period.

The nationally-televised Brit Awards show in February boosted sales for several featured acts, notably Fleetwood Mac and Robbie Williams. The latter's performance (with Tom Jones) on a selection of songs from the Full Monty soundtrack (RCA Victor) also gave the latter album a major sales boost. The Titanic soundtrack outstripped The Full Monty by some way, however, finishing the quarter as the U.K.'s second best-selling album, behind The Verve's Urban Hymns (Hut/Virgin).

The BPI says that increased trade prices for cassette and CD singles (averaging £0.96 and £1.79 respectively) and a 6.3 percent drop in units shipments led to a 14.5 percent rise in singles value during the first quarter, in which Celine Dion had the U.K.'s top-seller with the Titanic-extracted My Heart Will Go On (Epic), which has sold over 1.2 million units in the U.K. to date.

However, the body also predicts year-on-year figures later in 1998 will show a singles slump, due to the inflation of the market in 1997 by sales of Elton John's Candle In The Wind 1997.

BMG France president ousted

by Emmanuel Legrand

PARIS — BMG France has lost its president in the same week it scored its biggest sales success this year with Garbage's Version 2.0, which entered the French charts at No.1.

On the morning of May 14, BMG France president Hervé Lasseigne met in his office with BMG's head of human resources from New York, at which he was asked to leave the company. It ended abruptly a controversial three-and-a-half year regime during which the company's market share declined dramatically. No replacement has yet been announced.

At 15:00 on the same day, the BMG France staff met London-based BMG Entertainment U.K. & Ireland chairman and executive vice-president of Central Europe Richard Griffiths and Stephen Nevin, VP operations Europe. They were reassured about the future of the company and told there would be no changes in the teams for the time being.

Griffiths and Nevin were "quite laid-back and cool," according to a

BMG source. "There was," the source claims, "a general sense of relief [after Lasseigne's departure], although we know there might be some job losses at the end of the road."

"It is good news for BMG," adds a senior BMG France source, summarising the general mood at the company's offices in Paris. Hervé Lasseigne was not available for comment.

Griffiths and Nevin, who speaks fluent French, will be assuming day-to-day duties at the company, while actively seeking a replacement. According to industry sources, a top level executive is believed to have turned down an offer to take over Lasseigne's position in the past weeks. Other BMG insiders say Griffiths expects to have a full management team in place by the end of June, and that he currently has a shortlist of two candidates for president. Griffiths declined to comment.

Lasseigne, 43, had no prior experience in the music business before being hired by former vice-president BMG Central Europe Arnold Bahlmann; he joined BMG in January 1995 fresh from the food industry. Under his tenure BMG France scored successes with acts such as Carrapicho and Khadja Nin, but market share fell to 6.7 percent in 1997, according to figure from industry body SNEP. In the early 1990s, BMG's share was over 10 percent.

"There is a tremendous potential in the company, there are some good local artists and a good team," says a senior source at BMG. "Five or six years ago, the company had a 10-12 percent market share. There is no reason not to see that happening again."

'Radio-friendly' Bell is moving on

by Tom Ferguson

LONDON — Colin Bell, London Records U.K. managing director, is to leave his post after some 15 years at the label to head up Sir Elton John's new management company.

John has confirmed that his representation by manager John Reid has ended amicably after some 28 years. John has set up his own management company, Elton John Management Ltd., to be headed by Bell, who will leave his post at the end of this year.

Bell, who joined London in 1983, has been managing director of the label for the past six years, during which it had substantial hits with East 17, Ace Of Base and Shakespears Sister. Most recently, he has been heavily identified with the label's new successes All Saints, currently No.1 in the U.K. singles chart.

He has been notably pro-active in fostering closer links between the U.K.'s radio and record industries. In 1996, Bell and John worked together in 1996 on an unsuccessful application—with a proposed "gay lifestyle"/cutting edge music station, G104.9FM—for the London FM radio licence won by alternative music station Xfm.

Paul Chantler, group programme director, Essex Radio Group, says: "Colin has spearheaded the dialogue between—and been instrumental in identifying the issues that are important to—the radio and record industries. He brought those issues to the fore, without any pretence. We need his successor to be able to carry that [process] on."

"Much of radio's success with London acts like All Saints can directly be attributed to Colin. He's also one of the few record label execs who believes that there is life in commercial radio outside of London."

Roger Ames, president, PolyGram Music Group, and sole executive of the trust which owns a controlling interest in London, says: "Without Colin Bell's team building, there would have been no record company."

Bell himself says: "I love this company and the tremendous team of people who've made it great, so it's a real wrench to go. This is the only job in the world that would have tempted me."

German execs step out from Sony's Dance Pool

by Christian Lorenz

FRANKFURT — Sony Music Europe's dance music imprint Dance Pool suffered a blow last week when two top executives left the German branch of the division on short notice to establish a record company.

Dance Pool Germany label manager Markus Wenzel and A&R executive Peter Alexander left the label on May 15 to launch their own dance imprint in Frankfurt. The yet-to-be-named label will be marketed and distributed by EMI's Stuttgart-based affiliate Intercord.

Dance Pool's search for replacements has already begun. Martin Brem, managing director of Sony Music's Columbia division (to whom Wenzel reported), says he is "considering options." Sony Music Europe VP Dancepool Guy Brulez adds: "Dance Pool Germany is strong enough to get over the loss. Finding new staff may take some time, but there is certainly no need to rush decisions."

The first single from Wenzel and Alexander's new label is expected in August. The new label will cover a wide range of sub-genres, with local repertoire and licensed tracks from abroad. Wenzel says the label will handle club-only releases on vinyl, with Intercord "taking over marketing and distribution of the potential chartbreakers." He adds: "We plan to work a maximum of 10 'big' releases a year. That way, we can still co-ordinate marketing and promotion strategies from Frankfurt."

Vinyl releases will be distributed by Discomania. Intercord will appoint a new, Stuttgart-based product manager exclusively to Wenzel and Alexander's label. In an unrelated move, Markus Klinke has left German dance indie ZYX and joined Dance Pool as product manager.

Radio's farewell to Sinatra

their programming schedules to include special broadcasts commemorating "Ol' Blue Eyes." Their instant response clearly reflected the artists' status—as Vranz van Maaren, head of music at Dutch soft AC station Sky Radio 100.7 FM puts it, Sinatra was "an icon."

In France, airplay for Sinatra increased from 25 plays in the week before his death to 219 plays in the week of May 14-20, according to airplay monitoring company IPSOS Music. The plays were distributed fairly unevenly, with full service station RTL leading the field and the country's AC networks only airing the occasional Sinatra hit.

Anyk Minier, programmer at RTL, says: "We were prepared for this event. We spent a couple of months copying old vinyls onto CD." The station also based some of its regular shows around Sinatra during the weekend after his death.

AC station Nostalgie changed its programming on May 15, playing one Sinatra title every hour, after the news. "The important thing is to react quickly," notes Nostalgie director of music programming Christian Savigny. However, at AC network Europe 2, head of music programming Nicolas Du Roy says: "We didn't add Sinatra to our playlist at all; we feel he attracts an older demographic than we aim for."

In Spain, Cadena SER's oldies/AC network M-80 changed its schedule over the May 15-17 weekend to include special programmes on Sinatra, and played a different Sinatra hit every hour. M-80 director Sandro D'Angeli says, "Ever since the launch of the network, Sinatra has been one of our core artists."

On May 17, Spanish musicians such as Manolo Tena, Greta and Nacho Campillo debated the influence of Sinatra on 20th century popular music on CHR network Los 40 Principales.

Dutch radio reacted immediately to the news of Sinatra's demise. Gold/oldies station Radio 10 Gold switched to Sinatra-dominated programming within minutes. "We heard the news around a quarter to ten in the morning, and from 10.00-19.00 we played three Sinatra songs each hour," recounts Radio 10 head of music Peter Rijsenbrij.

"He's never been a core artist for us, but we regularly play New York, New York, Love And Marriage and My Way, which were the most played tracks on the day he died."

In the U.K., public AC/MOR network BBC Radio 2 played one of his tracks every hour on the day of his death. "We are the Sinatra station," comments R2 head of music policy Geoff Mullin. He adds: "We also saw fit for each producer and presenter to air their own tributes."

A 12-part one hour series chronicling the life of Sinatra was in production for Radio 2 at the time of his death and will be aired later this year, according to Mullin.

U.K. licence moratorium

bied the government for a moratorium during the run up to the 1990 & 1996 Broadcasting Acts.

"The [current] system designed by Parliament," says Stoller, "requires the Radio Authority to examine a range of factors when awarding a licence. [An early takeover] clearly frustrates some of those factors. A moratorium is an ongoing representation we are making to government."

When Capital made its initial move for Xfm, the new station was £1.9 million in debt. As a matter of routine, the deal is subject to a "public interest" test applied by the RA.

In the £15.9 million ($25.8 million) deal, Capital became the latest leading media company to purchase an independently owned station. Less than a year ago, for example, the Chrysalis Radio group bought the Leeds-based regional dance service Kiss 105 as part of a two-station, £17.5 million package from owner/operator Faze FM.

Kiss 105 had been on the air little more than six months, and was rebranded to become part of Chrysalis' quasi-network, Galaxy. In another case, RTL Country 1035/London had been on the air less than a year after its September 1, 1994 launch when it became part of CLT-UFA U.K.'s stable.

John Pearson, managing director of national AM and London FM rock services Virgin Radio, agrees that the RA is handcuffed by current legislation, and it is a "complex issue."

However, he adds: "Licences should not automatically go to the highest bidder at the earliest indication of dark clouds gathering. If that's the case, then only big groups need apply. There should be time [allowed] for a broadcaster to establish itself."

Jean-Paul Baudecroux, president of French broadcasting giant NRJ—which has unsuccessfully bid for U.K. licences—labels the practice of quick takeovers "immoral."

"It's better than the national lottery," he says, adding: "Not only do your losses get wiped out, but you make lots of money. In France we call these stations 'paper stations'. They exist only long enough to launch and quickly cash in."

However, according to Emap Radio chief executive Tim Schoonmaker, some quarters of the industry are simply failing to understand that, as with any other industry, "business is business."

"Everybody is in this game to make money," says Schoonmaker, "including the people who are arguing for a moratorium. Radio licences are valuable public assets which are being given away for almost nothing. The government should be charging people for licences," Schoonmaker concludes. "That's the bizarre thing."

important and useful way to increase employment, generate economic growth and build bridges across society. It would have a total budget of ECU167 million, covering a broad sector, but the draft does not mention how the funds will be shared out among vying industries from various fields of culture, or how funded projects will be chosen.

The contents of the draft Culture 2000 proposal have been circulated in EU circles. According to information obtained by Music & Media, in the music field, the programme would include setting up networks to promote touring of European acts.

Any cultural event with a European theme could potentially gain a grant, and innovations in multimedia technology would be eligible for funding. The programme also outlines a framework for other departments of the Commission to follow in the cultural field.

Despite the new ideas included in Culture 2000, several professional organisations claim that Europe is still underfunding music projects and ignoring the industry's needs.

"Smaller, independent labels and musicians stand to lose most—the programme is too vague to benefit anyone," claims Angelo Consoli, International Managers' Forum. "The mainstream labels can look out for themselves, but the needs of the alternative end of the industry have yet to be heard," he adds.

The IMF is currently co-ordinating a campaign to have the proposals more focused to such needs, backed by Euro-MPs Nana Mouskouri and former culture Commissioner Ripò di Meana.

Jean-François Michel, from Brussels-based lobbying organisation European Music Office (EMO), says that, based on early information he has received on the new programme, there are good ideas in Culture 2000, especially in the proposed training schemes and incentives to promote cross-border touring for European artists.

However, Michel says he fears that the funding allocated to the music aspects of the programme is insufficient. In addition, he notes that the Commission has not endorsed the concept of a guarantee fund, similar to the one Oreja recently proposed for the cinema industry, which would give independent labels better access to financing organisations. "There is a need for more discussion with the Commission to make [the programme] fully acceptable for the music community," says Michel.

Di Meana endorses those claims: "In 1990 I was approached by the film industry, which convinced me that it [the cinema sector] should be included in European legislation. Now I have been approached by the music industry, and I would like to see the same thing happen."

As a Member of the European Parliament, di Meana will raise these issues with the European Council, which U.K. secretary of state for culture, media and sport Chris Smith currently chairs. However, it could be up to a year before the proposal becomes legislation. Until then, industry groups like the IMF or EMO will be aiming to convince Brussels to tune in to the needs of artists and producers.

Swedish govt gives OK to licence extensions

by Keith Foster

STOCKHOLM — Swedish commercial radio breathed a collective sigh of relief this week after the newly-appointed government investigator into local programming pulled back from blocking licence extensions.

A state committee had previously proposed reviewing licenses in the year 2001, even though stations had acquired in their frequencies in 1993 with the belief that they would be automatically extended to the end of 2008.

However, after vociferous protests from the radio community, the Minister for Culture scrapped the committee and appointed Nicklas Nordström, head of the governing Social Democratic Party's youth section, to review private radio in Sweden. Nordström will deliver his report to the government on December 1, but last week he met stations' representatives to tell them of their reprieve.

"I was satisfied with their response," says Nordström. "We had a very constructive discussion." Although pulling back from the committee's most criticised proposal, Nordström says he is examining the distribution of the remaining analogue and upcoming digital frequencies and the amount of local input in programme content.

Christer Jungeryd, MD of the Swedish Commercial Broadcaster Association (SCBA), describes the licensing decision as "positive" and praises Nordström for his willingness to listen. Jungeryd suggests that the automatic renewal of licenses is necessary to ensure stability in the still-young Swedish commercial radio industry.

"It sends a positive signal to investors, particularly in the period running up to the introduction of digital broadcasting, which we estimate will cost the private industry some Skr800 million (approx. $100 million)."

With some eight new analogue commercial frequencies to be distributed in the near future, Jungeryd says he understands the present government has rejected the idea of auctioning them off, and says the SCBA is considering alternative proposals.

The main remaining bone of contention concerns the "local content" issue. Jungeryd says: "The government needs to be completely clear on what they mean by local programming. Do they mean local news? Do they want the end of networks? We're ready to talk, but we must know exactly what they want."

Off the record

Edited by Christian Lorenz

Is the U.K. government going to rein back the BBC? A select committee set up by the U.K.'s Department of Culture, Media and Sport issued a report at press-time which called for a single regulatory body for all U.K. media, including the public broadcaster. In a move considered radical in the media business, the committee recommends amending existing legislation to form a new Department of Communications which would regulate all broadcasting, telecommunications and communications infrastructure. It would also take responsibility for the BBC's broadcast content, currently governed from within the corporation. The report represents something of a victory for some quarters of commercial radio, which has been lobbying for such a move for some time. However, trade body the CRCA says it is disappointed that the committee recommended a single body rather than media-specific regulators. The BBC immediately issued a statement in which it underlined its determination to "reject any move to create a single regulator," claiming such a move would create a "monolith with an unwelcome concentration of power."

Sony Music Entertainment Europe senior VP marketing Richard Ogden has been promoted to senior VP, it was announced at press-time. Ogden, an industry veteran with over 27 years experience, joined Sony Music in 1993. Most recently, he was instrumental in creating the World Cup '98 album project, Allez! Ola! Olé! Prior to joining Sony, Ogden was responsible for the worldwide management of Paul and Linda McCartney.

One of Norway's most successful local A&R managers, PolyGram's Ole Evenrude—who has most recently been working with The Tuesdays and Ace Of Base—handed in his resignation last week after five years with the company. He sent two Norwegian soccer team jerseys by express mail to Kuala Lumpur, where PolyGram Norway MD Jørn Johnsen and Johnsen's boss, PolyGram Continental Europe president Rick Dobbis were attending the IFPI council meeting. On the shirts he wrote: "I wish to leave a world of sports and corporate politics in order to concentrate on a career in the music business."

U.K. radio industry veteran Mark Story has been appointed MD of London-based MOR/AC station Melody FM, which was recently acquired by Emap Radio. He will replace Sheila Porritt on June 8. Story is a former Virgin Radio programme director and Emap group programme director.

Less than one month after leaving EMI Music with a £12 million ($19.5m) handshake, James Fifield has found a new job outside the music industry—he has been appointed president/CEO of outdoor equipment and clothing manufacturer North Face Inc. in California. Fifield had been a member of the board of North Face for the past two years.

U.K.-based music entertainment group Capital Radio enjoyed a seven percent hike in pretax profits to £18.1 million ($29.4m) during the six months to March 31 compared to the same period the previous year. Turnover rose to £55.6m from £49.8m.

And finally this week, M&M sends its best wishes to Selina Webb, editor of U.K. trade magazine Music Week, who leaves this week to join Polydor U.K. as director of press.
